adopted the Judicial Committee held that he had not discharged the onus upon him and reversed the decision of the High Court mainly on the ground that due weight did not appear to have been given to the conduct of the plaintiff, the improbability and inconsistency of the story told on his behalf, his absence from the witness box and the non production of all books and documents. Having regard to the well known and often proved habits of the Indian people with regard to the keeping of accounts recording their most minute transactions the non production of any books in which anything connected with this ceremony (of adoption) was entered covered the plaintiff's case with suspicion. No effort was shown to have been made by either side to procure their production, no search for them or loss of them was proved, no explanation why they were not forthcoming. The species of advocacy tolerated by the Courts of Law in the United Provinces of India in which the unworthy effort of the advocate on each side is to force his opponent to produce his own client in order that he himself may have the opportunity of cross examining that client with the result that should the opponent refuse to be led into this trap the parties, the principal witnesses are never examined at all condemned by the Judicial Committee as a vicious practice unworthy of a high toned or reputable system of advocacy as embarrassing and perplexing judicial investigation and it was to be feared too often enabling fraud, falsehood or chicane to hamper justice. Quere. Whether the existence of such a system formed a ground for not drawing the ordinary presumption to the detriment of the plaintiff from his failure to go into the witness box and support his case. Sent. It does not. I L R 32 All 104

— Representative in interest—Is defence a fact? Where there is no representative in interest who can consent under s 122 of the Evidence Act to the disclosure of communications made by a deceased husband to his wife during marriage the wife should not be permitted to testify without disclosure of communications. The widow of a deceased husband is not his representative in interest for the purpose of giving such consent. Nawab Howadar v. Emperor I L R 40 Cal 891

— Birth day books entries in—Is it necessary to prove age—It is not necessary to prove age as to a plaintiff and as to a witness. Atel and L. Mahabir I L R 8 All 611 followed. Mahabir Prasad v. Roshan Dey I L R 11 All 103 (1904) 13 distinguished. Prasad v. L. Mahabir (1911)

— Disbelief of greater part of the evidence of the prosecution witnesses—Case

EVIDENCE—contd

tion on the receipt—Legality of the contract—Practice When the prosecution witnesses are found to be untruthful as to the greater part of their evidence it would be dangerous to convict the accused on the residual without corroboration. HARY KRISHNA : EMERSON (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 781

—Evidence taken by a Court without jurisdiction—Effect of consent to treat it as evidence if relevant Consent or want of objection to the reception of evidence which is irrelevant cannot make the evidence relevant but consent or want of objection to the wrong manner in which relevant evidence should be brought on record of the suit disentitles parties from objecting to such evidence in a Court of Appeal. WILLER : MADDA DASS I L R 11 All 76 followed. The fact that it was evidence taken previously by a Court which was held to have had no jurisdiction to try the case and take the evidence and that it was consented to be treated as evidence does not affect the validity of the consent. Quare Whether in a case falling under s 33 of the Evidence Act evidence recorded by a Court can be regarded as not given in a judicial proceeding on the mere ground that the decree of the Court was subsequently set aside for defect of jurisdiction. SRI RAJAN PRASAD : SANKAR : VENKATA RAO (1912)

I L R 33 Mad 160

—Mortgage—Partial admission of consideration—Partial admission as against representatives of original mortgagor Held that the admission of the receipt of consideration contained in a mortgage deed is admissible in evidence against the representatives in interest of the original mortgagor. BRAYWARR PESHKAR : EIDANUDDIN I L R 6 Cal 263 Naval Kunwar : DILSHAR SINGH 10 All L J 390 and Abdul Vajid : Mahesh Ali : A No 129 J 1911 followed. Manohar Singh v Sumari : Kuar I L R 17 All 48 not followed. Bhishwar Dayal v Harbars Sahay G C I J 659 Ghurphel n : Pemeshwar Dayal G C I J 653 and Raher : Jan Bibi v Inan Jan 14 C L J 273 doubted. BHARI LAL : MAHENDR BARNH (1913)

I L R 35 All 194

—Handwriting comparison of—Admissibility of intercepted letter written by the accused relating to the importation of contraband cocaine the subject of the charge—Admissibility of intercepted letters addressed to the accused in order to prove identity with the sender of a telegram relevant to the charge—Import into Bengal meaning of—Seizure of cocaine in the Custom House before clearance—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s 11—Pencil Eraser Act (Ben J of 1905) ss 2 (12) 45 (a) and 61 A letter written by an accused when self-disserving is prima facie evidence against him if it relates distinctly to a relevant point. It is not necessary that it should be signed. It is enough if it is traced to the writer and it is admissible though it may have been intercepted or surreptitiously obtained and opened. Pez v Derrington 2 C & L 414 referred to. An unsigned letter proved to have been written by the accused addressed to a firm in London which had shipped certain contraband cocaine which the accused was charged with importing into Bengal is admissible in evidence though intercepted under the order of the Viceroy at the Post Office during the course of transit. A letter written by the exporter of certain contraband cocaine the subject of the charge against the accused contains a reference to a telegram signed in a different name but bearing the same business address as that of the accused is relevant under s 11 of the Evidence Act as showing that the accused was the sender of the telegram though the letter was intercepted at the Post Office under an order of the Magistrate before delivery. Queen v Cooper 1 Q B D 19 approved. Although an extractable article may be actually within the geographical limits of Bengal it cannot be said to have been brought into Bengal within the meaning of s 2 (12) of the Bengal Excise Act if it is intercepted at the Custom House and the offence in such a case is not one of importation but of attempt to import under s 61 of the Act read with s 45(a). BOORN : EMERSON (1913)

EVIDENCE—contd

I L R 41 Cal 545

—Date of Birth—Family Record—Admissibility—Illustration to Statute—Straits Settlements Ordinance III of 1893 and Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s 33 sub s (3) and Illustration (f) In an action in the Straits Settlements to recover the amount due upon certain mortgages the defendant pleaded that he was an infant when he executed them. As evidence in support of this plea there was tendered at the trial an entry recording the date of the defendant's birth made by the defendant's deceased father in a book in which he made similar entries with regard to his family. Held that under the Straits Settlements Evidence Ordinance 1893 s 32 sub s (a) and having regard to illustration (f) to that section the entry was admissible in evidence. Illustrations appended to sections of a Statute should be accepted if that can be done as being of relevance and value in construing the text. They should be rejected as repugnant to the section only as the last resort of construction. MAHOMED SIDROL ARIF : LEON OOI CARR

L R 43 I A 756

—Secondary evidence—Certified copy of petition of compromise made in 1857—Record of proceedings destroyed in the Mutiny—Failure to establish mortgage in suit for redemption of mortgage not made in writing—Stamp—Bengal Regulation X of 1829—Objection that certified copy is insufficient stamped—Petition treated as document creating mortgage—In a suit for the redemption of a usufructuary mortgage alleged to have been created in 1857 the document on which the plaintiffs relied to establish the mortgage was a certified copy of a petition of compromise filed in Court on the 1st of April 1857. The record of the proceedings was admittedly destroyed in the Mutiny of that year. The document which was admitted in evidence by the Subordinate Judge recited the terms on which the dispute was settled amongst them being the agreement relating to the mortgage and an endorsement on it after reciting that the pleaders for the parties filed the compromise in the presence of their respective client and verified and admitted all the conditions laid down therein ordered that the compromise be placed on the record and the case be put up to-morrow for final disposal. Then followed the date and the signature of the Zillah Judge in English. The certified copy was on the 28th of April 1857 issued to the pleader acting for the predecessors of the plaintiffs. It bore a stamp of one rupee. The defence was that the contract was not enforceable as the document was not properly stamped. The Subordinate Judge overruled the objection and decreed the suit. The District Judge held that the copy was required by article 70 of Regulation N of 1874 to bear a stamp of the same value as the original compromise that the original bore a stamp of one rupee only but require a stamp of ten rupees and as it was insufficiently stamped its copy was not admissible in evidence. He reversed the decision of the first Court and dismissed the suit. The High Court on appeal reversed the decision of the Subordinate Judge. Held by the Judicial Committee (affirming that decision) that the mortgage was made verbally and was valid according to the law then in force and it was notified to the Court as part of the settlement. The present suit was not based on any agreement contained in the petition but on a contract made out side and recited in it to enable the Court to make a decree in accordance with the settlement. If the Judge did so the defendants' objections fell to the ground and whether he did or not the suit based on the agreement made independently of and before the petition was filed in Court was clearly maintainable. If however the petition was treated as the document creating the mortgage it might rightly be presumed that the officer before whom it was presented satisfied himself that it was properly stamped. No inference could be drawn from the fact that the copy bore a one rupee stamp for that is the proper stamp for issuing a copy of the proceeding in the Zillah Court and as a copy of the petition and the order thereon it bore the proper Court fee stamp of one rupee. The District Judge fell into an error in taking the stamp on the certified copy as an indication of the stamp on the petition itself. ANWAR PAKI v ABID HUSAIN (1916)

EVIDENCE—contd

I L R 38 All 494

— Conversation between defendant and plaintiff's pleader—When suit is contemplated if admissible in evidence—Admission made by one defendant evidence against all others—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 18-23 In a suit for rent there was a talk of settlement between the plaintiff's pleader and one of the defendants when the suit was about to be instituted. Held that the mere fact of the conversation taking place when the parties were contemplating a suit might be instituted is not in itself sufficient to prevent the conversation from being put in evidence. Wallace v Small (1830) 100 L J 416 Wallis v Lawson (1830) 100 L J 414 Nicholson v Smith & Starkie 128 Harding v Jones (1835) 100 L J 135 and Jorden v Money 5 H L C 185 relied on. Mohabeer Singh v Dhanyoo Singh 20 W R 172 discussed. When several persons are jointly interested in the subject matter of a suit an admission by one of them is receivable in evidence not only against himself but also against the other defendants whether they be all jointly suing or sued provided that the admission relates to the subject matter in dispute and be made by the declarant in his character of a person jointly interested with the party against whom the evidence is tendered. Koosulliah Sundari Das v Makia Sundari Das I L R 11 Cal 558 Chakho Singh v Jhoro Singh I L R 39 Cal 393 and 4th mra Bibi v Abdul Kader Dakeb I L R 25 Mad 26 referred to. Kali Kishore Choudhury v Gopi Mohan Roy Choudhury 2 C W N 166 distinguished. MAJAN MITRA v MRS. SUNDI MIA (1916) I L R 44 Cal 150 — Conveyance—Intention to Mortgage—Third party owner—Notice—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92 As between the parties to an absolute conveyance s 92 of the Evidence Act (subject to its provisos) precludes the giving of oral evidence to prove that the transaction was intended to be a mortgage. The section however applies only as between the parties. Where therefore the grantee takes knowing that a third person is the owner of the property and the grantor is only a mortgagee and that the intention of all parties is merely to transfer the mortgage oral evidence is admissible to prove the real nature of the transaction. Seemle that a claim by the grantee to be owner under those circumstances is fraudulent and if s 92 applied oral evidence would be admissible under that proviso. Ichutaramaraju v Subbaraju I L R 25 Mad 7 Mauyo Bin v Ma Maune 3 L R 100 and Dattoo Lalad Talaram v Chandra Talaram I L R 30 Bom 119 approved. Baksh Lalshman v Govinda Janji I L R 4 Bom 391 and other decisions disapproved. MAUYO KHYIN v SHWE LA (1917)

EVIDENCE—contd

I L R 44 I A 236

I L R 38 Cal 892

— Mortgage deed—Form of proof of—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 68 to 71 In a suit on a mortgage bond the admission of execution by the sole mortgagor does not dispense with the necessity of complying with the provisions of a 68 of the Evidence Act in order to prove the execution of the document as against other parties in the suit who do not admit such execution. Such a document must be proved as against them in accordance with the provisions of ss 68, 69 and 71 of the Evidence Act. Jogendra Nath Mukhopadhyay v Aitaz Charan Bundopadhyay 70 W R 331 distinguished. SATI N CHANDRA MITRA v JOGENDRA NATH MAHALANABIS (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 345

— A party in possession of written evidence on a material issue is not justified in withholding it on the plea of one of proof being on his opponent. T B MURTHUGA v MANIKAVASAKA (1917) 21 C W N 761

— Relevancy of judgment—Trials of accused for criminal breach of trust of certain amounts—Judgment in a civil case between the parties as to the amounts—Admissibility of the judgment into the criminal proceedings The applicant was prosecuted for criminal breach of trust with reference to certain items. There was a civil suit between the complainant and the applicant regarding items which included the items involved in the criminal case. The civil suit was decided in applicant's favour. He thereupon applied to admit the judgment in evidence in the criminal case and on the strength of it prayed for an order of discharge. The Magistrate having refused to admit it in evidence the applicant applied to the High Court. Held that the judgment of the Civil Court was admissible in evidence inasmuch as it would be relevant and important to know what the rights of the parties were as determined by the civil Court with respect to the items charged against the applicant. MAKUR In re (1916)

I L R 41 Bom 1

— Unregistered deed—Admissibility of deed for collateral purposes—Joint owners—Adverse possession One of two brothers

EVIDENCE—could

joint owner of certain immovable property executed a deed of relinquishment in favour of the other. The deed was never registered but the brother in whose favour it was made remained in possession of the entire property. Held that the deed of relinquishment was admissible in evidence to prove the nature of the occupant's possession and that there was no legal impossibility about one co-owner claiming adverse possession as against the other. JUDHAR C. KHATAI MANI (1917) I L R 39 All 696

Evidence Act 1872 of 1872 s. 92—Evidence of acts and conduct of parties to deeds shown, that they were mortgages when in form they were absolute transfers—Fraudulent dealing with property which the parties knew belonged to a third person not a party to deed. The language of s. 92 of the Evidence Act 1872 with regard to a contract grant or disposition reduced to writing in terms applies and applies alone as between the parties to any such instrument or their representatives in interest. Wherever accordingly evidence is tendered as to a transaction with a third party it is not governed by the section or by the rule of evidence which it contains and in such a case therefore the ordinary rules of equity and good conscience come into play unimpeded by the statutory restrictions. The principle of equity which are universal forbid a person to deal with property which he knows he holds on security and not in actual ownership. In this case both the grantor and grantee in transactions by deed regarding certain land were shown by the evidence to have dealt with it with the knowledge that it belonged to a third person who was not a party to the deeds or a representative in interest of a party to them. It was alleged that the deeds though in form absolute transfers of the property were intended to be only mortgages or transfers of mortgages. Held that s. 92 of the Evidence Act was no bar to the admission of evidence to show what was the true nature of the transactions. It did not prevent fraudulent dealing with a third person's property. Evidence as to that third party's rights is admissible and if admissible is most relevant. The series of cases cited in the judgment of which Bales Lakshman v Gorinda Kayji I L R 4 Bom 584 is an example in which it has been decided that notwithstanding the terms of s. 92 evidence is admissible to show the acts and conduct of the parties to such deeds as inconsistent with the absolute transfer of the property and only consistent with the true nature of the transaction having been one of mortgage or transfer of mortgage ceased to have any binding authority after the decision by the Board in Balishen Das v Legge I L R 22 All 149 L R 27 I 108 in which it was held that oral evidence was not admissible for the purpose of ascertaining the intention of parties to written documents and that the cases in the English Court of Chancery had no application to the law of India as laid down in the Acts of the Indian Legislature. Ichitaranar v Subbaraju I L R 25 Mad 7 Manig Bin v Ma Hasing 3 L R Pul 100 and Datt o Lalad Tolaram v Ram Chandra Tolaram I L R 30 Bom 119 referred to as being cases in which the judgment of the Board in Lakshen Das v Legge I L R 22 All 149 L R 27 I 108 had been rightly followed and applied. MUNO KATY v MA ENNE LA (1917) I L R 45 Cal 320

EVIDENCE—could

Probability—considerations of if and when any outweigh positive evidence when some found untrustworthy—Admission in deed to be taken as prima facie true. Where some of the verbal evidence was untrustworthy while the documents recorded a state of affairs which was often hard to reconcile with probabilities. Held that unless the facts evidenced by documentary and oral testimony were so much at variance with known conditions as to be incapable of reasonable explanation it was to the facts and those facts alone that the Court must trust to reach a safe conclusion upon the matter in controversy. A statement in a document should prima facie be accepted as true as against the executant unless it can be shown by independent evidence to be false. INSAP ALI v KARIMAN (1917) 22 C W N 530

Statement in Wajbul arz—Said to recover parjol. Plaintiff sued as owner of the abadi of a village to recover a certain number of maunds of cotton seed from the defendants who were lanias having shops in the said abadi and claim was based mainly upon an entry in a Wajbul arz framed some fifty years before said to the effect that tenants living in the village did not pay Lirajya (rent of a house) but parjol (ground rent) which for banias was one maund of cotton seed a year for each shop. Held that the entry in the Wajbul arz was reliable evidence of the liability of the defendants to pay parjol to the remainder in the manner described and that the use of the word indicated that the origin of the payment was an agreement between the inhabitants of the abadi and the remainder rather than a custom. MUNSHIR BAKI ALI KHAN v BHART (1917) I L R 40 All 56

Horoscope—Produced in proof of plaintiff's age—Document not entered in list as required by O VII r 14 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908—Refreshing memory of witness by document written by him at time of deposition. Limitation Act 1908 s. 35. A question of whether or not a bar was created by limitation under a 7 and art 126 of the Limitation Act 1908 depended on the age of the plaintiff. One of the witnesses produced a horoscope which had not been entered in the list of documents as required by O VII r 14 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and on an objection by the defendant was rejected by the Trial Judge as inadmissible in evidence. Held that it was wrongly rejected the horoscope was not a document to be relied upon as a probative document in itself but it was a record made by the witness at the time to which he was entitled to refer for the purpose of refreshing his memory and it was therefore admissible. BAHWARI LAL v MUNSHI (1918) I L R 45 I A 284 I L R 41 All 63

Certified copies of chittas and map—Pelating to parties under Reg. VII of 1814 of admissible in evidence—Evidence Act 1872 s. 35. The plaintiffs suit for ejectment related to a tank claimed as appertaining to a certain estate which and three other revenue paying estates came in 1814 under the operation of Reg. IX of 1814 for partition of common lands. The lower Appellate Court relied on certified copies of certain chittas and a map kept in the Collectorate. The map was authenticated by a Deputy Collector but the chittas were not signed. Held that prima facie the papers appeared to be record of the partition which was in fact made in a proceeding between the predecessors in interest of the parties. If so the certified copies produced were good and admissible evidence quite apart from anything in s 33 of the Evidence Act. KHETRA NATH MANDAL v MAHAMMAD ALLAH RAKHA (1918) 23 C W N 48

EVIDENCE—contd

—Evidence of subsequent similar but unconnected transaction—Evidence Act (I of 1857) ss 9 11 14 15 167—Improper reception of evidence at the trial—Power of the High Court on review to examine residue of the evidence and to decide the case finally thereon—Power to order a new trial—Proper mode of dealing with the evidence on review of the case in trials by Jury—Court not to substitute its own finding—Evidence improperly admitted of a character to influence the Jury—Letters Patent 1862 cl 26—Procedure—Right of prisoners counsel to begin on reference under cl 25 Letters Patent—Admissibility of separate trial when evidence clearly inadmissible on one of the charges though admissible as to the rest and likely to effect verdict on such charge. Where P introduced him self as a Raja's or Zamindar's son to a prostitute who passed into his keeping and he then introduced Q as his durwan and both afterwards visited her house till the night of the 9th December 1914 when she was found next morning to have been murdered and robbed and the accused were tried on charges of murder conspiracy to rob theft and abetment of each other in the commission of the theft and murder. Held by the majority of the Full Bench (CHANDRUR J dissenting) that evidence that P had similarly introduced himself as a wealthy Babu successively in 1915 and 1918 to three other prostitutes who each became his mistress that he then introduced Q as his durwan that both visited the women and suddenly disappeared and that their disappearance was followed by discovery by the women in each case of the loss of their money or ornaments was not admissible under s 9 14 or 15 of the Evidence Act. Held by the majority (CHANDRUR J dissenting) that s 15 was not applicable as there was no question of the acts of murder and theft being accidental or intentional or done with a particular knowledge or intent but that they were plainly intentional. Per MOOKERJEE J that s 14 was also not applicable as the evidence of the subsequent occurrences did not show the state of mind of the accused towards the murdered woman. Per MOOKERJEE J The first Explanation and Illus (i) (j) and (o) further clearly excluded such evidence. Empress v Lyngpoor Mandalair I L R 6 Calc 655 Babaruddin Mandalair v Emperor 18 C L J 578 Emperor v Abdul Wahid Khan I I R 34 All 93 Emperor v Debendra Prasad I I R 36 Calc 573 Amrita Lal Ha ra v Emperor I I R 40 Calc 957 relied on Malin v Allen Gen [1894] 4 C 57 Reg v Ball [1911] 4 C 47 [reversing Reg v Ball 5 Cr App R 235] Pex v Smith II Cr App 1 209 Reg v Bond [1906] 2 A B 359 Reg v Thompson [1911] 2 A B 630 Thornton v Rex [1914] 1 C 221 Reg v Podley [1913] 3 K B 463 Pex v Ellis 5 Cr App R 41 Reg v Fisher [1910] 1 K B 149 Reg v Mason 111 L T 335 Reg v Baird 54 J J K B 1785 and Perkins v Jeffer [1915] 2 A B 702 referred to. Held by the majority (CHANDRUR J dissenting) that

EVIDENCE—contd

s 9 did not apply for the purpose of proving identity as the murder and theft took place in December 1914 and the subsequent incidents in 1915 and 1918. Per CURRIAM Evidence of the subsequent incidents was not admissible under s 11. Per MOOKERJEE J S 11 was not intended to have a meaning coextensive with its very wide terms as is possibly indicated by the fact that the Illustrations do not go beyond the cases familiar in the English law of Evidence. Reg v Parbhudas Ambaram II Bom H C R 90 Queen Empress v Jayram I L R 16 Bom 414 followed. Per CURRIAM Under clauses 24 and 26 of the Letters Patent the High Court has to decide the case finally on review and cannot direct a new trial. Reg v Navroji Dadabhai 9 Bom H C P 353 Queen v Hurribole Chander Ghose I L R 1 Calc 207 Imperatrix v Pitambar Jina I I R 2 Bom 61 Queen Empress v O'Hara I L R 17 Calc 642 Emperor v Narayan Raghunath Patil I L R 32 Bom 111 and Emperor v Fateh Chand Agarwalla I L R 44 Calc 477 followed. The Court has power under cl 26 to examine the evidence and determine whether after the exclusion of the inadmissible evidence the residue is sufficient to justify the conviction. Per MOOKERJEE J and CHANDRUR JJ The Privy Council ruling in Subrahmanya Aiyar v King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 has not overruled this view. S 167 of the Evidence Act applies to civil and criminal cases and makes it incumbent on the Court to investigate whether independently of the evidence wrongly admitted there is sufficient evidence to support the verdict of the jury. Reg v Navroji Dadabhai 9 Bom H C R 358 Queen Empress v Hurribole Chander Ghose I L R 1 Calc 207 Imperatrix v Pitambar Jina I L R 2 Bom 61 Queen Empress v O'Hara I L R 17 Calc 642 and Empress v McGuire 4 C W N 43 referred to. But held by the majority (CHANDRUR and WALMSLEY JJ dissenting) that the Court will not substitute its own finding for the verdict of the jury and that it must consider whether the evidence improperly admitted was of such a nature that it possibly may have considerably influenced the minds of the jury and whether it was reasonably certain that the jury would not might have acted on the unobjectionable evidence if the wrongly admitted evidence had not also been presented to them. Where the inadmissible evidence was of such character and the residue by no means conclusive the majority of the Court set aside the conviction. Malin v Allen Gen [1894] 4 C 57 Reg v Bertrand L R 1 P C 570 Rex v Barron 9 Cr App P 206 Pex v Campbell 5 Cr App P 55 Rex v Podley [1913] 3 K B 463 and Pex v Norton [1910] 2 K B 436 referred to. At the hearing of a reference under cl 25 of the Letters Patent the counsel for the prisoners begins and has a reply. Reg v Inhabitants of Gate Fulford I D & L 74 Per SANDERSON C J and MEKHEERJEE J Where on a trial for offences including murder and theft certain evidence objected to was admittedly irrelevant on the charge of murder and the jury would have been influenced thereby in their verdict on such charge the offence of murder should have been separately tried. Per MOOKERJEE J The question of the admissibility of evidence must be determined with reference to the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act and not the Eng. Lejay Awar v Mohyal

EVIDENCE concl

Singh I I R 3 Calc 741 Impress v Ashcolesh
(hukerluti) I I R 4 Calc 481 per JACKSON J
Queen Empress v Abdullah I I R 7 All 335
Muhammad Allahabad Khan v Muhammad Ismael
Ahlin I L R 10 All 39 Collector of Gorakhpur
I I R 11 All 1 and 1m peratix v Puzmbar I I R 1 R 10m 61
(1900) I L R 47 Calc 671

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)

— s 2—Scope of Act Section of the statute of frauds never applied to India and even if it had it was wholly repealed by the Evidence Act. SIR DUNSHAW M. PETTIT AND OTHERS
SIR JAMSETH JINJIROW AND OTHERS
I L R 33 Bom 509

— ss 2 5 9—15 167—

LITTLE PATENT (1900)
24 C W N 501

— s 3—
SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 45 Calc 585

— admission of evidence—
Admission of evidence for one purpose in a suit is evidence for all purposes (Per LORD MACDONALD)
THE BANK OF BOMBAY v NARAYAN TRILAKAR ET AL
I L R 37 Bom 122

— ss 3 10 45 101 135—
See PROBATE I L R 39 Calc 245

— ss 3 74(2)—
See CONTEMPT OF COURT
I L R 45 Calc 169

— ss 3 114 III (e) 125—
See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

— s 4—
See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 201(3) I L R 32 All 427
I L R 33 All 799

— s 5 AND ACQUISITION
I L R 46 Calc 916

— ss 4 and 80—Ancient document—
Practice as to mode of proof—Whether document pre-med to be genuine by the First Court can be rejected in appeal—Practice—Appeal from preliminary decrees after passing of final decree According to the practice prevailing in this Presidency when prima facie evidence of custody and of the date of a document purporting to be 30 years old is given the Court generally marks the document on the footing that there is sufficient evidence to justify its being marked as an exhibit at that stage. It is only subsequently that the opponent exercises his right of adducing evidence of circumstances which entitle him to say that the presumption under s 90 of the Evidence Act should not be drawn with respect to the document. The Court generally arrives at its conclusion on the matter after the evidence on both sides has been given. An Appellate Court is entitled to reject a document presumed to be genuine by the Original Court under s 90 of the Evidence Act without calling for *further proof. *Shafiq uddin v Shaban Ali Khan
*I L R 26 All 581 and *Sr mitra v Kulda
I L R 26 C J 523 referred to. It is competent to a party to prefer an appeal against the preliminary decree in a redemption suit though

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

— ss 4 and 80—concl

before the appeal is presented the final decree has been passed. Lalshmi v Mani Dem 21 Mad
*L J 1063 followed. *Janaki Nath Ray Chow- dary v Promotha Nath Ray Choudhury 15 C W N
*430 referred to. *Ranuvir v Veerattadaya
(1914) I L R 37 Mad 455

— ss 5 32 and 167—Irrelevant evidence admitted without objection effect of Merc omission to object to a document which is not in itself admissible as evidence does not constitute such document evidence so as to be available to either side at the trial. It is the duty of the court apart from any objection by the parties or their pleaders to exclude all irrelevant evidence. Where the lower court has based its decision partly on irrelevant evidence the High Court will not in second appeal decide whether the other evidence in the case is sufficient to support the findings arrived at and s 167 is not a bar to such a case being remand*ed. *Musammam Sumitra Huar v Ban Khar Chowdry 5 Pat L J 410

— ss 9 11—Omission of entry of pay- ment in account book if relevant. The absence of an entry of payment in an account book is a relevant fact not under s 34 but under ss 9 and 11 of the *Indian Evidence Act. *Anwaram Agarwala v
Lachiram Kishore Dyal (1914)
19 C W N 611

— ss 9 11 14 15 167—
s 9 EVIDENCE I L R 47 Calc 671

— s 10—
s 10 LOANATF I L R 39 Calc 235
See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I L R 48 Calc 215

— Documents in posses- sion of one conspirator if admissible to prove complacency of another—Ind pend at proof of complacency if necessary. What has to be established under s 10 of the Evidence Act to make documents found in the possession of one of several persons accused of conspiracy admissible against the other accused is that there is reasonable ground to believe in the existence of a conspiracy among such persons. It is not necessary for this purpose to establish by independent evidence that they *were conspirators. *Queen Caroline's Case 2 B
& R 302 P v Jacobs 1 Cox C C 173 R v
*Bushell 5 Cox C C 404 431 referred to. *Polly
Buhari Day v King Emperor (1911)
16 C W N 1105

— ss 10 14, 15 54, 185 143 154—
See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

— ss 10 30—
See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR
I L R 38 Calc 169

— See HINDIA CORPUS
I L F 29 Calc 164

— ss 10 30 54—
See WITNESS I L R 46 Calc 700

— s 11—
See CONTEMPT (PUNISHMENT INSTITUTION)
I L R 1 Lab 540

— See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Calc 543
See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I L R 8 Calc 91

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 11—c d

Sc pe f—Stat i nt
b wounded person on day f r r e c f u d r i t t e —Trial by jury—Acquittal by 11 of court on the ground of misdirection The accused was charged with having caused grievous hurt to one of his wives and killed another. The wounded woman on the day of occurrence on her arrival in hospital made a statement to a Magistrate to the effect that it was this accused who had attacked herself and her co-wife. The statement was admitted and placed before the jury. Held that the mere fact that the woman made a statement had no bearing on the main facts in issue and s 11 of the Evidence Act does not justify the admission of the contents of the statement. KING EMPEROR
v ABDUL HAKIM (1919) 23 C W N 933

ss 11 14 15—Evidence—Admissibility of evidence of similar but unconnected transactions in which the accused were concerned—Penal Code (Act XLII of 1860) s 140—Cheating S 1 and 11 were charged with having defrauded B and P and thereby obtained from them various sums of money. The mode adopted by the accused was as follows: B representing himself to be a broker introduced B and P who wanted to borrow money to 1 and 11 as being the agents of a wealthy lady of the name of Akhari Begam and a story was told them that Akhari Begam had a large amount of a ready money which she was willing to lend on very favourable terms. Negotiations were commenced and extended over a considerable period in the course of which B and 1 were induced to part with various small sums of money for preliminary expenses.
 Ultimately the negotiations fell through and it was discovered that they had been fraudulent from beginning to end. The accused's defence was broadly that while admitting that B and P had paid them the sums of money in question the payments were made in circumstances totally different from those alleged by the prosecution.
 They denied that they had ever said that there was such a person as Akhari Begam and a fortiori that they had ever represented themselves as her servants or agents. Held that on the case for the prosecution evidence was admissible that the same three persons had on other occasions proposed to make of much the same kind to other persons to whom they told a story similar in all essential particulars down to the name of the proposed lender of the money. KING EMPEROR v Abdul Wahid Khan I L R 34 All 93 and Emperor v Dabindra Prasad I L R 36 Calcutta 73 referred to TIFERON v LATIF ALI (1916)
 I L R 39 All 273

ss 11, 13 45—

See CUSTODY

I L R 1 Lah 540

ss 11 13 40—45—

See TENANCY ACT

24 C W N 378

ss 11 32—Evidence—Admissibility—Statements of deceased person—Held that if the terms of a deposition satisfy a person the deceased do not fall within the provisions of s 32 of the Indian Evidence Act. In the provisions of s 11 of the Act will not avail to make such deposition evidence. BELA LALI v MAHARAJ
SINGH (1919) I L R 34 All 341

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 13—

1—Evidence—Admissibility of document affecting the right of a person who is a party to it against such person
 The plaintiff sued for a five annas share in the undivided land in a certain land. His case was that his mother's father owned a ten annas share half of which he gave to the plaintiff and the other half to the plaintiff's mother. The contest-ing defendant who was the brother of the plaintiff's grandfather contended that he and his brother owned the ten annas in equal shares and the effect of the gift to the plaintiff was to convey only two annas and a half although it purported to convey more. The lower Appellate Court gave effect to this contention relying on two documents executed by the plaintiff's mother acting through his father in favour of the contest-ing defendant in which it was recited that the gift was ten annas by the plaintiff's grandfather was a mistake and that he was entitled to deal and intended to deal with five annas only and the other a patta executed by the plaintiff's mother and father in which they stated that a five annas share in the property belonged to the contesting defendant. Held that both the documents were inadmissible in evidence against the plaintiff who was a stranger to them. That the ruling as to the admissibility of the documents in Duarka
Nath v Mukundalal 5 C L J 55 is overruled. ABDUL
ALI v STEED BEJAN ALI (1913) 19 C W N 488

2—Suit for rent by co-sharer landlord—Decree for rent obtained by another co-sharer admissibility of it to prove holding and rent The plaintiff a co-sharer landlord sued the defendant for his share of rent in respect of a certain holding. He produced a decree for rent previously obtained by another co-sharer landlord against the defendant for his share of rent in respect of the same holding. Held that whether the decree was by a predecessor of the plaintiff or by a stranger it was admissible under s 13 of the Evidence Act for the purpose of showing that the defendant held the holding at the particular rent. PTOMKE v CHAKRAVARTI v
JAGADISHWAR PAI (1911) 22 C W N 304

3—Judgment not inter partes admissibility of for proving admission by defendant—Second appeal—Using document admissible for one purpose as evidence for another The plaintiff sued for recovery of his share in the land in suit. The Subordinate Judge in appeal admitted a judgment in a previous suit brought by another person against the defendant and mainly relying on a certain passage therein as proving an admission by the defendant decided in favour of the plaintiff. Held that the judgment was inadmissible in evidence for the purpose of proving the alleged admission and the error committed by the Subordinate Judge in using the judgment for a purpose for which it cannot be legitimately used vitiated his decree. That the proper mode of proving any admission made by the defendant in the previous suit was by producing a copy of the defendant's deposition or by putting in the witness box some one who actually heard what the defendant said. DEBENDRA NATH
HALDER v BIRENWAR HALDER (1914)

—20 C W N 648

ss 13 42 43—Judgment not inter partes—Admissibility in evidence—Presumptions in

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

ss 13 42 43—contd

judgment of admission. It is well settled that although a judgment not inter partes may be used in evidence in certain circumstances as a fact in issue or as a relevant fact or possible as a transaction the recitals in the judgment cannot be used as evidence in a litigation between the parties. KASHI NATH SALL & JAGAT KISHORE ACHARYA (HINDURAJ) (1914) 20 C W N 943

ss 14, 15—

1. Reliance of facts showing all will and facts forming part of similar occurrences.—Ind in I and Code (set LLI of 1860) s 201—Making false claim in suit. The appellant was convicted under s 209 Indian Penal Code of having made false claims in three suits brought against certain persons. Two other persons besides the appellant were similarly prosecuted and convicted for bringing other false suits against the same defendants. Held that evidence relating to suits brought by the appellant other than those specified in the charges was properly admitted under ss 14 and 15 of the Evidence Act for the purpose of showing the ill will or animosity of the appellant towards the defendants in those suits as a basis for the evidence relating to suits brought by other persons when no case of a conspiracy between them and the appellant was alleged or established was inadmissible. 1 COMPTON SALL & KING EMPEROR (1914) 22 C W N 494

2. Indian Penal Code s 415—Cheating.—Evidence to show in favour of cheating other than those charged inadmissible. A person employed as a clerk in charge of the renewal of licenses for hand carts received Rs 2 for each such renewal whereas he ought to have taken Rs 14. He was charged with cheating and evidence was produced showing that he had taken 2 annas in excess from persons other than those named in the charge. Held that such evidence was inadmissible either under s 14 or under s 15 of the Evidence Act. Emperor v Debend & Prasad I L R 38 Cal 673 distinguished. Emperor v M J & Jempraj Moodhar I L R 6 Cal 65, referred to. LURRON & ANDRU WARRING (1911)

I L R 34 AN 93

ss 14 and 54—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 23 and 310 3 Pat L J 706

ss 15—

See SEDITION I L R 38 Cal 253

ss 17 and 21—Joint family—Partnership—Admission of partner Evidence.—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 17 and 21. An arrangement was alleged to have been made with a Hindu joint family part of whose property consisted of a joint family business to take in as partner the person through whom the Plaintiff claimed to have a share in the family properties. Held that no such arrangements had been proved. That a statement in a will which suggests an inference as to a fact in issue cannot be proved by or on behalf of the person who made it or his representative in interest. NALINI PATANAYAKA PATE & MANDARINI NARAYANA MOORTHY (I C) 26 C W N 275

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 18—Admission by a third person of minor of a share of an interest in respect of interest of a third person. In a suit by Hindu reversioners for recovery of immovable property left by their maternal grandfather and sold by their maternal grandmother for all necessities the purchasers a representative adduced oral evidence to show that the widow had sold it for her husband's debts. This evidence was found by the trial Judge to be unreliable but the learned Judge, directing to documentary evidence chiefly relied on an affidavit which was filed in another suit and was signed by the reversioners' mothers and fathers and which contained a statement to the effect that certain other premises had been mortgaged by the widow (grandmother) for her husband's debt and that her daughters and sons in law had joined for protecting the reversioners (the present plaintiffs) interest and the Judge held that the affidavit was admissible regarding the premises as the guardians of the plaintiffs and as capable of making admissions against their interest on their behalf. Held (on appeal) per FRANKS C J and WOODROFFE J and affirmed by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council that there is nothing in the Indian Evidence Act to support the view of the learned Judge or make the affidavit relevant. That the present plaintiffs had in no sense derived their interest in the subject matter of the suit from their parents nor could their parents be regarded as having been expressly or impliedly authorized by them to make the admission. That when the suit was brought long after the alienation but within the period of limitation and the delay was explained as being due to the pendency of another suit and also to want of means. Held that the delay did not operate to the prejudice of the plaintiffs' suit for declaration and possession. MANOHARAN DEBI & HARUADA MITTAL (1914)

18 C W N 718

ss 18 19—Suit to declare property joint family property.—Statement by U alleged co-sharer in a previous deposition that property not joint of admission against Plaintiff as admission—Commonality of interest proof. Plaintiffs who were two out of five brothers sued to establish their right to a two-fifths share in properties which were sold in execution of a money decree against another brother U and purchased by the Defendant on the allegation that the properties when sold were the joint family properties of the five brothers. The Defendant whose case was that the brothers were not joint at the date of the sale and that the properties were exclusively owned by U put in a deposition given by another brother K in the suit in which the money decree against U was passed in the course of which K stated that the family was not joint and the properties belonged exclusively to U. Held that the deposition of K in the previous suit was not admissible as admission against the Plaintiffs. NACENDRA DATTA CHOHA & LAWRENCE JITE CO LD

25 C W N 39

ss 18 23—

See EVIDENCE I L R 44 Cal 130

Consent of several defendants and the plaintiff's plea of abatement of suit of admission in evidence.—Admission of one defendant in evidence against other. The plaintiff sued the defendants for recovery of arrears of rent due on a lease

EVIDENCE ACT 1 OF 18 25-11-11

18 23 14

executed in favour of the father. The admission of the father's payment which was overruled by the court below. The material evidence in the case was that of the plaintiff's pleader with whom one of the defendants had two interviews, one about a month before the institution of the suit, when a form of settlement was suggested namely discontinuance of interest and a sum on the day the suit was instituted when the pleader was asked to make a compromise. It was held that a third was a hurriedly expressed conclusion that the evidence at the interview should not be given and it could not be inferred from the circumstances that the parties had agreed that the evidence should not be given. The evidence could not be excluded under s. 23 of the Evidence Act. That the evidence of the plaintiff's pleader as to what had passed between him and the defendant who interviewed him for the settlement of the case was admissible and could be used even against the defendants other than the defendant who made the admission all of them being jointly liable to the plaintiff as the representatives in interest of their father See BANDARON C. J.—That so far as the first interview was concerned the mere fact that it was contemplated between the parties that the suit was about to be instituted did not prevent the conversation as regards a settlement of the claim from being given in evidence. That the second conversation was a natural consequence of the first conversation and was not privileged. That the question whether the evidence of the interviews could be given against the defendants other than the defendants who made the admission depended upon s. 18 of the Indian Evidence Act which enacted the principle that for making statements with reference to the joint concern or common subject of interest one partner or co-contractor is considered to be the agent of the other See MOORE, J.—In the absence of any express or strongly implied restriction as to confidenee an offer of compromise is clearly admissible and may be material as some evidence of liability although it may not be proper to enquire into the exact terms offered. That under s. 18 of the Evidence Act an admission by one defendant may in certain circumstances be admissible in evidence as against another defendant. The principle is that when several persons are jointly interested in the subject matter of the suit an admission by any one of the persons is receivable not only against himself but also against the other defendants whether they be all jointly sued or sued provided that the admission relates to the subject matter in dispute and is made by the declarant in his character of a person jointly interested with the party against whom the evidence is tendered. MEHAR NATHOR v. ALKHIND MEHAR (1910). 20 C. W. N. 121.

ss 18 32 (a) - If after the death of the testator, the estate of the testator is not sufficient to pay the debts of the testator, the executor or administrator of the estate of the testator shall be liable for the payment of the debts of the testator out of the assets of the estate of the testator.

EVIDENCE ACT (1 OF 1872) — (a) 1d

18 32(3)-cont'd

(1) 100 of a tankan declaration of title with m. that it had been executed by their ancestor 10 years ago after whom it was known and it had been in their possession all along till the possession by the defendant. The lower Appellate Court in dismissing the suit relied on (1) an entry in a draft record of rights (which was omitted in the record finally published) that the tank was known by the name of plaintiff's ancestor (2) a recital in a conveyance of sale of an adjoining piece of land executed by some of the defendants (who at the time of the conveyance had required no interest in the land in suit) in favour of a stranger to the effect that the land was bounded by the tank known after the ancestor of the plaintiffs. The conveyance was duly proved and admitted in evidence without objection. (3) That the entry in the draft record of rights was not admissible in evidence but this did not vitiate the judgment of the lower Appellate Court which arrived at the conclusion on the merits and pendently of the evidence improperly admitted. That the recital in the conveyance though admissible against the makers of the conveyance was not admissible as admissions against the other defendants under a 14 of the Indian Evidence Act nor was it admissible under a 32 (3) of the Evidence Act the conditions mentioned in the introductory words of the section not having been fulfilled. That principle to which regulates the reception in evidence of an admission by one defendant against another is that when several persons are jointly interested in the subject matter of the suit an admission of any one of these persons is receivable not only against himself but also against the other defendants whether they be all jointly suing or sued provided that the admission relates to the subject matter in dispute and be made by the declarant in his character of a person jointly interested with the party against whom the evidence is tendered. The requirements of the identity in legal interest between the joint owners is of fundamental importance and the joint ownership must have existed at the time the statement was made. That if the plaintiff had cited the defendants who were the executors of the testator as witnesses the recital could have been received in evidence to impeach their credit under a 157 of the Evidence Act and was not inadmissible. That an erroneous omission to object to evidence which is irrelevant and consequently inadmissible under any circumstances does not make it admissible but the Court will not entertain for the first time in appeal an objection that a document which per se is not inadmissible in evidence has been improperly admitted in evidence. On this principle the High Court declined to set aside the judgment of the lower Appellate Court. ORDER ALL. LIT. 100/11. I. L. R. 15 Case 158.

s 21-
 Se 10H 1 Pat. L J 168
 Ser 1- 28 C W N 275
 See POWDER & RETURN
 I L R 39 Calc 1005
 ss. 21 and
 See CRIMINAL
 CORR s 164
 2 Lsh 325

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

— ss 21 25 29 47 67 73—

See JURY FIGHT OF TRIAL BY

1 L R 37 Cal 467

— ss 21 and 81—Evidence of publication of a newspaper by a particular person inferred by production of the paper—Sufficiency of Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 255 sub 271 272 428—Necessary meaning of—Mistake of Court as to prima facie case—Retrial Per SUNDARA AYYAR and PHILLIPS JJ—Merely exhibiting a copy of a private newspaper containing a libellous statement without any sort of proof such as the production of an authenticated copy of a declaration under s 7 of Act XXV of 1867 is no proof of publication of the libel by the person by whom the paper purports to have been published Evidence that a certain copy of the paper appears to be printed and published by A is no proof of publication by him If there be proof of publication of a newspaper of by A then s 81 Evidence Act presumes that what purports to be a newspaper of a particular name is that paper and that every copy of it was issued by the publisher of that paper Gathercole v Wall 15 W & W 319 Ex v Forsyth Russ & R 274 & Halls v Fraser 7 Id & E 223 considered A statement in a complaint that the accused published the libel is no evidence against the accused as it was not made in the presence of the accused The fact that the accused never denied publication by him of the libel does not relieve the prosecution of the necessity of proving affirmatively that the accused published the libel an essential fact necessary to establish the guilt of the accused Additional evidence under a 428 Criminal Procedure Code can be ordered to be taken only if the Appellate Court thinks it necessary Quare Whether if the admission by the accused of publication is contained in his written statement that would relieve the prosecution from the defect in letting in evidence of publication Difference between admissions in civil and criminal cases pointed out Quare Whether s 81 of the Evidence Act is not confined to public documents alone Per SUNDARA AYYAR J—Where the prosecution by its own negligence failed to produce evidence which it was its duty to do additional evidence cannot be considered necessary by the Appellate Court within the meaning of s 428 The language of that section seems to indicate cases where there being already evidence on the record the Court considered it to be unsatisfactory or where the evidence on record leaves the Court in such a state of doubt that it considers it necessary to enable it to decide the case to have further evidence In such a case the accused should be ordered to be acquitted and not retried allowing further evidence to be taken Per PHILLIPS J—Where on the Court itself taking a mistaken view that a prima facie case of publication by the defendant had been made out (as was evident from its framing a charge) evidence to that effect was not let in by the complainant it is a case where the Appellate Court ought to consider that additional evidence is necessary within the meaning of s 428 Criminal Procedure Code and a retrial would be the proper order to be made under the circumstances if taking additional evidence would not meet the requirements of the case Necessity under s 428 Criminal Procedure Code is a matter to be determined on the particular facts of each

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd— s 21 and 81—contd case. Per BENSON J—Where the prosecution wanted to let in evidence necessary to prove the offence but the Magistrate intervened stating that it was unnecessary in the circumstances of the case and so refused to take that evidence the case is on in which retrial may properly be ordered or in which the Court may properly call for the additional evidence under s 428 Criminal Procedure Code Jeremiah v Vas (1813)

1 L R 36 Mad 457

— ss 21 157—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 162 288—Evidence—Admissibility of evidence—Statements made by witness to Police and Panch—Statements made by the witness as accused before Committing Magistrate—Witness deposing to different story before Sessions Court—Corroboration of the deposition before the Committing Magistrate by statements made before the Police and the Panch—Investigating Police Officer—Deposition of as to statements made by witnesses to him—Examination in chief—Prayer and procedure During the trial of an accused person, the Sessions Judge admitted into evidence and used against the accused the following statements (1) statements made by a witness to the Police implicating the accused (2) the same witness's statement to the Panch (3) his statement as an accused person made before a Magistrate and (4) statements made by the accused to the Police The witness when he was examined before the Committing Magistrate gave a consistent story but he deposed to quite a different version when he was examined in the Sessions Court The learned Judge disbelieved the changed story and he used the witness's statements to the Police and his statements as an accused person and his statements to the Panch by way of corroboration of what the witness had stated to the Committing Magistrate The accused was convicted and sentenced On appeal—Held (1) that it was an error to admit statements Nos 1 and 2 for the purpose of corroborating statements No 3 for only the statements of witnesses made to the trying Court can be corroborated in the manner contemplated by s 167 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 previous statements might be used to corroborate or contradict statements made at the trial not to corroborate statements made prior to the trial (ii) That statements No 2 were altogether inadmissible as evidence of the accused a guilt for they could at most be regarded as admissions by the accused which could possibly be used against himself but could not be proved and used against the accused The Investigating Police Officer ought not to be allowed to depose in examination in chief to what the witnesses stated to him It opens up an undecarably wide field for cross examination and leads to the attention of the Court being diverted and distracted from the true issues Moreover it is contrary to the plain intention of s 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure which is that such statements should be used if at all on behalf of and not against the person under trial Exterior v Akbar Baidoo (1910)

1 L P 34 Bom 599

— s 23—

See s 18

20 C W N 1217

See EVIDENCE 1 L R. 44 Cal. 130

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

4 P. L. J. 676

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) contd

s. 24—

See CONFES 104 I L R 37 Calc 735

23 C W N 886

See I FACTIVE I L R 40 Bom 220

If in the circumstance of a case it appears to the Court that there is reason to believe that the confession was obtained by inducement the prosecution must show that the confession was freely made. ASHUTO N DUTT v THE KING EMPEROR 28 C W N 54

Confession—Induce
ment proceeding from a person in authority. The accused in making a confession before a Magistrate admitted that he had been told to tell the truth by the Subh who told him to tell the truth and he would be released. Held that the confession so made was valid under s. 24 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872. EMPEROR v DEWANATH SUNDARI I L R 45 Bom 1080

ss 24, 27 30—

See MISDIRECTION

I L R 45 Calc 557

ss 24, 123 124—Privilege claimed by witnesses—Confession—Opium Act (I of 1875) s. 9—Illicit possession of opium. The appellant was prosecuted by the Excise authorities and convicted of being in possession of opium without a licence. It was stated that the appellant made a confession to the Superintendent of Excise. At the trial the defence called the Inspector of the Customs Preventive Service and asked him to corroborate his statements from the posting register to show that the Preventive Officers were stationed at a particular place at the time of the appellant's arrest. The defence also examined the Superintendent of the Preventive Service and asked him whether an Excise Inspector made an admission to him in the presence of the Excise Superintendent. Held that the question of privilege could not arise in respect of the posting register, the entry in question being merely a note of the times when particular Preventive Officers were ordered to be at their stations. That the Customs Superintendent could not claim privilege as to the admission made to him by the Inspector although what took place between the two Superintendents might probably be privileged. That in the absence of any inducement threat or promise the confession to the Superintendent of Excise was not shut out under s. 24 of the Evidence Act. RUKMALI v EMPEROR (1917) 22 C W N 451

s. 25—

See JURY

I L R 37 Calc 467

Statement of approver admissibility of Statements of approvers to a Police Inspector are inadmissible against accused. EMPEROR v MILAKANTA L R 35 Mad 247 ss 25 27—Police deposing to admission of guilt by accused impropriety of. Where the Police Sub-Inspector in his deposition before the Court stated that one of the accused admitted before him his guilt and that from the statement of that accused he (the Sub-Inspector) could understand the exact nature of the offence committed by the accused. Held that the Sub-Inspector ought never to have been allowed to make such statement before the assessors whose minds must have been considerably prejudiced thereby. TAJSHILLAH v KING EMPEROR (1911)

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) *contd*ss 25 27—concld

16 C W N 238

s. 25 30—

Confessional statement to Excise Officers—Self exculpatory statements use of Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s. 312—Opium Act (I of 1875) s. 9 cl (c) (d)—Illicit possession of opium. The appellant with two other persons was prosecuted under the Opium Act. The co-accused made some statements to Excise Officers which the Magistrate used against the appellant. Held that the statements could not be rejected under s. 25 of the Evidence Act for it could not be said that the Excise Officers were Police Officers. That in order to determine whether the statements were confessions (the whole of the statements must be taken into consideration and the statements in question being self exculpatory were inadmissible against the appellant. That the Magistrate should have examined the accused as provided in s. 312 Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court acquitted the accused on the ground that although the facts proved might give rise to suspicion against the appellant he was entitled to the benefit of the doubt. AU FOONG CHENAM v KING EMPEROR (1918) 22 C W N 834

S. EXCISE OFFICERS

I L R 46 Calc 411

ss 25 31—

See ADMISSIONS AND CONFESSIONS TO POLICE OFFICERS

I L R 41 Calc 601

ss 25 114 Illustration (b) 133 and 157—Accomplice corroboration of—Material particulars what are—Admissibility of previous statements of accomplice to Inspector of Police—s. 157 authority legally competent to investigate the fact meaning of—Competency of officer of Criminal Investigation Department—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 16 151 155 157 and 551—Act XII of 1908—Letters Patent cl 25 and 90. On a preliminary objection raised by the Crown with reference to the jurisdiction of the Court. Held that the Letters Patent s. 26 authorises the grant of a certificate by the Advocate General in a case tried by a Special Bench appointed under the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act (XIV of 1908). The following five points of law were raised in the certificate of the Advocate General in this Letters Patent Appeal:—
(i) Does the evidence of an accomplice require corroboration in material particulars before it can be acted upon? Is it open to the Court to convict upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice if the Court is satisfied that the evidence is true and does not the Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s. 133 read with s. 114 illustration (b) merely intend to lay down that a conviction upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is not illegal where the presumption of untrustworthiness attaching to the evidence of an accomplice is rebutted by special circumstances?
(ii) Can the previous statements of an accomplice legally amount to corroboration of the evidence given by him at the trial?
(iii) Is an Inspector of the Criminal Investigation Department an authority legally competent to investigate the fact within the meaning of s. 157 Indian Evidence Act?

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

ss 114 Illust (b) 133 and 157—contd
 Act (I of 1872)? (iv) Is a statement of a confessional nature made by a witness to a police officer a confession of an accused person within the purview of s 23 Indian Evidence Act? (v) While statements made by a person to a police officer in the course of an investigation and taken down in writing may not (by reason of s 162 Criminal Procedure Code) be proved by the production of the writing may such statements be proved by oral evidence? On the first point Held (by BENSON WALLIS and MILLER JJ) that the evidence of an accomplice need not be corroborated in material particulars before it can be acted upon and that it is open to the Court to convict upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice if the Court is satisfied that the evidence is true. On the second point Held (By BENSON WALLIS and MILLER JJ) that the previous statements of an accomplice can legally amount to corroboration of the evidence given by him at the trial. On the third point Held (by BENSON WALLIS and MILLER JJ) that an Inspector of the Criminal Investigation Department is an authority legally competent to investigate the fact within the meaning of a 157 Indian Evidence Act. On the fourth point Held (by BENSON WALLIS and SUNDARA AYYAR JJ) that a statement of a confessional nature made by a witness to a police officer is a confession of an accused person within the purview of s 23 Indian Evidence Act. On the fifth point Held (per curiam totam) that while statements made by a person to a police officer in the course of an investigation and taken down in writing may not (by reason of s 162 Criminal Procedure Code) be proved by the production of the writing they may be proved by oral evidence. Before the High Court has decided any point of law raised in the Advocate General's certificate the accused cannot be heard on any point not included in the certificate. MUTHUSWAMY PILLAI : KING EMPEROR (1912)

I L R 35 Mad 397

Criminal Procedure Code Act of 1898 ss 154 155 157 162 and 501—Approvers evidence corroboration of—Admissibility of previous statements of to Police Inspector—Value of such statements as corroboration—Legally competent to investigate meaning of—Competency of officer of Criminal Investigation Department Sir ARNOLD WHITE C J and AYLING J.—It is not the law either in England or India that the evidence of an accomplice must be corroborated in material particulars before it can be acted upon. Where a Court is Judge of fact as well as of law the Court as a Judge of fact is not precluded from considering the question whether the unsupported evidence of an accomplice is true or not. A Court may be competent in declining to draw the presumption of fact referred in the illustration (b) to s 114 Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 133 Indian Evidence Act is the substantive enactment declaring the law whereas s 114 only lays down certain propositions intended to assist the Courts in drawing inferences of fact. Where the Court is acting in the capacity of both Judge and Jury it must direct itself and the proper direction would be—Consider the evidence of the approvers always bear in mind that it is tainted evidence scrutinize it with the utmost care accept it with the greatest caution consider it in the light of the circumstances in which it is

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

ss 114 Illust (b), 133 and 157—contd
 given and in the light of all the other circumstances in the case of which evidence is legally admissible. Then, if you believe it act on it even if there is not corroboration in the strict sense of the word. If you do not believe it reject it. In re Meunier [1891] 2 Q B 415 approved. Pey v Ramasami Padayachi 1 L R 1 Mad 394 approved. What are the material particulars referred to in the Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) illustration (b) must depend upon the nature of the charge and the facts of the particular case. Oral testimony of independent witnesses is not necessary. SANKARAN NAIR J (dissentiente).—The Indian Evidence Act [ss 133 and 114 illustration (b)] embodies the rules of English law that the presumption must first be drawn that the evidence of an accomplice is unreliable and exceptional circumstances must be proved to justify its acceptance. The question is not whether a conviction based on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is legal but whether there is a presumption that such testimony cannot be accepted without corroboration. A person should not be convicted except under very special circumstances upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice. The special circumstances are that the grounds on which an accomplice's evidence has been held to be trustworthy did not either exist in the case or did not exist in their full strength; that there are countervailing considerations of greater weight which diminish or entirely get rid of the weight due to such presumptions. In cases tried by a jury a jury has to be advised by the Judge of what I have above referred to. The CHIEF JUSTICE and AYLING J.—It cannot be laid down as a proposition of law that previous statements of an accomplice cannot be regarded as corroborative of evidence given by him at his trial. Reg v Malapali Kupana 11 Bom H C R 196 disented from. SANKARAN NAIR J (dissentiente).—A previous statement by the accomplice himself or a statement by another accomplice is not the corroboration required under the rule as to material particulars. The CHIEF JUSTICE and AYLING J.—The words before any authority legally competent to investigate the fact in s 157 Indian Evidence Act are quite general and should not be restricted to police officers and to investigations in the technical sense in which the word is used in the Code of Criminal Procedure. The words are competent to investigate not a case but the fact. The words legally competent do not mean only competent under some express provision of law. An Inspector of the Criminal Investigation Department has power to investigate in cases to which s 166 Criminal Procedure Code applies. As such his local area is the Presidency of Madras. SANKARAN NAIR J (dissentiente).—The police officers entitled to investigate an offence are the police officers referred to in the Code of Criminal Procedure i.e. a station house officer (ss 156 157) an officer in charge of a police station (ss 154 155 cl 1) and police officers superior in rank to an officer in charge of a police station (s 501). An Inspector of the Criminal Investigation Department is not such an officer and his evidence is not admissible under s 107 Indian Evidence Act he not being any authority legally competent to investigate the fact under s 107 Criminal Procedure Code. The CHIEF JUSTICE and AYLING J.—A statement of a confessional nature made to a police

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)

ss 114 Must (b) 133 and 15—

the fact that a person who is an accused person within the meaning of s 3 Evidence Act has laid down that a statement cannot be used against the person making it but on his trial Sakshari Nath J (d) 113—The statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act

— s 26—

1. Offer of a statement by a person who is an accused person within the meaning of s 3 Evidence Act is not admissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. The statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act.

2. Offer of a statement by a person who is an accused person within the meaning of s 3 Evidence Act is not admissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. The statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act.

— s 27—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

ss 21 25 21—contd

1. Offer of a statement by a person who is an accused person within the meaning of s 3 Evidence Act is not admissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. The statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act. A confession is not the same as a confession because it is made by a person in a position of inferiority to the accused and the statement is not a statement of approval of the accused in a really confession is inadmissible in evidence against the accused under s 3 Indian Evidence Act.

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

s 27 25 21—

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 30—contd

See HANFAS CORIUS

I L R 39 Cal 164

See WINT 9

I L R 46 Cal 700

Confession of co accused not to be acted upon without corroboration—Misdirection to jury The confession of a co accused is on an even lower footing than the evidence of an accomplice and a conviction based on such a confession alone is bad in law. S 30 of the Evidence Act only provides that such a confession is to be an element in the consideration of all the facts of the case but it does not do away with the necessity for other evidence. It is the duty of the Judge when there is no other evidence than the confession of a co accused to direct the jury accordingly and tell them to acquit the accused and his omission to do so is a misdirection which will vitiate a conviction. GIDDICABT v. EMPEROR (1903) I L R 33 Mad 46

Co accused—Plea of guilty—Removal of co accused from dock—Co accused's confession—Admissibility as against the other prisoner Where one co accused pleads guilty and is removed from the dock and the other accused alone is tried. Held that the confession of the former cannot be taken into consideration as against the latter under s 30 of the Indian Evidence Act for there has been no joint trial. Queen Empress v. Palu, I L R 19 Bom 195 followed. EMPEROR v. KERALAT SIRDAR (1911) 1 L R 38 Cal 405 15 C W N 49

Co accused—Confession—Independent corroboration—Evidence—Practice Eleven accused persons were tried for the offence of dacoity. There was no direct evidence against any of them. Seven of these confessed each one implicating himself and the rest. They were convicted on their own confessions. A question arose whether the remaining four accused who had not confessed could be convicted solely on the confessions of their co accused when they were not corroborated by any independent evidence. HEATON J was of opinion that s 30 of the Evidence Act made the confessions which were already evidence in the case evidence against the person implicated as well as the other accused. SPAN J held that s 30 permitted the confession of a co accused to be taken into consideration along with other evidence in the case but if there was no evidence in the case outside those statements no conviction based only upon the confessions of co accused was good in law. Owing to this difference of opinion the case was referred to MACLEOD J. Held that there was nothing in s 30 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 which prevented the Court from convicting after taking the confession of a co accused into consideration but that the High Courts in India had laid down a rule of practice which had all the reverence of law that a conviction founded solely on the confession of a co accused could not be sustained. Held further that the confession of one co accused could not be said to be corroborated by the confession of other co accused. Per MACLEOD J.—I do not think that "corroboration" in s 30 can be restricted to an unrettracted confession as once a confession is proved it may be taken into consideration. FEROZ v. GANGAPPA HARDEPPA (1913) I L R 38 Bom 156

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 30—contd

Confession of co accused in dacoity case if admissible in subsequent trial In a case under s 110 Cr P C against the Petitioner the confession made by a person who was the co accused of Petitioner in a dacoity case but not in the present case was admitted in evidence. Held that the confession was inadmissible. MATIZUDDIN KHAN v. THE KING EMPEROR 25 C W N 239

Evidence—Confession—Admissibility of in evidence against co accused—Joint trial One out of several accused persons who were being tried jointly for an offence under s 193 of the Indian Penal Code pleaded guilty and made a statement implicating himself and other accused. The Magistrate however did not convict him merely upon his plea of guilty but upon the evidence and upon the statement made by him. The Magistrate also took the confession of this accused into consideration as against the others. Held that the course taken by the Magistrate was not only admissible but that in the circumstances of the case the Magistrate would not have exercised a sound discretion in convicting the confessing accused at once on the strength of his own statement alone. EMPEROR v. DEE NARAY (1915) 1 L R 37 All 247

ss 30 114 133—Confession by co accused—Evidence against the accused—Amount of corroboration The accused was charged with the murder of his brother in concert with two associates with whom he was jointly tried for the offence. The principal evidence against the accused was the confessions of the two co accused. Other facts established in the case were these. The accused had a wife and children but no means to support them. He had to work as a coolie in the Forest Department. He was continually importuning the deceased who was rich but had no wife or children for assistance which was continually refused and although the two brothers lived in the same building they did not associate. About a fortnight after the disappearance of the deceased the accused made free with the gram which was collected in his brother's bin and on several occasions gave rice from it to his two associates. Three months after the event the accused told a shopkeeper that his brother had gone to Miraj for medical treatment. After the crops had been got in he began to ask the tenants of his brother to pay their rents to him. Shortly afterwards the accused when questioned by the Panger of the forest replied that his brother had gone to Miraj and that a letter had come. Later the accused received a letter through post purporting to come from his brother which he directed the accused to call at the rents and pay the assessment. The muster roll kept by the Forest Officer showed that the accused was absent from his work on the day of the offence and for some days after. The trial Judge acquitted the accused. On appeal by Government to the High Court of Bombay HEATON J was of opinion that there was in the case apart from the confession a body of evidence and circumstances enough to support a conviction and that taking the confessions together with the circumstances the accused's guilt was made out. SHAH J was of opinion that though the proved circumstances in the case were consistent with the guilt of the accused and though they might create a certain amount of suspicion against him they did not prove anything as to his participation in the crime. Owing to this difference in opinion the case was heard by SCOTT C J. Held by SCOTT C J (agreeing with BRATON J and differing from SHAH J) that there was on the facts established corroboration of the story of the confessing co-accused so far as it affected the accused. DICTUM of GARRUT J in Empress v. Ishorlal Chatterbaj 11 P 1 Calc 433 followed. DICTUM of MACLEOD J in Emperor v. Gangappa Kardeppa 1 L R 35 Bom 156 16 commented on. EMPEROR v. SAKIRKHAH (1919)

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*only*ss 30 114, 133—concl'd.

1 L R 43 Bom 739

1. Admission of evidence—Erroneous omission to object to the admission of evidence—Relevancy of evidence. Plaintiff sued to recover possession of a house. The defendants contended that their deceased father had spent a certain amount of money for the completion of the house and for the purpose of proving this relied upon their father's will and a memo of expenses prepared by him. In the lower Courts no objection was taken to the admission of the will and the memo as evidence. In second appeal it was contended that the evidence was inadmissible. Held upholding the contention that neither the will nor the memo was admissible in evidence under a 32 of the Evidence Act 1872 the erroneous omission before the lower Courts to object to the admission of evidence did not make that evidence relevant. Miller v. Babu Madho Das (1896) L R 23 I A 106 relied on. YANUARI HARI v. AMBAVAL (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 192

s 32—

See s 5 5 Pat L J 410

See s 18 1 L R 45 Calc 159

See EVIDENCE L R 43 I A 256

See CATCH MEMORS

1 L R 41 Bom 181

See HINDU LAW—ADoption

1 L R 36 Mad 69

See HINDU LAW (CUSTOM ADoption)

5 Pat L J 164

See HINDU LAW (JOINT FAMILY)

5 Pat L J 605

1 L R 40 All 159

See HINDU LAW (Minor)

1 L R 38 Mad 166

See WILL

1 L R 1 Calc 173

sub s 2—Held that entries in the diary of a deceased illiterate made by other people at his request were inadmissible under s 22 (2) but might be used a 157 or a 10th MIRCASAR NAINA KOER v. GOBARHAN SINGH

2 Pat L J 42

sub s 5—Evidence of relationship—Statement made in a plaint filed by a member of the family since deceased—Second appeal—Finding of fact. In a suit to recover possession of property which had belonged in her lifetime to one Musammam Fiddo one of the material issues was whether the plaintiffs were or were not the sons of one Munir Khan paternal uncle of Musammam Fiddo. In support of their statement that they were the sons of Munir Khan the plaintiffs tendered in evidence the plaint in a suit filed some years ante litem motam in which Musammam Fiddo as plaintiff had impleaded them as defendants describing them as the sons of Munir Khan. Held that this plaint was not only admissible evidence on the subject of the plaintiffs relationship to Munir Khan but was evidence to which considerable weight might be attached. The High Court however in second appeal is not concerned with the quantum of evidence upon which a finding of fact came to by a Court of first appeal is asked. So long as there is legally admissible evidence to support the finding of the court below the High Court cannot interfere with it. Coghlar v. Cumberland L R 1 Ok D 704 referred to. MAULADAD KHAN v. ABDUL SATTAH (1917) 1 L R 39 All 426

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*could*sub s 5—concl'd

Statement of relationship by deceased person admissibility of. The plaintiff brought a suit on two hand notes executed by the defendant. The defence was that the defendant was a minor when he took the loans. Besides adducing oral evidence as to the age of the defendant the plaintiff put in the record of a case under Act VIII of 1890 which contained a petition by the defendant's aunt since deceased for her appointment as guardian of the defendant. This petition contained a statement by the aunt as to the date of the defendant's birth. The lower Appellate Court held that this statement was admissible in evidence. The High Court in appeal reversed the decision. Held (on review of judgment) that the statement was admissible in evidence under a 32 cl (3) of the Evidence Act. Ram Chandra Dutt v. Jogendra Varan Das 1 L R 20 Calc 758 followed. PAM KISHORE SARKHAN v. MANINDRA MOHAN RAY (1914) 19 C W N 646 sub s 6—Evidence—Pedigree. A document ancient and genuine purporting to be a family pedigree was produced in evidence in a mutation case by one Jiraj. The record was brought before the civil Court in a suit in which the plaintiff's relationship to one Hulas the last male owner of certain property was in question. Jiraj stated that he had received the pedigree from his grandfather. It was not proved who had prepared the pedigree. Held that it was not necessary to show who had made the statements mentioned in the pedigree and that it was admissible in evidence under a 3 cl (5) of the Evidence Act. JARANGIR v. SHEORAJ SINGH (1915) 1 L R 37 All 800

Custom statements of deceased persons as to existence of, if admissible when made after controversy arisen. Evidence oral or documentary as to statements of a deceased person as to the custom in a family is not admissible if it appears that such statements were made after a controversy as to the custom had arisen. KRASADENSHWAR SINGH v. JANKESWAR BAHADUR (1914) 1 L R 42 Calc 582

19 C W N 1249

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—concl'd— ss 40 41 42 and 44—concl'd

tor had bought him off under a mutual arrangement but after the order for probate had been made the executor failed to perform his part of the arrangement and had thus committed a fraud both on the Court and the applicant. The application for revocation was disposed of by the Court on the ground that the applicant on his own showing was a party to a fraud upon the Court that he had not come with clean hands and was not therefore entitled to the relief sought. Thereafter the executor having brought a suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge to recover rent and possession against a tenant of the testator as defendant 1 and against the aforesaid nephew as defendant 2 defendant 1 pleaded that the deceased (testator) had asked him to pay rent to defendant 2 and defendant 2 contended as in the previous proceedings that the deceased had made no will, that the will produced was a fabrication and that probate had been obtained by fraud. Held that defendant 2 was barred by the decision of the District Court in the revocation proceeding from raising the same question in the Court of the Subordinate Judge. Held further that it was the District Court which was competent to decide the question of fraud and collusion vitiating the decree of that Court under which probate had been granted and that as the Subordinate Judge who tried the suit had no jurisdiction in probate matters the title of the plaintiff was conclusively proved on the production of probate and it was no valid defence for the defendants to allege that the will was a forgery and that probate had been obtained by fraud and deception. Quare Whether a debtor of the state could raise such a defence if sued by the executor in a Court having jurisdiction to revoke the probate? KISHORBHAI RAYDAS v RASCHODI DINGRA (1914) I L R 38 Bom 427

— ss 40 to 45—

See LUNACY ACT (1858)

24 C W N 378

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 s 11

I L R 44 Mad 778

— s 41—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881) s 83—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11—Contentious proceeding for probate—Will not proved—Probate refused—Suit for recovery of property from defendants who held as executors—Judgment in the probate proceeding refusing probate not judgment in rem—Res judicata—In a contentious proceeding for probate the will produced by the applicants was held not proved and the probate was refused. The applicants appealed to the High Court which dismissed the appeal. The widow of the deceased thereupon brought a suit for the recovery of the property of the deceased from the defendants who held it as executors under the will and the first Court allowed the claim. On appeal by the defendants two questions having arisen namely (i) whether the judgment refusing probate was as much within the scope and intension of s 41 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) as a judgment granting probate and (ii) whether the judgment in the probate proceeding operated as res judicata Held by the Full Bench that s 41 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) was not applicable to the judgment of the Appellate Court refusing probate. Held further that the judgment in the probate proceeding operated as res judicata between the parties under s 47 of the Civil Administration

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—concl'd— s 41—concl'd

tion Act (V of 1881) and s. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) RAJYACHAND LALCHAND v SITABAI (1913) I L R 38 Bom 309

— s 44—

See SANTAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION 1872 6 Pat L J 373

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1909 s 11
I L R 37 Bom. 563

Right of a stranger to a decree affecting his rights to show in a subsequent suit that the decree was invalid on the ground of fraud—Maintainability of such subsequent suit without previous suit to have decree set aside—If by virtue of a previous High Court decree a person, who is no party to that decree is deprived of his rights with respect to certain property a suit by such a person with respect to the property is maintainable without his having first to bring another suit for getting the decree set aside on the ground of fraud and s 44 of the Evidence Act he can impeach it if it is sought to be used against him as evidence ASWINI KUMAR SAMADAR v BOONMATH CHAKRIVARTY (1916)
21 C W N 594

Grant by Probate Court if can be collaterally attacked in another proceeding as fraudulent—Semle—Having regard to the wide terms of s 44 of the Evidence Act it is not possible to say that it is not open to a Court other than the Court from which a grant has issued in cases of fraud or collusion to deal with the matter and decide whether the grant has been obtained by fraud or collusion. But the better course in such cases would be when it is open to the party alleging fraud to apply to the Court from which the grant issued to stay the suit to enable an application to be made to revoke the grant RAMESH MONDAL v SRINATH TARAVATHI DEVI
25 C W N 207

Res judicata—Fixed rate tenancy—Partition—Power of joint tenants to partition—Suit to recover joint possession—A certain holding owned jointly by tenants at fixed rates was partitioned by an award. One party sued on the award to recover exclusive possession of certain plots and obtained a decree for possession and mesne profits which was executed. Subsequently the other party sued to regain joint possession of these plots and pleaded that the former decree was by a Court not competent to pass it and therefore not binding on them. There was no time to show whether the former suit was filed before or after the coming into force of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901 or whether the landlord had or had not assented to the partition. Held that the plaintiffs had failed to show that the former decree was passed by a Court which had not jurisdiction and that the present suit was barred Achhe Lal v Janki Prasad I L R 29 All 66 explained RAGHUNATH KALWAR v BALA DEVI KALWAR (1910) I L R 25 All 143

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1909) s 11
I L R 37 Bom 553

Compromised decree—Set aside decree on the ground that the same was caused by undue influence—Jurisdiction—A decree obtained by consent or on a

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 44—concl'd

compromis e can be attacked in a separate suit not only upon the ground of fraud but upon any ground which would be a sufficient reason for invalidating the agreement upon which the decree was based. TA Huddersfield Banking Company Limited v Henry Lister and Son Limited L R 2 CA 233 followed. Muhammat Gulab Husat v Dadehak Bahadur 13 C W N 1197 and Sarbesb Chaud a Ban v Hari Dryal Singh 13 C W N 451 referred to. SHAMI NATH CHAUDHRI v PAMJAS (1911) I L R 34 All 143

See FRAUD I L R 41 Calc 990

s 45—

See S 5 I L R 41 All 248

See CUSTOM I L R 1 Lah 540

See PROBATE I L R 39 Calc 295

See LANCY ACT 24 C W N 378

See SEDITION I L R 39 Calc 606

s 47—

See JURY I L R 37 Calc 467

s 48—

See CUREN MEMONS I L R 41 Bom 181

s 52—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s 39 I L R 39 Bom 149

s 54—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 387

319 5 Pat L J 708

See WITNESSES I L R 46 Calc 700

ss 54 165—

See PRACTICE I L R 39 Bom 376

ss 55 57 78 (2)

See LABEL I L R 37 Calc 760

s 57—

See CUREN I L R 38 Mad 416

s 58—

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 58—concl'd

had admitted the signature was concerned his admission would under s 58 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 relieve the plaintiff of any further responsibility of proving the document. Held further that the inference in question was one not drawn from any evidence and the drawing of it was an error of law which could be rectified in second appeal. LAKSHMIKAND CHATRAPATI v LALCHAND GANPAT (1918)

I L R 42 Bom 352

s Jurisdiction—

Court—Consent of the parties as to jurisdiction—Court of value beyond the jurisdiction of the Court—Trial of suit—Jurisdiction cannot be questioned in appeal. The plaintiffs filed a suit for partition in the Court of the Subordinate Judge First Class valuing their claim at an amount which made the suit triable by that Court alone. The Judge however made over the trial of the suit to the Joint Subordinate Judge. In the latter Court neither party raised any objection on the ground of jurisdiction nor was any issue raised relating to it. The trial proceeded on merits and a decree was passed in favour of plaintiffs. The defendant appealed to the lower appellate Court where he for the first time raised the question of jurisdiction on the strength of the market value stated in the plaint. The objection was overruled. On appeal—Held that the market value stated in the plaint prima facie determined the jurisdiction. Held further that as neither party raised any question as to want of jurisdiction in the first Court and as they by their conduct and silence treated the market value to be of the amount sufficient to give jurisdiction to the Court they dispensed with proof on the question by their tacit admissions and thus the principle of law laid down in s 58 of the Indian Evidence Act came into operation and prevented the result of the statement of the market value in the plaint. As a rule parties cannot by consent give jurisdiction where none exists. This rule applies only where the law confers no jurisdiction. It does not prevent parties from waiving inquiry by the Court as to facts necessary for the determination of the question as to jurisdiction where that question depends on facts to be ascertained. JOSE ANTONIO BARRETO v FRANCISCO ANTONIO RODRIGUES (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 24

ss 58 82 proviso 4—Mortgage bond registered—Subsequent oral agreement by mortgagee to take less than due amount whether mortgagor files bond—Admission by mortgagee in pleadings in suit—Proof of agreement whether necessary under Evidence Act and Civil Procedure Code. A subsequent oral agreement to take less than is due under a registered mortgage bond is an agreement modifying the terms of a written contract, and if it has to be proved, oral evidence is inadmissible under s 9 proviso 4 of the Indian Evidence Act. If such agreement has been admitted in the pleadings, no question of admissibility of evidence oral or documentary arises, as proof of the sum is dispensed with in consequence of the admission under s 38 of the Evidence Act and also under the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. Chinnasappa v Lalshawan 367 distinguish CHITTY (1913) I L R 13 Bom 422 Mad 41

1 Fact admitted need not be proved—Defendant's admission of signature to a bond—Proof of the bond—Inference from facts which are not evidence—Inferences not according to law—Error of law—Interference by High Court on second appeal. The plaintiff having sued on a mortgage the sons of the mortgagor some of whom were minors denied all knowledge of the mortgage. One of the sons (defendants) who had attained majority when examined as a witness admitted that the signature to the mortgage deed was his father's. At an adjourned date of hearing the plaintiff was absent on account of illness and his witnesses also were not present. The Court declined to grant any further adjournment and dismissed the suit holding that the mortgage deed was not proved. The Court also inferred from the mere fact that the plaintiff delayed bringing his suit until almost the last day allowed him by the law of limitation that he must have been receiving interest all that time at the rate stipulated for in the deed and on that calculation it reached the conclusion that the debt had been fully satisfied. The plaintiff having appealed Held that as far as the defendant who ss 65 66 90—Secondary evidence of document—Original withheld by party who knew it could be required—Certified copy produced by plaintiff—Presumption as to ancient document applied in case of a certified copy In a suit for redemption of a usufructuary mortgage the plaintiffs tendered in evidence a certified copy of the mortgage bond which was executed in the year 1876 There was no evidence that they had called upon the defendants mortgagees to produce the original document Held (i) that from the nature of the case the defendants must have known that they would be required to produce the original mortgage which presumably was in their possession, and therefore the certified copy was admissible and (ii) that the presumption allowed by s 90 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 could be applied when a certified copy being admissible was produced in evidence in the same way as it could be applied to an original document Jahri Prasad Singh v Jalla Jas Kunwar I L R 22 All 394 followed Akhetar Chunder Mookerjee v Akhetar Paul Sreerathna I L R 6 Cal 886 and Ponnambalath Parapravan v Karoth Sankaran Var 12 Indian Cases 453 referred to DWARKA SINGH v PAMANAND UPADHYA (1919) I L R 41 All 592

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 66—

Sec s 74

10 C W N 1068

ss. 67 and 73—

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Cal 467

s 68—

See ATTESTING WITNESSES

I L R 48 Cal 61

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 s

59 I L R 44 Bom 405

1—Admissibility of document in evidence—Mortgage deed not proved but terms thereof incorporated in a subsequent instrument properly executed and proved Where a document itself legally inadmissible in evidence was subsequently referred to and partly incorporated in a second document of similar import duly executed between the same parties and registered according to law it was held that the earlier document might be referred to for the purpose of explaining and amplifying the terms of the second, and of arriving at a correct conclusion as to the true nature of the transaction into which the parties had entered Fishmongers Company v Dimdale 18 L J C P 65 6 C B 592 and Mitchell v Mathura Das I L R 8 All 6 referred to MOTI CHAND v LALTA PRASAD (1917) I L R 40 All 256

2—Attesting witness meaning of—Writer of a document whether can be regarded as an attesting witness The writer of a document who signed the same as a scribe can be regarded as an attesting witness, if he saw the signing of the document by the executant Veerapudayan v Muthukaruppan Thevar 24 Mad L J 634 Ajmalnagar Syerjam v Ayala Am Illai 251 C 409 and Ranu v Laxman Rao I L R 33 Bom 44 referred to Edder Prasad v Abdul Karim I L R 35 All 234 and Pam Laladhar Singh v Ajothya Singh 5 C W N 699 dissenting from LAKHMASIVA UDAYAN v KRISHNA PADAYACHI (1911) I L R 41 Mad 535

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 68—contd

3—The section is imperative so if an attesting witness can be called he must be even though he prove hostile TULA SINGH v COPAL SINGH 1 Pat L J 369

4—A person whose name is on a deed merely as a scribe is not a witness within the Transfer of Property Act 1882 s 59 although he may have actually seen the document signed RAMBULDER SINGH v ADITYARAY SINGH 1 Pat L J 129

5—Mortgage—Evidence of execution—Attesting witness—Scribe The scribe of a mortgage deed cannot be counted as an attesting witness merely because he has signed the deed even though the deed may in fact have been executed in his presence To be an attesting witness within the meaning of s 68 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 the witness must have seen the document executed and have signed it as a witness Ranu v Laxman Rao I L R 33 Bom 44 Burdett v Spilbury 4 10 C & F 340 and Shamu Patter v Abdul Kadir Rautan I L R 35 Mad 607 followed Radha Aishen v Fateh Ali Khan I L R 20 All 532 Raj Narain Ghosh v Abdur Rahim 5 C W N 554 and Muhammad Ali v Jaffer Khan All Weekly Notes (1897) 146 discussed BADRI PRASAD v ABDUL KARIM (1913) I L R 35 All 254 ss 68, 70—Admission of execution by person claiming through executant Admission of execution of an attested document by the executant or by a person representing his interests is sufficient proof of its execution against the person making such admission As against other parties the document must be proved in accordance with s 68 Evidence Act SHIBAN CHANDRA SEN v PAM CHANDRA SEN (1917) 22 C W N 444

ss 68, 69—

1—Evidence mortgage deed—Proof of mortgage deed after death of executant and marginal witnesses Held that the executant of and all three marginal witnesses to a mortgage deed being dead a mortgage deed was sufficiently proved by evidence that the signature of the mortgagor was in his handwriting and that the signatures of two of the marginal witnesses were in their handwriting By such evidence a presumption of due execution was raised which it lay on the defendants to rebut Right v Sander son L R 9 P D 115 referred to UTTAM SINGH v HUKAM SINGH (1916)

I L R 39 All 112

2—Evidence—Mortgage—Proof of mortgage deed A mortgage deed on the face of it appeared to be attested by a large number of witnesses In a suit upon the bond the mortgagee called one attesting witness who proved that he saw the mortgagor sign the mortgage and that he himself signed his name as an attesting witness The other witnesses were not called nor did the witness who was called say that any other attesting witness was present nor was he asked the question by either side Held that in the absence of any rebutting evidence the mortgage deed must be considered to be sufficiently proved Uttam Singh v Hukam Singh I L R 39 All 112 referred to SHIBU DAYAL v SHEO GHULAM (1916)

I L R 39 All 211

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*ss. 68, 69—concl'd

3 Transfer of Property Act (II of 1908)—Proof of execution—Document proved to be genuine and in the presence of all the witnesses who were examined. One of the attesting witnesses to a mortgage deed was dead. The other attesting witness was called and proved that the mortgage deed was signed by the mortgagor in his presence and that he signed the deed as an attesting witness. It was not expressly proved that there was another attesting witness present who saw the mortgagor sign, but it was not proved to be contrary that there was not another attesting witness. Held that the mortgage was sufficiently proved according to the requirements of ss 68 and 69 of the Indian Evidence Act. RAM DEVI v. MUNNA LAL (1916) I L R 39 All 109

ss 68 to 71—

See EVIDENCE I L R 44 Cal 345

ss 69 and 70—

See MORTGAGE 4 Pat L J 511Evidence—Mortgage—*

Proof of execution of mortgage—Mortgagors illiterate and both they and the attesting witnesses dead before suit brought. A mortgage deed was on the face of it executed in 1885 by three illiterate mortgagors who affixed their marks and was attested by more than two witnesses. At the time of the institution of a suit for sale thereon all the executants and the attesting witnesses were dead and the evidence tendered in proof of the mortgage consisted of (i) the statement of a witness who professed to be acquainted with the handwriting of two of the attesting witnesses (ii) a deed of usufructuary mortgage executed by one of the executants of the mortgage in suit and by the representative of the two other executants which referred to and recognized the genuineness of the mortgage in suit and (iii) a deed of sale executed in 1902 by the representatives or some of the representatives of the executants of the deed in suit which recognized by genuineness of the usufructuary mortgage mentioned above. Held that having regard to ss 69 and 70 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 this evidence was not sufficient to prove the mortgage in suit. GOVARDHAN DAS v. HARI LAL (1915) I L R 35 All 364

ss 68 154—Attesting witness in the position of witness called by Court. SURENDRA KRISHNA MONDAL v. SHI PANEE DASS

24 C W N 860

ss 69—Proof of document—Document required by law to be attested—Deed of attesting witness—Hindu law—Joint Hindu family—Part of. On execution of a deed of mortgage the names of two out of the four attesting witnesses were written by the scribe who had signed the document himself. Held that it being necessary to prove the deed of mortgage after the death of all the attesting witnesses and the scribe it was sufficient to prove the hand writing of the scribe. Radha Kishen v. Fateh Ali Ram I L R 20 All 532 referred to. Where all the adult members of a joint Hindu family appear on the record as plaintiffs or defendants it is a legitimate presumption that they are acting as managers on behalf of themselves and of the minor members of the family who do not join in the suit. Hori Lal v.

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*ss 69—concl'd

Waman Kumar I I I 34 All 549 and Nathu Lal v. Lala I I I 34 All 52 referred to. KRISHNA JIVA TEWARI v. BISHNATH KALWAR (1912) I L R 34 All 615

ss 69 to 72—

See EVIDENCE I L R 44 Cal 345

ss 70—

1 Registration Act (I of 1908) s 60 (2)—Admission—Endorsement of registering officer not evidence of admission of execution of document. The admission referred to in s 70 of the Indian Evidence Act is an admission in the course of proceedings in which the attested document is produced for example made in the pleadings or by a party himself in his examination. The certificate of execution endorsed by the registering officer upon a document registered by him cannot be used as an admission of execution within the meaning of this section. RAJ MANGAL MISHR v. MATHURA DEWAI (1915) I L R 38 All 1

2 Suit on a mortgage bond—Admission of mortgagee if sufficient to make mortgage admissible against other parties not admitting execution without proof by attesting witnesses—s 70 effect of Ter Woodoff and J Chatterjee JJ (Newbold J dissenting). In a suit on a mortgage bond the admission of execution by the sole mortgagor does not under s 70 of the Evidence Act dispense with the necessity of complying with the provisions of s 68 of the Evidence Act in order to prove the execution of the document as against other parties in the suit who do not admit such execution. The document must be proved as against them in accordance with the provisions of ss 68 69 and 70 of the Act. The effect of s 70 is that the proof by calling attesting witnesses is dispensed with when the party executant admits execution only as against him. Jogendra Nath Mukhopadhyay v. Anil Churn Bundopadhyay 7 C B 381 commented on. SATISH CHANDRA MITRA v. JOGENDRA NATH MOHALANABIS (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 34520 C W N 10443 A person who

signs as a witness merely on admission of execution by the executant is not an attesting witness. MUSANMAT HIRA LALI v. ANJANA LAL

6 Pat L J 403

ss 73—Handwriting proof of—Document when admissible against accused. A document to be admissible against an accused person should be proved (i) to be either a document in the handwriting of an accused person by comparison with an admitted or proved specimen of his handwriting in the light of the testimony of expert witnesses or (ii) to be in the possession of an accused person or (iii) to be a libellous as falling within the scope of s 10 Evidence Act. Harindra Kumar Chose v. Emperor 11 C B 311 I L R 3 Cal 46 followed. PULIN PERUM DAS v. KING EMPEROR (1911) 18 C W N 1196

ss 74—

See CONTENT OF

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 74—contd

necessary for admission of such document in evidence
A notice under s 107 Criminal Procedure Code is a public document within the meaning of a 74 of the Evidence Act but it cannot come in without proof that the parties mentioned in it are the parties concerned in the question at issue about which it is produced as evidence AMJAD & LACHMI KANTA JRA (1914)
18 C W N 644

ss 74 66—Order of Probate Court granting letters of administration with copy of will annexed if public document—Certified copy if admissible—Admission as secondary evidence though not at pt taken to call for production of original
The certified copy of an order of the Probate Court to the effect that letters of administration be granted to the person named with a copy of the will annexed of the deceased testator is admissible the latter being a public document within the meaning of a 74 of the Indian Evidence Act. Where it appeared that the original letters were in the possession of parties interested in opposing the plaintiff's claim but the plaintiff did not take steps to call upon them to produce them. Held that there being no question of the genuineness of the document these steps should have been waived by the Court and the document admitted in evidence under s 66 of the Evidence Act. HARIRAM DAS & HEM NATH SARMA (1915)
19 C W N 1988

ss 74 and 114—

See REGISTER OF DEATHS

I L R 48 Cal 152

s 78(2)—

See LIBEL

I L R 37 Cal 760

ss 80 91—

See DEPOSITION

I L R 45 Cal 825

ss 80 and 144—

See CONFESSION

2 Pat L J 80

ss 80 167—

See DEPOSITION

I L R 46 Cal 895

s 81—

See s 21

I L R 36 Mad 457

s 82—

See HINDU LAW (MINOR)

I L R 38 Mad 166

s 83—

See s 7

18 C W N 1058

Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 83—Map of khas mahal land prepared under direction of Government—Admissibility in boundary disputes—Business non attendance of—Process to compel attendance refused without good ground—Second appeal
In a dispute relating to the boundary of a holding, between the plaintiff and the Municipal Corporation of Calcutta. Held that a map prepared in 1872 under the direction of the Government acting not in its sovereign capacity but as the landlord of this and neighbouring holdings was admissible in evidence if not under a 83 under a 13 of the Evidence Act. UPENDRA NATH GHOSH & THE CHAIRMAN OF THE CALCUTTA CORPORATION (1911)
18 C W N 116

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 83—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1909

s 106 AND 428

I L R 42 Mad 885

s 90—

See s 32

3 Pat L J 308

See s 4

I L R 37 Mad 455

See s 6

I L R 41 All 592

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE, 1879

ss 3 74

L L R 45 Bom 378

S 90 of the Indian

Evidence Act does not prove the authority of the person who has made the grant the genuineness whereof is presumed by the Court under the provisions of that section
KASHI NATH PAL & JAGAT KISHORE ACHARYA CHOWDHURY (1915)
20 C W N 843

S 90 of the Indian

Secondary evidence of document which may be given—Document failure of witness to produce—Process fee for warrant failure to deposit if default excluding secondary evidence of document—Recital of boundaries in documents if admissible as between persons not parties thereto—Document over thirty years old opportunity if must be given to prove execution where presumption does not apply—Road cess return admissibility of—Omission in a document if evidence
Where the plaintiff issued summons upon a witness to produce a lease which was a title deed of the witness and which he was under no agreement with the plaintiff to produce and on the failure of the witness to attend the plaintiff to obtain an order for the issue of warrant against the witness but failed to put in the process fee. Held that the failure of the plaintiff to get the warrant issue did not amount to default on his part and that in the circumstances of the case he was entitled to use a certified copy of the document as evidence. A recital as to the boundary of a land in a lease is admissible in evidence against a person who was no party to that document. Angara & Bharmappa I L R 25 Bom 63
Abdul Aziz Mollah & Ebrahim Molla I L P 31 Cal 965
Burka Mandal & Megnath 2 C L J 41 followed
Abdulla & Aunya Behari 14 O L J 467
Brayson & Bhudanuddi I L R 6 Cal 268
Monohur Singh & Sumitra Loe I L R 27 All 478 referred to Under s 90 of the Evidence Act the Court is not bound to presume the genuineness of a document over thirty years old. It must first satisfy itself that the elements necessary to bring the document within the rule in that section exists and then exercise its discretion as to whether in the circumstances the presumption of genuineness should be applied to it. If the Court is not satisfied that the presumption should apply it should call upon the party to produce evidence of its execution. Where therefore the Court below rejected such a document without calling upon the party to produce evidence of execution. Held that the Court had not acted properly. The absence of the names of the predecessors of the plaintiff from the list of tenants in a road cess return not filed by either party to the suit was admissible in evidence against the plaintiff. MARR CHANAR & SIDDHARTI PANDAY (1911)
17 C W N 108

s 91—

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

I L R 45 Cal 481

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 91—contd

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s. 103 I L R 34 Mad. 349

s. 239 I L R 42 Mad. 561

See DEPOSITION

I L R 45 Cal. 825

See DYING DECLARATION

I L R 36 Cal. 659

See EVIDENCE I L R 48 Cal. 109

See LIMITATION Act 1877 Sec II Arts

132 134 I L R 35 Bom. 433

See PARTITION 15 C W N 375

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s. 101

I L R 36 Bom. 500

See VARIOUS AMOUNTS OF EVIDENCE

I L R 38 Mad. 660

perjury but statement not read out—

See EVIDENCE CODE s. 113

I L R 1 Lah. 361

oral evidence of an agreement—

See REGISTRATION

I L R 1 Lah. 436

1 ————— Search list does not exclude oral evidence of matters stated therein—Confession not recorded in compliance with orders of Government—Such confession admissible if voluntary—S. 91 of the Evidence Act has no application when the writing is not evidence of the matter reduced to writing—A search list is not evidence of the matter stated therein and it does not therefore exclude oral evidence of such matter Q. O. No. 2883 Judicial paragraph 6 (dated 17th December 1897) directs that no Magistrate may record any confession or statement under s. 167 Criminal Procedure Code until he has first recorded in writing his reasons for believing that the accused is going to make such statement voluntarily—Held that non-compliance with an order of Government as to the formalities to be observed in recording confessions does not render a confession inadmissible in evidence—The Court has to determine whether such confession was voluntary or not—PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. SARABU CHENNAIYA (1899)

I L R 33 Mad. 413

2 ————— Oral evidence admissible to prove what took place at time of search—Where a search has been conducted under the Criminal Procedure Code the search list is not the only evidence admissible as to the matters dealt with therein—S. 91 of the Evidence Act does not exclude oral evidence of what took place at the time of search—Abdul Kadir v. Queen Empress 2 B. & C. R. 515 dissent d. from—Public Prosecutor v. Sarabu Chennaiya I L R 33 Mad. 413 followed—RAMATHAN v. EMPEROR (1910)

I L R 33 Mad. 418

3 ————— Partition evidenced by a writing not registered—Oral evidence admissible to prove the fact of partition—The fact of partition may be proved by oral evidence although the deed embodying the terms of partition cannot be proved for want of registration—CHHOTALAL DIXIT v. Datt Maharaj (1917)

I L R 41 Bom. 453

4 ————— Suit on promissory note—Note inadmissible in evidence—It is not entitled to fall back on original cause of action—If a creditor has a cause of action for the recovery of money for which his debtor has executed a promissory note a private loan and independent of the note he can recover upon such cause in case the note for any reason cannot be put in evidence—Nor is the creditor necessarily debarred from suing on the original cause of action by the fact that it arose out of the same transaction in the course of which the promissory note was executed—Puroshan Varma v. Talay Singh I L R 96 All. 178 overruled—Sheikh Akbar v. Sheikh Khan I L R 8 Cal. 404—Krishnaji v. Fajmal I L R 24 Bom. 370—Irshad Ali v. Bhimaji I L R 98 Bom. 432—Banarsi Prasad v. Faal Ahmad I L R 28 All. 294 and Sr. Nath Das v. Angad Singh 7 All. L. J. 157 referred to—PAM SANKU v. JASODHA KUNWAR (1911)

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 91—contd

I L R 24 All. 158

5 ————— Evidence admissible of—Confession made to enquiring magistrate but not recorded by him in writing—Criminal Procedure Code ss. 364 and 333—A confession of an accused person made to a Magistrate holding an inquiry is a matter required by law to be reduced to the form of a document within the meaning of s. 91 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 and that no evidence can be given of the terms of such a confession except the record (if any) under a 304 of the Code of Criminal Procedure—s. 333 of the Criminal Procedure Code has no application to a case where no record whatever has been made of such a confession—EMPEROR v. GILGANI (1913)

I L R 35 All. 260

6 ————— Evidence—Confession—Admission of guilt during departmental inquiry—Oral evidence as to statement admissible—The complainant in a petty criminal case before a bench of Honorary Magistrates in the course of negotiations concerning a compromise made a statement to the effect that he had paid a certain sum of money by way of an illegal gratification to the pekhkar of the Court—The pekhkar was at once called up and examined by way of departmental inquiry and not on oath and he admitted having received money from the complainant—The Honorary Magistrates reported the circumstances to the District Magistrate who directed the prosecution of the pekhkar—Held that the statement made by the pekhkar to the Magistrates was not a statement which was required by law to be in writing and could be proved by the evidence of either of the Magistrates who had heard it—EMPEROR v. HARIDAR PAZI (1914)

I L R 35 All. 222

7 ————— Hundi—Penalty of hundi given as security for debt—Hundis used on inadmissible for want of proper stamp—Right of creditor to fall back on previous hundi—The defendants borrowed money from the plaintiffs and in return therefor drew four hundis in their favour—As these hundis became due the interest on the loan was paid and the hundis were renewed, the old hundi being on each occasion handed over to the defendants—Ultimately the plaintiffs sued on a set of renewed hundi—but it was found that these particular hundis were insufficiently stamped and could not be admitted in evidence—Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to fall back upon the last proceeding set of hundi—and as these were in the possession of the defendants to give secondary evidence of their contents—JAGU PRASAD v. INDUR MAI (1911)

I L R 33 All. 259

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 91—contd

8 ———— suit for recovery of money advanced on a hundi which was signed shortly after the money was actually paid—Hundi insufficiently stamped and inadmissible in evidence—whether plaintiff has a cause of action independent of the hundi The defendant C S applied to the Amritsar National Insurance and Banking Company for a loan and in his application stated the security as personal security on a hundi payable after 3 months. The Directors of the Company sanctioned the loan and the money was paid to C S less a certain amount deducted as interest in advance for 3 months and C S thumb marked the Banker's voucher. The same day C S executed a hundi promising to repay the money to the Company after ninety days. The Company subsequently assigned their claim to the National Banking Company Amritsar and the latter at first sued on the hundi but finding that it was insufficiently stamped put in an amended plaint in which they claimed simply to recover the money advanced with interest. Held that the loan having been granted on the security of a hundi (the execution of the hundi being for certain reasons postponed till a short time after the money had actually been paid to the defendant) the plaintiff had no cause of action independent of the hundi and as the hundi was inadmissible in evidence and as s 91 of the Evidence Act forbids secondary evidence the plaintiff's suit must fail. Shen Das v Kanhaiya Lal (61 P R 1885) Bakshi Ram Labhaya v Kala Ram (42 P R 1895) and Ganga Ram v Amir Chand (66 P R 1906) and C A 288a of 1916 unpublished followed. Pay Nath Das v Solig Ram (16 Indian Cases 33) not followed. CHANDA BIRCH v AMRITSAR BANKING CO I L R 2 Lah. 330 ss 91 92—Contract—Contract signed by a party personally—Oral evidence to show that the party signing contracted as agent—Admissibility of—Indian Contract Act (I of 1872) s 231 33 effect of In a suit on a contract signed by the defendant personally the defendant attempted to lead oral evidence to show that he was contracting as agent and that the name of his principal was disclosed at the time of the contract. On plaintiff objecting to this evidence being admitted Held that such evidence was not admissible for the purpose of exonerating a contracting party from liability for that would be substituting a different agreement from that evidenced by the writing. Higgins v Senior (1911) 58 P R 584 followed. Indra Nath Chetty v Govindramulu Naidu (1907) 31 Mad 45 and Sahasul Jenji Das v Sri Kishan Pershad (1913) 46 Cal 66, referred to. FRANKLIN & PARKER MILLS CO LTD v HASSAN MAHMOUD (1921)

I L R 45 Bom. 1242

s 92—

See s 59 I L R 42 Mad 41

See CONTRACT ACT

ss 1 and 118 I L R 41 Bom 518

G 15 C W N 408

See DOCTRINE OF SATISFACTION

I L R 37 Bom 211

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (VII of 18 9) s 2(2) 104

I L P 3 Bom 18

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—contd

s 92—contd

See EVIDENCE I L R 45 Calc 320
I L R 38 Calc. 892See EVIDENCE ADMISSIBILITY OF
L R 44 I A 236
I L R 45 Calc 320
I L R 38 Calc 892See KHUDDASH IOFFS
I L R 48 Calc 959See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 46 Calc 1079

See LEASE I L R 48 Calc 1079

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 54 118
I L R 37 Mad. 423See RAYATI HOIDING
I L R 42 Calc. 546

See ORAL AGREEMENT

See RECEIPT I L R 47 Calc 129

See RENT I L R 41 Calc 347

See RES JUDICATA I L R 1 Lah. 83

Price specified in the sale deed—Recital as to amount of price is essential term of contract of sale—Oral agreement as to higher price in discharge of a mortgage—Evidence in admissible The amount of the price agreed to be paid is an essential term of a contract of sale and consequently no evidence of an oral agreement at variance with the provisions of a registered sale deed as to the amount of the price fixed for the sale is admissible under s 92 of the Indian Evidence Act. Concayy Ruttonji Limboowalla v Buryji Ruttonji Limboowalla I L R 12 Bom 255 followed. Isudera v Narasamma I L R 5 Mad 6 Kumara v Srinivas I L R 11 Mad 213 Huk mehand v Divail I L R 3 Bom 159 and Gopal Singh v Laloo Lal 10 C L J 2* explained. Ram Balsh v Durjan I L R 9 All 392 Indrajit v Lal Chand I 18 All 169 Baili hen Das v Legge I L R 99 All 149 Samba Goundan v Palani Goundan (1913) Mad 11 650 and Prolat Chandra Gangapadhyay v Chirag Ali I L R 33 Calc 607 referred to. ADITYAM IYER v RAMA KRISHNA IYER (1917) I L R 38 Mad 514

Sale deed or Mortgage—Written agreement—Contemporaneous oral agreement to treat it as mortgage—Absence of fraud misrepresentation etc—Oral agreement cannot be pleaded Where parties enter into a sale deed with a contemporaneous oral agreement to treat it as a mortgage it is not open to either of them to plead the oral agreement in absence of fraud misrepresentation or failure of consideration or the like on rendering the sale void. SANGRA MALANIA v BANARJA (1909) I L R 34 Bom 59

Sale deed or Gift—Admissibility of evidence to show that a document purporting to be a sale deed is in reality a deed of gift In the appeal their Lordships were of opinion that the decree of the High Court in Jai un narsay Hanf un narsay I L R 10 All 617 could not be supported and remitted the case to the High Court to be dealt with on the evidence. HANF UN NARSA v FAIZ UN NARSA (1911) I L R 33 All 34

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 92—contd

PROV I—Sale deed—Content perante concrete Admissibility—Fraud I desired to make a sale and a tentative sale deed by proving that a representation agreement or promise was made to him at the time of execution that the deed would not be enforced as a sale deed. Held that no evidence of such a representation agreement or promise could be admitted for this purpose. Dattoo v Ramchandra 1 L R 30 Pm 113 and Ashvany v Poya 1 L R 3 Pm
 1 P 93 followed. DAGDI VALAD SADI & ANA
VALAD SADI (1910) 1 L R 35 Bom 93

Sale deed or Mortgage—Dekkhan agricultural Relief Act (VIII of 1879) & 104—Re- duction on suit—Sale in realty a mortgage—Evidence of oral agreement varying the written document The plaintiff brought a redemption suit under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (VIII of 1879) alleging that the deed which he had executed to the defendant though on its face a deed of sale was in reality only a deed of mortgage, the defendant having promised at the time of the execution of the deed that he would allow redemption on payment of the money advanced.
 The defendant replied that the transaction was a sale.
 The First Class Subordinate Judge of the Dharwar District to which a 10% of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (VIII of 1879) was not extended found on the evidence that the deed passed by the plaintiff was not proved to be really a mortgage and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff appealed urging that the proper issue in the case was as to whether the sale deed was not obtained or induced by the defendant by means of fraud or misrepresentation within the meaning of prov I of s 92 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) and prayed for a remand. Held confirming the decree that the plaintiff sought to make a new case in appeal in so far as he endeavoured to base his case not upon a separate oral agreement but upon some fraud which would invite the application of prov I of s 92 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872). Held further that in his efforts to show that the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (VIII of 1879) was not extended it was not open to the Court to enter upon a defence which consisted of an allegation of an oral agreement varying the written contract.
Dagdi v Ana 1 L R 35 Bom 93 and Sangra
Malappa v Panappa 1 L R 34 Bom 97 followed.
Balkishan Das v W F Legge 1 L R 22 All 129 referred to. ROMANA BASATTA & GADDEYA KON- NAYA (1910) 1 L R 35 Bom 232

Fraud—Evidence admissibility of—Evidence of acts and conduct of parties to deeds showing that they were treated as being otherwise than they purport to be—Evidence showing actual conveyances to be only mortgages—Fraud with regard to property of third person not pertinent s 92 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) is applicable to an instrument as between the parties to such an instrument or their representatives in interest but it does not prevent proof of a fraudulent dealing with a third person's property or proof of notice that the property purporting to be absolutely conveyed in fact belonged to a third person who was not a party to the conveyance. The respondents claimed to recover possession of certain parcels of land under deeds which purported to be absolute conveyances but which the appellants contended were meant to be and had always in fact been treated by all the parties concerned as mortgages

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 92—contd

only and the tendered evidence of the acts and conduct of the parties to that effect. This evidence was excluded by both Courts below under s 92 of the Evidence Act. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee on appeal were however of opinion that on the evidence the case for the appellants disclosed a charge of fraud against the respondents antecedent to the deeds inasmuch as they or the persons under whom they claimed took absolute conveyances of property from the appellants with notice that such property belonged in fact to a third person the alleged mortgagee whose evidence would be material and necessary in the matter of the alleged fraudulent dealing. Their Lordships therefore without expressing any opinion on the construction or application of s 92 of the Evidence Act in relation to the deeds came to the conclusion that if a rejected evidence should be heard subject to any objections which the respondents might be advised to take as the Court would then be in a position to deal hereafter (if necessary) with the admissibility of the evidence in relation not only to the deeds but also in relation to the questions that might arise in connection with the alleged knowledge or conduct of the parties antecedent to the execution of those deeds and upon which their validity might possibly depend. MARU KATTA
MA SUNE LA (1911) 1 L R 38 Cal 592

Consideration—Sale of land consideration for not as stated in the deed—Oral promise failure to perform Assuming that it may be shown by oral evidence that the real consideration for a deed of sale was not the consideration stated in the deed itself but a promise to maintain the plaintiff in the absence of coercion undue influence fraud or misrepresentation of any kind at the time when the deed of sale was registered and possession taken thereunder the deed will not be set aside. The special equitable doctrine whereby the American Courts have relieved in cases where an aged person has conveyed all his property in consideration of an oral promise to be supported for the remainder of his life by the grantee not applied. SUNBAYAN
& MOHINI SUBRAMANIAM AYYAR (1913)
 1 L R 46 Mad. 8

PROV I—Evidence—Proof of failure of consideration—Promissory note given partly on account of a gambling debt The defendant who had been gambling with the plaintiffs and had lost gave the plaintiffs two promissory notes partly for his gambling losses and partly on other accounts but it could not be ascertained what proportion of the total sum secured was represented by the gambling debts. Held on suit to recover on these notes that it was open to the defendants to prove that the consideration was in part at least money lent in gambling and that the Court below was justified on its finding that the part of the consideration represented by gambling debts could not be separated from the rest in dismissing the whole suit. Jigarnauth Sew Dux v Pam Dyal 1 L R 3 Cal 79 distinguished.
RAJESIND & BRAGGU MAL (1913)
 1 L R 35 All 558

Fraud—Written document—Oral evidence to vary its terms—Plea of fraud—Section applies only to parties or their representatives In 183 certain property conveyed to B and to S by its owners, and his cousin.

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 92—contd

show that the intention of the parties was that the kabulyat from the very first was not intended to be acted upon or that there had been a waiver of the strict terms of the lease Benimadhub Gorain v Talmoti Das 6 C W N 242 followed MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDI v DURGA SUNDARI DASSY (1915) 20 C W N 680

Mortgage with possession—De facto substitution of the other property for part of that included in the mortgage deed—S it for redemption—Evidence The plaintiff mortgaged to the defendants three specific items of property for a sum of Rs 99. The mortgage was registered and it was a possessory mortgage but the defendants never in fact got possession of more than one of the items mentioned in the deed. They did however get possession as mortgagees of another piece of property not mentioned in the deed apparently by virtue of a subsequent oral agreement with the plaintiff and they held this piece of property in mortgagee possession for a number of years. Held on suit by the plaintiff for redemption that the plaintiff was entitled to lead evidence to prove two facts (i) that the possession of the defendants over the plot not mentioned in the mortgage deed was that of mortgagees and had never been adverse to himself and (ii) that the right of mortgagee possession was terminated by the payment of Rs 99 which had been duly tendered by him. BAID RAM v TIKKA RAM (1917) I L R 39 All 300

Prov 5—Dowl kabulyat construction of—Exclusion of evidence of customary incidents—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92 Prov 5—Von agricultural tenancies created before the Transfer of Property Act not heritable or Transferable—Dail of tenant after Act II of 1859 came into force—Hears of may transfer tenancy—Tenancies if terminable without notice—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1859) s 106 if has civil suit to correct entry. The mere fact that a document is called a dowl kabulyat does not decide its nature. The document should be looked at as a whole and any evidence designed to show customary incidents of tenure as attaching to the rates must be rejected if and so far as it conflicts with what is contained in the dowl them selves. Evidence of a custom of transferability is thus excluded by an express statement in the dows that there is no right of sale. Gift or transfer without the landlord's consent. Where the only right secured in the dows to the tenants was an option to take a renewal at the rate of rent prevalent in the parganah. Held that the tenancies created by the dows were neither heritable nor transferable and no evidence of custom was admissible on these heads. When the term of the dowl kabulyats expired the tenants holding over became yearly tenants on the terms of the dowl kabulyats so far as applicable to a yearly tenancy and when on the death of the last survivor of them their heirs were recognised as tenant they became yearly tenants upon the term of the dowl kabulyat so far as applicable to a yearly tenancy. The Transfer of Property Act having come into operation before the tenancy came into the possession of the tenants heirs they had a yearly tenancy in the land which was capable of transfer and notice was necessary to terminate the tenancy the tenancies not being agricultural within the meaning of s 117 of the

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 92—contd

Transfer of Property Act and Chap V of the Act consequently applying to them S 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not provide the only method of obtaining the correction of the entry in a finally published record of rights and a civil suit instituted with that object is maintainable Jogendra Nath Roy v Krishna Ramada Dass I L R 35 Cal 1013 (1908) not followed MAHOMUD ALFUDIN MEH v PROBYOT KUMAR TAGOOR 25 C W N 13

Prov 6—Deed of settlement construction of—Subsequent conduct of parties to the instrument whether admissible in evidence—Execution proceedings—Res judicata—Notice of particular questions necessary for—Application for execution—Order at one stage of the application if res judicata at another stage Where by a Deed of Settlement almost the whole of the settlor's immovable property was transferred to trustees together with buildings and appurtenances thereto and the question was raised as to whether certain specific properties were included in the deed. Held that the ambiguity in the deed being latent in construing the deed the subsequent conduct of the parties thereto can be legitimately looked into under s 92 proviso 6 of the Evidence Act for the purpose of ascertaining to what persons or things the expressions used therein were intended to apply. Tulshi Pershad Singh v Ramnarain Singh I L R 12 Cal 117 Venkataramanna v Venkatapathi 23 Mad L J 519 Forbes v Watt 2 Sc & D App 214 and Van Diemen's Land Company v Table Cape Marine Board [1906] A C 92 referred to. Vissani Sons & Co v Shapurji Burjorji I L R 38 Bom 387 395 explained. A decree holder applied for execution of his decree by attachment and sale of certain properties in the possession of the respondents the sons of the deceased judgment debtor. Notice went to the respondents to show cause why they should not be brought on the record as the legal representatives of the deceased judgment debtor for purposes of execution they did not appear and an order was made ex parte. Held that they were not stopped by this order from moving to set aside the attachment on the ground that the properties did not belong to the judgment debtor. Observations as to the application of the principle of res judicata to orders in execution. SUBRAMANIAM AYYAR v PAJA RAJESWARA DOPAT (1916) I L R 40 Mad 1016

Sale deed—Old document—Intention of parties—Extrinsic evidence admissibility of—Such evidence can only be allowed if the terms of the document require explanation In 1855 a possessory mortgage deed was passed in favour of the father of defendant No 1. In 1867 the mortgagor sold by a document purporting to be a sale deed the equity of redemption to the plaintiff's assignor. The plaintiff having sued for redemption of the mortgage of 1855 an issue was raised whether the transaction of 1867 was a mortgage or sale. Both the lower courts were of opinion that on the wording of the document itself viewed in the light of certain surrounding circumstances as to the value of the property inadequacy of consideration &c under s 106 (d) of the Evidence Act 1872 the parties intended that the transaction was a mortgage. On appeal to the High Court. Held that the docu

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 103—contd

the value of the missing bale the Subordinate Judge decreed the plaintiff's claim holding that the defendant Company failed to prove that theft from the running train though he found that there was no evidence to prove that there was any theft from the train. The defendant company having applied to the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction Held reversing the decree and dismissing the suit that the burden lay on the plaintiff under s 103 of the Indian Evidence Act to give proof of the fact that there was wilful neglect or theft by railway servants and has not having done so no question was reached of robbery from a running train Fast Ind an Railway Company v Nathmal Behari Lal I L R 35 All 418 approved B B & C I RAILWAY COMPANY v RANCHHOLAL CHHOTALAL & Co (1919)

I L R 43 Bom 769

But See PAITHA COMPANY

I L R 45 Bom 1201

s 105—

See PENAL CODE s 70

I L R 32 All 451

Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 97—Right of private defence—Pleadings—Alternatives and apparently inconsistent pleas The right of an accused person to defend himself upon a criminal charge can only be limited by the provisions of the statute law. There is nothing in the law to prevent a man on his trial on a charge of culpable homicide from setting up an alternative defence on some such lines as these: 'First I was not present at the occurrence referred to by the prosecution witnesses and they are giving false evidence against me; secondly even if I fail to persuade the Court of this fact I can show from the statements of the prosecution witnesses themselves that if I had caused the death of any person in the manner and under the precise circumstances deposed to by their evidence I should have been acting in the lawful exercise of a right of private defence' Queen Empress v Protag I L R 20 All 469 Queen-Empress v Timmal I L R 21 All 122 and Emperor v Gullu Ali Weekly Notes 1904 p 113 referred to EMPEROR v YUSUF HUSAIN (1918) I L R 40 All 284

s 106—

See MUNICIPALITY

I L R 41 Calc 168

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 47 Calc 6

Individual and Corporation In order to apply this section the knowledge must be in the nature of something peculiar and there is no difference in this respect between an individual and a corporation LAHEEMINARAIN v ARWAL & PAKCHI MUNICIPALITY

1 Pat L J 168

ss 106 and

See MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1802) s 4

REGULATION (XXV OF

ss 107-108— I L R 38 Mad 620

Adverse possession—Presumption Nature of presumption in law that a person who has been alive for seven years from the time when the person was last heard of is presumed to be dead is a question raised

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*ss 107, 108—concl

before a Court as to whether a person is alive or dead but do not lay down any presumption as to how long a man was alive or at what time he died Aarti v Lal Sahu I L R 37 Calc 193 and Muhammad Sharif v Bande Ali I L R 41 All 36 followed. Assuming that the Court could make a presumption that a person was alive for seven years after he was last heard of it depends on the circumstances of each case whether the Court would draw such a presumption or not. A person in possession without title cannot tack his possession to that of another if he did not enter on possession as the heir of that other VEERAMMA v CHENNA PRUDI (1914) I L R 37 Mad 440

s 108—

See DEATH PRESUMPTION OF

I L R 37 Calc 103

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SECTION I ARTS 140-141

I L R 40 Bom 239

See MORTGAGE I L R 46 Calc 342

Missing—Presumption as to death but not as to date of death—Muhammadan law The presumption of Muhammadan law that when a person has disappeared and has not been heard of for a certain number of years he is dead and further that as regards property coming to him by inheritance he must be deemed to have died at the date of his disappearance is a rule of evidence only and as such must be taken to have been superseded by the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 which do not raise any presumption as to the date of the death of a person who has disappeared and has not been heard of for a certain number of years by those who would naturally hear of him Mozhar Ali v Budh Singh I L R 7 All 297 followed MATRAJ FATIMA v ABDUL WAHID I L R 43 All 673

Evidence—Presumption of death—Burden of proof Held that the presumption which it is permissible to make under s 108 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 does not go further than the mere fact of death. If the period which has elapsed since the time that the person whose death is in question was last heard of is more than seven years there is no presumption that such person died during the first period of seven years and not at any subsequent period Dharup Nath v Gobind Saran I L R 8 All 614 discussed. In re Phenix's Trusts L R 5 Ch 4 139 Narayan Phogat v Shrinivas 3 Bom L R 226, Fanti Bhushan Banerji v Surjya Kanta Roy Chowdhury I L R 35 Calc 25 and Srinath v Probdh Chunder Das 11 C L J 589 referred to MUMAH MAD SHARIF v BANDE ALI (1911)

I L R 34 All 36

s 110—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 O

XII R 23 2 Pat L J 61

Unoccupied village site

Presumption of title relating to government—Onus of proof—Party in possession to prove better title—Adverse possession—Land 1906 Code (Lcm Act 1 of 1879) s 31 The land in dispute was a Galhru or unoccupied village site. The plaintiff alleged that the land came to him at a partition of joint family property and he was in possession.

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 110—contd

of it for twenty years. In 1911, the Collector held that the site belonged to Government and ordered the plaintiff to pay a lease. The plaintiff thereupon sued for a declaration that the site was of his ownership and that the order passed by the Collector might be cancelled. It was contended that as the plaintiff was shown to have been in possession for a period of twenty years (the onus of proving that the plaintiff was not the owner was thrown on the Government under s 110 of the Evidence Act 1872) held that under old customary law and s 37 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code the presumption arose that the title to the village site vested in the Government and in order to oust the Government the plaintiff had to prove either that he had got a title better than the title of the Secretary of State or that he had obtained a title by adverse possession of sixty years. Hunumantrav v Secretary of State for India (1906) 5 Bom 28; discussed in Secretary of State for India v Chellilani Pama Rao (1916) 39 Mad 617 referred to. ASTA & COMPANY SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

1 L R 45 Bom 789

s 114—

See s 20 I L R 35 Mad 247 and 397

See s 30 I L R 43 Bom 739

See s 100 1 Pat L J 163

See CONFESSION 2 Pat L J 80

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 598

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ARTS

142 AND 144 2 Pat L J 504

See MATRIMONIAL REFORMS (XXI) OF

1802) s 4 I L R 38 Mad 620

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 43 Calc 627

See REGISTER OF DEATHS

I L R 46 Calc 132

See REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)

ss 32 60 75 I L R 34 All 253

See RENT DECREE

I L R 43 Calc 170

See WARRANT ATTACHMENT

3 Pat L J 636

Burden of proof—

—Suit on mortgage bond—Production by plaintiff of copy of bond on the ground of loss of the original—

Defendant admission of execution and production of original with payment of debt endorsed by agent of mortgagee—Rebuttal of defendant's evidence by plaintiff with false story In a suit for money due on a mortgage bond the plaintiff produced only a copy of the document alleging in his plaint that it had been lost. The defendant admitted its execution but alleged that the debt had been discharged and in support of his allegation he produced the original document containing the endorsement of the mortgagee through her agent of payment of the debt. The Subordinate Judge relying on s 114 of the Evidence Act put the onus on the plaintiff who to account for the possession of the bond by the defendant set up a case supported by witnesses which both Courts below held to be false. The Subordinate Judge dismissed the suit. The Judges of the Judicial Commissioner's court disbelieved the evidence on both sides set aside the presumption under s 114 of the Evidence Act and endeavoured to make out a case for the plaintiff based on a theory of their own. Held (reversing that decision) that the first Court was right in holding that the production by the defendant of the bond with the endorsement of payment cast on the plaintiff the burden of proving that the debt was still outstanding and that the Appellate Court should not have disregarded the presumption under s 114 in favour of a possibility based on surmise. Suspicion though a ground for scrutiny could not be made the foundation of a decision. MUHAMMAD MENDI HASAN KHAN v MANDIR DAS (1912)

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 114—contd

I L R 34 All 511

17 C W N 49

Presumption arising under—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s 106—Notice to quit—Service by post A notice to quit was given by registered post but the letter containing the notice was returned by the post office the addressee having refused to accept it. Held that under s 114 of the Evidence Act the Court was entitled to presume that the letter containing the notice reached the defendant and the fact that the letter was returned by the post office as not accepted by the addressee did not destroy the presumption. GIRISH CHANDRA GHOSH v KISHORE MOHAN DAS (1918) 23 C W N 310

—ss 114, 133—

See ACCOUNTANCE I L R 38 Calc 96

—s 115—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 40 Calc 173

See BENAMI I L R 46 Calc 566

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1857) s 253 I L R 34 Bom 675

See EASEMENT ACT 1882 s 1 and 47

I L R 45 Bom 80

See ESTOPPEL I L P 36 Mad 604

I L R 39 Calc 513

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (INTEREST)

I L R 46 Calc 1079

See LIEN I L R 1 Lah 389

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s 123 I L R 45 Bom 164

Adjustment outside the Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1857) s 203—Adjustment or payment of decree—Decree holder acting upon the adjustment and receiving money—Application to execute the decree—Estoppel by conduct—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 115 A decree was adjusted outside the Court no notice was given to the Court of the adjustment. And its sanction was not taken under s 23 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1857. The decree holder received payment under the adjustment and afterwards applied to execute the decree in part. The judgment debtor pleaded the adjustment as a bar to execution. The decree holder contended that the adjustment had not been certified to the Court it could not be recognised as valid but was bound to execute the decree. The Subordinate Judge overruled the contention holding that as the decree holder had after adjustment received for several years money

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 115—contd

estopped by conduct under s 115 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872. Held that the view of the Subordinate Judge gave the go by to the plain language of the last paragraph of s 203 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882. There is no room left by the law for the operation of the law of estoppel in the matter of execution. The last paragraph of s 258 enacts a special law for a special purpose whereas s 115 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 relates to the general law of estoppel and the principal is that a special law overrides for its purposes the general law. Per CHANDAVANKAR J—Fraudulent executions of decrees must be discouraged by the Courts whenever they come to their notice and decree holders who enter freely into adjustments outside the Court end do not certify them as required by law but fraudulently apply for execution ignoring the adjustment should be dealt with under the criminal law. Per HEATON J—The purpose of s 208 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 is that the Court shall have complete knowledge of all that is done towards the satisfaction of its decree. TRIMBAK RAJAKRISHNA v HARI LAXMAN (1910) I L R 34 Bom 575

Estoppel—Acquire—Both parties equally conversant with true state of facts—Vague allegations—Real controversy to be ascertained by the Judge. Where parties make vague and loose allegations it is essential to the correct determination of the suit that the real controversy be ascertained by the Judge by questioning their legal advisers as to what is exactly the position in the matter. Where both parties to a suit are equally conversant with the true state of facts it is absurd to refer to the doctrine of estoppel. In the year 1871 Government granted to the defendants predeceessor in title a certain plot of land situate at Dhondhuka. The grant expressly stated that a strip of land belonging to Government was the southern boundary of the plot so granted. This statement was repeated in the mortgage deed executed by the defendants' predecessor in title to the defendants themselves in the year 1893. In the year 1893 the defendants purchased the said plot and encroached on the strip by extending their building on it. Thereupon the Secretary of State for India in Council brought a suit against them to recover possession of the strip after removing the defendants' encroachment. The suit was brought in the year 1903. The defendants' plea was that they were in possession and enjoyment for a long time and consequently there was acquiescence and estoppel on the part of the officers of Government and Dhondhuka Municipality and that they wished to lead evidence to prove their plea. Held that the defendants' title deeds having brought to their knowledge the title of the Government the do trines of estoppel and acquiescence were not applicable and the suit was governed by sixty years limitation, the Government being a party to it. PANCHODAL VANDRAYANDAS v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910) I L R 35 Bom 182

Estoppel—Minor if may be coupled from repudiating contract induced by representation that he was sui juris—Misrepresentation not fraudulent—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 10. The law of estoppel must be read subject to other laws such as an Indian Contract Act and a minor cannot be made liable upon a contract by means of an estoppel under s 115 of the Indian Evidence Act. Dharmadas v Brohma Dutt I L R 25 Cal 616 s c 2 C W N 339 followed. Surendra Nath Poy v Krishna Sa'hi Dan 15 C W N 233 where there was fraudulent misrepresentation distinguished. GOLAM ABDUL SARKAR v HEM (HANDEA MAJUMDAR) (1915)

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 115—contd

20 C W N 418

Estoppel—Minor included a person—Minor passing himself off as a major is bound by his contract—Sale of house. The plaintiff purchased a house from defendant No 2 who was not clearly a minor in appearance and who represented to the plaintiff end caused her to believe that he was a major. In a suit by the plaintiff to recover possession of the house defendant No 2 pleaded his minority. Held negating the plea that defendant No 2 being a person within the contemplation of s 115 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 end having by direct declaration intentionally caused the plaintiff to believe that he was a major was precluded also later from denying the truth of that assertion. Ganesh Lalau Bapji I L R 21 Bom 198 followed. DADASAHEB DASPATRAO v BAI NAHANI (1917)

I L R 41 Bom 480

Estoppel—Owner causing person without legal title to have her name registered as proprietor in Revenue Register—Conveyance issued on challenged as invalid on account of vendor's minority—Failure to prove minority—Onus—Co-defendants' res judicata as believers. Property belonging to B's estate then under management under the provisions of the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act having been put up to sale by the manager was bought by K who either was a benamidar for B or whose title was extinguished by reason of his not taking a conveyance of it. B then caused K's son to execute a conveyance of the property to B's natural daughter R and later on actively assisted her in a proceeding for mutation of names in the Revenue Register for which R applied. Her name was registered and she thus became bound for all the State liabilities which attach to registered holders of immovable property. On B's death, his widow C sued for a declaration that the property was hers making P and J B's son and her defendants. That suit was dismissed the Court holding as between P and J that the property was P's. The plaintiff claimed under a conveyance executed in his favour by R sued for recovery of the property from J who inter alia pleaded that P was an infant at the date of the conveyance which in consequence was invalid. Held that the onus to prove minority being on defendant defect in his proof could not be cured by a mere criticism of the plaintiff's evidence and the defendant having failed to bring reliable evidence to prove his assertion the conveyance must stand. That the decision in C's suit as between R and B who were co-defendants was not res judicata in the present suit. That B was estopped from questioning P's title to the property. JAGANNATH PRASAD SIKON v SYED ABDULLAH (1915) I L R 45 Cal 939

22 C W N 891

ss 115 116—

See ADMINISTRATOR FENDETTI LITE.

I L R 41 Cal 771

See WAKF

I L R 37 Bom 447

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)

ss 115 116 117—I s if majd of le n rattle off every r f m—I on g en b f le and return the r f of t n—Estoppel rule of ~E d n e l e f c h a t i to stoppel
A l o o o l o n a l e r t a i n s t h e p o s s e s s i o n h e c l a i m e d f r o m t h e k r e n n u n e v e n a f t e r h i s t e r m h a s e x p i r e d s e t u p i n t h e k s o r s s u i t f o r e j e c t m e n t t h e d e f e n d a n t h a d n o t i t l e a t t h e t i m e t h e c a s e w a s g r a n t e d T h i s r u l e h a s n o t b e e n a f f e c t e d b y s 116 o f t h e I n d i a n E v i d e n c e
A c t S 115 t 117 o f t h e E v i d e n c e A c t a r e n o t e x h a u s t i v e a s t o t h e r u l e s o f e s t o p p e l i n f o r c e i n
B r i t i s h I n d i a I L A K A N T A B E H A R I H A S T
B A D I A K A R (1911) 20 C W N 1335

be no estoppel if the party to whom the representation was made did not believe it to be true for in such a case the resulting conduct is in no sense the effect of the preceding declaration. It is so in the present case. Under Hindu Law a bequest of income without divestiture of the corpus is probably valid and is in accordance with the Rule against perpetuities. Under the same law gifts to women except a widow are valid ab initio to the extent of the absence of words of limitation. JAGANNATH PRASAD v. JAGESHWAR PRASAD 1 Pat. L. J. 16

----- s 118-----
 2 e BENAMI TRANSACTION I L R 37 AM 557
 5 LANDLOD AND TENANT I L R 38 Mar 53

Denial of landlord's title—L. 10 p 1 When once a person is the tenant of another person, he cannot be allowed to deny that the person who is a tenant he was was the owner when the tenancy was created. He can no doubt admit that his landlord was the owner at the commencement of the tenancy and allege and prove by evidence that the landlord's estate has subsequently come to an end but he cannot deny that at the commencement of the tenancy the person with whom he entered into the contract was the owner of the property and this disability is not removed by the declaration of the tenancy. Pila Kumar v D. Raj Panty Singh F. 1 37 10 557 followed. GANGAI PALLI, MULIAN (1910)

Case 1d.—Landlord and Tenant not let into possession by the landlord.—If the tenant is stopped from denying the landlord's title to the property held by the Land Bench (See cases cited in Ayles and Millars JJ. Abundant Power Off. C. J. dissenting) that a tenant who has executed a lease but has not been let into possession by the lessor is stopped from denying his lessor's title in the absence of proof that he executed the lease in ignorance of the defect in his lessor's title or that his execution of the lease was procured by fraud, misrepresentation or coercion. Per Abundant Power Off. C. J.—A tenant who was let into possession is stopped from denying a landlord's title. A tenant who was not let into possession by the person seeking to eject him is not stopped from denying the plaintiff's title. He may show that the title is in some third person or in himself. But the execution of a lease or payment of rent by the defendant is prima facie proof of the plaintiff's title which the Court dealing with the evidence will ordinarily treat as conclusive in his favour unless the fact is sufficiently explained. In most cases of this nature the presumption in favour of the plaintiff can only be displaced by the defendant showing that the attornment was made by him in ignorance of the plaintiff's title or was induced by fraud, misrepresentation or coercion.

EVIDENCE ACT (1 OF 1872)—contd

5 118—contd

VENKATA CHETTY : ARYANNA GOUNDAN (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 581

s 117-
 See ss 110 116 20 C W N 1335
 See TRADE MARK
 I L R 42 Calc 262
 I L R 49 Calc 814

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 406
See OATH ACT (X OF 1873) ss 5 & 13
I L R 38 AU. 48
6 Pat L J 148

ss 118 132--
 See WITNESS I L R 45 Calc 720
 s 122--
 See EVIDENCE I L R 40 Calc 691

Evidence Act (1 of 187-) s 172—Representative in interest—Disclosure by wife of communications made by deceased husband during marriage Where there is no representative in interest who can consent under 12. of the Evidence Act to the disclosure of communications made by a deceased husband to his wife during marriage the wife should not be permitted even if willing to disclose such communications The widow of a deceased husband is not his representative in interest for the purpose of giving such consent NAWAR HOWLADAN v. EXOROR (1913) 1 L R 40 Cal 891

as 123 124 125—Privilege—Departmental enquiry into conduct of Police officers statements made by witnesses at—Trial of Police Officer on charge of taking illegal gratification—Court's duty to send for the statements and allow accused to cross examine them Statements made by witnesses in the course of departmental enquiry into the conduct of Police Officer who were subsequently put upon their trial on charges of taking illegal gratification are not privileged under s 13 124 or 125 of the Evidence Act and the accused are entitled to cross examine the witnesses under s 153 of the Evidence Act on the statements made by them at the departmental enquiry Empress v Ramadhan Maharin 2 Bom LR 393 HARRIS
DAHALI EMPRESS (191-). 16 C W N 431

— ss 123 124, 103 —
 See EASEMENTS ACT (V of 1852) s 15
 I L R 30 Mad. 304

----- s 125-----
 \ TURRANT \ I L R 40 Calc 898

s 126—Precedent and conflict in statement made by defendant in order to close case with consent—Improperly admitted in evidence Plaintiff sought to prove that defendant who had recovered a divorce for possession of property against certain third parties was plaintiff's beneficiary and for that purpose examined defendant's pleadings in that suit who deposed that defendant had informed him that he was plaintiff's

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 126—contd

benamdar Held that the statement of the pleader having been made without his client's consent was inadmissible in evidence under s 126 Evidence Act. The pleader acted improperly in disclosing without his client's consent communications made to him in confidence as pleader BAKATLA MOLLAI & DERIBUDDI MOLLAI (1912)

16 C W N 742

Privilege of witness—

Vakil and client—Information gained by vakil in case of former employment though not by direct oral or written communication. S 126 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 applies as much to what a witness has learned by observation as eg by watching a manufacturing process being carried on as to what is communicated to him by word of mouth or writing. In the course of his employment to defend certain manufacturers of a substance called hanslochan against a charge of creating a nuisance in the process of manufacture the process in question was shown to the vakil engaged by the manufacturers. Held that such vakil could not afterwards being subpoenaed as a witness for the applicant in an application for revocation of patent against the same manufacturers be compelled to disclose what he had learned of the process in the course of his former employment. GORI LAL & LAKEPAT PAI (1918)

I L R 41 All 125

s 132—

See FALSE EVIDENCE

I L R 37 Calc 878

See THUMB IMPRESSION

I L R 39 Calc 346

See WIFE &

I L R 45 Calc 720

1 ————— Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 499—Witness—How far a statement made by a witness in giving evidence is privileged. A person who whilst giving evidence as a witness in Court has made a statement which prima facie amounts to defamation under s 499 of the Indian Penal Code may plead one or other of the exceptions to that section or he may claim the protection of the proviso to s 132 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 but in the latter case he must show that he was compelled to make the statement alleged to be defamatory in the sense that he had asked to be excused from answering the question which led up to it and the Court had obliged him to answering it. Queen v Gopal Dass I L R 3 Mad 271 Queen Empress v Moss I L R 16 All 88 and Emperor v Ganga Prasad I L R 29 All 685 referred to KALLU & SITAL (1918) I L R 40 All 271

————— Defamation—Prosecution of witness in respect of statement made in answer to a question put by the Court Held that a witness in a civil suit cannot be prosecuted for defamation in respect of an answer made by him to a question asked by the court. Queen Empress v Moss I L R 16 All 88 and Kallu v Sital I L R 40 All 271 referred to FURESON & GANGA SADAI I L R 42 All 257

2 ————— Witness—Defamation—Statement made on oath by a witness in a civil suit in answer to a question—Witness compelled to answer even if he has not objected. Although a voluntary statement made by a witness in a civil suit stands on a different footing from an answer given by a

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—*contd*s 132—contd

witness in a criminal case on oath to a question put to him either by the court or by counsel on either side especially when the question is on a point which is relevant to the case is within the protection afforded by s 132 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 whether or not the witness has objected to the question asked him. Queen v Gopal Dass I L R 3 Mad 271 Queen Empress v Moss I L R 16 All 88 Kallu v Sital I L R 40 All 271 and Ganga Sahai v Emperor I L R 29 All 257 not followed. EMPEROR & CHATUR SINGH I L R 43 All 92

s 133—

See s 2, I L R 35 Mad 247 and 397

See ACCOMPLICE I L R 38 Calc 96

s 135—

See CHARGE I L R 43 Calc 957

————— Per Curiam—While Counsel has discretion, the Court has also power under s 135 of the Evidence Act to direct the order in which witnesses cited by a party shall be examined. In the goods of GORESUDH DUTT (1911)

16 C W N 235

s 137—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE (C.D.L. s 4
6 Pat L J 844

ss 143 154—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

See CROSS EXAMINATION

I L R 42 Calc 907

ss 144—

See CONTRADICTION 2 Pat L J 80

s 145—

See HINDU LAW—ADoption

I L R 39 Bom 441

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 38 Mad 166

————— ss 145 33—Depositions of witnesses in a criminal trial use of in supporting or contradicting them in a subsequent civil suit—Irregularity in procedure. In the absence of proof of circumstances specified in s 33 of the Evidence Act the importing in bulk in a civil suit of depositions of witnesses recorded in a criminal trial was a serious irregularity. The depositions could not in such circumstances be used even to support the evidence the witnesses gave in the civil suit. Where they were used to contradict the witnesses but without giving them opportunity to tender their explanation or to clear up the particular points of ambiguity or dispute. Held that the procedure was contrary to general principles and to the specific provisions of s 145 of the Evidence Act. Valubai v Girind Kashiand I L R 4 Bom 218 227 approved. BAL GANGADHAR TILAK & SHENUNWAS PANDIT (1915) 19 C W N 729

s 153 154—

See WITNESS I L R 47 Calc 1043

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) 11

s 154—

s 143 I L R 42 Cal 457

ss 154 and 157—

s FORMER DECISIONS 3 Pat L J 568

s 157—

I L R 34 Bom 599

I L R 35 Mad 47 and 397

see CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1872) s 16.

I L R 39 Bom 58

see ss 154 & 1719

2 Pat L J 42

s 159—

Held that under the provisions of ss 159 and 160 of the Evidence Act an officer while giving his evidence was entitled to refresh his memory from the entries in the register written by his clerk and which he himself signed daily. ANDRI SATIN v KING PAREROR 26 C W N 660

s 163—

s PAYMENT ACT (I OF 1872) s 1

I L R 39 Mad 304

s 165—

see s 192 I L R 42 AN 257

s PRACTICE I L R 39 Bom 326

Suit under Regulaton Act (XVI of 1908) s 77—Suit to enforce registration of a will—Evidence taken before Sub Registrar filed in Court by the consent of parties—Evidence not found to be relevant under s 33 of the Act or otherwise—Judgment and decree based on such evidence whether valid. A suit instituted under s 77 of the Registration Act to enforce registration of a will was decided by the Court on evidence taken before the Sub Registrar and filed as evidence in the suit by consent of the parties who did not want to adduce any further evidence in the Court. The Court did not find that the evidence was relevant under s 33 or any other section of the Evidence Act but admitted the same solely on the ground of the consent of the parties. On objection being taken in appeal to the validity of the judgment. Held that the judgment was invalid under s 36 of the Evidence Act as it was not based on facts declared to be relevant by the Act and duly proved that the consent of parties could not take the place of a declaration of the Evidence Act and that consequently the judgment and the decree should be set aside. Sri Raja Prakasharam Gark v Venka Rao J L R 35 Mad 160 dissented from. PONNUSAMI PILLAY v SENGARANI PILLAY (1910)

I L R 41 Mad 731

s 167—

s CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

I L R 46 Cal 895

s EVIDENCE ACT s 53 167

5 Pat L J 411

Trial by Jury—Misdirection improper admission of evidence wither amounts to—Counter information—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1872) s 473—Powers of the High Court in a jury trial. Where in his charge

EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—continued

s 167—continued

to the jury the Sessions Judge referred to a certain counter information lodged by one of the accused as if it contained an admission by all the accused of their presence at the scene of occurrence. Held that the counter information was wrongly admitted as evidence against the accused other than the accused who lodged it. That the observation of the Sessions Judge on the counter information amounted to a misdirection only in so far as a wrong admission of evidence implies a misdirection and that notwithstanding such a misdirection the High Court can deal with the case in accordance with the provisions of s 167 Indian Evidence Act. But on the general principle enunciated in the case of Sahib Sheikh v Emperor & C W N 576 the case of the accused against whom the counter information was wrongly admitted was sent back to be retried by the Sessions Judge and a Jury. DEEPAH HAZI v EMPEROR (1910)

14 C W N 493

Application in second appeal after finding of fact arrived at in part of such evidence. Where in a suit on a bond plaintiff sought to save the bar of limitation by proving payment of interest by the defendant at Faridpur on a date on which the defendant averred he was at Pegu and which plea the latter sought to establish by producing a certificate which he swore he had received from the hands of the manager of the Pegu Club and the District Judge found first that the plaintiff's evidence in support of his case was discrepant and not satisfactory and went on to hold that there was sufficient proof of the certificate—and in this view dismissed the suit. Held that the certificate being inadmissible in evidence and it being impossible for the High Court to say how far the lower Appellate Court was influenced in its decision by it there ought to be a retrial. GOMEZ v IDOO VILL (1911)

19 C W N 1148

EVIDENCE FOR THE DEFENCE

see PRACTICE I L R 40 Cal 378

EVIDENCE OF ASSOCIATION

admissibility of—

see SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 37 Cal 91

EVIDENCE OF BAD CHARACTER

see LIBEL I L R 37 Cal 760

EVIDENCE OF IDENTITY

see CONSPIRACY I L R 41 Cal 754

EVIDENCE OF JURORS

see JURY TRIAL BY

I L R 40 Cal 683

EVIDENCE OF REPUTATION

see BUSINESS LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 39 Cal 492

see CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 110

25 C W N 334

EVIDENCE ON OATH

see JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

I L R 37 Cal 52

EVIDENCE ON COMMISSION

See WILL I L R 47 Cal 1043

EVIDENTIARY VALUE

See CONFESSIO I L R 40 Cal 873

EXAMINATION

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Cal 374

EXAMINATION OF WITNESS

See INSOLVENCY I L R 38 Cal 542

— de novo —

See MAGISTRATE TRANSFER OF
I L R 37 Cal 812

EXAMINATION ON COMMISSION

1 ————— Purdanashin lady
— Exemption—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) ss 132 133—Costs S 132 of the Code of Civil Procedure covers the case of a woman who although she may have abandoned the protection of the purda should not be compelled to give evidence in Court having regard to the class and community to which she belongs SOLOMON v. JYOTSNA GHOSAL (1917) I L R 45 Cal 482

2 ————— Purdanashin lady
— Practice—Right of purdanashin lady to be examined on commission—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 132 cl (1) The petitioner a purdanashin lady applied under a 132 cl (1) of the Civil Procedure Code to be examined on commission. The opposite party objected on the ground that she had on a former occasion appeared before a Criminal Court to institute a complaint. Held that she was entitled to be examined on commission and ought not to be compelled to appear in public. Chamatkar Mohney Dabee v. Mohesh Chunder Bose I L R 26 Cal 651 v. Mohesh Chunder Addy v. Manick Lal Addy I L R 26 Cal 650 followed. In re Hurro Soondary Choudhrai I L R 4 Cal 20. In re Din Tarni Dohi I L R 15 Cal 775. Abhayeswari Dohi v. Kishori Mohan Banerjee I L R 42 Cal 19. 18 C W N 1020. Hem Coomarse Dassie v. Queen Empress I L R 21 Cal 551. In re Faridunnissa I L R 5 All 92. In re Basant Bibi I L R 12 All 69 discussed. BALAKESHWARI DEBI v. JANANANDA BANERJEE (1917) I L R 45 Cal 697

————— Purdanashin lady—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 132 133 O XXVI r 1—Right of choice as to place of examination The defendant contended that his witness who is a Purdanashin lady is entitled to be examined on commission at a place of her own choice or where she happened to be at the time of the issue of the commission. Held that she had no such right. KHUPATI POI v. DHANAN MOHAN MOON KLEJEE (1910) I L R 48 Cal 448

EXCAVATION OF TANK

See PROHIBITORY ORDER
I L R 38 Cal 378

EXCEPTED RISKS

See COMMON CARRIER LIABILITIES OF
I L R 38 Cal 28

EXCESS PROFITS DUTY

————— Charities—Excess Profits Duty Act (X of 1919)

EXCESS PROFITS DUTY—contd

s 2 The income of a Turf Club consisted of moneys paid by the public as (i) entrance fees to the stand paddock and enclosure (ii) entrance fee paid by owners of race horses (iii) book makers license fees and (iv) percentage on the total stakes besides moneys paid by its ordinary members. —Held that the club carried on business within the meaning of s 2 of the Excess Profits Duty Act (X of 1919) in respect of the above heads and was liable to pay such duty. Carlisle and Salford Golf Club v. Smith [1913] 3 A L J, relied on CALCUTTA TURF CLUB v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1921)

I L R 48 Cal 844

EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT (X OF 1919)

————— s 2 —

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY

I L R 48 Cal 844

————— It is not necessary that the duty should be assessed within the year for which the duty is payable. CHIEF COMMISSIONER FOR INCOME TAX v. PAMAYATHAN CHETTIAR

I L R 44 Mad 768

————— ss. 4 5 (b) 8 (1) (b) — Indian Income Tax Act (VII of 1918) s 4 (1) — Capital employed in the business means meaning of—money invested in share in public companies and Government securities—moneys lent and advanced. Moneys invested in the shares of public companies and in Government securities having been treated by the firm as part of the capital of the firm were capital employed in the business of the firm and consequently as such must be included in the capital computation both for the accounting period and the standard years under the Excess Profits Duty Act 1919. Moneys lent to business concerns and individuals were also capital employed in the business and as such to be similarly computed. MRS. MARVIN & CO. v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL 25 C W N 875

————— ss 3 15 Sch. I — Offices or employments meaning of— Excepted business — Agents of a mill company remunerated by commission—Indian Income Tax Act (VII of 1918) s 51—Reference on application of assessee—Finance (No 2) Act 1915 (s and 6 Ceo 5 89) c 3—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 45—High Court's power of interference The petitioners who acted as agents of a mill company and were remunerated by a commission claimed to be exempted from the excess profits duty under clause 2 of Schedule 1 of the Excess Profits Duty Act 1919. The Collector and the Chief Revenue Authority on appeal decided that the petitioners were not exempt from such duty inasmuch as they constituted a separate firm whose business was different from that of the mill company and was not an office or employment which would be exempted under the Act. The petitioners requested the Chief Revenue Authority to refer the question of exemption to the High Court under s 51 of the Income Tax Act 1918 but the latter declined to do so and the petitioners applied to the High Court under s 40 of the Specific Relief Act. —Held that the proviso to Schedule 1 of the Act applied to governing generally the three kinds of businesses enumerated under headings (1) (2) and (3) of the Schedule or in other words as including the businesses mentioned therein within the terms of s 3 of the Act. Held further on the facts that the petitioners were not to be considered as carrying on a business excepted under the above Schedule. Held also that it was not incumbent on the Chief Revenue Authority to make a reference to the High Court whenever an application for a reference was made to him and that in the present case he exercised a proper discretion in coming to the conclusion that a reference was unnecessary. IN THE MATTER OF DORASWAMI IYER & Co

EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT (X OF 1919)—contd— ss 3, 15 Sch I—contd

I L R 45 Bom 1064

— s 6(1) (a) and (b) and Schedule II cl 1 Proviso—Cash and investments—Accumulated profits not to be considered as capital unless employed in business—Employed in the business meaning of—Income Tax Act (I of 1918) s 51—High Court's power of interference—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 45 Under the proviso to clause (1) to Schedule II of the Excess Profits Duty Act 1919 accumulated profits of a company cannot be treated as capital unless they are employed in the business. Whether or not they are employed in the business is a question of fact which the Chief Revenue Authority is entitled to decide on the materials before it. The words "employed in the business" in the proviso prima facie bear their natural meaning of actually employed in the business and cannot be construed as if the words were employed or intended to be employed in the business. Per MACLEOD C J—It would be open to the Court to consider the grounds on which the Chief Revenue Authority (acting under a 51 of the Indian Income Tax Act 1918) was satisfied that a reference was unnecessary. For instance if a question arose with regard to the interpretation of a section which was so complex so intricate that it was clearly advisable that the question should be finally determined by a judicial authority rather than by the Chief Revenue Authority I doubt whether that Authority would be justified in saying that it was satisfied that a reference was unnecessary. IN THE MATTER OF THE EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 881

EXCHANGE

See EXCISE

I L R 45 Calc 891

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 118 119 120 54 and 55 CL 6 (b)

I L R 38 Mad 519

ss 54 118 I L R 40 All 187

— rate of—

See EXCHANGE

I L R 48 Calc 886

EXCISABLE ARTICLE

See BENIGAL EXCISE ACT

See BOMBAY ABKARI ACT

See MADRAS ABKARI ACT

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV OF 1910) s 60

I L R 35 All 575

— Bona fide medicinal preparation containing alcohol—Unlicensed manufacture and sale of such—Excise Act (Beng V of 1909) ss 2 (7) (14) and 41 (a) as amended by Beng

EXCISABLE ARTICLE—contd

Act VII of 1911 A medicinal preparation containing alcohol (ranging from 68.3 / to 87 / proof) is an excisable article within the meaning of the Bengal Excise Act (V of 1909) s 2 (7) (14) as amended by Beng Act VII of 1914. Consol Chunder Sildar v Queen Empress I L R 21 Cal 157. Mati Lal Chandra v Emperor I L R 39 Cal 105. Sati Chandra Poy v King Emperor 17 C W N 939 declared obsolete. CHANDRA SIKDAR v EMPEROR (1917)

I L R 45 Calc 82

Spirituous and fermented liquors—Drugs containing spirituous liquor—Manufacture sale or possession—Transport import or export—Bengal Excise Act (V of 1909) ss 40 s 55 and 57—Board Notifications—Licenses—Misconduct of servant or agent The meaning of the Legislature in amending the Bengal Excise Act (VII of 1878) was to prevent chemists and vendors of drugs selling intoxicating liquors or otherwise dealing with them and not to penalise the use of beneficent drugs. To be an excisable article liquor must be intoxicating liquor. The term "spirituous liquor" is not intended to include a medicinal preparation merely because it is a liquid substance containing alcohol in its composition. S 55 of the Bengal Excise Act (V of 1909) refers to manufacture sale or possession of excisable articles. It does not apply to import transport or export. S 56 make the holder of a license permit or pass liable for the misconduct of his servant or agent in matters of import transport or export. Gon Chunder Sildar v Queen Empress I L R 34 Cal 157 approved. MATI LAL CHANDRA v EMPEROR (1912)

I L R 39 Calc 1053

EXCISE

Denatured spirit meaning of—Dilution of denatured spirit with water rendering it fit for human consumption—Excisable article and liquor whether diluted denatured spirit is—Manufacture meaning of—Mere dilution of denatured spirit not a process—Bengal Excise Act (Beng V of 1909) ss 2 (6) (7) (14) (15) 46 43 74 81 84—Appellate on of the Criminal Procedure Code to trials for excise offences—31 joint r of charges—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1903) s 233 The words "essentially and permanently rendered unfit" in s 2 (6) read with s 48 of the Bengal Excise Act appear to contemplate such a process of denaturing as will defy any chemical treatment which while not substantially increasing the bulk of the liquid renders the spirit fit for human consumption. Where the liquid was so manipulated as to lose its characteristics of a denatured spirit and the accused had proceeded in the attempt to render the spirit fit for human consumption the conviction under s 48 was held bad in the above meaning. Semble. If the words imply only a process which would be permanently effective in the absence of some chemical treatment or process of filtration on the conviction under s 49 was still bad for want of evidence that the spirit was in fact rendered denatured by the accused. The words "unfit for human consumption" may be taken to mean liable to be injurious to health. The term "manufacture" in s 2 (11) of the Act does not include the act of mere dilution of denatured spirit with water but a continuous and regular action or a succession of actions taken or carried on in a definite manner and in accomplishment of some result Q: are Whether denatured spirit diluted with water is an excisable article or liquor within s 2 (7) and (13) of the Act S 75 and 81 of the Act apply to proceedings before a Collector and s 81 shows that the Criminal Procedure Code is applicable to trials before a Magistrate under the Act subject to special restrictions. An appeal therefore lies under s 110 of the Code from a conviction and sentence by a Presidency Magistrate passed under the Act. The acts of manufacturing the excisable article brought into Court bottling and possessing the same and of selling from time to time various other and similar articles not before the Court and of attempting to render denatured spirit fit for human consumption do not constitute the same transaction and a trial in respect of all such acts is bad for misjoinder under s 233 of the Code S 233 applies to trials of summons cases King Emperor v San Dun 3 L R 52 approved OFFORDA NATH BISWAS v EMPEROR (1913)

EXCISE—contd

I L R 41 Calc 694

EXCISE ACT (X OF 1871)

ACT OF 1871

I L R 39 Calc 615

EXCISE ACT (E B AND ASSAM 1 OF 1910)

ss 38 53 72—Medical article containing Bhang Kameshwar Modak Manufacture and sale by medical practitioner for medicinal purposes protected—S 72 effect and scope of—Notification by Local Government—Rules by Board of Revenue The petitioner who was a habiroj was charged under s 53 of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Excise Act with the manufacture and sale of an excisable article namely a mix ure called Kameshwar Modak which contained bhang and which admittedly was a medical article prepared by the petitioner for medical purposes. Held that in regard to the manufacture and sale of the article in question the petitioner was protected by s 72 of the Act the language of which is wide enough to take any case to which it applies without restriction out of the Act SATISH CHANDRA ROY v THE KING EMPEROR (1913)

17 C W N 939

EXCISE LICENCE

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV OF 1910) s 64 (c)

I L R 40 All 563

EXCISE OFFICERS

See PENAL CODE s 139

I L R 37 All 353

Excise officers whether police officers—Retracted confessions admissibility of—Confession whether exculpatory statements amount to—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 25 30—Duty of Presidency Magistrate to examine the accused when written statement filed—Duty of such Magistrate to make a full and proper record of material facts—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 312 362—Benefit of the doubt when facts are consistent with innocence Excise officers are not police officers within s 25 of the Evidence Act. A confession made out of Court but retracted

EXCISE OFFICERS—contd

during the trial is nevertheless admissible under s 30 of the Evidence Act. The word makes in s 30 only means that a confession may be taken into consideration against the accused as well as against the maker. To determine whether a statement is a confession it is essential to consider the nature of the offence charged or likely to be charged and to read the statement as a whole. A statement consistent with an attempt on the part of the maker to exculpate himself from the charge made or likely to be made against him is not a confession and is inadmissible under s 30 of the Evidence Act against the co-accused. The putting in of a written statement by the accused does not absolve the Court from the duty of carrying out the provisions of s 312 of the Criminal Procedure Code. It is the duty of a Presidency Magistrate under s 362 of the Code to make a full and proper record of all the material facts, whether appearing in the examination in chief or cross examination especially when the witness is the only independent prosecution witness (all the other witnesses being excise officers engaged in the arrest) and there is an appeal so as to enable the Appellate Court to deal with the case. Where the Magistrate recorded only a few sentences of the cross examination which took place on two days the High Court looked into and compared the notes of the evidence made at the trial by a local pleader with the Magistrate's record of the same to satisfy itself as to the incompleteness of the record. Although the facts may give rise to grave suspicion on a charge under s 53 (c) (d) of the Opium Act yet if the view that the accused was not in possession of the opium and took no part in its transport but had only to pay the fare is consistent with the evidence after elimination of the inadmissible parts of it the accused ought to have the benefit of the doubt. ANFOONG v EMPEROR (1918)

I L R 46 Calc 411

EXCLUSION OF FEMALES

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 42 Calc 1179

I L R 45 Calc 17

EXCLUSIVE POSSESSION

—claim of—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 38 Calc 889

EXCOMMUNICATION

—from caste—

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 433

EXCULPATORY STATEMENTS

See ADMISSIONS AND CONFESSIONS TO POLICE OFFICERS

I L R 41 Calc 601

EXECUTANT

—personal liability of—

See NOTABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XVI OF 1881) s 28

I L R 38 Mad 482

EXECUTING COURT

competency of to enquire in a title of transferee—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXI P (3)

I L R 40 Mad 296

jurisdiction of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 37 Cal 54

EXECUTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 189—

s 33-43 I L R 36 Bom 320

s 324-328

I L R 36 Bom 519

s 324-4 I L R 36 Bom 510

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 4 I L P 45 Bom 241 and 812

s 48 I L R 36 Bom 388

s 60(c) I L R 41 Bom 475

s 115 O XXI R 89

I L R 4 Bom 735

I L R 45 Bom 945

s 141 I L R 41 Bom 625

s 2(17) 3

I L R 42 Bom 304

Ss 11 47 I L R 42 Bom 246

O XXI P 73 83

I L R 41 Mad 616

O XXXIV R 14

I L R 43 Bom 631

SCH III & 7(1)(b) ss 69 70

I L R 37 Bom 32

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 70

I L R 42 Bom 556

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 145

14 C W N 78

See DECREE I L R 43 Bom 412

I L R 36 Bom 42

I L P 40 Bom 504

I L R 44 Bom 22

See DECREE EXECUTION OF

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURAL RELIEF

ACT (XXV OF 1929) s 48

I L R 42 Bom 367

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

See EXECUTION OF DOCUMENT

See EXECUTION STAY OF

See EXECUTION SALE

See FOREIGN DECREE

I L R 40 Bom 551

See IDOL I L R 36 Bom 135

See INJUNCTION I L R 48 Cal 103

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—

ARTS 1 & 179 I L R 36 Mad. 553

ART 19 CL (4)

I L R 34 Bom 68

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I—

ARTS 181 182

I L R 42 Bom 305

EXECUTION—contd

ART 182 CLS (5) AND (6)

I L R 42 Bom 420

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Cal 897

I L P 41 Mad. 513

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 85

I L R 34 Bom 354

See WILL I L R 47 Cal 1043

application for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 144

I L R 45 Bom 1137

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 92

PRO 6 AND SS 93 AND 94 TO 97

I L R 40 Mad 1016

application for defective—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I

ART 182 CL (5)

I L R 40 Mad 049

attachment by petitioner before judgment—sale—Opponent withdrawing the proceed of sale in execution of his decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) 11

I L R 45 Bom 360

claimant to Property sold in possession paying into Court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O

XXI P 89 I L R 45 Bom 1094

claim to property—Burden of proof—

See ATTACHMENT

I L R 45 Bom 1020

death of judgment debtor—effect of—

I L R 45 Bom 1188

decree for partition of property in possession of judgment debtor—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 45 Bom 943

decree-holder attaching mortgage decree of his judgment debtor—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O

XXI R 83 I L R 45 Bom 343

execution proceedings in Court of a Native State—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ART 182 EXPL II

I L R 45 Bom 453

executing Court—Inherent powers of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 115

I L R 45 Bom 946

for sale of mortgaged property—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 73 104

I L R 39 Mad 570

ex parte decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 144 151

I L R 43 Bom 235

of decree passed under old code—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE s 48

I L R 45 Bom 55

EXCISE—contd

accomplishment of some result. Quare Whether denatured spirit diluted with water is an excisable article or liquor within s 2 (7) and (15) of the Act. Ss 75 and 81 of the Act apply to proceedings before a Collector and s 84 shows that the Criminal Procedure Code is applicable to trials before a Magistrate under the Act subject to specified restrictions. An appeal therefore lies under s 110 of the Code from a conviction and sentence by a Presidency Magistrate passed under the Act. The acts of manufacturing the excisable article brought into Court bottling and possessing the same and of selling from time to time various other and similar articles not before the Court and of attempting to render denatured spirit fit for human consumption do not constitute the same transaction and a trial in respect of all such acts is bad for joinder under s 233 of the Code. S 233 applies to trials of summons cases. King Emperor v San Dun 3 L R 52 approved. Uppala Nath Biswas v Emperor (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 694

EXCISE ACT (X OF 1871)

ACT OF NATAL

I L R 39 Cal 615

EXCISE ACT (E B AND ASSAM I OF 1910)

— ss 36 53 72—Medicated article containing Bhang. Kameshwar Modak Manufacture and sale by medical practitioner for medicinal purposes protected—S 72 effect and scope of—Notification by Local Government—Rule by Board of Revenue. The petitioner who was a Kabiraj was charged under s 53 of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Excise Act with the manufacture and sale of an excisable article, namely a mixture called Kameshwar Modak which contained bhang and which admittedly was a medical article prepared by the petitioner for medical purposes. Held that in regard to the manufacture and sale of the article in question the petitioner was protected by s 72 of the Act the language of which is wide enough to take any case to which it applies without restriction out of the Act. SATISH CHANDRA POI v THE KING EMPEROR (1913)

17 C W N 939

EXCISE LICENCE

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV OF 1910) s 64 (c)

I L R 40 All 563

EXCISE OFFICERS

see PENAL CODE s 73

I L R 37 All 353

— Excise officers whether police officers—Retraited corps—Admissibility of—Confession whether exculpatory statements amount to—Evidence Act (I of 1873) ss 25 30—Duty of Presidency Magistrate to examine the accused when written statement filed—Duty of such Magistrate to make a full and proper record of material facts—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 31 32—Benefit of the doubt when facts are consistent with innocence. Excise officers are not police officers within s 2a of the Evidence Act. Academy of Court reported

EXCISE OFFICERS—contd

during the trial is nevertheless admissible under s 30 of the Evidence Act. The word 'makes' in s 30 only means that a confession may be taken into consideration against the co-accused as well as against the maker. To determine whether a statement is a confession it is essential to consider the nature of the offence charged or likely to be charged and to read the statement as a whole. A statement consistent with an attempt on the part of the maker to exculpate himself from the charge made or likely to be made against him is not a confession and is inadmissible under s 30 of the Evidence Act against the co-accused. The putting in of a written statement by the accused does not absolve the Court from the duty of carrying out the provisions of s 312 of the Criminal Procedure Code. It is the duty of a Presidency Magistrate under s 312 of the Code to make a full and proper record of all the material facts whether appearing in the examination in chief or cross examination especially when the witness is the only independent prosecution witness (all the other witnesses being excise officers engaged in the arrest) and there is an appeal so as to enable the Appellate Court to deal with the case. Where the Magistrate recorded only a few sentences of the cross examination, which took place on two days the High Court looked into and compared the notes of the evidence made at the trial by a local pleader with the Magistrate's record of the same to satisfy itself as to the incompleteness of the record. Although the facts may give rise to grave suspicion on a charge under s 53 (c) of the Opium Act yet if the view that the accused was not in possession of the opium and took no part in its transport but had only to pay the fare is consistent with the evidence after elimination of the inadmissible parts of it the accused ought to have the benefit of the doubt. AN FOOO v EMPEROR (1918)

I L R 46 Cal 411

EXCLUSION OF FEMALES

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 42 Cal 1179

I L R 45 Cal 17

EXCLUSIVE POSSESSION

— claim of—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 38 Cal 689

EXCOMMUNICATION

— from case—

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 433

EXCULPATORY STATEMENTS

See ADMISSIONS AND CONFESSIONS TO POLICE OFFICERS

I L R 41 Cal 601

EXECUTANT

— personal liability of—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XVI OF 1881) s 28.

I L R 38 Mad 432

EXECUTION COURT

- — — competency of to enquire in a title of transferee—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) O XXI P. 2 (3)
 I L R 40 Mad 290
- — — jurisdiction of—
 See EXECUTION OF DECREE
 I L R 37 Cal 54

EXECUTION

- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1874—
 s 25 23 I L R 38 Bom 320
 s 24 22 28
 I L R 36 Bom 519
 30 I L R 36 Bom 510
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
 4 I L P 45 Bom 241 and 612
 s 48 I L R 36 Bom 368
 s 60 (c) I L R 41 Bom 475
 s 115 O XXI R 80
 I L R 47 Bom 735
 I L R 45 Bom 945
 s 144 I L R 41 Bom 625
 ss 111 3
 I L R 42 Bom 501
 s 114 I L R 42 Bom 246
 O XXI P 73 83
 I L R 41 Mad 616
 O XXIV R 14
 I L P 43 Bom 631
 SCH III s 7 (1) (b) ss 69 70
 I L R 37 Bom 32
- See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 70
 I L R 42 Bom 556
- See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 145
 14 C W N 78
- See DECREE I L R 43 Bom 412
 I L R 36 Bom 42
 I L P 40 Bom 564
 I L R 44 Bom 22
- See DECREE EXECUTION OF
 DEKKHAN AGRICULTURAL RELIEF
 ACT (XX of 189) s 49
 I L R 42 Bom 367
- See EXECUTION OF DECREE
 See EXECUTION OF DOCUMENT
 See EXECUTION STAY OF
 See EXECUTION SALE
 See FOREIGN DECREE
 I L R 40 Bom 551
- See IDOL I L R 36 Bom 135
- See JUNCTION I L R 48 Cal 102
- See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877)—
 ARTS 18 179 I L R 38 Mad 553
 ART 179 CL (4)
 I L R 34 Bom 68
- See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SCH I—ARTS 181 18
 I L R 41 Bom 209

EXECUTION—contd

- ART 182 CLS (5) AND (6)
 I L R 42 Bom 420
- See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Cal 897
 I L P 41 Mad. 513
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 80
 I L R 34 Bom 354
- See WILL I L R 47 Cal 1043
- — — application for—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 144
 I L R 45 Bom 1137
- See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 92
 PRO 6 AND SS 93 AND 94 TO 97
 I L R 40 Mad 1016
- — — application for defective—
 See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SCH 1
 ART 182 CL (5)
 I L R 40 Mad 949
- — — attachment by petitioner before judgment — sale — Opponent withdrawing the proceed of sale in execution of his decree—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 11
 I L R 45 Bom 360
- — — claimant to Property sold in possession paying into Court—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
 XXI P 80 I L R 45 Bom 1094
- — — claim to property—Burden of proof—
 See ATTACHMENT
 I L R 45 Bom 1020
- — — death of judgment debtor—effect of—
 I L R 45 Bom 1186
- — — decree for partition of property in possession of judgment debtor—
 See ADVERSE POSSESSION
 I L R 45 Bom 843
- — — decree holder attaching mortgage decree of his judgment debtor—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
 XXI P 83 I L R 45 Bom 343
- — — execution proceedings in Court of a Native State—
 See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) ART 187 FPL II
 I L R 45 Bom 453
- — — executing Court—Inherent powers of—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 115
 I L R 45 Bom 846
- — — for sale of mortgaged property—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) ss 47 73 104
 I L P 39 Mad 50
- — — of ex parte decree—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) ss 47 144 151
 I L R 43 Bom 226
- — — of decrees passed under old code—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 42
 I L P 45 Bom 75

EXECUTION—contd

British Courts in India on application made to such Court an application to a British Court in India to set aside a decree of such Court for execution to a Court of Travancore: neither an execution application nor a petition for execution within Art 184 cl (5) and (iii) that the use of a notice to the judgment debtor on any such application to show cause why the decree should not be transmitted to a Travancore Court does not give a final starting point under Art 184 (6) as no such notice is required by the Civil Procedure Code to be issued as a preliminary for execution by the Travancore Court. PIERCE LEITCH & CO LTD (CORN) v PERMAL (1917) I L R 40 Mad 1069

—Civil Procedure Code—Art 1 of 1908 & Art 111 & Non applicability of to execution applications—consolidating statute—construction of. The dismissal of a suit on the ground that no suit would lie to recover mere profits subsequent to the date of a previous decree which awarded subsequent mere profits is no bar to a claim thereto in execution of that decree. The fact that a decree holder made a previous application for execution to recover mere profits only for three years subsequent to the plaint and not for a further period also is not a bar under O II r 2 Civil Procedure Code or a 141 Civil Procedure Code as now enacted to another execution application for recovery of mere profits for the further period. Thalur Prasad v Fakirullah I L R 11 All 106 sc 9 I L J 44 followed. Sofdar Ali v Aishan Lal 12 C L J 6 not followed. There is nothing in the Code of Civil Procedure to prevent a decree holder from presenting successive applications for realising different portions of his decree. When the words of a consolidating statute are clear their effect cannot be cut down by a comparison with the language of earlier statutes. S 141 Civil Procedure Code is intended to apply to proceedings in Civil Courts such as probate etc. SALASUBRAHMANIYAN CHETTI v SWARNAMMAL (1913) I L R 38 Mad 199

—Transfer to Collector—Mortgage by judgment debtor—Invalidity—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1882) s 395 I. When the execution of a decree ordering the sale of immovable property has been transferred to the Collector under s 370 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 the effect of a 370A is that a mortgage of the property or any part of it made by the judgment debtor while the Collector can exercise the powers given to him by s 322 to 320 is absolutely void and not merely void as against the Collector and the claimant under him. Moguram Ithuram v Lakshmi I L R 6 Bom 510 disapproved. Sala Bai v Bujil Plan 13 Vaggar I R 136 approved. GATRISHANKAR BALMUKUND v CHINLMAYA (1918) I L R 40 I A 219

—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 49 and O XXI r 2—Satisfaction of decree not certified—Second execution of decree by assignee of decree holder—Satisfaction of judgment debtor who is obliged to satisfy such a decree a second time at the instance of an assignee of the decree holder has a cause of action for damages only as against the decree holder but none against the assignee even though the assignee got the assignment with knowledge of satisfaction.

EXECUTION—contd

Israrajhara Peddy v Subbakk I L R 2 Mad 397 referred to. Manmohan Iyengar v Duarka Nath Korriolar 17 C I J 31. and Goono Monce Doss a v Itran Ashore Doss ce 13 W R 69 distinguished. SATISHNA LALAN v SATYANATHU PILLAI (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 335

—Attachment and sale of lands—Transfer of territorial jurisdiction of Court—Order of Court which did not pass the decree but to which execution was transferred—Attachment and sale of lands by Court after deprivation of territorial jurisdiction validity of—Estoppel against judgment debtor how far binding upon auction purchaser. A Court to which execution of a decree is transferred has no jurisdiction to order either the attachment or sale of immovables in execution if at the time of the order such Court had no territorial jurisdiction over the immovables. Though a judgment debtor who does not object to a confirmation of a sale by such Court may be estopped from raising the question that the sale was a nullity, such estoppel does not operate against the subsequent purchaser of the same property in a sale held by Court having jurisdiction in execution of another decree against the same judgment debtor. Yahomed Mauffer Hossain v Kishori Mohun Roy (1895) I L R 22 Cal 909 explained. Prayag Roy v Siddhu Prasad Tewari (1905) I L R 35 Cal 817 and Parandh Narain Singh v Janaki Singh (1907) C L J 614 dissented from. VEERAPPA CHETTY v RAMASAMI CHETTY (1910)

I L R 43 Mad 135

—Pre decree arrangement that decree should be inexecutable in part which is recognised in execution proceedings. An arrangement made prior to decree in a suit that the decree that might be passed should be inexecutable in part is one that cannot be enforced in execution. Hence a sale held in execution of such a decree in spite of the arrangement is good. Chidambaram Chettiar v Krishna Iathar (1917) I L R 40 Mad 233 (F L) ARUMUGHAM PILLAI v KRISHNASWAMI NAYUDU (1920) I L R 43 Mad 725

—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI rr 15 and O XXII r 10 (1)—Transfer of part of decree—Right of transferee to execute or to join in execution—Prohibition of execution by transferee void under s 98—Contract Act (IX of 1812)—Appar against orders purporting to be passed under O XXII r 10 Civil Procedure Code. S 146 Civil Procedure Code recognizes the validity of a transfer of a part of a decree and execution thereof by the transferee. O XXI r 15 is no bar to the application of the section. Such transferee is like a joint decreeholder and can under O XXI r 15 protect his rights either by executing the decree himself or by joining or intervening in the execution by his transferor. An agreement by the transferee of part of a decree that the transferor shall conduct execution proceedings and may compromise the same as he thinks fit only constitutes the transferor the agent of the transferee and the agency is revocable. An agreement between them that the transferee shall not in any way enforce his rights under the transfer or execute or intervene in execution is void under s 23 of the Contract Act. An order purporting to be passed under O XXII r 10 by a Court of first instance is appealable though facts.

EXECUTION—continued

order should not have been paid under the rule
MUTHIAN CHETTIAR v COVINDROSS KRISHNAIAH
(1921) I L R 44 Mad 919

Stayed by High Court upon Appeal to England—furnishing security within a fixed date to the satisfaction of the Subordinate Judge in default of execution to be proceeded with—Security furnished but Commissioner's investigation of security not completed within that date—Subordinate Judge whether has jurisdiction to give time to Commissioner and stay sale any further—Specification of time for tendering security The High Court ordered that execution of a decree be stayed pending the disposal of appeal therefrom to His Majesty in Council upon the Appellant to England giving security to the satisfaction of the Subordinate Judge for a certain sum by the 20th September 1919 and that in default of the said security being given by the 20th September the application for stay of execution was to stand dismissed and the sale to be proceeded with. In pursuance of the said order security was offered on the 16th September and the matter was referred to Commissioners for investigation of its sufficiency. The Subordinate Judge on 20th September upon an application by the Appellants to England gave the Commissioners time up to the 10th November for submitting their report after the completion of the enquiry and on the 22nd September postponed the sale till the 1st December. The Respondents to England moved the High Court against the orders of the Subordinate Judge dated the 20th and the 22nd September as having been made without jurisdiction. Held that in the special circumstances of the case the High Court should refuse to interfere under s. 110 of the Civil Procedure Code. That the Commissioners having later on found the security to be sufficient and objections having been or being about to be made by the Respondents to the Commissioners' report the Respondents would not be prejudiced if on the hearing of the objections it turned out that the security was sufficient on the other hand if the security was held to be insufficient execution should not be stayed and the sale should take place. It will be advisable in the future for the Court to specify definitely the time within which the security which it is desired to offer must be tendered and to give such further directions as may be necessary to ensure the intention of the Court being carried out. HEADAR NATH SANYAL v MATILAL DAS 24 C W N 265

EXECUTION APPLICATION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

ss 38 39 41 AND 40 O XXI RE 16
26 I L R 37 Mad 23

ss 144 AND 11 EXE IV AND 47 O II
R 2 I L R 40 Mad 780

See EXECUTION I L P 38 Mad 199

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ART
182 I L R 39 Mad 923

by one only of the decree holders—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 185) s 31 I L P 36 Mad 357

EXECUTION OF DECREE

See ANNA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 20 CL (2)

I L R 37 All 278
I L R 43 All 547

See APPEAL I L R 38 Cal 717

See ARMY ACT (44 AND 45 VICT o 58)
ss 145 100 I L R 43 Bom 368

See ASSIGNEE I L R 38 Mad 36

See ATTACHMENT
I L R 42 All 39

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 ss 69
AND 70 2 Pat L J 24

See CIVIL COURT ACT s 32
I L R 38 Bom 662

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882
I L R 37 All 542

s 230 I L R 34 All 397 636
I L R 32 All 136

s 234 I L R 32 All 404

s 23 I L R 33 All 517

ss 230 320 I L R 34 Bom 142

s 244 I L R 32 All 321

ss 214 263 I L R 32 All 129

s 208 I L R 34 Bom 575

ss 268 278 283
I L R 38 Bom 631

ss 268 274 I L R 35 Bom 289

ss 278 290 320 325A
I L R 35 Bom 516

ss 218 279 280 281
I L R 34 All 365

ss 282 287 I L R 35 Bom 275

s 287 (c) I L R 35 All 257

s 308 I L R 32 All 380

s 315 I L R 35 All 419
I L R 40 All 411

s 316 I L R 33 All 63

s 317 I L R 35 Bom 342

s 341 AND 349
I L R 33 All 279

ss 373 AND 370
I L R 36 All 172

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
s 66 to 74—

s 104 O XXI
I L R 40 All 122

O XXI

Sec III

O XXIII s 3
I L R 38 Mad 959

O XXIV RE 1 2 AND 3
I L R 40 All 125

R 14 I L R 35 Bom 248

O XXXIV

R 8 I L R 35 All 116

R 14 I L R 38 All 327

I L R 35 All 518

I L R 39 All 38

I L R 41 All 399

I L R 42 All 566

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

O XVIII—

P 5 I L R 38 Bom 163

O XVIII P 1 I L P 33 All 79

O XVIII P 1 I L R 37 All 567

IE 13 AND 14

I L R 38 Mad 833

See CIVIL JURY OF INDIA ACT—

P 161 I L R 39 Mad 485

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 63

I L P 42 All 7

See COURT OF WARDS ACT (III of 1893)—

s. 16 19 AND 49

I L R 33 All 791

See DELT I L R 39 Calc 832

See DECCAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

ACT (VIII of 1893) s 2—

I L R 40 Bom 194

See DECREE I L R 39 Bom 80

I L R 40 Bom 118

See DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR

I L R 39 Mad 1031

See EXECUTION

See EXECUTION SALE

See EXPROPRIATORY HOLDING

I L P 41 All 348

S GARNISHEE 4 Pat L J 141

See CHATWALI TENURE

I L R 39 Calc 1010

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT

VI of 1898) s 29E

I L R 43 Bom 44

See HIGH COURT BOMBAY CIVIL CIRCUIT

LAW 90 CL (I)

I L R 37 Bom 631

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 35 All 380

I L R 37 All 214

I L R 43 Bom 17

I L R 42 All 58

See HINDU LAW COPARCENERS

I L R 40 Bom 329

See JURISDICTION

I L R 41 Calc 915

See LAND AND TENANT

I L R 41 Calc 928

See LIMITATION I L R 33 All 264

I L P 48 Calc 22

I L R 47 Calc 813

See LIMITATION ACT (XX of 1877)—

s 3 SCH II ARTS 13 AND 14

I L R 33 All 93

4 SCH II ART 19

I L R 36 All 284

SCH II ART 178

I L R 34 All 437

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

ART 19

I 4 C W N 465

I L R 34 Bom 169

I L R 37 Bom 42 317

I L R 39 Bom 20

I L R 32 All 257

ART 180

I L R 33 All 164

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)—

s 7

I L R 41 All 435

s 10

I L R 38 Bom 153

s 20 CH I ART 162

4 Pat L J 300

SCH I ART 2

I L R 41 All 219

ARTS 36 120

I L R 39 All 322

ART 148

I L P 35 All 359

ART 168 AND 144

I L P 35 All 432

ARTS 163 181

I L R 38 All 339

ART 179

I L R 36 Bom 638

ART 181

I L R 42 All 564

ART 182

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR

TENANTS ACT (MAD 1 OF 1900) ss 4

AND 5

I L R 36 Mad 234

See MESNE PROFITS

I L R 39 Calc 220

See MORTGAGE

I L R 37 Calc 786

15 C W N 60 743

I L R 36 Bom 24

I L R 39 All 67

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

2 Pat L J 530

See PENSION ACT 1871 ss 6 8 11

I L R 34 Bom 154

See POLITICAL AGENT AT SIKKIM COURT

or I L R 35 Calc 859

See PRACTICE I L P 43 Calc 285

See PRE EMPTION

I L R 34 All 596

I L R 36 All 398

See PROHIBITORY ORDER

I L R 39 Calc 104

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of

1907) ss 16 AND 31

I L R 34 All 108

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT

ACT (VII of 1887) 20

I L P 35 All 690

See PFS JUDICATA

I L R 37 All 589

I L R 39 All 379

See REVISOR I L R 43 Calc 933

See SALE 2 Pat L J 157

See SALE & EXECUTION OF DECREE

See SUCCESSION I L P 37 All 545

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

attachment of immovable property in execution of a decree an inventory of the property to be attached with a reasonably accurate description of the same as required by O XXI r 12, of the Civil Procedure Code is not an application in accordance with law within the meaning of Art 182 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act of 1908 Hira Lal v Dulari Kuar, All Weekly Notes (1903) 3 Mangal Sen v Baldeo Prasad All Weekly Notes (1952) 70 followed ABDUL RAFI KHAN v MATLA BAKSH (1915)

I L R 37 All 527

17 ———— Plea of adjustment—Previous adjudication Upon an application being made for the execution of a decree a compromise was entered into between the decree holder and the respondents by which the latter were exempted from liability for costs. The assignee of the decree holder applied for execution against the respondents. The respondents objected and their objections were upheld by the High Court. Notwithstanding this the decree was again put into execution against the respondents who again objected but allowed their objection to be dismissed for default. Held that the dismissal of the objection for default must be taken to be adjudication that the decree had not been adjusted and that the later decision neutralised the earlier one and the respondents were consequently liable for the balance of the decretal amount. DAMIDAR SINGH v MUKAWAR ALI KHAN (1915)

I L P 37 All 531

18 ———— Death of Judgment debtor—Insolvency—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 55(4)—Surety discharge of A judgment debtor having under s 50(4) of the Code of Civil Procedure found a surety that he would apply to be declared an insolvent within a specified time and would appear when called upon, died before the expiration of such time. Held that the surety was discharged by the death of the judgment debtor and it was not open to the decree holder to proceed against him. Akhan Najar v Ithman Najar I L R 24 Mad 637 followed NABU CHANDRA HAZARI v MERTONJOY BARICK (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 50

19 ———— Sale in execution—Grove or garden with house being ancestral property and forming part of a mahal—Sale by Civil Court amin—Jurisdiction—General rules (Civil) of 1911 Chapter IV rules 5 and 8 Held that a grove or garden part of which was occupied by a house and which was a part of a mahal and assessed to revenue and had been owned continuously by the family of the proprietors for over fifty years was ancestral land within the meaning of r 5 of Chap IV of the General Rules for the Civil Courts and could not be sold by the Court amin in execution of a Civil Court decree but only through the Collector after the decree had been transferred to him for execution. PATMATEL KURRA v ASCHU BEGAM (1913)

I L R 36 All 33

20 ———— Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 132—Application in accordance with law—Judgment debtor missing A decree for sale on a mortgage executed by A was passed against A (who was reported to be missing at the time) and against B C D and E who were in possession of the mortgaged property and were heirs presumptive of A jointly. Held that in the absence of any evidence that A was dead an application for execution of this decree against A alone was an application in accordance with law within the meaning of Art 182 of the First Schedule of the Limitation Act 1908. MUHAMMAD HUSAIN v JAYAT HUSAIN (1914)

EXECUTION OF DECREE—co 11

I L R 33 All 482

21 ———— File in execution—Failure of judgment debtor's title—suit for refund of purchase money—Procedure Where an auction purchaser seeks to have refunded the price paid by him for property sold in execution of a decree on the ground that at the time of sale the judgment debtor had no saleable interest therein it is competent to him to proceed by way of a regular suit and he is not confined to the special remedy provided by the Code of Civil Procedure. Mirza Saif v Girdhar Singh I L P o All 57 followed but doubted Kishun Lal v Mulamad Safdar Ali Khan I L R 10 All 383 Sidde uari Prasad Narain Singh v Gosain Maja and I L P 30 All 439 11 All J 606 and Dorab Ali v Abdul A I L P o I A 126 referred to MUHAMMAD NAJIB ULLAH v JAI NARAIN (1914)

I L R 36 All 529

22 ———— Priority between mortgage decree and money decree Applicant was the holder for the time being of the Pakpara Estate. In 1902 M who was then Receiver of that estate lent a sum of money to the uncle of the 2nd respondent. The mortgage deed provided that it would be lawful for the mortgagee at any time after the commencement of a suit on the mortgage to apply for and obtain the appointment of a Receiver of the mortgaged property. In a suit on the mortgage M applied to the Subordinate Judge (First Court) for the appointment of a Receiver of the mortgaged property. This application was disallowed by that Court but on appeal the High Court granted the application and appointed the first respondent Receiver of the mortgaged property—to collect the rents and profits thereof until final disposal of the suit either by payment of the mortgage debt or by confirmation of any sale which might take place. In accordance with this order dated the 26th July 1903 the Receiver took possession of the mortgaged property and collected the rents and profits thereof. From time to time he made payments to the 2nd respondent but discontinued these payments in June 1912 when the mortgaged property was sold in execution of the decree. On the application of the judgment debtor this sale was set aside on the 31st May 1916. In the meantime a considerable sum of money accumulated in the hands of the Receiver. The 3rd respondent obtained a money decree in the Court of the Subordinate Judge (Second Court) for Rs 22,070 which was declared to be recoverable out of the estate of the original mortgagor. The High Court without deciding whether the mortgagee or the holder of the money decree was entitled to proceed against the rents of the property in the hands of the Receiver granted formal permission to the 3rd respondent to execute her decree by attaching the money in the hands of the Receiver. The 3rd respondent thereupon applied for attachment of the Rs 28,000 in the hands of the Receiver. She then applied to the Subordinate Judge (Second Court) for an order upon the Receiver to pay the sum of Rs 28,000 to her and an order for payment was issued. Held that the Subordinate Judge (Second Court)

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

not being the court in whose custody the money was, had no jurisdiction to order the payment of the money in the hands of the Receiver. Held further that the money in the hands of the Receiver was in the custody of a Court but quære whether the Receiver appointed by the High Court should be treated as a Receiver appointed by that Court and not by the Subordinate Judge. RANI DEBENDRA BALA DAS v. BABU CHANDRA SEKHAR PRASAD SINGH 1 Pat L J 449

23 ——— Dispute between decree holder and judgment debtor as to amount of property actually attached—duty of executing Court to enquire into the allegations Where a judgment debtor filed a petition before the Court executing a decree against him alleging that the decree holders, in collusion with the Court peon had made away with the bulk of the property which had been attached and that only a small part of the whole had been put up for sale and the executing Court declined to enquire into these allegations but enforced the judgment debtor to a regular suit It that the matter was one which should have been enquired into by the Court executing the decree under s 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure. GAJADHAR PRASAD SINGH v. BABU RAJENDR DAS 1 Pat L J 558

24 ——— Decree for rent—Right of landlord to choose manner of execution It is not competent to a Court to direct in what manner the landlord shall execute a decree for rent and he cannot be compelled to proceed first against the holding and then against the person of the judgment debtor. MAHARAJAH KESHO PRASAD SINGH BARADUR v. LAJI RAI 1 Pat L J 138

25 ——— Limitation——Date of which runs The period of limitation for an application to execute a decree runs from the date judgment is pronounced and not for when the decree is actually signed. SUREJA DEO NARAYAN SINGH v. MITSANROO RAUT 1 Pat L J 359

26 ——— Limitation—Decree holder—Payment of money by judgment debtor by way of interest—Notification of the payment to Court—Certification of the payment—Civil Procedure Code (Act of 1908) O XXI r 2—Limitation Act (X of 1877) ss 19 20 A decree holder who has received a certain sum of money by way of payment of interest might either apply to certify payment before execution or might do so on his application for execution of the decree. On the 17th February 1906 the plaintiff obtained a decree and on the 18th May 1911 he applied for execution. At the time of the application he notified to the Court that he had received a certain sum on the 19th June 1908 from the judgment debtor towards interest and alleged that the execution was not barred by limitation. Held that the notification to the Court of the receipt of the sum paid by the judgment debtor was all that the decree holder had to do in order to certify payment and O XXI r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure did not stand in the way. ETASUFFZEMAN SARKAR v. SANCHIA LAL NAIKATA (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 207

27 ——— Sale of zamindari—rights—Whether buildings pass with the zamindari or not The doctrine that the sale by auction of a zamindari share includes also buildings situated within the zamindari is only applicable

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

in the absence of evidence indicating an intention to exclude such buildings from the sale. 16th Hasan v. Ram an Ali 1 L R 4 All 381 distinguished. SAKHWAT ALI SIKAH v. MUHAMMAD ABDUL KARIM KHAN (1915) 1 L R 38 All 59

28 ——— Assignment—Ex parte order passed subsequent to assignment—Power of court on application of assignee to reconsider such order Pending an application for execution of a decree the decree holder sold the decree. The purchaser applied for execution but whilst his application was pending the former application of the original decree holder came on for hearing and it was decided ex parte that the decree was barred by limitation. Held that this decision was no bar to the consideration of the application for execution filed by the assignee of the decree nor was the Court hearing this application bound by the former ex parte finding. BALMAKUND v. ASHFAQ HUSAIN (1912) 1 L R 34 All 518

29 ——— Decree for money against judgment debtor personally—Judgment debtor in possession as shewan—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) ss 241 278 If A in execution of a decree for money against B personally attaches and proceeds to sell properties of which B alleges that he is in possession not in his own right but as shewan of a deity to whom the properties have been dedicated the question does not fall within the scope of s 244 of the Civil Procedure Code but within the scope of a 278 read with s 280 of the Code. Kuriyal v. Mayan 1 L R 7 Mad 235 not followed. Punchann Bundopadhyay v. Rabia Dibi 1 L R 17 Cal 711 distinguished. KANTICK CHANDRA GHOSH v. ASHUTOSH DHARA (1911) 1 L R 39 Cal 298

30 ——— Decree passed in favour of several persons—One of whom was a minor and not properly represented Held that the mere fact that at the time when the final decree in a suit was passed one of the decree holders was a minor whose guardian ad litem had died and had not been replaced was not sufficient to invalidate the decree. GOBARNAN SAHAL v. MAHARAJ SINGH (1912) 1 L R 34 All 321

31 ——— Limitation—Application after passing of Civil Procedure Code 1908 for execution of decree passed under Act XIV of 1882—S 19 Limitation Act Decree nisi was passed for the sale of mortgaged property on the 11th August 1896 and was made absolute on the 6th February 1893. An application for execution of the decree was made on the 16th February 1904. It was dismissed by the first Court but was allowed on appeal on the 28th June 1906. Another application made on the 4th September 1907 was also dismissed by the first Court but allowed on appeal on the 29th June 1910. A further application was made on the 28th July 1911 and was struck off on the 29th June 1912 after the decree-holder had recovered a part of the decretal amount. Another application made on the 6th September 1912 was struck off for want of prosecution on the 6th December 1912. The present application was made on the 15th July 1913 and contained a prayer that the application should be treated as a continuation of the application of the 28th July 1911. It asked for relief different from the relief claimed in 1911 and was directed against property which was not touched by the former

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

application Held that the application was governed by s 48 of the Code and was time barred and present application was not in continuation of that 28th July 1911 MAHANTH KPRISHNA DAYAL v MUSSAMMAT SAKINA BIDI

1 Pat L J 214

32. ——— Limitation Decree temporarily satisfied—effect on limitation An ex parte decree was obtained against two persons the appellant and one S. The decree was executed against S by the sale of whose moveables the whole decree was satisfied. On a suit by S the decree as against him was set aside and the money realised from him was ordered to be refunded. The decree holder then applied for execution against the Appellant Held that the order directing refund by the decree holder to S in effect reopened the execution proceedings and the application for execution against the appellant must be treated as a continuation of the original application for execution which was brought within time KERAMAT ALI v NAGENDRA KISHORE RAY (1916)

21 C W N 571

33. ——— Decree conditional on money being paid into Court within thirty days of the decree becoming final—Interpretation of condition Where a decree was passed in favour of a plaintiff conditional on his depositing a sum of money into Court within thirty days of the decree becoming final it was Held that this did not signify merely the bare period of limitation for an appeal but included also the time necessary for obtaining the requisite copies BHAGELU SALU v RAM AUTAR SHAUKUL (1916)

I L R 39 All 193

34. ——— Execution of decree by instalments—Limitation—Petition of compromise—Decree—Application in accordance with law—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1903) O XXI r 17—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 82 cls (5) and (7)—Instalment decree—Default Where in a suit against five persons for recovery of monies due on a handnote separate compromise petitions for instalment decrees were filed on the 1st July 1911 in which there was a provision that default being made in the payment of one kist the whole amount would become due and subsequently on the 10th July 1911 one instalment decree was passed against all the five defendants in which separate amounts were decreed against each defendant to be paid as per instalments provided therein but in which the condition as to the whole amount being due in default of the payment of one kist was not stated and an application for execution of the whole decree having been made on the 10th July 1914 against all the five defendants it was dismissed on the 20th February 1915 on the ground that the prayer for execution was not in accordance with the terms of the decree and subsequently the present application for execution of the decree for the kist from January 1911 to September 1915 was made on the 10th November 1915 against defendant No 2 alone and it was dismissed by the lower Court on the ground that the decree was barred by limitation Held that in order to properly understand what the decree was the Court was entitled to look at and consider the terms of the compromise and was not bound to take the decree by itself that the application for execution dated the 10th July 1914 having been rejected under O XXI r 17 sub r (1) as not being an application in accordance with law did not save limitation that the whole decree became due on the default of the payment of one kist and the decree holder had no option to recover the decretal amount in accordance with the kists and his present application for execution of the decree dated the 10th November 1915 was barred by limitation JAYANUDDIN KHAN v JAMIRUD DIN SARKAR (1917)

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

21 C W N 835

35. ——— Objection to execution of decree—Dismissed for default—Fresh objection if lies before order of dismissal is set aside—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) r 9 O IX applicability—Inherent power of Court to review order of dismissal Where an objection to the execution of a decree is dismissed for default the order of dismissal is binding until it is set aside and the judgment debtor cannot ignore it and file a fresh objection R 9 O IX does not apply to such a case but the Court has inherent power on a proper application being made to review the order and to enquire whether the objector had or had not a reasonable case for not appearing on the date appointed for the hearing of his petition BHARAT CHANDRA NATH v LALIV SARKAR (1917)

21 C W N 769

36. ——— Practice—Final decree holders—Assets in the hands of Registrar—Attachment of fund with Accountant General—Anticipatory attachment—Priority—Rateable distribution—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 73 O XXI r 52 A question of rateable distribution under s 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure of 1908 arises amongst creditors where the application for execution has been made before the receipt of assets O XXI r 52 does not allow of an anticipatory attachment of money expected to reach the hands of a public officer and is restricted only to money actually in his hands Where a fund in Court has been attached by several creditors of the judgment debtor none of the attaching creditors is entitled to preferential treatment by reason of the priority of his attachment as the attachments create no charge or lien upon the fund so long as the fund is in the custody of the Court is bound to apply in the determination of the relative rights of the creditors who wish to proceed against the fund in custodia legis for the satisfaction of their dues In such circumstances the fund is sufficient to meet in full the claims of the creditors should be rateably distributed amongst them THAKUR DAS MOTILAL v JOSEPH ISKENDER (1917)

I L R 44 Cal 102

37. ——— Limitation—Decree giving mesne profits to be ascertained in the execution department—Tenuvus a quo The decree in a suit for redemption of a usufructuary mortgage provided that certain mesne profits were payable to the mortgagor the mortgage having been more than satisfied by the profits of the property. The amount of mesne profits was to be ascertained in the execution of department Held that as regards execution of the decree in respect of such mesne profits time did not begin to run against the mortgagor until the profits had in fact been ascertained MUHAMMAD UMAYYAN KHAN v ZINAT BEGAM I L R 25 All 335 followed NARSIMH DAS v DEVI PRASAD (1918)

I L R 40 All 211

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

38 ————— Mortgage bond—Money decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXIV pr 14—Declaration of lien over properties—Such properties cannot be sold in execution—Decree holder a remedy. Where a decree is a decree against the judgment debtor personally with a declaration in the decree that the decree holders are entitled to a lien over the properties—a mortgage decree having been expre ly refused by the decreeing Court—the decree is merely a money decree with a declaration of lien over the properties. Pr 14 and 15 of O XXIV stand in the way of properties being sold in execution of such a decree. The decree holder's only course is to institute a suit for sale in enforcement of the mortgage. Mungul Pershad Dhilli v Gya Kant Lahiri I L R 3 Cal 51 distinguished. GOVINDA CHANDRA PAL v KAILAS CHANDRA PAL (1917) I L R 45 Cal 530

39 ————— Transfer—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1895) ss 23, 45—Application for transmission of decree whether application for execution—Order under s 23 without notice whether with jurisdiction. An order for execution made under s 248 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1892 (O XXI pr 22 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908) without notice is without jurisdiction and is a nullity. Notice given to the representative of the judgment debtor of the application for transmission of the decree cannot be treated as notice given upon a previous application for execution within the meaning of s 248 of the Code of 1892. K obtained a decree on 19th June 1896 against D in the High Court. On 18th May 1907 an application was made by the son of K (K dying in the meantime) for transmission of the decree to the District Court of Murshidabad for the purpose of having the decree executed. On 23rd August 1907 order for transmission was made by the High Court in the presence of the judgment debtor. The decree was not transmitted. On 4th September 1907 an application was made by the son of K for the attachment and sale of certain premises in Calcutta without notice to the representatives of D (D having died in the meantime). On 17th September 1907 an attachment was made of the property in Calcutta and on 29th July 1908 an order for sale was made. Both the orders were made without notice. On the 29th August 1916 the respondent who is the assignee of the decree made an application for leave that he might be allowed to proceed with the sale of the attached property in terms of the order of the 29th August 1908. Held that inasmuch as the application for attachment dated 4th September 1907 was made without notice the attachment of the 17th September 1907 and the order for sale of the 29th of July 1908 were made without jurisdiction and consequently no legal proceedings can be taken on the basis thereof. Held further that the order for transmission dated 23rd August 1907 was not an order passed on a previous application for execution. MAHARAJ BHADUR SINGH v INDAR CHAND BOTHA (1917) 22 C W N 390

40 ————— Composite decree—Consisting of separate decrees—Execution on one of such decrees if suits the others from bar of limitation—Limitation Act (I of 1908) Art 18 expl 1. The defendants held three separate tenancies under the plaintiffs who instituted one suit against him for arrears of rent in respect of the three tenancies

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

At the instance of the plaintiffs a decree was made specifying the sum due in respect of each of the tenancies with an order for the realisation of the sums in arrear from the respective tenants. Within three years the plaintiffs applied for execution of the decree only in respect of the sum decreed with regard to the third tenancy. Thereafter more than three years from the date of the decree they applied for execution in respect of the entire amount of the three tenancies. Held that the position was precisely the same as if the plaintiffs had brought three distinct suits for rent against the defendants one in respect of each tenancy and by taking out execution in respect of one decree they were not protected from the bar of limitation in respect of the other decrees and the second application for execution was barred by limitation with regard to the sums claimed for the first and second tenancies but in respect of the sum due from the third tenancy the application was in time as made within three years from the date of the first application. That there might be nominally one decree passed in a suit which is essentially of a composite character and contains a number of separate decrees in respect of which the law of limitation will be separately enforced. This principle which underlies the decision of the Full Bench in Wise v Ray Narain Chakrabarty 19 IV R 39 met with legislative approval and is embodied in explanation (1) to Art 182 of the Limitation Act 1908 which is in terms identical with explanation (1) to Art 179 of the Act of 1877. DEBENDRA NATH SARKAR v NISCHINTAPUR COMPANY (1916) 22 C W N 192

41 ————— Provident fund—Jurisdiction—Small Cause Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115. By the provisions in the Provident Fund Act (IX of 1897) money in such fund is protected from attachment by creditors even after the death of the subscriber. Any error in law which amounts to a usurpation of authority in the act done by the Court comes within the scope of s 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908). Veerchand v B B & C I Ry Co I L R 29 Bom 259 Seth Manana Lal v Ginzford I L R 35 Cal 641 Badami Kuar v Dinu Rao I L R 8 All 111 Dhon Singh v Basant Singh I L R 8 All 519 Sew Bux v Shih Chunder I L R 13 Cal 225 Sheora Nandan v Gopal Suran I L R 18 Gok 290 Shew Prosad v Pam Chunder I L R 41 Cal 323 Balakrishna v Vasudeta I L R 40 Mad 793 referred to. HYNDEY v JOYBARAIN MAH WARI (1918) I L R 46 C. 192

42 ————— Bengal Tenancy—Act (VIII of 1855) s 66 sub s (2)—Date of the decree, meaning of—Whether decree of the Appellate Court or the Court of first instance. S 66 provides for ejectment of a tenant not being a permanent tenure holder (and certain other classes of tenants) for arrears of rent and sub s (2) of the section provides that in a suit for ejectment for an arrear of rent a decree passed in favour of the plaintiff shall specify the amount of the arrear and of the interest (if any) due thereon and the decree shall not be executed if that amount and the costs of the suit are paid into Court within 15 days from the date of the decree or when the Court is closed on the 15th day on the day when the Court reopens. So long as an appeal is not disposed of the decree in sub s (2) of

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

d ration of a decree named in the 1st of 1903
on for enforcement of bond—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s. 51 and 56—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s. 51
 The widow of the deceased of Mahewa brought a suit in a Subordinate Judge's Court on the 6th of August 1902 obtained a decree for possession of an estate on her application for execution of the decree the Subordinate Judge made on the 21st of August 1902 an order under s. 54 of the Code of Civil Procedure (185) giving her power on her providing security to restore the mortgage to the extent of one lakh of rupees in case his decree should be reversed by the Court of the Judicial Commissioner to which the defendant had appealed. The security was in the form of a hypothecation bond executed by the predecessors in title of the present appellants, secured on certain villages of their estate. The bond recited the order and stated it was given so that any order that might be passed by the Appellate Court be made binding on the sureties for the above sum. No objection was made in the bond. The defendant failed in his appeal to the Judicial Commissioner but on his father's death on appeal to the Privy Council by his son the present respondent was successful the decree of the Judicial Commissioner was reversed, and the respondent was declared entitled to the taluqa of Mahewa and the widow's suit was dismissed except as to some of the villages to which she was found entitled. The Subordinate Judge was directed to ascertain the amount of mortgage debts due to the respondent. On an application under s. 47 and 144 of the Code of Civil Procedure of 1908 to which the appellants were made parties. Held that on the true construction of the hypothecation bond it was an instrument of charge and not a bond imposing any personal liability on the appellants. Held also that the appellants became sureties for the restitution of the mortgage profits according to the ultimate decision of the Courts and their liability did not cease on the 26th of March 1903 when the Court of the Judicial Commissioner dismissed the appeal from the Subordinate Judge. Held, further that the Court had jurisdiction over the sureties in the present proceedings and to make an order as to their liability. RAJ PACHUBAR SINGH v. JAI NIDRA BAHADUR SINGH
 I L R 42 All 158

52 — Failure of custodian—Appointed by court to restore property to judgment debtor when so ordered—Remedy of judgment debtor. Where a person placed in charge of property of a judgment debtor by order of the court fails to restore the same to the judgment debtor when directed to do so the judgment debtor's remedy is not to invoke by application executive or disciplinary action on the part of the court but to sue the receiver for the restoration of the property or damages. KAILU KHAN v. ABDULLAH KHAN
 I L R 42 All 291

53 — Limitation—Application for execution in continuation of previous application—Identical property concerned. A decree was passed on the 28th June 1903 and an application for execution made in August 1904 was dismissed in February 1905. A second application was made in July 1909 and the judgment debtor's property was sold on December 4th, 1909. The sale was set aside on February 12th, 1910. On December 10th 1910 a third application was made asking the court to sell the identical property sold on December 4th 1909. Held that under the circumstances the third application for execution should be regarded as having been made in continuation of the second application. Mrs ANAT KANT ZOMRA v. BOONDI SAHU

EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

 2 Pat L J 115

54 — Jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code (1st of 1908) s. 150—Decree by Subordinate Judge for nearly Rs 2,000—Application for execution of decree before Munsif invested with power up to Rs 2,000—Maintainability. In a mortgage suit for over Rs 1,000 after a preliminary decree was obtained in the Court of the 2nd Munsif who was empowered to try suits up to Rs 2,000 the Munsif was transferred and the final decree in the case was passed by the Subordinate Judge. Application for the execution of the decree was then made before a successor of the Munsif similarly empowered—Held that under the provisions of s. 150 of the Civil Procedure Code the Munsif had jurisdiction to entertain the application. AMINUDDIN MULLICK v. ATAN MANI DAST (1909) I L R 47 Cal 1100

55 — Practice—Rateable distribution—Money paid to Sheriff in execution of a decree—High Court (Original Side) Rules Chap XIII r. 21—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) 73 O XXI r. 65. On an application by a judgment creditor for execution of a decree money was paid by the judgment debtor to the Sheriff who paid it into Court. Two other creditors who had previously applied for execution had part of their claim and the costs of execution respectively unpaid and asked for rateable distribution of the assets—Held that the money so lying in Court was assets available for rateable distribution. Held further that the right to rateable distribution is limited to the amount due under the decree and does not apply to costs of a previous application for execution. Sorabji Cooper v. Kala Raghunath I L R 36 Bom 156 dissented from Harai Saha v. Fakir Rahman I L R 40 Cal 619 referred to. NOON MAHEND DAWOOD v. BHASIRAM THAKURSIDASS (1910) I L R 47 Cal 515

56 — Warrant of arrest—Outside the territorial limits of court's jurisdiction. The fact that the judgment debtor does not reside within the territorial jurisdiction of the court is not a sufficient reason for refusing to issue a warrant for his arrest although such a warrant can be executed only within the court's territorial jurisdiction, but a time must be fixed for its return. KATSHVA PRASAD v. BIDYA NANDA
 3 Pat L J 95

57 — Limitation—Revival of a former application for execution—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) s. 48—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I article 181 s. 48 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 has no application to the case of a revival of an antecedent application for execution which has been in suspense by reason some bar or which has been stayed pending the determination of subsequent litigation. The period of limitation in such a case is that provided by Art 181 of the Limitation Act 1908 namely three years from the date of the removal of the bar. SAKINA BIBI v. GANESH PRASAD BHAGAT
 3 Pat L J 103

58 — Security of cost pendings appeal—Subsequent application for execution of original

EX-TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION OF BRITISH COURT—contd

Indian soldiers enjoy His Majesty's protection in Shameen Canton and the Court exercises jurisdiction over them and that consular protection extends to trying persons and protecting them if they are improperly arrested. Held that s 4 (1) of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act 1890 did not make this evidence inadmissible to prove that by age, sufferance or other lawful means His Majesty has jurisdiction at Canton. That the accused being during his service in the Indian Army subject to military law was entitled to His Majesty's protection and was a British protected person within Art III. When the Crown lawfully enlists in its forces aliens along with British subjects and requires of them the same service loyalty and allegiance as on the duties of British enlisted subject it extends to them the same protection in a foreign country where all are serving together in the armed forces of His Majesty. Protection enjoyed by virtue of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act 1890 or otherwise as mentioned in Art III includes that derived from other statutes Imperial or Indian applicable to the person in question. Quare Whether the Court could take judicial notice of the political change in China in considering the question of jurisdiction. Quare Whether it may not be reasonably inferred from the practice (which is a matter of public knowledge) of enlisting native Afghans in the Indian Army wherever they are de facto brought under the authority of His Majesty that the Amcer does in fact consent to such enlistment with its consequences so as to bring such enlisted Afghans within the terms of s 4 (1) Art I of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act 1890. The officer commanding the detachment who spoke to the accused shortly after the occurrence deposed to having killed the accused why he had done such a senseless act—not thereby meaning to convey a threat or inducement—and to the accused having replied that he was being abused by the deceased three or four days and that without a doubt he had killed him. The Judicial Committee found that the words of the officer though formally a question, were really an exclamation of dismay. Held that the prosecution having by the evidence of this officer proved to the satisfaction of the trial Judge that the statement of the accused was voluntary in the sense that it had not been obtained from him either by fear of prejudice or hope of advantage exercised or held out by a person in authority its admission in evidence was not in breach of the long established rule of English criminal law which makes statements obtained from the accused by pressure of authority and fear of consequences inadmissible in evidence and which casts on the prosecution the onus of proving that the statement relied on was voluntary. On the question whether the statement should not have been excluded from evidence on the ground of its having been made by a person in custody in answer to a question put by a person having authority over him and having custody of him through his subordinates. Held on a review of English authorities that the English law on the point was still unsettled some Judges being of opinion that such a statement is admissible in evidence without exception whilst others treat its exclusion from evidence as a matter for the

EX-TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION OF BRITISH COURT—contd

Judge's discretion depending largely on his view of the impropriety of the questioner's conduct and the general circumstances of the case. That the trial Judge in admitting this evidence decided in accordance with what at any rate was a probable opinion of the present law if it was not actually the better opinion, and his so doing was not a violation of the principles of natural justice calling for His Majesty's interference. That even if the evidence was admissible in the exercise of the trial Judge's discretion, that discretion in the present case was not shown to have been exercised improperly. With reference to Act XXXV (2) of the Chinese and Corea Order in Council which provides that subject to the provisions of that Order criminal jurisdiction under the Order shall, as far as circumstances admit be exercised on the principle of and in conformity with English law for the time being. Held that in the absence of any provision in the Order on the point modifying or excluding the principles and practice of English law the question of the admissibility of the statement of the accused might justly be treated as if English criminal law and practice applied to the criminal jurisdiction of the Supreme Court at Hong Kong subject however to the following reservations—(i) That such law and practice are not to be considered as in all respects and particulars binding on that Court. (ii) that regard must be had to the necessary distinction that must be drawn between the criminal procedure of a European country where a jurisprudence has a defined history extending over many centuries and that applicable to a British possession in the Far East where a mixed and fluctuating population is subject to the administration of law by European Judges whose duty it is to have regard alike to the principle of British justice and to the necessities of local order. (iii) that the words so far as circumstances admit may well (a) refer to absence of facilities at Hong Kong for formal proof of Statutes passed and administrative orders made in various parts of His Majesty's dominions, and (b) be intended to cover some necessary departures from the formalities only as distinguished from the essentials of English justice when as in the present case a force detailed for the protection of European residents beyond His Majesty's dominions in the midst of a population often turbulent and at the particular time disturbed was itself disturbed by such a crime as the murder of a Suladar by a native private in the ranks. That in view of the position which the Privy Council held in regard to criminal proceedings, the Judicial Committee did not in this case decide what the rule of English law should be with regard to the admissibility in evidence of statements made by an accused person in answer to a question put by a person in authority in whose custody he is that should be left to a Court which exercises the revising functions of a general Court of criminal appeal. Chief v The King Emperor L R 40 I A 741 referred to. The Privy Council cannot in a criminal matter allow an appeal on grounds that would not have sufficed for granting leave to appeal. Its direction as such is irregularly as such will not suffice. There must be something which in the particular case deprives the accused of the substance of fair trial and the protection of the law or which in general tends to divert the due and orderly administration of law into a new course which may be drawn into an evil precedent in future Ex parte Macrea [1893] A C 316 R v Bertrand 16 L J 575 followed Piel v The Queen 10 A C at p 675 In re Dillet 12 A C 459 referred to. The jurisdiction of the Privy Council in appeals in criminal matters involves a general consideration of the evidence and of the circumstances of the case in order to place the irregularities complained of in substantiated, in their proper relation to the whole matter. Held upon a review of the evidence that the preponderance of unquestioned over the questioned evidence (the accus de statement to the commanding officer) was so great that it was impossible at any rate highly improbable that the jury was substantially influenced by that evidence. Therefore the fact that the Judge left the objectionable evidence for the consideration of the jury without any warning to disregard it did not justify the conclusion that there was any miscarriage of justice substantial grave or other wise. Sembli Where it is highly improbable that evidence improperly admitted can have had any influence on the verdict of the jury the Appellate Court will be justified in refusing to interfere. Makin v A G for New South Wales (1894) A C 57 considered IBRAHIM v THE KING (1914) 14 C W N 705

EX-TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION OF BRITISH COURT—concl'd

EXTRADITION

High Court jurisdiction of—Extradition Proceedings jurisdiction of High Court is—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) s 491—Indian Extradition Act (XV of 1903) s 3 sub s (3) (4) (6) (7) and (8) and s 4 sub s (1)—Habeas Corpus If the provisions of the Legislature have not been carried out the High Court can interfere notwithstanding that the warrant has been given in extradition proceedings. Rudolf Stallmann v Emperor 1 L R 33 Cal 517 distinguished S 3 sub s (6) of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 is not a substitute for and does not interfere with proceedings taken under s 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1903 the provisions of which are as much binding as those of the Extradition Act. The Government of India may issue its order to any Magistrate and such Magistrate may issue a warrant provided he is one who has jurisdiction to enquire into the crime of the nature of that for which extradition is sought. Therefore an enquiry into the case of a fugitive criminal under arrest in Calcutta can be made by the Magistrate of Alipore if duly authorised. An order issued under s 3 sub s (7) of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 by the Government of Bengal upon a requisition made to the Government of India is invalid, and cannot be ratified by a subsequent order of the Government of India. Where however the latter order directs the Magistrate in pursuance of the former order and of the statutory provisions in that behalf to enquire into the said case the Government gives valid effect to its intention and the Magistrate has jurisdiction to enquire. Under s 3 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the District Magistrate can transfer to his own file from that of the Deputy Magistrate an application by the fugitive criminal for return of his property. The Magistrate making the enquiry

EXTRADITION—cont'd

under s 3 of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 can initiate fresh proceedings notwithstanding proceedings taken under a previous order. When the Magistrate sends up his report to the Government of India under s 3 sub s (6) of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 he becomes functus officio and renders himself incapable therefore of recording evidence that may be subsequently produced. The Legislature intended that the fugitive criminal should be given an opportunity of defence. If such opportunity is not given it goes to the jurisdiction of the Magistrate. The enquiry therefore is not according to law and the issue of the warrant is itself invalid. Per MOOKERJEE J—The burden lies very heavily upon those who assert that a right of so much importance to the criminal as Habeas Corpus given by the Common Law has been taken away by implication. S 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 is applicable to cases under the Indian Extradition Act. Rudolf Stallmann v Emperor 1 L R 33 Cal 517 distinguished. The jurisdiction of the High Court has not been taken away merely because the Government of India has already issued a warrant for surrender under s 3 sub s (8) of the Indian Extradition Act 1903. Depositions which have not been taken in the presence of the accused may be admitted by the Magistrate. In re Counhaye 1 L R 8 Q B 410. Where there is no evidence before the Magistrate the Court will interfere. R v Maurer 10 Q B D 413 approved of. The Court will not consider questions regarding evidence unless the objection is such that if effect were given to it there would be no evidence left upon which the order for extradition could be supported. Under s 4 sub s (1) the Magistrate may issue a warrant when the person to be arrested is within his jurisdiction. S 4 merely provides a preliminary procedure. Under it an arrest may be effected before the receipt of the requisition mentioned in s 3 otherwise the criminal might escape. The two sections do not overlap. Under s 3 sub s (7) of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 the only Government competent to issue the order for enquiry is the Government to whom the foreign state has made a requisition. This function must be performed strictly and cannot be delegated. Where the provisions of the Statute have not been followed the report of the Magistrate cannot afford a foundation for the order of the Government of India under s 3 of the Indian Extradition Act 1903. In the matter of POPOL STALLMANN (1911) 1 L R 39 Cal 164 15 C W N 1053

Extradition Act (XV of 1903) s 3 (1) (3) (4) (6) (7) and (8) (10) & (1) & (2)—Jurisdiction of High Court—Transfer—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 576—Habeas Corpus—B-17 Although the warrant of arrest under which the accused was arrested in extradition proceedings referred to the offence of escaping from lawful custody inasmuch as warrant was issued on a petition charging theft which is an extraditable offence—Held that the extradition proceedings were taken in respect of an extraditable offence. In the circumstances of the case the accused who had been in custody for a period exceeding two months had not been committed to prison under s 3 (4) of the Extradition Act and consequently s 3 (4) inapplicable.

EXTRADITION—contd

cable to entitle him to be discharged by the High Court Apart from considerations as to the jurisdiction of the High Court the application for transfer for a writ of Habeas Corpus and for bail refused on the merits Rudolf Stallmann v Emperor I L R 33 Cal 547 referred to Per Woodroffe J Semle that inasmuch as it has been held that the High Court has no general superintendence over such extradition proceedings it would have no jurisdiction to grant bail A C Tors v Emperor (1918)

I L R 43 Cal 31

Effect of illegal arrest on trial of accused—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 188 Where a man is in the country and is charged before a Magistrate with an offence under the Penal Code it will not avail him to say that he was brought there illegally from a foreign country The principle upon which English cases to this effect are based underlies also s 188 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) Emperor v Venayak Damodar Savarkar (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 225

Jurisdiction of High Court to revise proceedings of Magistrates under the Extradition Act—High Courts Act 1861 (21 and 25 Vict c 104) s 25—Extradition Act (XV of 1903) ss 3 and 4 The High Court has no jurisdiction under s 16 of the Charter Act to revise the proceedings of a Magistrate acting under ss 3 and 4 of the Extradition Act In re Mohunt Datta Das I L R 33 Cal 550 (note) referred to Stallmann Rudolf v Emperor (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 547

15 C W N 736

Proceedings before the Magistrate without jurisdiction—Power of High Court to interfere with order directing delivery of fugitive offender—Extradition Act (XV of 1903) ss 10 15 S 16 of the Extradition Act ousts the jurisdiction of the High Court to inquire into the propriety of a warrant issued under Chap III Where however the order of the Magistrate is sought to be justified under an authority supposed to be derived from the law but is in fact without jurisdiction such order is revisable by the Court at the instance of the party whose liberty is affected by it Emperor v Husainally Nazali 7 Bom L R 463 In the matter of Adhyer Puny Rec 45 followed Attorney General for Hong Kong v Kwok a Sing L R 5 P C 179 referred to The High Court set aside the order of the Magistrate directing the delivery of a fugitive offender to the Nepal authorities where he had issued the warrant, at least in the case of one accused on mere information without any evidence where he had failed to report the issue of the warrant to the Political Agent in Nepal had made an inquiry into the case without a warrant issued by the Political Agent and had ordered the surrender on a procedure not known to the Extradition Act Gulli Sahu v Emperor (1913) I L P 41 Cal 400

Requestion by Administrator of French Chandernagore for surrender of a British Indian subject for theft committed there—Foreign State meaning of—French Chandernagore not a Foreign State—Extradition Treaty with France of 14th August 1876 Art 16—Extradition Treaty with same of 7th March 1815 Art 9—Procedure on requisition for surrender—Extradition Act (XV of 1903) s 2 (c) Chapter

EXTRADITION—contd

II ss 7 8 8A 9 and 18 By Art 16 of the Extradition Treaty with France of 1876 the East Indian Possessions of the two countries are excluded therefrom and are not a foreign State within s 2 (c) and Chap II of the Indian Extradition Act (XV of 1903) and the provision of the chapter are not therefore applicable to such Possessions ss 7 8 and 8A of the Act do not apply to the French Possessions in India Art 9 of the Extradition Treaty with France of 7th March 1815 contemplates the summary surrender of a fugitive criminal and read with s 18 of the Act excludes the operation of s 9 of the latter A British Indian subject may on requisition by the Administrator of French Chandernagore be surrendered for theft committed thereon without any preliminary enquiry under s 9 of the Act by a Magistrate in British India The subject has no right at Common Law to have such preliminary enquiry made before his surrender when there is a treaty excluding such enquiry and is followed by a statute recognising the treaty Rahamat Ali v Emperor (1919)

I L R 47 Cal 37

Foreign State—Chandernagore—Treaties between Great Britain and France 7th March 1815 Art 12 and 14th August 1876 Art 16—Orders in Council 16th Aug 1878 and 7th March 1904—Extradition Act 1815 (33 and 41 Vic c 2) ss 2 18 15—Indian Extradition Act (XV of 1903) s 2 (c) Chap II and s 18 Chandernagore is a Foreign State as defined by s 2 (c) of the Indian Extradition Act and the provisions of Chapter II thereof must be followed before a fugitive offender can be surrendered to the French authorities The concluding portion of Art XVI of the Extradition Treaty with France of 1876 does not exclude its East Indian Possessions but is a saving clause intended to preserve intact the special arrangement established by Art IX of the Treaty of 1815 The Order in Council of 16th May 1878 applied the English Extradition Acts 1870 1873 to those of France and therefore by reason of s 25 of the Extradition Act 1870 to the East Indian Possessions of France as part thereof The words shall be delivered in Art IX aforesaid do not provide for any procedure within the meaning of s 18 of the Indian Extradition Act Rahamat Ali v Emperor I L R 47 Cal 37 not followed A Judge exercising the Original (Criminal) Jurisdiction of the Court in one matter is not bound by a decision of an Appellate Bench in another matter Alhai Charen Ghose v Dasmann Das 6 B I R 693 followed CELFSTE CCLINGTON In re (1920)

I L R 48 Cal 328

EXTRADITION ACT (XV OF 1903)

See EXTRADITION

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 46 Cal 52

s 2—

See EXTRADITION

I L R 39 Cal 148 547

I L R 47 Cal 37

s 2(c) Chap II and s 18—

See EXTRADITION

I L R 48 Cal 328

EXTRADITION ACT (XV OF 1903)—contd

ss 3, 4—

See EXTRADITION

I L R 38 Calc 647

I L R 39 Calc 164

I L R 46 Calc 31

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 39 Calc 164

I L R 48 Calc 52

ss 7 15—

See EXTRADITION WARRANT

I L R 42 Calc 793

ss 7 10 15—

See EXTRADITION

I L R 41 Calc 400

ss 7 8 and 8A—Extradition Treaty with the Hyderabad State—Cheating not mentioned in the treaty though mentioned in the Act—Extradition for cheating by British Government—Warrant from the Political Agent—Bail not allowed in the warrant—British Magistrate has no power to grant bail—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 496 The offence of cheating is an extradition offence so far as British India is concerned under the Indian Extradition Act (XV of 1903) notwithstanding its omission from Art 4 of the Extradition Treaty between the British Indian Government and the Hyderabad State The Magistrate in British India to whom a warrant has been addressed under s 7 of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 has no power to admit an arrested person to bail apart from the provisions of s 8 and 8A of the Act MURLIDHAR BHAGWANDAS In re (1918) I L R 43 Bom 310

ss 7 8 0 and 18—

See EXTRADITION

I L R 47 Calc 13

ss 7 and 15—

See REVISION

I L R 42 Calc 793

EXTRADITION ACT (XXI OF 1879)

s 14—Extradition Act (XXI of 1879) s 14 enquiry under—If the Court's power to transfer enquiry to another Magistrate or to control the procedure therein The High Court had no power to order the transfer of an enquiry under s 14 of the Extradition Act XXI of 1879 from the Court of the Magistrate specially authorized to hold the enquiry because the competency of the Magistrate to hold the enquiry depended on the authorization of the Executive Government The law also did not empower the High Court to request the Government to appoint another Magistrate to enable it to transfer the enquiry to that Magistrate if appointed The High Court refused to direct by what procedure the Magistrate should be guided in the further conduct of the enquiry as it did not possess any power to control or interfere in the conduct of an enquiry held under s 14 of the Act MOUNT DEVA DASS In re (1898) 15 C W N 736

EXTRADITION ACT (33 AND 34 VICT C 52)

how far applicable to India—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898

s 401

15 C W N 1053

EXTRADITION TREATY

with the Hyderabad State—

See EXTRADITION ACT (XV OF 1903)

ss 7 8 AND 8A

I L R 43 Bom 310

EXTRADITION WARRANT

by Resident in Nepal—

See REVISION I L R 42 Calc 793

EXTRAORDINARY ORIGINAL CIVIL JURISDICTION

See PRACTICE I L R 37 Calc 803

EXTRINSIC EVIDENCE

admissibility of—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 38 Mad 1105

EX TRUSTEE

suit by an for reimbursement—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) Sec II

Art 10 I L R 38 Mad. 200

EYE WITNESSES

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

I L R 42 Calc 422

FFABRICATING FALSE DOCUMENT

Kabala containing a false recital of marriage—Intent to use same in a judicial proceedings—Fraudulently executing a document—Fraudulently meaning—Deprivation of property—Deception and injury to different persons—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 193 and 493 When an accused person had unsuccessfully sought to obtain a woman in marriage and thereafter made and registered a Kabala in her favour falsely reciting that he had married her and purporting to convey to her a plot of land in lieu of her dowry—Held that he acted in furtherance of his design to secure her person that as this could under the circumstances be done only by judicial proceeding his intention was to use the document with its false statements in a judicial proceeding and thereby to mislead the Court and that he was therefore guilty of an offence under s 193 of the Penal Code—Held also that he had a further intention to cause injury to her and her husband and to support his own false claim to that status and that he was guilty also under s 493 of the same Code The word fraudulently in s 493 does not connote deprivation of property It is not essential and the section that the person deceived or to be deceived should be the same as the person injured or intended to be injured LEGAL PRINCIPLES v AMI LAL MANIAL (1911) I L R. 43 Calc. 911

Kabul at containing false recitals and purporting to be accepted by the landlords—Admissibility in evidence of Kabul at—Kabul at whether a document purporting to transfer or subject to any charge property or not is therein—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 193 and 423—Evidence Act (I of 187) s 13 Although a Kabulat when accepted, operates as a lease

EXTRADITION ACT (XV OF 1903)—cont'd

— 33 3.4 —

See EXTRADITION

I L R 38 Calc 547

I L R	39	Calc	184
-------	----	------	-----

I L R 46 Calc 31

See HABEAS CORPUS

I	L	R	39	Calc	164
---	---	---	----	------	-----

I. L. R. 48 Cal. 52

—ss 7 15—

See EXTRADITION WARRANT

I L R 42 Calc 793

— $5 7 10 15 —

See EXTRADITION

I L R 41 Calc 400

ss 7 8 and 8A—Extradition Treaty with the Hyderabad State—Cheating not mentioned in the treaty though mentioned in the Act—Extradition for cheating by British Government—Warrant from the Political Agent—Bail not allowed in the warrant—British Magistrate has no power to grant bail—Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1938) s 496 The offence of cheating is an extradition offence so far as British India is concerned under the Indian Extradition Act (XV of 1903) notwithstanding its omission from Art 4 of the Extradition Treaty between the British Indian Government and the Hyderabad State The Magistrate in British India to whom a warrant has been addressed under s 7 of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 has no power to admit an arrested person to bail apart from the provisions of s 8 and 8A of the Act MURLIDHAR BHAGWANAND In re (1918) I L R 43 Bom 310

— ss 7 8 9 and 18—

See EXTRADITION

I L R 47 Calc 13

ss 7 and 15—

See PEVISION

I L R 42 Cyle 703

EXTRADITION TREATY

— with the Hyderabad State—

See EXTRADITION ACT (XV of 1903)

SS 7 8 AND 8A

I L R 43 Hom 310

EXTRADITION WARRANT

by Resident in Nepal—

See REVISION I L R 42 Calc 793

EXTRAORDINARY ORIGINAL CIVIL JURIS DICTION

See PRACTICE I L R 37 Calc 853

EXTRINSIC EVIDENCE

- admissibility of—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 38 Mad 1105

EX TRUSTEE

- suit by an for reimbursement -

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH II

Aft 1⁹⁰ I L R 38 Mad 260

EYE WITNESSES

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

I L R 42 Calc 422

F

FABRICATING FALSE DOCUMENT

Kabala containing a false recital of marriage—Intent to come in a judicial proceedings—Fraudulently executing a document—Fraudulently meaning of—Deprivation of property—Deception and injury to different persons—Penal Code (Act XVI of 1860) ss 19, and 423 When an accused person had unsuccessfully sought to obtain a woman in marriage and thereafter made and registered a Kabala in her favour falsely reciting that he had married her and purporting to convey to her a plot of land in lieu of her dower—Held that he acted in furtherance of his design to secure her person that is this could under the circumstances be done only by judicial proceedings his intention was to use the document with its false statements in a judicial proceeding and thereby to mislead the Court and that he was therefore guilty of an offence under a 193 of the Penal Code. Held that he had a further intention to cause injury to her and her husband and to support his claim to that status and that he was guilty under a 423 of the same Code. Illustrate to try and evidently in a 43 does not about previous disposition of property. It is not a Prejudice—Criminal Code (Act XVI of 1860) ss 19, 400 to 203 47 that the person is not impugned the police report and that the accused be placed on trial is a complaint under the Criminal Procedure Code. When such a petition is presented to a Sub-judicial Magistrate he should, therefore, either examine the complainant himself if record reasons for distrusting his truth, hold an inquiry personally and then pass a formal order of dismissal or he should make it over to another Magistrate for disposal. The latter may then, after inquiry make a proper order of dismissal of the complaint and pass an order under s 46 of the Code. The

FAIR TRIAL

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I L R 41 Cal. 808

FALLOW LANDS

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT 1903
ss 4 27 73 141
I L R 40 Mad. 840

FALSE CHARGES AND COMPLAINTS]

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 193

I L R 38 Mad. 1044
s 20 I L R 37 Bom 376
ss 200 AND 423 I L R 38 Mad. 1001

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT
I L R 40 Cal. 360

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 211 I L R 39 All 715

FALSE DEFENCE.

— in suit against wakil—

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT
I L R 40 Mad 69

FALSE DOCUMENT

See FABRICATING FALSE DOCUMENT
See FORGERY I L R 38 Cal. 75
14 C W N 1078

FALSE EVIDENCE

See FALSE STATEMENT
I L R 38 Cal. 368

See JUDICIAL PROCEEDING
I L R 37 Cal. 52

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 192 I L R 40 All 36

See THUMB IMPRESSION
I L R 39 Cal. 345

Deposition under compulsion—
Privilege—Incriminating statements in cross examination made by a party to a suit after objection taken not by deponent personally but by his pleader—Idmissibility of the statements on subsequent trial for giving false evidence—Compelled to answer—Evidence Act (I of 1873) s 137 proviso—An incriminating statement in a deposition made by a party to the suit in cross examination in answer to questions relevant only as affecting his credit and objected to not by the deponent himself but by his pleader is not admissible against him on his subsequent trial for giving false evidence he being in fact compelled to answer within the meaning of s 132 of the Evidence Act. Such objection may be taken by counsel or pleader representing the party Thomas v Newton I Moo and M 48n and Rex v Ade; I Moo and Pab 91 distinguished Queen v Gopal Dass I L R 3 Mad 271 explained and distinguished Per TERNON J When such an objection has been taken and overruled, if any objection or privilege personal to the witness remains it is still open to him to assert that objection or claim the privilege EMPEROR v PRAMATHA NATH BOSE (1910) I L R 37 Cal. 575

FALSE IMPRISONMENT

Intending intending passenger of ferry boat to return from wharf through turnstile without payment—Reasonable condition. The plaintiff with a view to take the defendant Company's ferry boat paid the usual charge of a penny on entering the defendant Company's wharf then changed his mind and wanted to return through a turnstile provided by the Company for exit but having refused to pay the penny which he was asked to do to be allowed to go through the turnstile was by force prevented from going through it. There being no complaint of any excessive violence having been used Held that there was no false imprisonment as the defendant Company was entitled to impose a reasonable condition before allowing the plaintiff to pass through their turnstile from a place to which he had gone of his own free will and which he had contracted to leave by a different exit. The payment of one penny was a quite fair condition and if the plaintiff did not choose to comply with it the defendant was not bound to let him through Held further that the question whether the attention of the plaintiff had been sufficiently drawn to the Company's notices saying that the fare must be paid was immaterial for the decision of the case ARCHIBALD HENRY POBBARTON v THE BALMAIN NEW FERRY COMPANY LIMITED (1907) 14 C W N 410

FALSE INFORMATION—

See PENAL CODE 1860
s 182 I L R I Lab 410

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT
I L R 37 Cal. 250

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 43 Cal. 1152
I L R 44 Cal. 950

Criminal Procedure Code s 193—False information to Police prosecution for—Opportunity to the informant to give his case. A person who lays information to the Police is entitled to have his case judicially determined before he is called upon to answer the charge of giving false information under s 193 of the Indian Penal Code Issen v King Emperor (1910) 14 C W N 765

Infirmitas to the police reported false—Subsequent application to the Magistrate impugning the report and praying for trial—Compensation—Proper procedure—If reasons of complaint to another Magistrate for inquiry and report legality of—Power of Court to hold inquiry and direct prosecution on of informant for offences under s 18, and 211 of the Penal Code—Jurisdiction of referring Magistrate to try such charges on the police report without previous disposal of the complaint—Discretion—Prejudice—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1873) s 19—1903 476 537 A petition impugning the police report and praying that the accused be placed on trial is a complaint under the Criminal Procedure Code. Whereas a petition is presented to a Sub divisional Magistrate he should refer either to examine the complainant himself if record reasons for distrusting its truth, hold an inquiry personally and then pass a formal order of dismissal or he should make it over to another Magistrate for disposal. The latter may then, after inquiry make a proper order dismissing the complaint and pass an order under s 476 of the Code. The changing rivers of England be profitably applied to such differing conditions. In the case of alluvion as applied to rights of jalkar and the argument that the right to follow the river ought to be limited to cases where the river encroachments were gradual and should not be extended to an irruption as sudden and rapid as was the formation of the new channel in the respondent's lands, the Indian law doubtless guided by local physical conditions has adopted in Regulation XI of 1823 ss. 1 and 4 a rule varying somewhat from the rule established in England and the analogy of the English law can hardly be called in aid when Indian legislation has thus an established and different rule on the same subject. As to the Indian rule working injustice in that a land owner not only loses the use of his land when the river overflows it but also the right to fish over his own acres in order that another may unmeritoriously fish in his place which cannot occur under the English rule, there is no such proof that one rule is better than the other as would even approach the conclusion that the rule established in India should be set aside.

FISHERY—contd

SRINATH ROY v DINABANDHU SEN (1914)
L. R. 41 L. A. 221
I L. R. 42 Calc. 489

Right of owner of fishery in river to follow it when it changes its course. The solution of the question whether the owner of a fishery in a river is entitled to follow it when it changes its course depends mainly on whether or not the invading river has lost its identity. It is impossible to prescribe any hard and fast rule for the purpose of ascertaining the conditions in which the river may be said to have lost its identity. The decision of the Privy Council in Srinath Roy v Dinabandhu Sen, I L. R. 42 Calc. 489 at 19 C. W. N. 1007 is confined to cases where the river made for itself a new channel where none existed. SARADA PRASAD RAY CHAUHAN v MUHAMMAD LUTFI (1916)

21 C. W. N. 1007

FISHING LEASE.

for 9 years void for want of registration—Removal of fish under authority of lease if wrongful—License—Co-sharer—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s. 10. Where in a suit by one co-owner against another for damages for wrongful removal of fish from a tank the defendant's plea was that he had been put in possession of the tank with the right to fish therein for a period of nine years under an arrangement with his co-sharers and he proved that he had removed the fish under such authorisation. Held that the arrangement proved was a sufficient answer to the suit irrespective of any rights the defendant might have as a co-sharer even if as a lease it was void under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act. HENRY LAL NADY v KENAR NATH NADY (1915)

19 C. W. N. 52

FITNESS OF SURETY

See STRETT

I L. R. 41 Calc. 761
I L. R. 4 Calc. 706
I L. R. 43 Calc. 1024
I L. R. 44 Calc. 737

FIXED DEPOSIT

See CHAPLE

I L. R. 35 All. 507

FIXED RATE HOLDING

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)
s. 9 I L. R. 39 All. 453
See ESTOPPEL I L. R. 34 All. 593
See MORTGAGE I L. R. 39 All. 539

FIXED RATE TENANCY

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)
s. 9 I L. R. 34 All. 255
See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L. R. 34 All. 694
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s. 91 I L. R. 33 All. 111

FIXED RENT

See KABULIST CONSTRUCTION OF
I L. R. 37 Calc. 626

FIXTURE.

See ADMINISTRATION
I L. R. 45 Calc. 653
See CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT s. 341
15 C. W. N. 730

— doctrine of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L. R. 37 Calc. 815

— English Law of—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (POM ACT V of 1879) s. 83 I L. R. 35 Bom. 718

— notice to remove—

See CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT (BENGAL III of 1899) ss. 341 (1) etc.
I L. R. 37 Calc. 354

— removal of—

See COMPENSATION
I L. R. 44 Calc. 87

Crop grown on another person's land. Use of it in owner of land—Suit by owner to recover value of crop cut and taken away. —Futures. English law of it applies in this country. When after purchasing a holding at an execution sale and taking delivery of possession thereof through Court the plaintiff suffered the tenant to grow crop on the land. Held that the plaintiff could not sue for recovery of the value of the crop cut and taken by another. The crop did not become the plaintiff's as soon as it was grown merely because the plaintiff had acquired ownership of the land. Moff. Sraik v Park Lal I L. R. 3 Calc. 815 distinguished. Lep Singh v Amar Das I L. R. 1 Calc. 21 referred to. PRITA NATH PAL v KAMINI DAS (1912)
16 C. W. N. 1101

Projections—Tin sheets attached to a shop by hinges and supported on movable props—Necessity of notice of removal—Limitation of period of prosecution in cases of obstructions to or projections over a public street—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng. III of 1899) ss. 341 and 342. Bye-Laws (2) para 173 made under s. 539 (14). Sheet of tin attached to a shop by hinges and supported by movable props so as to form a verandah over the street and which hung vertically when the props are taken away are not so attached as to become a part of the shop, and are not therefore fixtures within s. 341 of the Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng. III of 1899) requiring notice of removal.

FIXTURE—contd

thereunder. The period of limitation under a 631 of the Act in the case of unauthorized obstructions to or projections over the public street run from the date when they are first made and not from the last date on which they were in existence. Where certain tin sheets alleged to amount to such obstruction or projection were put up more than three months before the filing of the complaint the prosecution was held to have become barred. NARAYAN KESSEN SEN v CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1900) L L R. 43 Calc 602

FOOTINGS.

Trespass—Survey Map
esdimentary value of—Mandatory Injunction—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) Chap X—Presumption
The existence of footings to a wall, in the circumstances of the case raised the presumption that the land covering such footings belonged to the owner of the wall to which they appertained. Where a wall was constructed by the defendant on the land covering plaintiff's footings and after its completion a suit was brought by the plaintiff for trespass the plaintiff not having been guilty of delay or acquiescence. Held that the proper remedy was by way of mandatory injunction ordering the demolition of the defendant's wall. ABDUL HOSSAIN v RAM CHARAN LAL (1911) L L R. 38 Calc 687

FORCE.

— use of—

See BAILIFF L L R. 42 Calc 313

FORCIBLE EJECTMENT

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

L L R. 44 Calc 279

FORCE MAJEURE

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 56

L L R. 40 Bom 301

FORECLOSURE

See APPEAL L L R. 41 Calc 418

See MORTGAGE L L R. 37 Calc 796

L L R. 39 Calc 828

See MORTGAGE BY CONDITIONAL SALE

L L R. 36 All 327

See MORTGAGE—FORECLOSURE

See REGULATION NO XVII OF 1800

s 8 L L R. 40 All 337

— right to decree for—

See TYPE L L R. 37 Calc 239

— suit for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11

L L R. 36 Bom 548

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1800)

s 7 (ix) SCH I ART (I)

L L R. 36 All 40

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 20

L L R. 35 All 378

See MORTGAGE

L L R. 48 Calc. 22

FOREIGN COURT

See FOREIGN DECREE

See FOREIGN—JUDGMENT

See MEMORANDUM I L R. 43 Bom 647

— jurisdiction of—

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT

I L R. 37 Mad 163

— Injunction on ground of suit pending in—

See INJUNCTION 24 C W N 735

1 — Appearance by the defendant—Protest against jurisdiction—Defence on the merits—To get refund from the creditor's son to whom the suit debt was repaid and to avoid arrest—Voluntary submission to jurisdiction
The defendant who was sued in a foreign Court viz. a Court in the Cochin State appeared and defended the suit against him on the merits but protested against the jurisdiction of the Court. His reasons for appearing and defending the suit were (i) that the creditor's son to whom he had repaid the suit debt refused to refund the money unless he defended the suit brought by the father and (ii) that if a decree were passed against him he might be arrested when he went to Cochin on business or to see his relations. Held that the defendant must be deemed to have submitted to the jurisdiction of the foreign Court voluntarily notwithstanding his protest against its jurisdiction. Parry & Co v Appasami Pillai L L R. 2 Mad 407 overruled PAMA v KRISHNA (1915) I L R. 39 Mad. 733

2 — Suit on cause of action tried and determined between the parties in a British Indian Court—Latter Court if may issue perpetual injunction to restrain proceeding in Foreign Court—Res judicata—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11 (3)—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 56 (B)
A A a Mahomedan died leaving estates situate partly within British India and partly within the ceded district of the Feudatory State of Rampur and leaving him surviving a widow a daughter and her children. The daughter and her children alleging that A A was a Shia and that therefore the daughter excluded the residuary heirs from inheritance instituted a suit against the latter in a British Indian Court (viz. the Court of the Subordinate Judge at Bareilly) where their claim was opposed by the residuary and finally obtained an ex parte decree upholding their claim. The defendants having failed to obtain an adjournment which they said was necessary to enable them to call witnesses. This decree was affirmed by the High Court at Allahabad. Meanwhile the residuary heirs instituted against the daughter and her children a suit in a Court of the Rampur State for possession of a moiety of the estate of A A situate in the ceded district of Rampur State claiming as they had done in their defence in the other suit that A A was a Sunni. The daughter and her children thereupon instituted another suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge at Bareilly praying for a declaration that the previous decree of the Court was binding between the parties and operated as res judicata and that the defendants (the residuary heirs) be restrained by a perpetual injunction from continuing their suit in the Court of the Rampur State. The Subordinate Judge as well as the High Court at Allahabad on appeal having held that they had no jurisdiction to grant

FOREIGN BILLS

See BILLS OF EXCHANGE

L L R. 46 Calc 584

FOREIGN COURT—contd

the injunction and dismissed the suit the Privy Council on the appeal of the plaintiff's affirmed that decision and dismissed their appeal Maqbul Fatima v Amir Hasan Khan 1 L R 37 All 1 affirmed MAQBUL FATIMA v AMIR HASAN KHAN (1916) 20 C W N 1213

FOREIGN CURRENCY

Damages—Rate of exchange—Date of conversion In a suit for damages caused to the plaintiff by reason of negligence on the part of the second defendant as a common carrier it was contended on behalf of the second defendant that the loss caused to the plaintiff being in the first instance measurable in sterling judgment must be based upon the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of judgment. Held that this contention must be overruled Di Fe nando v Simm & Co Ltd [1920] 2 K B 701 [1920] 3 K B 409 Barry and Others v Van Den Hurk [1920] 2 K B 709 and Lebeaupin v Crispin [1920] 2 K B 714 followed DEKHARI Tea Co LTD, v ASSAM BRIDGAL RAILWAY Co LTD (1921) 1 L L R 43 Calc. 886

FOREIGN DECREE

See DECREE 1 L R 39 Bom 34
1 L R 40 Bom 504

See FOREIGN COURT

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT

1 L R 36 Mad 414

1 ——— Execution by British Court—The British Court can inquire of the decree was passed with jurisdiction—Ex parte decree—Absent defendant not submitting to jurisdiction—Decree a nullity—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 44 Order XXI rule 7—Act XIV of 1882 s 229 B It is open to a British Court executing a foreign decree to enquire whether the foreign Court had jurisdiction to pass the decree. A decree pronounced by a Court of a foreign state in a personal action in absentem the absent party not having submitted himself to its authority is a nullity JIVAFSA TIMMAFFA v JEEROI MURGEAFFA (1916)

1 L R 40 Bom 551

2 ——— Execution of foreign decree in British India—Competency of British Indian Courts to question the jurisdiction—Appearance to save property from seizure—Denial of jurisdiction and claim—Jurisdiction submission to whether voluntary It is competent to the executing Court to refuse execution of a foreign decree sought to be executed in British India under s 44 of the Code of Civil Procedure on the ground that such decree was passed without jurisdiction. Submission is not voluntary if the appearance is made only to save property which is in the hands of a foreign tribunal. Tonnet v Barrett 50 L J (Q B D) 39 Guard v De Clermont and Donner 30 T L R 511 and Boussere v Co v Brockner & Co 6 T L R 85 followed Parry & Co v Appasami Pillai 1 L R 2 Mad 407 doubted Per WALLIS Orro C J—Whether submission was for the purpose of saving property or voluntary is a question of fact in each case Per SESHASIR AYAR J—The change in the language between s. 229 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) and O XXI r 7 of the Code of 1908 does not warrant the conclusion that in regard to decrees obtained within British India the executing Court has no jurisdiction to question the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree. The words "As if they have been passed by the Courts in British India" relate only to the mode of execution and have not the effect of giving foreign judgments all the incidents of a judgment of a British Court VEERARAGHAVA AYYAR v MUGA SATT (1914) 1 L R 39 Mad 24

FOREIGN DECREE—contd

FOREIGN DOMICILE

See DIVORCE 1 L R 40 Calc 215

FOREIGN JUDGMENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 13
s 11 13 1 L P 37 All 1

See FOREIGN COURT

Defence struck out
No decision on the merits—No cause of action Where in a suit in a foreign Court defence was struck out and judgment entered for plaintiff Held that the judgment is not one decided on the merits and thus not being conclusive could not of itself constitute a cause of action to the suit VISWANADIA REDDI v KEYMER (1914)
1 L R 39 Mad 95

Foreign Judgment suit

on—Jurisdiction of Foreign Court—submission to by defendants when defendant carrying on business in foreign territory through agent—No residence thereby—Service of notice of suit on agent insufficient as against principals outside jurisdiction—Service on principals out of jurisdiction Submission to the jurisdiction of a foreign forum is largely a question of fact in each case or a mixed question of law and fact. Where defendants submitted to the jurisdiction of foreign Courts by giving a power of attorney as above-mentioned to an agent and a decision is passed against them after service of summons of the suit on them while they were out of jurisdiction by order of Court the defendants are prima facie bound by the judgment and where no other defence is raised but that of non submission and non service of notice both of which were found against a decree against the defendants in accordance with the foreign judgment must necessarily follow. Persons who carry on business in a foreign country through an agent submit to the jurisdiction of the Courts of that country by giving that agent a power of attorney containing very wide powers including right to institute or defend any suits that might be brought against them touching any matters connected with their business or otherwise. A power of attorney of this character which presumably is brought to the notice of persons dealing with the firm is evidence that the principals adopted the Court of the place wherein the business is carried on as the forum before which their claims were to be brought. Bank of Australasia v Harding 19 L J C P 345 and In re Hainault Forest Act 90 B Rep 613 at p 661 and Bank of Australasia v Nara 20 L J Q B 254 followed Obier v A decree obtained in a foreign country against a firm after serving the agent of the firm with notice of the suit while the principals of the firm who were defendants in the case were out of its juris-

FOREST ACT (VII OF 1878)—contd

members of the party who had not shot any thing could properly be convicted of hunting in a reserved forest within the meaning of s 25 (i) of the Indian Forest Act 1878 EMPEROR v BAREAT ALI (1917) I L R 40 All 38

— s 25 cl (i) r 3 (a)—Shooting in a reserved forest without license—Tracking and shooting a tiger to preserve one's property The accused finding that his cattle were killed by a tiger tracked and shot the animal in a reserved forest without a license Held that the accused was guilty of a technical offence under r 3 (a) framed under the provisions of s 25 cl (i) of the Indian Forest Act 1878 EMPEROR v AMIRSAHER BALANIYA (1918) I L R 42 Bom 406

— s 75—An occupier held entitled to cut certain sandalwood trees not proved to be in existence and reserved at the time of settlement EMPEROR v ILLAPPA RAMANGOURA I L R 45 Bom 110

FORFEITURE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXII r 10

I L R 39 Bom 568

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 35 Bom 239

I L R 39 Calc 903

I L R 40 Calc 870

See LEASE I L R 42 Bom 734

I L R 45 Bom 300

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 38 Mad 445

See PARDON

I L R 42 Calc 756 & 856

See PARTITION I L R 37 Calc 918

See PASTURE LANDS 14 C W N 372

See PRINTING PRESS FORFEITURE OF

I L R 38 Calc 203

See RIGHT OF SOIL

I L R 40 Bom 200

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

as 6 CL (b) 109 111 CL (g)

I L R 43 Bom 28

s 111 I L R 35 All 145

— of cash and ornaments found on the person of the gamblers—

See BOMBAY PREVENTION OF GAMBLING ACT (BOM ACT IV OF 1887) s 8

I L R 47 Bom 686

— of adoption—

See BURMESE LAW

I L R 45 Calc 1

— bond—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 514

I L R 2 Lah. 204

— of deposit of earnest money—

See CONTRACT BREACH OF

I L R 38 Mad. 801

— of land—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879 AS AMENDED BY BOM ACT VI OF 1901) s. 56

I L R 37 Bom. 692

FORFEITURE—contd

— of lease—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

L L R 44 Mad 629

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 111, CL (g)

I L R 42 Bom 195

— of occupancy—

See LAND REVENUE CODE BOMBAY

ss 56 214 I L R 36 Bom 91

— of pardon—

See PARDON I L R 37 Calc 845

— of property—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 62 I L R 36 All 395

— of servient estate—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS

L R 46 I A 302

— relief against—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 39 Mad. 834 & 1049

— suit to set aside collector's order of Limitation—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH

I ART 14 I L R 44 Bom 451

1 ——— Forfeiture by Government of Deshgat Inam lands—Effect of forfeiture on prior mortgage—Payment of assessment to Government by mortgagee in possession—Suit to redeem by mortgagor—Mortgagee cannot deny mortgagor's title The plaintiff's ancestors mortgaged their Deshgat Inam lands to the defendant's ancestor with possession in 1855. The lands were in 1856 for feited by Government but the mortgagee was continued in possession and paid assessment in respect of the lands to Government. In 1901 the plaintiff's sued to redeem the mortgage. The defendant contended that the order of forfeiture deprived the plaintiffs of all right to the lands and that the title thereafter became vested in the defendant. Held that the order of forfeiture had merely the effect of converting the lands from a service tenure into lands liable to pay assessment to Government and that it did not deprive the plaintiff of all right and title to the lands and extinguished the relation of mortgagor and mortgagee which existed between the parties. Fishnoo Irmbul v Tata I Bom H C F 22 and Gangabai v Kalaya Dasi Mukhya (1855) 9 Bom 419 followed. Held also that the defendant who came into possession of the lands as mortgagee of the plaintiffs could not turn round after the order of forfeiture and take the benefit of it and challenge the validity of the mortgage in virtue of which his title to the land as mortgagee had begun. GURBASAPPA v RANOO VEE KATESH (1912) I L R 36 Bom. 539

2 ——— Insolvency—Security for pro duction of insolvent debtor—Failure of insolvency applcat on—Forfeiture of security money—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 145. The decree holder is entitled to the money that has been deposited by the surety as security for the benefit of the decree holder whose rights were interfered with to enable the judgment debtor to make an application in insolvency with a view to his protection from arrest on the money being forfeited by the Court for failure to produce the debtor when required. The Court has no power to declare a forfeiture in favour of the Government. BASANTI LAL v. CHANDU BINGH (1912)

FORFEITURE—contd

I L R 39 Calc 1048

3 — Under Press Act—Scope of s 4 — Stating the grounds of its opinion —Mandatory nature of direction in s 12—Notification—Grounds—Onus of proof—Limited Jurisdiction of High Court—Executive and Judicial functions contrasted—Intention—Penal Code (Act XIV of 1860) s 1534 On an application under the Indian Press Act 1910 to set aside the order of forfeiture of a pamphlet made by the Local Government. Held that the onus was cast on the petitioner to establish that it was impossible for the pamphlet to come within the terms of s 4 of the Act and that the functions of the High Court were limited under ss 17 and 19 to considering whether the petitioner had discharged that onus. The High Court had no jurisdiction to pronounce on the wisdom or unwisdom of the order of forfeiture. The direction in s 12 of the Act (stating the grounds of its opinion) was mandatory and it was not a compliance with the direction merely to cite the words of the section invoked without setting out facts on which the opinion was based, but the High Court was debarred by s 22 from questioning the legality of the forfeiture on that ground. In an enquiry under this Act the question of the intention of the writer or publisher is not directly material. Per STEPHEN J.—The omission of the Local Government to comply with the mandatory direction contained in s 12 did not oust the jurisdiction of the High Court to revise the order of forfeiture on its merits. In re Moho MANOHAR ALI (1913)

I L R 41 Calc 466

4 — Order made by Local Government of Delhi—Jurisdiction—Delhi Laws Act (XIII of 1912) Where an order was made under s 4 (1) of the Indian Press Act 1910 by the Local Government of Delhi directing the forfeiture wherever found of all copies of a news paper published on a certain date in Delhi on an application to set aside the order made by a person who had in his possession in Calcutta a particular copy. Held that this High Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the application. In re ABUL KALAM AZAD (1914)

I L R 42 Calc 730

5 — Security—News paper articles—Sedition and seditious libel—Competency of the High Court to set aside order of forfeiture—Burden of proof—Presumption—Evidence—Policy of the newspaper—Intention material or not—Hatred or contempt and defamation words likely or having a tendency to produce—Indian Press Act (I of 1910) ss 4, 17, 19 to 22 The Press Act was framed to enable the Government and the Court to deal with the meaning of documents and not with the intentions of their authors and publishers. It is essentially a preventive measure a measure with a view to prevent crime that is crime imperilling the existence of the State the safety of its officers public order and the like. An offence under this Act is not sedition as such but the

FORFEITURE—contd

printing or publishing of matter of the nature and tendency mentioned in s 4 attracts to itself the penalty of forfeiture. It would be against all recognised canons of interpretation to import into the Press Act the provisions of the law of sedition as enacted in the Indian Penal Code or as administered in England. The power to declare the security forfeited under the Press Act can be exercised only with regard to a press in respect of which security has been deposited under either of the two sub sections of section 3. s 22 makes the declaration of the forfeiture conclusive evidence of the factum of forfeiture. The legality of forfeiture can be questioned only by the method mentioned in s 17 and to the extent provided thereby. Although the order may have been made by the Local Government on the ground that the words signs or visible representations were of the nature described in one or other of the six clauses of s 4 (1) the High Court under s 19 (1) is competent to set aside the order of forfeiture on one ground and one ground alone namely that the words contained in the newspaper in respect of which the order in question was made were not of the nature described in any of the clauses of s 4 (1). The Court does not approach the case with the presumption that the order is erroneous the burden lies upon the petitioner to establish the validity of his contention. If he fails to satisfy the Court that the words signs or visible representations are not of the nature described in s 4 (1) the application to set aside the forfeiture must be dismissed. Protad Chander Mukerji v. Emperor 11 C L R 25 Rohimudd v. The Queen Empress I L R 20 Calc 353 and Milan Khan v. Sagun Bepari I L R 23 Calc 547 referred to. In the absence of any words of direct exclusion of evidence it is fair to assume that if an article is ambiguous or doubtful and therefore the Crown requires to supplement it by evidence of other articles from the same newspaper the person against whom the order of forfeiture is passed should have the right to give evidence in rebuttal. The object of s 20 of the Press Act was to widen for a specified purpose, the rule of evidence embodied in s 14 of the Evidence Act. s 20 may be utilised by the person affected by the order of forfeiture precisely in the same way as by the Crown. Amar Singh v. Emperor 16 Cr L J R 555 and Gulam Qadir Khan v. Emperor 15 Cr L J R 493 referred to. s 20 only applies where if the article stood alone there may be doubt or ambiguity as to the character nature or tendency of the words used and not when the meaning of the article is apparent on its face. Annie Besant v. Emperor I L R 39 Mad 1035 and Annie Besant v. The Advocate General Madras 23 C W N 936 35 T L R 500 Question of Intention and Evidence discussed. In re AMRITA BAZAR PATRIKA PRESS LIMITED (1919)

I L R 47 Calc 190

FORGERY

See CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS STAT OF
I L R 38 Calc 106

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 19,
I L R 31 All 654
I L R 42 All 130

See EVIDENCE
I L R 36 Mad 159

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)
I ACTS. 9., 931 I L R 40 Bom.

FORGERY—contd

See PENAL CODE ss 34 109 467

I L R 36 Bom 524

ss 463 467 I L R 37 Bom 666

s 465 471 I L R 43 All 225

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

14 C W N 479

See USING FORGED DOCUMENT

I L R 39 Calo 463

— copy of—

See FORGERY I L R 43 Calo 783

— antecedent—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 44 Calo 1002

— False document, ingredients of—

Material part of document if altered— Dishonestly and fraudulently Where the accused after the execution and registration of a document, which was not required by law to be attested added his name to the document as an attesting witness Held, per HARRINGTON and MOOREHEAD JJ (TRUKON J dissenting) that the accused was not guilty of an offence under s. 471. That the accused by the insertion of his name as an attesting witness cannot be held to have done the act either dishonestly or fraudulently within the meaning of these words as defined in ss 24 and 25 of the Indian Penal Code. The word fraudulently defined. The interpolation of the name of a person as an attesting witness to a document not required by law to be attested subsequent to its execution and registration is not an alteration of the document in a material part. SURENDRA NATH OROSE v EMPEROR (1910)

14 C W N 1076

I L R 36 Calo 75

— Certified copy—filing of the user of forged document if original be forged

—Evidence of intention—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 466 471. A series of similar transactions which are not the offence charged can only be used as evidence of the intention of the person who forged the document and not as evidence of forgery. It is extremely doubtful whether the mere filing of a copy is the user of a forged document. A certified copy thereof is certainly not a forged document. But it is otherwise where the offender used the copy knowing or having reason to believe that the entries in the original documents were forgeries and intending to use them for fraudulent purposes. Queen v Anjum Ali 6 W R Cr 41 and Emperor v Mulai Singh I L R 28 All 402 distinguished. KRISHNA GOVINDA PAL v EMPEROR (1910)

I L R 43 Calo 783

— Signing certificate of purchase of arms and ammunitions in false name and giving wrong addresses—Person legally entitled to possess the same—Act fraudulent if not dishonest—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 23 24 463 to 465. A person lawfully entitled to possess arms and ammunitions signing the prescribed certificate of purchase of the same in the name of another with an address not his own and thereby deceiving the gunsmith and the Government and defeating the object of the certificate, commits forgery. His act having been done fraudulently, if not dishonestly. Reg v Toshack 1 Den C C R 432. Emperor v Dhunum Kae I L R 9 Calo 63 and Queen

FORGERY—contd

— antecedent—contd

Emperor v Abbas Ali I L R 25 Calo 512 followed. CAUSLEY v EMPEROR (1915)

I L R 43 Calo 421

— Copy of forged document—whether constitutes a forgery—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 477 420 and 511. The making of a copy of a forged document does not constitute forgery unless the maker of the copy was authorized to make it. Essan Chander Dutt v Baboo Prannath Chaudhry Marsh rep 270 distinguished. Emperor v Ali Hussan I L R 28 All 358 referred to. LACHMAN LAL v THE KING EMPEROR 4 Pat L J 16

FORM OF DECREE

See CHARITABLE TRUSTS

I L R 34 Mad 406

FORM OF ORDER

See DISSOLUTION I L R 47 Calo 620

FORM OF WARRANT

See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 45 Calo 905

FORMALITIES

See DEPOSITION I L R 45 Calo 825

FORMA PAUPERIS

See PAUPER SUIT

— appeal in—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) ss. 5 AND 7 I L R 34 Bom 589

FORMER COURT

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (VALIDATING) ACT No XVI of 1917 s. 3 PROVISIO 3 I L R 42 All 430

FORMER RECEIVER

— suit against—

See RECEIVER I L R 41 Calo 92

FORUM

See ADORPTION I L R 37 Calo 860

FORWARD CONTRACT

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 47 I L R 40 Bom 517

FOUNDER

— descendant of—

See WAKF I L R 43 Calo 467

— intention of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW FUNDAMENT I L R 43 Calo. 1085

FRAME OF SUIT

See CHAWKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

I L R 37 Calo 57

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calo 342

FRAUD

- See ACCOUNTS I L R 42 All 230
 See ASSIGNEE I L R 38 Mad. 36
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1832) s 28 I L R 34 Bom. 575
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 O XXI n. 2
 I L R 43 Bom. 240
 See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 564
 See DECREE 4 Pat L J 187
 See DIVORCE I L R 43 Cal. 283
 See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 92
 I L R 35 Bom 83
 I L R 38 Cal. 822
 See EXECUTION OF DECREE I L R. 38 Cal. 622
 See FORGERY I L R 43 Cal. 421
 See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION I L R. 39 Bom 441
 See HINDU LAW—WIDOW I L R. 41 Bom 83
 See IMMOVABLE PROPERTY I L R. 34 Mad. 143
 See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I ART 93 I L R 37 Bom 158
 See MINOR I L R 37 Mad 535
 See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Bom. 10
 See MORTGAGE BY MINOR I L R 38 Mad. 1071
 See MISTAKE I L R 43 Cal. 217
 See PLEADINGS I L R 37 Cal. 856
 See POSSESSION BY FRAUD I L R 46 Cal. 331
 See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT s 94 14 C W N 695
 See RAILWAY PASSENGER I L R. 44 Cal. 279
 See RIGHT OF SUIT I L R 37 Cal. 197
 See SALE I L R 43 Cal. 119
 See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE I L R 38 Cal. 805
 See SUIT TO SET ASIDE DECREE I L R 32 All 145
 I L R 38 All 7
 See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901) s 233 (k) I L R 41 All 182
- by guardian—
 See MINOR I L R. 33 All 452
- of creditors—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 AND 50 I L R 38 Mad. 1076
- plea of—
 See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 92 I L R. 42 Bom. 512

FRAUD—contd

- suit to set aside decree on the ground of—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 20 (c) I L R 36 All 564
 See COMPROMISE DECREE I L R 1 Lah 344
- upon creditor—
 See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Bom 10
- whether vitiates order of settlement Officer—
 See SANTAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION 6 Pat L J 373
- Fraudulent decree—Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV OF 1832) s 94—Suit to set aside decree—Jurisdiction to set aside decree of Presidency Small Cause Court how determined—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s applies—Onus of proof A suit lies in one Court to set aside a decree of another Court on the ground that the decree was obtained by fraud as the fraud gives rise to a fresh cause of action ABDUL HUE CHOWDHRY v ABDUL HATEZ (1910) 14 C W N 695
- Suit to set aside a decree on the ground of fraud—Personal service not effected—Conduct of plaintiff The mere fact that the personal service of a summons has not been effected on a defendant will not render the proceedings against him absolutely abortive But where the non service is due to the fraudulent conduct of the plaintiff in the suit and others acting with him and a decree is thereby obtained such decree may be set aside as fraudulent Mahomed Gulab v Mahomed Sulaiman I L R 21 Cal. 619 followed TIKA RAM v DAULAT RAM (1909) I L R 32 All 145
- Fraud and collusion of predecessors in title—Parties by descent precluded from setting up fraud The property in dispute belonged originally to Mahomedasahib who in 1829 gave it to his wife Sabimbihi as dower Sah nibihi sold it in 1863 to Sardarkhan one of the two brothers of her daughter in law Fatmabibi Sardarkhan died in 1873 and in 1875 his brother Mahomedkhan gave it in gift to Shabusahab one of the sons of Fatmabibi Subsequently on Shabusahab's death his creditor sued his son and obtained a decree against him In execution the property was sold and was purchased at auction by one Panchandra who having transferred his right to the plaintiff her agent brought the present suit against Shabusahab's sister and his two brothers to recover possession Held that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed If all the said transactions were genuine legal and valid the defendants had no case at all, and if they were as alleged by the defendants fraudulent and collusive, the defendants were precluded, as parties by descent to the alleged fraud, from setting up their own inquiry to avoid the legal consequences of those transactions Doe dem Roberts v Roberts 2 B & A 367 followed SAYAD NAHANNU v SABIN AIR (1911) I L R 37 Bom 217
- Ex parte decree procured by fraud—Jurisdiction of another Court to set aside the ex parte decree—Investigation how far limited The defendant obtained an ex parte decree at Akyab upon a promissory note against the plaintiff who subsequently applied under s 108 of the Code of

FRAUD—contd

Civil Procedure to set aside the said decree The ex parte decree who set aside and the suit was revived but at the hearing the plaintiff could not appear and an ex parte decree was again passed. The plaintiff then brought a suit in the Court to which the ex parte decree was transferred for execution for a declaration that the said decree was not binding on him it being based upon no cause of action and being fraudulent inasmuch as he did not execute any promissory note in favour of the defendant or receive any money from him. On an objection by the defendant that the Court had no jurisdiction to enter into the merits of the suit in the Akyab Court and in any case the only matter that could be investigated was whether the plaintiff had by the action of the defendant been prevented from placing his case properly before the said Court.—Held that the jurisdiction of the Court in trying a suit of this kind was not limited to an investigation merely as to whether the plaintiff was prevented from placing his case properly at the prior trial by the fraud of the defendant. The Court could and must rip up the whole matter for determining whether there had been fraud in the procurement of the decree. LAKSHMI CHARAN SANA v. NUR ALI (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 936

Fraudulent transfer of possession—Reversioner getting into possession from an alienee of the widow—Mortgage by alienee—Suit for foreclosure—Reversioner setting up the plea that widow's alienation beyond her life time was void—Estoppel between mortgagor and mortgagee—Estoppel binds reversioner—Practice In 1878 G's widow sold certain property belonging to G to G A who mortgaged it to D in 1892. The widow died in 1897. After G A's death in 1901 H (defendant No 3) who was a reversioner of G slipped on it possession of the property by fraudulently inducing G A's sons (defendants Nos 1 and 2) to favour his claim. In 1908 the plaintiff who claimed through D sued to recover his money by sale of the mortgaged property. It was contended by H that it was not competent to O's widow to alienate the property beyond her life time and that her alienation was not binding on him. Held that H having obtained possession of the property by colluding with defendants Nos 1 and 2 his fraud was sufficient in law to deprive him of the right to be heard in defence to the suit that he was entitled to the property as reversionary heir of G. Held further that defendants Nos 1 and 2 having been in possession of the property as mortgagors of the plaintiff were estopped from denying his right to foreclose the mortgage and that that estoppel applied also to H who stepped into possession through a fraud common to H as well as defendants Nos 1 and 2. The true owner of property is entitled to retain possession even though he has obtained it from a trespasser by force or other unlawful means. This principle applies only when the true owner gets into possession without bringing himself within the law of estoppel. As between a mortgagor and his mortgagee neither can deny the title of the other for the purposes of the mortgage. A mortgagor cannot derogate from his grant so as to defeat his mortgagee a title, nor can the mortgagee deny the title of his mortgagor to mortgage the property. MULLAYA SUBBAYA v. NARAYANAPPA TIMMAIA (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 185

FRAUD—contd

Decree—When can be set aside for fraud—Res judicata—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 41 It is beyond question that the jurisdiction to impugn a previous decree for fraud exists. But it is a jurisdiction to be exercised with care and reserve, for it would be highly detrimental to encourage the idea in litigants that the final judgment in a suit is to be merely a prelude to further litigation. The fraud used in obtaining a decree being the principal point in issue it is necessary to establish it by proof before the propriety of the prior decree can be investigated. One who seeks to impugn a decree passed after contest takes on himself a heavy burden and it is not satisfied by merely inducing the Court to come to the conclusion that the appreciation of the evidence and the ultimate decision in the former suit was erroneous. Nor can a prior judgment be upset on a mere general allegation of fraud or collusion. It must be shown how, when, where and in what way the fraud was committed. The fraud must be actual positive fraud—a meditated and intentional contrivance to keep the parties and the Court in ignorance of the real facts of the case and obtaining that decree by that contrivance. Shedden v. Patrick et al 1 Macq 535. Ochsenberg v. Pappeier L R 8 Ch App 695 and The Duchess of Kingston's Case 2 Sm L C 11th Ed 731 followed. The character of fraud vitiating a decree would vary with the circumstances of each class of decree. NANDA KUMAR HOWLADAR v. PAM JIBAN HOWLADAR (1914)

I L R 41 Cal 990

Decree based on perjured evidence—Suit to set aside—Onus of proof—Res judicata Held that a suit to set aside a decree on the ground that the decree had been obtained by perjured and false evidence is not maintainable. Held further that where a decree was impeached on the ground of fraud the fraud alleged must be actual positive fraud—a meditated and intentional contrivance to keep the parties and the Court in ignorance of the real facts of the case and the obtaining of the decree by that contrivance. Nand Kumar Howlader v. Ram Jiban Howlader I L R 41 Cal 990. Munshi Musafiq Hussain v. Surendra Nath Ray 16 G W N 1002 followed. Chinnayya v. Ramanna I L R 33 Mad 293. Baker v. Wadsworth 67 L J Q B D 301. Vadala v. Lawes L R 25 Q B D 310. Abouloff v. Openheimer & Co L R 10 Q B D 295 referred to. Venkatappa Nair v. Subba Nair I L R 29 Mad 179 dissented from. JANKI KUMAR v. LACHMI NARAIN (1915)

I L R 37 All 535

Fictitious rent-sale—Collusive sale arranged between putndar and tenure holder to get rid of—and v. tenure—Abuse of process—Duty of tenure holder to protect under tenure holders from paramount claims—Transaction a private sale Where a tenure holder having offered to sell his interest to the putndar the latter agreed to pay the price asked only if the tenure was rid of the interest of subordinate tenure holders and it was arranged that the tenure holder would make default in paying rent and that the putndar would sue him for arrears of rent and put up the tenure for sale in execution of the decree and that a person who had no intention of buying the property would be made to bid up to a figure approaching the price settled which thereupon would be offered by the put star and the sale was effected as arranged. Held that the transaction should be viewed as a private sale which in fact it was, the form only of a Court sale having been gone through and used with the object of defrauding the under-tenure holders. A suit by the purchaser prayer to annul an under-tenure and to recover possession must therefore fail. UMA CHAKRA MANDAL v. MUMBAI ZEMINDARY CO (1914) 19 C W N 270

FRAUD—con id

Fraudulent agreement—Collusive decree obtained on such agreement—Fraud on the court—S of impugning agreement and decree—D defendant prevented from defending suit on the plea that a decree will not be created against him—*S*uit to declare decree incapable of execution of l es. The principle that a party to a fraudulent transaction is entitled to relief in a Court of Equity as against the fraudulent co-defendant so long as the fraud contemplated has not been carried into effect is not inapplicable merely because the party suffers a decree to be passed against him in a fictitious and collusive suit which is only a part of the fraudulent scheme. 1441 Prodhan v. Manmohan Nath 13 C W N 1331 a c 13 C L J 616 and Param Singh v. Lalji Mal 1 L R 1 All 403 followed. Where one of two defendants was prevented from making a proper defence to the suit by the fraudulent assurance of the plaintiff that the decree obtained would not be executed against him. Held that the defendant was not estopped by the decree from suing for a declaration that the decree was incapable of execution. Chentirappa v. Suttappa 1 L R 11 Bom 703 followed. RAJAN ALI CHODHURY v. HADAYET ALI CHODHURY (1914) 19 C W N 1151*

General allegations of fraud in pleading if should be noticed. Under the Contract Law of India as well as by ordinary principles coercion undue influence fraud and misrepresentation (though they may overlap or may be combined) are all separate and separable categories in law. General allegations however strong are insufficient even to amount to an averment of fraud of which any Court ought to take notice. The law of India is in no way different from this, and the Judicial Committee regret that the rule is not more strictly observed. Gunga Narain Gupta v. Tularam Choudhary L J 15 I A 119 referred to. BAL GANGADHAR THAK v. SHRINIWAS PANDIT (1914)

19 C W N 729

Suits to set aside a judgment for fraud—Discretionary relief—Not act cons title fraud—Obtaining decree by deliberate perjury whether liable to be set aside as fraudulent. A judgment in a previous suit cannot be set aside by a new suit based on an allegation that the decree holder obtained it by practising a fraud on the Court in the absence of the judgment debtor or by suppressing certain material evidence in the case for it was the duty of judgment debtor to have got produced all his evidence in the previous suit. Suppression of material evidence is not fraud within the meaning of the rule enunciated in The Duchess of Argyll's Case 2 Sm L C 1114 Fdn 731 at p 733 which is to the following effect:—In order that fraud may be a ground for vacating a judgment it must be a fraud that is extrinsic or collateral to everything that has been adjudicated upon but not one that has been or must be deemed to have been dealt with by the Court. The power of the Court to set aside a judgment on the ground of fraud is a discretionary one which will be exercised in favour of the petitioner only if he had been free from fraud or any turpitude or laches sloth or lack of diligence in protecting his own interests. Quare Whether a judgment can be set aside for fraud on the ground that the successful party was guilty of deliberate perjury or suborning perjury English and Indian case law on the subject discussed. Examples of fraud which will vitiate a judgment given. CHINMAYA v. PAMANA (1913) 1 L R 38 Mad 203

FRAUD—contd.

Different from that alleged in plaint—If can be relied on—Duty of plaintiff to state facts constituting alleged fraud—Document bearing genuine signature—Burden on signatory to prove falsity of recitals. When a plaintiff impleads a transaction on the ground of fraud the facts which constitute the alleged fraud must be distinctly specifically and accurately stated. That a charge of fraud must be substantially proved or laid and when one kind of fraud is charged another kind of fraud cannot upon failure of proof be substituted for it. That the rule that the Court will grant only such relief as the plaintiff is entitled to upon the case made by his pleadings is strictly enforced when the plaintiff relies on fraud. That when a party seeks to avoid the Statute of Limitation on the ground of fraud the statement of claim should set forth specifically the particular acts which constitute the fraud as well as the time when it was discovered in order to enable the defendant to meet the fraud and the alleged time of its discovery so that the Court may see whether by the exercise of ordinary diligence the discovery might not have been made before. BANSIDRAM v. PAN CHAM DAST (1914) 20 C W N 638

Ex parte decrees and sale thereunder—Suit to set aside decree and sale on the ground that processes in suit and execution suppressed in collusion with officers of Court—Suit if maintainable—Case of fraud pleading and proof in. Where the plaintiff in a suit to set aside an ex parte rent decree and sale held thereunder alleged that the defendants had in collusion with the officers of the Court caused a suppression of the processes in the suit as also in the execution proceedings. Held that if this allegation had been established the plaintiff would have been entitled to succeed. The mere circumstance that a defendant had failed to have an ex parte decree set aside under a 103 C P C (of 1887) or to have a sale set aside on the ground of material irregularity does not debar him from seeking relief in a suit properly framed for the purpose on the ground that the suit itself was a fraudulent suit and that the proceedings therein were vitiated by fraud. But to enable the plaintiff to succeed in a suit so framed he must specifically allege the circumstances of fraud and he must prove the fraud as laid in the plaint. Fraud how to be pleaded and in what manner established discussed. NAGENDRA NATH BOSE v. PARBATI CHAKRA (1914) 20 C W N 819

partie decree on grain application to set as to set aside ex if lies when suit by the

1. 凡在本行开立存款账户的客户，均可向本行申请开立定期存款账户。
 2. 定期存款账户的开立，须由客户填写《定期存款开户申请书》，并提供有效身份证件。
 3. 本行定期存款账户分为整存整付、零存整付、整存零付、零存零付四种类型。
 4. 定期存款的期限分为三个月、六个月、九个月、十二个月、十八个月、二十四个月、三十六个月、四十八个月、六十个月、七十二个月、八十四个月、九十六个月、一百零八个月、一百二十个月。
 5. 定期存款的利率按照中国人民银行规定的利率执行。
 6. 定期存款的利息按季结息，到期一次还本付息。
 7. 定期存款账户的开立，须由客户本人亲自办理，不得委托他人代办。
 8. 定期存款账户的开立，须由客户本人提供有效身份证件，并留存本人近期一寸彩色免冠照片。
 9. 定期存款账户的开立，须由客户本人提供有效身份证件，并留存本人近期一寸彩色免冠照片。
 10. 定期存款账户的开立，须由客户本人提供有效身份证件，并留存本人近期一寸彩色免冠照片。

[illegible]

一、政治：政治是國家與社會的組織與運作，包括法律、政府、政策、權力分配等。政治的運作受到文化、經濟、社會等多方面的影響。政治的運作也受到文化、經濟、社會等多方面的影響。政治的運作也受到文化、經濟、社會等多方面的影響。

1. The first part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

2. The second part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

3. The third part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

4. The fourth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

5. The fifth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

6. The sixth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

7. The seventh part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

8. The eighth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

9. The ninth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

10. The tenth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

1. The first part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

2. The second part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

3. The third part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

4. The fourth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

5. The fifth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

6. The sixth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

7. The seventh part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

8. The eighth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

9. The ninth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

10. The tenth part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them.

一、關於「中國共產黨」 二、關於「中國革命」
 三、關於「中國前途」 四、關於「中國青年」 五、關於「中國婦女」 六、關於「中國兒童」
 七、關於「中國教育」 八、關於「中國經濟」 九、關於「中國政治」 十、關於「中國文化」 十一、關於「中國藝術」 十二、關於「中國科學」 十三、關於「中國宗教」 十四、關於「中國法律」 十五、關於「中國道德」 十六、關於「中國習慣」 十七、關於「中國風俗」 十八、關於「中國語言」 十九、關於「中國文字」 二十、關於「中國歷史」 二十一、關於「中國地理」 二十二、關於「中國氣候」 二十三、關於「中國物產」 二十四、關於「中國交通」
 二十五、關於「中國對外關係」
 二十六、關於「中國對內關係」
 二十七、關於「中國對外政策」 二十八、關於「中國對內政策」 二十九、關於「中國對外宣傳」 三十、關於「中國對內宣傳」
 三十一、關於「中國對外教育」
 三十二、關於「中國對內教育」
 三十三、關於「中國對外經濟」 三十四、關於「中國對內經濟」
 三十五、關於「中國對外政治」
 三十六、關於「中國對內政治」 三十七、關於「中國對外文化」
 三十八、關於「中國對內文化」
 三十九、關於「中國對外藝術」 四十、關於「中國對內藝術」
 四十一、關於「中國對外科學」
 四十二、關於「中國對內科學」
 四十三、關於「中國對外宗教」
 四十四、關於「中國對內宗教」
 四十五、關於「中國對外法律」
 四十六、關於「中國對內法律」 四十七、關於「中國對外道德」
 四十八、關於「中國對內道德」
 四十九、關於「中國對外習慣」 五十、關於「中國對內習慣」
 五十一、關於「中國對外風俗」 五十二、關於「中國對內風俗」 五十三、關於「中國對外語言」
 五十四、關於「中國對內語言」 五十五、關於「中國對外文字」
 五十六、關於「中國對內文字」
 五十七、關於「中國對外歷史」 五十八、關於「中國對內歷史」 五十九、關於「中國對外地理」
 六十、關於「中國對內地理」 六十一、關於「中國對外氣候」
 六十二、關於「中國對內氣候」
 六十三、關於「中國對外物產」
 六十四、關於「中國對內物產」
 六十五、關於「中國對外交通」
 六十六、關於「中國對內交通」
 六十七、關於「中國對外對外關係」 六十八、關於「中國對內對外關係」
 六十九、關於「中國對外對外政策」 七十、關於「中國對內對外政策」
 七十一、關於「中國對外對外宣傳」
 七十二、關於「中國對內對外宣傳」
 七十三、關於「中國對外對外教育」
 七十四、關於「中國對內對外教育」 七十五、關於「中國對外對外經濟」
 七十六、關於「中國對內對外經濟」 七十七、關於「中國對外對外政治」
 七十八、關於「中國對內對外政治」
 七十九、關於「中國對外對外文化」
 八十、關於「中國對內對外文化」
 八十一、關於「中國對外對外藝術」
 八十二、關於「中國對內對外藝術」
 八十三、關於「中國對外對外科學」
 八十四、關於「中國對內對外科學」
 八十五、關於「中國對外對外宗教」
 八十六、關於「中國對內對外宗教」
 八十七、關於「中國對外對外法律」
 八十八、關於「中國對內對外法律」
 八十九、關於「中國對外對外道德」 九十、關於「中國對內對外道德」
 九十一、關於「中國對外對外習慣」
 九十二、關於「中國對內對外習慣」
 九十三、關於「中國對外對外風俗」
 九十四、關於「中國對內對外風俗」
 九十五、關於「中國對外對外語言」
 九十六、關於「中國對內對外語言」
 九十七、關於「中國對外對外文字」
 九十八、關於「中國對內對外文字」
 九十九、關於「中國對外對外歷史」
 一百、關於「中國對內對外歷史」
 一百零一、關於「中國對外對外地理」
 一百零二、關於「中國對內對外地理」
 一百零三、關於「中國對外對外氣候」
 一百零四、關於「中國對內對外氣候」 一百零五、關於「中國對外對外物產」
 一百零六、關於「中國對內對外物產」 一百零七、關於「中國對外對外交通」
 一百零八、關於「中國對內對外交通」
 一百零九、關於「中國對外對外對外關係」
 一百一十、關於「中國對內對外對外關係」 一百一十一、關於「中國對外對外對外政策」
 一百一十二、關於「中國對內對外對外政策」
 一百一十三、關於「中國對外對外對外宣傳」
 一百一十四、關於「中國對內對外對外宣傳」 一百一十五、關於「中國對外對外對外教育」
 一百一十六、關於「中國對內對外對外教育」
 一百一十七、關於「中國對外對外對外經濟」
 一百一十八、關於「中國對內對外對外經濟」
 一百一十九、關於「中國對外對外對外政治」
 一百二十、關於「中國對內對外對外政治」
 一百二十一、關於「中國對外對外對外文化」
 一百二十二、關於「中國對內對外對外文化」
 一百二十三、關於「中國對外對外對外藝術」
 一百二十四、關於「中國對內對外對外藝術」
 一百二十五、關於「中國對外對外對外科學」
 一百二十六、關於「中國對內對外對外科學」
 一百二十七、關於「中國對外對外對外宗教」 一百二十八、關於「中國對內對外對外宗教」 一百二十九、關於「中國對外對外對外法律」 一百三十、關於「中國對內對外對外法律」
 一百三十一、關於「中國對外對外對外道德」 一百三十二、關於「中國對內對外對外道德」 一百三十三、關於「中國對外對外對外習慣」
 一百三十四、關於「中國對內對外對外習慣」
 一百三十五、關於「中國對外對外對外風俗」
 一百三十六、關於「中國對內對外對外風俗」 一百三十七、關於「中國對外對外對外語言」
 一百三十八、關於「中國對內對外對外語言」 一百三十九、關於「中國對外對外對外文字」 一百四十、關於「中國對內對外對外文字」
 一百四十一、關於「中國對外對外對外歷史」
 一百四十二、關於「中國對內對外對外歷史」 一百四十三、關於「中國對外對外對外地理」
 一百四十四、關於「中國對內對外對外地理」 一百四十五、關於「中國對外對外對外氣候」
 一百四十六、關於「中國對內對外對外氣候」
 一百四十七、關於「中國對外對外對外物產」
 一百四十八、關於「中國對內對外對外物產」 一百四十九、關於「中國對外對外對外交通」 一百五十、關於「中國對內對外對外交通」
 一百五十一、關於「中國對外對外對外對外關係」 一百五十二、關於「中國對內對外對外對外關係」 一百五十三、關於「中國對外對外對外對外政策」 一百五十四、關於「中國對內對外對外對外政策」 一百五十五、關於「中國對外對外對外對外宣傳」 一百五十六、關於「中國對內對外對外對外宣傳」 一百五十七、關於「中國對外對外對外對外教育」 一百五十八、關於「中國對內對外對外對外教育」 一百五十九、關於「中國對外對外對外對外經濟」 一百六十、關於「中國對內對外對外對外經濟」
 一百六十一、關於「中國對外對外對外對外政治」 一百六十二、關於「中國對內對外對外對外政治」 一百六十三、關於「中國對外對外對外對外文化」 一百六十四、關於「中國對內對外對外對外文化」 一百六十五、關於「中國對外對外對外對外藝術」 一百六十六、關於「中國對內對外對外對外藝術」 一百六十七、關於「中國對外對外對外對外科學」 一百六十八、關於「中國對內對外對外對外科學」 一百六十九、關於「中國對外對外對外對外宗教」 一百七十、關於「中國對內對外對外對外宗教」 一百七十一、關於「中國對外對外對外對外法律」 一百七十二、關於「中國對內對外對外對外法律」 一百七十三、關於「中國對外對外對外對外道德」 一百七十四、關於「中國對內對外對外對外道德」 一百七十五、關於「中國對外對外對外對外習慣」 一百七十六、關於「中國對內對外對外對外習慣」 一百七十七、關於「中國對外對外對外對外風俗」 一百七十八、關於「中國對內對外對外對外風俗」
 一百七十九、關於「中國對外對外對外對外語言」 一百八十、關於「中國對內對外對外對外語言」
 一百八十一、關於「中國對外對外對外對外文字」 一百八十二、關於「中國對內對外對外對外文字」 一百八十三、關於「中國對外對外對外對外歷史」 一百八十四、關於「中國對內對外對外對外歷史」 一百八十五、關於「中國對外對外對外對外地理」
 一百八十六、關於「中國對內對外對外對外地理」 一百八十七、關於「中國對外對外對外對外氣候」 一百八十八、關於「中國對

[The page contains dense, illegible handwritten text.]

FRAUDULENT DECREE—c 8

ground of fraud, it must be shown that the fraud was practised in relation to proceedings in Court and that the decree must be shown to have been procured by procuring fraud upon the Court.
MAHENDRA NATH MITRA v. HARI MOHAR
 24 C. W. N. 133

FRAUDULENT EXECUTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT 1 OF 1908) O XXI s. 2
 I L. R. 40 Bom 333

FRAUDULENT PREFERENCE.

See COMPANIES ACT 1913 s. 231
 I L. R. 2 Lah. 102
 See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1900
 s. 11 I L. R. 43 All. 427

—State of mind of maker
—Intention—Receiver—Onus—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1901) s. 3 The question whether there has been a fraudulent preference depends not upon the mere fact that there had been a preference but also on the state of mind of the person who made it. It must be shown not only that he has preferred a creditor but that he has fraudulently done so. It depends upon what was in his mind. For this purpose it is not true that the debtor must be taken to have intended the natural consequences of his acts. One must find out what he really did intend. Davis of Lord Halsbury in Sharp v Jackson (1892) 4 C 412 followed. It is not necessary to threaten criminal proceedings to constitute pressure. The threat of civil suits is enough if it is established that the transaction was the result of real pressure brought to bear by a creditor on his debtor it can't be deemed as a spontaneous act. The onus is on the Receiver to show that it was an outcome of a fraudulent preference. MAHENDRA NATH MITRA v. ASHUTOSH GHOSH (1914)
 I L. R. 43 Cal. 640

FRAUDULENT REPRESENTATION

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s. 20
 G. I L. R. 40 Bom 638
 See PARTITION SUIT
 I L. R. 44 Cal. 28
 See RES JUDICATA
 I L. R. 45 Cal. 442

FRAUDULENT SUPPRESSION

See SUBROGATION I L. R. 43 Cal. 69

FRAUDULENT TRANSFER

See ATTACHMENT I L. R. 44 Cal. 662
 See FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE
 See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s. 38 2 Pat. L. J. 101
 s. 43 I L. R. 44 Bom 673
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s. 53 I L. R. 43 Bom 707
 I L. R. 29 Bom 507

FREEDOM OF RELIGIOUS ACT (XXI OF 1850)

See LASTE DISABILITIES REMOVAL
 See HINDU LAW—CONVERSION
 15 C. W. N. 545

FREIGHT

—paid in advance—
 See BILL OF LADING
 I L. R. 44 Mad 145
 See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s. 64
 I L. R. 40 Bom 529

FRENCH SUBJECT

—will of—
 See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT
 s. 5 24 C. W. N. 713

FRESH PROCEEDINGS

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT
 I L. R. 40 Cal. 71
 See NOLLY PROSECUT
 16 C. W. N. 933

FRESH RULE.

See CRIMINAL PREVISIONAL JURISDICTION.
 I L. R. 38 Cal. 933

FRESH SUIT

—liberty to institute—
 s. JURISDICTION
 I L. R. 43 Cal. 133

FRIVOLOUS OR VEXATIOUS ACCUSATION

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 250
 I L. R. 40 All. 79

FRIVOLOUS OR VEXATIOUS COMPLAINT

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 107
 230 I L. R. 38 All. 382

FUGITIVE OFFENDER

See EXTRADITION I L. R. 41 Cal. 400
 See HABEAS CORPUS
 I L. R. 39 Cal. 164

FULL BENCH

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS
 ACT (XX OF 1887) s. 3, 38
 I L. R. 34 Bom 316
 s. 39 I L. R. 42 Bom 80
 See REFERENCE TO FULL BENCH

—question referable to a—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH
 I ART 131 I L. R. 40 Mad 1040

—Judicial opinion reversed of by Full Bench—Effect The effect of the Full Bench decision in Bhupati Nath Smriti Surtha v. Ram Lal Motra 11 C. W. N. 18 was not to make a new law but to declare the law as it stood and has always stood. SARADYDU MUKHERJEE v. CHANDU CHANDRA DUTTA (1910)
 23 C. W. N. 872

—When a reference should be made to Full Bench Advantage of referring matters upon which a difference of opinion has arisen in the High Court to a Full Bench adverted to BUDDHA SIN LALU SINOH (1915)
 20 C. W. N. 1

GAS COMPANY—contd

tract Dixon v Bell 5 M & S 193 Thomas v Winchester 6 V 1 409 and Parry v Smith 1 C P D 325 referred to Held further that initial negligence having been found against the Gas Company they were liable unless they proved that the proximate cause of the accident was the conscious act of another person DOMINION NATURAL GAS CO LD v JAMES H COLLINS (1909) 14 C W N 158

GAYAWAL

Whether gaddi of Gayawal is an office or business and inheritable—Imposition per use of gaddidar a name—Injunction Whether the occupant of the gaddi of the Gayawal has an hereditary office or not he has a business and that business is properly capable of being inherited on his death Where a person has been using the name of the occupant of the gaddi of a Gayawal with the express object of benefiting himself at the latter's expense the court will restrain by injunction repetition of such improper using of the plaintiff's name LACHMAN LAL PATNAK v BALDEO LAL SRATHWARI (1917) 2 Pat L J 705

GENERAL ACCOUNT

See PARTNERSHIP I L R 34 Mad. 112

GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (I OF 1868)

s 2 (1)—

See PLEADER I L R 44 Calc 290

s 3—

See HABEAS CORPUS
I L R. 44 Calc 459

GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (X OF 1897)

application of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII r 1
I L R 41 Mad. 624

s 3 (25)—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Sch I Art 120 etc 2 Pat L J 522

See PUNJAB PRE-EMPTION ACT

I L P 1 Lab 567

Provincial Small

*Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) Sch II, Art 13—Court of Small Causes—Jurisdiction—Ferry—Immovable property—Suit to recover tolls alleged to be due to plaintiff as lessee of a ferry Held that the right to a ferry is a benefit which arises out of land and comes within the definition of immovable property under s 3 (2) of the General Clauses Act, 1897 and a suit by a lessee of a ferry to levy a toll alleged to be recoverable by him as such lessee falls under Art 13 of the second Schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act and is therefore not cognizable by that Court Gola v Land v Lal (1894) 21 Punj Rec 1897 Case No 45 10 and Dem Singh v Gaurain Das Punj Rec 1898 Case No 50 p 33 approved. ABDEL KHALIF KHAN v BABU LAL (1913)*

I L R 35 All 153

Benefits arising out of able property GILAM MOHAMED

I L R 36 Calc 665

GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (X OF 1897)—contd

s 3 (25)—contd

See PROFITS & PRINDRE

2 Pat L J 323

a company is a person and can therefore sue through its Liquidator in former papers

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXIII I L R 41 Mad 624

s 3 cl (52)—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1852) s 50 I L R 41 Bom 384

s 6—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 39 Calc. 506

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 40 Calc. 704

1 Pat L J 214

See HUSBAND AND WIFE

I L R 37 Bom. 393

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT ss 83 89 I L R 34 All 72

s 6 (c) and (e)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXI r 93

I L R 40 Mad. 1000

Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 6 Sch I Art 166—Sale of minor judgment debtor's property before 1909—Minor's right to apply to set aside sale on attaining majority The right which accrues to a minor judgment debtor under Art 14 of 1877 to apply to set aside a sale which took place before the Limitation Act of 1908 came into force upon attaining majority is not taken away by the coming into operation of that Act, that being a privilege which has been preserved by s 6 cl (c) of the General Clauses Act FAZL KAHIM v ANVADA MOHAMMAD KHAN (1911) 15 C W N 835

ss 6 7—

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Calc 459

ss 9 and 10—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT ss 4, AND 40 I L R 42 Mad 13

s 10—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—

s 4 I L R 41 All 4

s 31 I L R 34 All 375

I L P 36 Bom. 268

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT

I L R 42 Mad. 310

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 2—Decree—Payment of money ordered in a decree—Payment ordered on a fixed date—Delay in making payment into Court owing to closing of Court—Payment on the opening day—Interim. A decree provided as follows: The plaintiff should pay by the 10th day of April 1909 to the defendant Rs 100 If the moneys are not paid by the plaintiff as aforesaid upon the property in dispute will remain with the defendants by right of ownership and the plaintiff will have

GHATWALI TENURE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

1 L R 40 Calc 173

See BENIADI PATTI 6 Pat L J 687

See LIMITATION ACT SON 1 ART 144

2 Pat L J 506

GHATWALI TENURE—contd

That where the tenure in question was created by a document the terms on which the land is held its alienability and its liability to forfeiture must depend on the terms of the particular grant and not on the terms of grants that may have been made to others BHAGWAT BAKSH RAY v SINDU PRASAD SAHU (1913) 18 C W N 297

Attachment—Receiver appointment of—Execution of decree On an application for execution of a decree although an order directing attachment of a ghatwali estate may be erroneous an order appointing a Receiver to receive the rents and profits of such estate is sanctioned by authority Uday Kumari Ghatwalia v Hari Ram Shaha 1 L R 28 Calc 483 referred to KESOBATI v MOHAN CHANDRA MANDAL (1912)

1 L R 39 Calc 1010

Suit for possession—Court fee—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s 7 cl 1

sub cls (a) (c) (d) Where a suit had been brought for recovery of possession of the Ghatwali lands of Rohini and Court fees had been paid under sub cl (a) of cl v of s 7 of the Court Fees Act on ten times the revenue alleged to be payable and the Court below held that sub cl (c) was applicable and the value of the subject matter should be deemed to be fifteen times the net profits Held that the Ghatwali lands formed part of the estate of the zemindar of Birbhum and the contention that sub cl (c) was applicable could not be supported Kustura Kumari v Monohor Deo (1864) W R 39 Raja Lalanand v The Government of Bengal 6 Moo I 4 101 Moonranyan v Raja Lalanand 3 W R 84 Raja Leelanand v Moonranyan 5 W R 101 Lalanand Singh v Moonranyan 13 B L R 124 Lalanand v Moonranyan 1 L R 3 Calc 251 referred to Held also that sub cl (d) was applicable as the land in suit formed part of an estate paying revenue to Government but did not constitute a definite share of such estate nor was it separately assessed with revenue Consequently the value of the subject matter must be deemed to be the market value of the land CHANDRA NARAYAN SINGH v ASUTOSH DE (1914)

1 L R 41 Calc 812

Suit for resumption of land by proprietor—Jaagir two kinds of—Not necessarily conditional and unalienable—Tenure created by document—evidence necessary to prove incidents of—Fact of descent of land from father to son for a long time inference to be drawn from—Facts necessary to be proved even if grant originally made subject to performance of service—Imitation—Fact of service being incapable of being enforced effect of on service tenure The plaintiff brought a suit for the possession of two mouzabs within his zemindari against the defendants who were in possession having acquired them by a series of purchases from the persons who previously held them under the plaintiff. The plaintiff's case was that the mouzabs in question were a jaagir conditional on the performance of Ghatwali services and as such were unalienable and the original holders having alienated them the plaintiff was entitled to resume possession. Held on the evidence that the plaintiff had failed to prove that the land was held on a service tenure whether Ghatwali or otherwise. That a jaagir is not necessarily conditional it may be unconditional and the mere fact that a tenure is described as a jaagir by no means conclusively and its incidents must be determined from other circumstances.

Liability to sale for arrears of rent The contention that no ghatwali tenure is liable to be sold in execution of a decree is not a sound contention. Kharagpur ghatwali lands are liable to be sold in execution of a decree for rent. Where a ghatwali is liable to render service to the Deputy Commissioner of the Santal Parganas and derives his appointment from the Deputy Commissioner his land can be sold only with the consent of the Deputy Commissioner. When a ghatwali is appointed by a local Raja and is not shown to be liable to render service to any body but such Raja his ghatwali lands may be sold by the Raja. The only ghatwalis over whom the Deputy Commissioner of the Santal Parganas has jurisdiction are those who are subject to the provisions of the Beogal Ghatwali Lands Regulation (XXIX of 1814). The Deputy Commissioner has power to put up for sale for arrears of revenue the lands of ghatwalis subject to Regulation XXIX of 1814. LAKSHMI NARAIN MANTO v SATTU NARAIN CHAKRVERZITY (1916) 1 Pat L J 197

Where the right to nominate the ghatwali rests with the Government a ghatwali tenure is not saleable in execution of a decree for arrears of rent. MIDNAPUR ZAMINDARI CO LTD v AJAMBAR SINGH MURTA (1916) 1 Pat L J 601

Ghatwali land tenants of—Acquisition of right of occupancy—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1835) s 181—Act X of 1859 s 6 and Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869 s 6 Tenants in occupation of ghatwali land could acquire occupancy right thereon under s 6 of Act X of 1859 and s 6 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869 and such right acquired between 1859 and 1885 has not been taken away by s 181 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. SITIKANTA POY v BIPRA DAS CHAKRAN (1918)

22 C W N 763

Mode of succession—Incidents of tenure—Rights of male members of family other than the actual Ghatwalis The result of the decisions of the Privy Council as to the nature of the Ghatwali tenure is that it is ordinarily hereditary the estate descending to such male member of the family as the zemindar appoints as competent and that it is the right of the family so long as they have male members competent to perform the duties to have one or more of them appointed Ghatwalis. The incidents of the Ghatwali tenure in this case are not such as to give the family any rights over the property while it is in the hands of the Ghatwali on which point their Lordships are in full agreement with the Courts in India. If the scheme of the pottah was to preserve family rights there would still be no reason for holding that they extended so as to give any beneficiary interest in the mouzabs to the male members of the family other than the actual grantee. Adman Singh v Eikanath Singh 1 L R 9 Calc 187. L P 9 I A 104 and Kalyan Pershad Singh v Anand Roy 1 L R 15 Calc 491

GHATWALI TENURE—contd

L. R. 15 I A 18 referred to DURGHA PRASAD SINGH v. TRIBHUVAN SINGH (1918)

I L R. 48 Calc. 362

L. R. 45 I A. 231

GHEE.See ADULTERATION

I L R. 39 Calc. 682

*Adulteration—Chemical tests for the determination of the purity of ghee—Corporation standard—Value of the same—Necessity of testing the value of each standard by evidence in each case—Calcutta Municipal Act (Leng III of 1899) s 495A (1)—the same Act (Leng I of 1911) s 495A (1)—There is no standard of purity of ghee fixed by the Indian Legislature and the Courts of Law have, therefore, to decide the question of adulteration upon such evidence as is available in each case. As there is no statutory presumption every case must depend on its own evidence. The High Court was strongly of opinion that a statutory standard should be laid down as raising a presumption of adulteration and that such cases should not be made to depend on evidence forthcoming in each case to test the value of the Corporation standard. The Court should determine whether the Corporation standard ought to be acted upon or not but the Court ought not to fix a standard of its own. On the evidence the Court did not accept the P. H. figure arrived at by the Corporation as by itself raising a presumption of adulteration on account of the limited number of its expert's experiments and the fact that sufficient allowance had not been made for climatic conditions, nature of soil, period of lactation, breed, stabling and local conditions nor for the temperature of manufacture but considered the Corporation B. R. and Saponification figures to be fair. Where the two samples of ghee in respect of which the accused was convicted gave the following figures: K. W. 266 and A. J. B. R. 44 and 45 and Saponification 222 and 220 and showed colour under Wellman's test the Court held that the ghee was adulterated. GRANDE VENKATTA RAYAN v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1920)*

I L R. 47 Calc. 633

22 C W N 745

GHEE ADULTERATION ACT (Ben I of 1919)

(1) B. C. of 1917

s 2 (2)—*Calcutta Municipal Act (III B C of 1899) s 495A sub s (1)—hale of adulterated ghee—Standard raising presumption as to adulterated nature of ghee. The Ghee Adulteration Act does not lay down a standard raising a presumption that ghee not satisfying the standard is not genuine and in the absence of such statutory presumption every case must depend upon its own evidence. Where it was found that the ghee sold by the accused contained a percentage of foreign fat. Held that it was adulterated with the meaning of sub cl 2 of s 2. *GRANDE VENKATTA RAYAN v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA

24 C W N 388

GIFT—contd

See CONTRACT ACT s 10

I L R 38 Bom 37

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 45 Bom 105

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 33 All 253

See HINDU LAW—GIFT

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 45 Calc 733

I L R 42 Bom. 69

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 34 Bom 165

I L R 32 All 176

I L R 37 Calc 1

I L R 39 All 520

See JOINT TENANCY

I L R 34 Mad 80

See LIMITATION L R 46 I A 285

See LIS PENDENS I L R 41 All 534

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 38 Mad 79

See NAKINS I L R 37 Bom 118

See REGISTRATION I L R 35 All 3

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)—

ss 193 120 I L R 38 All 212

ss 55 123 I L R 34 Bom 237

See TRUSTS ACT s 5

I L R 38 Bom 396

See WILL

I L R 43 Bom 88

I L R 45 Bom 711

absolute to son—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 40 Calc 274

actionable claims—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

ss 3 8 I L R 44 Mad. 186

alter unauthorised occupation—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s 123 I L R 45 Bom. 164

alteration of deed of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT IV OF 1882 s 123 I L R 44 Bom 231

by adoptee—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 35 Bom 169

by husband to wife—

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 38 Mad 79

by karta—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

I L R 40 All 159

by Hindu widow—

See HINDU LAW—GIFT

I L R 37 Calc 1

I L R 45 Bom 105

GIFT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 13

44 (b) I L P 35 Bom 297

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

I L R 33 All 665

GIFT—contd

- by Mahomedan widow—
See WASTE I L P 44 Bom 727
- by widow and next reversioner—
See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 488
- Mortgage on half gifted land—Effect of—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT I L R 45 Bom 1296
- for religious purpose—
See HINDU LAW—GIFT I L R 42 Bom 136
- of land, by co parcer—
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION I L R 39 Mad 587
- of land to a stranger—
See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION) I L R 2 Lah 284
- revocation of—
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST I L R 34 Bom 604
See ADOPTION I L R 35 Bom 189
- substantially to charity—
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF I L R 44 I A 21
- to a class—
See HINDU LAW—WILL I L R 38 Calc 188
I L R 41 Calc 1007
- to Brahmins—
See HINDU LAW—GIFT I L R 44 Bom 304
- to daughter—
See CUSTOM I L R 39 Calc 418
See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER I L R 44 Bom 255
- to future wife—
See HINDU LAW—WILL I L R 39 Calc 87
- to wife for life with directions to appoint—See WILL I L R 45 Bom 711
- to illegitimate son—
See HINDU LAW—GIFT I L R 39 Mad 1029
- to unborn person validity of—
See HINDU LAW—GIFT I L R 40 Mad 818
- to wife and children or children alone—
See MALAPAR LAW I L R 39 Mad 317
- validity of—
See OCCUPANCY HOLDING I L R 45 Calc 434
See PERS JUDICATA I L R 48 Calc 499

GIFT—contd

- with obligation—
See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 69 I L R 42 Bom 93
- Gift burdened with an obligation—
Alienation by donee—Restrictions on alienation
When it is doubtful whether a deed embodies a complete dedication to a religious trust or merely creates a gift of that property subject to an obligation to perform certain services the question should be decided by reference to the deed itself. In the former case the property would be inalienable and in the latter alienable subject to the obligation and notwithstanding restrictions as to selling or mortgaging the said property. DASSA RAMCHANDRA & NARSINGHA I L R 35 Bom 156
- Purdanashun illiterate donor—
Fiduciary relationship—Cancellation—Independent and competent advice—Duty of solicitor—Power of revocation—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 126—Costs
Where an old illiterate purdanashin woman executes an improvident deed of gift in favour of a person standing towards her in a fiduciary capacity the onus lies on the donee to establish not only that the donor understood the transaction but that she was in a position to exercise a free and unfettered judgment that the intention to give was her own voluntary act and that she had independent and competent advice. HUGHES & BASELEY 14 Feb 273 Hall v Hall L R 8 Ch App 430 followed. KANAI LALL JOSEPH & KAMINI DEBI 1 B L P 31 (note) LYON & HOME L R 6 Eq 655 referred to. It is the duty of a solicitor who acts as the sole solicitor in such a transaction to try and protect the lady against herself and to make all proper enquiries. A solicitor does not discharge his duty by satisfying himself simply that the donor understands and wishes to carry out the particular transaction. He must also satisfy himself that the gift is one that it is right and proper for the donor to make under all the circumstances and if he is not so satisfied it is his duty to advise his client not to go on with the transaction and to refuse to act further if the client persists. POWELL & POWELL [1900] 1 Ch 243 BRIGHT & CARTER [1903] 1 Ch 27 followed. COOMBER & COOMBER [1911] 1 Ch 273 distinguished. In considering the validity of a deed of gift the absence of a power of revocation is of importance though not sufficient by itself to show that the gift is invalid. HALL & HALL I R 8 Ch App 430 referred to. KAMINI DASSEE & KUNJUNA CHANDRA MUKERJEE (1912) I L R 39 Calc 933
- Death of donor before registration of deed—
Registration by donee without consent of donor's legal representatives—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 173—Registration Act (III of 1877) effect of A deed of gift registered by the donee after the death of the donor without the consent of the legal representatives of the donor is valid. There is nothing in s 123 of the Transfer of Property Act which requires the donor to have the deed registered all that is required is that he should have executed the deed. Once such an instrument is duly executed the Registration Act allows it to be registered even though the donor may not agree to its registration and upon registration the gift takes effect from the date of execution. RAMASWATHA

GOVERNMENT—contd

forfeiture by—

See FORFEITURE I L R 36 Bom 539

jodi payable to—

See INAMDAR I L R 40 Mad 93

liability of—

See PENSIONS ACT (XIII OF 1871)

ss 4 5 6 I L R 37 All 338

loss to—

See ACTIO PERSONALIS MORITUR CUM

PERSONA I L P 35 Bom 12

order of—

See HALEAS CORPUS

I L R 39 Calc 164

right of to assess Revenue—

See ASSESSMENT I L R 43 Calc 973

right of to streets drains etc—

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad 6

share of—

See LAND ACQUISITION—COMPENSATION

I L R 40 Calc 64

suit against—

See ARKARI ACT (BOM ACT V OF 1878)

ss 32 67 I L R 37 Bom 101

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT VII OF

1882) s 424 I L R 35 Bom 42

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF

1903) s 80 I L R 40 Bom 392

ultra vires order of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1903) Sch

I ACT 14 I L R 39 Bom 494

GOVERNMENT CIRCULAR

effect of—

See CRIMINAL PEVISIONAL JURISDICTION

I L R 40 Calc 41

GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT

Government department discretion vested in by Statute of arbitrary and uncontrolled—Colourable exercise amounting to refusal—Court's power to interfere The plaintiff an employee in the Public Service of the State of New South Wales on his retirement in 1905 became entitled under s 4 of the Public Superannuation Act of 1903 to a gratuity not exceeding one month's pay for each year of service from the date of his permanent employment the gratuity to be calculated on the average of his salary during the whole term of his employment and to be payable in the case of retirement after the commencement of the Public Service Act of 1902 only in respect of service prior to such commencement. The Public Service Board awarded him a gratuity based on the average of his salary reckoning his service however up to a certain date in 1895 Plaintiff having asked his service to be reckoned up to the date of the commencement of the Public Service Act in 1902 he was first informed that in respect of that claim no further sum could be paid but subsequently the Board allowed him one penny for each year of service subsequent to the said date in 1895 No fault was thereby admittedly intended to be found with the manner in which the plaintiff had discharged his duties when in service Held that the discretion which the Government purported to exercise (through the Public Service Board) was not an arbitrary uncontrolled discretion but a discretion to be exercised reasonably fairly and justly An illusory award such as this—an award intended to be unreal and unsubstantial—though made under guise of exercising discretion is at best a colourable performance and tantamount to a refusal by the Board to exercise the discretion entrusted to them by Parliament WILLIAMS & GIBBY (1911)

GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT—contd

15 C W N 869

"GOVERNMENT ESTABLISHED BY LAW IN BRITISH INDIA"

See PRESS ACT 1910 s 4

I L R 42 All 233

GOVERNMENT IRRIGATION SOURCE

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT s 2

I L R 34 Mad 366

GOVERNMENT LAND

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)

I L R 34 Bom 618

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) ss 6 SUBS (6) 8

I L R 39 Mad 944

GOVERNMENT NOTIFICATION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF

1897) s 59 I L R 36 Bom 617

GOVERNMENT OFFICER

suit against—

See BOMBAY COURT OF WARDS ACT (BOM

ACT I OF 1905) s 3 (c)

I L R 37 Bom 313

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT 1833 (3 and 4 William IV c 85)

s 39 45 46 and 51—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT

3 Pat L J 537

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT 1858 (21 & 22 VICT c 106)

s 39 42 55—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Calc 754

s 64—

See JUDGE TO APPEAL TO JUDY COUNCIL

I L R 42 Calc 35

ss 65 to 67—

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT

I L R 40 Calc 391

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT 1859 (22 and 23 VICT c 41)

s 1

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Calc 754

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT 1865—(23 & 29 Vict. c. 17)

s. 4—Notification by Governor General in Council—By the Government of the Falla and Shalabad Districts—Notification by Local Government—Transfer of jurisdiction from one district to the other—Effect of—The Governor General in Council having by a Notification under the Government of India Act 1865 s. 4 declared the deep-stream of the River Chatter to be the boundary between the district of Ballia in the United Provinces and the district of Shahabad in Bihar the deep stream is the boundary between the two Provinces and determines the jurisdiction of Civil Courts situate therein. No objections by the Local Government issued for general information that in consequence of a change in the course of the deep-stream certain villages have been transferred from one Province to the other do not affect the matter. MAHARAJA HESHO PRASAD SINGH v. NIRMAL KUMAR

5 Pat L J 451

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT 1915 (5 and 6 Geo V c 61)

ss 65 and 72 and Amendment Act 1916 (6 and 7 Geo V) s 2—

See GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL
I L R. 1 Lah. 326

s 72—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915 ss 1 to 11
3 Pat L J 637

ss. 106 107—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915 ss 1 to 11
3 Pat L J 637

See INCOME TAX ACT 1916 c 61
I L R. 44 Mad. 718

See PRESS ACT (I of 1910) s 3 (1) PROVISION
I L R 39 Mad. 1164

s. 107—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
I L R. 46 Calc. 622

s 107 ss 71 and 217—

See CHOTA NAOPUR TENANCY ACT 1909 s 71
3 Pat L J 143

See CONTEMPT OF COURT
I L R. 42 All. 26

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI R 60
2 Pat L J 130

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898 s 103
4 Pat L J 609

s 14
24 C W N 66

I L R 40 All. 364

I L R 41 All. 302

I L R 30 All. 612

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT
4 Pat L J 277

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
I L R 46 Calc. 622

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1891) ss 3 AND 18
I L R 42 Mad. 231

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT 1879 s 14
1 Pat L J 676

See LETTERS PATENT
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT 1887 c 23
I Pat L J 465

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT 1915 (5 and 6 Geo V c 61)—contd

s 107 ss 71 and 217—contd

See RECEIVED
4 Pat L J 20

See REVISION
I L R 47 Calc. 436

See RETRIAL
3 Pat L J 632

See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT
2 Pat L J 682

On a difference of opinion between two Judges exercising revisional powers the decision of the Senior Judge prevails. MOHAMMAD ROWAH v. MIRZAN SARDAR

24 C W N 97

Superintendence High Court's powers of—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act I of 1898) s 114 In exercise of its power of superintendence the High Court will interfere with an order under s 14 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 where the Magistrate has acted without jurisdiction or has exceeded his jurisdiction. It will not interfere merely because there has been an irregularity in the proceedings or an erroneous decision on a question of fact or law but it can and will interfere when there has been a material irregularity which amounts to a refusal to exercise or an usurpation of jurisdiction or which has prejudiced a party to the proceedings. It is not always incumbent upon the Magistrate to give effect to a recent decision or proceeding of a Civil or Criminal Court. No hard and fast rule can be laid down on this matter. PARMESHWAR SINGH v. KAILASHPATI

1 Pat L J 336

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS IN BOMBAY

See RESUMPTION
I L R 39 Bom. 279

GOVERNMENT ORDERS

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CEAS ACT (VII of 1895) s 1
I L R 36 Mad. 997

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA
I L R 36 Mad. 761

GOVERNMENT PROCLAMATIONS

See SALE OF GOODS
I L R 40 Bom. 11

GOVERNMENT RESOLUTION

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I of 1898) ss 107 210 215
I L R 42 Bom. 172

GOVERNMENT REVENUE

See BARUANA GRANT
16 C W N 42 129

assignment of—

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III of 1901) ss 51 52 AND 90
I L R 33 All. 556

GOVERNMENT SALE

See WASTE LANDS
L R 43 I A 306

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

See SECURITIES
See F Act
25 C W N 875

GOVERNMENT SERVANTS

Conduct Rule for—

See HINDU LAW I L R 40 Bom 126

Acquitted at Criminal trial dismissed without opportunity to defend him self—Notification of dismissal in Gazette—Suit for declaratory that dismissal without good grounds and in contravention of Government rules and that notification illegal if lies—Suit against Crown by dismissed servants for wrongful dismissal or libel if lies—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42 Where plaintiff who held a ministerial post in the Burdwan Collectorate having been tried under ss 118 161 and 466 of the Penal Code and acquitted was dismissed by the Collector who based his conclusion not only on the materials on the record of the criminal trial but also on matters outside the record and this was followed by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette to the effect that R H having been dismissed from Government service is debarred from re employment in any capacity under Government Held that since a servant of the Crown is liable to dismissal without cause assigned the plaintiff was not entitled to sue in a Civil Court for a declaration that there were no good grounds for dismissing him Vara v Secretary of State I L R 33 Cal 669 King v Secretary of State 13 O L J 357 s r 150 W N 436n Cursetji v Secretary of State I L R 27 Bom 187 relied on That he was not entitled to a declaration that his dismissal was in contravention of the rules framed by Government because such a relief does not come within the scope of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act any claim for consequential relief in respect thereof against Government not being maintainable Drobnik Koer v Kedar Nath I L R 39 Cal 704 s r 16 C W N 833 relied on That as the Crown could not be sued for libel the plaintiff was not entitled to a declaration that his dismissal should not have been notified assuming that the notification affected his reputation That Government is within its rights in notifying the dismissal of a servant and forbidding his re employment Per MOOREJEE J—Under Government rules plaintiff was entitled to be heard in defence before his dismissal RAM DAS HAZRA v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

18 C W N 106

GOVERNMENT SOLICITOR

See Costs I L R 40 Bom 588

GOVERNMENT TENURES

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF PAYMENT I L R 39 Cal 981

GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL

See GOVERNMENT

powers of—

See HABEAS CORPUS I L R 44 Cal 459

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY I L R 37 Cal 467

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL I L R 42 Cal 35

power of, to make Regulations—

See ELECTION I L R 41 Cal 384

sanction by—

See UNIVERSITY INCORPORATION I L R 41 Cal 518

GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL—contd

Power of—Emergency

Legislation to deal with rioting and acts committed in open rebellion—suppression of ordinary Criminal Courts—Martial Law—Ordinances I and IV of 1919 sitting up Commissions for trial of offences—Legislation affecting laws on which depend the allegiance of subjects of the Crown—Government of India Act 1915 (5 and 6 Geo V, c 81) s 65 sub s (2) and (3) and s 72—Government of India (Amendment) Act 1916 (6 and 7 Geo V) s 2—Competency of Commissions appointed by Local Government to try offences—Laws in part repugnant not wholly void The question in this appeal is as to the competency of the Commissions appointed under the Martial Law Ordinance of 1919 to try the appellants for offences committed in rioting and acts of open rebellion The rioting during which the offences were committed broke out into open rebellion at Amritsar on 10th April 1919 The appellant Bugga was arrested on 12th April and the other appellants on subsequent dates none of them was taken in arms or in the act of committing the offences alleged against them On 13th April the Governor-General in Council acting under the Bengal State Offences Regulation (X of 1804) which was extended to the Punjab by the Punjab Laws Act 1872 made an order whereby he suspended the functions of the ordinary Criminal Courts within the districts of Lahore and Amritsar (and subsequently in Gujranwala and Gujrat) as regards the trial of persons for offences such as the appellants were charged with and established Martial Law within the districts and by the same order he directed the immediate trial by Court Martial of all such persons On 14th April the Governor-General in Council acting under s 72 of the Government of India Act 1915 made and promulgated the Martial Law Ordinances of 1919 whereby it was provided that every trial in the districts of Lahore and Amritsar (and the other districts) held under the Bengal State Offences Regulation 1804 instead of being tried by Court Martial should be held by a Commission of three persons appointed by the Local Government s 7 of Ordinance I of 1919 enacted that save as provided by s 6 the provisions of the Ordinance shall apply to all persons referred to in the Regulation who are charged with any of the offences therein described committed on or after the 13th April 1919 By Ordinance II of 1919 made on 21st April the Commissions were empowered to try any person charged with offences committed after March 30th 1919 s 65 of the Government of India Act 1915 while giving the Governor-General in Council a general power to make laws for British India enacted by sub s (2) that he should not be able to make any law affecting the authority of Parliament or any part of the unwritten law or constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland wherein may depend in any degree the allegiance of any person to the Crown of the United Kingdom or affecting the sovereignty or dominion of the Crown over any part of British India and by sub s (3) enacted that he should have no power without the previous approval of the Secretary of State in Council to make any law empowering any Court other than a High Court to sentence to the punishment of death any of His Majesty's subjects born in Europe or the children of such subjects or abolishing any Court By a 22 the Governor-General in cases of emergency was empowered to make Ordinances for the peace and

GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL—contd.

pool government of India India which are to have for not more than six months, the same force of law as Acts passed under s. (1) the power being subject to the restrictions in that section. The appellant natives of India were at the trial charged with offence under the Penal Code and some of them were sentenced to death. Held that Ordinance IV could not be construed as intended only to extend the operation of Ordinance I to offences committed before 13th April 1901 but earlier than the 30th March and therefore did not apply only (like Ordinance I) to persons taken in the act of committing one of the offences specified in Regulation V of 1901. It was clearly stated in the recital introducing the Ordinance that its operation was not confined to the persons and offences described in the earlier Ordinance. Held also that Ordinance IV was not invalid by reason of sub-s. (2) of s. (1) of the Government of India Act, 1915 as affecting the unwritten laws or constitution on which depended the allegiance of His Majesty's subjects in India. That sub-section did not prevent the Indian Government from passing a law which may modify or affect a rule of the constitution or of the Common Law upon the observance of which some persons may conceive that his allegiance depends. It refers only to laws which directly affect the allegiance of the subject to the Crown as by a transfer or qualification of the allegiance or a modification of the obligations thereby imposed. Held further that Ordinance IV was not invalidated by sub-s. (3) of s. 1 of the Government of India Act 1915 as infringing the provision which prevents the Governor General in Council from empowering any Court other than a High Court to sentence to death any of His Majesty's subjects born in Europe for s. 2 of the Government of India Amendment Act 1916 which at the end of s. 84 of the Act of 1915 has added a clause which enacts that "a law made by any authority in British India and repugnant to any provision of this or any other Act of Parliament shall to the extent of that repugnance but not otherwise be void." If Ordinance IV therefore contravened s. 6, sub-s. (3) and was repugnant to that section so far as British born subjects are concerned it is void only to the extent of that repugnance. HUGO & KING EMPLOYERS I L R 1 Lab 326

"POOWNA" CEREMONY

— gift at—

See HINDU LAW—C 187

I L R 37 Calc 1

GRACE, DAYS OF

— for payment of rent—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 39 Mad 834

GRAMOPADHYA

See VATANDAR JOSHI

I L R 40 Bom 112

GRANT

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879
ss 68 AND 79

I L R 45 Bom 820

ss 69 AND 214

I L R 39 Bom 815

GRANT—contd

See TOMRAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT
(BOMBAY ACT III OF 1874) s 10

I L R 44 Bom 237

See CUSTOM I L R 45 Calc 835

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT s 2 EXPL (b)

I L R 38 Bom 151

See GRANT BY CROWN

See ISHAM I L R 42 Mad 873

See FISHERY I L R 42 Calc 489

See HINDU LAW ADOPTION

I L R 43 Bom 778

See JAGIR I L R 46 Calc 885

See ITIMAN I L R 47 Calc 878

See MINERAL RIGHTS

I L R 42 Calc 348

I L R 47 Calc 95

See SARANJAM I L R 41 Bom 408

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF
1932) s 10

I L R 38 Mad 867

See WRITTI I L R 37 Bom 409

— as ISHAM—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 38 Mad 155

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF
1909) s 8

I L R 38 Mad 891

I L R 41 Mad 1012

s 6

I L R 58 Mad 494

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CEES ACT

I L R 40 Mad 888

— by CROWN—

See FISHERY I L R 42 Calc 489

— conflicting descriptions of—

See LEASE I L R 37 Calc 293

— doctrine of—

See LEASE I L R 36 ALL 387

— of melvaram—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF
1908) s 8

I L R 38 Mad 891

— to wife and minor son—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 10

I L R 38 Mad 867

— whether on political tenure—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
1876 s 12

I L R 45 Bom 463

— Maintenance Grant—Limitation— Tenancy by sufferance—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 13—Grantor and Grantee—Adverse possession. A tenancy by sufferance would not by itself make the possession of the holder rightful so as to prevent limitation from running but if the landlord or the person entitled to resume the tenancy does anything to indicate his assent to the continuance of the tenancy that would itself be sufficient to convert the tenancy by suffer ance into a year and in such a case the that provided by Article 139 of the to the Limit ation Act (RAM SHIKHAMBAR
SINGH (1910) 37 Calc. 874

GRANT—contd

Grant of occupancy by Government under a kabuliyat—Condition as to resumption for Government purposes that is, for Railway and other purposes—Sale by Government—Construction of the condition—Government full proprietors Under a kabuliyat the occupancy of certain land had been granted to the plaintiff by the Collector subject only to the condition that it should be competent to Government to resume the land whenever it should be required by Government for Government purposes that is for Railway or other purposes. Afterwards the land was resumed and was sold to defendant 2 (from whose grandfather it was originally acquired for a Railway). The plaintiff thereupon brought the present suit against the Secretary of State for India in Council and defendant 2 for the recovery of the land on the ground that the sale to defendant 2 was not for Government purposes. Held dismissing the suit that Government were the proprietors of the land and as such they could resume it whenever they required it for their proprietary purposes. Government purposes must be construed as meaning that they were purposes of Government as the State proprietor purposes which Government alone were entitled to prescribe in the exercise of their discretionary powers. SARUNO SANSURTHI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912)

I L R 38 Bom 438

Ektarnama—Lease or License—Construction—Practice Where a grant involved a transfer of an interest in immovable property the grantees were in the position of tenants if it did not they were at least in the position of licensees. Where in an ektarnama there were clauses by which the grantors reserved to themselves certain rights for limited purposes but which properly construed gave the grantees exclusive possession of the property the grant amounted to a lease. To give exclusive possession there need not be express words it is sufficient if the nature of the acts to be done by the grantee requires that he should have exclusive possession. Roads v The Overseers of Trumpington L R 6 Q B 56 referred to. Distinction between a license and a lease lies in the fact that in the case of license there is no transfer of interest in land whereas in the case of a lease there is transfer of such interest. Upon the construction of the instrument as a whole. Held that the paramount intention of the parties was to create a present demise and that the grantee was in the position of a tenant. Mohrpal Singh v LALJI BHOW (1911)

17 C W N 166

Conduct of parties—Reliance on or ascertaining intention of grantor. Held that reliance could not be placed on the conduct of the parties to ascertain the intention of the grantor except in the case of ancient grants where the terms are ambiguous. CHRISTIAN v PRAKASH NARAYANA HOERI (1911)

13 C W N 796

Water cess—Madras Water cess Act (11 of 1860)—Free grant of water before 17th to impose water cess thereafter. If for some time or times or other or even for no consideration a grant was before the passing of Madras Water Cess Act (11 of 1860) made by the Government of a part of the quantity of water or a certain definite share of the water of a tank to a person irrespective of the use he might make of it the grant is in law a free grant and the Government is not entitled to any kind of payment thereafter for the water under Madras Act VII of 1865. Maru Swami Mudaliar v The Secretary of State for India L R 1 J 350 followed. Secretary of State for India v Swami Narayanaswami I J R 31 Mad 21 distinguished. VENKATASUBBIAH v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912)

GRANT—contd

I L R 38 Mad 424

Grant for Barki service—Presumption of grant—Non production of grant—Presumption as to right to resume cannot be made—Right of resumption must be proved. In the Bombay Presidency where Deshgat Vatan lands are granted for the performance of personal services no presumption can be made that the grantor has the option to determine the services and to resume the lands. If a grantor takes up that position and claims that as his right he must show either that the terms of the grant give him that right or if the terms of the grant are unknown, that the proved circumstances justify an inference that he has that right. YELLAVA SAKRETHA v BHIMARPA GIREPPA (1914)

I L R 39 Bom 63

Grant of land "besides poramboke"—Construction of—Padugai lands in Trinopoly and Tanjore taluks ownership of Padugai meaning of. A grant of land by the Government acknowledging the grantee's title to a whole village consisting of certain specified areas besides poramboke gives the grantee a right to all the unassessed waste in the village such as waste or padugai land, i.e. land between a river bed and the high flood bank of the river though it may not operate to give communal property such as burying grounds, temples etc. to the grantee. Narayanasami v Kannappa Second Appeal No 1415 of 1910 and Secretary of State v Kannappa Venkataratnammah 23 Mad L J 197 referred to. Padugai land in Trinopoly and Tanjore taluks mean land on the lower level bank breadth of the river between the edge of the sandy stream bed and the high flood level bank. DADASIVA ARYAN J.—The grant of poramboke does not operate to give the grantee the bed of the river. Meaning of the word Poramboke considered. SECRETARY OF STATE v RACHUTATTA TATHACHARIAN (1912)

I L R 38 Mad 108

Custom of primogeniture—Grant by the Maharaja of Chota Nagpur—Imparibility of the estate—Proof of custom on is of—Lex loci customi of Chota Nagpur—Meaning of putra putrahi. Certain grants of jagirs by the Maharaja of Chota Nagpur to a person related to him or to his descendants dating from 1709 to 1785 were in terms to the grantee and his sons and grandsons (putra putrahi). The family of the grantee lived for several generations interpreted the words putra putrahi in the literal sense namely to mean son and son's son. Held that at the time of these grants the words had not acquired in Chota Nagpur the technical meaning which according to the Privy Council in Lalit Moh v Chakrabarti I P 241 I 76 s.c. I L R 1 J 357 they came to have by 1869 when used in Wills executed in Bengal and the grants in this case did not convey an absolute estate unconditional and unlimited. Per ATKINSON J—That although as held by the Privy Council the words convey an absolute estate in lands descendible from generation to generation coupled with full power of alienation, those words of limitation may be controlled by custom limiting their scope and operation. Per Lush Lal v Ramnagar Nath Singh I I P 31 Cal 579 relied on. Up to 1867 the land is granted descended regularly according to the rule of primogeniture to the eldest male descendant of the eldest son when the last male descendant of that line dying leaving a widow the Maharaja proceeded to resume the property whilst two brothers the descendants of a younger son claimed to succeed to the property. The dispute terminated in two deeds one executed by the brothers agreeing that the widow should hold possession of the property as long as she lived upon payment of rent to the Maharaja and that they should take possession after her death and the other by the Maharaja purporting on receipt of consideration to release the lands to the brothers in equal shares. Held that as there was no failure of heir in the line of the grantee the Maharaja had no right to resume and the deed to the brothers was a nullity. Per CHAPMAN J—That as the younger of the brothers had the right to succeed on the death of the elder without male issue his concurrence to the deed in favour of the widow might have been taken to avoid future trouble. Per ATKINSON J—That the agreement was ineffective to alter or vary the impartible character of the property or to change its method of devolution. Per ATKINSON J—The custom of primogeniture which prevails in Chota Nagpur in the case of grants made by the Maharaja whereby the property so granted is deemed impartible and descends to the eldest male heir by lineal descent applies with greater force in the case of grants of property made between the Maharaja and his relations. Kopilaiah v Government 29 W R 17 referred to. Where a custom prevails in one branch of a family it is strong evidence to be relied on that it applies with equal force to another branch of the same family. Gurudakhya Prasad v Siprandhaya Prasad I I R 23 Ill 37 S C W 433 relied on. The custom is recognised not only as a family custom prevailing in the Maharaja's family but also as the local custom of Chota Nagpur. GAJENDRA NATH SAINI DEO v MATI LUNA NATH SAINI DEO (1916)

GRANT—contd

1 Pat L J 109
23 C W N 878

Presumption of lost grant—In absence of proof of legal title on the basis of user exercised and enjoyed. Where a Court is asked to presume a grant in favour of a party in the nature of a lost grant i.e. a lawful origin of a lawful and continuous user and enjoyment of property in the absence of legal proof of title it should presume a grant on the basis of the user exercised and enjoyed by that party. NAWAGARH COAL COMPANY Ltd v B HABILAL PRASAD (1916)

20 C W N 1135

Grant by Government—Is bounded by a non navigable river—Right of grantees to half the bed of the river on presumption as to—Onus of proving contrary on grantor. Held by the Full Bench (1) that in the case of a grant of land by Government described as bounded by a non navigable

GRANT—contd

river the presumption (which may be strong or weak according to circumstances of each case) is that the grant passes to the grantees the bed of the river of medium flum aquae and (2) that the onus of showing the contrary is on the grantor. VENKATA LAKSHMINARAYANNA v THE SECRETARY OF STATE (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 840

Grant by zamindar of Talabi Brah-mottar tenure—Antecedent to Permanent Settlement—Tenures permanent hereditary and transferable—Grantee rights of to minerals—Absence of express evidence that they formed part of the grant—Protraction of Indian litigation. A grant in India has not the special and technical meaning attached to the same word in English law. A Talabi Brah-mottar grant of a zamindar's village at a fixed rent made before the Permanent Settlement by the then Raja of Patna to the predecessors in title of the appellant although found to be a permanent hereditary and transferable tenure was held (affirming the decision of the High Court) not to carry with it the mineral rights in the soil. Minerals will not be held to have formed part of the grant in the absence of express evidence to that effect. Hari Narayan Singh Deo v Sriram Chakravarti I I P 37 Cal 723 L R 37 I A 106 and Durga Prasad Singh v Braj Nath Bori I L R 39 Cal 695 L R 39 I A 133 followed. Protraction of Indian litigation deprecated. SHASHI BUDHAN MISRA v JYOTI PRASAD SINGH DEO (1916)

I L R 41 Cal 585

Grant of land proof of—Title deeds what are—Original grant not forthcoming—Subsequent conveyances through which title derived by title deeds—Court refusing to consider them as title deeds and basing decision on conflict of parties—Error vitiating judgment—Rent question not considered—Draining channel dispute before Incompetency and private over title to—Boundary can till deeds if may be ignored and title declared up to centre line of channel—Court if may vary boundaries in title deeds. Plaintiffs who succeeded to every portion of a strip of land lying between their premises and a public road in lying a 144 or nullah which lay between the said premises and the road proved a clear title for over 50 years by a succession of duly registered conveyances mortgages and other title deeds and also proved that during that period they had leased portions of the land by leases that themselves were registered. The Judge at the trial ordinarily found in the plaintiff's favour dispossessing having taken place within 12 years of the suit. On appeal the High Court reverses that decision observing that the original grant of the land made by Government about the year 1830 to one Smith to whom plaintiff traced their title was not forthcoming and that though in the later conveyances referred to above the land appeared to have been treated as a part of the subject of the grant it was unlikely that Government would include it in their grant without a curren the continued maintenance in the public interest of a water channel which existed from time out of memory and played a conspicuous part in the drainage system of the local Municipality and that in the absence of the original grant none of the other documents referred to in the case could be regarded as being in any sense title deeds. They are accordingly insufficient to create title and more as 1916

GRANT—conid

of title made from time to time by the predecessors in interest of the plaintiffs. In this view it treated the case as though it was one in which the Court had nothing relevant before it but the conduct of the parties to decide whether the plaintiffs or the defendant Municipality were entitled to the land. Held affirming the trial Judge that it was scarcely possible to conceive of a clearer title by deeds than that which was proved by the plaintiffs and the High Court was wrong in saying that the plaintiffs had no title deeds—in consequence of which error it never considered the real question in the case. That having regard to the boundary consistently found in the deeds which was stated to be the public road it was impossible to hold that the title of the plaintiffs went up only to the centre line of the road and thus make the deeds convey lands marked out by different metes and bounds from that which there appeared. JOHN KING & CO v HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY (1914)

18 C W N 898

Resumption of grant—Deshat Volan

Grant for pious services—Resumption of grant—Grant burdened with service prima facie irresumable—Effect of office to which lands are annexed by way of remuneration prima facie resumable—Burden of proof In the Bombay Presidency where ancient grants of lands are sought to be resumed all grants of the kind for the purpose of applying the law of resumption fall into two main categories: (i) grants of lands burdened with service and (ii) grants of office to which lands are annexed by way of remuneration instead of or along with cash. The former grants are always irresumable unless the grantor can show that they have been specially conditioned so as to enable him to resume for failure to perform the service or at his own will to discontinue the service and resume lands. Grants under the second category are always resumable unless the grantee can show that they have been specially conditioned otherwise so as to prevent their resumability. CHANDRAPPA v BHIMABIN DIASAPPA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 37

Of land by owner not running with any specified plot if burden on assignees from owner—Privy Council leave to appeal to—Certificates granted in exercise of discretion requirements of—Grant or covenant—Covenant not running with the land does not bind an assignee—Grant not vesting in present but to take effect by entry at an uncertain future date offending against rule of perpetuities It is of the utmost importance that certificates of leave to appeal to the Privy Council when it is suggested that they are made in the exercise of discretion conferred should make plain upon their face that the discretion has in fact been exercised. In an agreement between the Raja of Iarcasath Hills and the Sitambari Jain Society the former stipulated that if the Society shall require any place on the hill and below thereof at Madhuban for erecting mandir and dharan and for doing repairs and making bricks for the said purpose in that case I and my heirs shall give for making mandir dharan and bricks land stones from the hill and timber free of costs and if I and my heirs refuse to give in that case the Sitambari Jain Society shall take it as same of its own power. The Sitambari Jain Society on proceeding to execute this power was resisted by the defendants who subsequently to the agreement had acquired leasehold interests in lands on which the Society sought to erect a temple. Held, that the agreement did not create in the Society any present estate or interest which would prevent the owner from making a grant to the defendants and the covenant not being one running with the land could not be enforced against the assignees from the Raja. That if the agreement were regarded as one to grant in the future whatever land might be selected as a site for a temple as the only interest created would be one to take effect by entry at a later date and as this date was uncertain the provision was bad as offending the rule against perpetuities. MAHARAJ RAJABHAI SINGH v BALCHAND CHAUDHRY (1 C)

GRANT—conold

25 C W N 770

GRANTEES

—estate of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 10 I L R 38 Mad 867

GRANTOR AND GRANTEE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 40 Calc 173

See RENT I L R 38 Calc 278

See TITLE I L R 44 Calc 771

GRATUITOUS PAYMENT

See CONTRACT ACT (IV OF 1872) s 70
I L R 40 All 555

GRAVEL

—stocking of on a military road—

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 351

GRAVEYARD

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 40 Calc 297

Trespass—Erection of a shed over a visible grave in a disused private grave yard—Penal Code (Act XXI of 1860) s 297 The erection of a shed over a visible grave belonging to the complainant's family in a disused grave yard claimed to be private property of the trespasser with the knowledge that the feelings of the complainant would be likely to be thereby wounded is an offence under s 297 of the Penal Code. Per RICHARDSON J—The word trespass in s 297 has not the same meaning as criminal trespass in s 441 of the Code but implies any violent or injurious act committed in the place and with the knowledge or intent defined in s 297. JURIAN SAIN v EMPEROR (1913)

I L R 40 Calc 548

GREAT GRANDFATHER'S SONS DAUHO TERS SON—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 43 Calc 1

GRAVEYARD HURT

See PENAL CODE

ss 100 320 I L R 40 Bom 105

ss 300 320 EXCEP 4

I L R 35 All 329

I L R 40 All 686

ss 301 320 I L R 40 All 103

I L R 42 All 302

See PROVING I L R 41 Calc 43

GROUND RENT

— exemption from to be express—

See RIGHT OF SITT

I L R 38 Mad 373

GROUNDS OF FORFEITURE

See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Cal 466

GROUNDS OF BELIEF

See AFFIDAVIT I L R 37 Cal 239

GROUNDS OF REVISION

See CRIMINAL REVISION

I L R 40 Cal 41

GROVE LAND

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)—

s 4 I L R 35 All 200

ss 4 1st I L R 39 All 605

18 AND 48 I L R 43 All 606

ss 19 AND 58 I L R 42 All 30

See LANDFORD AND TENANT

I L R 34 All 545

See MORTGAGE I L R 41 All 45

See OLDEN PRNT ACT

Mortgage and sale of a grove—Claim of mortgagors to be expropriary tenants— Sir Land which is simply grove and not agricultural land cannot be ex of the proprietor of which he could become the proprietary tenant even though it may have been recorded as ex in the village papers BHAGWAN DIX V PIARI LAL I L R 42 All 483

Customary rights of grove holder—Right to maintain grove by plantation of new trees—Wajib ul ar—Relaxation of rights recorded in the wajib ul ar to the customary law So far as decided cases (with reference to the rights of grove holders) go the tendency has been to limit the decision by the provisions of the wajib ul ar and to assume that the grove holder possesses all rights in respect of his grove which are not excluded by those provisions. For example if it is intended to debar a grove holder from his usual right to maintain his grove by planting fresh trees from time to time it is to be expected that some mention of such a curtailment of the grove holder's customary right will be found in the wajib ul ar. On suit filed by the zamindar against a grove holder for a declaration that the land in defendant's possession as a grove had ceased to be grove land and for an injunction to prevent him planting more trees thereon it was found that the grove holder had for some years been planting trees to replace trees which had fallen and thus without interference on the part of the zamindars also on a construction of the wajib ul ar that although the planting of new groves or trees without the permission of the zamindars was forbidden there was no specific provision barring the customary right of a grove holder to replace dead or fallen trees and the conclusion was that the grove holder still possessed the customary right of a grove holder to plant fresh trees C. KRE LAL V BHARI LAL I L R 42 All 694

GUARANTEE

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) ss 120 123 I L R 42 Bom. 441

— continuing—

See CONTRACT I L R 47 L A. 164

— contract of—

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY I L R 44 Cal. 978

— Letter of—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT 16 C W N 769

Contract construction of—Whether contingent or unconditional agreement—Inadmissibility of evidence of what took place after the execution of the contract on question of its construction—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 120 121 122 and 63 The question for determination in the appeal was the construction of the following instrument dated 7th August 1909 which was signed by the defendant and given to the plaintiffs as security for the repayment of the loan of Rs 1½ lakhs mentioned therein—In consideration of Rs 1½ lakhs having at my request acceded to the proposal of the Secretaries Treasurers and Agents of the Tricumbas Mills Company Limited to advance to the Mills Rs 1½ lakhs I hereby bind myself to procure a loan within two weeks of Rs 1½ lakhs on the first mortgage of the Mills block of land and to pay you thereout the said sum of Rs 1½ lakhs agreed to be advanced by you to the Mills in a suit for damages for breach of the contract contained in the letter the Courts in this case in favour of the defendant that all the expenses taken to do so to procure the lending of Rs 1½ lakhs if a first mortgage of the Mills was procured and to pay thereout Rs 1½ lakhs to the plaintiffs Held (reversing that decision) that on the true construction the document amounted to a conditional undertaking by the defendant that a loan of Rs 1½ lakhs should be procured and that out of the loan the sum of Rs 1½ lakhs should be paid to the plaintiffs Semle v. Vithaldas & Co I L R 42 All 101

GUARDIAN

See CIVIL PROCEDURE (III of 1882) s 447 I L R 44 Cal. 101

See COMPROMISE I L R 44 Cal. 101

See COSTS I L R 44 Cal. 101

See GUARDIAN AD LITEM I L R 44 Cal. 101

See GUARDIANS AND WARDENS (II of 1890)

See HINDU LAW—GURUKUL I L R 44 Cal. 101

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN I L R 44 Cal. 101

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN I L R 44 Cal. 101

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN I L R 44 Cal. 101

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN I L R 44 Cal. 101

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN I L R 44 Cal. 101

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN I L R 44 Cal. 101

GUARDIAN—contd

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIAN

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 42 Calc 351

See MINOR

alienation by—

See GUARDIAN AND WARD ACT 1890 s 7

I L R 37 Mad 33

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN

I L R 38 Mad 1125

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1908) ART

44 I L R 44 Bom 742

application by—

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF

1890) s 2; I L R 39 Bom 438

application for execution by—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) s 8

SCH II ART 179 EXPL I

I L R 34 Bom 672

appointment of—

See MINOR

I L R 41 I A 314

I L R 48 Calc 802

for marriage—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 42 Calc 351

natural, right of to manage pending appointment—

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890) s 34

I L R 40 Mad 775

powers of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR

I L R 37 Mad 514

1 ——— Hindu widow—Re marriage—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s 39—Whether a Hindu widow appointed guardian underthe Act loses her right of guardianship on re marriage—Hindu Widow's Re marriage Act (XV of 1896)s 3 A Hindu widow who has obtained a certi-ficate of guardianship in respect of the person andproperty of her infant sons does not merely onher re marriage lose her right to act as guardianof the minors GANCA PERSHAD SAHU v JHALO1011) I L R 38 Calc 802

2 ——— Appointment of Nazir as guardian of the property of the minors by Court

—*Minor—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890)ss 8 13—Applications by mother and grandmother—Purdanashin lady—Recording of Evidence Wherea mother and grandmother of two minors sepa-rately applied to be appointed guardian of thepersons and property of the minors and during thependency of their applications it was agreed that acertain person should be appointed guardian of theproperty but he refused to take up the appoint-ment the District Judge without holding an en-quiry into the respective merits of the applicationsmade an order appointing the Nazir of the Court tobe the guardian of the property of the minorsHeld that the Court had no power to make anorder appointing a guardian except on a substantiveapplication under s 8 of the Guardians and WardsAct (VIII of 1890) and that this appointment ofthe Nazir was legit under s 13 of the Guard-*GUARDIAN—contd

ians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) the Court is bound to hear such evidence as may be adduced in support of or in opposition to the application before passing an order. The mere fact of the mother being a purdanashin lady was no obstacle to her being appointed guardian of the property the safe custody of the property and its due administration could be sufficiently guaranteed by security being taken from the proposed guardian by the Court. JAIWANTI KUMARI v. GAJADHAR UPADHYA (1911) I L R 38 Calc 783

3 ——— Guardians and Wards Act VIII of 1890—Orders noder made without jurisdiction—Proceedings not had bona fide orders re—Consent obtained by judicial pressure—Judge no arbitrator One D died leaving a minor unmarried daughter by a predeceased wife and three widows. One R with a view to secure the marriage of his son with the girl (so that ultimately the property left by D might pass into the hands of the representatives of his own family) got the maternal grandfather of the girl who was his servant to apply for the appointment of himself as the guardian of the property and person of the minor but no part of D's property had yet vested in her the widows being according to Hindu law D's heirs. The widows objected to the application but the District Judge having owing to a misconception passed orders directing that unless the widows placed their properties in charge of R he would remove the girl whom they dearly loved from their custody to that of the maternal grandfather they were induced to grant a lease of the properties to R after which they were made to present an application for the appointment of themselves as guardians of the person of the girl and they were formally appointed as guardians. Held that no guardian was needed for the protection of the person of the girl and she had no property of which a possible guardian could take charge. The application of the widows for appointment as guardians of her person was not voluntary and the application of the maternal grandfather was not made bona fide and the orders passed by the Judge were without jurisdiction. Orders passed in proceedings so instituted and conducted even if they were nominally in conformity with statutory provisions could hardly be regarded as invested with the efficacy of legal orders made in bona fide judicial proceedings. That the Judge could not be deemed in this case to have acted as an arbitrator chosen by the parties voluntarily the ladies having in fact acted under judicial pressure of the highest degree to which they were not in a position to offer effectual and successful resistance and consequently Ledgard v. Bull I L R 9 All 191 L P 231 & 134 did not apply. SARADRA HOXA v. RAMANATH CROWDER (1912) 16 C W N 444

4 ——— Testamentary Guardian—Appointment by implication Where a testator by his will appointed one D whom he called his trusted friend the executor and provided that D was on his death to take care of and administer all his properties and manage his family and educate and maintain his sons S and A. Held that these words amounted to appointing D guardian of both the persons and the properties of S and A. BHANUJAY BHUTSIA v. BHANU CHAND DAS (1917) 21 C W N 1134

5 ——— Will—Minor—Hindu widow—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s 7 sub

GUARDIAN—contd

a (3)—Upon treaty of guardianship as to a minor child—What is the proper title of a will may be considered in connection with appointment of guardian to a minor—In an application for the appointment of a guardian of a minor the Court is bound to consider a will although probate has not been granted. The fact that there is a contest as to the validity of the will may induce the Court to exercise its discretion one way or the other but it is not open to the Court to say it will refuse to take notice of the will. Sadai Shakti v. Hajipur Begam I L R 1 Bom 500 (1899) Haralal Arabudra I L R 16 Mad 350 and Ibrahim Khan v. Ali Khan Badli Khan v. Bin Panibai I L R 19 Bom 53 referred to. SARALA SUNDARI DEBI v. HAZARI DAS DEBI (1910) I L R 42 Calc 903

6—*Hindu father—Entrusting sons for custody and education in England to another person who defrays expense of their maintenance and education—Revocation of such authority and demand for sons to be restored to his custody—Suit to enforce demand in District Court—Questions to be determined in such a suit—Jurisdiction of the District Court—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s 9—Ordinarily resident meaning of—Suit not the appropriate procedure—Transfer of suit from the District Court to the High Court under clause 13 of the Letters Patent 1865—Powers of the High Court in dealing with the suits so transferred—Mandatory order of the kind asked for not to be made—What a Court of competent jurisdiction in India could do under the circumstances—Order declaring a guardian when to be made—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s 19—Order declaring a guardian during respondent's life proprietary of—Among Hindus as in England the father is the natural guardian of his children during their minority but this guardianship is in the nature of a sacred trust and he cannot therefore during his lifetime substitute another person to be guardian in his place. He may in the exercise of his discretion as guardian entrust the custody and education of his children to another but the authority he thus confers is essentially a revocable authority and if the welfare of his children require it he can notwithstanding any contract to the contrary take such custody and educate on once more into his own hands. If however the authority has been acted upon in such a way as in the opinion of the Court overruling the jurisdiction of the Crown over infants to create associations or give rise to expectations on the part of the infants which it would be undesirable in their interests to disturb or disappoint such Court will interfere to prevent its revocation. Lyon v. Blenkin (1821) Jac 245 followed. The plaintiff (respondent) a Brahmin residing at Madras and having only a small income had been for many years a member of the Theosophical Society of which the defendant (appellant) was President. He had two sons born respectively on 11th May 1890 and 30th May 1898. In 1910 the appellant offered to take charge of his sons and defray the expense of their maintenance and education in England and at the University of Oxford. The respondent accepted that offer and by a letter to the appellant dated 6th March 1910 authorised her to take charge and be guardian of his sons who were thereafter in her custody and were eventually in February 1912 taken by her to England where she left them after making arrangements for giving them a course of tuition such as would enable them to enter the University. For reasons to which it is unnecessary to refer the respondent on 11th*

GUARDIAN—contd

May 1912 cancelled his previous letter of 6th June 1910 and demanded that his sons should be restored to his custody and on the appellant (then in India) refusing to comply with his demand he instituted in the District Court of Chingleput the present suit which was transferred to the High Court at Madras under clause 13 of the Letters Patent 1865 and in the absence of the sons a decree was made and affirmed on appeal declaring that they were wards of Court that the respondent was guardian of their persons and ordering the appellant to make over custody of them to the respondent. Held that the suit was entirely misconceived that the respondent remained guardian of his sons notwithstanding that he had substituted the appellant in his place that letter of 6th June 1910 has a revocable authority and that the real questions for decision were whether in the events that had happened the respondent was at liberty to revoke the authority and was still entitled to exercise the functions of guardian and resume the custody of his sons and alter the scheme which had been formulated for their education and those questions had to be determined with regard to the interests and welfare of the infants and their parentage and religion and could only be decided by a Court exercising the jurisdiction of the Crown over infants and in their presence that the District Court had no jurisdiction over them except such as was conferred by the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) which was confined to infants ordinarily resident in the district and as the infants who had months previously left India with a view to being educated in England and going to the University of Oxford could not be said to be ordinarily resident in the district of Chingleput that Court had no jurisdiction in the matter that a suit inter partes is not the form of procedure prescribed by that Act for proceedings in a District Court touching the guardianship of infants that the powers of the High Court in dealing with suits transferred to it under clause 13 of the Letters Patent 1865 would seem to be confined to the powers which but for the transfer might have been exercised by the District Court that a mandatory order directing the defendants to take possession of the infants in England and bring them to India was one which considering their age could not be enforced if they refused to return to India and ought not to have been made that the most which a Court of competent jurisdiction could do under the circumstances such as existed in the present case was to order the appellant to concur with the respondent as the infants' guardian in taking proceedings in England to retain the custody and control of his sons. Held further that with respect to the order declaring the infants wards of the Court and appointing the respondent as their guardian which the District Court could not have made in a suit which it was alleged that the High Court could in its general jurisdiction make that whatever may have been the jurisdiction of the High Court to declare infants wards of the Court an order declaring a guardian could only be made if the interests of the infants required it and that an order made when the infants were not before the Court and without adequately considering them their interest could not be supported that no order declaring a guardian could be made by reason of s 19 of the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 be made during respondent's life unless in the opinion of the Court he was unfit to be their guardian. Since the admission of the infants had been allowed to intervene and they stated through counsel that they did not wish to return to India and abandon the chances of a University education in England. The appeal was allowed and the suit dismissed without prejudice to any application the respondent might think fit to make to the High Court in England touching the guardianship custody and maintenance of his children. BESANT v NARAYANIAN (1914) I L R 38 Mad 807

GUARDIAN—contd

7 — To minor girl—mother or grandmother—right of selecting bridegroom—Hindu Law. Held that under Hindu Law the mother is after the father the natural and legal guardian of her minor daughter and she does not lose her right by re marriage where such re marriage is recognised as valid by custom. Mussammatal Nur Bibi v Mussammatal Mekran (11 P R 1887) and Ganga Pershad v Jhalo (1 L R 38 Cal 862) referred to—also Mayne's Hindu Law 8th edition page 276 and Ram Krishna s Hindu Law Vol II pages 406 407. Held also that the mother or a maternal grandmother has a preferential title to the guardianship of a girl to a paternal grandfather. Mussammatal Imbo v Ganga Sahas (18 Indian Cases 141) Mussammatal Fatima v Mussammatal Ram (28 Indian Cases 807) and Bindu v Sham Lal (1 L R 29 All 210) referred to. Held further that Hindu Law does not confer on the grandfather a right to dispose of his grand daughter in marriage in opposition to the wishes of the mother but gives the latter preferential right to select a bridegroom. Ranganaswami v Ramanyu (1 L R 35 Mad 728) Bai Ramkore v Jannadas (1 L R 37 Bom 18) Mul Chand v Bhudha (1 L R 22 Bom 812) and Mussammatal Maya Devi v Ram Chand (20 P R 1916) referred to—also Dayal v Narain Das (64 P R 1884) and Wayne's Hindu Law 8th edition page 101. Mussammatal INDI v GHANIA I L R 1 Lah 646

GUARDIAN AD LITEM

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1982 s 440 445

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT 1 of 1908)—

SS 47 AND 50

I L R 38 Mad 1076

s 99

25 C W N 258

O I L R 13

I L R 37 All 179

I L R 39 All 8

O I L R 4

I L R 43 All 104

R 7

I L R 39 Mad 853

I L R 44 Bom 574

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 35 All 571

See MINOR

I L R 32 All 287

I L R 37 Mad 535

See MORTGAGE

I L R 37 Cal 897

See MORTGAGE DECREE

4 Pat L J 213

Person of unsound mind. The provisions of the Civil Procedure Code (Act IV of 1908) with respect to the represent ation of lunatics not being exhaustive a guardian ad litem should be assigned to a defendant who is of unsound mind although not so found. LAKHYA DASKA v UMA KANTA CHAKRABUTTY (1903)

GUARDIAN AD LITEM—contd

14 C W N 256

Joint Hindu family—Sut on mortgage against father and sons—Irregular appointment of father as guardian of minor sons—Ex parte decree—Sut by sons to recover their shares. In a suit for sale on a mortgage executed by the father of a joint family governed by the Mistashara the plaintiffs impleaded as defendants the father and his three sons two of whom were minors. The plaintiffs named the father as guardian ad litem of the minors but no ex parte were taken as required by the rules of the High Court to ascertain whether the father was willing to act as guardian. The father did not appear and an ex parte decree was passed in execution whereof the family property was sold. Subsequently on attaining majority the minor sons brought a suit for possession of their shares alleging that the original debt was an immoral debt which they were not bound to discharge and also they had not been legally represented in the previous suit. The Court of first instance having dismissed the suit without going into the merits the lower Appellate Court made an order of remand. Held that there had been a serious irregularity if nothing worse in the appointment of the father as guardian ad litem and as it was impossible to tell without knowing to what extent the plaintiffs were in a position to establish their case regarding the immorality of the debt how far the appointment of their father as guardian had prejudiced them the order of remand was right. BALAKNATH RAI v DEARAM DEO TIWARI (1916) I L R 38 All 315

Absence of proposed guardian's consent to appointment effect of—Whether person who has executed a bond on behalf of minor should be appointed guardian ad litem in a suit on the bond. Mere omission to obtain the consent of a person appointed guardian ad litem to a minor is not a defect which is fatal to a suit against the minor unless the minor is prejudiced by the omission. The Court however should be jealous on behalf of the infant. Where a mother with full knowledge of its contents executed a bond on behalf of her minor son for necessity and the son benefited by the money held on a plea that the mother should not in a suit on the bond have been appointed guardian ad litem to the minor that the mother had no interest in the suit adverse to the minor and that the appointment was not improper. To succeed on a plea of adverse interest a particular adverse interest must be proved. The Courts will not act on surmise. 2 Pat L J 390

GUARDIAN AND MANAGER

power of—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

I L R 39 Cal 232

GUARDIAN AND MINOR

See IMPETRATION

I L R 43 Cal 290

See CONTRACT ACT (11 OF 1872) ss 10

AND 11

I L R 33 All 857

GUARDIAN AND MINOR—contd

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890) CIR. II

1 L R 36 All 282

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIMENTATION

1 L R 34 All 213

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIAN

1 L R 36 All 283

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR

1 L R 33 All 433

See MAJORITY ACT (IX OF 1875) s. 3

1 L R 35 All 153

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 38 All 62

mistake of guardian—1

See PRAJUDICATA

1 L R 45 Dom. 835

Contract—Specific performance—Specific performance of a contract not enforceable to minor refused. The District Judge enjoined the sale by the certificated guardian of a minor of a house before the minor for a price of Rs 1300. There arose however some dispute about the date of the sale and the purchase was not carried through. Meanwhile the minor was sold for the necessary and ultimate use by the District Judge on the ground that the house should be sold to one Abdullah for Rs 900. Held on writ brought by the person in whose favour the sale had originally been executed that the Court was in the exercise of jurisdiction in refusing to grant a decree for specific performance. Chellu v Jagannath Prasad 1 L R 39 All 213

1 L R 39 All 433

GUARDIAN AND WARD

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—

s. 17 1 L R 33 All 222

s. 33 47 48 1 L R 47 All 514

s. 41 1 L R 42 All 1

See PENAL CODE 1860 s. 301

1 L R 42 All 146

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKE

1 L R 39 All 288

Jurisdiction of District Court—No power to order payment of money for minor's marriage by person not guardian.—“Order jurisdiction when order passed under one jurisdiction cannot be set aside by another.” The Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) does not give the District Court any power or authority over persons other than the guardian or the minor except in so far as it deals with the guardian as to who is the proper person to be appointed guardian or whether a particular guardian should be removed or not and for the purpose of restoring the ward to the custody of the guardian. Under the Guardians and Wards Act no order can be passed directing a person not a guardian to pay a sum of money for the purposes of a minor's marriage. Where a Judge passing such an order under the Guardians and Wards Act could have passed a similar order as a Judge of a Court of ordinary civil jurisdiction the order cannot be treated as a de res in a suit. The two jurisdictions are wholly distinct though overlapping in the same circumstances. Sahib v Pillai v Pannal v Pillai 1 L R 21 All 219 and Lalji v Bhai 1 L R 9 All 191 distinguished. Sowak v I AMAN (1913) 1 L R 36 Mad 39

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

*Petition under whether only remitted for a father as being custody of his child—Suit by father for custody of his minor child in ordinary Civil Courts of the High Court maintained ability of No Malice Court has jurisdiction to enter an order by a father for the custody of his child. Bhai v Sahib 1 L R 35 All 597 at p. 878 relied on. Abdullah v Jai Singh v Chaudhary 1 L R 49 Bom 607 not followed. Sahib v I AMAN (1913) 1 L R 42 Mad 647*

ss. 2, 12, 21, 24 and 25—Malom bin Lee—Still school of Guardianship of minor in India Majority 1 L R (1875)—Habib v Corrie at p. 6. A father can apply under s. 25 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) for the custody of his minor son though the minor had all along been in the custody of his grandfather but never in the custody of his father. Per Sahib v I AMAN s. 25—The word custody in all the three places where that word occurs in s. 25 (1) includes both a legal and a natural custody of a minor. Under Mahomedan law a minor continues to remain in the custody of his grandfather till he attains the age of 18 notwithstanding (that under) the Shari School to which he is subject his personal administration would have taken place when he attained the age of 15 or when he attained puberty between the ages of 9 and 15. The word guardian in s. 21 includes the guardianship both of persons and property. Ride v Krishna 1 L R 9 Mad 791 followed. Per Narain s. 25—The object of s. 21 and 22 is to declare the right of the guardian of the person of a minor to the continuous custody of his person and to provide a machinery for enforcement. The writ of Habias Corpus proceeds on the fact of an illegal restraint and can have no application to cases where there is no question of restraint. Barakat Ali v I AMAN (1913) 1 L R 39 Mad 808

ss. 4 (2) 24 25 26 41 47—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

1 L R 42 Cal 351

ss. 5 to 20 (Chapter II)—

Procedure—Evidence. Three persons applied to the District Judge to be appointed guardian of the person and property of a minor. The Judge asked the Collector to say which of the three was the fittest. He returned a report for the guardian (anungo) who resided in favour of the respondent. The District Judge's respondent appointed him as guardian of the person and property of the minor. Held that the report could not be treated in law as evidence and that the Judge should have called the three persons before him. SUBHAG SINGH v PARMANAND SINGH 1 L R 38 All 282

s. 7—Appointment of guardian.—Welfare of minor—Application for appointment of guardian if made summarily rejected—Contents of application—Grounds for dismissal—Male side application—Inadequacy of property. The law as to the Guardians and Wards Act in the interest of ductory words of s 7 that proceedings under this Act are to be taken for the benefit of the minor. If an application is made for an ulterior purpose it ought not to be entertained. Before proceeding with it the Court should under a II be satisfied that there is ground for proceeding with the application. One of the material facts to be taken into consideration is the cause or causes which led to the making of the application. Where the real object of the application by a husband for appointment as guardian of his minor wife was to recover her from the custody of her father who on his part alleged ill treatment of his daughter by the husband but this object was not disclosed in the application. Held that it was within the powers of the Judge to dismiss the application summarily on the ground that it did not disclose the cause which led to the making of the application as required by s 10 sub s (1) cl (1) of the Act. The Court being satisfied that the application was wholly mala fide and not for the benefit of the minor it refused permission to the petitioner to amend his petition. BARAT CHANDRA NANDAN : GIRINDRA CHANDRA GUIN (1910) 15 C W N 457 — ss 7 (2) 29 and 30—Guardian appointed by Court encumbrance of minor's property by natural guardian while Court guardian in existence—Encumbrance void—Void deed no consideration for fresh contract on attaining majority. The appointment of a guardian under the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) has the effect of extinguishing the rights of the minor's natural guardian to deal with the minor's property. Where the natural guardian with rights thus extinguished but purporting to act as a de facto guardian encumbered the minor's property with his consent. Held that the encumbrances were null and void. An encumbrance thus created without authority cannot be ratified by the minor on attaining majority. There can be no ratification of a transaction which is void owing to the promisor's access to no contractual capacity at the time. Nor can a void deed form a good consideration for a fresh contract made by the minor on attaining majority. ARUMUGHAM CHETTI : DURAISINAO TEVAR (1913) I L R 37 Mad 38

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

— s 7—contd

— s 7 (3)—

See GUARDIAN I L R 42 Cal 953

— s 7—Application for guardianship of property—Resistance to the guardianship order on the ground that the property was joint family property—Elaborate inquiries into the character of the property not competent—Summary nature of the inquiry. In an application for guardianship of a minor's property under a 7 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) the applicant alleged that the property was the separate property of the minor's husband. The opponents resisted the application contending that the property was joint family property which had survived to them. The Court conducted a lengthy inquiry into the character of the property and having come to the conclusion that it was joint rejected the application. The applicant having appealed. Held reversing the order inasmuch as the application was made on the footing and with the claim that the minor was separately entitled to separate property the Court ought to appoint a guardian of the property of the minor and leave it to him to institute suits for the recovery of the property. S 7 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) contemplates only a summary enquiry followed by an order made for the welfare of the minor. GURUPPA SHIVGENAPPA : TAYAWA SHIDDAPPA (1916) I L R 40 Bom 513

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

— s 7—contd

— ss 8 13—

See GUARDIAN I L R 38 Cal 783

— ss 8 11 21—Application by relative or friend of minor—Disallowing such application object of—Step mother if disqualified from being guardian of person of step son where parties governed by Mitakshara school of Hindu law—Purdanashin lady if may be appointed guardian of person and property of infant—Minor step mother if competent to act as guardian of infant adopted son—Considerations which should guide Courts in appointing guardian—Appointment of stranger as guardian of person. One Dayanidhi died leaving a widow S a daughter and an infant son whom he had adopted during the life time of his first wife before marrying S. The widow applied to be appointed guardian of the person and property of the infant. The application was opposed by the relations of her husband. The objection was that the widow was herself a minor and was not competent as a purdanashin lady to take effective charge of the person and property of the infant and that the application in substance was not made bona fide in the best interests of the minor concerned. One of the objectors proposed that G a pleader who was related both to the widow and to the infant should be appointed guardian and the Collector also acting under a 8 of the Guardians and Wards Act intimated to the District Judge that a guardian should be appointed and that the other objector was the most suitable person available for appointment as guardian. The District Judge appointed G guardian of the person and property of the infant. Held that the petition of objection suggesting the appointment of G as guardian was in substance an application by a relative or friend of the minor for the appointment of a guardian within the meaning of s 8 cl (b) of the Act and that the fact that this application was not noticed in accordance with a II did not constitute a fatal defect inasmuch as the object of a II is to bring the application to the notice of persons interested in opposing it and in the present case all the persons interested in the matter of the appointment of a suitable guardian for the minor were present before the Court. That under the Mitakshara school of Hindu law the step mother is not the heir of her step son and she cannot be deemed disqualified from being appointed guardian of the step son on that ground. That it cannot be laid down as an inflexible rule of law that a purdanashin lady should not be appointed guardian of the person and property of her infant son but in the circumstances of the present case the widow could not be appointed guardian of the property of the infant with any prospect of advantage to the infant. That a 21 of the Act clearly refers to the guardian of the person of an infant and there is much force in the contention that the section is wide enough to cover the case of an adopted son and the step mother even if a minor is competent to act as guardian of the person of the infant adopted son. But in the matter of

GUARDIANS AND WARDERS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—*contd*s. 8, 11—contd choosing a guardian of an infant the Court must be guided entirely by the interest of the ward and in the circumstances of the present case the step-mother should be appointed guardian of the person of the infant such appointment being for the benefit of the infant. The effect of the appointment of a stranger as the guardian of the person of a minor considered. SINDHAMANI DRI : CORLELAND (OWDILEY) (1911)

18 C W N 160

s. 9—

See Minor

I L R 43 Cal. 802

See MALOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIAN

I L R 35 All 280

*Application for guardianship of minor—Jura dictio—Domicile—Place where the minor ordinarily resides—Ono Ianachanli a Jain inhabitant of Kapadwanj in the Ahmedabad District lived in his house at that place. He died leaving him surviving a widow and two sons Lallu and Wadhial the latter a minor who all lived in the house. Parashanda a widow died about a year after him. Thereupon Ianachanli's house and a shop at Kapadwanj were sold and Lallu with his minor brother Wadhial went to Baroda in May 1901. At Baroda Lallu embraced Christianity and placed his minor brother who was also baptized in the American Mission Boarding House at that place. Afterwards Lallu renounced Christianity and in the beginning of February 1903 clandestinely removed his minor brother from the Mission Boarding House at Baroda and placed him in the Jain Boarding House at Ahmedabad. The minor lived at Ahmedabad till the 15th March 1909 and on the next day he was removed from Ahmedabad at the instance of the appellant a member of the American Mission at that place and taken to Darod. On the 24th April 1903 Lallu presented an application to the District Court at Ahmedabad for his appointment as the guardian of the minor person. The appellant (opponent) at whose instance the minor was taken back to Baroda contended that inasmuch as the minor lived at Baroda which was beyond the Court's jurisdiction the Court had no jurisdiction to entertain Lallu's application under s. 9 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890). The Court dismissed Lallu's application but in the same proceeding appointed the respondent a Jain leader on his application as the guardian of the minor person and property on the ground that as the minor lived with his father till the father's death at Kapadwanj which was within the jurisdiction of the Court and as the minor's domicile followed that of his father which was Kapadwanj the minor's domicile was in British India and he ordinarily resided within the Court's jurisdiction. Held on appeal by the opponent setting aside the order that the question of domicile was wholly irrelevant to the question of jurisdiction. The minor was living at Baroda and had no other place of residence. He had lived at Baroda for three years with the exception of twenty-eight days. Therefore Baroda was the place where the minor ordinarily resided within the meaning of s. 9 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890). *ROBERT WARD (LEV) : VEICHAND (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 101

GUARDIANS AND WARDERS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

s. 9, 10—

See Minor

L R 41 I A 314

ss. 9 and 10—

See Guardian

I L R 39 Mad 807

s. 11—

See Minor

18 C W N 160

s. 12, cl. 3 (b)—Power to order more to be paid into Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s. 111 O XXXIV r 10 O VI r 1 If petitioned the Court under the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 to be appointed guardian of the property of a minor he also applied to the Court in the following terms—In the meanwhile and pending these proceedings a receiver may be appointed to take charge of the amount of Rs 44191 due and payable to this minor by C or such other order may be passed to protect the property of the said minor as to the Honorable Court may seem meet. Held that it was open to the Court to pass an order directing C to forthwith deposit in Court the sum of Rs 44191 to abide by the further order of the Court. I L R Dat JANABAI (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 20

ss. 12, 24, 25—Minor—Grant of certificate—Fresh application for custody of minor—Jura dictio—No regular suit maintainable The mother of a minor girl applied to be appointed her guardian. The girl was alleged to have been taken away by her elder sister but no action under s. 12 of Act VIII of 1890 was asked for. She got a certificate of guardianship issued to her. Later she applied asking for possession of the person of her daughter. Held that she was entitled to do so. She was charged with the custody of the ward and could ask the Court to assist her to perform the duties imposed upon her by s. 24 of the Act. The District Judge was empowered to enforce all the provisions contained in the Act for the benefit of the minor. Further that no separate suit could have been brought for the purpose. SHIM LAL : BUNDO I L R 26 All 391 followed. Quere Whether an appeal lay from the order of the Judge rejecting the application. URMA KUTARI : BHAGWANT KUTARI (1910)

I L R 37 All 515

ss. 12, 13, 17, 19, 21 and 25—Minor never in the custody of his father—Application by father for custody of his son under Guardians and Wards Act—Refusal of the District Court to make an order on the application—Remedy by way of writ—Jurisdiction of District Court One C the maternal uncle of B a minor applied to the District Court at Ahmedabad for the appointment of himself as guardian of the person and property of the minor in preference to A the father of the minor. The Court made no order as to the guardianship of the minor person on the basis of s. 19 of the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 but appointed the Deputy Nazir as the guardian of the minor's property. Subsequently the father who never had the custody of his minor son applied under the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 for the custody of the boy. The Joint Judge refused to make an order on the application and referred the father to a regular suit. On appeal to the High Court. Held that the only remedy of the father was to file a suit for the custody of his son. Shera v. M. Khan I L R 35 Lon 574 followed. Held further that the jurisdiction of the District Court was defined by the Guardians and Wards Act and that it bore no power

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

s 12—contd

to make orders with reference to minors which were not expressly conferred upon it by that Act. Annie Besant v Narayanaiah I L R 33 Mad 597 followed. ACHUTALAL JEKISANDAS v CHETAN LAL PARSHUDAS (1916) I L R 43 Bom 609

s 12 43 and 47—*Appointment of guardian of the person of a minor—Custody of minor—A relative pending appointment—Order passed by the Court regarding marriage of minor—Jurisdiction of the Court to pass the order—A minor girl was left in the custody of her grand mother pending the appointment by the Court of a guardian of her person. In the meanwhile a proposal of marriage of the girl was brought before the Court which sanctioned it at first but the sanction was later rescinded. A second proposal was similarly brought up and sanctioned by the Court. An application having been made to the High Court against the order. Held that though the order as to the temporary custody of the girl was a proper order under s 12 of the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 yet the order as to the marriage could not be brought under that section or s 43 of the Act and was made without jurisdiction. LAXMINARAYAN SHESHCHETRI v PARVATIBAI (1919)*

I L R 44 Bom 690

s. 13—

See GARDIAN

I L R 33 Cal 783

s 17—Infant son of pre-deceased out-casted son residing with mother in the family of mother's sister—Mother appointing her sister guardian by will—Grandfather nominating a nephew as guardian but later unwilling to admit him in family circle—Infant's preference for aunt—Court's discretion in appointing guardian—Welfare of minor chief consideration—Home influence value of—Purdana shawl lady if unfit to be guardian of infant of 15 years I who had been outcasted died in April 1899 leaving an infant son who in 1914 was about 15 years old a widow who died in 1913 and his father B who was appointed guardian of the person and property of the infant in July 1899 B being unable owing to caste difficulties to keep the infant in his custody acquiesced in the appointment in December 1904 of the infant's mother as guardian of his person, he himself continuing to be the guardian of the infant's property. The infant and his mother took up residence with the latter's sister F and before her death she made a will clearly expressing therein her wish that her sister F should after her death be the infant's guardian. On her death B applied for the appointment of a nephew I as the guardian of the person of the infant and F also made a similar application. The uncle and not the aunt was appointed by the District Court. On appeal the High Court ascertained on enquiry from B as well as his nominee that neither of them was willing to take the infant into his family circle and therefore was to place him in the care of a third person. The infant himself was examined by the High Court expressed his preference for the aunt. It was found by the District Judge that the education of the infant in her aunt's house had been satisfactory. Held that it was I's duty to the welfare of the minor that the aunt and not the uncle should be appointed guardian of the infant person and that her being a purdana shawl lady did not make her unfit to be so appointed.

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

s 17—contd

as it was undesirable that the infant should at his age be removed from the influence of home life. But it was ordered and the aunt gave assurance that the grandfather and the uncle should have free access to the infant. The primary point for consideration in such a case is what in the circumstances of the case is for the welfare of the infant. In appointing a guardian the Court will pay great attention to the wishes of the father or mother of the infant unless such a course would be disadvantageous to the infant and regard is always paid to the wishes of the minor if he be of years of discretion. FELEKUNABAI BIBER v BUNJI SINGH DATT DULRIA (1911) 18 C W N 1198

*Guardianship of minor children—Father marrying a second time, no disability—Under s 19 of the Guardians and Wards Act, the Court must be satisfied that the husband or father is unfit to be the guardian of his wife or child respectively before it can appoint another person as guardian. The fact of the father marrying a second time is no ground for depriving him of the guardianship of his minor children. Bindo v Sham Lal I L R 29 All 210 dissented from. ANUJAPPA PILLAI v VALLEYPRABU PILLAI (1915)*

I L R 39 Mad 473

*Guardian and Ward—Considerations by which a court should be guided in the selection of a guardian. In considering the appointment of a guardian for a minor the proper test is the welfare of the minor. Where the applicant was a distant relation of the husband of a childless widow of some 12 or 13 years of age who was living happily with her father it was held that the father of the minor widow was her proper guardian. Khudiram Bhookerjee v Bonowari Lal Paj I L R 16 Cal 534 referred to. Tora Pann v Pann Chabany (1910) I L R 33 All 222*

*Adopted son minor—Death of adoptive parents—Natural father if may be appointed guardian—Guardian of property of minor appointed executor of same property under father's will—Probate supersedes guardianship order—Serving parent's accounts. Both the adoptive parents being dead the natural father of the minor adopted son was appointed guardian of his person in preference to the brothers of the adoptive mother and the daughters of the adoptive father. Gokulshankar v Andhar Prasad Talke I L R 3 Bom 1 referred to. The appellant who had been appointed by the District Judge the guardian of the properties of a minor was required by the Judge to furnish security and to produce an inventory of the minor's properties and accounts within six months. During the pendency of the appeal the appellant having obtained probate of the unadministered effects belonging to the estate of the father of the minor. Held that the properties to which under his father's will the minor was beneficially entitled having by the grant of probate become fully vested in the executor as guardian in respect of that property could be appointed as executor of the guardianship continued and the order of the District Judge calling on the appellant to furnish security and file an inventory and submit accounts became inoperative upon such grant and should be set aside. ANUJAPPA PILLAI v VALLEYPRABU PILLAI (1915) 15 C W N 533*

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—cont'd

s. 19

See s. 12 I L R 40 Mad 630

See s. 17 I L R 39 Mad 473

See s. 21 I L R 39 Mad 837

s. 21—

See s. 8 18 C W N 180

ss. 24 and 25—

See s. 12 I L R 37 AH 515

I L R 40 Bom 630

s. 25—Custody of Minor—Apparitions by guardian—Guardian need not be a certified guardian. An application under s. 25 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) for the custody of a minor can be made by a guardian who need not be a certified guardian. Datta Prasad v. Dattabhai (1913)

I L R 39 Bom 438

s. 27—

See Hindu Law 23 C W N 50

See MORTGAGE 1 Pat L J 563

s. 29—

See MORTGAGE 1 Pat L J 563

Guardian and Minor—Certificated guardian—Sale—Power of certificated guardian different from power of a guardian under the general rule of law. The powers of a certificated guardian are regulated and defined by the Guardians and Wards Act and the rule of law that there being no mutuality in a contract to which a minor was a party it could not be enforced by him does not apply to a contract for the sale of immovable property entered into by the certificated guardian of a minor with the sanction of the Court such a contract is valid and a suit for damages for breach of the contract will lie on behalf of the minor. Mir Siroyan v. Fakhrudin Mahomed Chaudhury I L R 33 Cal 32 distinguished Babu Ram v. Sato (1913) (1913) I L R 35 AH 493

ss. 29 30—

See MORTGAGE 16 C W N 715

s. 31 (sub s. 3)—Condition precedent to discharge from condition subsequent—Condition subsequent if it is a sale—Bona fides of sale of minor's property. A condition precedent if not complied with vitiates a sale but not a condition subsequent. Where the District Judge acting under the Guardians and Wards Act empowers the guardian to sell a property of the minor for an alleged debt of theirs and further directs him to put in the bonds after the sale have been satisfied and so endorsed by the creditors it does not follow that non-compliance with the latter direction vitiates the sale if a tually carried out and the vendee has all along been in possession of the purchased property. Where the same property is held partly by adult co-sharers and partly by minors the very fact that the minors share was sold for a price a little over that for which the shares of the adults are sold goes to show bona fides. Dyan Khan v. Saral Chandra Das

26 C W N 218

GUARDIANS AND WARDS (ACT VIII OF 1890)—cont'd

s. 31 sub s. (4)—Construction of word any person. The words any person in the last part of sub s. (4) Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) are not limited by the word relative or friend in the previous part of the section. The Court is competent to hear a person who is not a relative or friend. Venu Gopal Baradur v. Radirvellswami Naicker (1912)

I L R 35 Mad 746

s. 34—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 36—Order—Decree—Marriage expenses of person dependent on the ward—Order against guardian—Ward attaining majority—Discharge of guardian—Apparitions for execution against ward after majority—Jurisdiction of Court to order execution—Objections to object before attachment—Waste—Toppel. An order under s. 34 of the Guardians and Wards Act directing a guardian to pay a sum of money out of his ward's estate for the marriage expenses of a person dependent on his ward is neither a decree nor an order executable as a decree under the Civil Procedure Code and cannot be enforced against the ward after he has attained majority and the guardian has been discharged. There being an initial want of jurisdiction in the Court to execute such an order the omission of the ward to object after notice to an order for attachment of his property does not estop him from objecting to the jurisdiction of the Court to sell the property after attachment. Somappa v. Prasad I L R 36 Mad 39 referred to Parvathi (1914) L. C. C. K. L. N. G. C. C. T. Y. (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 241

ss. 34 35—Bonds given to Court by guardian and sureties—Court obligee under the bonds—Persons entitled to sue on the bonds—Breach of conditions of bond when Under s. 31 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) it is the Court that is the obligee under the bonds given by the guardian and his sureties in respect of the management of a ward's estate and except under an assignment from Court under s. 35 of the Act nobody else can sue on the bond. The conditions of bonds given under s. 31 (c) and (d) of the Guardians and Wards Act and under Form No. 93 of Civil Rules of Practice bind to exhibit such accounts as may be directed by Court or pay such balance of the minor's moneys in the guardian's hands as the Court may direct there is no right of suit as for a breach of the conditions of the bonds unless there is a preliminary order of the Court either to exhibit accounts or to pay any specified balance and a breach thereof. An assignment of the bonds by the Court without any such preliminary order on the ground that there was a prima facie case of maladministration is invalid and does not give a right of suit on the bonds. Obiter The loss of the bond is no impediment to its assignment. Krishna Chettiar v. Venkatchellappathi Chettiar (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 302

Guardian failing to pay full amount of purchase money of property sold with permission because purchase retained a portion of discharge of old debt—Daily fine order to pay if lent. Where a certificated guardian of minors obtained permission to sell a portion of their estate on the representation that the money (about Rs. 3000) was wanted for their house, and submitted accounts showing that out of Rs. 5000

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

— ss 34 35—contd

obtained by the sale of Rs 4 000 had been retained by the purchaser in payment of a sum of Rs 4 000 which the guardian had borrowed from her to give the minors in marriage and the Judge thereupon called upon the guardian to pay the said amount of Rs 4 000 in Court within a specified time and directed that on failure to do so the guardian was to pay a fine of Rs 5 per diem. Held that the amount the guardian was called upon to pay was not on account of balance due from the guardian as the same had not been paid to her nor was it a balance due on accounts filed in compliance with a requisition under cl (d) of s 34 of the Guardians and Wards Act and the order impoing a daily fine was ultra vires. NIKRANDESSA BIRI PE (1916) 20 C W N 663

----- Order of appointment of guardian conditional on giving security when fictive—Natural guardian's right to manage pending appointment Where a guardian is appointed by a Court unconditionally the order takes effect at once although under s 34 of the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) he may be required to furnish security subsequently. But where the order is conditional upon the furnishing of security it does not take effect until the security has been furnished. Such a conditional order does not therefore deprive the natural guardian of his or her power of management of the minors estate till the condition is satisfied. Hence an endorsement of a negotiable instrument belonging to the minor by the natural guardian before the condition is satisfied is not invalid. Deftes v. Creed 21 L J (C) 687 followed. Sentle 11 R 240 to 242 and Forms Nos 92 and 93 of the Civil Rules of Practice which make the appointment of a guardian take effect only on furnishing security are not ultra vires. The dictum of SANASIVA AYYAN J to the contrary in Gopabmal v. Srinivas Ayyan 30 Mad L J 668 not followed. SEENA NAICK v. RAMA AYYAR (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 776

----- "4A" 25 and 26—Person acting as a guardian—Appointment of guardian who takes a bond—Ward dying leaving minor widow heir—Re-appointment of guardian without bond—Liability to account to minor—Liability of legal representative of the guardian A minor having been left as the sole surviving male member of his family his estate was for a time managed by his maternal grandfather. The latter was subsequently appointed by the Court as guardian of the property and passed a bond under s 34 (a) of the Guardians and Wards Act 1890. On the death of the minor he retained management of the property on behalf of the minor's widow without re-appointment as guardian. Some months afterwards he was again appointed guardian of the property by the Court but without a bond. The guardian having died the minor's widow sued his legal representatives for an account of his management. Held that the suit was maintainable for neither s 2 nor s 3 of the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 operated as bar. Held also that the legal representatives of the guardian were liable to account if it was established that property of the minor did go into the hands of the guardian and thence into the hands of his representatives. NARAYAN PALASIE HANU RAI KARPAY (11 U) 1 L R 44 Bom 12

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—contd

— ss 34A 35 and 36—contd

----- Guardian if can be removed without opportunity to show cause—ss 34 (c) and 45 (1) cl (b)—Punishment of guardian for non payment of balance due from him—Considerations which should prevail with Courts in appointing and removing guardians The Guardians and Wards Act does not prescribe the procedure to be followed when the Court finds it necessary either of its own motion or at the instance of a party interested in the welfare of the infant to take steps for the removal of a guardian appointed by itself. But on the elementary rule that no order adverse to a party litigant should be made by a Court of Justice till he has been apprised of the charges brought against him and has been allowed reasonable opportunity to show cause no order for removal of a guardian should be made till the guardian has been apprised of the charges brought against him and allowed reasonable opportunity to explain and if possible to defend his conduct. S 40 sub s (1) cl (b) authorises the Court to impose a fine on a guardian if the guardian fails to pay into Court the balance due from him on the accounts exhibited by him in compliance with a requisition under s 34 (c). The payment contemplated has to be made in compliance with a requisition under s 34 (d) and no fine can validly be imposed on a guardian for failure to comply with a requisition calling upon him to bring into Court a larger sum than found due from him on the accounts exhibited under s 34 (c). That the sole point for consideration in cases where the management of the infant's property by the guardian in question is at issue is the welfare of the infant and the investigation should be from that point of view alone and it is eminently desirable that no person should be appointed guardian of the person or property of an infant without some enquiries about his fitness for the office. JAGAN NATH PANJA v. MOHESH CHANDRA PAL (1916) 21 C W N 668

----- s 35—Act XL of 1855—District Judge a power to take security bond from manager—Assignment of bond by District Judge—Suit against representatives of a deceased manager in respect of liability incurred by him It was competent to a District Judge acting under Act XL of 1855 to take a security bond in his own favour for the due discharge of his duties by a manager appointed by him. Such a bond can be validly signed by the District Judge under s 35 read with s 2 of the Guardians and Wards Act. BAHARU SINGH v. BASANTA KUMAR ROY (1913) 17 C W N 695

----- s 36—Suit against a guardian—Leave of the Court not obtained before filing the suit—Leave can be granted or equently Under s 36 of the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 proceedings are not entirely nullified because leave of the Court is not obtained before a suit is filed. It would be open to the Court on a proper application by the plaintiff to remedy the mistake and to empower the plaintiff to continue the proceedings against a guardian. MAIRA v. SHANKAR MOPU (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 602

----- s 38—See CHAFFIN 1 L R 58 Cal 662
See MAICHANDAN IAW—CHAFFIN
1 L R 58 All 262

GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890)—*contd*ss 43 and 45—contd

which the order for appointment of a guardian was made was not made voluntarily. Held that the order was without jurisdiction and disobedience on the part of the guardian of the directions relating to the marriage of the minor could not be punished under s 43 cl (4) of the Guardians and Wards Act like disobedience of an injunction Cl (a) of sub s (1) of s 40 of the Guardians and Wards Act does not contemplate orders on the guardian appointed under the Act for the production of the ward and such a guardian cannot be fined under the section for failing to produce the ward before the Judge when required. SAHOTA KOLA v. DRAJADHARI GOSAIN (1911) 16 C W N 447

ss 43 and 49—

see s 12 I L R 44 Bom 690

s 45—

see s 31 20 C W N 663
21 C W N 688

ss 47 48 50—Application to be appointed guardian of minor dismissed for default—Second application of lies—Application refused—Appeal of lies—Girl infant who has nearly attained majority—Marriage consent of infant to officers only—Guardian of person should be appointed to enable giving her in marriage Where an application for appointment as guardian of an infant was dismissed for non appearance and an application for a rehearing was refused. Held that a second substantive application for appointment as a guardian is maintainable. Where the District Judge refused such an application as not maintainable. Held that an appeal lies to the High Court against the order. Where a Mahomedan after having divorced his wife applied to be appointed guardian of his infant daughter who was very close upon her majority with the object of her giving her away in marriage to a suitable bridegroom. Held that at her age the consent of the girl to the marriage was required and the application should not be proceeded with. AMJAD ALI v. RAJESWARI (1913) 17 C W N 429

s 52

see MINOR L R 41 I A 314

GUARDIANSHIP

see GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890) ss 17 19

I L R 39 Mad 473

see HINDU LAW—GUARDIANSHIP

see MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE
I L R 45 Cal 878see PENAL CODE s 361 366 and 368
4 Pat L J 4

Minor girl—Right of selecting I. Under Hindu law Held that under Hindu Law the mother after the father the natural and legal guardian of the minor daughter and does not lose her right by re-marriage where it is recognized by custom. SH. ABAT Ali v. SH. BIRAJ Ali
I L R 1 Lah 148

GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (EOM VI OF 1888)

see RAJIA I L R 28 Ecm 625

GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (EOM VI OF 1888)—contd

see LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT I OF 1870) s 79A.

I L R 35 Bom 72

ss 28 29B and 29E—Civil Procedure Code (Act XII of 1882) ss 205 300—Decree against Talukdar—Execution—Decree transferred to Talukdari Settlement Officer—Classification of management—Submission by persons having claims—Application for the continuance of the execution proceedings against the legal representative of the deceased judgment debtor—Certificate under s 29E of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888)—Managing Officer—Talukdari Settlement Officer When execution proceedings are commenced against a judgment debtor they can be continued after his death by substituting the name of the legal representative in place of that of the deceased judgment debtor in the application for execution. It is not necessary to file a fresh application under the provisions of s 230 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1887) Hirachand Harjandas v. Kashirchand Kando I L R 18 Bom 224 explained. The effect of s 29E of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888) is that before the execution of a decree can be proceeded with the Court must be satisfied that the decree claim has been duly submitted. If the officer certifies that it has been duly submitted there is an end of the matter. If he does not so certify the Court must wait for one month from the date of the receipt by the officer of an application for a certificate and upon being satisfied that the claim has been duly submitted in accordance with the provisions of s 29B of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888) it may then proceed with the execution. The expression managing officer in s 29L of the Act is merely a euphemistic term for the Talukdari Settlement Officer or any other officer appointed by Government to take charge of the Talukdar's estate and keep the same in his management referred to in s 28 of the Act and where the officer who takes charge of the estate and keeps the same in his management is the Talukdari Settlement Officer the managing officer is merely a synonym for Talukdari Settlement Officer. When an application relating to a claim is presented to the Subordinate Judge and is forwarded by him to the Talukdari Settlement Officer it amounts to a submission of the claim in writing within the meaning of s 29B of the Act if the Talukdari Settlement Officer is also the managing officer. PURSHOTAM v. RAJIA (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 142

ss 29 29B (1) (2) (3) and 29E—Is it upon a mortgage—Talukdari Settlement Officer—Guardian of the minor defendant—Proceedings to second appeal—Intermediate notification by the said officer call upon claimants to submit their claims within six months—Plaintiff's non compliance with the notification—Plaintiff's application to the said officer for a certificate to execute the decree—Refusal of the application—Inability to comply with the notice—The word inability not confined to physical inability of the claimant In 1904 the plaintiff sued the defendant who was minor represented by the Talukdari Settlement Officer as their guardian for a decree upon a mortgage. The first Court held the mortgage to be invalid under the provisions of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888) and granted to the plaintiff a personal decree on the 27th September.

GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1888)—con d—s 29 29B—con'd

1903 the plaintiff appealed to the District Court against the said decree and a notice of the appeal was issued to the Talukdari Settlement Officer. On the 1st November following the Talukdari Settlement Officer took over the management of the defendant's estate. The notice of the appeal was served on that officer on the 26th of the same month. On the 24th December 1906 the Talukdari Settlement Officer issued a notification under s 29B of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888 as amended by Bom Act II of 1904) calling upon claimants to submit their claims within six months of the date of the notification. On the 14th March 1906 the District Court decided the plaintiff's appeal and modified the decree of the first Court by holding that the plaintiff had a valid mortgage upon the property of the defendants. On the 16th of the same month a copy of the appellata decree was sent to the Talukdari Settlement Officer on the application of his office. In July 1906 that is after the expiry of the period of six months given under the notification of the 24th December 1906 the Talukdari Settlement Officer as representing the defendants preferred a second appeal to the High Court against the District Court's decree. The second appeal having failed in August 1907 the plaintiff applied to the Talukdari Settlement Officer for a certificate in order that he might proceed with the execution of the decree and he was informed in reply on the 1st August 1908 that as he had not submitted his claim within six months of the date of the publication of the said notification his claim was deemed to have been duly discharged and no certificate could be granted to him. One month after the date of the receipt of the said reply the plaintiff applied for execution and both the lower Courts dismissed his application for execution on the ground that the want of a certificate under s 29E of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888 as amended by Bom Act II of 1904) was a valid bar to the execution. On second appeal by the plaintiff Held that the word 'unable' in s 29B of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888 as amended by Bom Act II of 1904) was not confined to physical inability on the part of the claimant but that the plaintiff was unable to put forward his real claim at the date of the notification and at the date of the notice he was unable to comply with it within the meaning of s 29B (3) of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1888 as amended by Bom Act II of 1904) and that the inability of the plaintiff having continued during the period of the six months from the date of the notification the plaintiff was not barred by s 29B from prosecuting the proceedings in Court. MANILAL GOPALAL v. KHODABHAI BARTANSHING (1914) I L R 38 Bom 604

—s 29 E—Talukdari Settlement Officer managing a Talukdar's estate—Creditor submitting his claim—Time taken up before the Talukdari Settlement Officer—Exclusion of time—Limitation Act (VI of 1877) B obtained a decree for money against G a Talukdar on the 2nd February 1903 and presented his first darkhast for execution on the 8th December 1903. On the 21st September 1906 G's estate came by notice to be in the management of the Talukdari Settlement Officer under s 29B of the Gujarat Talukdars Act 1888. B submitted his claim to the officer on the 6th March

GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1888)—cont'd—s 29 E—cont'd

1906 but it was rejected on the 12th August 1908. B then applied to the Civil Court on the 12th March 1901 and sought to bring it within time by claiming to exclude the period taken up before the Talukdari Settlement Officer. Held that the period in question could not be excluded in computing the time for the darkhast for s 29E of the Act placed no absolute bar on B's right to apply to the Court for execution by reason of the submission of his claim to the Talukdari Settlement Officer. Per Chandavakar J. "The Learned District Judge has gone beyond the plain meaning of Section 29E of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom VI of 1888) in disallowing from it a Subordinate Judge and holding that the present darkhast of the Respondent for execution of his decree is not barred by limitation. GANPATISING HIMAT v. BAJIRAM MAHARAJ (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 324

—Decree against Talukdar—Execution of decree—Certificate from the managing officer—Exclusion of time from the date of the decree to the date of the application for the certificate—Prior application to execute the decree unaccompanied by the certificate—Is such application in accordance with law—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) 1st 132 (5). On the 16th September 1910 an instalment decree was passed on the 1st April 1911 on failure to pay the first instalment the whole amount of the decree became payable. The decree was passed against Talukdars whose estate was taken under management under the provisions of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bombay Act VI of 1888). The first application to execute the decree was made on the 1st April 1914 but as it was not accompanied by a certificate from the managing officer under the provisions of s 29E of the Gujarat Talukdars Act 1888 it was rejected on the 15th June 1914. In August of the same year the certificate was applied for it was obtained on the 29th idem. The second application to execute the decree was made on the 28th February 1916. Against the contention that the application was barred by limitation it was urged that the first application was in accordance with law within the meaning of Art 182 of the Indian Limitation Act in spite of the absence of the certificate under the provision of s 29E of the Gujarat Talukdars Act 1888 and that the applicants were entitled to exclude the time from the date of the decree to the date of the application for the certificate under s 29E sub s 3 of the Act. Both the lower Courts rejected the application as being time barred. On appeal held allowing the appeal that the second application for execution was within time for under s 29E sub s 3 the applicants were entitled to exclude the time from the 16th September 1910 (the date of the decree) up to August 1914 (the date of the application for the certificate). But the Court differed as to whether the appeal ought to be allowed apart from s 29E (3) of the Gujarat Talukdars Act. SHAH J held that it ought as the application of 1914 was in accordance with law within the meaning of Art 182 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 though no certificate of the managing officer under s 29E (3) of the Gujarat Talukdars Act 1888 was produced.

GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1889)—contd

s 29 E—contd

Smile per MARTIN J that the application of 1914 was not made to the proper Court as directed in Explanation II to Art 182 of the Indian Limitation Act as at its date it was the duty of no Court to execute the decree or order there having been no certificate from the managing officer HARGOVIND FULCHAND v NANA SONA (1918) I L R 43 Bom 41

s 29 (g)—

whether notice to Talukdari Settlement Officer necessary—

See BOMBAY COURT OF WARDS ACT 1901, s 31 I L R 44 Bom 386

s 31—

Talukdari's estate—Talukdari estate—Estate held by a Talukdar on any tenure The expression Talukdari's estate means only the estate held by a Talukdar on Talukdari tenure and not property held on any other tenure which is distinguishable from the former Khadabhai v Chaganlal 9 Bom 1 R 110 followed BRACHUBHA MAASANGIL v PATIL v LA DUNNI (1909) I L R 34 Bom 55

Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1889)—Talukdari tenure—Wanda land (at Sarva)—the wanda land—Attachment of income Wanda lands are lands held by Rajputs or the representatives of Rajputs who after the Mahomedan conquest of Gujarat received one fourth of the land of certain villages on condition of keeping order in those villages. The lands were held either rent free or at a small quit rent. Where Sarva Wanda land the income of which is attached in execution of a decree is proved to have been attached as alienated land under the Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1889) the Court may presume that it is no land held upon Talukdari tenure in the strict sense of the word. The words Talukda's estate in s 31 of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1889) are used in a technical sense limited to the Talukdar's interest in the estate held by him by reason of his status as a Talukdar Khadabhai v Chaganlal 9 Bom 1 R 112 and Bhachibhai v Vels Dinnaji I L R 34 Bom 55 followed TALUKDARI SETTLEMENT OFFICER v CHHAGANLAL DWARKADAS (1910) I L R 33 Bom 87

Incumbrance created by a Talukdar—Adverse possession for more than twelve years after the death of the Talukdar—Title—Limitation A person claiming as an incumbrancer for more than twelve years from the death of a Talukdar can acquire title by adverse possession. The incumbrance which is claimed by virtue of adverse possession since the death of a Talukdar would not fall within s 31 of the Gujarat Talukdars Act (Bom Act VI of 1889) but would be an incumbrance arising from the operation of the law of limitation TALUKDARI SETTLEMENT OFFICER GUJARATI v KIRKHAVI v LARSHOTTAMNAD (1917) I L R 37 Bom 380

Talukdar's estate—Incumbrance by Talukdar and his son—Son has no power to create mortgage properly during his father's lifetime—Talukdar's incumbrance valid during his lifetime—Son may evict on by Talukdar's Settlement Officer—Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1889) s 31—Land Revenue Code The property in

GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1889)—contd

s 31—contd

dispute which was a Talukdari estate was mortgaged with possession to the plaintiff by a Talukdar and his son. After the death of the Talukdar the son sold the equity of redemption to the plaintiff. The estate having passed into the management of the Talukdari Settlement Officer that officer issued a notice to summarily evict the plaintiff from the property under s 79A of the Land Revenue Code 1879. The plaintiff sued for a declaration that he was entitled to remain in possession of the property. Held that all that was mortgaged was the life interest of the Talukdar which came to an end with his death under s 31 (f) of the Gujarat Talukdars Act 1888. Held further that at the date of the mortgage the son was not a co-sharer with his father in the Talukdari property and not having any interest in the property at the time he was not competent to encumber the interest to which he might succeed on his father's death. Held also that the sale by the son of the mortgaged property was an invalid alienation under s 31 (g) of the Gujarat Talukdars Act. Held therefore that the notice of summary eviction of the plaintiff was properly issued under s 79A of the Land Revenue Code 1879. A Jivadar is a Talukdar Per Macleod C J. The land held in Talukdari tenure is totally distinct from land ordinarily held as joint family property by a Hindu family. It is not subject to the ordinary law of inheritance or succession and partition of Talukdari land is governed by particular laws. It is only a person who has obtained a final decree of a Court of competent jurisdiction declaring him to be entitled to a share of a Talukdari estate and every co-sharer whose name has been recorded as such in the Settlement Register prepared in accordance with s 5 (Gujarat Talukdars Act) who can be entitled to have his share divided from the rest of the estate. S 79A of the Land Revenue Code refers to any person unauthorizedly occupying or wrongfully in possession of any land and therefore it does not matter whether a person is in unauthorized occupation of land before the date upon the section became applicable. BALJI ISHWARJI v THE TALUKDARI SETTLEMENT OFFICER (1920) I L R 44 Bom 832

s 37—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 141 180 I L R 43 Bom 6

H

HABEAS CORPUS

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 411
See EXTRADITION ACT I L R 43 Case 31

nature of—

See GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1930) s 2 I L R 33 Mad 603

HABEAS CORPUS—contd

be effected before the receipt of the requisition mentioned in s 3 otherwise the criminal might escape. The two sections do not overlap. Under s 3 sub s (1) of the Indian Extradition Act 1903 the only Government competent to issue the order for enquiry is the Government to whom the foreign state has made a requisition. This function must be performed strictly and cannot be delegated. Where the provisions of the statute have not been followed the report of the Magistrate cannot afford a foundation for the order of the Government of India under s 3 of the Indian Extradition Act 1903. In the matter of RUDDOLF STALLMANN (1911) I L R 39 Calc 164

2 ———— *High Court jurisdiction of—Power to issue writ—Procedure—Rights of the East India Company—Allegiance of the subject and sovereignty of the Crown—Prerogatives—Governor General in Council powers of legislation of—Emergency legislation—Act embodying provisions of Ordinances—Order for internment—Form of order—Warrant to arrest and imprisonment—Application for bail—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act I of 1898) s 49—Emergency Legislation Continuance Act (I of 1915)—Ordinances III and I of 1914—Indian Councils Act (21 and 25 Act c 61) s 22 and 23—East India Company's Act (16 (co 111 c 57) s 29—Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Acts (XII of 1877) (XVI of 1879) and (I of 1903)—Interpretation Act (22 and 53 Act c 63) s 11—General Clauses Acts (I of 1865) s 3 and (X of 1897) ss 6 and 7 Under s 23 of the Indian Councils Act 1861 (24 and 25 Act c 61) no Ordinance can have any force of law for more than 6 months from its promulgation but the Governor General in Council has the power to pass an Act embodying the provisions of an Ordinance. The Governor General in Council has also the power to oust the jurisdiction of the Courts and s 11 of Ordinance III of 1914 which is embodied in Act I of 1915 and which seeks to oust the jurisdiction of the Court does not offend against s 22 of the Indian Councils Act 1861. Act I of 1915 is not an Ordinance extended but an Act. It does not offend against the allegiance of the subject or the sovereignty of the Crown. It is not ultra vires and this Court has no jurisdiction to call in question the orders which have been passed hereunder. It is for the Governor General in Council to be satisfied on the materials before him. The Court cannot call for the materials to examine them. In the matter of Rudolf Stallmann I L R 39 Calc 161 Severing v Peg L P 31 C 287. In the matter of Tuckut Poy 1 Bombay 354. In the matter of Ineer Khan 6 B L J 329. The same case on appeal 6 D L P 409. Mier Coysman v The Government of Bombay I L R 18 Bom 636. The Queen v Burah L J 31 C 559. L R 5 I A 14 and 1 J v Halid v Jiff I L R 37 20 C 114 (Note) see referred to. Where an Act repeals a previous Act or a certain provision thereof and the repealing enactment is itself subsequently repealed by another Act—Held that the latter repeal did not since 1850 revive the Act or provision before repealed unless words there are reviving them. There was nothing in any of the Acts subsequent to the repealing Act (XII of 1915) which revived s 29 of the East India Company's Act (16 Geo III c 67). Where a person is detained in custody and an application is made to the Court under s 41 of the Criminal Procedure Code that the usual procedure was to* issue a Writ in the first instance and not to order the production of the petitioner. In re JEWANATHOO AND OTHERS (1916)

HABEAS CORPUS—contd

I L R 44 Calc 459

3 ———— *Jurisdiction—Arrest—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 491 490 491 493—Procedure—Applications under s 491 to whom should be made—Arrest under s 54—Reasonable suspicion or credible information what to be based upon—Duties of police officer arresting—Practice Applications under s 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure ought to be made to the Judge sitting on the Original Side and exercising the Ordinary Original Criminal Jurisdiction of the High Court. In the matter of Rudolf Stallmann I L R 39 Calc 161 referred to s 54 of the Code of Criminal Procedure gives very wide powers and ought to be rigorously construed. Reasonable suspicion or credible information upon which an arrest can be made by a police officer under s 54 must be based upon definite facts and materials placed before him which the officer must consider for himself before he can take any action under that section. He cannot delegate his discretion or take shelter under another person's belief or judgment but must act on his own personal responsibility. Queen v Behary Singh 7 W R Cr 3 followed. CHARU CHANDRA MAJUMDAR In re (1916)*

I L R 44 Calc 76

4 ———— *Extradition (Act VI of 1903)—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 491—Jurisdiction. The High Court a power to issue a writ of Habeas Corpus has not been taken away by the procedure provided in the Indian Extradition Act (XV of 1903) s 3 sub ss (6) and (7). The arrest and detention of the applicant having been outside the local limits the Court had no jurisdiction. Detention of a fugitive criminal pending the consideration of the Government is not illegal. In the matter of Rudolf Stallmann I L R 39 Calc 161 considered. A C Tors v FARRERON (1918) I L R 46 Calc 52*

HABIT

evidence of—

See PREVIOUS CONVICTIONS EVIDENCE OF
I L R 38 Calc 408

HAKES

See SANAD CONVICTION OF
I L R 36 Bom 639

HALF SISTER & SON OF WIDOW

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
I L R 40 Calc 82

HALAI MEMONS OF FATHIAWAR

See MEMONS I L R 43 Bom 647

HAND NOTE

See EVIDENCE ACT s 23 24 C W N 1100

Do and side—No stipulation for interest—whether interest payable—date from which interest payable. A hand note payable on demand but which does not provide for the payment of interest carries interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date the money ought to have been paid until the realisation of the debt Bishun Chandra v. Habi Auda Behari Lal 2 Pat L J 451

HAND NOTE—contd

HANDWRITING

See WILL 15 C W N 729

comparison of—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Cal 957

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Cal 545

proof of—

See SEDITIO I L R 39 Cal 606

PROOF OF HANDWRITING—Per JENKINS C J—Methods of proving handwriting discuss ed A document does not prove itself nor is an unproved signature proof of its having been written by the person whose signature it purports to bear S 73 of the Evidence Act does not sanction the comparison of any two documents but requires first that the standard writing shall be admitted or proved to be that of the person to whom it is attributed and secondly that the disputed writing must itself purport to have been written by the same person A comparison of hand writing is at all times as a mode of proof hazardous and inconclusive and especially so when made by one not conversant with the subject and without guidance from the arguments of counsel and evidence of experts Thodee Bibee v. Chand Chunder Roy L N P 270 referred to The value of expert evidence of handwriting discuss ed Reg v. Harvey 11 Cox C C 516 referred to Per Carnarvon J—Handwriting may in addition to the usual method be proved by circumstantial evidence under a 6th of the Evidence Act which prescribes no particular kind of proof Veel Kanto Pandit v. Juggobundho Ghose 12 B L R App 18 Abdool Ali v. Abdool Rahman 21 N P 463 and Abdulla Paru v. Gannibat I L R 11 Bom 690 referred to BAHINDRA KUMAR GHOSE v. EMPEROR (1909) I L R 37 Cal 467

A comparison of hand writing is at all times as a mode of proof hazardous and inconclusive and especially when it is made by one not conversant with the subject and without such guidance as might be derived from the arguments of counsel and the evidence of experts A comparison of writings has consequently been deemed a mode of ascertaining the truth which ought to be used with very great caution

GREENUTTY SARAJANI v. HARI DAS GHOSH 28 C W N 113

HANSARD'S PARLIAMENTARY REPORTS

admissibility of—

See LABEL I L R 37 Cal 760

HAQ CHAHARUM

See AGREEMENT I L R 41 All 417

See PROBATE ACT (MAD ACT I OF 1878) s 11 (1) (ii)

I L R 43 All 681

HARVEST

experimental landlors right of—

See ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD ACT I OF 1908) s 47 73 143

I L R 40 Mad 640

HAT

Right to hold the holding of a hat on a man's land is not in itself a wrongful act RAKHAI DAS SINGH v. EMPEROR

19 C W N 248

market franchise in if exists—Grant of such franchise if may be presumed—Inducing traders to come away from rival hat by intimidation—Compulsion if actionable There is in Bengal no such thing as a market franchise or a right to hold a market conferred by grant from the Crown nor can such right be acquired by prescription In Bengal the right to hold a market is treated as an incident to the ownership of land The proprietor of the old market has no monopoly or privilege which is entitled to protection and no immunity from competition Where illegal means in the nature of intimidation and physical compulsion were employed by agents of the Defendant acting within the scope of their employment to induce traders who would have gone to Plaintiffs' old hat to attend Defendants' new hat and as a natural consequence thereof there was diminution of Plaintiffs' profits from his hat Held—That the Plaintiff was entitled to a civil remedy by way of a suit for damages Per GRAYES J—whether mere enticing or watching apart from violence which according to the doctrine of common law is an unlawful means in case of trade disputes is unlawful in the case of rival hat owners HEM CHANDRA ROY v. BEPTA BEHARY SAHA SARDAR 24 C W N 800

HATCHETTA

Acknowledgment—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 19—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 25(u) A hatchetta is an acknowledgment within the meaning of a 19 of the Indian Limitation Act Maniram Seth v. Seth Rupchand I L R 33 Cal 1047 followed MAHENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. LALIT MOHAN DATTA (1918) I L R 46 Cal 746

HEADINGS OF CLAUSES

See DUNBAR v. MUNICIPAL ACT s 47 I L R 36 Bom 403

HEADINGS OF STATUTES

See NON OCCUPANCY RAILWAY I L R 44 Cal 267

HEADS OF CHARGE

See THAMBI JULIA I L R 47 Cal 795

HEARSAY EVIDENCE

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 53 I L R 39 Mad 449

HEBA BIL EWAZ

If valid without consideration The incidents of a gift for a consideration are very different from those of a simple gift If the passing of a consideration has not proved a Heba bil ewaz is not valid as a simple gift without consideration Mahomedan Law JIDDA JAY BIBI v. SHEIKH BAKTAR

24 C W N 96

HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM III OF 1874)—*contd*ss 5—contd

Mortgage by Vatan—S. 4 for account of redemption—Idem—possession by mortgagor—Deshmukhi v. Jaisoji I L R 7 Bom 185 (XIII of 1874) 13—Me ne profit from the profits of the suit—One Mahavrao Granthia of the plaintiff by a deed dated the 1st July 1867 mortgaged with possession certain Vatan Inam lands to Balaji Anant an ancestor of the defendant. Mahavrao died 18 3 and in 1890 the plaintiff sued to redeem the mortgage under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act 18 9. The defendant contended that by reason of the provisions of s. 5 of the Vatan Act the mortgage became void on the death of Mahavrao and that they had been in possession adversely since that date. The Court of first instance disallowed the contention on the ground that the mortgagor claimed to hold the property as such and not as owner and after taking accounts passed a decree in favour of the plaintiff awarding him the profits from the date of suit till possession at rupees four hundred a year. This decree was confirmed by the lower appellate Court. On appeal to the High Court Held that the mortgagor retained a mortgage for the purpose of the redemption suit even assuming that he had been in possession for more than twelve years since the death of the original mortgagor. Unless there was some definite indication on the part of the person in possession that he would from a certain date claim as absolute owner and not as mortgagor he could only acquire by adverse possession the limited interest to which he was entitled at the mortgagor's death namely that of a mortgagor. Held further that mesne profits from the date of suit could not be awarded as the enforcement of the provisions of s. 13 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act 18 9 placed the mortgagor in a much more favourable position than he would be in if he relied upon the terms of the contract and no presumption could arise that the mortgagor was apart from the provisions of the Act not entitled to retain possession after the date of the institution of the suit Jaisoji v. Jaisoji I L R 7 Bom 185 applied PANCHANDRA VENEJJI NAIK & HALLO DEVI DESHPANDE (1913)

I L R 39 Bom 587

ss 10 and 13—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) s. 18—Mahar's Vatan land—Acquisition by Government—Award—Compensation—Title by adverse possession against Vatan—Collector's certificate—Jurisdiction—Certain land with buildings thereon having been acquired by Government under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) the Assistant Collector passed an award whereby he awarded by way of compensation one sum to the owner of the buildings on the land and another to certain Mahar Vatan-dars on account of the land being Mahar's Vatan. The owner of the buildings having objected to the award the Assistant Collector at the instance of the objector referred the matter to the District Court under s. 18 of the Act. The District Judge found that the objector had acquired title to the land by adverse possession and thus became entitled to the compensation on account of the land. A writ to the Mahar's Vatan Subsequently the Collector forwarded to the District Court a certificate issued under s. 10 of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) that the order for the payment of the compensation to the objector should be set aside in accordance with the provisions of s. 10 and 13 of the Act. Thereupon the District Judge holding that he had no jurisdiction to decide whether the property was Vatan or not in the face of the Collector's certificate cancelled the order. The objector having appealed against the said order—Held reversing the award of the District Court that an award under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) was not a decree or order capable of execution under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) and was therefore not within the purview of s. 10 of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) Held further that the award of the District Court which was the cause of the certificate made it clear that the Mahar's property had been acquired by the objector by adverse possession before the commencement of the proceedings for the acquisition of the land by Government Per Curiam. Even if it could be said that there was any danger of the passing of the ownership by virtue or in execution of a decree or order in the Land Acquisition proceedings it could not be said that that result was arrived at without the sanction of Government who set the machinery of the Act in motion for the acquisition of the land Ailanth v. The Collector of Thana I L R 2 Bom 502 Collector of Thana v. Bhaskar Mahadev I L R 3 Bom 761 Pachaya v. Amingdar I L R 5 Bom 53 referred to LADDER EBRAM and CO. THE ASSISTANT COLLECTOR POONA (1910)

HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM III OF 1874)—*contd*ss 10 and 13—contd

I L R 35 Bom 146

ss 11 (A)—Revenue Jurisdiction Act (X of 1876) s. 4 (a)—Deshmukhi Vatan—Miras lease and mortgage by the Vatan-dar—Death of the Vatan-dar—Collector's order declaring the alienation null and void and directing the land to be restored to the representative of the deceased Vatan-dar—Adverse possession—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—A Deshmukhi Vatan-dar executed a miras lease and mortgage of certain vatan land to the plaintiff in the year 1877 and died in 1892. Before the expiry of twelve years from his death his legal representative made an application to the Assistant Collector for an order for possession on the ground that the land was Deshmukhi Vatan. In February 1900 the Assistant Collector passed an order which declared the alienation to be null and void under s. 11 of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) and directed the land to be restored to the applicant. Thereupon the plaintiff brought the present suit in the year 1901 against the legal representative (applicant before the Assistant Collector) and others for a perpetual injunction restraining the defendants from recovering possession of the land. The defendants contended that the suit was not maintainable by reason of s. 4 (a) of the Revenue Jurisdiction Act (X of 1876). Held that the order passed by the Assistant Collector directing the plaintiff to restore possession to the defendant being unauthorised under s. 11 of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1876) the Revenue Jurisdiction Act (X of 1876) was no bar to the maintenance of the suit. Held further that the mere fact that an application was made by the defendant to the Assistant Collector within twelve years of the death of the alienor did not interrupt plaintiff's adverse possession against the defendants MAGANCHANDRA K. KATHALRAY (1911)

37 Bom 37

HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM III OF 1874) old

s 18—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876) s 4 (a)

I L R 43 Bom 277

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 14

I L R 43 Bom 201

ss 25 and 36—Under s 25 it is the duty of a Collector to determine the Custom of a Vatan and what person shall be recognised as representative Vatanadar. A suit for a declaration that Plaintiff is the nearest heir of a deceased Vatanadar is maintainable under s 36 notwithstanding it is manifest that the declaration is sought for the purpose of establishing a fact which would enable the Plaintiff to have his name entered in the Vatan Register. RAHIM KHAN v DADAVIYA HADERKHAN

I L R 34 Bom 101

A suit for a declaration that Plaintiff is nearest heir of a deceased representative Vatanadar within the jurisdiction of a Civil Court although a declaration that the plaintiff is entitled to have his name entered in Vatan Register is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court. SHAN KHAN BABAJI KULKARNI v DATTATRAYA BHOWANI

I L R 40 Bom 55

ss 25 36 63 and 64 (as amended by Bom Act III of 1910)—Uthark Vatan—Suit to be declared a Vatanadar—Civil Court—Jurisdiction—The plaintiffs by a suit filed in the Civil Courts sought a declaration that they were the Vatanadars of a Uthark Vatan. It was contended that although the Civil Courts had jurisdiction to make a declaration as to Vatanadars claiming Patils or Kulkarnis Vatan the Courts had no jurisdiction to make any declaration as regards Uthark Vatan. Held that it was competent to the Civil Courts to grant a declaration that the plaintiffs were Vatanadars of a Uthark Vatan. Ram Chandra Dikhollor v Inant Sai Shetti I L R 3 Bom 25 followed. RAOJI FAKIRA v DADO (1916)

I L R 41 Bom 23

s 67—Collector—Vatanadars—Service Register—Suit for declaration as head of family—Civil Court—Jurisdiction—The plaintiffs brought a suit to have it declared that they were entitled to a share of the vatan and to have their names recorded as such in the Service Register kept by the Collector. Held that the suit fell under the ban of clause (4) of s 67 of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) and was not maintainable by the Civil Court. Chand Vitaran v Bapuji Mahale I L R 18 Bom 516 and Balkrishna Chimanji v Balkaji Pannalal I L R 9 Bom 25 explained. JIVAJI SAMBHAJI v FAKIR SARAJI (1911) I L R 36 Bom 420

HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM V OF 1886)

s 2—

HINDU LAW I L R 37 Bom 595

HEREDITARY PRIEST

HINDU LAW—HEREDITARY PRIEST

HEREDITARY TENURE

—It implies fixity of rent—

s LANDLORD AND TENANT

24 C W N 84

HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACT (MAD III OF 1895)

See PENSIONS ACT s 4

I L R 38 Mad 559

s 3—Other offices meaning of—The words other hereditary village offices in cl 3 of s 3 Mad Act III of 1895 do not mean offices of a description different from those referred to in cls (1) and (2) of the section but offices other than those in the localities dealt with by those clauses. A suit for the recovery of the office of karnam in an inam village falls within cl (3) and not cl (1) of s 3 of the Act and is not cognisable by the civil courts. AUDIPAZU VEERAYYA v AUDIPAZU SANGALYA (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 177

ss 3 21—Act applicable to offices mentioned in s 3 cl 4 only in villages other than proprietary estates—Cls 3 and 4 of s 3 of Act III of 1895 must be read together. The Act is applicable to offices mentioned in cl 4 of s 3 only in villages other than those in proprietary estates and s 21 of the Act does not oust the jurisdiction of Civil Courts in regard to such offices in proprietary estates. VEERABRAH ACHARI v SUFFIAN ACHARI (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 488

s 5—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 EXPL.

I L R 41 Mad 418

Permanent lease not a transfer within the meaning of s 5 S 5 of Madras Act III of 1895 only prohibits the transfer of ownership. A permanent lease of lands forming the emoluments of an office does not amount to a transfer of ownership within the meaning of s 5 and is not prohibited by its provision. Tenent Anwara Ichhapak Vaidar v Alagoo Moothoo Narayana S. Joo I L R 327 referred to. ASHUR BABARU BISBOYI v SOBHANABAIAN HANIFISTEYA VAIKO (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 340

ss 13 21—S 21 is not to oust for recovery of land. A suit in the Civil Courts for land not based on the ground that such land constituted part of the emoluments of any of the offices described in s 13 of Madras Act III of 1895 is not barred by s 21 of the Act. The effect of the words in s 13 of the Act but such decision etc is to preserve the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts even in cases where the Collector decided the case on the assumption mentioned therein and not to oust such jurisdiction where he did not. CHAYARA RAYAN v ANANALA RATTAYIA (1907)

I L R 33 Mad 235

Prohibition in s 21 applies only when jurisdiction is conferred on Revenue Courts by s 13—Construction of statute—Notwithstanding the apparent generality of the language of s 21 of Madras Act III of 1895 it must be held that the section takes away the jurisdiction of Civil Courts only in the cases in which jurisdiction is conferred on Revenue Courts by s 13. A suit for a village Amra inam land on the expiry of a lease granted by such village officer to the defendant is cognisable by the Civil Courts as the plaintiff has only to prove the letting and expiry of the term and he is not called upon to prove that the defendant will be estopped from claiming the title to the land. Variyankulu v Narayankulu 16 Mad L J 33 referred to

HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACT (MAD

III OF 1835) c 1

s 5-c 1

Ke. ren. Narasimha A. Narasimha Isthali
I L R 20 Mad 1 C referred to. It is a general principle of law that every presumption shall be made in favour of the jurisdiction of a Civil Court and that it shall not be taken away except by express words or by necessary implication. Muvula Seetham Naidu v. Doddai Rami Naidu (1909) I L R 33 Mad 208

HEREDITY

principle of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWARRI*I L R 38 Mad 491*HERITABILITYSee BUILDING LEASE*I L R 37 Cal 377See NON OCCUPANCY PRIOR*I L R 41 Cal 1103*HEPITABLE ESTATESee JACIR I L R 42 Cal 305See LANDLORD AND TENANT*I L R 47 Cal 286*HERITABLE RIGHTSee SARAPAKARI TENURE*I L R 40 Cal 378*HIGH COURTSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 110 I L R 42 Bom 119See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (BOMBAY) s 160 I L R 39 Bom 47See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF S. III H. COURTS ACT (24 AND 25 VICT c 104) s 2, 9 AND 11*I L R 39 Bom 804See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (1 OF 1894) s 64 I L R 37 Bom 508

concurrent jurisdiction of (with district Court)—

See PROBATE I L R 37 Cal 224

certification of—

See PRACTICE I L R 48 Cal 994

constitution of—

See STATUTE 4 AND 5 VICT 1840 s 1 AND 2 I L R 36 All 168

criminal Revisional Jurisdiction—

See CRIMINAL JURISDICTION 14 C W N 808
I L R 37 Cal 714See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) 430 130*I L R 43 Bom 607

Criminal Sessions—

See PERJURY I L R 43 Cal 542

difference of opinion on Appellate Bench—11 opinion of Senior Judge to prevail—

See LETTERS LATENT*25 C W N 695

disciplinary jurisdiction—

See BOMBAY REGULATION (II OF 1877) 11 I L R 37 Bom 354*HIGH COURT—contdSee HIGH COURT JURISDICTION*I L R 44 Bom 418See LOCAL PRACTITIONERS ACT 1879 s 13*I L R 42 All 86See LETTER LATENT s 8*I L R 42 All 453

error of law—

See EVIDENCE ACT (1 OF 1873) s 4
I L R 42 Bom 352

extraordinary civil jurisdiction of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 I L R 40 Bom 86

inherent jurisdiction of—

See BOMBAY (IMPROVEMENT TRUST ACT (POM IV OF 1875) 48 (II)*I L R 42 Bom 54See INHERENT JURISDICTION inherent power of—

See APPEAL I L R 42 Cal 433See INHERENT POWERS

interference by—

See ACQUITTAL I L R 42 Cal 612

jurisdiction of—

See EXTRADITION I L R 46 Cal 31See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION*I L R 37 Cal 13

jurisdiction of to grant bail—

See BAIL I L R 37 Cal 412See EXTRADITION I L R 46 Cal 31

On transfer from District Court—

See GUARDIAN I L R 39 Mad 807

original side jurisdiction—

See COMMITTEE OF COURT*I L R 41 Cal 173See SALE I L R 48 Cal 69See STATUS OF EXECUTION*I L R 48 Cal 706

power of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 115*I L R 42 All 18 & 26See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 439 AND 440*I L R 37 All 31See EVIDENCE I L R 47 Cal 671See EXTRADITION WARRANT*I L R 42 Cal 703See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OFSee INTERLOCUTORY ORDER*14 C W N 147See LAND ACQUISITION*I L R 48 Cal 916See EMEND I L R 42 Cal 888

Power of to acquit instead of ordinary New Trial—

See JURY 25 C W N 623

HIGH COURT—contd

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 110

430 430 I L R 41 All 302

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 46 Calc 132

power of interference by order Charter Act—See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 144

I L R 38 Mad 469

powers of to alter acquittal into conviction in revision—See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) ss 423 430

I L R 37 Mad 119

powers to give directions to an administrator—

See SUCCESSION ACT 1860 s 264

I L R 44 Bom 682

power to interfere with the di cre
tion of District Judge—See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869) s 14
I L R 41 Bom 26power to call for record or Inter locutory orders—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 110
I L R 44 Bom 619

practice of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 428
I L R 36 All 378

revisional jurisdiction—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 110

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s
140 AND 435 I L R 36 All 233

I L R 42 All 214

ss 340 AND 430

I L R 37 All 419

s 430 I L R 43 Bom 364

s 430 I L R 41 Bom 560

superintendence and control by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF
1908) s 3 110

I L R 37 Bom 114

It is the duty of a subordinate court to follow the decision of the High Court to which it is subordinate (per Sir John Pigg) ILLUSTRATION PARADIGMATIC

I L R 37 All 259

General Rules of

for Civil Courts Chapter XVI rule 1—Certifi cate of fee— Authorized agents See certificate filed by a pleader under rule 1 of Chapter XVI of the General Rules for Civil Courts was duly sworn to by the pleader and by a person who had actually paid the fee and who stated that he was the agent (or friend) of the pleader Held that the certificate was in sufficient compliance with the rule and there was no necessity that the agent of the pleader should be authorized in any special manner GUPTAN MAL v HETI RAM (1918)

I L R 41 All 247

HIGH COURT—concl

Fusion—Practice—

Discretion of Court—Criminal Procedure Code ss 405 and 409—Indian Penal Code (Act No XLV of 1860) ss 448 and 451 Where at the hearing of an application in revision it appears that the facts established by the record do not justify the conviction of the applicant of the offence of which he has been convicted but do justify his conviction of a minor offence of a similar nature it is within the discretion of the Court to convict the applicant of such minor offence but it is also within the discretion of the Court to refrain from doing so The rule of practice according to which the High Court ordi narily refuses to entertain an application in revi sion where the applicant might have gone in the first instance to the Sessions Judge or to the District Magistrate is not a rule of absolutely invariable application and an order of admission made by a Judge of the High Court under cl (2) of s 435 of the Code of Criminal Procedure though passed ex parte will be sufficient to take the case out of the operation of such rule of practice EMPEROR
v MANSHUR HUSSAIN (1919) I L R 41 All 587

HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 113 I L R 43 All 564

O ALA 1 s 141

I L R 38 Mad 16

See CONTENT OF COURT

I L R 41 Calc 173

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898)

s 140 SUB s (6)

I L R 41 Bom 631

s 203 I L R 38 Mad 512

s 307 I L R 37 Mad 236

See CRIMINAL REVISIONAL JURISDICTION

See CRIMINAL TRIALS ACT s 5

I L R 47 Calc 843

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 38 Calc 24

See DIVORCE I L R 44 Bom 924

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869) ss 3

16 37 44 I L R 40 Bom 109

See EXTRADITION I L R 38 Calc 547

I L R 39 Calc 164

See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Calc 466

I L R 47 Calc 190

See HALFAS CORRE

I L R 29 Calc 164

I L R 44 Calc 459

See High Court

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 8 Calc 240

See LETTERS PATENT (AMENDMENT) OF THE PUNJAB HIGH COURT

I L R 27 Bom 273

See MARRIAGE ACT 37 25 C W N 175

See MARRIAGE I L R 47 Calc 70

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 43 Calc 90

HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF—co id

See PAESIS I L R 38 Bom 615

See PERUMI I L R 43 Calc 542

See PAT TICE—WITHDRAWAL OF SCIT
I L R 41 Calc 632

See PRESS ACT (I of 1910) ss 3 (1) 4
(1) 1st 19 20 AND 22
I L R 39 Mad. 1164

See PREVIEW I L R 41 Calc 809

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 44 Calc 816

See SOMTHAL IARGANAS
I L R 41 Calc 876

to order person not to proceed in other court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 10
I L P 44 Bom 283

to re instate legal practitioner after disbarment—

See MUKTEAR I L R 38 Calc 309

to remand—

See INHERENT JURISDICTION
I L R 44 Calc 929

to stay execution pending Appeal to Privy Council—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF
I L R 38 Calc 335

1 ————— Criminal Revisional Jurisdiction—*Order by a first class Magistrate for discontinuance of a house as a brothel—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) ss 6 435 and 439—
Eastern Bengal and Assam Disorderly Houses Act (II of 1907) ss 2 to 6—Procedure in cases under ss 3 and 6 of the Act—Offence A Magistrate of the first class acting under s 3 of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Disorderly Houses Act 1907 is a Criminal Court within s 6 of the Criminal Procedure Code and the High Court has jurisdiction to revise his proceedings under ss 435 and 439.
But where such proceedings were in themselves perfectly fair and reasonable the only error being possibly the administration of oaths to the witnesses the High Court refused to interfere. Ss 2 and 3 of the Act do not create any offence the only offence created by the Act being as provided in s 6 disobedience to the order of the Magistrate passed under a 3. The procedure to be followed under the Act is that upon a sanction report or order under s 6 the Magistrate must if he intends to go further summon the owner or other person mentioned in a 3 to show cause and in the event of his failure to appear he may proceed in his absence. He must next satisfy himself that the house is used as described in a 2 (1) (b) or
(c) doing so in any way that does not violate the ordinary rules of fairness and propriety. He is not bound to act only on legal evidence and he need not and possibly may not administer oaths to persons of whom he may make enquiry.
If he makes an order under s 3 proceedings for disobedience must be taken independently under s 6 and conducted according to the ordinary procedure prescribed for the trial of offences.
AJANI KHEMTAWALI v. PRAMATHA NATH CHOW-DHRY (1910) I L R 37 Calc 287*

HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF—co id

2 ————— Criminal revision-al jurisdiction—*Int reference on questions of law—
Findings of facts when can be questioned—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) s 435—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 511 124A—Attempt to commit offences—Attempt to commit the offence of sedition—Intention a question of fact.
It is the settled practice of the High Court of Bombay to refuse to interfere in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction in regard to findings of fact except on very exceptional grounds, such as a misstatement of evidence by the lower Court or the mis construction of documents or the placing by that Court of the onus of proof on the accused contrary to the law of evidence. Queen Empress v. Sheikh Sahib Badrudin I L R 8 Bom
19; Queen Empress v. Malomci Hagan (1886)
Unrep Cr Cas 44 and *Queen Empress v.
Chagan Dayram* I L P 14 Bom 331 followed.
Under the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) all that is necessary to constitute an attempt to commit an offence is some external act something tangible and ostensible of which the law can take hold as an act showing progress towards the actual commission of the offence. It does not matter that the progress was interrupted. An attempt to publish sedition is complete as soon as the accused knowingly sells a copy containing the seditious article.
It is none the less an attempt because something external to himself happens which prevents a perusal of the article by the buyers or any other member of the public. In cases of sedition the question of intention is one of fact. *EMPEROR v.
GANESHI BALMANT MODAK* (1909)*

I L R 34 Bom 378

3 ————— Revisional jurisdiction over Presidency Small Cause Court—*Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1905) s 115—Appeal —Practice—Sanction to prosecute—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1895) ss 195 (6) 439. A Judge of the Presidency Small Cause Court Calcutta had summarily refused an application for sanction to prosecute the plaintiff for making a false claim in a suit before him. On an application to the High Court under s 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure to set aside this order and to compel the Judge to determine the application—Held that the jurisdiction of the High Court in all such revisional applications whether in respect of suits or other matters is vested in a single Judge sitting on the Original Side. Samsher Mandal v. Ganendra Narain Mitter I L P 99 Calc 498. *Sarat Chandra
Singh v. Brojo Lal Mukerjee* I L P 9 Calc
236 followed. Haladhar Maiti v. Choytonna Maiti I L R 30 Calc 533 referred to. A Civil Court when acting under s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not in any way exercising criminal jurisdiction and is subject to the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court under s 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Sahg Ram v. Pamji Lal I L P 28 All 551. In the matter of the petition of Bhup Kumar I L P 96 All 949. *I am Prasad
Roy v. Sooba Poo* I C W N 400. *Guru Churn
Saha v. G. Raja Sundari Das* 7 C W N 119. *Kali
Prasad Chatterjee v. Dhubani Mohini Das* 8 C
W N 75. Eranholi Aikhan v. King Emperor
I L P 26 Mad 98 referred to. An application under a 195 sub s 6 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not an appeal, hence the revisional jurisdiction under a 115 of the Civil Procedure Code is not excluded. *Hardi v. Hanuman Datt

HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF—contd

Narain I L R 26 All 214 distinguished. PAMA
DHIN BANTA v SEWDAK SINGH (1910)
I L R 37 Cal 714

4. ————— Provisional Jurisdiction—Error by Small Cause Court on a question of limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 115—Limitation. An error by the Small Cause Court on a question of limitation does not justify the interference of the High Court under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. Amritav Krishna Deshpande v Balkrishna Ganesh Amrapurkay I L R 11 Bom 488 Sundar Singh v Dara Shankar I L R 29 All 78 and Amir Hassan Khan v Sheo Baksh Singh I L R 11 Cal 6 referred to. RAMGOPAL JHODHODWALLA v JOHNSMALL KITEMKA (1912)
I L R 39 Cal 473

5. ————— Trial of Indian Seaman for an offence committed on board a British vessel on the high seas—Stoppage of the vessel thereafter at intermediate ports—Accused brought to Calcutta in custody—Applicability of English law to the offence and the charge and of Indian law to the procedure and sentence—Courts (Colonial) Jurisdiction Act (37 and 58 Vict c. 27) s. 3—Merchant Shipping Act (37 and 58 Vict c. 60) s. 684 686. The High Court of Calcutta has jurisdiction in its Original Criminal Side under ss. 684 and 686 of the Merchant Shipping Act (37 and 58 Vict c. 60) to try a Native Indian seaman for murder or manslaughter committed on board a British vessel on the high seas, who is brought to Calcutta under custody notwithstanding that the vessel touched after the commission of the offence at intermediate ports in the course of the voyage. The offence should be tried and the charge framed under the English law but the procedure at the trial and the sentence must be regulated by the law of India. S. 3 of 37 and 58 Vict c. 27 does not deal with the trial of the case but with the sentence after conviction. Queen Empress v Sheikh Abdool Rahiman I L R 14 Bom 227 and King Emperor v Chief Officer of the Mughlari I L R 8 Bom 636 dissented from. EMPEROR v SALMULLAN (1912)
I L R 39 Cal 487

6. ————— Restraint of suit outside the jurisdiction—Persons not residing within jurisdiction—Injunction. The High Court has power only to restrain a person who happens to be within its jurisdiction from prosecuting a suit without its jurisdiction. On the principle of equity acting in personam the mere fact that he possesses property moveable or immovable within the jurisdiction but does not reside within it does not give the High Court jurisdiction over him, since in the event of an injunction being granted against him and that being disobeyed, he could not be subjected to the process of contempt. Fulcan Iron Works v Bushmuhur Persal I L R 3 Cal 233 13 C W N 316 1 Ind Cas 27 followed. The Carron Iron Co v MacLaren 5 H L C 416 s. c. 41 L J Ch 690 Margie Chani v Gopal Pann I L R 31 Cal 101 relied on. SEKTA DAS v BHACHAR v DAS (1911) I L R 35 Cal 405 18 C W N 4

7. ————— Trespass High Court 136, d. 1—Wrongful cutting and removal of coal—Trespass—Disputed boundary—Suit for land—Force ment between predecessors in title of parties—In equity of contract and estate. The plaintiff company's predecessors in title who held certain coal lands known as Mouza Lodna in Manbhum, under a permanent lease granted an underlease of a share thereof to S and it was agreed that the boundary should be demarcated between the portion underleased and the portion retained by the grantors and that a barrier of 30 feet of coal should be maintained between the two portions of the mouza, and that if either party encroached within 15 feet of the boundary line he should make good any loss sustained by the other party. No boundary was demarcated at the time. The permanent lease of the said mouza was subject to the said underlease to S subsequently assigned to T and others and thereafter the boundary was laid down and marked by the respective agents of T and others and of S and a plan showing the boundary was signed by both parties. Subsequent thereto T and others assigned their permanent lease of the mouza to the plaintiff company and S granted an underlease of his share in the mouza to P. L. S who granted an underlease of the same to the defendant who there carried on a colliery. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant had wrongfully cut into and removed portions of coal from the 30 feet of barrier and beyond it that the trespass and conversion had taken place within two years and that the coal so removed had been sold and delivered to the plaintiff company under an agreement to purchase the output of the defendant's colliery and claimed damages for the value of the coal so removed and damages caused by the breach of contract in cutting through the barrier. The defendant denied that he had carried away any coal from the 30 feet barrier and stated that he had confined his operations well within the area underleased to him and that the plaintiff company had never been in possession of the area from which he had carried away coal. Held that the suit so far as it sought to recover damages for carrying away the plaintiff company's coal was founded on a case of trespass quare clausum freget which necessitated the title in respect of that coal being gone into and was therefore a suit for land within the meaning of cl. 12 of the Charter. Pajmohun Doss v East Indian Railway Co 10 R L P 241 distinguished. That so far as the agreement not to cut into the 30 feet of barrier was concerned there was no privity of contract or estate between the defendant and the plaintiff company and the defendant was not personally liable on any of the covenants in the underlease granted to S and that the plaintiff did not disclose any cause of action against the defendant based on the agreement. LODHA COLLIERY CO LD v BIKIN BIKHARI DASS (1912)

HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF—contd

I L R 39 Cal 739

8. ————— Order under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code—By Settlement Officer—Whether civil appellate or criminal appellate suit can remain—Crim and 1 procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s. 439—Civ 1 Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s. 11—High Courts Act (Act 1 of 1908) s. 101 s. 11 and 15. In the case of an order passed by a Civil or Revenue Court under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code (i) S. 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code has no application (ii) The High Court can exercise the powers vested in it by s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code of a 1 of the High Courts Act and (iii) The Bench of the High Court exercising criminal jurisdiction cannot, as such deal with the matter on revision but the Judges composing the

HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF—contd

Bench may do so if authorised by the Chief Justice under s. 14 of the High Court Act. Kali Prasad Chatterjee v Bhuvan Mohini Das 8 C W N 73 and Emperor v Gopal Datt 1 L P 31 Cal. 42 considered and approved of to a certain extent. EMPEROR v HAR PRASAD DAS (1913)

I L R 40 Cal. 477

9 ——— Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng VI of 1908) s. 27—Application for enhancement of rent—Jurisdiction of the High Court to set aside an order of Deputy Commissioner passed without jurisdiction on appeal from an order of Deputy Collector—Judicial proceeding Proceedings on applications for enhancement of rent under s. 27 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act are judicial proceedings and Deputy Commissioners in the performance of their judicial duties under the Act are Courts subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court. The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere in cases where the Courts of Collectors have either exceeded the jurisdiction or failed or refused to exercise the jurisdiction vested in them by the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act. Chaitan Lal Goswami Mahapatra v Kunja Bihari Pattnaik 1 L R 33 Cal. 87 referred to. KARTIK CHAN DEB OJHA v GORA CHAND MAHTO (1913)

I L R 40 Cal. 518

10 ——— Stay of Execution—Inherent powers of Court—Special leave to appeal to the Privy Council—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss. 112 and 131 O XLII s. 5 (2)—Letters Patent 1865 cl. 36 The High Court is competent to make an order for stay of proceedings in execution of its decree in view of an application by the Judgment debtor to the Judicial Committee for special leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council. Hurro Chander Roy Chowdhury v Shoorothonee Debta 3 W P 40² Panchanan Singh Roy v Dwarka Nath Roy 3 O L J 29 Hukam Chand Bhai v Kamalanand Singh 1 I R 33 Cal. 927 3 O L J 67 Mahomed Wahiduddin v Hakimani 1 L R 2 Cal. 767 Tara Pado Chose v Kamini Das 1 L R 29 Cal. 644 Mahad o v Budhai Ram 1 L R 26 Al 353 Cajju v King Emperor 2 All J 173 Brij Coomar v Ramrick Dass 5 G W N 781 Nitjyomoni Das v Madhu Sudan Sen 1 L R 39 Cal. 335 L P 38 I 4 referred to. NANDA KISHORE SINGH v PAM GOLAM SAHU (1914)

I L R 40 Cal. 955

11 ——— Power to set aside order under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code—and to make consequential or incidental orders—Inherent powers of the Court—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss. 145 435 439—Government of India Act (5 & 6 Geo V c. 61) s. 107 It is now well established that the High Court has power under s. 107 of the Government of India Act (5 & 6 Geo V c. 61) to set aside proceedings under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code instituted without jurisdiction notwithstanding standing s. 435 (3) of the Code. Hurballah Narain Singh v Luckmeswar Prasad Singh 1 L R 26 Cal. 183 Laldhari Singh v Sukhra Narain Singh 1 L P 27 Cal. 89² Jagmohan Pal v Ram Kumar Gope 1 L P 28 Cal. 416 Kulada Kinkar Roy v Danesh Vir 1 L R 33 Cal. 33 Sukh Lal Sheikh v Tara Chard Ta 1 L R 33 Cal. 68 Khosh Mahomed Sirlari v Na Mahomed 1 L R 33 Cal. 35² referred to. The Court has power under the general terms of s. 107 when setting aside the proceedings to make such consequential or incidental orders as may be necessary in the interests of justice in the circumstances of a particular case and to reach and remedy all forms of judicial highbandedness. Lehhraj Ram v Debe Pershad 12 C W N 678 relied on. Though the Criminal Procedure Code contains no provision analogous to s. 151 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) Criminal Courts no less than Civil Courts have inherent power to make such orders as are necessary in the ends of justice. Such power is not however to be exercised capriciously or arbitrarily but ex debito justitie on sound general principles and subject to the statutory provisions applicable to the matters. Pulin Behary Das v King Emperor 15 O L J 517 Budhu Lal v Chaitu Gop 1 L P 44 Cal. 816 Ram Ghandra Mistry v Nobin Mirza 1 L R 25 Cal. 630 Podger v Comptoir D'Escompte de Paris 1 L R 3 P C 465 Ahmed Ali v Kenoo Khan 1 L R 36 Cal. 44 In re Lakshman Govind Arugude 1 L R 26 Bom 552 approved. Basudeb Surma Goswami v Na vrudhin 1 L R 14 Cal. 834 Queen Empress v Fatah Chand 1 I R 24 Cal. 449 Prayag Mahalon v Gobind Mahalon 1 L R 3² Cal. 602 Arju Mea v Arman Mea 7 O L J 369 Suryya Kumar Upadhyay v Dina bandhu Pal 15 C W N 2 colv Karimuddin Fahir v Naimuddin Kavaraj 3 O L J 673 Tulshi Ram v Abhar Ahmad 1 L R 7 Al 655 In re Jannanuranabai 1 L R 1 Bom 630 In re Patanlal Ringudas 1 L R 17 Bom 748 In re Devidin Duranprasad 1 I R 22 Bom 844 In re Kuppammal 1 L J 29 Mad 315 and Chingaa Reddi v Rimasamy Gounden 16 Cr J 104 referred to and explained. The High Court has therefore inherent power to give directions as to disposal of property attached and dealt with by a Magistrate in the course of proceedings instituted without jurisdiction under s. 145 of the Code. The Court ordered that the lac in dispute remaining unsold and the proceeds of the lac already sold should be kept in the custody of the Subordinate Judge pending the decision of a Civil Court as to the title to the same and gave further directions in the matter. Chingaa Reddi v Rimasamy 16 Cr J 104 Hood Barrs v Heriot [1896] A C 171 Peruvian Guano Co v Dreyfus Bros [1896] A C 166 referred to. PIOTR v ALI MAHAMMAD MANDAL (1920)

HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—contd

I L R 48 Cal. 522

12 ——— Disciplinary Jurisdiction—Amended Letters Patent Clause 10—Bombay Regulation 2 of 1897 s. 56—Signing of a pledge to civilly disobey certain laws to be fixed thereafter—Satyagraha movement—Lawyers taking the pledge are amenable to the Disciplinary Jurisdiction—Advocates, Fakhis and Pleaders status and duty of The respondents who were lawyers practising in the Courts of the Ahmedabad District joined a movement called the Satyagraha Sabha which was started as a protest against the enactment of the Anarchical and Revolutionary Crimes Act (XI of 1919) and signed a pledge whereby they bound themselves to refuse civilly to obey these laws (in the Anarchical and Revolutionary Crimes Act) and such other laws as a Committee to be hereafter appointed may think fit. A question having arisen whether the respondents had by taking the pledges made themselves liable to be dealt with under the Disciplinary Jurisdiction of the High Court—Held that the action of the respondents brought them within the Disciplinary Jurisdiction of the High Court and that under the circumstances a warning to them was sufficient. Per MACLEOD C J — Advocates and pleaders are a privileged class enrolled not only for the purpose of rendering assistance to the Courts in the administration of justice but also for giving professional advice for which they are entitled to be paid to those members of the public who require their services. Their position training and practice give them immense influence with the public and their example must necessarily have a much greater effect whether for good or for evil than the example of those who do not occupy this privileged position. It is not necessary in order for us to be able to exercise our jurisdiction that any offence should have been committed nor is it necessary that what the respondents have done should have subjected them to anything like general infamy or imputation of bad character. In re JIVANLAL VARAJRAY DESAI (1919) I L R 44 Bom 418

HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF—contd

13 — Suit against Receiver without leave of Court — Application for leave after filing of suit — Amendment of title of plaint — Summons — Practice — Costs. A suit was filed by the plaintiff against the defendants who were the Receivers of an estate appointed by the High Court in a certain suit. The defendants were not described in the title to the plaint as Receivers of the estate nor was the leave of the Court first obtained before the filing of the suit. The plaintiff subsequently applied for leave to continue the suit against the defendants as Receivers and to amend the title of the plaint and the proceedings accordingly. Held allowing the plaintiff's application that the defect could be cured by leave subsequently granted if there was no bar to the institution of the suit that is to the jurisdiction of the Court to admit the plaint. Rustomjee Dhanjibhai Sethna v Frederic Gaebels (1918) 46 Cal 552 followed. Chandulal v Anand bin Umar Sultan (1896) 21 Bom 351 and Arayan Shankar v Secretary of State (1906) 30 Bom 570 referred to. Per CURLIAM — The necessity for leave to sue the Receiver rests upon two considerations (1) that such a suit is incompatible with the dignity and authority of the Court (2) that it might interfere with the duty of the Court to maintain the Receiver's possession. Neither of these considerations affects the jurisdiction of the Court. They are matters which the Court can deal with after the suit is filed and the Court could order the suit to be stayed until it was satisfied that there was no encroachment upon its authority nor attempt to interfere with the Receiver's possession. JAMSHEDJI v HUSSEINBAI AHMED BHAI (1919) I L R 44 Bom 903

HIGH COURT POWER OF

See under VARIOUS HIGH COURTS
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 14, 40 AND 43 I L R 38 All 233
 s 43 I L R 25 All 109
See HIGH COURT
See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 43 Cal 916

HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS

See under VARIOUS HIGH COURTS
 ————— Allahabad, Chap III, r 2 (1906) —

HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 122 I L R 40 All 1
 OOXLIR 1 and 3 I L R 43 All 660
 ————— Ch IV rr 5 and 8 (1911) —
See EXECUTION OF DECREE I L R 36 All 33
 ————— Ch XXI r 1 (1911) —
 ————— Held that there was no necessity that an agent for a client should be authorized in any special manner. GUDDAR MAL v HET RAY I L R 41 All 245
See FEEL CERTIFICATE I L R 42 All 542
 ————— Bombay (original) rr 16 (2) and 17 — See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47 XXI r 92 I L R 44 Bom 551
 ————— r 62 —
See HIGH COURTS ACT (24 AND 25 VICT c 104) ss 2 9 AND 13 I L R 39 Bom 604
 ————— rr 81 321 and 323 — Delegation of powers under rr 321 and 323 to the Prothonotary — Power of the Prothonotary to deal with applications to give short service of notice of motion. The plaintiff filed a suit against the defendants claiming inter alia the appointment of an interim receiver and an interim injunction. The plaintiff obtained from the Prothonotary leave to give the defendants short notice of a motion in the said suit under rr 321 and 323 of the Bombay High Court Rules. The defendants objected that the Prothonotary had no power to shorten the time for notice. Held, that the Prothonotary had such power. MOONJI MANECK v JASSU PARBRAT (1911) I L R 36 Bom 418
 ————— rr 397 399 —
See COMMISSIONER I L R 41 Bom 719
 ————— r 704 —
See COSTS I L R 39 Bom 383
 ————— Bombay appellate rr I and 5 —
See HIGH COURTS ACT (24 AND 25 VICT c 104) ss 2 9 13 I L R 39 Bom 604
 ————— r 65 —
See BOMBAY REGULATION II OF 1827, s 52 I L R 37 Bom 303
 ————— r 517 —
See COSTS I L R 45 Bom 1234
 ————— r 725 —
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XLII r 10 AND s 129 I L R 37 Bom 572
 ————— Bombay Civil Circular 51
 ————— See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XLII r 11 I L R 37 Bom 610

HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS—contd

— 96 cl (f)—Decree on mortgage—Mortgage executed by father and two sons for family purpose—Suit against the father and his sons—Decree—Execution against father and sons—Proclamation of sale putting up the right title and interest of the father and sons for sale—A condition of sale in terms of cl (f)—Grand sons who were not parties to the suit or execution proceedings not bound by the sale—G and two out of his six sons forming an undivided family mortgaged family property to plaintiffs father for family purposes. The plaintiffs brought a suit upon the mortgage against G, five of his sons and three grandsons by his sixth son who had died. The suit was decreed in plaintiffs favour. In execution of the decree the mortgaged property was put up to sale and purchased by the plaintiffs at the Court sale. In the proclamation of sale the right title and interest of the defendants to the suit was mentioned and one of the conditions of sale was in the terms of clause (f) to High Court Civil Circular 96. The plaintiffs were put in possession of the property. The defendants Nos. 7 to 14, 16 and 17 to 19 the grandsons of G by five of his sons who were not parties to the mortgage suit or to the execution proceedings having obstructed the plaintiffs in their possession to plaintiffs brought the present suit to establish their title against those defendants. The defendants contended that their right to the property did not pass at the sale to the plaintiffs and they were not bound by the decree to which they were not parties. The lower Courts disallowed the contention on the ground that the defendants were represented in the suit by their fathers and consequently their rights passed at the sale to the plaintiffs. On second appeal—Held that the defendants' interests in the mortgaged property did not pass to the plaintiffs at the Court sales inasmuch as by an express declaration made by the selling Court and accepted by the purchasing plaintiffs those interests were formally and definitely excluded from the sale. TINNAFFA v. NARSINGHA TIMAYA (1913)

I L R 37 Bom 631

— 17—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXI rr 89, 90—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 168—Decree—Execution proceedings—Execution transferred to the Collector—Sale by Collector—Application to set aside sale to be made to Court—Practice and procedure. The attention of the District Officers called to Rule 17 of the High Court Civil Circulars at page 106.

In every proclamation for sale entered on under the Rules it should be notified that any person wishing to act aside the sale under O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure should make his application to the Court and not to the Collector to whom the decree has been sent for execution within thirty days from the date of the sale. If in spite of the notification any person makes an application to the Collector to set aside the sale he should be referred to the Court without a moment's delay.

SHANTHURTI DEVAPPA v. NARAYAN RANCHANDRA
I L R 45 Bom 1132

rr 127 to 133 (original side)—

See THIRD PARTY NOTICE

I L R 45 Bom 24

— Ch VI para 2—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) ss. 115, 116

I L R 38 Bom 638

HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS—contd

Ch VIII—

See COSTS I L R 39 Bom 383

See THIRD PARTY No 1 & 2

I L R 45 Bom 24

Calcutta—

See PLEADER I L R 44 Calc 290

— r 426—A Pleader cannot be directed to enquire under this rule as to whether vendor could make a good title sold by the Commissioner of partition under order of Court. JODIMAYA DAS v. AKHOY COOMAR DAS

I L R 40 Calc 140

— r 740—

See PROBATE I L R 37 Calc 224

— Vol I, Ch XI r 45 (e)—

See VAKALATNAMA

I L R 43 Calc 884

— Ch XIII, r 9—

See LEASE 24 C W N 1607

— Ch XVII, r 24—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 47 Calc 515

— Ch XXIII, r 1—

See ARBITRATION I L R 48 Calc 721

— ch XXXVI r 69—If free from the statute of Limitation—Application by attorney for payment order against client out of money in attorney's hands—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) if applies to such application—Arts 31 and 181—Discretion of Court how to be exercised—Attorney's lien if exercisable when debt barred—Limitation if applies to claim of set off. R 69 Chap 36 of the High Court Rules (Original Side) is technically free from the statute of limitation neither Art 84 nor Art 181 applying thereto. It is impossible to hold that because the Limitation Act sets a limit only to suits and applications contemplated by the Civil Procedure Code and has provided none for other applications before the High Court, a power under its charter to make rules to regulate proceedings can never be exercised by providing special forms or opportunities of making applications to the Court. The rule therefore is not ultra vires. Under the rule in question the Court can exercise its discretion in favour of the attorney even in case where a suit if brought cannot succeed owing to the bar of limitation. The creation of the Court is to be exercised upon the well known lines and in the well established manner or an particular facts of each case. On an application under the Rule in question where a real dispute exists as to the facts then not only would a suit be a safer form of remedy for other reasons but the principle of limitation is itself a highly desirable safeguard. In the case of personal action for a debt limitation merely bars the Plaintiff from having the particular remedy by way of suit and does not extinguish the debt so that if the attorney has any form of lien upon property in respect of his bills of costs he can exercise that lien notwithstanding that by the terms of the Limitation Act he could not bring a suit. A Defendant may procure a set off if the claim was not barred at the time of the issue of the plaint but subject to this it is the law in India as well as in England that limitation applies to a set off. RAJENDRA LAL KHANNA v. TARUNALA DAS

W N 500

HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS—concl'd

Ch XXXVI r 32—(Taxation) Held that the fact that the matter was not raised by means of a reference by the Taxing Officer does not deprive the Judge of his jurisdiction to deal with the application on its merits. SATYENDRA MOHAN DUTT & DHARANI MOHAN ROY

28 C W N 870

Ch XXXVIII r 67—

See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT

I L R 46 Calc 249

Ch II r 5 (Appellate)—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 44 Calc 818

Madras

rr 35 36 and 38—

See PRACTICE I L R 43 Mad 282

r 101—Held that this rule is only directory and not mandatory and the time mentioned is not of the essence of the rule. VELLI APPAI SUBRAMANIAM

I L R 39 Mad 485

HIGH COURTS ACT 1861 (24 & 25 VICT CL 104)

See CHARTER ACT

See INDIAN HIGH COURTS ACT

ss 1 8 9 and 15—

See COMPTROLLER OF COURT

I L R 41 Calc 173

ss 2 9 and 18—Amended Letters Patent clauses 11 and 26—High Court Rules Original Side R 62—High Court Rules Appel late Side rr 1 and 6—Single Judge sitting on the Original Side of the High Court—Power to stay suit pending before a Subordinate Judge's Court in the mofussil. It is not competent to a single Judge of the Bombay High Court exercising the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the Court to stay the hearing of a suit pending for trial in a Subordinate Judge's Court in the mofussil unless authorised so to do by rules. Per MACLEOD J.—A single Judge sitting on the Original Side of the High Court is competent to restrain the parties in a suit before him from proceeding with a suit in a Sub Judge's Court in the mofussil and so in effect stay the proceedings. NARAYAN VITHAL SAMANT & JANAKIBAI (1915) I L R 39 Bom 604

s 9—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11— I L R 40 Bom 88

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869) ss 2 4 7 AND 45 I L R 38 Bom 125

ss 9 11 13 and 15—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT

3 Pat. L. J 581

s. 11—

See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R. 44 Mad 200

s 13—

See APPEAL

I L R 41 Calc 323

ss 14 15—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

I L R 40 Calc 477

s 15—

See JURISDICTION I L R 41 Calc 913

s PRACTICE I L R. 241 Calc. 632

HIGH COURT ACT 1861 (24 & 25 VICT CL 104)—*concl'd*s 15—concl'd

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III OF 1904) I L R 38 Mad 581

s 104—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT s 1

3 Pat L J 537

HIGH SEAS

offence committed on—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 188

I L R 41 Bom 667

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

I L R 39 Calc 487

Offence committed by a foreigner on a foreign ship—The ship 18 miles off Karwar coast—Jurisdiction of British Indian Court to try the accused—Admiralty Offences (Colonial) Act (12 and 13 Vic c 96)—Statute 23 and 24 Vic c 88 Merchant Shipping Act (57 and 58 Vic c 60) s 685 The accused who was a subject of the State of Junaghad committed an offence on a ship owned by a subject of the Junaghad State when it was on the high seas some 18 miles off the coast of the Kanara District. A question having arisen whether he could be tried for the offence by the First Class Magistrate of Karwar Held that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to try the accused. EMPEROR & PURJA GUNJ (1917) I L R 42 Bom 234

HIGHWAY

dedication—No formal Act is necessary for the acceptance of a highway dedicated to the public SURAJ MAL ANURAJ & ANSNOO KUMAR ROY 21 C W N 595 religious processions—Continued user by the public of a way raises a presumption of dedication. All members of the public have a right to carry a religious procession through a public highway in a lawful way MANMATH MODALI HALLAYA GORNDON

I L R 32 Mad 527

Obstructions as Special damage—The stopping of a highway in such a way as to make it necessary for a person to make a detour is sufficient special damage as would justify him in instituting a suit for the removal of the obstruction RAM CRANDALL & JOTT LANSAD (1910) I L R 33 All 286

Suit for declaration—Requisites of a suit for declaration of a public right of way disclosed HARINAR DAS & CHANDRA KUMAR GUHA 23 C W N 91

Right to carry procession—Where user of a highway proved presumption will be that the right is unrestricted—Trustee dedication of. Where user of a highway sufficient to raise a presumption of dedication has been proved the dedication will in the absence of evidence to the contrary be presumed if possible to be unrestricted. Marching in procession on a highway is not an exclusive user of the highway and a right of unrestricted user will include the right of marching in procession on the highway SHALYOPACHA WIR & KRISHNAMURTHI Pan I L R 39 Mad 155 referred to. A presumption of dedication by trustees will not be made when such dedication will contravene the purpose of the trust The alterability of such a dedication by the trustees must be clearly proved. VINUDARRIA THIRUTHASWAMY v ESOUF SAHIB (1910)

HIGHWAY—con ld

I L R 35 Mad 29

Right of a person or body of persons to go in procession along a highway—Order of Magistrate under Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) prohibiting a body of persons from going in procession—Right of suit of prohibited persons—Special damage whether should be alleged and proved—Trespass and public nuisance—Declaratory suit—Cause of action—English and Indian law An order passed by a Magistrate under the Criminal Procedure Code forbidding a person or body of persons from using a highway for the purpose of processions invests the person or persons interdicted with a cause of action, if they allege it to be an infringement of their legal rights though such order be in itself intra vires and no special damage be alleged or proved. A person or body of persons who claim a right to go in procession along a public highway can bring a declaratory suit to establish that right against a person who threatens to obstruct it without allegation or proof of special damage. Per WAL. J. G. J. —If defendants assembled to prevent the plaintiffs from exercising their lawful right to pass along the highway in a particular manner that would not be a case of public nuisance but of trespass or threatened trespass to plaintiff and in trespass an action lies without proof of special damage. VELAY PAKKIRI TARAGAN v SUBBAYAN SAMBAY (1918) I L R 42 Mad 271

Rights of user of general public—Religious procession—Obstruction caused by procession halting at frequent intervals—Suit for declaration of right to obstruct highway Although the members of religious procession may have a right to use a public highway for purpose of passage just as any other members of the public they have no right to extend such user by halting every few yards for several minutes at a time and blocking up the thoroughfare and no suit will lie to uphold a claim to such a right. Vijayaraghava Chariar v Emperor I L R 26 Mad 534 referred to MUHAMMAD ZAMAN v MANZUR HASAN

I L R 43 All 692

In determining whether a road through private property is a public highway although not expressly dedicated it is important to distinguish between evidence showing an intention to dedicate to the public generally and evidence showing that visitors to tenants whose shops abut on the road have by permission a right of passage MAHOMED PUSTAK ALI v KARNAUL CITY MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE

L R 47 I A 25

HINDU COMMON LAW

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 38 Bom 383

HINDU CONVERTS

See SUCCESSION L R 43 I A 35

See SUCCESSION ACT 186 ss 2 AND 3, 1

I L R 43 All 525

HINDU DEITIES

suit for removal of—

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Calc 284

HINDU FAMILY

Abandoning member of attachment of interest of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 88 I L R 39 Mad 831

HINDU LAW

See ACCUMULATION

I L R 47 Calc 78

See BANKRUPTCY I L R 40 Mad 581

See CATCH MEMORANDUMS

I L R 41 Bom 181

See KHOJAS I L R 38 Bom 449

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s 15 I L R 37 Mad 387

s 42 I L R 42 Mad 699

decree against uncle executed against nephew—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1889 s 234

I L R 32 All 404

Position of surviving members not heirs of deceased members—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

O II R 5 I L R 38 Bom 120

O XXIII R 3

I L R 38 Mad 850

rules of when binding on Courts—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I L R 37 Mad 396

whether applicable to illegitimate children of Hindu by Mahomedan—

See CUSTOM (MAINTENANCE)

I L R 2 Lah 243

ADOPTION

Col

ALIENATION

1904

BANDHUS

1934

BANDHUS

1932

BOND

1952

CONVERSION

1953

COPARCENER

1954

CUSTOM

1955

DAUGHTER'S ESTATE

1959

DEBT

1950

DEBUTTER

1965

ENDOWMENT

1967

EXECUTION OF DECREE

1979

FAMILY SETTLEMENT

1980

GIFT

1980

GRANT

1985

GUARDIAN

1986

HEREDITARY PRIEST

1988

HUSBAND AND WIFE

1988

ILLEGITIMACY

1988

IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

1989

INHERITANCE

1

JOINT FAMILY

20

JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

LEGAL NEXITY

LEPROSY

LIMITED OWNER

MAINTENANCE

HINDU LAW--ADOPTION--contd

8 — Implied prohibition in the will—absolute bequest to daughters—Hereditary Offices Act (Bom. Act III of 1874 amended by Bom. Act of 1886)—Amendment of the Act excluding daughters from succeeding to vatan lands—Adoption of a son of the daughter by the widow—Adoption invalid—Will—Construction A testator by his will dated the 9th March 1885 bequeathed his property which for the most part consisted of vatan lands to his two daughters in perpetuity. He enjoined his wife not to make over the property to anybody except to my daughters. The daughters were authorised only to relinquish their right in favour of each other but not to anybody else. In 1886 the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act (III of 1874) was amended by the Bombay Act V of 1886 whereby the female members of a vatan were postponed to male members in the matter of succession. The testator a widow thereupon adopted defendant No. 1 who was a son of one of the daughters. The plaintiffs the reversioners of the testator filed a suit to obtain a declaration that the adoption of defendant No. 1 was invalid alleging that there was in the will an implied prohibition forbidding the widow to adopt. It was contended in defence that the right of the widow to make the adoption was not taken away by anything expressed in the will. Held that the adoption was invalid inasmuch as it could not be upheld without giving the go by to the testator's expressed wishes. In the will not only was there a complete bequest of the whole estate to the daughters but the widow was in terms prohibited from disposing of the property to anyone except the daughters. The Collector of Madura v. Mootoo Ramalinga Sathupathy 12 Moo 1 A 397 distinguished MALGAUD PARAGAUD v. BABAJI DATTU (1912) I L R 37 Bom 107

9 — By widow of the last vatanadar—Death of the adopted son unmarried—Second adoption by the adopted son—Divesting of the property in the male member of the vatanadar family—Divesting of estate by adoption—Bombay Hereditary Offices Act (Bom. Act V of 1886) s. 2—Second adoption not valid. On the death of the last vatanadar his widow went into possession of the vatan property. She adopted a son who died in 1902 unmarried. In 1904 she adopted another boy. The plaintiff a reversioner sued in 1903 for a declaration that he was the vatanadar and to recover possession of the vatan property. Held that the widow could not make a second adoption for the property was on the death of her first adopted son vested in the plaintiff a male member of the family and it could not subsequently be divested by any adoption made by her. BRIMBARAI v. TATAPPA MOHARRAO (1913) I L R 37 Bom 598

10 — Settlement of immoveable property by adopting widow in favour of her daughter—Settlement assented to by the natural father of the adopted boy—Attainment of majority by the adopted son—Repudiation of the settlement—Settlement not enforceable. A settlement of immoveable property by an adopting widow in favour of her daughter to take effect upon the daughter attaining majority assented to by the natural father of the adopted boy at the time of adoption cannot be enforced by the daughter against the adopted son who repudiated it on majority. VASACHARYA v. VENKATRAI (1912) I L R 27 Bom 251

HINDU LAW--ADOPTION--contd

11 — Consent of Sapinda, obtained for consideration—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s. 32 sub ss 3 and 5—Admissibility of statement made by deceased person. Where under the Hindu Law the consent of a sapinda is required to validate an adoption by a widow and that consent is obtained in exchange for a valuable consideration the transaction will vitiate the adoption. Rami Reddi v. Rangamma 11 Mad L J 20 followed Srinasa Ayyangar v. Rangasami Ayyangar 1 L R 30 Mad 450 distinguished. A statement made by a deceased sapinda admitting that he had received sum of money in connection with an adoption was sought to be proved in order to invalidate the adoption. Held that the statement was admissible under s. 32 sub s (3) of the Evidence Act it being a statement made against his pecuniary or proprietary interest. Held also that the statement was admissible under s. 32 sub s 5 as it related to the existence of a relationship and this notwithstanding that the relationship was not in dispute at the time when the statement was made. DANAKORI ANMAL v. BALASUNDARA MENON ALIAP (1913) I L R 36 Mad 19

12 — By mother with the assent of a deceased son—Objection by existing sapinda—Invalidity of adoption. A consent previously obtained from a deceased sapinda cannot be efficacious to validate an adoption which is not approved of or objected to by the persons who are the nearest sapindas at the time the adoption is actually made. Stranger v. Hindu Law Vol I p 80 and Sircar on adoption p 200 not followed. PER CURIAM. There is a distinction between the case of an adoption in an undivided family and that in a divided family as regards the persons whose assent is sufficient. The Collector of Madura v. Mootoo Ramalinga Sathupathy 12 Moo 1 A 396 442 Venkata Venkataswami Krishna Rao v. Venkata Rama Lakshmi 1 L R 1 Mad 144 and Subrahmanyam v. Venkamma 1 L P 26 Mad 627 635 referred to. MAMI v. SUNDARAYAR (1913) I L R 36 Mad 145

13 — Authority to adopt given to two widows—Construction—Authority whether several or joint—Exercise of power by survivor—Restriction as to class of boys—Powers how to be construed—Power given by a Hindu how to be construed when ambiguous. Where a testator by his will provided Permission will be granted to my two wives to adopt a boy to arrange to offer water and funeral oblations to me the adopted boy will have to be taken from amongst my near representatives but my wives will adopt whomsoever they would select and on the death of one of the widows the surviving widow adopted her brother a son. Held that the testator intended to confer authority to adopt by the will itself and not by a separate instrument. That the authority to adopt was conferred on the widows severally and not jointly and the surviving widow could lawfully exercise the power of adoption conferred by the Will in construing a document of this description the Court would consider that the person giving the authority intended his widows to do that which the law allowed and not to do some thing which was if not absolutely illegal very unusual and not practised amongst Hindus. Quare. Whether when an authority to adopt is in fact conferred on two widows jointly adoption by the survivor of them alone is valid. Venkata v.

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

Pannaya I L R 29 Mad 437 444 doubted. That the expression from amongst my next representatives being strictly speaking meaningless, no restriction as to the class of boys within which the choice was to be made was to be read into it. That it was not intended that the selection was to be made by the widows concurrently. Where the general intention of a Hindu to be represented by an adopted son is clear effect should be given to such intention if it is possible to do so without contravening the law and the Court will not hesitate to defeat the intention of the testator.

Surja Varayan v Lenkata Pannaya I L R 26 Mad 681 All powers are to be liberally construed in equity in furtherance of the purpose for which they were created. SARADA PROSAD PAL v RAMA PATI PAL (1919) 17 C W N 319

14. — By widow of predeceased son—Contemporaneous consent of her mother-in-law in whom estate vested as heir Under Hindu Law the widow of a predeceased son can make a valid adoption with the contemporaneous consent of her mother-in-law in whom the estate of the last full owner is vested as an heir. Payaya v Appanna I L R 93 Bom. 327 followed. SIDAPPA v NINGANOATTA (1914) I L R 38 Bom 724

15. — Orphan adoption—Estoppel—Presumption in favour of adoption when arises—Practice—Conservation of suit in ejectment into one for partition Only the parents of a child can give him in adoption and therefore an orphan cannot be validly given in adoption either by himself or by any one else. Subbalakshmi v Ammalu Ammal 2 Mad H C 199 Bakaniroo Bhaskar v Dayabhai et al 6 Bom H C 83 and Bashetappa v Shiklingappa 10 Bom H C 268 applied. An invalid adoption does not per se destroy the adoptee's rights in the natural family. Bhavan Shankara Iandit v Ambaboy Ammal I Mad H C 363 and Lakshmappa v Ramora 12 Bom H C 364 397 followed. No estoppel arises in such a case unless in consequence of the adoption the position of the party setting up the estoppel is changed to his disadvantage, so as to render it inequitable that the adoptee should be restored to his place in his natural family. Copalayyan v Rogipathayyan 7 Mad H C 250 and Parvati, Gayamma v Ramakrishna Row I L R 18 Mad 145 followed. No presumption in favour of an adoption arises in the absence of evidence of the giving or acceptance or of circumstances by which such a presumption can be supported though the adoption may have taken place long before and been acquiesced in by all concerned. Anandras Shrivai et al v Ganesh E Bokil 7 Bom. H C R App xxxiii at p xxxiv distinguished. A suit in ejectment cannot be converted into a suit for partition. VAITHILINGAM v NATESA (1914) I L R 37 Mad 529

16. — Half brother—Mitakshara The adoption of a half brother is not invalid under Hindu Law. GAJANAN HALKRISHNA v KASHINATH NARAYAN (1915)

I L R 39 Bom 410

17. — Non performance of ceremony of datta homam—Will giving power to widow to adopt with consent of trustees who one declines to act—Omission to follow provisions of a 145 of Evidence Act as to using documents to contradict witnesses—Inferences drawn from documents

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

ments so used and having decision on them to prejudice of witnesses—General allegations of undue influence and fraud without specific issues or pleas
On this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee in a suit to establish the validity of an adoption Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that on the evidence and under the circumstances of the case the adoption was valid.
Where the boy to be adopted is of the same gotra as the adoptive father the performance of the ceremony of datta homam is not essential to the validity of the adoption among Maratha Brahmans in Bombay. Jalubai v Govind Kashinath I L P 24 Bom. 218 approved as being based not on the particular degree of relationship but upon the broad ground of the identity of gotra. A Hindu testator by his will appointed five trustees of his property and gave power to his widow to adopt a son with their consent and advice and one of the trustees declined to act. Held that the consent of the declining trustee was not necessary, and the adoption made with the consent of the other four trustees was valid. It is a general salutary and intelligible rule and one substantially embodied in s. 145 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) that if a witness is under cross examination on oath he should be given the opportunity if documents are to be used against him to tender his explanation and clear up the particular point of ambiguity or dispute and the duty of enforcing such a rule is clear especially where a witness's reputation or character is at stake. In this case where the general principle of this rule and the specific provisions of s. 145 had not been followed but documents had been used for the purpose of contradicting witnesses without calling their attention to the portions of the documents so used their Lordships were of opinion that the decision of the High Court on the evidence amounted to an inferential verdict of perjury against the witness which was not justified. Simli Where coercion undue influence fraud and misrepresentation are set up as rendering a transaction invalid each one should be specifically pleaded and a definite issue upon it settled. In settling an adoption an issue whether the plaintiff is a validly adopted son is not one on which any of the above grounds should be permitted to be raised by general allegations.
*Halliford v Mutual Society I L R 6
App Cas 635* per Lord Selborne and *Gungl
Narain Gupta v Tulukram Chowdhry I L R 15 Cal 533 I P 15 I t 119* referred to as to the defence of fraud. *BAL GANODAN TILAK v
SHRINIVAS PANDIT* (1910) I L R 39 Bom 441

18. — Effect of Invalid adoption—Invalidly adopted son not entitled to maintenance—Declaration in writing that the declarant will give certain lands as maintenance—Formal agreement not executed—Grantor cannot be sued on the declaration—Incomplete contract Under Hindu Law A boy whose adoption has been found to be invalid has no right to be maintained out of the estate of the adopted family. The plaintiff claiming to be the adopted son of the late Thakur of Mehelo applied to obtain certain lands from the estate by way of maintenance to the Collector who was in charge of the estate. The Collector persuaded the present Thakur (defendant) to settle the matter. Accordingly the defendant made a declaration in writing that he would give the Kankasapur lands by way of maintenance to the plaintiff and direct lineal heirs. The defendant did not execute any formal deed to convey the lands. The plaintiff sued to recover the hanbanpur uantia from the defendant on the strength of the declaration. — Held that the defendant was not bound by the declaration which marked only a stage in the negotiations which unless completed could be broken off at any time by either side. DALPAT SINGH v. RAJGOAL (1915)

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

I L R 39 Bom 523

19 ————— Authority to adopt construed of—Extrinsic evidence admissibility of—Successive adoptions—Limits for the exercise of the power to adopt—First adopted son death of—His widow alive—Second adoption by widow of previous owner validity of—Impartible zamindari how far joint family property—Testing of property in a coparcenary meaning of—Divesting of property by adoption—Rule as to adoption to last male holder—Applicability of rule to ordinary coparcenary and to impartible zamindari. A the holder of an impartible zamindari died in 1863 without issue leaving a widow A. Prior to his death he executed a document authorising her to adopt a son to him. On his death his brother A succeeded to the estate. Subsequently in 1870 A adopted B who recovered the zamindari from R by suit and died in 1906 without issue leaving a widow A. V. On the death of B the son of R succeeded to the zamindari but died fifteen days after his accession the first and second defendants were his sons. In 1907 A purporting to act under the power given by her husband adopted the plaintiff as a son to her husband while R. M. the widow of B was alive. The plaintiff sued to recover the zamindari from the defendants. The latter pleaded that the power to adopt given to A by 1 (her husband) did not authorise her to make a second adoption that the existence of R. V. was a bar to the exercise of the power even if it was not exhausted by the first adoption and that the adoption not having been made to the last male holder was invalid. Held that the power to adopt given by A to A was wide enough to enable her to make a second adoption but that the power was not exercisable by reason of the fact that R. V. (B's widow) was alive when the second adoption was made by A. Per WHITE C J.—The rule that an adoption should be made to the last male owner is applicable to a joint Hindu family living under the Mitakshara law. Sua gnanam Senaigar v. Ramaswamy Chettar 22 Mad L J 85 referred to. Per SESHASAYI AYYAR J.—The canon of construction regarding powers to adopt is not different from that of ordinary testamentary dispositions. The intention of the testator has to be gathered from the language employed by him and from the circumstances existing at the time of the grant of the power. The authority given by a Hindu to his wife should be regarded as being general in its nature unless conditions have been imposed or limitations placed upon it by him. Where the exercise of a power to make a second adoption will not result in creating a new line of succession but will only transfer the estate from one intermediate owner to another without the prospect of the latter being eventually vested with the limit of the power to adopt should be held to have been reached. In estate taken by a Hindu as a member of a joint Hindu family a national estate subject to defeasance

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

on the coming into existence by adoption or other wise of a new member into the coparcenary the rule of law that in order that an estate once vested may be divested the adoption should be made to the last male holder is not applicable to coparcenary property and an impartible zamindari is joint family property subject to an exception. MADANA MOHANA v. PURUSHOTHAMA (1914) I L R 38 Mad 1105

20 ————— By widow of brother's son—Acting with her deceased husband's authority—Authority to adopt a particular boy whom her husband could and would have adopted had he lived—Rejection of the extension by Nanda Pandit in Dattaka Mimamsa to adoption by females of rule of Hindu Law against adoption of son whose mother the adopter could not have legally married. The adoption by a Hindu widow acting in accordance with authority given her by her deceased husband is an adoption not to herself but to her husband and is therefore not according to Hindu Law invalid by reason of the adopted boy being her brother's son. Jai Singh Pal Singh v. Bija Pal Singh I L R 27 All 417 Srinivasa v. Ramayya I L R 3 Mad 15 and Bai Dasi v. Chuniat I L R 22 Bom 373 approved of. The gloss of Nanda Pandit in the Dattaka Mimamsa purporting to extend to adoption by females the rule of Hindu Law that no one can be adopted as a son whose mother the adopter could not have legally married rejected as being an extension not based upon the authority of the Smritis or institutes of law and not being shown to have been accepted as the law of India so far as adoptions by widows to their deceased husbands are concerned. In the present case the authority of the husband to the widow was a specific authority to her to adopt a particular boy whom she did adopt and whom he could and presumably would have adopted had he lived. JUTTA LAL v. PARBATI KUMAR (1915)

I L R 37 All 359

21 ————— By junior widow—without consulting senior widow but with sapindas consent invalidity of—Preferential right of senior widow to adopt. An adoption made by a junior widow of a deceased Hindu purporting to be made with the consent of the sapindas but without consulting the senior widow is invalid. Kakerla Chalkamma v. Kakerla Punnamma 28 Mad L J 72 followed. Iskander Ismaila Krishna Rao v. Venkatarama Lakshmi I L R 1 Mad 174 referred to. Per WALLIS C J.—In the absence of an express authority by the husband to any one of the widows the senior widow has the preferential right to adopt with the consent of the sapindas. The senior widow is one of the kinsmen whom it is the duty of the junior widow to consult within the meaning of the rule enunciated in The Pannal Case 12 Moo I A 337. RAJAN VENKATAPPA NAIDAM BAILA DOB v. RAJAGOPAL (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 72

22 ————— Consent of sapindas—Refusal of consent by nearest sapinda on personal grounds improper—Consent of remoter sapinda refused to adopt. Where the nearest sapinda refused to give his consent to an adoption by a widow on the ground that he would forfeit the right to property which he would otherwise get and the widow made the adoption with the consent of remoter

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

aspiradas Held that the refusal of the nearest aspiradas was based on improper grounds and that the adoption with the consent of the remoter aspiradas was valid VENKATARAMA PAJJI v. PARAMIA (1914) 1 L R 39 Mad. 77

23 ———— Divestment of estate on—Property of the natural father vested exclusively in the son before adoption—After adoption the property remains in the natural family Under Hindu Law when a boy is given in adoption he loses all the rights he may have acquired to the property of his natural father including the right to property which has become exclusively vested in him before the date of his adoption Fajah Ismail v. Varasimha Ippa Row v. Sri Rajah Panayya Ippa Row 1 L R 29 Uad. 533 dismissed from DATTATRAYA SAKHARAM v. GOVIND SAMBHAJI (1917) 1 L R 40 Bom. 429

24. ———— Simultaneous execution of adoption deed as well as will—Construction of documents—Adopted son's consent binding effect of—Disposition good as a family arrangement One B died leaving him surviving his widow L and a predeceased son a daughter K (plaintiff) B before his death recommended L to adopt A his brother's son. L made the adoption by a deed dated the 10th June 1899 and simultaneously executed a will in favour of K. On the strength of this will K claimed the properties in suit. The Subordinate Judge decreed K's suit holding that the will being made with the full consent and concurrence of A who was then major must take effect. On appeal the decree was reversed. On appeal to the High Court Held (i) that the adoption deed and the will must be read together and that so read they constituted a single family arrangement (ii) that the adopted son who was of full age having deliberately accepted the family arrangement and its advantages must be held to be Isaiah's Ammal v. Sivarani 1 L R 27 Mad. 377 referred to (iii) that the disposition in favour of plaintiff was good not because it was a bequest made by L but because it was a part of the single family arrangement which all parties accepted KASIRAJI v. TATYA (1916) 1 L R 40 Bom. 688

25 ———— By Brahmins—Dattahoma ceremony not performed—Adoption if valid—Adopter and adoptee of same gotra Held on a review of authorities that the dattahoma ceremony is not essential when the adopted boy is of the same gotra as the adopter even amongst the twice born classes REYKI v. LAK PATI GUJARJI (1914) 20 C W N 19

26 ———— Authority to adopt verbally given before death—Proof—Relevancy of will which contained no directions for adoption made two months before death in estimating probabilities—Probable change of intentions—Business testimony of opinion of Trial Judge value of discrepancy in witnesses statements consideration of—Non-citation by either side of witness who went over from one side to the other—Case raised in first Court not urged in appeal if should be allowed to be raised on further appeal R a Hindu mahajan of means died on 11th February 1896 leaving him surviving a widow and a daughter. He had been suffering from pthisis for some time. Two months before his death he executed a will by which he made a very modest provision for his

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

daughter and gave his wife a life interest in the bulk of his properties (which however she was liable to forfeit if she behaved contrary to the injunctions of the will). The testator had been hopeful that a son might be born to him and the son if born was under the will to be the sole executor donee and owner. The will contained no power to adopt a son. Seven years after the death of R his widow adopted an infant son of R a nephew J born after R's death. By his will R had expressly excluded J on account of his profligacy and irreligion from participation in his funeral ceremonies preferring for that purpose his sister's son B in whom he had confidence and who lived in the same house with him and whom he appointed one of his executors. The authority for the adoption was alleged to have been given by P shortly before his death (when he appeared to have become aware of the serious nature of his illness) verbally to his wife in the presence of several respectable witnesses most of whom deposed that R had expressly directed a son of J (should one be born) to be taken in adoption. The Trial Judge had held the alleged authority to adopt to have been proved. But the High Court on appeal reversed that finding relying chiefly upon the contrary inference regarding probabilities arising from the language of the will and discrepancies in the depositions of the several witnesses who spoke to P a giving authority to adopt. Held by the Judicial Committee that the probabilities were not adverse to the view that the testator might have modified his original intentions as expressed in his will which was executed before he came to realise how short his life was and the balance of testimony being distinctly in favour of the story that the authority to adopt had been given not only had the Trial Court not approached the case with bias but had taken a fairer and less one-sided view of the facts than that which prevailed in the High Court. That the view of the Judge who tried the case and saw nearly all the witnesses on a question of evidence such as this was obviously entitled to great weight. That such discrepancies as these were might well be accounted for by the fact that the conversation which the witnesses described had taken place some 13 years previously. At the trial the widow of P who first came forward to support the adoption appeared later on to have gone over to the opposite camp of B who was opposing the adoption. Held that the omission by both parties to cite her as a witness was in the circumstances justifiable. The question whether assuming authority to adopt to have been given, the adoption of J a son would make him a son of the testator capable of taking under the terms of the will was raised in the Trial Court and decided in favour of the adopted son and it was not raised in the Appeal Court. The Judicial Committee in the circumstances did not allow the question to be raised before them. ADWATYA PRASAD v. BALDEO DASS (1916) 20 C W N 650

27 ———— Kayasthas in Bengal—Adoption amongst Kayasthas religious ceremonies if essential—Religious ceremonies postponed after actual giving and taking—Adoption during pollution through birth of agnate—Adoption—Afterborn natural son of Sudra and adopted son shares of if equal—Agreement by adoptive father to give equal share if valid—Properties held by adoptive father as shēbat & adopted son if may claim to hold as shēbat jointly with afterborn son—Puttrikṛtyas and Debatṛtyas—Proof that property has been endowed as debutter—Dattaka Chandrika authority of Kayasthas according to the law prevalent in Bengal, are considered as Sūdras. No religious ceremony is necessary for an adoption amongst Kayasthas mere giving and taking of a son being sufficient to give it validity. The putrestas jaḡ and namkaran not being essential ceremonies in an adoption between Sūdras the fact that they took place subsequently to the giving and taking did not affect the validity of the adoption. Pollution on account of the birth of a relative does not vitiate an adoption. It is only a bar to religious acts and renders religious ceremonies inefficacious but gift and acceptance of a son are secular acts. Santappayya v Rangappayya 1 L R 19 Mad 397 396 followed. Such pollution results from the knowledge of the fact of birth. In laying down the rule that the adopted son of a Sūdra shares the inheritance equally with the afterborn natural son the Dattaka Chandrika has in no way deviated from the Sūtras and the rule which has been accepted as correct by both the Madras and Calcutta High Courts should not be departed from. An ekar putra of the adoptive father covenanting that an afterborn natural son of his shall not be entitled to claim a larger share but will divide the inheritance equally with the son he was adopting is valid and operative. Surendra Keshab Roy v Doorga Secondary Dastee 1 L R 19 Cal 513 516 and Bhala Nahanna v Prabhu Hari 1 L R 2 Bom 67 referred to. It is now settled law that as regards inheritance the adopted son holds in all respects the same position as an aurasa son except in some special matters. An aurasa son has a superior right in respect of putri matrī kṛtyas but there is no such preference in respect of shēbat or deva kṛtyas. Held therefore that an adopted son of a Sūdra was entitled to inherit debutter properties in the right of shēbatiship jointly with an afterborn natural son. Asra Monov Ghosh Motlik v Nisore Monov Ghosh Motlik (1916) 20 C W N 801

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

28 ————— Evidence of—
Absence of any deed or written record of adoption—No entries of expenditure on ceremonies in account books—Adopted child a male not changed and child left with its natural parents. In this appeal which arose out of a suit by the natural father of the appellant to have his adoption declared valid, their Lordships of the Judicial Committee (affirming the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of the Central Provinces) held on the evidence that the alleged adoption was never made. It appeared that though the suit might well have been brought in the life time of the alleged adoptive father who consistently denied that the adoption ever took place it was not commenced until some months after his death. There was no deed of adoption or any other formal record of the event. Soolrugun Sūputty v Sabitra Dyt 2 Knapp P C 237 referred to. There was no reference to any expenditure on the ceremony in the account books of either the natural or the adoptive father. Lal Kumar v Chiranj Lal 1 L R 3 All 101 L P 37 I A 1 referred to. No feast was proved to have taken place on the occasion of the alleged adoption the ceremonies said to have been performed were of the briefest possible description no notification was made to the authorities the child's name was not changed and he was never taken to live with his adoptive parents, or recognised by them in any way and all the surrounding circumstances and conditions not only did not support the adoption but made it highly improbable that the ceremony of adoption was ever performed in regard to the appellant. DIWAKAR RAO v CHAN DANIAL RAO (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 201

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

29 ————— Dvyamushyayana adoption—
—Presumption. In every case of a nitya ditya mushyayana form of adoption there must be an agreement to that effect such an agreement must be proved by the person setting up the ditya mushyayana adoption like any other question of fact as much in the case of the adoption of an only son of a brother as in any other case of such an adoption. See LAXMIPATIRAO v VEKATESH (1916) 1 L R 41 Bom 315

30 ————— Adoption by a minor widow—Want of independent disinterested advice—Validity of adoption—Patriation by widow after attaining majority effect of a widow authorized by her husband to adopt a boy if and when she chose adopted her own brother when she was eleven years of age on the interested advice of her father. Held that the adoption made by the widow while a minor and without independent advice was void ab initio and could not be there fore validated by subsequent ratification. Sri Rajah Venkata Narayana Appa Row v Sri Rajah Rangayya Appa Row 1 L R 29 Mad 437 dis sented from. SATTIRAJU v VEKATESWARU (1917) 1 L R 40 Mad 925

31 ————— By one adjudged a lunatic—valid only if of sound mind at the time—Presumption of continuity of unsound mind—Onus of proving the contrary. The effect of an adjudication under the Lunacy Act (XXV of 1858) that a person is a lunatic is to raise a presumption that he continued to be of unsound mind until the contrary is shown. Fan Grutten v Foxwell [1897] A C 655 and Snook v Walls 11 Bevan 105 followed. Though the effect of an order under the Act appointing a manager for the properties of a lunatic is not to incapacitate him from making an adoption till the order is set aside still unless it is proved that the lunatic was of sound mind at the time he is alleged to have made the adoption the adoption is invalid. Semle Adoption is not an act which amounts to an alienation of property. It affects status and it has, in the opinion of Hindus religious efficacy and it would not be right for a Court to hold that a Hindu is deprived by any statute, of the power of making an adoption unless there are clear unambiguous words to that effect. SESHANNA v PADMAVATHI RAO (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 660

32 ————— Of an orphan by a widow in 1852—Possession of estate by adopted son—Death of adopted son in 1864—Adoption by his widow—Possession of the later adopted son till 1876—Disposition by former widow in 1876—Death of adopted son in 1881—Suit by the later widow against former widow for possession—Decree—Death of former widow in 190—Suit by reversioners of the original owner in 1905—Suit for possession against widow

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

and nil fees from both widows if barred—Title of reversioners if extinguished—Limitation Act IX of 1877 art 19 and s 29—Later Limitation Acts (XI of 1877 and IX of 1908) effect of—Res judicata—Sudra n elic or Tambiran—Entry into order of—Part of inheritance if forfeited—Texts as to Tat applicability of to Sudras—Usage—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 4—Decree on appeal A a Hindu died in 1849 without issue, leaving a widow C. She adopted B an orphan as a son to her husband in 1862 and put him in possession of her husband's properties other than those alienated by her prior to adoption. B died issueless in 1861 leaving a widow M who adopted T. The latter was in possession of the properties till 1876 when he was dispossessed by C. C died issueless in 1881 leaving a widow who also died in 1882. M who succeeded to the estate as T's heir, sued C in 1887 and recovered possession of the estate from her. C died in 1902. In 1903 the plaintiffs, claiming to be the reversioners of A on C's death sued to recover the estate of A from the defendant. Some of the defendants were alienees from M who was the fourth defendant, some others were alienees from C while the first defendant claimed a fourth share in the estate as the widow of one A who was a co-reversioner along with the plaintiffs but had become a Tambiran before C died in 1902. The defendants other than the first contended inter alia that the suit was barred by limitation and by the rule of res judicata. Held (i) that a suit by the reversioners of A for recovery of possession of such of A's properties as were in the possession of the heirs of the adopted son had become barred in 1874 under art 129 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1877) and that a title to such property was acquired by the heirs of the adopted son under s. 29 of the same Act and could not be affected by the provisions of the later Limitation Act XV of 1877 or Act IX of 1908 (ii) that although the plaintiffs who were the actual reversioners of A in 1902 were not in existence when the twelve years limited by art. 129 expired their title as reversioners was barred (iii) that consequently the present suit as against the fourth defendant (the widow of the adopted son) and her alienees was barred by limitation (iv) but that in respect of the properties alienated by the widow of A the present suit for recovery of possession from her alienees was not barred by limitation. Jagadamb Choudhurni v Dakshina Mohun Poy Choudhri 1 L R 13 Cal 308 and Mohesh Narain Munshi v Taruck Anil Moulvi 1 L R 20 Cal 487 followed. Tirubhuvana Bahadur Singh v Rameshar Batek Singh 1 L R 23 All 727 explained and applied. Held also that the present suit was not barred by the rule of res judicata by the decision in the previous suit instituted by M against C. Hari Anil Chatterjee suit instituted by M against C. Hari Anil Chatterjee v Mathur Mohun Goswami 1 L R 21 Cal 8 distinguished. The texts of Hindu Law as to disinherence applicable to Yati, or Sanjasi do not apply to Sudra ascetics unless a usage to this effect is established. Dhormapuram pandam Sannadhi v Vira Pandiyan Pillai 1 L R 22 Mad 302 and Hirshik Chandra Poo v Atir Mahmud 1 L R 40 Cal 545 referred to. Held (on the evidence) that no usage was established in this case consequently that the first defendant's husband was not excluded from inheriting as a co-reversioner with the plaintiffs

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

by reason of his having entered the order of Tambiran before the succession opened in 1902 and that the first defendant was entitled to recover one fourth share in the estate in right of her husband. Held further that where an appeal was preferred by some only of the alienees who were defendants but no appeal was preferred by the other alienees or the alienor who were also defendants a decree can be passed in the appeal dismissing the suit in favour of the latter defendants also. Kulaskada Pillai v Viswanatha Pillai 1 L R 28 Mad 229 and Subbarayalu Vaidu v Pappammal Second Appeal No 507 of 1914 followed. Where some of the appellants who were defendants died and their legal representatives were not brought on the record in the appeal Held that it was competent to the Court under O XXI r 4 to set aside the decree as regards the whole of the plaintiff's claim and not merely in respect of the interest of those appellants only whose appeals had not abated. Chintamani v Gangabai 1 L R 27 Bom 281 followed. Dhuttaloor Subbaya v Paidigantam Subbaya 1 L R 30 Mad 470 referred to. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTIAR v VAITHILINGA MUDALIAR (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 849

33 ——— Adopted person having a son in conception—Such son passes into the adoptive family. At the time when a person was adopted he had no son born but had a son who was conceived. A question having arisen whether such a son passed on adoption into the adoptive family. Held that for all purposes of succession and inheritance the legal entity of the after born son must be taken to date from the date of his birth, and that therefore the after born son passed into the adoptive family. ADVINI FAKIRAPPA v FAKIRAPPA ADIVERRA (1918) 1 L R 49 Bom 517

34 ——— By widow of son to be used husband—Subsequent suit by her to set aside adoption on ground that she had no authority—Estoppel dismissal of suit on ground of—Decision by Privy Council that she had authority and that adoption was valid—Decree properly made against widow representing estate binding effect of on reversioner—Res judicata—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 11. After adopting a son to her deceased husband a Hindu widow in a suit by an alleged reversioner against her to set aside the adoption on the ground that she had no authority from her husband to make the adoption alleged in her written statement and stated in Court through her pleader that she had authority to make the adoption and that it was valid. The suit was dismissed because the plaintiff was found not to be a reversioner. The widow then brought a suit against the adopted son to set the adoption aside pleading that she was not vested with authority from her husband to adopt and denied having made the adoption. The adopted son contested the suit and it was decided by the Courts in India on the ground that the widow was estopped from maintaining it. On appeal, however, the Privy Council raised an issue as to her authority to adopt, and held on the evidence on that issue that the adoption was valid. In a suit by an alleged reversioner to the estate of her husband against the adopted son for a declaration that the adoption was invalid and for possession of the estate. Held that notwithstanding the personal estoppel which barred her the widow represented the estate on the question of fact as to whether the defendant (respondent) had or had not been validly adopted and that she represented it within the meaning of the rule laid down in Antama Natchiar v The Raja of Shiwagunga 9 Moo I A 519 and under the circumstances the decree against her would bind the reversioners. Though the rule of res judicata as enacted in s 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 was not strictly applicable as the appellants (plaintiffs) were not parties to the widow's suit against the adopted son and did not claim through a party to that suit yet the principle of res judicata had been rightly applied by Courts in India so as to bind reversioners by decisions in litigation fairly and honestly given for or against Hindu females representing estates. In the absence of all authority their Lordships could not decide that a Hindu lady otherwise qualified to represent an estate in litigation ceases to be so qualified merely owing to personal disability or disadvantage as a litigant although the merits of the case were tried and the trial was fair and honest. Risat Singh v Balwant Singh (1918).

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

I L R 40 All 593

35 ———— Consent of nearest sapindas not sought.—Consent of remote sapindas whether sufficient.—A knowledge that sapinda will refuse whether a good ground for not asking for his consent. In the Dravida country an adoption by a Hindu widow having no authority from her deceased husband to adopt made with the consent of remote sapindas but without asking for the consent of the nearest sapindas is invalid. It is immaterial that the widow knew that the nearest sapindas if asked for their consent would have refused it. Collector of Madura v Uootoo Ramalinga Sathupathy 12 Moo I A 397 400 410. Venkata Krishna Rao v Venkata Rama Lakshmi I L R 1 Mad 174 190. L R 41 A 1 13 14 and Raghunada Deo v Bro α Kishore Patta Deo I L R 1 Mad 69 s o L R 31 A 154 discussed and followed. Quare Whether the widow of a co parcener who died in or before 1853 could adopt a son in 1896 after the joint family property had vested in the widow of his brother's son? VEERABASAVARAJU v BALASURYA PRASADA RAO (1918).

I L R 41 Mad 893

36 ———— Consent of Sapindas revoked.—Arbitrary revocation whether competent.—Delay in adoption or death of Sapinda effect of.—Ducting of estate. A Sapinda who has given his consent to a widow to make an adoption to her husband cannot arbitrarily withdraw his consent before it is acted upon by the widow. The party giving his consent can deliberately revoke it for justifiable reason but where no reasons are given by him Courts will not find out a justification for the revocation. Mere lapse of time without more or the death of the consenting Sapinda will not put an end to a consent freely and bona fide granted. The assent of the Sapinda is presumptive evidence of the goodness of the act of adoption by the widow. Analogy of the rules as to consent of the nearest reversioner to an alienation by a widow applied. S v Tirada Iratapa Paghunada Deo v Sri Bro α Kishore Patta Deo I L R 1 Mad 69. I I Nagay v Dasava I L R 29 Bom 400. Narasimha v Parthasarathy I L R 37 Mad 199 referred to. Mami v Subarayer I L R 45 Mad 115 and Subrahmanyam v Venkamma I L R

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

26 Mad 635 explained. Where a widow having succeeded as heir to her adopted son who died unmarried adopted with the consent of the nearest Sapinda another son to her late husband the latter must divest the estate vested in the adoptive mother whether the estate was the ancestral or the self acquired property of the first adopted son. Tallanki Venkata Krishna Rao v Venkata Rama Lakshmi I L R 1 Mad 174 and Musummat Bhoobum Noyce Debia v Ram Kishore Achary Choudry 19 Moo I A 209 referred to. SURIA HARAYANA v RAMADOSS (1917).

I L R 41 Mad 604

37 ———— Dryamushayana—Presumption. Under Hindu law in the absence of any express agreement to the effect that the adoption was to be in the Dryamushayana form it must be presumed to be an ordinary adoption. Laxmipatirao v Venkatesh I L R 41 Bom 315 followed. HUCHRAO TIMMAJI v BEIMA RAO GURURAO (1917).

I L R 42 Bom 277

38 ———— Successive adoptions.—Limit for exercise of power to adopt.—Death of first adopted son leaving widow but no son.—Second adoption by widow of previous owner of impartible zemindari.—Family governed by Mitakshara Law.—Ducting of property by adoption.—Rule that adoption must be made to last male owner. A the holder of an impartible zemindari and a member of a joint family governed by Mitakshara Law gave authority to his wife to adopt a son to him. On A's death his brother R took possession of the property. The widow subsequently adopted a son B who recovered the estate of R and held it until 1906 when he died leaving a widow but no son. A descendant of R then took possession of the property but died in the same year and was succeeded by his son the respondent. In 1907 A's widow purported to make a second adoption to A under the authority from him by taking in adoption the appellant. In a suit brought by him to recover the zemindari Held that the law imposed a limit within which a widow can exercise a power of adoption conferred on her and the limit to her power was reached when B died after attaining full legal capacity to continue the line of descent either by a natural born son or by the adoption to him of a son by his own widow against whom it had not been established (she not being a party to the suit) that she had no power to adopt. This conclusion was in no way in conflict with the previous decision of the Board in Raghunada Deo v Bro α Kishore Patta Deo I L R 1 Mad 69. L R 31 A 154. It was therefore not necessary to decide whether the authority to adopt empowered A's widow to take a second adoption. SHADAYA MOHANA DAO v PURUSHOTTHAMA DAO (1918).

I L R 41 Mad 855

39 ———— Power to widow to adopt either in life-time of son or after his death.—Validity of.—Authority to adopt how long can be exercised.—Adopt on object of P a Hindu died leaving his only son A and a widow M. By a will R dedicated his 4 annas share in a certain property to the service of certain duties and directed that the widow M should be shahid and the son A should succeed her in that office. His other immovable properties he divided between A and M bequeathing 12 annas to A and 4 annas

HINDU LAW—ADDITION—contd

to M for her life. He next authorized M to adopt three sons in succession whether in the life time of K or after his death and provided that on M's death, the adopted son if any and failing any adopted son K should succeed to her 4 annas share. K died at the age of about 60 leaving no son but his widow as heir. After K's death M adopted the plaintiff. Later on A a widow adopted defendant No 1 which was not found to be a valid adoption. In a suit for declaring the plaintiff's right to the 12 annas of P a property bequeathed to K and for setting aside the adoption of defendant No 1 and for other reliefs—Held that the authority to M to adopt was not vitiated as a whole because she was given power to adopt even in the life time of her son. Held further that the adoption by M was valid as it would confer spiritual benefit on the adoptive father P and as it did not involve a divesting of K's estate and that M a power to adopt could be exercised so long as the adoption did not involve divesting of the heir's estate. Dharmu Moyee Biba v Pam Kishore Achary Chavtry 10 Moo 1 A 29 3 H P P C 15 Puddu Kumaree Debee v Jugut Kuloie Achary 1 L R 5 Cal 615 Padmakumar Debi Choudhary v Court of Wards 1 L R 5 Cal 507 1 R 81 A 209 Thayammal v Venkatarama 1 L R 1 Mad 905 L 1 14 I A 67 Tarachurn Chatterji v Sureshchander Mukerji 1 L R 17 Cal 19 L P 16 L A 166 Ramkrishna Ramchandra v Shamrao Yeshwant 1 L R 26 Bom 506 Amulya Charan Seal v Kali Das Sen 1 L R 3 Cal 861 Manikamala Dase v Nanda Kumar Dose 1 L R 33 Cal 106 and Madana Molana Panga Bheema Deo v Purushottama Panga Bheema Deo 1 L R 41 Mad 855 distinguished. The object of adoption among Hindus is not merely the due perpetuation of lineage but is also to secure for the adoptive father and his ancestors the spiritual blessings which only an heir male can confer. KUNED BAYDUT SANA v PAVESH CHANDRA SANA (1919) 1 L R 46 Cal 749

40 ——— Custom of Mitakshara—Adoption of son in law—Adoption by person who had a natural son living at the time and was a member of a joint family—Parties to suit Sudras and members of the Kamma caste. In this case in which the parties were Sudras of the Kamma caste and governed by the law of the Mitakshara except where that law had been altered by custom a custom was alleged by which an adoption made by a member of the caste of an illatom son in law was valid though the adoptive father had a natural son living at the time and was a member of a joint family with his brothers. The appellant contended that no such custom had been proved and that such a custom even if proved would be invalid. The Courts below found that the custom had been judicially recognized by the High Court in an unreported case Hammayya v Yellamanda S A No 45 of 1905 in which many instances of illatom adoption by persons who had sons living were proved and upheld it on that ground together with the evidence in the case. Held that having regard to the decision in Hammayya v Yellamanda S A No 45 of 1905 and to the fact that the Courts below agreed that the adoption was valid in law and had been so treated by the family for many years their decr

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

sions should be affirmed and the appeal dismissed. KRISTYANNA v VENKATASUBBAYYA (1919)

I L R 42 Mad. 805

41 ——— By two widows—Special authority—Widow married first has a preferential right to adopt—Competency of minor to adopt—Age of discretion. According to the recognised law in the Bombay Presidency the senior widow that is the widow married first has a preferential right to adopt. She does not require any special authority from her husband or from her husband's Sapindas but the junior widow unless the adoption by her is consented to by the elder widow does require a special authority from her husband. A Hindu girl of fifteen years of age who has been married for two years or more living with her husband would be regarded as having attained the age of discretion and competent to adopt a son. BASAPPA v SIBRAMAPPA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 481

42 ——— Adopted son treated as having been from his birth in adoptive father's family—Adopted son cannot acquire a vested interest in the property of his natural father. Under Hindu law an adopted son is treated as having been from his birth in the family of his adoptive father and therefore he cannot for any purpose be regarded as having existed so as to acquire a vested interest in the property of his natural father. The applicant having applied after the date of his adoption to execute a decree which was obtained by his natural father when the applicant was a member of the natural family. Held that he could not execute the decree as by reason of his adoption he must be treated as non-existent for the purpose of the execution of the decree. RAMCHANDRA v MANUBAI (1910)

I L R 43 Bom 774

43 ——— Of father's first cousin—The adoption of father's first cousin is not invalid under Hindu law. MALLAPPA PARAPPA GANGAVA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 209

44 ——— Successive adoptions by widow under authority—Second adoption on the death of the first adopted son after attaining full legal capacity and leaving a widow if valid—Power conferred by authority not exercisable by law though no question of divesting arose. The Hindu law no doubt recognises the validity of an authority given to a Hindu widow by her deceased husband to make a second or even a third or fourth adoption on failure of the previous adoption to attain the object for which the power is given viz the perpetuation of the deceased's line to discharge the obligations that rest on a pious Hindu. But there is a limit imposed by law to the period within which a widow can exercise a power of adoption conferred on her and when that limit is reached the power is at an end. Where the son first adopted under a written authority left to a Hindu widow by her deceased husband died after attaining full legal capacity to continue the line either by the birth of a natural born son or by the adoption to him of a son by his own widow. Held that apart from the question whether on a construction of the authority the widow had power to make a second adoption or not in the circumstances of the case,

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

the power if any, had come to an end, specially when it was not established in the presence of the widow of the first adopted son that she had no power to make a valid adoption to him. MADANA MURANA ANANDA BHEEMA DEO v PURUSHOTAMA ANANDA BHEEMA DEO (1918) 23 C W N 177

45 ——— Time within which widow may adopt—Custom excluding widow from inheriting—Adopted son has all the rights of a natural born son—Retrospective effect of adoption—Grant of part of estate for joint or maintenance of junior member of family reverting to grantor on failure of grantee's male heirs—Words in deed conveying an absolute estate Unless there is a time limit imposed in the authority which empowers a Hindu widow to adopt or she is directed to adopt promptly she may make the adoption so long as the power is not extinguished or exhausted. Her right to make an adoption is not dependent on her inheriting as a Hindu female owner her husband's estate she can exercise the power even though the property is not vested on her. Sri Prada Pratapa Raghunada Deo v Sri Broza Kishore Patil Deo, 1 L R 1 Mad 69 L R 31 A 154 and Bachoo v Manikoreba: 1 L R 31 Bom 373 referred to. The rights of an adopted son, unless curtailed by express texts are in every respect the same as those of a natural born son and an adoption, so far as the continuity of the line of inheritance is concerned, has a retrospective effect. The respondent the Thakor of Gampah, brought the present suit for possession of a village which, in accordance with a family custom (the parties were Chudasama Girasnis a caste of Hindu Rajputs) had been granted for joint or maintenance by one of his ancestors to a junior member of the family to be held and enjoyed so long as the grantee's male line lasted, and then reverted to the Thakor. The last owner died without male issue in 1903, but he left a widow who though by custom not permitted to inherit her husband's estate continued in possession of it, and on 12th March 1904 adopted the first appellant as a son to her husband. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the joint grant did not revert to the Thakor but was inherited by the adopted son. Words in a deed executed in 1871 by the reigning Thakor in favour of a relative that you and your vassals are maliks, mukhtiyars, dhanis of a certain village confer an absolute estate on the donee Per curiam. It is an explicit principle of the Hindu Law that an adopted son comes for all purposes the son of his father and that his rights unless curtailed by express texts are in every respect the same as those of a natural born son and a learned authority on Hindu law has explained that the only express text by which the heritable right of an adopted son is "contracted" refers to the case of his sharing the heritage with an after born natural (aurasa) son. In every other instance the adopted son and the son of the body stand exactly in sampo position. Again it is to be remembered that the adopted son is the continuator of his adoptive father's line exactly as an aurasa son and that an adoption so far as the continuity of the line is concerned, has a retrospective effect. In fact as Meyers, West and Buhler point out in their learned treatise on Hindu law the Hindu lawyers do not regard the male line to be extinct or a Hindu to have died without a male issue until the death of the widow renders the continuation of the line by adoption impossible. PRATAPSIKSH SATHA SATHU F AGARSI-GUJI FAJASA GUJI (1918)

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

I L R 43 Bom 778

46 ——— Conditional adoption—Adoptive father directing payment of an annual sum in charity out of his property at the time of making the adoption—Consent of the natural father of the adopted boy—Grant of annuity not valid. A Hindu who was in possession of ancestral property executed when he took the defendant in adoption a vyavasthapatra with the consent of the natural father of the defendant, whereby he directed payment of an annual sum for the purpose of lighting lamps in a specified temple. A dispute having arisen as to the validity of the grant. Held that the grant in favour of the temple was invalid as not having been recognized by custom to be appropriate at the time of adoption or binding upon the adopted son in modification of the strict rules of Hindu law. BALAKRISHNA MORTIM v SUBBUTTA NARAYAN DEVI (1918)

I L R. 43 Bom. 542

47 ——— Madras school—Adoption by widow—Assent of what aspidas necessary when husband of widow had separated—Adoption without reference to nearest aspidas with assent of remoter aspidas is valid. An adoption is more a temporal than a spiritual institution and though there are expressions in the judgment of the Judicial Committee in the Pannal Case 12 Moo 1 A 397 which might imply that the question of reverendary interest forms only a secondary consideration in determining what aspidas assent is primarily requisite for the validity of an adoption by the widow of a Hindu governed by the Dravidian branch of the Mitakshara law there are other passages in that and the subsequent judgment in Raja Vallabhi v Venkatarama L R 41 A 114 8 C 1 L R 1 Mad 174 which clearly show that rights to property cannot be left out of consideration in the determination of the question. The fact that a Hindu had separated from the joint family does not affect the personal dependence of his widow or give her an independent status to alter by her own authority the succession to the estate which she takes as the widow of her husband. She is still dependent for counsel and protection upon the nearest aspidas of her husband who are the most closely united to him by ties of blood. The authorization of the father of the deceased (who if still alive continues to be her natural guardian and protector and who has further a direct interest in the protection of the estate) is therefore essentially requisite to the validity of an adoption by her to her husband. In the absence of the father the assent of the divided brothers is equally requisite for the validity of the widow's adoption. If a majority assent and one refuses, his objection may be disregarded. But the absence of their consent or in case there is only one of his consent cannot be made good by the authorization of distant relatives remotely connected whose interest in the well being of the widow or the spiritual welfare of the deceased, or in the protection of the estate is of minute character and whose assent is more likely to be influenced by improper motives

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

The reasons which make the assent of divided brothers a requisite condition apply mutatis mutandis to the case of the nearest sapindas other than brothers, and when there is only one such sapinda to that of such a one. Where the assent of the nearest sapinda was not obtained Held that the adoption with the assent of some remoter sapindas was invalid and the knowledge that the nearest sapinda if applied to would have refused his assent was no reason for not applying for it. KANDUKURI VEERA v KANDUKURI BALASUBRA PRASADA PAO IANTULU (1918) 23 C W N 251

47(a)——Power of adoption contingent on testator not having issue.—Presumption—Hindu widow surrender by of whole estate if to be made in any form—Admission for a consideration in favour of reverser oner that she had no right if surrendered. Where a Hindu by his Will gave his widows power to adopt if no male or female child was born to him and a posthumous female child was born after his death Held That an adoption made after the death of the child was invalid as not being authorised by the Will. Held on a true construction of the Will that the estate was given to the testator's widows successively for life and after the death of the survivor to the daughter so that the daughter became entitled at birth to a reversionary estate under a 106 of the Indian Succession Act. On the death in 1872 of one of two Mitakshara brothers leaving a widow the surviving brother applied for a certificate to collect debts due to his estate and was opposed by his widow who alleged partition. The Judge found that the brothers were joint and granted the certificate. The widow instead of contesting the question of title in a civil suit through her brother and attorney accepted the decision and executed an agreement on 17th May 1874 stipulating in consideration of certain property being allotted to her for maintenance during her life not further to contest the matter and thereupon the brother took possession of the estate and the widow during a period of thirty years thereafter went on receiving the stipulated maintenance. Held that the agreement having been accepted and acted upon for this length of time was not open to attack on the allegation that it had been executed by the widow's attorney in consideration of a bribe paid to him. That though there was no formal surrender by the widow of her estate, and the document as drawn up on its footing was expressed as an admission that the right did not exist in substance there was a complete self-effacement by the widow which precluded her from asserting any further claim to the estate. It is settled by long practice and confirmed by a series of decisions that a Hindu widow can renounce the estate in favour of the nearest reversioner and by a voluntary act efface herself from the succession as effectively as if she had then died. This voluntary self-effacement is sometimes referred to as a surrender sometimes as a relinquishment or abandonment of her rights and it may be effected by any process having that effect provided that there is a bond fide and total renunciation of the widow's right to hold the property. MUSAMMAR BHAGWAT KOER v DHANUKDHARI PRASHAD SINGH 24 C W N 274

48.——Construction of will.—Position of Widow under Bombay School of Hindu Law as to adoption—Widow's power to adopt—Will naming boy on bad terms with widow. According to the

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

Bombay School of Hindu Law the duty of a Hindu widow to obey her husband's command compels her to act upon any mandatory direction that he may give by will as to the way in which her power of adoption should be exercised. The will of a Mahāratta Brahmin governed by the Bombay School of Hindu Law directed that my wife should as far as possible adopt Shankar the second son of my elder brother. If he (the boy) cannot be obtained any other boy should be adopted with the advice of the trustees. The will provided that the son adopted should keep the widow treat her with affection and give her maintenance. Shankar and the family of which he was a member were on bad terms with the widow who adopted with the advice of the trustees a son of her sister. At the time of that adoption Shankar could have been obtained for adoption. Held that the terms of the will left no discretion to the widow but imposed upon her a mandate which she was bound to obey and that the adoption she made was invalid. SITARAI v BABU ANNA PATIL (1900) 1 L R 47 Cal 1012

49.——Brother's daughter's son.—Adoption of whether valid—Custom—South Kanara—Kshatriyas—Custom whether established. Adoption of a brother's daughter's son is allowed by custom which has been proved to exist among a community of Rajputs of the Kshatriya caste settled in South Kanara. SORATHA SINGA v KANAKA SINGA (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad 887

50.——By widow during life time of a son adopted by her husband.—Under Hindu law a widow cannot adopt to her husband when there is in existence a son adopted by her husband. Her right to adopt remains suspended so long as the adoption made by her husband is not set aside. BRUNAGUDA ANGOUDA v BABU BALA BOHARE (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 627

51.——By widow of twelve years of age.—Adoption invalid—Age of discretion. A Hindu widow of twelve years of age, who has not reached puberty cannot make a valid adoption. MICROFFA v KALAWA (1919)

1 L R 44 Bom 327

52.——By widow after husband dying in union with co-parceners.—Widow succeeding as heir to her unmarried son after partition—Power of the widow to adopt—Validity of adoption. One B died in union with his brothers leaving a minor son M. Thereafter there was a partition between M and his uncles. M died unmarried leaving his mother S as his heir. Subsequently S adopted the plaintiff who sued to recover possession of M's share in the hands of the latter's uncles, the defendants. The defendants contended that the adoption of the plaintiff was invalid because B died in union and thereafter his widow could not adopt without the consent of his co-parceners and that her right to adopt came to an end at the separation and could not be revived. Held that the adoption of the plaintiff was valid as the widow's power to adopt remained suspended even after separation and could be exercised as there were no longer any co-parceners whose consent was necessary. MALLAPPA v HANMAPPA (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom. 297

53.——By widow of a co-parcener after death of survivor.—Co-parcener—Absence of consent—Authority. A widow to adopt One

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

P owning a joint estate died leaving a widow S and his brother's son M S and M jointly mortgaged a part of the joint estate. M died in 1882 leaving two widows and in 1894 S adopted plaintiff's father. The plaintiff having sued to redeem the mortgage made by S and M held that the plaintiff could not succeed as his father was not validly adopted by S who as the widow of a deceased coparcener of a joint Hindu family could not in the absence of any specific authority make an adoption subsequent to the death of a coparcener who survived her husband although the property was impartible. TEJRAJ v SARUP CHAND CHHAGANBHAI (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 483

54 ————— By widow—authority of to adopt.—Adoption called in question after the lapse of many years.—Presumption as to widow's authority. The question being whether B had been validly adopted as the son of R by R's widow after his death it was found that for a large number of years B had as a matter of fact been treated and had behaved himself as the adopted son of R and that the adoption had been recognized by persons who would have been interested in denying it. On the other hand as the adoption must have taken place at some date between the years 1822 and 1847 there was no direct evidence as to the circumstances under which it took place or as to the authority of the widow to adopt. Held that in the above circumstances it might be presumed that the widow was properly authorized to adopt. PRAM DEVI v SHAMBER NATH

I L R 42 All 382

55 ————— By widow of last male holder.—Adopted son if has title.—Custom alleged of exclusion of adopted son.—Onus of proof.—Power of widow to adopt if subject to any limit not imposed by the authority to adopt.—Power of dependent on widow succeeding as heiress.—Divesting of estate resulting from adoption.—Rights of nephews before adoption.—Jivat grant defeasible on extinction of male line. When a hereditary grant is made by a Hindu subject to the limitation that it shall endure so long as the grantee's male line lasts the existence of the line must be determined by the rules and provisions of the Hindu law unless there be any custom varying those rules. Where a custom is alleged confining the line to the natural born issue alone it must be proved affirmatively and conclusively, and not derived from implications. Held without deciding whether such a custom even if proved to exist in certain localities would be recognized in the British Indian Courts that the Plaintiff had failed to establish the custom alleged by him. Verabai Ajibhai v Bai Haba E L A 1 A 231 s c I L R 2 Bom 492 7 C W N 76 (1903) referred to. It is an explicit principle of the Hindu law that an adopted son becomes for all purposes the son of his father and that his rights unless curtailed by express texts are in every respect the same as those of a natural born son. An adopted son is the continuator of his adoptive father's line exactly as an aurasa son and an adoption so far as the continuity of the line is concerned, has a retrospective effect. The right of the widow to make an adoption is not dependent on her inheriting as a Hindu female

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—contd

owner her husband's estate and the rule applies to the case of a joint (maintenance) grant as to any other kind of property. Bamundoss Mooleraja v Musunmat Thirvi 7 M I A 169 (1858) Wise v Bhobun Moyee 10 M I A 163 (1865) Madana Mohana Deo v Purushothama Deo L R 46 I A 156 s c 23 C W N 177 (1913) Raghunadha v Brojo Kishor L R 3 I A 154 s c I L R 1 Mad 69 (1876) and Bachoo Harkisondas v Man Lorebai L R 3 I A 107 s c I L R 31 Bom 373 11 C W N 769 (1907) referred to. PRATAP SING SHYVING v THAKOR SHRI AGARSINGH RAISINGHAI 24 C W N 57

56 ————— By widow who has no authority from her husband.—Mitakshara law as administered in the Dravada district of the Madras Presidency.—Consent of sapindas. Under the law of adoption as administered in the Dravada district a Hindu widow in the absence of any authority from her husband to adopt a son to him may make such an adoption with the consent of his sapindas. The Collector of Madura v Mootoo Ramalinga Sathupathy (1868) 12 M I A 237. There should be such proof of assent on the part of the sapindas as should be sufficient to support the inference that the adoption was made by the widow not from capricious or corrupt motives in order to defeat the interest of this or that sapinda but on a fair consideration by what may be called a family council of the expediency of substituting an heir by adoption to the deceased husband. Jellani Venkata Krishna Rao v Venkata Rama Lakshmi (1876) I L R 1 Mad 174 L R 41 A 1 The absence of consent on the part of the nearest sapindas cannot be made good by the authorization of distant relations whose assent is likely to be influenced by improper motives. Veera Basavaraju v Balaswamy Prasada Rao (1913) I L R 41 Mad 938 (P C) L R 45 I A 265 The consent required is that of a substantial majority of those agnates nearest in relationship who are capable of forming an intelligent and honest judgment on the matter. But save in what are obviously exceptional cases the nearest sapindas must be asked, and if not asked it is no excuse to say they would certainly have refused. Venkamma v Subrahmanyan (1907) I L R 30 Mad 50 53 L R 31 I A 22 26 It is the duty of the Court to keep the power strictly within the limits which the law has assigned to it. Sri Pirada Pratapa Raghunatha Deo v Sri Broo Krishona Patta Deo (1876) I L R 1 Mad 69 (P C) In this case on a consideration of the evidence the widow was proved to have applied for the consent of the third plaintiff but not of the other four plaintiffs and that none of these five nearest sapindas is proved to have withheld his consent for any malicious or corrupt reason. The necessary consent of sapindas was not obtained and the adoption was invalid. KRISHNARAYA v LAKSHMI NATH (1920) I L R 43 Mad 650

57 ————— Of daughter's son or sister's son.—Validity of—Custom among Brahmans of Andhra or Telugu portion of Madras Presidency.—Adoption by widow.—Consent of sapindas.—Gnatis.—Bhinnogotra sapindas.—Consent of daughter's son—whether necessary.—Invalid adoption.—Upasana nam in adopted family after an invalid adoption on subsequent adoption whether barred.—Subsequent upasana nam, whether competent. Adoption of a daughter's son is valid by custom among the Brahmins of the Andhra or Telugu portion of the Madras Presidency as it is in the southern districts. Consent of the sapindas to an adoption by the widow is material as guaranteeing the propriety of the widow's action in making the adoption. Where such consent has not been shown to have been obtained by fraud coercion or corruption it is sufficient authority for the adoption and the Court a right to scrutinize the sapindas' reasons extends only to cases in which consent is refused and not to cases where it is granted. A daughter's son is not entitled to be consulted regarding an adoption by a widow who has obtained the consent of the nearest sapinda, as he is not a gnati and Bhinnagotra sapindas are not included under the term sapindas in the texts which require their consent to an adoption. An upanayanam is not valid unless performed by the father or in his absence by another kinsman in the family to which the boy concerned actually belongs. The performance of the upanayanam in a family into which the boy is wrongly believed to have entered by an invalid adoption is nullity and is no bar to his subsequent adoption. VISWASUDARA PAO v SOJASUDARA PAO (1920)

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—cont'd

I L R 43 Mad 876

58 ——— By junior daughter in law of a son with the consent of her father in law—validity of the adoption P a Hindu had a son living in union with him. The son died during P's life time leaving him surviving two widows. Of the two widows the junior had a son who also died a minor without attaining ceremonial competence. P adopted the plaintiff as his son. Later the junior widow adopted defendant No 11 with the consent of P. The plaintiff sued contending that the adoption of defendant No 11 was invalid. Held that the adoption of defendant No 11 was valid under Hindu law. The preferential right of the senior widow to make an adoption exists when the widows inherit the property of their husband that is when the husband is a separated member of the family. Even then it is subject to any authority given by the husband to the junior widow to adopt or any express or implied prohibition by the husband against the senior widow. The doctrine of the preferential right of the senior widow to adopt is not extended to a case where the husband dies in union with his father and where the widow can adopt if at all with the consent of her father in law. Vithoba v Bapu (1899) 15 Bom 110 referred to Dnyanu v Tanu (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 508

59 ——— Putrishtia Jag—Whether essential among twice born castes—Suit for declaration of fact of adoption whether prayer for consequential relief is necessary. The performance of the putrishtia jag ceremony is not essential in an adoption among the twice born castes where the adoptor and the adoptee belong to the same gotra. A suit by an adopted son against his adoptive father and the latter a natural son for a declaration of the fact of plaintiff's adoption is not maintainable under a 4th of the Specific Relief Act in the absence of a prayer for recovery of joint possession or for confirmation of possession jointly with the defendants. The plaintiff cannot however be compelled to ask for partition. SHROFAT RAY v Bhabu Ray

2 Pat L J 481

HINDU LAW—ADOPTION—cont'd

60 ——— Kshatriyas—brother's son—Adoption of—Doctrine of pollution whether applicable to adoption among twice born castes. There is no prohibition among Kshatriyas against the adoption of a brother's child before the eleventh day after birth by reason of the doctrine of pollution or before the twenty first day by reason of the impurity of the body of the child. Where religious rites are not a necessary requisite as for instance where a Hindu of one of the twice born castes adopts a boy of the same gotra as himself the omission of such rites cannot affect the validity of the adoption and therefore the fact of pollution which only affects the degree of merit attached to the religious rights is also immaterial to the validity of the adoption. SREEMATY LAKSHMINALI JEWAMANI BAHURIA v LADIT PATAR SINGH

3 Pat L J 499

61 ——— customs—Proof of special adoption—Baisi Chowrasa gaddidars origin of and inheritance among—marriage within gotra applicability of rule—plaintiff amendment of at what date not permissible—Res judicata—Code of Civil Procedure (Act 4 of 1908) s 11 Explanation 4—Limitation (Act 17 of 1908) Articles 118 and 141. In dealing with the custom of an entire community it is of more importance to have regard to the history of the main body than to the history of its important branches. The Baisi Chowrasa Gaddidars are a recognized community. Probably the community was non-Hindu in origin but the members have all now accepted Hinduism to such a degree as to raise a presumption that the whole community has assimilated the law of adoption. SHRIMATI NIPAIN DEVI v KUNTI KUNTI

5 Pat L J 164

61(a) ——— By widow—and r authority in Will—Bombay School—Terms whether mandatory or give widow a discretion. By his Will a Hindu governed by the Bombay School directed that if I did not adopt a son during my life time my wife should as far as possible adopt the second son of my elder brother T. If the boy cannot be obtained any other boy should be adopted etc. Held—That this means that unless there were conditions outside the Will preventing the possibility of the adoption the widow when he does adopt is to exercise her power in favour of SREEMATY BIRU ANNA PAULI (P C)

25 C W N 97

62 ——— Amongst Sitambari sect of Jains—Sitambari s c—Adoption—Application of Hindu Law—Caring and taking only necessary—If person adopted may be of age and married—Placing of son on lap not necessary. The Jains are of Hindu origin they are Hindu dissenters and although generally adhering to the ordinary Hindu Law that is the law of the three superior castes they recognize no divine authority in the Vedas and do not practise the shraddha or ceremony for the dead. But though the due performance of the shraddha or religious ceremony for the dead is at the base of the religious theory of adoption the Jains have so generally adopted the Hindu law that the Hindu rules of adoption are applied to them in the absence of some contrary usage. It was common ground in this case that in the Sitambari sect of Jains to which the parties belonged the only ceremony necessary to the validity of an adoption was the giving and taking

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd.

On appeal to the High Court by the defendant Hell that if one or other of the plaintiffs were entitled to succeed the suit should not be dismissed simply because the first of the plaintiffs alone had failed to make out a title particularly when by dismissing the suit, the right of the co-plaintiffs (who if the first plaintiff were not joint with the last male holder would on failure of the first plaintiff's case be entitled) would be thereby barred and that in such a case the Appellate Court could exercise the power provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure O XL r 33 Hell also that lapse of time did not affect the question of onus of proof regarding legal necessity except in as far as it might give rise to a presumption of acquiescence or save the absence from adverse inference arising from the scanty proof which might be offered Hell further that in order to justify legal necessity it must be shown that the expenses could not have been met from the income of the property in the widow's hands and that they were reasonable Hell that payment of full value for the property did not of itself justify a sale by a Hindu widow in the absence of legal necessity. RYANESHAU LAL SINGH v CHANDRI PRASAD SINGH (1911).

I L R 38 Calc 721

4 Without the consent of a co-parcener—Legal necessity—Alienation of subsequently born co-parcener to impugn the transaction Where an alienation of ancestral property is invalid as having been made without legal necessity by one member of the co-parcenary without the consent of the rest it is open to co-parceners to object to such alienation notwithstanding that they were born subsequently thereto. Kali Maatar v. Vaidya Singh & L. I. 31 All 597 referred to. Chaitin Lal v. Kullu I L R 33 All 953 distinguished. Trilok Chaur I L R 33 All 1011 I L R 33 All 634

5 ----- Trustees of temple—power of to grant permanent lease of trust property. The grant of a permanent lease of a temple property by the trustee is per se in excess of the powers of such trustee. Special circumstances of necessity may justify such alienation. Maharane Shree Sree Debia v. Mo Koonam Acharyo 13 Moo
L 1 1 0 followed. Varasimachari v. Gopal Iyer 1 L L 1 3 Mad 351 not followed. There is no distinction in this respect between a religious institution like a temple and a charitable foundation. The powers of the trustee of a temple are analogous to those of the manager of an infant heir.
Honnay v. Per An's Case referred to in *Koonur
Durgam Vaidi Iyer v. Ramachander* see L L 1
1 3 not followed. The requirements of daily worship, of Lullin suitable for the carrying out of such worship, and of performance of festivals are among the purposes for which the trustee of a temple may alienate the corpus in the absence of other reasonable means of providing for such needs. In the case of such alienations, the alienor will be protected, if after proper enquiries he is satisfied of the existence of such necessity. *SREE
MUTHU DEVARAJAN V. LANDAKANNADH &
LALANAPPA (HETTIAR) (1910)*

Widow—Enquiry to be made by as to necessity of transaction—What is of enquiry Where it appeared that the of immovable properties from a Hindu

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—2014

widow did not enquire from the creditors mentioned in the sale deed as those who were to be paid out of the consideration money as to the necessities of the transaction but satisfied herself with an enquiry merely from the widow herself and it was found that the statement regarding the payment to the alleged creditors was false: Held that the purchaser had not made the necessary enquiries as laid down in Hunooman Pershad v. Masst Feroze Munraj Koonwree & Moos L A 393 and the sale could not be supported. JATHABI v. BALEBHARNA BUAH (1911) 15 C W N 723

7 Solt by alienee of a co par
cener in family property—Time when the share is ascertained? In Hindu Law the alienee of the interest of a co parcener is entitled to enforce his claim against the share to which the vendor was entitled to at the time of the alienation. The mortgage of a Hindu father is therefore entitled to proceed against the share of a son subsequently born in family property mortgaged by the father. Pangasam v Krishnaswami I L R 14 Mad 408 dissented from Ayyangar v Iekasrinimayya v Ayyangar Pinnaswami I L R 3 Mad 690 followed Hards v Narayan Sahu v Kuler Perakash Muser I L R 10 Cal 676 followed. CHITRA V PILLAI v KALIMETHU CHETTI (1911) I L R 35 Mad 47

8 Alienation by manager—Undivided family—Manager position of—Effect of subsequent assent of co-parceners The Manager of a joint Hindu family is not in the exercise of his powers the agent of the family in the strict sense of the term and consequently no ratification of his act by the other members of the co-parcenary is possible. The assent of the other members of the family to an alienation by the manager is only evidence of justifiable family necessity. Where therefore it is found that there was no such necessity such assent is no evidence for that purpose. As, however the property vests in the undivided family the manager with the assent of the other members may give a good title to an alien even though the alienation is not for any family necessity. Such assent is not that of a principal to the acts of an agent but supplies the want of capacity on the part of the manager to alienate family property. An alienation by a manager without justifiable necessity is void as regards the share of the other members of the family and where such necessity exists it is valid in its entirety. An assent by all the members at the time of alienation without taking part in it will pass the property. An assent is some only though evidence of necessity will not in the face of positive evidence of the impropriety of such alienation suffice to pass their interests. The subsequent assent of all the members will not apart from any question of estoppel validate an alienation by the manager which is void in its inception for want of justifiable necessity. Itanambal Chetty v Marayana Chetty 1 L. R. 46 Mad. 344 referred to. Unni v Kunchi 10 M. L. R. 14 Mad. 46 referred to. RAV
SAKAMI AGARI v SOMASANKARA PILLAI 10 M. L. R. 101

9. Custom of agriculturists in the Punjab - does not limit power of father to alienate his land. In debts and orders of
 - debts of parents to be met by reckless extravagance and for all other immoral purposes. In a suit by the respondent to have set aside an alienation of part of the family property made by the father in favour of the appellant, alleging that by

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

the custom of agriculturists in the Punjab was not competent to sell ancestral land without necessity that there had been no necessity for the sale that their father was a debauchee and an extravagant person, and that the debts for which the sale was made were incurred for immoral and illegal purposes, the appellant did not deny the custom though he traversed all the other allegations in the plaint, and contended that, the alienation having been made for their father's antecedent debts, it was for the respondents to show that the debts were contracted for illegal or immoral purposes. There were concurrent findings by the Courts below that the respondents' father was recklessly extravagant and did not know how to manage his affairs properly and that certain specific debts were just debts, and others were not. Held (affirming the decision of the Chief Court of the Punjab) that the custom set up not being disputed, was applicable to the case that the payment of a just debt by the male proprietor of lands to which the custom applied was a necessity for which he could validly alienate ancestral property and that the respondents were entitled to possession of the property sued for on repayment to the appellant of an part of the purchase money as both Courts concurrently found to be just debts, the payment of which was a necessity. The ruling in D. v. Ditta v. Saurizay Singh (1903) Punjab Loco No 60 that a just debt means a debt which is actually due and is not immoral, illegal or opposed to public policy and has not been contracted as an act of reckless extravagance or of wanton waste, or with the intention of destroying the interests of the reversioners, was approved of by their Lordships of the Judicial Committee. Amrat Singh v. Balwant Singh (1912)

I L R 40 Cal 298

10 ———— Mortgage by widow of part of the estate — Legal necessity — Presumption — Reversion — Alienation by way of mortgage by Hindu widow as heiress of a portion of the estate of her deceased husband without proof either of legal necessity or of reasonable enquiry and honest belief as to its existence but with the consent of the next reversioner for the time being will be valid and binding on the actual reversioner if the presumption of legal necessity or of reasonable enquiry and honest belief raised by such consent is not rebutted by more cogent proof. Nobokishan Barmu Roy v. Hari Nath Barmu Roy I L R 10 Cal 110⁷ considered Bajrang Singh v. Manokarnika Baksh Singh I L R 39 All I L R 30, I A I referred to. Devi Prosad Chowdhary v. Golap Bhagat (1913) I L R 40 Cal 721

11 ———— By father in favour of adopted son whose adoption alleged to be illegal — Form of suit — Suit for partition in case of alienation in Hindu family — Inaction and acquiescence of father of joint family how far binding on sons — Limitation — Minority — Form of decree. In a suit instituted in 1937 by members of a Hindu joint family governed by the Mitakshara law to set aside their father's alienation of ancestral property against the assignees, the first respondent, the father being made a pro forma defendant, the appellants alleged that their father improperly made in 1893 a disposition of a specific portion of the property to the respondent who had been adopted by the widow of one or two brothers (with the consent of the others) from whom their father (the adopter) of the other brothers

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

inherited the family property and they contended that the adoption of the first respondent was invalid for various reasons and that they were entitled to recover the property alienated. The defence so far as material was that the appellants were bound by the acquiescence of their father in admitting the first respondent to the family and that the suit was barred by limitation. The respondents also objected to the form of the suit which they contended should have been for partition. At the settlement of issues the appellants' pleader admitted that their father had actually given possession in 1893 of the property in suit to the first respondent to enjoy it exclusively previously since 1887 he was living as a joint member of the family and jointly enjoying the profits by reason of the inaction and acquiescence of the appellants' father in that mode of enjoyment. The suit was decided without evidence on that admission, and on the allegations in the plaint and written statements and was dismissed and that decree was affirmed on appeal. Held as to the form of suit that to deny any relief except in a suit for partition would be to deny the right to relief altogether since the basis of the claim was that the appellants were entitled to the estate as a joint and undivided estate and desired to enjoy it as such. Also it might be that the first respondent was entitled to stand in the shoes of the appellants' father as to the share which would come to the latter on a partition and if he established such a position the Court would at the instance of the respondent decree a partition between the appellants and their father. Without therefore expressing any opinion as to its validity in law or fact their Lordships thought that on the pleadings it was open to the first respondent to set up such a case. Held also that though a partition made by a Hindu father may under some circumstances bind his minor sons (as in Balishan Das v. Him Narain Sahi I L R 37 Cal 733 I L R 39 I 4 132 yet if on the partition a share is given to an absolute stranger (as the first respondent would be if his adoption were invalid) the partition may be impeached as a disposition of property made without consideration unless it can be supported as a bona fide compromise of a disputed claim. If therefore the adoption of the first respondent were wholly invalid, the appellants were entitled to succeed in the absence of any other defence. The Appellate Court as to limitation had decided that the suit was not barred as against the first appellant but only as against the rest of the appellants who were minors and had not been born at the time (1837) when it was alleged the adverse possession began to run. Held that if the first appellant was entitled to relief the other appellants would also be so entitled. Under the circumstances their Lordships in allowing the appeal, were of opinion that they could not on the materials before them finally determine the rights of the parties, and remanded the case for trial with a declaration that it was competent to the Court in the event of the first respondent failing in his other defences to make the whole or any part of the relief granted to the appellant conditional on their assenting to a partition so far as regarded the father's interest in the estate so as to give effect to any right to which the first respondent might be entitled claimant through his assignor. RAMESHCHAND KEDARATHI v. JAINA RATAY RAMRACHHAL (1913)

I L R 40 Cal 933

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

12 ——— By widow—Arrangement come to by the widow with consent of their reversioners—Alienation beyond life of widow—Acquiescence in arrangement by persons afterwards suing to set it aside—Ijara beneficial to estate. The question in this case was as to the validity of an ijara for 60 years dated 7th September 1893 which had been executed by a Hindu widow a pardanashin lady aged 42 with the consent of the then reversioners and which was part of an arrangement of settlement in which all the branches of her husband's family shared. In a suit brought after the death of the widow by the reversionary heirs of her husband to set aside the ijara on the ground that it was an unauthorized interference by the widow with the reversionary interest which she had no power to make. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that under the circumstances the arrangement was one dictated by the necessities of the case and the choice of the term of 60 years was for the benefit of the estate. In accordance with the practice of the Board their Lordships attached great weight to the sanction by expectant reversioners of an alienation of property by a Hindu woman as affording evidence that the alienation was made under circumstances which rendered it lawful and valid. In this case from 1882 to 1893 when the widow died the persons who now sought to set the ijara aside acquiesced in and took the benefit of the arrangement which it might therefore be inferred from their conduct had in their opinion been made in good faith and under such circumstances of necessity as would give it validity according to Hindu law and the conduct of the appellants themselves during the 9 years afforded evidence on which the respondents were entitled to rely. BIJAY GOPAL MUKHERJEE v. GIRINDRA NATH MUKHERJEE (1914) 1 L R 41 Cal 723

13 ——— Evidence of legal necessity—In mortgages or sale-deeds. The onus of supporting a sale from a Hindu widow is on a purchaser. Recitals in mortgages or deeds of sale with regard to the existence of legal necessity for an alienation by a Hindu widow are not of themselves evidence of such necessity without substantiation by evidence abunde. BIHJI LAL v. JINDA KANWAR (1914) 1 L R 38 All 157

14 ——— Legal necessity—Spiritual welfare of her husband—To what extent alienation permissible—Recital in a deed by itself not conclusive evidence. Where a deed by a limited owner with qualified power of alienation is impeached the test is whether the purpose for which the alienation was made was proper or legitimate. Collector of Marathwada v. Gopal Venkata S. Meo 1 A 509 referred to. Necessity is only one of the phases of the test of propriety. Fay Lallee v. Gole 10 Cal 131; Meo 1 A 509; Sham Sunder Lal v. Han Kumar 1 L R 21 All 1; L. J. 551 A 133; Bojy Gopal Mukerji v. Girindra Nath Mukerji 1 L R 41 Cal 723 referred to. The widow has a larger power of disposition for religious or charitable purposes or for purposes which are supposed to conduce to the spiritual welfare of her husband than what she possesses for purely worldly purposes. An exhaustive enumeration of all religious or charitable purposes is neither possible nor necessary. Coss v. L. Jock v. Harrowendy Do v. 2 Morley 1 L R 194 referred to. This is a question purely of Hindu law great weight to be taken in coming to a decision upon it in order to prevent English Judges

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

being warped by impressions made upon their minds in consequence of their habitual application of English law and the nature of English decision to which they are accustomed and to consider in what way a Hindu Court of Justice would have decided the point. The true rule appears to be that there is a distinction between legal necessity for worldly purposes on the one hand and the promotion of the spiritual welfare of the deceased on the other hand and that within proper limits the widow may alienate her husband's property for the performance of religious acts which are supposed to conduce to his spiritual benefit. Mul. Kodav v. Kullians 1 Mac Sel Rep 5; Ram Chunder Surma v. Gungogound 4 Mac Sel Rep 147; Kartel Chunder v. Gour Mohun 1 W P 48; Runjeet Ram v. Mohamed Wars 21 W P 49; Ram Kaul S. Singh v. Ram Kashore Das 1 L R 22 Cal 506; Churaman Sahu v. Gopi Sahu 1 L R 37 Cal 1; Harmange v. Ram Gopal 17 C W N 782; Rama v. Ranga 1 L R 8 Mad 552; Lakshminarayana v. Dasu 1 L R 11 Mad 298; Vuppuluri v. Garimilla 1 L R 34 Mad 288; Ivan Das v. Jai Narain 1 L R 4 All 481; Kupur v. Selok Ram 1 Bor 405; Jogibhai v. Doshankar 1 Bor 335; Chunilal v. Jusoo 1 Bor 65 referred to. A gift of a moderate portion of the property of her husband by the widow with a view to his spiritual benefit is valid whether the alienation covers a reasonable portion of the property of the husband of the lady is a question which must be determined with reference to the circumstances of each particular disposition. Fam. Chunder Surma v. Gungogound 4 Mac Sel Rep 147; Churaman v. Gopi Sahu 1 L R 37 Cal 1 referred to. Recitals in a deed are not by themselves conclusive evidence of their truth and the facts alleged should be proved abunde. Brij Lal v. Jinda Kanwar 1 L R 38 All 157 referred to. KARTI LAL SINGH v. AJODHYA MISHRA (1914) 1 L R 43 Cal 574

15 ——— Legal necessity—Onus of proof of legal necessity as affected by lapse of time—Proof of custom of alienation to estate—Limitation—Adverse possession—Res publica. On this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee affirmed the decision of the High Court which is reported in 1 L R 5 Cal at page 725. RAVADHAR PRASAD SINGH v. CHANDI PRASAD SINGH (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 41

16 ——— Mortgages executed with alleged consent of reversioners—Nature of proof required of consent which must be established by positive evidence—Absence of proof of legal necessity—Presumption afforded by consent of reversioner. In this appeal which arose out of suits to recover property mortgaged by a Hindu widow it was held (affirming the decisions of the Courts in India) that the part taken by the reversioners with respect to the mortgages in question did not under the circumstances amount to a consent to bind their interests. When a stringent equity arising out of an alleged consent by reversioners is sought to be enforced against them such consent must be established by positive evidence that upon an intelligent understanding of the nature of the dealings they concurred in binding their interests and that such consent should not be inferred from ambiguous act or be supported by dubious oral testimony such as appeared to have been relied upon in this case. Juran Singh v. Virendra Lal 1 L R 13 All 146; L. J. 531 A 1 per Lord

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

HORROUS referred to HARI KISHEN BHAGAT v KASHI PRESHAD SINGH (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 376

17 ———— Construction of deed of sale executed by widow—Whether it conveyed an absolute interest in the property or only a limited interest—Legal necessity—Evidence of intention of parties—Construction of deeds executed by natives of India—Recitals in deed as showing necessity and intention of executants In this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held (reversing the decree of the High Court and restoring that of the Subordinate Judge) that on the construction of a deed of sale executed by a Hindu widow of property held by her as heir of her husband in favour of the appellant, she conveyed her absolute interest in such property and not only the limited interest of a Hindu widow. Recitals to the effect, (a) that the husband did not leave property the produce of which was sufficient to meet her necessary expenses (b) that she had been obliged to borrow money to provide the ordinary necessities of life (c) that there were ancestral debts still unpaid and creditors pressing for payment and (d) that the only way to discharge them was to sell a portion of the property of her deceased husband recitals which were necessary if the executant were disposing of her absolute interest, but serving no purpose if the object was to convey merely the limited interest of a widow were held to show that the circumstances were such as to give her power to dispose of her absolute interest and from which the inference could reasonably be drawn that it was her intention so to dispose of it. Referring to the case of Hunooman Persaud Pandey v Dabooce Munraj Koondree 6 Moo 1 A 93 419 as to the liberal construction it was necessary to put upon deeds executed by natives of India their Lordships were of opinion that an examination in detail of the provisions of the deed in this case left no doubt in their minds that all the parties to it meant that the absolute interest in the property should be conveyed to the purchaser and thought that it had by the deed been effectually conveyed to him. That interest might well be construed as meaning the right to and interest in the property which the widow had in the particular circumstances of the case powers for the purpose indicated to sell and dispose of that absolute interest and not (as held by the High Court) as merely meaning the right and interest which a widow normally takes in the immovable property which her husband owned at his death and leaves after him. Any other construction their Lordships thought would plainly defeat the object and intention of the contracting parties. VARJUN MOHANTI CHANDA BEE (1915)

I L R 37 All 369

18 ———— Contract by father to sell family land—Suit for specific performance against father—Son added subsequently as defendant—No necessity for contract—Contract not binding on son—Plaintiff's right to conveyance from father of his share only—Partial performance meaning of—Specific Relief Act (I of 18 1) s 15—Contract by a co-partner to sell his share in family property and contract to sell specific family property distinction between The plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract or sale of certain lands and for possession. The contract was entered into by the first defendant the un-

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

divided father of the second defendant who was subsequently added as a party to the suit. The first defendant pleaded that the contract was vitiated by undue influence and was a hard bargain that ought not to be enforced against him. The second defendant pleaded that the contract was entered into by the first without any legal necessity and was not enforceable in law. It was found that there was no undue influence or hard bargain and that there was no necessity to enter into the contract. The plaintiff offered to pay the full consideration for a conveyance of the lands which were the separate property of the first defendant and of his interest in the family lands. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to a decree for specific performance of the contract against the first defendant or the second defendant. PER SANKARAN NAIR J—A person is entitled to specific performance of a contract by a member of a Hindu family to sell his share of the family property. If a junior member of a Hindu family agrees to sell any specific property belonging to his family a decree cannot be passed against him to sell his share of that specific property. Kosuri Ramaraju v Isakuri Ramalingam I L R 26 Mad 74 Srinivasa Reddi v Sivarama Peddi I L R 30 Mad 370 and Porala Subbarama Peddi v Jadamudi Seshachalam Chetti I L R 33 Mad 359 referred to. Nagiah v Venkatarama Sastrulu I L R 3 Mad 357 dismissed from Nanjaya Mudali v Shanmuga Mudali 15 Mad L T 186 followed. Maharaja of Barish v Venkataramanjulu Aidi 16 Mad L T 181 referred to. SUBBA VENKATRAMI (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 1187

19 ———— Onus of proof of legal necessity—Recitals in deeds as to necessity—Evidence of representation to purchasers—Value of recital after lapse of time when actual proof of enquiry has become impossible—Attestation of deed effect of as evidence of knowledge of contents or of consent by reversioner—Unexplained delay in prosecution of appeals—Costs disallowed if delay due to appellant In a suit for property alienated by a Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate the burden of proving legal necessity for the alienations lies on the purchasers. Valasar Baksh Singh v Patan Singh I L R 20 Cal 66 L I 931 A 57 followed. Recitals in deeds cannot by themselves be relied upon for the purposes of proving the assertions of fact which they contain. They can only be evidence as between the parties to the conveyances and those who claim under them. After a long period however has elapsed between the alienation and the suit to set it aside when all those who could have given evidence on the relevant points have grown old or have passed away a recital consistent with the probabilities and circumstances of the case assumes greater importance and cannot lightly be set aside. The recital is clear evidence of the representation and if the circumstances are such as to justify a reasonable belief that an enquiry would have confirmed its truth then when proof of actual enquiry has become impossible the recital coupled with such circumstances would be sufficient evidence to support the deed. Where the total value of the estate was small and there were expenses like the husband's shroth and any debts against his estate were to be paid, besides the necessity for the maintenance of the widows which need not be fully by a sufficient

HINDU LAW--ALIENATION--contd

sum to support existence the periods at which between 1848 and 1865 the properties were sold the small sums for which the sales were made and the disposition of the property piece by piece with fair regularity for 16 years all went to support the view that the widows found themselves unable to provide sufficient maintenance out of the income of the estate until their means came to an end in 1865 and the circumstances were such as would be sufficient to justify the assumption that proper enquiry would have disclosed that necessity existed. There was only the one fund for payment and if money was needed to pay debts the amount of money available for maintenance would to that extent be reduced and if the debts had been paid by the widows out of borrowed money it would make no difference whether the necessity to pay debts or to maintain themselves was stated in the recitals as reason for the sale. Attestation of a deed proves no more than that the signature of an executing party has been attached to a document in the presence of a witness. It does not involve the witness in any knowledge of the contents of the deed nor affect him with notice of its provisions. If it had been quite impossible for either of the widows lawfully to dispose of any interest in the properties and it was shown that the witness knew the nature of the deed more value might be given to his attestation but by itself it would neither create an estoppel nor imply consent. Hari Kishen Bhogt v Kashi Prasad Singh 1 L R 42 Cal 86 L R 42 1 4 64 referred to. Comments were made by their Lordships on the delay that had occurred between the decrees of the High Court in August 1909 and the setting down of the appeals for hearing in April 1916 for which no sufficient reason appeared. Unexplained it constituted a grave reproach to the administration of justice. All the respondents had been unjustly attacked in the lawful possession of property and for seven years had been subject to the anxiety and distress of knowing that the judgment of the High Court in their favour was subject to the inevitable uncertainties of the law. Their Lordships said that had the appeals succeeded they would have refunded the appellants any costs of the appeals unless they could have cleared themselves of the imputation of having needlessly protracted the proceedings and that course would be taken in similar cases in the future if occasion arose. BANOA CHANDRA DHIB BISWAS v JAGAT KISHORE ACHARYAS CHOWDHURI (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 168

20 ----- By father not for necessity—Widow's school—Joint family property—Alienation by father not for necessity and not for antecedent debt on loan to him. Joint property of a Mitakshara Hindu family cannot be alienated against co-shares by way of mortgage or otherwise except for necessity or for the payment of an antecedent debt quite distinct from the debt incurred in the mortgage itself and the sons of the mortgagors are not bound by any such alienation by reason of any previous obligation to pay their father's debt. Joint Dair v Ganpa Ram (1917) 21 C W N 957

21 ----- Joint Hindu family—Sale of ancestral property by father without consent of sons—Sale at sale at instance of sons—Sons entitled to refund of consideration by sons. A sale of the property of a joint Hindu family made by the father for an antecedent debt or for the payment of an antecedent debt is binding on the sons but if the consideration for such sale is not for any of the purposes mentioned above the sons are entitled to recover the property. But in such case the sons are not liable to refund the purchase money to the vendee. Ram Doyal v Suraj Mal 23 Indian Cases 891. Manabhai Rai v Gopal Viera All Weekly Notes 1901 p 57 and Chandra Deo Singh v Mats Prasad 1 L R 31 All 176 referred to. Koer Hashmat Rai v Sundar Das 1 L R 11 Cal 396 dissented from. MADAN GOPAL v SATI PRASAD (1917) 1 L R 39 All 435

HINDU LAW--ALIENATION--contd.

22 ----- Sale by father of joint family property without legal necessity—Suit by sons to repudiate the sale—Messe profits payable by purchase from date of such repudiation. Where the father as manager alienates joint Hindu family property without legal necessity and the sons repudiate the sale a purchaser who had no notice that the father was incompetent to sell the property is in equity only liable to pay messe profits from the date of such repudiation. Vijay Chander Chuttoray v Surdeasur Chuckerbutty 3 W P 479. Dalkhina Mohan Roy v Saroda Mohan Roy 1 L R 21 Cal 149 and Gresh Chander Lahiri v Soshi Sikkharsuar Poy 1 L R 27 Cal 95 L R 27 1 A 100 referred to. BRINOV NATH CHATRE v NARSINGH TIWARI (1916) 1 L R 39 All 61

23 ----- By some members of joint Hindu family—Alienation of joint property of family governed by Mitakshara law—Mortgage not for family necessity or to pay antecedent debt—Suit on mortgage—Non liability of sons and grandsons of mortgagors. Where a mortgage had been made by some of the members of a Hindu joint family governed by the Mitakshara law who joined in borrowing Rs 1200 on the security of the property of the joint family of which they were the heads without the consent of their co-partners and it was found that the mortgage was prima facie invalid as against the family property as being neither for an antecedent debt nor for any proved necessity of the joint family. Held that the mortgage could not be upheld on the doctrine laid down in the case of Yahabber Prasad v Ramayal Singh 1 B L P 190 20 W P 197 which was distinguished on the ground that there were special circumstances in that case which did not exist in the present case and it therefore did not lay down the general law. The general law was laid down in Madho Parshad v Mehran Singh 1 L P 18 Cal 157 163 L P 17 1 A 191 198 which governed this and all other cases of the kind and according to those principles the mortgage in suit was invalid as against the sons and grandsons of the mortgagors. LACHMAN PRASAD v SIVRAM SINGH (1917) 1 L R 39 All 500

24 ----- By manager when benefits result to minors' estate—Of estate as justifying alienation for benefit. The rule laid down by the Judicial Committee in Hannoman Prasad Pandey v Munraj Koonwar 5 Moo 1 4 3 3 193 is not restricted to cases of mortgage or other forms of partial alienation nor is it restricted in its application to cases of necessity alone for a benefit of the estate is there differentiated from the need of the estate as a circumstance justifying alienation. But mere increase in the immediate income of the minor or of his estate does not necessarily justify the inference that the particular transaction is for the benefit of the estate within the meaning of the rule which could not have been intended to include cases of speculative development of estates of minors. KRISHNA CHANDRA CHODHURY v. PATAN RAM PAI (1915)

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

20 C W N 645

25 ———— Mortgage by manager of joint family—If a was not father of the other members—Burden of proof of legal necessity for mortgage—Where no necessity proved the interest of such manager not available in enforcement of mortgage—Mortgage only operative to the extent to which the mortgage money was found to be necessary. The mortgage of joint estate made by the manager of a joint family who is not the father of the other member of the family can only be justified so far as it is wanted for the joint family purpose. If the necessity cannot be established by direct evidence it may be assumed if it can be shown that reasonable care was taken to a certain if such circumstances existed and the transaction acted in good faith [s. 38 of the Transfer of the Property Act (IV of 1882)]. In either case the burden of proof lies on the person who claims the benefit of the mortgage. Bhanga Chandra Dhar Biswas v. Jagat Kishore Acharya Chaudhuri 11 P 44 Cal 136 L R 43 I A 249 followed. There was no difference between the burden of proof when it is desired to support a mortgage made by a manager of a joint estate and that which is required to support the mortgage made by a widow who has only a similar limited power of disposition. If the debt was not incurred for family necessity the interest of the manager of the family with respect to mortgages in the same provinces as that from which the present case has been brought cannot be sold in enforcement of the mortgage. Lachman Prasad v. Sarnam Singi 1 L R 39 All 800 L R 44 I A 163 referred to. In the present case the mortgagee had only discharged the burden thrown upon him of proving necessity for the deed to the limited extent as held by the High Court and the security therefore stood only to the limited extent proved. ANANT RAM v. COLLECTOR OF ETAWA (1917) 1 L R 40 All 171

26 ———— By Widow—Subsequent adoption—Right of adopted son to set aside alienation and recover alienated property. A Hindu widow alienated certain properties for a purpose not binding on the inheritance and thereafter adopted a son. Held by the FULL BENCH that the alienation was not binding on the adopted son and that he could sue during the life time of the widow to set aside the alienation and recover the properties so alienated his cause of action arising from the time of his adoption. Srinera wulu v. Arishamma 1 L R 26 Mad 143 overruled. Bonomali Poy v. Jagat Chandra Bhosnick 1 L R 32 Cal 669 and dictum in The Collector of Madras v. Moosoo Ramalinga Saithu gathy 12 Moo 1 A 397 443 followed. VAIDYA NATHA SASTRI v. SAVITHRI AMMAL (1917)

1 L R 41 Mad 75

27 ———— Circumstances justifying alienation—Spiritual benefit of husband—To what extent alienation permissible. For religious or charitable purposes or those which are supposed to conduce to the spiritual welfare of her husband a Hindu widow has a larger power of disposition than that which she possesses for purely worldly purpose. There is a distinction between legal necessity for worldly purposes on the one hand and the promotion of the spiritual welfare of the deceased on the other hand. A gift of a moderate portion of the property of her husband by the widow with a view to his spiritual benefit is valid. Whether an alienation covers a reasonable portion of the property of her husband is a question which must be determined with reference to the circumstances of each particular disposition. The Collector of Masulipatam v. Catala Vercata Narayanaiah 8 Moo 1 A 59 Khub Lal Singh v. Ajodhya Misser 1 L R 43 Cal 64 Lakshminarayana v. Dasu 1 L R 11 Mad 58 Vuppuluri Talayya v. Gammilla Rama Krishnawar 1 L R 31 Mad 98 Rama v. Rujya 1 L R 8 Mad 552 Ram Kaul Singh v. Fara Kishore Das 1 L R 22 Cal 96 Panachand Chotala v. Masoarial Nandlal 1 L R 42 Bom 136 Puran Das v. Jai Narain 1 L R 4 All 457 and Balkishan Bharti v. Sat Ram Singh All Weekly Notes 1908 907 referred to. KUNJA BHARAI LAL v. LATU SINGH (1918)

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—contd

1 L R 41 All 130

28 ———— Ujara granted by a Hindu widow to her manager 40 years before suit—Value of recitals of legal necessity in the deed—Alienation if may bind reversioners apart from legal necessity—Acquisition of the widow out of income of part of the corpus of the estate. The recitals of legal necessity in an alienation by a Hindu widow made more than 40 years before suit could not be given the weight attached to similar recitals in Banga Chandra v. Jagat Kishore L R 43 I A 249. As much as in this case evidence was available as to the pecuniary condition of the estate at the time of the alienation and it was made to a person who in fact managed the estate for the widow. Held on the evidence that the alienation in this case a permanent ujara was not made for legal necessity nor was it binding on the reversioners apart from legal necessity as being for the benefit of the estate. Held also that the reversioners did not by getting themselves substituted as the legal representatives of the widow in a suit for arrears of jara rent which had fallen due in her life time did not ratify the ujara. Property acquired by the widow out of the income of the estate became part of the corpus of the estate where it appeared that her intention was to treat the purchased property as part of the original estate. UPENDRA KISHORE MANDAL v. NAGO KISHORE MANDAL (1918)

23 C W N 64

29 ———— Power to alienate husband's estate—Surrender or relinquishment by widow—Consent of reversioners—Whether alienation is binding on a mortgage from transferee—Estoppel. As to the power of a Hindu widow to deal with the property of her husband to which she has succeeded for a life estate on his death there is a distinction between the power of surrender or renunciation which is the first head of the subject, and the power of alienation for certain specific purposes, as necessity which is the second. The result of the consideration of the decided cases may be summarized as follow—(1) An alienation

HINDU LAW--ALIENATION--could

by a widow of her deceased husband's estate held by her may be validated if it can be shown to be a surrender of her whole interest in the whole estate in favour of the nearest reversioner or reversioners at the time of the alienation. In such circumstances the question of necessity does not fall to be considered. But the surrender must be a bona fide surrender and not a device to divide the estate with the reversioner. (u) When the alienation of the whole or part of the estate is to be supported on the ground of necessity then if such necessity is not proved shunde and the alienee does not prove enquiry on his part and honest belief in the necessity the consent of such reversioners as might fairly be expected to be interested to quarrel with the transaction, will be held to afford a presumptive proof which if not rebutted by contrary proof will validate the transaction as a right and proper one. Where property was transferred by the widow to an alienee from whom a prospective reversioner takes a mortgage of a portion of it he is not estopped on the death of the widow from disputing the validity of the alienation. RANGASAMI GOUNDEY v. NACHAPPA GOUNDEY (1919)

I L R 42 Mad 523

L R 48 I A 72

30 ----- By daughter--Of entire house inherited by her to discharge debt of father--House not suitable piecemeal--Legal necessity--Suit by reversioner to recover house from vendee. To pay off an antecedent debt of her father the daughter of a separated Hindu sold a house which had been the property of her father in his life time and had been previously mortgaged by herself and her mother jointly as security for the same debt. The debt at the time of the sale amounted to Rs 775 and the house was sold for Rs 19500. On the other hand, it was found that the house was not one which could have been divided and sold piece meal. Held that the reversioner to the last male owner was not in the circumstances entitled to recover the house from the vendee. BAL KRISHNA DAS v. HIRA LAL (1918)

I L R 41 All 338

30(a) ----- By father--A suit was instituted against a Hindu father and his sons on a mortgage bond executed by the father alone. The Court found that it was not for any purpose binding upon the sons. Held that the mortgagee was entitled to a conditional decree under Order XXXI r 6 against the father personally and against the Joint Family property of himself and his undivided sons for the recovery of the balance in case the sale proceeds of the father's share of the mortgaged property was insufficient. KARDA SANTI GOUNDEY v. KURUP MOORFAN

I L R 43 Mad 421

31 ----- By widow--Onus of proof of legal necessity--Suit to set aside an alienation after long lapse of time--Presumptive onus to complete proof. The suit which gave rise to this appeal was one by a reversioner to set aside an alienation by a widow made in 1830 on the ground that it was made without legal necessity. The widow died on the 14th December 1900 and the suit was instituted on 12th December 1912 involving an inquiry into the circumstances of a transaction more than 82 years after it took place. The District Court found that there was no legal necessity for the sale and decreed the suit. The High Court held that legal necessity had been proved and reversed the judgment of the Trial Judge.

HINDU LAW--ALIENATION--could

In the course of their judgment they said, "It is not disputed that the onus lay upon the defendant to prove the necessity for the sale, but having regard to the great lapse of time since the transaction took place perhaps the highest on record, it will not be reasonable to expect such full and detailed evidence as to the state of things which gave rise to the sale in question as in the case of alienations made at more recent dates. In such circumstances presumptions are permissible to fill in the details which have been obliterated by time. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee in affirming the decision of the High Court cited the above with approval as being in their opinion a correct statement of the law." CHAKRA REDDI v. RANI SAREBA OF WADHAWA (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 541

L R 47 I A 6

32 ----- By widow--proof of necessity debt paid to third person. Held that under Hindu Law a widow cannot alienate immovable property inherited by her from her husband except for special purposes. For religious and charitable purposes or for those which are supposed to conduce to the spiritual welfare of her husband she has a larger power of disposition than that which she possesses for purely worldly purposes and to support such an alienation she must show necessity. Held also that the payment of a debt contracted by the widow from a third person does not of itself justify an alienation by her of immovable property. GOWARDHAN DAS v. VIJAY LAL

I L R 1 Lah 48

33 ----- By widows in accordance with a decree for maintenance obtained against them--Suit by reversioners to challenge alienation--Res judicata--Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1895) s 22. Where S the daughter of a deceased Hindu by a wife who had predeceased him sued his two surviving widows on the ground that they declined to deliver a certain pattah and had also dispossessed her from a part of the property covered by the pattah, the said pattah having been executed by them in accordance with a custom prevalent in the family by which married daughters who resided in the family dwelling house were entitled to receive a certain amount by way of maintenance for themselves their husbands and their children, to be enjoyed after their death by their descendants and it was found that the alleged custom did exist in the family and the suit was accordingly decreed. Held in a suit by the reversioners against the son of S for recovery of joint possession with the defendant of the land covered by the pattah that the suit against the widows was not a suit to enforce an alienation made in their personal capacity and that the decree obtained in that suit was binding on the reversioners inasmuch as in that suit the widows represented the estate of their deceased husband. ARUL CHANDRA METTA v. MURUGAYAR BOOR

3 Pat L J 426

34 ----- By widow before birth of son--Whether after the son's death his mother's estate as a widow from the date of his birth or from the date of his father's death. The house and site in dispute belonged to the plaintiff's father T a Hindu, who died in May 1911. On the following July the property was sold by T's widow R. The plaintiff who was born to R five days after the sale sued to contest its validity. This first Court decreed the claim, holding that the plaintiff was in contemplation of law actually existing at the time of his father's death that at the time of the sale he and not his mother was the owner of the property and that therefore the sale by the latter was void. This decree was upheld by the District Judge on appeal. Held on second appeal that the rights of a son under Hindu Law in the estate by his father commence at birth and not before and that R was consequently at the date of the sale competent to alienate the property for necessity. Bamundoss Venkayya v Musammal Taranne (7 Moo 1 A 169 P C) followed. Mayne's Hindu Law 8th Edition page 499 and West and Buhler's Digests of Hindu Law 3rd Edition volume I page 803 referred to Jatindra Mohan v Ganendra Mohan (9 Beng L R 317 P C). Musammal Mangi v Sobha Singh (20 Indian Cases 22). Vinayaki v Iyappa (1 L R 8 Mad 59) and Pamalakshna v Tripura Bai (1 L R 33 Bom 88) distinguished. Saba pathi v Somasundaram (1 L R 16 Mad 76) and Hanmant Ramachandra v Bhimacharya (1 L R 1, Bom 105) not followed. Hira v Bura I L R 1 Lab 128

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—cont'd

35 ——— By way of Compromise —
Bj Limited owner—whether binds reversioners. An alienation by way of compromise entered into between a limited owner and persons who had no bona fide claim to the property at the time of the compromise is not binding on reversioners. ANUP NARAY SINGH v MAHABIR PRASAD SINGH
 3 Pat L J 83

36 ——— Alienation of occupancy right by father whether binding on minor sons—Central Provinces Tenancy Act (XI of 1938) S 46 (1). An alienation by the father of a Hindu joint family of his interest in an occupancy holding appertaining to the ancestral property of the family is not binding on a minor except in those cases in which an alienation of the family property would ordinarily bind the son. SURESH MALI v SRI BRAHMACHARI BALBHADRA MAHAPATRU
 4 Pat L J 354

37 ——— Decree against father—joint family property sold in execution—whether sons are bound. Where the name of the father of a Hindu joint family was entered in the Record of Rights as being in possession and he unsuccessfully defended a suit brought against him held that the sons were bound by an attachment of joint family property made at the instance of the successful plaintiff in execution of the decree which awarded him recovery of possession and profits and costs. The rule of Hindu Law under which a son is not liable for debts of his father incurred for an illegal or immoral purpose does not apply when the debt has merged in a decree. GANESH LALL v DEO SARAN AHIR
 4 Pat L J 692

38 ——— Antecedent debt—loan by father—subsequent execution of mortgage to secure loan—suit by mortgagees to enforce security—onus. Where a Hindu father borrows money independently of the joint family property and subsequently finding that he is not able to repay the loan, executes a mortgage bond as security the bond is one for an antecedent debt. In a suit on a bond by the mortgagee the onus of proving that the debt is an antecedent one lies on the plaintiff. SUKHDEO JHA v JHAPAT KAMAT 5 Pat. L J 120

HINDU LAW—ALIENATION—cont'd

39 ——— Interest necessity for high rate of—burden of proving. The principle that it is incumbent on those who support a mortgage made by the manager of a joint Hindu family to show not only that there was a necessity to borrow but that it was not unreasonable to borrow at a high rate of interest applies to a case of a mortgage by a Hindu widow. In the absence however of a specific plea in the written statement that there was no necessity to borrow at a high rate of interest the burden of establishing that necessity does not lie on the mortgagee. JAG SAHU v RAI RADHA KISHNU
 5 Pat L J 287

40 ——— Mortgage by member of the family validity of—whether mortgagor's share liable—Evidence Act (I of 1872) S 39 Illustration (1)—horoscope admissibility of. A mortgage by an individual member of a Vitakshara family of the whole or a share of the joint family property where no family necessity or antecedent debt is proved is void and inoperative as against the property hypothecated and gives the mortgagee no right even against the mortgagor's undivided share. Where however the mortgagor's interest has been separated from that of the other members of the family actual partition by moles and bounds not being essential for this purpose or where the share has by legal process been attached or sold at the instance of the creditor it may become available as security for the mortgage debt. In special circumstances where the property has already passed into the hands of the mortgagee the court, if satisfied that the equities of the case require it may in its discretion set aside the alienation upon the terms that the property when restored shall be held in separate shares the share of the mortgagor being subject to a lien for the mortgage debt and interest. In a suit to enforce a mortgage against the joint family property the mortgagees being in possession, no equities can arise as in a case where the property has been sold in execution of a decree or has otherwise passed into the hands of the mortgagees. An intention to separate from the rest of the joint family cannot be inferred from the fact that the member of the family executing the mortgage purported to hypothecate only his own share out of the whole property. A horoscope drawn up by a person who has since died is admissible in evidence to prove the age of the person mentioned in the horoscope by reason of Illustration (1) to a 3. of the Evidence Act 1872 but the horoscope is not conclusive of the age of the person. AMAR DIAL SINGH v HAR PERSHAD SAGU
 4 Pat L J 605

41 ——— By manager—Vitakshara—Joint family—karta, power of to deal with family property—alienations of joint property in order to purchase other property validity of—enjoyment of proceeds by members of the family whether amounts to ratifications—whether mortgagor's share liable—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 65 Burden of proof. The power of the karta of a joint family to deal with the joint family property is the same as that of the manager for an infant heir under the Hindu Law as defined in 6 M I A 393. Actual compelling necessity is not the sole test of the validity of an alienation by the manager acting without the express consent of the other members. When

HINDU LAW—CUSTOM—Concld

of the family as an entity through so many centuries was mainly owing to this custom and the theory favoured in the Judicial Commissioner's Court that after the head of the family ceased to be the holder of a hereditary fiscal office the junior members must naturally assert themselves as share holders according to the ordinary Hindu law which in consequence would displace the custom was based on a propter reasoning of a speculative character. The mere cessation of services to which watan lands are attached which are by custom imperishable does not ordinarily destroy that custom. RANA MAHATAN SINGHU BADAN SINGH

26 C W N 226

6 ————— *Hindu law, customary law at variance with if enforceable—Dhursas of Gurgaon emigrating to the Central Provinces—Adoption of orphan if valid. It is beyond question that according to the law of the Mitakshara as recognised by the School of Benares an orphan cannot be adopted. It is also beyond doubt that in some parts of Northern India particularly in Districts now in the Punjab or adjacent to the Punjab the strict rules of the Mitakshara as recognised by the School of Benares have not been followed by some castes tribes and families of Hindus and that customs which are at variance with that law have for long been consistently followed and acted upon and that when such customs are established they and not the strict rules of the Mitakshara with which they are at variance are to be applied. They are found principally amongst the agricultural classes but they are also to be found among classes which are not agricultural. The Dhursas of Gurgaon are governed in matters of adoption not by the orthodox Hindu law but by customary law and the adoption of orphans by Dhursas being consistent with that customary law is valid. RAM KISHORE JAI NARAYAN

26 C W N 862

7 ————— *Where a family is governed by the rule under which succession to an impartible estate does not go to females. So long as the family remains united the burden of proving the family has ceased to be united lies on the person alleging it. RANI JAGADAMBA KUMARI v THAKUR WAZIR N SINGH

2 Pat L J 239

8 ————— *In dealing with the custom of an entire community it is more important to have regard to the history of the main body than to the history of the less important branch. Position of BRU Chourvi Gadidas discussed. SHARDEO NARAYAN DAS v KUDPU KUMARI

5 Pat L J 164

HINDU LAW—DAUGHTER'S ESTATE—Concld

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 34 Bom 510

1 ————— Decree for possession of father's estate obtained by daughter—Practitioner of daughter's sons to execute such decree. The daughter of a separated Hindu obtained a decree for possession of her father's estate against certain trespassers. Before however she could obtain possession she died and her sons applied for execution. Held that the daughter represented her father's estate when she brought her suit for possession and that the persons who succeeded

HINDU LAW—DAUGHTER'S ESTATE—Concld

to the estate were entitled to execute the decree which she had obtained. MAHADEO SINGH v SUREO KARAN SINGH (1913)

I L R 35 All 481

2 ————— Suit by unmarried daughter for possession of her father's property—Death of plaintiff—Right of married daughters to continue the litigation. A separated Hindu died leaving him surviving a widow and four daughters, three married and one unmarried. After the death of her mother the unmarried daughter sued to recover possession of her father's estate naming her three married sisters as pro forma defendants. The plaintiff however died during the pendency of the suit. The three married daughters were then on their application transferred from the array of defendants to that of plaintiffs. Nevertheless the suit was dismissed upon the ground that it had abated by reason of the death of the original plaintiff. Held that the suit should not have been dismissed. The original plaintiff represented the estate and her sisters were entitled to continue the litigation which she had commenced. Mahadeo Singh v Shree KARAN Singh I L R 35 All 481 and Venkata Narayana Pillai v Subbammai I L R 38 Mad 406 referred to Balakrishna v Durga I L R 30 All 40 not followed. JADUBANSH KUNWAR v MAHARAJ SINGH (1914)

I L R 38 All 121

HINDU LAW—DEBT

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE

See HINDU LAW—SURETY

1 ————— *Father's debts—Mitakshara—Son's obligation to pay costs awarded against father in litaval on—Danda—Not hyavaharika. Certain persons who had applied for a succession certificate in respect of debts due to a deceased relative were successfully resisted in these proceedings by one L. They then sued L for a declaration of their right of heirship and the suit was decreed with costs against L who was living with his son and grandson as members of a joint Mitakshara family having died the decree holders sought to recover the amount of the decree from L's son and grandson. Held on a review of the authorities that L's son and grandson were bound to satisfy this decree. PER CHATTOPADHYAY J Costs awarded by Court against a defeated litigant is not danda within the meaning of the text of Rajnavalkya quoted in Shukla Sm. Ch. VI s 3 verse 47. Nor are they covered by the description not hyavaharika in the text of Uttara referred to in Darbar Kharar v Khachar Harar I L R 32 Bom 348. PARYAO SANKU v KASI SANKU (1910)*

14 C W N 659

2 ————— Limitation—Son not liable for Father's debt when barred—Contract Act s 134 135—Surety not discharge of claim against principal debtor alone if to become barred—Limitation Act 1877 Sch II Art 98. Undivided family property devolving on the son by survivorship is not the general estate of the father within the meaning of Art 98 of Sch II Limitation Act

HINDU LAW—DEBT—contd

18.7 and a suit to recover from the son out of such estate the loss occasioned by his father's breach of trust is not governed by Art 93. A son is not under the Hindu Law liable to pay a debt of the father which was barred against him. A debt the recovery of which is barred by limitation is not extinguished and the debtor is not by reason of the bar of limitation discharged therefrom. The omission of the creditor to sue the debtor within the period of limitation is not an act the legal consequence of which is the discharge of the debtor and such omission has not the effect of discharging the surety under ss 134 and 137 of the Indian Contract Act. Carver v White 25 Ch D 666 referred to Ranjit Singh v Laddat 11 P 244B 504 dissented from SUBRAMANIAM ANJAN v GOPALA ANJAN 1 I L R 33 Mad 308

3 ———— Defamation suit costs—Debts—Son's liability for father's debt—Money borrowed to defend a suit for defamation not an immoral debt Held that under the Hindu Law money borrowed by the father to defend a suit for defamation is a debt for which a Hindu son and grandson are liable. SUNDER SENAN v LITADHAR (1911) 1 I L R 33 All 472

4 ———— Damages—Execution of decree—Decree against father for damages—Liability of son—Mitakshara Law—Immoral or illegal debt A decree obtained by a person for damages or account of injury done to his crops by the obstruction of a channel through which he was entitled to irrigate his lands against one B who was governed by the Mitakshara school of Hindu Law could be executed on his death against his son, where it could not be said that the decree obtained was due to an act of the judgment debtor which was a wanton interference with the rights of the decree holder and that the liability imposed thereby on the judgment debtor was an illegal or immoral debt. CHHAKAURI MARTON v GANGA PRASAD (1911)

1 I L R 33 Cal 862

5 ———— Unsecured debt contracted by limited owner when binding on estate—Will bind if made after due enquiry—Proof of due enquiry—Nature of right liable to be divested by adoption—Transfer of Property Act s 38 Unsecured debts contracted by a limited owner will be binding on the estate if incurred for purposes which will justify a charge on such estate. The rule laid down in the case of Hanuman Pershad Panday v Koorer 6 Mad 1 A 393 as to the sufficiency of a reasonable inquiry satisfying the creditor of the existence of reasonable necessity to validate a claim against the estate in the hands of a manager applies in the case of all loans whether secured or unsecured. Representations by the borrower are evidence of the existence of such necessity but are not generally in themselves sufficient to discharge the burden which rests upon the creditor of showing a reasonable inquiry as to the binding nature of the purpose for which the loan is contracted. In particular circumstances however they may suffice to shift the burden of proof to the person impeaching the debt or alienation. If s 38 of the Transfer of Property Act is deemed to enact a rule as to reasonable inquiry in excess of what is required by the Privy Council in Hanuman Pershad's case

HINDU LAW—DEBT—contd

party which in the eye of law was nil. BRUGA RAJU VENKATARAMA JODIRAJU v. ADDEPALLI SESHAILA (1912) 1 L R 35 Mad 563

8 ——— Grandfather's debts—3rd al sharu—Grandson is liable for interest on grandfather's debts—Son's liability is may be thrown primarily on the share obtained by survivorship from father and grandfather. A decree for mesne profits with interest was passed against A and D, grandfather and father respectively of R after R was born. Subsequently on the death of A and D the decree holder sought to execute the decree against the entire ancestral property in the hands of R. R claimed that in as much as the debt was his grandfather's he was not liable for the interest. Held that the wrong being the joint act of the father and grandfather and the liability arising therefrom being that of the father as well as of the grandfather the son was liable for interest. That after the entire property vested in R on the death of A and D there was no distinction between what was obtained by P by survivorship from them and his own share so as to enable P to compel the decree holder to proceed first against share of the father and grandfather to the exclusion of his own share. Quare Whether the rule in Kishan Pershad v. Tipan Pershad 1 L R 4 Cal 735 s. c. 11 C W N 613 throwing the burden primarily on the share of the father applies to the case of a simple money debt as distinguished from a mortgage. RAMPZO PRASHAD SIKH v. GURU ROBERT (1911) 16 C W N 383

8 ——— Pious obligation—Decree debt incurred by father as devastanant committee member—Ayavaharika meaning of. The liability of a Hindu father who as a member of a devastanant committee unauthorisedly spends the devastanant funds for expenses of a litigation and is afterwards directed by the Court to pay the costs out of his own private funds constitutes a debt which his sons and grandsons are under a pious obligation to discharge. The expression Ayavaharika debt means a debt which is not supportable as valid by legal arguments and on which no right could be established by the creditor in a Court of Justice. Durbar Khachar v. Khochar Harsur 1 L R 32 Bom 348 dissenting from Chakraborty Mahon v. Gangadhar Parshad 15 O L J 278 followed Anantayyan v. Ponnamam 1 L R 16 Mad 99 and Ahalal Fakhan v. Gobind Pershad 1 L R 40 Cal 323 referred to Pamdegar v. Secretary of State 20 Mad L J 82 distinguished Venugopal Naidu v. Panana Bhan Chetty (1914) 1 L R 37 Mad 458

9 ——— Duty of widow to pay her husband's debts—Even though time barred—Widow not bound to pay debts repudiated by her husband in his life time. Under Hindu Law a widow is under a pious obligation to pay her deceased husband's debts even though they may be time barred but she is not bound to pay debts which her deceased husband had repudiated before his death. BHAOWAT BHASKAR v. NIVARTI SAKHARAM (1914) 1 L R 33 Bom 113

10 ——— Father's debts wrongfully incurred—Debt contracted in trade carried on against Court's consent—Servants Conduct Rule. 1904. Son cannot escape liability for payment of the

HINDU LAW—DEBT—contd

debts of their father contracted in a trade carried on by him in contravention of Government Servants Conduct Rules on the ground that the conduct of their father in contracting debts in such trade was ayavahar. PAMKRISHNA TRIMBAK v. NARAYAN (1915) 1 L R 40 Bom 126

11 ——— Antecedent debt—Prior mortgage by father of joint family estate whether an antecedent debt to support a subsequent mortgage so as to charge sons' shares also. An independent debt neither illegal nor immoral contracted by a Hindu father on the security of the joint family estate antecedent to a mortgage sued on is an antecedent debt so as to support a charge on the sons' shares also to the extent of the sums secured on the prior mortgage. Sahu Ram Chandra v. Bhup Singh 1 L R 39 All 437 explained Badagala Jogi Naidu v. Bendalam Papiah Naidu 35 M L J 387 overruled ARUNOHAN CHETTY v. MUTHU KODURAM (1919) 1 L R 42 Mad 711

12 ——— Debts incurred for breach of civil duty as trustee—whether Ayavaharika—Liability of sons to pay during father's life time. A money decree was obtained against a Hindu father for his failure to account as a trustee and in execution the ancestral family property was attached. The sons having applied to raise the attachment on the ground that the money debt in the decree against their father was tainted with illegality and immorality and that their shares could not be made liable in execution during the life time of their father. Held that the decretal debt of the father for breach of civil duty as trustee was not Ayavaharika. Held further that the shares of the sons in the ancestral property could be attached and sold during the life time of the father for the satisfaction of his personal debt not tainted with illegality or immorality. Sahu Ram Chandra v. Bhup Singh 1 L R 44 A 126 discussed MANHANT KASHINATH v. GANESH AYNALI (1918) 1 L R 43 Bom 612

13 ——— Legal necessity—Mitalahara—Joint Hindu family—Debt—Money borrowed to comply with a decree for pre-emption in favour of the father. A decree for pre-emption providing that the pre-emptor shall acquire the property if he pays the amount mentioned therein but other wise his suit will be dismissed is a debt such as will support a bond given by the father of a joint Hindu family to raise money for its satisfaction. NATHU v. KUNDAN LAL (1910) 1 L R 33 All 242

14 ——— Widow—Money borrowed for legal necessity—Construction of will—Feast on return from pilgrimage—Daughter's marriage. Money borrowed to defray the expenses of the marriage of the daughter of a Hindu widow in possession of her husband's property is money borrowed for legal necessity but a feast given on return from pilgrimage is not so connected with the pilgrimage as to justify its allowance as money expended for legal necessity. Expenses incurred in the construction of a well may be a legal necessity if it be proved to be for the benefit of the estate. MARHAN LAL v. GUYAN SINGH (1910) 1 L R 33 All 255

15 ——— Promissory note executed by father before partition—Pendency of the note

HINDU LAW—DEBT—concl'd

by father after partition—Son's liability on such note—Joint obligation to discharge father's debts extent of—A Hindu son is not liable during his father's life time on a promissory note executed by his father after partition in renewal of a note executed by the father before partition. The recent decision of the Judicial Committee in Sahu Pan Chandra v Ilup Singh L P 411 A 1 G does not overrule the long line of decisions as to the right of the creditor of a Hindu father to sue the father and the sons for an antecedent debt incurred by the father for purposes neither illegal nor immoral and to attach and to bring to sale the interest of the sons as well as of the father in execution of the decree in such a suit. Per KALABASWAMI SASTRIAN J. The decision in Sahu Pan Chandra v Bhup Singh L P 411 A 1 G makes it clear that it is the primary duty of the father to pay debts incurred by him not for any family necessity but for his own purposes and that the pious duty of the son as arising that it arises at all during the life time of the father arises only if the father's share or his self-acquisitions are insufficient to meet the debts. PEDA VENKAYYA & SREENIVASA DEEKSHATRELU (1917) L L R 41 Mad 136

16 ——— Sale of family property—Under decree against joint person—Validity of such sale where debt proved to be illegal or immoral—the Antecedent debt—Where a Hindu father in a Mitakshara family contracted debts not proved to be illegal or immoral and a decree was passed against him personally. Held that the decree was binding on the family property and was enforceable against the joint family estate. The decision of the Judicial Committee in Shahu Pan Chandra's Case L P 39 All 43* L P 441 A 1 G does not overrule the long line of cases according to which a creditor who has obtained a personal decree for money against a Mitakshara father is entitled to levy execution against the entirety of the joint family property. MADHUSUDAN DAS MOHANT & ISWARI DAS DEBI (1920) L L R 48 Cal 341

17 ——— B a Hindu governed by Mitakshara law devised his properties which were self-acquired by a will whereby he provided that each of his sons was to live in joint mess with his brothers up to the age of 30 when the share of each would fully belong to him in title after vesting absolutely in his sons and grandson etc. during the minority of his eldest son and P borrowed from his brothers represented by the guardian with the permission of the District Judge for purchasing a residence. Subsequently a decree was obtained against P for the money and in order to get a stay of execution of the decree in terms of the order of the High Court P executed a security bond charging his property including his share of Tanahas. Held that the money was lent and borrowed for legitimate family purposes and the decree could be executed against the entire coparcenary. LALA MITTI LOKASHI NANDE & SRINATH ISWARI DEBI DEBI 24 C W N 933

HINDU LAW—DEBUTTER

Debutter of estate—Determination of rights—Succession—Custom and usage of

HINDU LAW—DEBUTTER—concl'd

the community—Removal and appointment by punch—Punchnama—Stamp Act (II of 1899) Sch I Art 7—Alienation by shebait without legal necessity—Permission of the District Judge obtained under a 90 of Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) by fraudulent misrepresentation effect of—Punchnama no privy to the fraud but purchase with knowledge of such fraudulent misrepresentation—A who belonged to the sect of Giri Dasnami Cossuns dedicated by his will the properties acquired by him to two deities. The will stated that all the properties moveable and immovable and the profits of the said properties would be deemed as the debutter properties of the two deities. It then provided for the succession to the office of the shebait who would carry on the sheba and perform other acts according to the customs and usages of the family that none of the properties left by A would be liable to be sold or be subject to any charge for any debts contracted by the shebait or any person appointed to that office that if any such thing happened the same would be liable to be set aside by the next shebait according to law and that if any shebait became extravagant or were found guilty of any grave offence by the punch of the community he would be removed from office. After A's death probate was obtained by his eldest son B who on his death was succeeded by his eldest son C. B made a will by which he appointed defendant No 1 shebait after his death. On B's death defendant No 1 obtained probate of his will contracted debts and obtained permission under a 90 of the Probate Act to sell certain properties which B sold to several purchasers. Other Cossuns of the same community assembled and having found defendant No 1 guilty of misconduct excommunicated him and by a punchnama removed him from shebaitship and appointed the plaintiff as shebait. The plaintiff brought this suit for recovery of possession of the properties alleged to be debutter after setting aside the alienations thereof. Held that the will of A created an absolute debutter. Ashutosh Dutt v Doorga Charan Chatterji L L R 4 Cal 433 distinguished. Held that the parties belonged to the order of sanyasi governed by the rules of the community to which they belonged. The ordinary rules of inheritance in their entirety could not apply to such persons for although the succession was through chelas any question as to preference between chelas (when it was not provided for by the guru) might be decided by the customs and usages of the community and the representatives of the community were the proper persons to decide such matters. Although the secular property of a guru might be inherited by the chela the properties in this case were absolute debutter and the succession to the office of shebait would be governed by the rules laid down by the creator of the endowment and in their absence by the punch of the community who would naturally be the proper persons to decide the question what constituted grave offence or acts contrary to custom or usages of the family. Held that when a member of the punch was unable to attend on account of his illness or being on pilgrimage the other members of the punch could act. MOHESH CHANDRA POY & GO SAIN GANPAT GIE (1916) 23 C W N 401

Debutter—Transfer of property apart from debutter—Transfer of property between two persons—Validity—Custom authori-

HINDU LAW—DEBT—contd

perty which in the eye of law was not. BHOJA RAJU VENKATARAMA JOGIRAJU & ADDEVALEX SESHAYIA (1912) I L R 35 Mad 560

7a ——— Grandfather's debts—Liability of grandson if liable for interest on grandfather's debts—Son's liability if may be thrown primarily on the share obtained by survivorship from father and grandfather. A decree for mesne profits with interest was passed against A and D grandfather and father respectively of R after R was born. Subsequently on the death of A and D the decree holder sought to execute the decree against the entire ancestral property in the hands of R. R claimed that in as much as the debt was his grandfather's he was not liable for the interest. Held that the wrong being the joint act of the father and grandfather and the liability arising therefrom being that of the father as well as of the grandfather the son was liable for interest. That after the entire property vested in R on the death of A and B there was no distinction between what was obtained by R by survivorship from them and his own share so as to enable R to compel the decree holder to proceed first against share of the father and grandfather to the exclusion of his own share. Quare Whether the rule in Kishun Pershad v Tipan Pershad I L R 41 Cal 735 & c 11 C W N 613 throwing the burden primarily on the share of the father applies to the case of a simple money debt as distinguished from a mortgage. RAMESH PRASAD SINGH & GORI MOERI (1911) 18 C W N 383

8 ——— Pious obligation—Decree debt incurred by father as devasthanam committee member—Ayacharikas meaning of. The liability of a Hindu father who as a member of a devasthanam committee unauthorisedly spends the devasthanam funds for expenses of a litigation and is afterwards directed by the Court to pay the costs out of his own private funds constitutes a debt which his sons and grandsons are under a pious obligation to discharge. The expression Ayacharika debt means a debt which is not supportable as valid by legal arguments and on which no right could be established by the creditor in a Court of Justice. Durbar Ahachar v Khachar Harur I L R 32 Bom 318 dissented from Chakravarti Mahon v Ganaga & Pershad 15 O L J 328 followed Kalasayyan v Ponnusami I L R 16 Mad 99 and Khalil Rahman v Gobind Pershad I L R 20 Cal 328 referred to Pamrangar v Secretary of State 20 Mad L J 89 distinguished VENUGOPALA NAIDU & RAMANA DEBAN CHETTY (1914) I L R 37 Mad 458

9 ——— Duty of widow to pay her husband's debts—Eten though time barred—Widow not bound to pay debts repudiated by her husband in his lifetime. Under Hindu Law a widow is under a pious obligation to pay her deceased husband's debts even though they may be time barred but she is not bound to pay debts which her deceased husband had repudiated before his death. BHAGWAT BHASKAR & CHIRATTI BHAKHARAN (1914) I L R 39 Bom 113

10 ——— Father's debts wrongfully incurred—Debt contracted in trade carried on by him in contravention of Government Servants Conduct Rules. Condict Rules 1901 Sons cannot escape liability for payment of the

HINDU LAW—DEBT—contd

debts of their father contracted in a trade carried on by him in contravention of Government Servants Conduct Rules on the ground that the conduct of their father in contracting debts in such trade was arbitrary. RANKRISHNA TRIMBAK & NARAYAN (1915) I L R 40 Bom 126

11 ——— Antecedent debt—Prior mortgage by father of joint family estate whether an antecedent debt to support a subsequent mortgage so as to charge sons' shares also. An independent debt neither illegal nor immoral contracted by a Hindu father on the security of the joint family estate antecedent to a mortgage sold on is an antecedent debt so as to support a charge on the sons' shares also to the extent of the sums secured on the prior mortgage. Sahu Ram Chandra v Bhup Singh I L R 39 All 437 explained Badagala Jogi Naidu v Bendalam Papiah Naidu 35 M L J 387 overruled ARMUGHAM CHETTY v MURUGU KONDUR (1910)

I L R 42 Mad 711

12 ——— Debts incurred for breach of civil duty as trustee—Whether Ayacharika—Liability of sons to pay during father's life time. A money decree was obtained against a Hindu father for his failure to account as a trustee and in execution the ancestral family property was attached. The sons having applied to raise the attachment on the ground that the money debt in the decree against their father was tainted with illegality and immorality and that their shares could not be made liable in execution during the life time of their father. Held that the decretal debt of the father for breach of civil duty as trustee was not Ayacharika. Held further that the shares of the sons in the ancestral property could be attached and sold during the life time of the father for the satisfaction of his personal debt not tainted with illegality or immorality. Sahu Ram Chandra v Bhup Singh I L R 41 A 126 discussed HANMANT KASHINATH & GANESH ANNAJI (1918) I L R 43 Bom 612

13 ——— Legal necessity—Mistake—Joint Hindu family—Debt—Money borrowed to comply with a decree for pre-emption in favour of the father. A decree for pre-emption providing that the pre-emptor shall acquire the property if he pays the amount mentioned therein but otherwise his suit will be dismissed is a debt such as will support a bond given by the father of a joint Hindu family to raise money for its satisfaction. NAYDU v KUNDAT LAL (1910)

I L R 33 All 242

14 ——— Widow—Money borrowed for legal necessity—Construction of will—Feast on return from pilgrimage—Daughter's marriage. Money borrowed to defray the expenses of the marriage of the daughter of a Hindu widow in possession of her husband's property is money borrowed for legal necessity but a feast given on return from pilgrimage is not so connected with the pilgrimage as to justify its allowance as money expended for legal necessity. Expenses incurred in the construction of a well may be a legal necessity if it be proved to be for the benefit of the estate. MARHAN LAL v GAYAT SINGH (1910) I L R 33 All 255

15 ——— Promissory note executed by father before partition—Renewal of the note

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

claim to hold the land rent free on that ground was put forward at that time by the shebat and was on that account admitted by the revenue authorities. When the family of the shebat appointed by the founder died out the shebatship would, in the natural course, revert to a member of the family of the original grantor. Sisal Das Bisoi v. Ictip Chandra Surma 11 C L J 2 referred to. The mere fact that two branches of the family of the shebat each collected a half share of the rents of the endowed property did not prove that the property was treated as secular property. Pent decrees showing recovery of such half shares of the rent from the tenants on behalf of the Thakur were properly admitted in evidence under a 13 of the Evidence Act. The fact that a shebat devised the endowed property along with his secular properties went no further than to indicate that he purported to bequeath his right to the shebatship of that property to his widow and not the property itself. Alienation of the endowed property recently made by the shebats were held to amount to instances of abuse of trust by the shebats which would not by themselves be sufficient to destroy the debutter character of the land if otherwise established. Unlawful diversions of the profits from the services of the Thakur to other purposes in recent years also did not affect the validity of the grant as debutter. Held on the entire evidence that the endowment in this case was not of a private character and that the members of the family of the original grantor had not resumed the property endowed and converted it into secular property. Madhub Chandra Bera v. Sarat Kumar Deb (1910) 15 C W N 126

4 — Gift in favour of an idol which is to be subsequently consecrated—Losses given to manager. By a deed of gift certain zamindari property was expressed to be given to the idol which was not at the time of execution in existence and possession of the property was made over to a certain person as guyari. Held that the deed was valid and created a trust in favour of the idol. Mohar Singh v. Het Singh 1 L J 30 Ill 337 and Bhupati Nath Smriti tirtha v. Ram Lal Moitra 1 L R 37 Cal 193 referred to. CHATTARJEE v. CHATTARJEE (1911) 1 L R 33 All 253

5 — Gift void for uncertainty—Gift in favour of the Thakur in his Thakur dwara—No temple built or idol installed. Held that a dedication not to any particular deity which was subsequently to be installed in a temple but to the Thakur in his Thakur dwara without mentioning the particular Thakur to whom the property was dedicated was void for uncertainty. Bhupati Nath Smriti tirtha v. Ram Lal Moitra 1 L R 37 Cal 193. Mohar Singh v. Het Singh 1 L R 30 All 337 and Chattarjee v. Chattarjee 1 L R 33 All 253 distinguished. PRUDEN LAL v. ARYA PRITHI NIDHI SAKHA (1911) 1 L R 33 All 793

6 — Debutter—private consensus of co sharers—If may change character of treatment of property as secular effect of—Partition of property by shebat if converts property into secular—Legal conversion proof of. Where a private debutter had been partitioned between members of the family for the better enjoyment thereof and there had been sales and mortgages of portions of the property by some members but there was nothing to show that there was a consensus to give the property a different turn. Held that the original debutter character of the property being established these facts did not operate to destroy its debutter character. Doorga Nath v. Ramo Chandra 1 L P 2 Cal 341 referred to. Per CHATTLEJEE J—A partition of debutter property for the purpose of convenience of the user for the sheba is not a violation of the trust for the sheba of the property. Per JENKINS C J—Where the original debutter character of a property is found in a suit to establish such character against one who claims under an original shebat lies upon the defendants to show the subsequent legal conversion of the land to the ordinary user of the property. Juggut Moheene v. Rajendra Nath 10 B L I 19 31 referred to. DHARMA DAS MANDOL v. GOSTA BEGARY MANDOL (1911) 16 C W N 29

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

7 — Shebat office of—Succession—Deed of appointment—Construction—Shishya shishyanulrame. Where it was provided by deed that the accession to the office of a sheba should be shishya shishyanulrame (i.e. disciple following disciple) Held that upon a proper construction of the document there was nothing to prevent one disciple from succeeding a co-disciple in the line of the original shebat. GOPAL CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY v. RADHAKRISHN DAS BHARJ (1911) 16 C W N 108

8 — Right of succession to shebatship of temple belonging to Ballavacharya Gossains—Evidence of dedication—Claim of persons incompetent to be shebats (as being Bhats) of Ballar temple disallowed as defeating the purpose for which the founder established the worship—Title—Proof of independent title to succession as shebat. In a suit for possession and the right of shebatship of a temple belonging to the Ballavacharya Gossains founded by one Muttu, the maternal grandfather of the plaintiffs (appellants) the defendant (respondent) contended that the ordinary Hindu law was not applicable as alleged by the plaintiffs and that daughters sons were excluded by customs from succession. Held that apart from positive testimony on the point the performance of the worship of the idol in accordance with the rites of the sect for whose benefit it was held might be treated as good evidence of dedication and the ordinary rule of Hindu law relating to the descent of private property was not applicable. Held also that the rule that the heirs of the founder succeed to the shebatship laid down in Gossamee Sree Gredharettee v. Poman Rajee Gossamee 1 L R 17 Cal 3 L P 16 1 A 13, was, as there implied, subject to the condition that the devolution in the ordinary line of descent is not inconsistent with or opposed to the purpose the founder had in view in establishing the worship. In the present case the appellants being Bhats and not belonging to the Gossainul were not competent to be shebats of a Ballav temple where the rites were performed according to the Ballav ritual, which it was clearly established they could not perform. To allow their claim would defeat the purpose for which the worship was established. Held further that the respondent had established an independent title of his own to the temple as being the nearest male relative of Muttu both sing the transfer by a shebait of his pala only and with it the right to the offerings without at the same time transferring the interest in the debutter property appertaining to the pala is not established by evidence of transfers which passed both the pala and the property. A transfer of the pala apart from the property is not beneficial to the deity. The severance of a pala of worship by transfer by the shebait inter vivos to two persons is not beneficial to the trust. NITYA GOPAL BANERJI & NOKHIL MURHERJI

HINDU LAW—DEBUTTER—concl'd

24 C W N 369

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 39 Calc 33

1 ———— Limitation—Adverse possession—

*Dispute between senior and junior chelas as to succession to Hindu maths—Ekarnama allotting one math to senior chela in perpetuity and the other to junior chela as adikari—Suit instituted within twelve years from senior chela's death but 27 years from date of ekarnama—Hindu Law—Endowment* The Mohant of the temple of a Hindu idol who was in possession of two maths one at Bhadrak and the other at Bibisara died leaving two chelas or disciples between whom a controversy arose as to the right of succession to the maths and the property annexed to them. The dispute was settled by an arrangement embodied in an ekarnama dated 3rd of November 1874 executed by the senior chela in favour of the junior chela by which the math at Bhadrak was allotted in perpetuity to the senior chela and his successors while the math at Bibisara and the properties annexed to it were allotted to the junior chela (described therein as an adikari) and his successors for the purposes connected with his math subject to an annual payment of Rs 15 towards the expenses of the Bhadrak math. Less than twelve years after the death of the senior chela but considerably more than that period after the date of the ekarnama the appellant the successor of the senior chela brought a suit against the junior chela to recover possession of the properties annexed to the Bibisara math on the allegation that they were debutter property dedicated to the worship and service of the plaintiff's idol, and held by the respondent (representing the junior chela) as an adikari in charge of the Bibisara math and asserting it to be a math subordinate to the Bhadrak math.—Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the property dealt with by the ekarnama was prior to its date to be regarded as vested not in the Mohant but in the idol the Mohant being only its representative and manager and consequently that from the date of the ekarnama the possession of the junior chela by virtue of its terms, was adverse to the right of the idol and of the senior chela as representing that idol and that the suit was barred by limitation. DANODAS DAS v LAKHAN DAS (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 885

2 ———— Alienation of endowed property—Power of shebait to grant lease in perpetuity at a fixed rent—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 134 and (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 134—*Bona fide Purchaser—Purchaser of ab-HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—cont'd absolute title—Privy Council practice of—Review of former decision In a suit brought by the Raja of Panchakote as the shebait of certain Hindu duties to recover possession of debutter property which had been alienated more than 12 years before the institution of the suit by the plaintiff's predecessor in title who had granted a mokuram lease of the property in consideration of a fixed rent and payment of a fine equal to two years' rent. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the suit was not barred by limitation under Art 134 of Sch. II of Act XV of 1877 the lessees (defendants) not being the purchasers of an absolute title and therefore not purchasers within the meaning of that article. Abdram Coomaras v Shyama Charan Nandi I L R 36 Calc 1903 I L R 36 I A 148 followed. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council are averse from reviewing on an ex parte application a considered decision in a former case delivered after full argument. ISHWAR SHYAM CHAND JIU & PAM KANAI GHOSH (1911) I L R 38 Calc 526

3 ———— Proof that grant was for bona fide public religious purpose—Debutter—Dealings with the property and income—Separate collection by persons jointly interested as shebait—Bequest of properties both endowed and secular—Breaches of trust—Alienation of property and diversion of income—Evidence—Admissibility—Copy of sanad—Decision of revenue authorities in talukdar resumption proceeding under Reg II of 1819—Rent decrees recovered on behalf of Thakur—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 13—Shebait's line failure of—Reverter of office to donor In order to prove that certain lands form the subject of a valid public endowment it must be established that an absolute grant was made with the intention that the profits should be applied for the services of the idol and to establish the bona fide character of the endowment it must be proved that the profits have since been so applied, and the members of the family of the founder have not treated property as one the profits of which were mainly intended to be applied for their benefit. Keeshe shuree Dass v Krishna Kamesh Debis 2 Hay's Report 557 Gunga Narain Sircar v Brindaban Chandra Kur Chowdhry 3 W R 142 Ram Pershad Das Adikar v Sri Huree Dass Adikari 18 W R 399 Sonatan Bjacl v Srimati Jugut Soondari Dass 8 Moo I A 66 Ashutosh Dutt v Doorga Charan Chatterjee I L R 5 Calc 408 referred to. A document which was found to be a copy of a sanad of 1775 which itself did not purport to be the deed of grant by which the endowment was constituted but merely referred to the fact that the grant had been made and was recognised by the executive authorities was properly admitted in evidence on proof of proper custody. The statement in Budd Singh Dhu dhuria v Aradbaran Roy 2 C L J 431 that the question whether the lands had been absolutely dedicated for a public charitable purpose was wholly foreign to the enquiry and indeed beyond the jurisdiction of the revenue authorities in a proceeding under Reg II of 1819 goes too far. Where the decision in such a proceeding that certain lands are rent free proceeded on grounds based on allegations of the fact that the lands were dedicated as public debutter the decision would not be conclusive evidence of the validity of the grant but would at all events be evidence to show that a

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

claim to hold the land rent free on that ground was put forward at that time by the shebat and was on that account admitted by the revenue authorities. When the family of the shebat appointed by the founder died out the shebat hip would, in the natural course, revert to a member of the family of the original grantor. Sufat Das Dasari v Irtip Chandri Sarma 11 C I J 2 referred to. The mere fact that two branches of the family of the shebat each collected a half share of the rents of the endowed property did not prove that the property was treated as secular property. Pent decrees showing recovery of such half shares of the rent from the tenants on behalf of the Thakur were properly admitted in evidence under s 13 of the Evidence Act. The fact that a shebat devised the endowed property along with his secular properties was no further than to indicate that he purported to bequeath his right to the shebat hip of that property to his widow and not the property itself. Alienation of the endowed property recently made by the shebats were held to amount to instances of abuse of trust by the shebats which would not by themselves be sufficient to destroy the debutter character of the land if otherwise established. Unlawful diversions of the profits from the services of the Thakur to other purposes in recent years also did not affect the validity of the grant as debutter. Held on the entire evidence that the endowment in this case was not of a private character and that the members of the family of the original grantor had not resumed the property endowed and converted it into secular property. MADHUB CHANDRA BEPA v SARAT KUMARI DEBI (1910)

15 C W N 128

4 ——— Gift in favour of an idol which is to be subsequently consecrated—Losses given to manager. By a deed of gift certain zamindari property was expressed to be given to the idol which was not at the time of execution in existence and possession of the property was made over to a certain person as pujari. Held that the deed was valid and created a trust in favour of the idol. Mohar Singh v Het Singh 1 L R 32 Ill 337 and Bhupati Nath Smriti triha v Ram Lal Moitra 1 L R 37 Cal 18 referred to. CHATTERJEE v CHATTERJEE (1911)

1 L R 33 All 253

5 ——— Gift void for uncertainty—Gift in favour of the Thakur in his Thakur dwara—No temple built or idol installed. Held that a dedication not to any particular deity which was subsequently to be installed in a temple but to the Thakur in his Thakur dwara without mentioning the particular Thakur to whom the property was dedicated was void for uncertainty. Bhupati Nath Smriti triha v Ram Lal Moitra 1 L R 37 Cal 18. Mohar Singh v Het Singh 1 L R 32 All 337 and Chatterjee v Chatterjee 1 L R 33 All 253 distinguished. PRUDEN LAL v ARYA PRITHI NIDHI SABHA (1911) 1 L R 33 All 793

6 ——— Debutter—private consensus of co sharers—If may change character of treatment of property as secular effect of Partition of property by shebat if converts property into secular—Legal conversion proof of Where a private debutter had been partitioned between members of the family for the better enjoyment thereof and there had been sales and mortgages of portions of the property by a mo members but there was nothing to show that there was a consensus to give the property a different turn: Held that the original debutter character of the property being established the facts did not operate to destroy its debutter character. Durga Nath v Luma Chandra 1 L R 2 Cal 311 referred to. 1st CHATTERJEE J—A partition of debutter property for the purpose of convenience of the user for the shala is not a violation of the trust for the sheba of the property. Per JAMES C J—Where the original debutter character of a property is found in a suit to establish such character against one who claims under an original shebat lies upon the defendants to show the subsequent legal conversion of the land to the ordinary user of the property. Jugut Moheene v Rajendra Nath 10 B L R 1931 referred to. DHARMA DAS MANDOL v GOSTA BHABH MANDOL (1911) 16 C W N 29

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

7 ——— Shebat office of—Succession—Deed of appointment—Construction—Shukhya shishyanukrame. Where it was provided by deed that the succession to the office of a shebat should be shishya shi hyanukrame (i.e. disciple following disciple) Held that upon a proper construction of the document there was nothing to prevent one disciple from succeeding a co disciple in the line of the original shebat. GOPAL CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY v PANDARANAY DAS BANAJI (1911) 10 C W N 108

8 ——— Right of succession to shebatship of temple belonging to Ballavacharya Gossains—Evidence of dedication—Claim of persons incompetent to be shebats (as being Bhats) of Ballav temple disallowed as defeating the purpose for which the founder established the worship—Title—Proof of independent title to succession as shebat. In a suit for possession and the right of shebatship of a temple belonging to the Ballavacharya Gossains founded by one Muttu the maternal grandfather of the plaintiffs (appellants) the defendant (respondent) contended that the ordinary Hindu law was not applicable as alleged by the plaintiffs and that daughters sons were excluded by customs from succession. Held that apart from positive testimony on the point the performance of the worship of the idol in accordance with the rites of the sect for whose benefit it was held might be treated as good evidence of dedication and the ordinary rule of Hindu law relating to the descent of private property was not applicable. Held also that the rule that the heirs of the founder succeed to the shebat hip laid down in Gossamee Sree Gredhareje v Roman Laljee Gossamee 1 L R 17 Cal 3 L R 16 I A 137 was as there implied subject to the condition that the devolution in the ordinary line of descent is not inconsistent with or opposed to the purpose the founder had in view in establishing the worship. In the present case the appellants being Bhats and not belonging to the Gossain line were not competent to be shebats of a Ballav temple where the rites were performed according to the Ballav ritual which it was clearly established they could not perform. To allow their claim would defeat the purpose for which the worship was established. Held further that the respondent had established an independent title of his own to the temple as being the nearest male relative of Muttu but being descendants of two full brothers. The idol in the temple was brought from his temple at Nathdwara and the worship founded by Vottnpi was an offshoot of the worship at Nathdwara. The temple was also built on land belonging to the Tekant respondent with the permission of his ancestor who held the office of Tekant at the time. He had therefore a clear title according to the customs and usages of the Ballar Jati to the sequestration of the temple. MORAN LALJI v GORDHAN LALJI MAHARAJ (1913)

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

I L R 35 All 283

9 ————— Idol mutilation of—If term under endowment—Consecration of new idol effect of—Land given for worship of idol—Grantee if bound to apply proceeds for service of new idol—Statement partly against one's interest and partly self-regarding—Admissibility. When an image is mutilated or destroyed the religious purpose does not come to an end, and a new image may be established and consecrated in order that it may be worshipped as intended by the original founder. Where the site where an image which was established by an ancestor of the plaintiff was forty years before the suit washed away and the image itself was broken to pieces but continued to be worshipped in that condition out of the profits of some land made over by the ancestor of the plaintiff to an ancestor of the defendant for that purpose and the plaintiff having now established and consecrated a new image under the same name in a new temple in the same village called upon the defendant to perform the worship of the image out of the profits of the land and the defendant having refused plaintiff brought this suit to compel the defendant to perform the worship and in the alternative for ejectment. Held that upon these facts the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for ejectment. A statement by a predecessor of the defendant that the land had been given in order that the income might be applied for the worship of the grantee's family idols and also of the image established by the plaintiff's ancestor was admissible against the defendant to prove that the land was given for the purpose of the image but not in his favour to prove that it was given for the worship of the defendant's family idols. BIJAY CHAND MAHARAJ v KALIPADA CHATTERJEE (1913) 17 C W N 1612

10 ————— Endowment for worship of an image—Destruction of image how it affects endowment. An endowment of land the income of which is meant to be applied for the purposes of the service of an image of Shiva is not affected by the destruction or mutilation of the image. The religious purpose survives the destruction or mutilation. A new image may be established and consecrated in order that it may be worshipped as intended by the original founder. Purna Chandra Bhaer v Copal Lal Seth 9 C L J 369 and Bhupal Nath Bhatta v Ram Lal Mahtia 1 L J 3 Cal 128 referred to. A tenure dedicated to the service of an image of an idol comes to an end if the person entrusted with the worship repudiates his obligation in that behalf. Hurrogod and Pata v Panratil Das 1 L J 1 Cal 6 and Anwar Ali Jemal v Grey - 1 J C 103 followed in principle. BIJAY CHAND MAHARAJ v KALIPADA CHATTERJEE (1913) I L R 41 Cal 57

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

11 ————— Mahant of a Temple—Mahant appointing a married man and father of children to be Mahant—Abdication by Mahant of his functions—Right of his senior chela to succeed him. In this appeal the question was whether the appellant who claimed to be the senior chela of the first respondent the late mahant who had retired or the second respondent who claimed to have been appointed by him was entitled to succeed him as the mahant of the Patepur aashal or null. On this question their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held (reversing on the evidence the decision of the High Court) in favour of the appellant mainly on the ground that the second respondent was a married man who had not on mutation renounced his worldly ties and the begetting of children and was not an ascetic or bairagi chela but was disqualified from holding the office of mahant. As to the nature of the object and practice of such a religious institution. Sanmantha Pandara v Sellappa Chetti 1 I P 2 Mad 175 was referred to. The question as to who had the right to succeed to the office of mahant depended according to the well known rule in India not on the general customary law but upon the custom and usage of the particular math. Mahant Ramanooy Doss v Mahant Debraj Doss 6 S D A (Beng) 202 Greenhore Doss v Aundhassore Doss 11 Moo 1 A 405 Muttu Ramalinga Setupati v Peria nayagum Pillai L P 1 I 4 269 and Raja Vurmah Patta v Ravi Vurmah Kunhi Kunhi 1 L R 1 All 235 L P 1 I 1 70 referred to. On the question as to the second respondent being a married man on which the Courts below had differed their Lordships were of opinion that the verdict given by the Subordinate Judge who had the advantage of seeing and hearing the witnesses could not be lightly set aside especially as that Judge was also presumably acquainted with the manners and customs of the people among whom such a transaction was alleged to have occurred. There were moreover no sufficient grounds stated by the High Court for disturbing that verdict. Having themselves investigated the facts their Lordships held that the rule of attaching weight to the opinion of the Judge of first instance—could not safely be departed from in the present case. Though the deeds appointing the second and third respondents to be successively mahants were ineffective the former being not competent to hold the office and the latter having died the first respondent could not in their Lordships' opinion be considered to be still the mahant. He had abdicated all his function and had himself retired from the office. A mahant was not only a spiritual preceptor but a trustee in respect of the aashal. He had by appointing a married man and father of children to the office consented to a violation of those vows of asceticism and celibacy which it was his duty as a trustee to maintain and protect. His abdication must therefore be accepted as a fact in the case. A vacancy in the office had therefore been created which under the circumstances would devolve upon the appellant who was found to be senior chela and was not alleged to be incompetent to be mahant. RAM PRADASH DAS v NAND DAS (1916)

I L R 43 Cal 707

12 ————— Sadrak or disciple of deceased mahant—Election by a majority of

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

th da nani bhil (the class of mendicants) as a member for purpose of such election—Separate election by fiction of dasnam bhil—An election of a mahant of a temple by the dasnam bhil (the ten class of mendicants) in order to be a valid and effectual election must be made by a majority of the da nani bhil a member for that purpose. A separate election by a faction of the da nani bhil is not a valid and effectual election. In this case which related to the election of a mahant to a temple at Haridwar called Akhara Baba Sarwan Nath both the appellant (plaintiff) and respondent (defendant) in possession of the math property claimed to have been duly elected on the same day the 24th of February 1901 (being the teravin the 13th day ceremony) after the death of the late mahant their Lordships of the Imperial Committee (affirming the decision of the High Court which had reversed that of the Subordinate Judge) held that on the evidence and under the circumstances of the case the appellant who claimed to be the satguru (disciple) of the deceased mahant had failed to prove that he had been duly elected mahant of the temple. On the other hand there was far a body of evidence in support of the respondent (the adil (former mahant) who election and also the bhandara or feast usual on the occasion had taken place within the temple which was customary whereas the election of and the feast given by the appellant took place outside the temple that a majority of the persons present at the election of the respondent who were qualified to elect a mahant voted in favour of the respondent that in point of numbers and influence the respondent received more support than the appellant and that there was no attempt on the part of the respondent to conceal (as the appellant alleged he had done) the arrangements he had made for the occasion. As it had not been shown that these points had been wrongly decided by the High Court their Lordships dismissed the appeal. LAHAR PURI v. KURAN NATH (1910) 1 L R 37 All 298

13 ——— Shobait—Nature of debutter grants where grants is to enjoy properties from generation to generation on performance of service of the gods—Permanent lease by trustee valid—Civil Procedure Code (Act of 1908) s 99—Ambiguity—Law—In the construction of ancient grants and deeds evidence is admissible as to the manner in which the thing granted has always been possessed and used for so the parties thereto must be supposed to have intended. Hell v. Hornby 7 East 197 8 R R 608 Rex v. O'Leary 4 East 393 followed. The Court may call in aid acts under the deed as a clue to the intention. Doe v. Pe 8 Byn 181 followed. This principle does not apply unless there is an ambiguity. Attorney General v. The Corporation of Leicester 5 DeF M & G 89 followed. Consequently while in a case of ambiguity the Court will uphold that construction of a deed which justifies a long usage as to the application of trust fund the Court will not where there is no ambiguity accept an erroneous interpretation though consistent with usage so as to sanction a manifest breach of trust. Attorney General v. Attorney General 2 H L C 83 followed. If there is a deed which says, according to its true construction one thing you cannot say that the deed means something else merely because the parties have gone on for a long time so understanding it

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

Sadler v. Biggs 4 H L C 435 followed. Where two ancient debutter grants by one of the Maharajas of Pachete were held to be ambiguous the properties having been given to the grantee who was to enjoy them from generation to generation on performance of the sheba of the goddess and in 1899 the successors of the grantee gave two permanent leases to the predecessors in interest of the plaintiffs. Held that in those circumstances the Court might determine the true character of the endowment from the manner in which the dedicated properties had been held and enjoyed. That the properties in dispute were not absolute debutter properties of the goddess but were the personal properties of the grantees subject to the charge of the worship of the goddess. Ganga v. Brindaban 3 B P 149 Maian v. Kamal 3 B R 49 referred to. That the permanent leases had become indefeasible by lapse of time. Jagamba Goswami v. Ram Chandra Goswami 1 L P 31 Cal 311 Damodar Das v. Lakhan Das 1 L P 37 Cal 385 L P 3 1 A 147 as explained in the case of Madhu Sudan Mandal v. Padhika Prosad Das 16 C L J 349 followed. KULADA PROSAD DEGHORIA v. KALI DAS NAIK (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 536

14 ——— Construction of deed of endowment—Deed contended to be invalid as being not a real dedication to idol—Appointment of members of donor's family as mutawallis—Deed held valid as creating an endowment—The question in this appeal was as to the construction of a deed of endowment executed and registered by a Hindu on the 20th of July 1898. In a suit after his death to set aside the deed the appellants as next reverendaries claimed that no valid endowment had been created or was intended to be created by it. Their Lordships in dismissing the appeal distinguished the cases of Sonatan B. Ach v. Juggutsundree Doss 8 Moo 1 1 66 and Ishtulosh Dutt v. Doorga Churn Chatterji 1 L P 5 Cal 433 L R 6 1 4 187 cited in support of the appellants' contention, on the ground that although nominally there was a gift to the idol, that gift was so cut down by subsequent disposition that there was no gift to the idol such as to make the property pass as an absolute and entire interest in his favour. Held that there was no such cutting down in the present case. There was in the beginning a clear expression of an intention to apply the whole estate for the benefit of the idol and the temple and the rest of the disposition was only a gift to the idol by a direction that of the whole estate which had already been given on half was to be applied for the upkeep of the idol itself and the repair of the temple and the other half was to go for the upkeep of the mutawallis. There was no reason why the donor should not nominate the members of his family as the mutawallis of the temple and he had done so. And there was nothing in that which militated against the property of his earmarking a certain part of the money to remunerate them as managers so long as they should so continue. By the registration of the deed the executant showed that it represented an intention which he desired to treat as carried into execution. JADU NATH SINGH v. THAKUR SITA PAMJI (1914) 1 L R 39 All 553

15 ——— Debt contracted by head of adnam—Onus of proof of necessity—Suit to recover

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

to appropriate part of the income of the properties of the mutt to his own maintenance, he is only a trustee in respect of those properties, and he is ordinarily incompetent to grant a permanent lease of the mutt properties. A permanent lease for an annual rent is a transfer for a valuable consideration within Art 174 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and the transferee acquires an inalienable title to the permanent lease by possession for 12 years as provided by the article. Knowledge that the title of the transferor is only a limited one cannot by itself disentitle the transferee to the benefits of Art 134. Ismi Parla & Dasi v. Arund Das I I P 43 Cal 60 Subhaya Pantirao v. Sahamand Vaikar Marayyar Appeal No 13 of 1916 and Pam Kani Choe v. Jaya Sri Hari Narayan Sankhu Bahadur 2 C I J 516 followed. BALASWAMY AYYAR v. VENKATASWAMY NAICKER (1916) I L R 40 Mad 745

18 ——— Guardian of minor Mahant of Math.—Power of disposition over Math property and acquisitions thereof and income thereof—Dates of Mahant when lands Math—Suit to set aside sale by executor. The whole assets of an Math or Math are vested in the Mahant as the owner in trust for the institution, and although large administrative powers are undoubtedly vested in the reigning Mahant the trust does exist and must be respected. Held that in this case a village L attached to the Math was endowed property, subject to the trust set out in the grant, and all acquisitions with the income thereof were subject to the same trust. A guardian of a minor Mahant has no larger powers of disposition over endowed property than the actual Mahant. In the absence of a necessity which would make the debts contracted by him binding on the institution, the Mahant has no power to alienate its properties for the purpose of discharging those debts, and if the Adalat was not liable for such debts, his successor would be clearly entitled to have the sales set aside. Idem for the same considerations apply to the dealings of the guardian of a minor Mahant, and the latter can sue to have the guardians sales set aside on the same grounds. Basu Deb Roy v. Mahant Jugal Kishnar Day (1918) 22 C W N 841

19 ——— Dedication for worship of God without naming the deity.—Uncertainty. Under the Hindu system of law, a general endowment for the worship of God without giving the name of the deity for whose benefit the endowment is to take effect is void for uncertainty. Plundani Lal v. Irya Iritindali Sablo I L R 33 All 793 followed. Bhujati Vohi Smrititutha v. Rana Lal Maitra I L R 37 Cal 128 Mohar Singh v. Het Singh I L R 33 All 537 and Chatur Bhuj v. Chaturaj I L R 33 All 533 distinguished. CHANDI CHARAN MITRA v. HARIBOLA DAS (1919) I L R 46 Cal 951

20 ——— Property of math.—Trust—Usage of math—Right to Possession—Adverse Possession—Limitation. Property belonging to a religious institution may by the usage and custom of the institution vest in trustees other than its spiritual head. In any case the property is held solely in trust for the purposes of the institution, surplus income must be added to the endowment and not applied for the personal enjoyment of the trustee or trustees. The respondent the head of a math sued the appellants for possession of

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

a village forming part of its endowment. The evidence showed that for a period of eighty years trustees represented by the appellants had had possession and management of the village and had applied the income to the purposes of the institution. They were recorded as trustees in an Inam Register of 1864 which mentioned the assent of the zamindar for whose predecessor the original title to the land had flowed.—Held that the respondent had no title to the village, further that the appellants' possession was adverse to him and that the suit was barred by limitation. In the absence of actual and authentic evidence as to the history of a math the utmost importance attaches to information set forth in an Inam Register. ARUNACHILLAM CHETTI v. VENKATACHALAPATHI (TRISWAMMAL (1919) L R 46 I A 204

21 ——— Custom and usage of mutt.—Adverse Possession—Limitation. This appeal arose from a suit brought by the respondent to declare that the defendants (appellants) have no right to the village of Patharakudi, and that the plaintiff as head of the mutt is entitled to the possession of the village and to receive the income of the same from the hands of the receiver. The village was part of the property of the mutt and had been for a long time in the possession of and under administration by the defendants who were Nagar Chetties as hukildars, trustees and managers, though the head of the mutt appointed in 1864 was the plaintiff who made his claim by virtue of that office and alleged that the defendants held the position of trustees as his agents. The defence was that the defendants and their predecessors who had held the village for about 80 years, not for their own advantage but for the benefit of the mutt, were entitled to be continued in possession and management of it, and that the suit was barred by limitation. The respondent proved no management by the defendants as his agents. On the contrary, there was documentary evidence strongly in favour of the defendants which the Judicial Committee accepted as proof of their long possession and proper management. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to the village in suit. On the evidence he had entirely failed to prove his right to possession either by himself or the defendants as his agents, nor was his right to possession supported by the history of the land. The general state of the law with regard to religious institutions in India is that the nature of the ownership is an ownership in trust for the institution itself. The settled rule of a limitation is that it must be not for personal use but entirely for and on behalf of the interests of the mutt, and that while the ownership is generally with the spiritual head of the institution such property may be held by the usage and custom of the mutt by the trustees and manager, and that by the usage and custom in this case as disclosed by the evidence the ownership of the village was in the defendants. *Ismi Parla & Dasi v. Inand Das (1916) I I R 43 Cal 707 (P C) L R 45 I A 73 Sethurama Achariar v. Meruvammar (1918) I I R 41 Mad 996 (P C) L 45 I A 1 and Sammantha Padara v. Sellappa Chetty (1879) I L R 9 Mad 175 approved. Held further that the possession of the defendants therefore in their own right was adverse to the plaintiff and the suit was consequently barred by limitation. *Fahart

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

money borrowed on mortgage of endowed property—Recognition of debt binding the property by successive heads of institution—Account books not produced The appellant sued to recover money advanced on a mortgage bond dated 4th November 1897 to the head of an adnam or mutt and to enforce the mortgage against the property of the mutt which was hypothecated as security for the loan The deed was for Rs 20,000 the balance of principal and interest due on a former bond of 24th June 1883 and it stated that the bond is granted as was the former one over the lands belonging to the adnam The bond of 1883 had been executed for the sum of Rs 14,916 for the balance due on a promissory note and recited that it was for the expenses of the aforesaid adnam And the promissory note for the original loan stated that the sum received by us to day in cash for the expenses of our adnam is Rs 14,000 That was taken in December 1881 shortly after the termination of some litigation necessary in the interests of the adnam The binding nature of the debt was recognized by successive managers of the mutt who paid from time to time interest on the money and other amounts towards the discharge of the debt over a period of 26 years Held that though the onus was on the lender to show that the loan was made for the purposes of the mutt and was a necessary expense of the institution itself yet where the debt had been so recognized as binding and dealt with on that basis their Lordships were of opinion that there was a sufficient body of evidence that the loan was made for purposes binding on the mutt and there was no evidence to the contrary In favour of this view it was an important fact that the account books of the mutt were not produced in which it is the habit of the head or manager to make entries with much detail and elaboration forming a current record on the financial side of the history of the institution The parties to a suit should bring before the Court their best evidence and when it is not produced the Court is justified in concluding that it would if brought into Court not support the case of the party omitting to produce it MURUGAIYAN PILLAI v. MANICKAVASAKA PANDARA SANNADH (1917) I L R 40 Mad 402

16 ————— Power of shabait to grant permanent lease of endowed property—Access to—Benefit to estate—Lease at fixed rent—Some principles apply to building site in village street as to agricultural lands—Question as to existence of ancient custom—Question of mixed law and fact—Concurrent findings—Privy Council practice of—Error in form of finding of custom In this appeal it was held by their Lordships of the Judicial Committee that the grant at a fixed rent and on payment of a premium of a permanent lease by a shabait of a portion of the lands dedicated to the worship of the idol of which he is a trustee was invalid as against his successor in the shabaitship as in their Lordships' opinion the evidence did not establish that the shabait was constrained by any necessity to make such a lease or that any benefit accrued to the estate from it DEVIAN KUNNUNJONN v. SANNADH v. SANNADH v. SANNADH I L R 31 Mad 33 affirmed Where as in this case there is no deed of endowment forthcoming the rules according to which the endowed property and its income are to be dealt with in order to carry out the intention of the original endower can only be a certainty by inference from the practice proved by evidence to have been followed in the particular case Ram Parikash Das v. Anand Das I L R 43 Cal 707 716 L R 43 I 1 73 78 referred to The rules must not be inconsistent with or repugnant to the very nature and purpose of the endowment Both the worship of the idol and the preservation and use of the dedicated property to support and maintain that worship must be assumed to have been intended to be perpetual A rule therefore which authorized the shabait arbitrarily at his own wish and pleasure to alienate any of the dedicated property would be so repugnant to the whole purpose and objects of the endowment that it could not be held to embody the original endower's intention A debutter estate may be mortgaged to secure the repayment of money borrowed and applied to prevent its own extinction by sequestration Hunooman Persad Panday v. Babooee Munraj Koonerree 6 Moo I A 398 423 421 Prasanna Kumari Debya v. Gobab Chand Baboo L R 2 I A 145 151 152 14 B L R 450 469 and Konuar Doorganath Roy v. Ram Chander Sen I L R 2 Cal 311 352 353 L F 4 I A 62 62 61 referred to In these cases there was to be found no indication as to what was in this connection the precise nature of the things to be included under the description benefit to the estate and no definition of it applicable to all cases can be given It is a breach of duty on the part of a shabait unless constrained by an unavoidable necessity to grant a lease in perpetuity of debutter lands at a fixed rent however adequate that rent may at the time of granting by reason of the fact that by this means the debutter estate is deprived of the chance it would have if the rent were variable of deriving benefit from the enhancement in value in the future of the lands leased Maharajah Shideesourie Deva v. Mothooranath Achary 13 Moo I A 270 275 Mayand Chettiar v. Chokalingam Pillai I L R 27 Mad 291 299 L F 31 I A 33 33 and Abhiram Gossami v. Shyama Charan Danti I L R 36 Cal 1003 1013 L R 36 I A 118 165 referred to These cases dealt with agricultural lands but there was no reason why the principles they establish, should not apply to a building site in the street of a village as in the present case No authority had been cited to show that a shabait is entitled to sell debutter lands solely for the purpose of investing the price of it so as to bring in an income larger than that derived from the debutter land itself Questions of the existence of an ancient custom are questions of mixed law and fact Although therefore the two Courts had purported to find that a local custom modifying the law had been proved there were no such concurrent findings of fact as according to the practice of the Board it was found to accept Neither of the Courts below moreover had stated its conclusion in a form which amounted to a finding that any ancient custom such as modified the law existed in the locality SALANAPPA CHETTY v. DEVASIRAMONY PANDARA SANNADH (1917) I L R 40 Mad 709

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

17 ————— Power of head of mutt to grant permanent lease—Limitation Act (I) of 1908 Act 231—Permanent lease a transfer in this the art cle Although the head of a mutt is entitled to appropriate part of the income of the properties of the mth to his own maintenance he is only a trustee in respect of those properties and he is ordinarily incompetent to grant a permanent lease of the mth properties. A permanent lease for an annual rent is a transfer of a valuable consideration within Art 174 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and the transferee acquires an indefeasible title to the permanent lease by possession for 12 years as provided by the article. Knowledge that the title of the transferor is only a limited one cannot by itself disentitle the transferee to the benefits of Art 134. Pam Pariah Das v Arani Das 1 L P 43 Cal 0. Sudhaya Pandurang v Mahammad Wihara Marayyar Appeal No 13 of 1916 and Pimhani Chetty v Jaya Sri Mari Narayan Singh Iko Bahadur 2 C L J 516 followed. Balaswamy Aiyar v Venkataswami Naicker (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 745

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—co 13

18 ——— Guardian of minor Mahant of Math—Power of disposition over Math property and acquisition of the right to income thereof—Dates of Mahant when binds Math—Suit to set aside sale by successor. The whole assets of an Math or Math are vested in the Mahant as the owner in trust for the institution and although large administrative powers are undoubtedly vested in the reigning Mahant the trust does exist and must be respected. Held that in this case a village L attached to the Math was endowed property subject to the trust set out in the grant and all acquisitions with the income thereof were subject to the same trust. A guardian of a minor Mahant has no larger powers of his position over endowed property than the actual Mahant. In the absence of a necessity which would make the debts contracted by him binding on the institution the Mahant has no power to alienate its properties for the purpose of discharging those debts and if the Math was not liable for such debts his successor would be clearly entitled to have the sales set aside. A fortiori the same considerations apply to the dealings of the guardian of a minor Mahant and the latter can sue to have the guardians sales set aside on the same ground. Das v Deo Pok v Mahant Jugal Kishwar Das (1918) 22 C W N 841

19 ——— Dedication for worship of God without naming the deity—Uncertainty. Under the Hindu system of law a general endowment for the worship of God without giving the name of the deity for whose benefit the endowment is to take effect is void for uncertainty. Phundan Lal v Arya Prithinthe Sabha 1 L R 3 Ill 793 followed. Bhupati Nath Srinivasth v Ram Lal Mait 1 L R 37 Cal 128. Volur Singh v Het Singh 1 L R 3 Ill 337 and Chaturbhuj v Chaturji 1 L J 33 All 933 distinguished. Chandi Charan Mitra v Haribola Das (1919) 1 L R 46 Cal 951

20 ——— Property of math—Trust—Use of math—Right to possession—Interse Possession—Limitation. Property belonging to a religious institution may by the usage and custom of the institution vest in trustees other than its spiritual head. In any case the property is held solely in trust for the purposes of the institution and surplus income must be added to the endowment and not applied for the personal enjoyment of the trustee or trustees. The respondent the head of a math sued the appellants for possession of

HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT—co 14

a village forming part of its endowment. The evidence showed that for a period of eighty years trustees represented by the appellants had had possession and management of the village and had applied the income to the purposes of the institution. They were recorded as trustees in an Inam Register of 1864 which mentioned the assent of the zamindar for whose predecessors the original title to the land had flowed—Held that the respondent had no title to the village further that the appellants' possession was adverse to him and that the suit was barred by limitation. In the absence of actual and authentic evidence as to the history of a math the utmost importance attaches to information set forth in an Inam Register. VENKATAPILLAM CHETTY v VENKATACHALAPATHI CHIRISWAMI (1910)

L R 48 I A 264

21 ——— Custom and usage of mutt—Id—verse possession—Limitation. This appeal arose from a suit brought by the respondent to declare that the defendants (appellants) have no right to the village of Patharakudi and that the plaintiff as head of the mutt is entitled to the possession of the village and to receive the income of the same from the hands of the receiver. The village was part of the property of the mutt and had been for a long time in the possession of and under administration by the defendants who were Nagara (Hettie) as holders trustees and managers though the head of the mutt appointed in 1867 was the plaintiff who made his claim by virtue of that office and alleged that the defendants held the position of trustees as his agents. The defence was that the defendants and their predecessors or who had held the village for about 80 years not for their own advantage but for the benefit of the mutt were entitled to be continued in possession and management of it and that the suit was barred by limitation. The respondent proved no management by the defendants as his agents. On the contrary there was documentary evidence strongly in favour of the defendants which the Judicial Committee accepted as proof of their long possession and proper management. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to the village in suit. On the evidence he had entirely failed to prove his right to possession either by himself or the defendants as his agents nor was his right to possession supported by the history of the land. The general state of the law with regard to religious institutions in India is that the nature of the ownership is an ownership in trust for the institution itself. The settled rule of administration is that it must be not for personal use but entirely for and on behalf of the interest of the mutt and that while the owner ship is generally with the spiritual head of the institution such property may be held by the usage and customs of the mutt by the trustees and managers and that by the usage and custom in this case as disclosed by the evidence the ownership of the village was in the defendants. Pam Pariah Das v Inand Das (1916) 1 L P 43 Cal 707 (P C) 1 L P 45 I 73. Sethurama swami v Meruswami (1918) 1 L R 41 Mad 296 (P C) 1 L 45 I A 1 and Saminantha Pandara v Sellappa Chetty (1879) 1 L P 2 Mad 173 approved. Held further that the possession of the defendants therefore in their own right was adverse to the plaintiff and the suit was consequently barred by limitation. Palunni

HINDU LAW—GIFT—could

A Hindu widow who succeeded to the property of her deceased father made a gift of a very small portion of that property at the time of performing her father's shraddha ceremony on the occasion of a peculiarly solemn event among Hindus. Held that the gift was in accordance with Hindu ideas and the daughter a duty in connection with the performance of a father's shraddha on such an occasion and cannot be impeached by the reversioners. It cannot be laid down as a rule that to justify the alienation the expenditure should be for a spiritual necessity. It is sufficient if the gift or expenditure have reference to the spiritual needs of the father or husband whose property is taken. VEERLETTI TATAYYA v. ARUMILLA PANKAJI HANNA (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 238

5 ——— Gift to daughter by father—Gift valid whether made at or after marriage. There is a moral obligation on a Hindu father to make a gift to his daughter on the occasion of her marriage. A gift by a father to his daughter of a small portion of ancestral immovable property is binding on the undivided family whether such gift is made at or after the daughter's marriage. SENDAIPALAMAYYA v. SITAN (1912)

I L R 35 Mad 628

6 ——— Gift by widow to sister's son—Valid. Vara—Hindu widow's gift—Consent of next reversioner not essential to validate gift in favour of a third person. Held that a gift of her deceased husband's estate made by a Hindu widow on the occasion thereof as such widow to her sister's son was invalid and could not be rendered operative by the consent of the next reversioner. Lajrangji Singh v. Manoharlal Laksh Singh I L R 30 All J 101 (1911)

I L R 34 All 129

7 ——— Gift to the illegitimate son of an undivided collateral co-parcener—Not an estate property as between the donor and his son. Property given for maintenance to the illegitimate son of an undivided collateral co-parcener is not ancestral property of the illegitimate son in which the son of that illegitimate son gets a right by birth. Nagalingi Pillai v. Parasachan Iyer I L R 24 Mal 473 and Harinarayan v. Abaninath 17 C I J 38 distinguished. KRISHNASWAMI NAIDU v. SETHALAKSHMI AMMAL I L R 39 Mad 1029

8 ——— Gift to unborn person—Valid. Settlement deed in 1889—Gift to daughter for life then to her unborn children effect of—Alienation by daughter—Suit by adopted son of settlor—Right of reversioner to sue—Hindu Transfers and Bequests Act (Mal Act I of 1911)—Suit decided before the Act—Settlement pending appeal—Settlement of the appeal—Lower of Appellate Court in passing decrees on appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXI r 33—Declaratory decree nature of—Discretion of the Court in such cases. A Hindu executed a deed of settlement in 1889 by which he deeded some properties to his daughter in order that she may enjoy them during her lifetime and that after her death they should be enjoyed with all rights by her sons and daughters who may be alive. The daughter alienated some of the properties in 1907. The plaintiff the adopted son of the settlor claiming to be the nearest reversioner filed a suit in 1912 for a declaration that the alienations were without necessity and not binding on the reversioners. He impleaded the settlor's daughter as the first defendant and her daughter born in 1889 as the second defendant and the alieneees as the other defendants. The Hindu Transfers and Bequests Act (Madras Act I of 1914) came into operation during the pendency of the appeal in the lower Appellate Court. Both the lower Courts dismissed the suit. Held on second appeal (i) that the Hindu Transfers and Bequests Act (I of 1914) was retrospective in its operation and was applicable to this case (ii) that the gift in favour of unborn children of the daughter of the settlor was valid (iii) that consequently the plaintiff was not the nearest reversioner entitled to maintain the suit (iv) that the rule that a remote reversioner can sue if the nearest reversioner is a female is inapplicable when the latter is entitled to an absolute estate (v) that there was no collusion between the first and the second defendant by reason of the fact that the latter's guardian put forward an alternative contention on a point of law setting up an absolute title in favour of the first defendant (vi) that the authority of an Appellate Court is not limited to determining the question whether the original Court was right according to the law in force at the date of its judgment but was entitled to pass such decree or order as was in accordance with any later enactment which came into operation subsequent to such date. Kannakayyan v. Janardhanan 11 M L J 36 Mad 439 and Gowinda Parama Gururaj v. Datta Prullana 20 Mad L J 549 referred to and (vii) that a declaratory decree is a matter of discretion and when there was already one and there might be more than one preferential heir before the plaintiff the discretionary relief could be properly refused. MUTHESWAMI NAIDU v. KALYANI AMMAL (1910)

HINDU LAW—GIFT—could

I L R 41 Mad 818

9 ——— Gift for religious purposes by Hindu widow—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXI r 1—Commission to examine witnesses. It is not competent to a Hindu widow to make a religious gift of the whole or practically the whole of her husband's property for the religious benefit of her husband. The Courts should not allow witnesses to be examined on commission without adequate reasons. Per Strain 1.—In view of the accepted doctrine that the widow's jurisdiction is restricted as regards the property particularly immovable property inherited from the husband in cases governed by the Mitalshra I do not think that Vijnaneshwara's silence on this point can be properly used as an argument in favour of the unlimited powers of the widow to make a gift of the immovable property of her husband for a religious or a spiritual purpose. The rule of this point is not a special rule of any particular school of Hindu Law but is one of general application and must be accepted as applicable to cases under the Vijayaharn Mayukhya. PANACHAND CHHOTALAL v. MANOHARLAL NANDLAL (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 136

10 ——— Gift to Hindu female—Construction of document—Valid. Mustaqil A Hindu being the full owner of certain property made a gift thereof to his widowed daughter in law describing the donor in the deed as malik. There was no circumstance to count that the donor intended that the d

HINDU LAW—GIFT—contd

take less than the full estate in the property comprised in the deed. Held that the donee took all the estate of the donor. Surajman v. Rab. Nath Ojha 1 L R 30 All 84 referred to NAULAKHI KUNWAR v. JAI KISHAN SINGH

I L R 40 All 575

11 ——— Gift of lands to an idol—By a Hindu for pious purposes without a deed, validity of—Binding nature of the gift on members of a joint Hindu family. A dedication of a small portion of the joint Hindu family lands to an idol of a temple by the father or manager of the family on the occasion of the funeral of a deceased member is not by the law of India required to be in writing and is valid and binding on the other members of the family as a gift ordained for pious purposes. PAMALINGA CHETTY v. SIVACHIDAMBARA CHETTY (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 440

12 ——— Gift to Agradani Brahmins—position of—Gift to—Title to offerings to the dead at a sraddh when vests in Agradani Brahmins—Acceptor of such gifts liable for damages. Agradanis are a class of degraded Brahmins who accept gifts of certain prohibited things at sraddh ceremonies. Held on a consideration of the texts that Agradani Brahmins have no vested interest in things given away at a sraddh ceremony. Before they acquire any title the things must be given and accepted. Where an Agradani Brahmin was invited to a sraddh and accepted the offering of food meant for disembodied spirits but at the time of the distribution of valuable offerings a third party interfered and under his advice the things were made over to the defendants who were other Agradani Brahmins who had not officiated as such at the sraddh but who were not them selves alleged to have interfered in the distribution. Held that the defendants acquired a valid title in the things by the gifts of the person performing the sraddh and the plaintiff had no legally enforceable claim against him. Assuming that the plaintiff had any claim for remuneration on account of the religious services performed by him as against the person inviting him they had no cause of action against the defendants. HARI CHURN AGRAJANI v. SASTI CHURN AGRAJANI (1910)

14 C W N 1005

13 ——— Agrahar gift—Private religious gift to Brahmins—Condition necessary of residence treated as recommendatory and not enforced by law—Alienation by a donee not residing in the village—Validity of the alienation—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) ss 10 and 11. An Agrahar gift of certain lands and a house was made to a donee and his descendants entitling him to enjoy the lands reside in the house and perform the sixfold religious duties. It was further enjoined that the donee should not abandon his house and go to another place and enjoy his Vritti given to him in connection with the Agrahar from that place. If the donee acted in contravention of the above provision, his contract should be considered an act of irreligiousness and the gift should be revoked and granted to another fit person. The donee complied with the above conditions for some years but eventually went to another village to live and sold the lands and the house. In a suit by the alienor to recover arrears of rent for the lands, a question arose as to whether the alienation was valid. Held that the Agrahar gift was a private gift to the

HINDU LAW—GIFT—contd

donee and an absolute gift according to law that the further provision as regards residence in the same village was only a recommendation and an appeal to the religious conscience of the donee and his descendants and that as a condition it was not valid and enforceable in law. Held accordingly that the alienation was valid. Anantha Tirtha Chariar v. Nagamuthu Ambalagaren (1881) 4 Mad 200 referred to RUKHMINI v. LAXMINARAI (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 304

14 ——— Deed of gift by widow and next reversioner—Transfer of a spes successionis—Gift challenged by the reversioner after widow's death—Invalidity of gift so far as reversioner's interest concerned—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) s 6. One K died leaving a widow G a son B and two daughters P and J. On B's death G became his heir. In 1891 G and one of the daughters P gifted away two properties to defendants Nos 1 to 4 sons of the deceased daughter J purporting to convey these properties by G as the life tenant and by P as the next reversioner. In 1911 G having died P filed a suit to recover the property from the donees under the gift of 1891 on the ground that the deed against her was invalid as it conveyed her chance of surviving G and succeeding to the property as reversioner. Both the lower Courts dismissed the suit. On appeal to the High Court. Held that the deed of gift to defendants Nos 1 to 4 was good only as regards the life interest of G and was bad as regards the transfer of P's chance of succession under a 6 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. BAI PARVATI v. DAYABHAI MANOHARAM (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 438

15 ——— "Appointed daughter"—Description of daughter as putrika in deed of gift by father whether amounts to appointment—Liability of appointed daughter for father's debts. Where by a deed of gift inter vivos a sonless Hindu father conveyed an absolute interest in his property to one of his daughters and the donee was described in the deed as putrika and her descendants as putrika putra held that the deed did not operate as an appointment of the donee as a son to the donor. Held also that even if the Mitakshara Law did apply to the donee as putrika she would only become joint with the father during his lifetime if the property was ancestral and then only would the joint property be available to discharge his debts. The custom of appointing a daughter to raise issue to a sonless father is obsolete. Even though such a custom should be established it is doubtful whether all the duties and obligations imposed on a Hindu son under the Mitakshara Law to discharge the debts of his father would apply or attach to a daughter appointed as putrika. Quære whether she would have been liable had she acquired other property from her father. BAHAI LITA KHAIR v. BABU PIRAY 1 Pat L J 581

16 ——— Joint ancestral property—Mitakshara s 1 s 27 and 3—Gift of portion by one member for pious purpose—Circumstances in which such a gift is valid. The second and third of the circumstances stated in para 28 of Ch 1 of the Mitakshara as justification for a transfer of joint ancestral property by one member of the family are not governing in the preceding words in a title of distress but there are three separate and distinct exceptions. Thus the gift of a portion of the joint ancestral property made by one member of the family for pious purposes is valid though

Grants made of properties for non religious and for religious and charitable purposes by Raja of Tanjore to his guru the ancestor of the parties—Suit for partition—The plea whether granted to the plaintiff or to the defendant of head of a mutt held by the defendant and claim of joint claimant and trustee of the same—Private charities management of—Non religious properties liable to partition—Claims of the plaintiff—Grants of the property in suit had been made by the Raja of Tanjore from time to time to the ancestor of the parties a holy man whom the Raja brought to Tanjore as his guru. Some of the grants were for non religious purposes and others for religious and charitable purposes in connexion with a trust founded when the guru came to Tanjore and the properties descended to a joint family the adult members of which consisted of three brothers the eldest of whom (the appellant) was the manager of the joint family and the head of the mutt. In a suit by the second brother (the first respondent) to have partition of the non religious properties and as to the religious and charitable properties for a scheme of management in which he claimed a share to be settled by the Court the other brothers were made defendants the youngest brother (as second defendant respondent) supporting the plaintiff appellant. Held as to the non religious properties (upholding the decision of the Courts in India), that there was nothing in the natural guardian—His rights paramount—The use of Court necessary if no natural guardian exists—Appointment of de facto guardian—Settling a site if necessary—Suit for possession—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 44 or 45 applicability of—Under the Hindu law nobody other than the father and the mother of a minor (with probable exceptions in favour of the elder brother and the direct male and female ancestors) is entitled as a matter of natural right to be and to act as a guardian of a minor person and property consequently a paternal aunt is not a natural guardian of a minor. Where there is no natural guardian alive recourse must be had to the Court as representing the rights of the living which are paramount to even the rights of the parents for the appointment of a guardian. Alienations without necessity made by a de facto guardian need not be set aside. Art 44 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) does not apply to alienations by unauthorised guardians. THAYAMMAL v KUPPANA KOUNDAN (1914) I L R 38 Mad 1125

2 Mother of infants intending to become and make her boys Christian—Fishes to be Guardian—Bad character not proved—Undertaking not to baptise children—Associating Hindu uncle in guardianship—D the uncle of two fatherless Hindu boys aged 7 and 5 years respectively applied to be appointed their guar-

HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN—cont'd

than alleging that their Mother S was a woman of bad moral character and had made up her mind to adopt the Christian religion and to get her sons baptised. The first allegation was not established. Held that the charge of immorality though not proved made it impossible for S to live with the family who made the charge must be taken into consideration in passing orders on the petition. That S expressing a desire to become a Christian or even becoming one would in itself be no ground for removing her from the guardianship provided she was in a position to satisfy the Court that she was able to carry out the obligations which the law imposed upon her of bringing up her children in the faith of her husband whatever the faith she herself might adopt. It was proved that she had expressed her intention to convert her sons to Christianity but her counsel having given an undertaking that she would not baptise her children the Court passed order appointing her guardian of the minors person and property associating in the guardianship the uncle D who would as such guardian be in a position to set that S's undertaking to bring up the children in the Hindu faith was properly carried out. The elder boy was ordered to be placed at once as a boarder in a Hindu hostel which though attached to the Church Missionary Society was conducted in conformity with Hindu religious views, the younger boy being also ordered to be similarly placed when he should attain the age of 7 years until which time he was to live with S liberty being given to D to apply to the District Judge whenever a breach of the undertaking was apprehended.

DWIJARADA KARMAKAR & MISS BULLOCK (1913)

3 ~~_____~~ Guardian and minor—alienation by guardian not compelled by necessity but dictated by prudence if binding. The guardian of a minor is not limited only to making such disposition of the latter's property as he is compelled to make by necessity. Whether what he did was or was not for the benefit of the minor and as such binding on the latter was determined in this case by asking what would have been the probable result if the guardian had not taken the steps he did take and as it appeared that lighter sacrifices would have become inevitable if the steps in question had not been taken the transaction was upheld as that of a prudent admin. strator. I HAVE DATED 23 C W N 853

LAKSHMI (1915)

4 ----- I con to be appointed
No person other than the father or mother has an absolute right to the guardianship of a Hindu minor. In the absence of father and mother the relation who is nearer in the view of the Hindu Law should be preferred. LACHMI NARAIN v.
BALARAM SARKAR 2 Pat. L. J. 180

5 ----- But - Father's power to appoint guardian of a Hindu father can be void or voidable nominate a guardian for his children the nomination taking effect after his death. It is immaterial in the choice of a guardian but may exclude even the mother from the guardianship. South Western Ind. J. v.
F. J. v. N. v. Singh 11 C. J. 3 and Al. v. L. v. L. v. L. v. L. v. L. v. L. v. L. v. L. referred to. DIXA NARAYAN v. ANANDHIM
1 L. R. 43 All. 213

HINDU LAW—HEREDITARY PRIEST

Office of hereditary priest—

priest—Ajman with—Nandanha—Caste can appoint a priest—Grant from King not necessary—Removal of priest not allowed except on valid ground—Caste—Caste que hoc—Bombay Population II of IS 7—Civil Court—Jurisdiction Under Hindu Law the office of hereditary priest (ajman with) is a nandanha and is ranked among the hereditary rights of immovable property. The office of hereditary priest where it is held in relation to a family owes its origin continuance and binding character to custom and not to a grant from the King or agreement between the parties. Where the office is one of hereditary family priest the mere fact that in any individual case it has been created originally by the caste for the purposes of family belonging to it cannot affect it because the office carries with it a hereditary right in the nature of property and the incumbent cannot be deprived of it by anyone unless he has become a pottit (outcaste) or has declined to officiate. The caste in such a case makes the selection for the families of its members and when any family accepts the officiator as its hereditary family priest custom annexes to the office certain incidents in the nature of civil rights as against the family which neither the family nor the caste has power to annul except on the ground of some offence under the Hindu Law committed by the officiator or of refusal by the officiator to discharge his duty as family priest. Where a caste has appointed a man to a mere priestly office there is doubtless no right of property conferred. His continuance or removal is exclusively within the competence of the caste and it is a caste question. But it is difficult where the office of hereditary priest is created for the performance of religious ceremonies in certain families prohibited according to Hindu Law either the caste or the families have power to create such an office and give it the character of immovable property.

MELAPATHI GAYATHINKAR v. HARADWAS LAKSHI (1911). I L R 30 Bom 94

HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE

by his hand and wife—Joint trade—Property joint—If she is interested—Sriathanam—Lower of disposition—Death of wife—No survivorship to his hand—Devolution on her heirs—Sut in eye 1 agent—Decree for joint possession of land given Where certain properties were acquired with the profits earned by a husband and his wife (who was Hindu) in a trade which was carried on by both of them—Held that the properties were under the Hindu law the joint properties of the husband and the wife and her interest therein was her Sriathanam which on her death did not survive to her husband but devolved on the heirs to her Sriathanam—Property acquired by a woman by her own exertions during coverture is her own property which she is entitled to hold independently of her husband and it devolves on her heirs on her death Though the suit be one in ejectment a decree for joint possession may be passed in favour of the plaintiff. MITAL LAKSHMINATH SATEKAR v. MARIMUTHU COYDAK (1914)

HINDU LAW-ILLEGITIMACY

See HINDU LAW.—INHERITANCE.

HINDU LAW—ILLEGITIMACY—continued

Sutra Chap. I s 12—Dasu putra meaning of—Ekant male son of a Sutra share taken by him as father's property The word dasu putra as used in Mahabara, Chap I s 1, which provides for the illegitimate son of a Sutra getting half of the share of a legitimate son in father's property has a much wider meaning than a son begotten on a female slave and if a Sutra governed by the Mitakshara law has a permanent continuous and exclusive concubine who lives as a member of his family she is a dasu and his illegitimate son by her who is himself brought up as a member of the family is a dasu putra within the meaning of the rule laid down in the Mitakshara. Jogendra Bhanu v. Nityananda Man Singh, 1 L R 174 1 S 1 L R 13 Calc. 151 Pati v. Gurali 1 L R 1 Bom 9 Sati v. Bui 1 I R 4 Bom 37 Krishnavyan v. M. usumini 1 L R 7 Val 407 Har Govinda v. Dhara 1 L R 6 All 329 Karuppannan v. Balaan 1 L R 23 Val 16 Seetha v. Ganes 1 L R 11 Rom 257 Imlah v. Jambha 1 L R 23 11 508 Sarathi v. Mannu 1 L R 4 11 131 Inlana v. Ramasami 3 B 1 I P C 1 13 Mos 1 1 111 Meenakshi v. Ippikutu 1 L R 33 Val 36 refr to P. M. Sivan v. Tel. Chand 1 L R 23 Cal 191 distinguished CHATTURBHUJ LATTAK v. KRISHNA CHANDRA LATTAK (1912) 17 C W N 442

—The illegitimate son of a Kshatriya by a Sudra woman is not a Sudra but a higher caste called Ugra Brindarana v. Palihamani 1 L R 13 Mal 77 followed JWALA SINGH v. SARDAR 1 L R 41 All 631

—A son divides the property with legitimate sons and the mother is entitled to a share MAN CHETANAM BHING LATEL v. DATTI 1 L R 44 Bom 166

HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

See CUSTOM 1 Pat L J 109

See IMPARTIBLE ZAMINDARI

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

1 ——— Hindu Law—Impartible estate—Question whether in entire alleged to be a ray was partible or impartible—Question of fact whether estate was a ray—of concurrent decisions of Courts in India—Privy Council practice of adoption—joint power to two widows to adopt—Power exercised by surviving widow—Construction of will—No provision for the death of one or two joint donees—No power in Court construing will to make by its interpretation any addition to testamentary dispositions In the absence of a sanad under Madras Regulation XXV of 1802 the regulations of that year do not affect the title to any land Collector of Trichinopoly v. Lakshman 1 L R 11 A 282 306 followed The acceptance of a sanad in common form under Madras Regulation XXV of 1802 does not of itself and apart from other circumstances avail to alter the succession to an hereditary estate The Udayapalayam Case 1 L R 23 Mad 508 515 s c L R 3 1 A 261 266 followed Unless there be an existing estate with other incidents which a sanad in common form under Madras Regulation XXV of 1802 can operate to confirm such sanad will confer on or confirm in the grantee an estate descendible according to the ordinary rules of inheritance of the Hindu Law Raja Venkata

HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE—continued

Pao v. Court of Wards 1 L R 2 Mad 128 s c L R 7 1 A 38 followed In order to establish that any estate is descendible otherwise than in accordance with the ordinary rules of inheritance of the Hindu Law it must be proved either that it is from its nature impartible and descendible to a single heir or that it is so impartible and descendible by virtue of a special family custom Paboo Ginnah Dutt Singh v. Maharajah Moh shu Singh 6 Mos 1 A 161 157 followed The nature of the estate and existence or otherwise of a special family custom are questions of fact to be determined on the evidence in each case Mall Narayana v. Darya 1 L R 13 Mal 496 s c L R 17 1 A 131 followed In a case in which the question was whether the estate of Nidhalavole in the Kistna district of the Madras Presidency which was the subject of a sanad in common form under Madras Regulation XXV of 1802 was partible or impartible the appellant contended that the grantee had at and prior to the date of the sanad an estate of the nature of a ray or prinipality and therefore impartible but he did not rely on any special family custom Hell (on the above principles) that the question whether the prior estate was of the nature of a ray or not was a question of fact to be determined on the evidence and that where both Courts in India had concurrently found it was not a ray but was partible the findings ought not according to the practice of the Board to be disturbed unless they were shown to be not justified by the evidence All v. Quab Warehouse Company 1 L R 1 A 101 104 followed Their Lordships after considering the evidence so far from being so satisfied I were not prepared to say that they should not have come to the same conclusion on that point The appeal was therefore dismissed A Hindu of the Sudra caste by his will made the day before his death in 1861 after bequeathing his estates to his two widows gave them the following power of adoption You should adopt a boy who is our sannihita (one closely related) whenever it strikes that our asmatanam (family) should continue This power was not exercised whilst both widows were alive but by the survivor of the two widows in 1870 Hell without docking the question of the validity or otherwise under the Hindu Law of a joint power of adoption (for the proper determination of which their Lordships were of opinion that the materials in this case were insufficient) that the will gave to the widows jointly the power to adopt a son should occasion arise which in their opinion made it desirable to do so but only one of the widows could receive the boy in adoption so as to step into the position of being his adoptive mother On a consideration of the surrounding circumstances there was nothing which required or justified their Lordships in interpreting the provisions of the will with regard to the adoption in any special way arising from the fact that the testator was a Hindu and they must adhere to the plain meaning of the language used The exercise of the power was vested in the discretion of the joint donees and it was clearly the law that in such a case the death of one of the donees put an end to the joint power not by virtue of any peculiar doctrine of English law or series of English decisions but flowing from the nature of a joint power The case was different when the power vested not in specific persons but in the occupants for the time being of a specified office such as executors

HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE—contd

The words of the will when properly construed related to choice and adoption by the two widows acting jointly. Hence the words referred only to the period of time when both widows were living. To hold that one of the widows could adopt a son after the death of the other widow would be providing for a period of time which the testator left unprovided for and would be making an addition to his testamentary dispositions which no Court construing a will was entitled to do. NARASIMHA I KARTHASARATHY (1913)

I L R 37 Mad 199

2 ————— Impartible estate—Succession—Primogeniture—A state once in the possession of a family bequeathed after loss of possession to one member of the same family—Construction of grant. The question whether a certain estate is impartible or not is one of fact in each case. Where an impartible estate is lost to a certain family and on the representation of a member of that family the Government puts him into possession making a grant in his favour without any special term or condition in the grant the property so restored would be joint family property in the hands of the member of the family to whom the grant is made. When the Government makes a grant of an estate it can determine the nature of the grant but in the absence of specific terms in the grant the surrounding circumstances must not be ignored. The normal constitution of Hindu family is union. And it is the very essence of an impartible estate that there is no legal right to insist on partition. The estate is enjoyed by the whole family through the occupant of the gaddi. Held that when an impartible estate passes by survivorship from one line of descent to another it devolves not on the co-pancener nearest in blood but on the nearest co-pancener of the senior line. Held further that if the descendants of a junior member of an impartible estate partition the property given to their ancestor for maintenance it is not conclusive on the point as to whether the estate has ceased to be joint for the purpose of finding out a successor to the gaddi. *Kachi Yava Janappa Kalakka Thola Udayar v Kachi Yavayana Janappa Kalakka Thola Udayar I L R 28 Mad 303 Kalamata Vachiar v The Raja of Shivagunga 2 Moo 1 A 513 Doorga Persad Singh v Doorga Konwar I L R 4 Cal 190 Street Pajah Janumulu Venkayamah v Street Pajah Janumulu Poochia Venkondora 13 Moo 1 A 333 Sarlay Kuari v Deoraj Kuari I L R 10 All 212 Tara Kumari v Chaturbhuj Narayan Singh I L R 4 Cal 119 Bacheloo Harikondas v Hanterloo I L R 29 Pore 51 Japa Puri Sngi v Puri Bansi I L R 7 All 1 and Kaja Ganai Achammajaru v Venkatchalapathi Davani vuru I L R 4 Mad 250 referred to Sri Paja Satrucharla Jayananda Iyay v Sri Paja Satrucharla Iyay I L R 15 Mad 37 Venkataramulu v Venkataramayya I L R 15 Mad 281 Venkata Narayana Appa Pore v Parthasathy Appa Pore I L R 41 t 51 and Dny Indar Bahadur Singh v Jance Jankee Aker I L R 1 t 1 distinguished. *BAHAYAT PRASAD SINGH v THE RAJA SINGH (1910)

I L R 33 All 590

3 ————— The intention of the testator in an impartible estate is liable for his debts in the hands of his heir. For the purpose of ascertaining the person entitled to succeed resource must be had to the rule which would have governed the succession if the estate had remained partible. SHYAM LAL SINGH v PAJA DHOY N KANDA BHADUR 2 Pat L J 136

HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE—

4 ————— Where a family is governed by the rule under which succession to an impartible estate does not go to the females so long as the family remains united the burden of proving that the family has ceased to be united lies on the person who alleges separation. Per Chapman J—The departure of a member of such a family to reside in a village which has been granted to him for maintenance is not sufficient to indicate separation. Per Roe J—Where the plaintiff had asserted and was acknowledged to have a right to take part as a member of the family in the family worship and during visits which were frequent and of long duration had conducted himself as subservient to the elder branch of the family and received from the elder branch assistance for himself for his son and for his wife consistent with such subservience held that he must be taken to be joint with the elder branch. RANI JAGADAMBA KUMARI v THAKUR WAZIR A SINGH 2 Pat L J 239

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE*See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION*

1 ————— Illegitimate son—Sudras—Mitakshara—Legitimate son—Vatan—Collateral succession—Surv by reversioner for declaration as nearest heir—Widow of the last male holder—Vested right—Limitation Act (XI of 1877) Art 10. Amongst Sudras governed by the Mitakshara an illegitimate son cannot inherit a vatan collaterally in preference to legitimate heirs. The right to sue for a declaration of heirship to a vatan does not accrue until the death of the widow of the last male holder of the vatan the widow having a vested interest in it as the nearest heir. RAJJI VALAO MAHADU v SAKUJI VALAO KALUJI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 321

2 ————— Daughters—Mitakshara—Daughters inheriting property from their father—Shares separate and absolute—Tenants in common. In the Bombay Presidency a daughter taking property from her father inherits it as stridhan and daughters take their shares separately and absolutely. When the property so inherited is not physically divided it is held by the daughters as tenants in common and not as joint tenants and there is no survivorship between them. In cases affecting inheritance the rule is to adhere to the decisions of the Court to which the district from which the case arose is subject. ATHAPPA v SAVITRI (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 510

3 ————— Kanathis—Mitakshara—Marriage—Law governing Kanathis who live in Bostia—Succession—Illegitimate Stridhan—Preference between husband and son born of adulterous intercourse—Sudras—Forms of marriage—Resumption as to form. The Kanathis settled in Bombay are governed for the purposes of inheritance by the law of the Mitakshara and the Mayukhi where they agree but where they differ the Mayukhi law must prevail. The stridhan of a female devolves on her death upon her husband in preference to the son born of her by adulterous intercourse. The law will even among Sudras presume the marriage to have been according to the approved forms if the parties belonged to a respectable family. JAGANNATH PAGHUNATH v NARAYAN (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 553

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

17 ——— Mitakshara—Bandhus—Limit of Heritable Bandhus—Pinna gotra sapindas The word bandhu has in the system of Mitakshara a distinct and technical meaning and signifies the Pinna-gotra sapindas. The sapinda relationship, upon which the heritable right of collaterals is founded, ceases in the case of Pinna-gotra sapindas with the fifth degree from the common ancestor further in order to entitle a bandhu to inherit he must be so related to the deceased person that they are mutually sapindas of one another. The right of inheritance consequently does not extend to a deceased person's paternal grandfather's son's son's daughter's daughter's sons since they are Pinna-gotras beyond the fifth degree and the element of mutuality of *sapinda*ship is wanting. RAM CHANDRA MATTAND WAIKAR v VENAYAK VENKATLAKSHMI KOTHEKAR (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 334
L R 41 I A 290

18 ——— Illegitimate children—Right of inheritance—Prohibition on not destroying kinship by blood—Mitalakshara—Daughters meaning legitimate daughters Except in the case of Sudras among whom illegitimate sons have a right of succession illegitimate children are not heirs under the Hindu law especially under the Mitakshara system to succeed to the property of any kind left by either of their parents. Hence a legitimate son of a Sudra woman born in lawful wedlock succeeded to the property acquired by his mother by prostitution after the death of his father and her illegitimate daughter born in prostitution is not an heir to such property. Prostitution does not sever the tie of kinship by blood and does not bring the prostitute within the category of dancing girls whose children are allowed by custom and precedent in Southern India the right of succession to the property acquired by their mothers. The word daughters in the rule of the Mitakshara which allows daughters to succeed to their parents' property in certain cases means only legitimate daughters. MEENAKSHI v MUNIANDI PANIKKAR (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 1144

19 ——— Leprosy—Anathetic not a ground of exclusion from—Incurability not a safe test—Grounds of exclusion in texts some obsolete Under the Hindu Law a person suffering from the anathetic form of leprosy though considered incurable by medical men is not disentitled to inherit. Obiter—Both the texts of Hindu Law texts and the decided cases fully establish that it is only the agonizing, sanious or ulcerous type of leprosy that is a disqualification to disinherit. Deformity and unfitness for social intercourse arising from the virulent and disgusting nature of the disease would appear to be what has been accepted in both the texts and the decisions as the most satisfactory test. Most of the decisions which have excluded lepers deal only with right to partition. Janardhan Pandurang v Gopal Pandurang 5 Bom H C P (A G J) 140. Ananta v Ramabai 1 L P 1 Bom 554. Rangayya Chetty v Thanikachalla Mudali 1 L P 19 Mad 73 and Helan Das v Durga Das Mandal 4 C L J 333 distinguished. Lanchod v Ayobai 9 Bom L P 1119 referred to. Many of the grounds of exclusion referred to in the texts would not now be enforced by the Courts and are practically obsolete. RAYARONANA PATHAN v SUBBAYYA THEVAN (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 250

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

20 ——— Benares school of law—Great grandson of grandfather of deceased male owner—Grandson of great-grandfather of deceased—Putra, interpretation of—Lateral and collateral descendants—Blood relationship or propinquity among gotrajas—Test is capacity to offer oblations—Introducing into the decision the opinion of another Judge not a party to the judgment—Practice not approved On this appeal in which the question for decision related to the order of succession under the Mitakshara as expounded in the Benares school of Hindu law among the collateral kindred belonging to the same parental stock as the last male owner who died leaving no male issue. Held (affirming the decisions of the Courts in India) that the respondent (defendant) as the great grand son of the grand father of the deceased and the grandson of his paternal uncle was the preferential heir as against the appellant (plaintiff) who was the grandson of the deceased's great grandfather. The word putra which when used in relation to the last owner signifies and includes son grandson and great grandson thus including three degrees in the direct line of descent is not to be construed in a literal and restricted sense when used in connexion with collateral relatives such as brother uncle or grand uncle. The following cases were referred to and discussed—Rutechputty Dutt 150 v Pajunder Narain Rao 2 Moo I A 137. 153 Bhyaj Pam Singh v Bhajaj Ugur Singh 13 Moo I A 373. Kureem Chand Gurain v Oodung Gurain 6 W R 158. Kahan Bai v Pam Chandar 1 L R 24 All 178. Paclina v Kalingappa 1 L R 16 Bom 716. Parasara Bhattar v Pangarara Bhattar 1 L R 2 Mad 207. Suraya Bhukta v Lakshminarasamma, 1 L R 5 Mad 201 and Chinnasami Pillai v Kunju Pillai 1 L R 35 Mad 157 and the last two cases were dissented from the respondent was also entitled to succeed on the ground that he admittedly conferred greater benefit on the deceased by the offerings he was capable of making to the manes of the common ancestor. In judging of the nearness of blood relationship or propinquity among the gotrajas the test to discover the preferential heir is the capacity to offer the oblations. Bhajah Pam Singh v Bhajah Ugur Singh and the principle laid down in the Vramitrodaya Golap Chandra Shastri's Translation page 91 ch II part I a 23(a) and by Dr Sarvadikari Taoro Law Lectures (1890) page 629 followed. It is an undesirable course and one not approved by their Lordships of the Judicial Committee to introduce the opinion of another Judge not a party to the judgment for the purpose of enforcing the conclusion arrived at. BUDDHA SINGH v LALIT SINGH (1915)

I L P 37 All 604

21 ——— Impartible Estate governed by rule of primogeniture—Where no custom excluding females existed—Widow of holder who died without male issue—Evidence of separation in joint family—Junior members leaving family house and living in separate residence after obtaining grant for maintenance The succession, on the death of a holder without male issue to an impartible estate which descended by the rule of primogeniture the junior members of the family being entitled to grant for maintenance and where no custom excluding females existed depended on whether there had been a separation between two brothers the father and predecessors in title of the deceased holder and the father of the next contingent reversioner. On that question the Courts in India

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

differed the Subordinate Judge finding that a separation had taken place and the High Court being of opinion that what had occurred did not in intention and fact amount to a complete separation. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the evidence clearly proved that there had been a complete separation and that the widow of the last holder was therefore entitled to succeed to the estate for a Hindu widow's interest in priority to the next male reversioner. TARA KUMARI v CHATURBHUS NARAIAN SINGH (1915)
I L R 42 Cal 1179

22 ————— Bandhus—Atma Bandhus—Preferential heir—Atma bandhus ex parte paterna preferential to Atma bandhus ex parte materna—Father's sister's son's son preferable to mother's brother Under the Mitakshara Law among Atma bandhus of a deceased male owner those that are related to him ex parte paterna are preferential heirs to those that are related to him ex parte materna. The son of the father's sister's son of the deceased male owner is a preferential heir to his mother's brother. Sundrammal v Rangasami Mudaliar (1895) I L R 18 Mad 193
Balusami Panthar v Varayana Pau (1897) I L R 90 Mad 349 followed. SEBASTIANA MUDALIAR v RANGA NATHAN CHETTIAR (1921)
I L R 44 Mad 114

22(a) ————— Inheritance—
Sudra ascetic—Right of shishya (disciple) to inherit—Texts of Hindu Law whether obsolete—Yajnavalkya—
Mitakshara—Escheat to Government—Religious instruction to Sudras—Disciple wanting of—Spiritual relationship proof of The disciple of a Sudra ascetic who dies without leaving any blood relations is an heir of the latter under the Hindu Law and succeeds to his estate so as to prevent its escheat to the Government. The texts relating to succession by preceptors, disciples and fellow students enunciated in Yajnavalkya Smriti Chapter II verse 137 and in the Mitakshara section VII are not obsolete. In determining who is a preceptor, a pupil or a fellow student under the above texts we have only to consider the imparting of purely religious instruction. Religious instruction and training are not confined to Brahman. Gyana Sambandha Pandara Sannadhi v Kandasami Tambiran (1887) I L R 10 Mad 375 Dharmapuram Pandara Sannadhi v Varapindiyam Pillai (1899) I L R 93 Mad 302 distinguished. Strict proof is required to be given by the claimant regarding his alleged spiritual relationship to the deceased. SAMBASTHAM PILLAI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 704

22(b) ————— Illegitimate son of a Sudra by a dancing woman kept in continuous and exclusive concubinage is entitled to get his appropriate share in the joint family property after his father's death provided his parents' connection was not incestuous or adulterous. SOUNDARARAJAN v ARUPACHALAM CHETTIAR

I L R 39 Mad 136

23 ————— Succession of sapindas of name and different degrees—Line of half blood opposed as heir to son of uncle of whole blood—Civil Procedure Code (1882) ss 317 and 321—Execution of mortgage decree by one of several decree holders—Suit by heirs of the other decree holders against decree holder who after a sale subject to rights of heirs of the decree holders claimed and obtained sale proceeds

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

non Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that under the Mitakshara law the preference of heirs of the whole blood to those of the half blood confined to sapindas of the same degrees of descent from the common ancestor. Where therefore the choice of heirs lay between sapindas of different degrees an uncle of the half blood as being less remote from the common ancestor is a preferential heir to the sons of an uncle of the whole blood. SUBA SINGH v SARJARA KUNJAR I L R 19 All 215 distinguished. The provisions of s 317 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 were designed to create some check on the practice of making so-called benami purchases at execution sales for the benefit of judgment debtors and in no way affect the title of persons otherwise beneficially interested in the purchase. One of three joint decree holders of a mortgage decree alone took out execution under a 231 of the Code stating that the other decree holders had died and praying that execution might be subject to the rights of their heirs and representatives. He obtained leave to bid at the sale purchased the property in his own name and furnished with a certificate of sale got possession of the property. Held in a suit by the heirs of the other decree holders for the shares they were entitled to under the decree that s 317 of the Code was not applicable as a defence to the suit and that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover their shares of the mortgaged property. Bodh Singh Doodhoria v Gurnesh Chunder Sen 12 B L R 317 followed. GANDASAHAI v KESHERI (1915) I L R 37 All 545

24 ————— Sudras—Extent of share
Among Sudras an illegitimate son of a concubine stands on the same level as to inheritance as the dasi putra and the extent of his share in competition with a legitimate daughter would be one half of the share taken by the daughter that is, one third of the whole estate. GANDASAHAI PEEBAYYA v BANDHU (1915) I L R 40 Bom 569

25 ————— 'Samanodala'—Veining of—Retention claim by—Onus of proof According to Mitakshara and the view prevalent in Southern India samanodala relationship is confined to such of the gottrajas as are within fourteen degrees from the common ancestor. It is incumbent on a plaintiff seeking to succeed to property as an heir affirmatively to establish the particular relationship which he puts forward. He is also bound to satisfy the Court that to the best of his knowledge there are no nearer heirs. It is for those who claim that their kinship is nearer than that of the plaintiff to prove that relationship. Secretary of State for India v Subraya Aarantha (1915) Mad W N 967 followed. A gottraja who is unable to trace his descent from a common ancestor cannot be preferred to a bandhu. RAMA POW v KUTTIYA GOUNDAN (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 654

26 ————— Blindness—Not a disqualification unless congenital The appellant as his only child and heir sued for the property of her father a Hindu who had become blind in the early years of his life and remained so until his death and had taken his separate share of the family property under a decree made on a compromise of a suit for partition brought against him by his younger brother they having lived together as members of a joint family governed by the law of the Mitakshara. The defence by his brother a suit in which the suit was brought it was that there had been no partition and that on his brother's death he became entitled to the whole family property by survivorship. He contended that his brother's blindness was congenital which excluded him from inheritance but that even assuming he was not born blind but became so after birth he was, according to the Mitakshara law of the Benares school, excluded from participation of a share inasmuch as the blindness occurred before the actual partition. Held that blindness to cause exclusion from inheritance must be congenital. Mere loss of sight which has supervened after birth is not a ground for disqualification. Initable blindness if not congenital is not an absolute disqualification. Hindu Law excludes a person from inheritance. Sarva Bhikara v. Hindu Law of Inheritance para 206 referred to. Mohd. Khan v. Poy v. Chander Mohan 10 J. I. R. 173. Suth. H. P. 26 and Murari Collette v. Iyambhai 1 L. P. 117. Id. approved and followed. Govindram Kumbhar v. Derna Prasad Singh (1917) 1 L. R. 45 Cal. 17.

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—cont

2. — Taluqa in Oudh—Oudh Estates Act of 1859 as 7 & 8 19th —Sanad granting descent by primogeniture—Id. report is subsequently acquired—Acquisitions and properties appertaining to taluqa—Id. properly retained by taluqdar—Intention to vary descent—Substitution of villages by Government—Crown Grants Act (VI of 1859) s. 2—Love of Crown to alter descent—No ev. h. p. r. s. s. s. s. In British India the Crown has power to grant or transfer lands and by its grant or on the transfer to limit in any way the descent of such lands but a subject has no right to impose upon lands or other property any limitation of descent which is at variance with the ordinary law of descent applicable to the particular lands or property so dealt with. The present appeal related to a taluqa granted in 1861 by the Crown to a Hindu the grant containing a condition that in the event of your dying intestate or of your successor dying intestate the estate should descend to the nearest male heir according to the rule of primogeniture. On the death of one of the holders of the taluqa a suit was brought which in 1900 came on appeal to the Privy Council for decision as to the succession to the deceased taluqdar's estate and an Officer in Council was made which declared that the taluqa as constituted at the date of the sanad with accretions (if any) or properties (if any) appertaining to the taluqa passed to the appellant as the next male heir according to the rule of primogeniture but that the residue of the property passed to the respondent and the suit was remitted to India for determination under the Order in Council. There was no allegation of any family custom of primogeniture. On appeal from the final decrees of the Judicial Commissioner. Held that under the Order in Council villages substituted by the Government for some of those held under the sanad and a house granted by the Government after 1861 to the taluqdar for his use as taluqdar passed to the appellant as taluqdar's property but that villages purchased after 1861 by the deceased taluqdar passed to the respondent as non taluqdar property and it was immaterial whether it was or was not the intention of the deceased taluqdar to incorporate them with the taluqa. PAJINDRA BHADUR SINGH v. LACHUBANS KUMAR (1918) 1 L. R. 40 All. 470.

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—cont

23. — Illegitimate son of a Sudra—by a continuous and exclusive concubine—Dayabhaga—Dān—Dāyika vidhāna—Apurāṇa—Heli (CHATTOPADHYAY J. dissenting) that under the Bengal School of Hindu law correctly interpreted an illegitimate son of a Sudra is entitled as a dāyika to a share of the inheritance provided that his mother was in the continuous and exclusive keeping of his father and he was not the fruit of an adulterous or an incestuous intercourse. This right is not subject either to the condition that his mother was a slave woman in the technical sense of the term or to the condition that a marriage could have taken place between his father and his mother. Varan Dīva v. Lalal Gaur 1 L. R. 1 Cal. 1. Kripal Varan Tewari v. Sukurno 1 L. R. 19 Cal. 21 and P. M. v. M. v. T. Chandra 1 L. R. 1 P. 25 Cal. 191 overruled on this point. The term dāyika is not exclusively applicable to a female slave but includes a Sudra woman kept as a concubine. According to the correct interpretation of para 206 Chap. IV of the Dayabhaga the term dāyika vidhāna includes the son of a dāyika or the like and it is not restricted only to the son of a dāyika or the dāyika (slave woman or wife) of a dāyika. In the same text the term apūṇya means not a maiden but not married (to the Sudra to whom she bears a son). Per CHATTOPADHYAY J. Having regard to the fact that for more than a century the right of an illegitimate son of a Sudra or a kept woman has not been recognised in Bengal and having regard to the opinion of writers of Hindu law in Bengal the right which is opposed to the usage and sentiments of the people of Bengal should not be revived even if it is deducible from the texts of Jimutavahana or any other authority. Cases on the subject reviewed. I WANI NATH DAS v. NRIJ CHANDRA DEY (1920) 1 L. R. 48 Cal. 643.

23a. — Unchaste female—The rule as it obtains in the Bengal School of Hindu Law is that any female who was unchaste before the succession opened out is excluded from the inheritance. PAJABALA DAS v. SHAYANA CHARAN BANERJEE (1917) 22 C. W. N. 566.

29. — Illegitimate son—Right of puta due to succeed as heir. Held by the Full Bench—Where an illegitimate son who if he had survived his putative father would have inherited his estate either alone or along with others dies leaving no issue widow or mother his putative father is entitled to succeed as his heir. Jogendra Bhupati Hurrochundra Mahapatra v. Nityanand Man Singh 1 L. R. 18 Cal. 151 and Sadu v. Eav and Genu 1 L. R. 4 Bom. 3 applied. SUBRAMANIAM AYLAR v. RATHNAVELU CHETTY (1911) 1 L. R. 41 Mad. 44.

29a. — Unchastity effect of—Dayabhaga—Application to Assam Koches—Unchaste daughter marrying paramour after succession opened out of major interest. The daughter of a Koch (in Assam) eloped in her father's lifetime with a Koch and lived with the latter as man and wife but later on the father's death married her paramour and sued to recover her father's properties from the illegitimate daughters of her father who were to go possession. Held absence of evidence of local custom and the bhava law applying—That the Plaintiff qualified when the succession opened.

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

again & when the suit was brought it was that there had been no partition and that on his brother's death he became entitled to the whole family property by survivorship. He contended that his brother's blindness was congenital which excluded him from inheritance. But that even assuming he was no born blind but became so after birth he was according to the Mitakshara law of the Benares school, excluded from participation of a share inasmuch as the blindness occurred before the actual partition. Held that blindness to cause exclusion from inheritance must be congenital. Mere loss of sight which has supervened after birth is not a ground for disqualification. Incurable blindness, if not congenital, is not such an affliction as entitles Hindu Law to exclude a person from inheritance. Sartaikhar v. Hindu Law of Inheritance para 94 referred to. Mohesh Chandra Poy v. Chander Mohan Poy 11 B L R 23. Sult v. P. S. and Murari (collected & reported) 1 L R 110m 1 approved on 1 followed. GENJESWAR KUNWAR v. DEVI PRASAD SINGH (1917) 1 L R 45 Cal 17

27 ————— Taluqa in Oudh—Oudh Estates Act (I of 1872) ss 7 8 10 2.—Sanad granting descent by primogeniture—Properties subsequently acquired—Accretions and properties appurtenant to taluqa—Property purchased by taluqdar—Intention to vary descent—Discontinuation of villages by Government—Crown Grants Act (VI of 1895) s 2—Issue of Crown to all or part of estate—No real power in subject. In British India the Crown has power to grant or transfer land and by its grant or on the transfer to limit in any way the descent of such lands. But a subject has no right to impose upon lands or other property any limitation of descent which is at variance with the ordinary law of descent applicable to the particular lands or property so dealt with. The present appeal related to a taluqa granted in 1861 by the Crown to a Hindu the grant containing a condition that in the event of the grantee dying intestate or of your successor dying intestate the estate should descend to the nearest male heir according to the rule of primogeniture. On the death of one of the holders of the taluqa a suit was brought which in 1900 came on appeal to the Privy Council for decision as to the succession to the deceased taluqdar's estate and an Order in Council was made which declared that the taluqa was constituted at the date of the sanad with accretions (if any) or properties (if any) appurtenant to the taluqa passed to the appellant as the next male heir according to the rule of primogeniture but that the residue of the property passed to the respondent and the suit was remitted to India for determination under the Order in Council. There was no allegation of any family custom of primogeniture. On appeal from the final decrees of the Judicial Commissioner. Held that under the Order in Council villages substituted by the Government for some of the estate held under the sanad and a house granted by the Government after 1861 to the taluqdar for his use as taluqdar passed to the appellant as taluqdar's property but that villages purchased after 1861 by the deceased taluqdar passed to the respondent as non taluqdar property and it was immaterial whether it was or was not the intention of the deceased taluqdar to incorporate them with the taluqa. PAJANI NATH DAS v. NITAI CHANDRA DRY (1918) 1 L R 40 All 470

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

28 ————— Illegitimate son of a Sudra—by a continuous and exclusive concubine—Dayabhaga—Dasi—Dd yadusudraputra—Aparineta Held (CHATTERJEE J dissenting) that under the Bengal School of Hindu law correctly interpreted an illegitimate son of a Sudra is entitled as a dasi putra to a share of the inheritance provided that his mother was in the continuous and exclusive keeping of his father and he was not the fruit of an adulterous or onetime transient intercourse. This right is not subject either to the condition that his mother was a slave woman in the technical sense of the term or to the condition that a marriage could have taken place between his father and his mother. Varan Dasi v. Pichai Gani 1 L R 1 Cal 1 Karpal Varan Tevari v. Sukurnani 1 L R 19 Cal 91 and Pinsarnan Garain v. Tel Chandi Garain 1 L R 8 Cal 131 overruled on this point. The term dasi is not exclusively applicable to a female slave but includes a Sudra woman kept as a concubine. According to the correct interpretation of para 9 Chap IX of the Dayabhaga the term dd yadusudraputra includes the son of a dasi or the like and it is not restricted only to the son of a dd or the ddasi (slave woman or wife) of a dd. In the same text the term aparineta means not a maiden but not married (to the Sudra to whom she bears a son). Per CHATTERJEE J. Having regard to the fact that for more than a century the right of an illegitimate son of a Sudra by a kept woman has not been recognised in Bengal and having regard to the opinion of writers of Hindu law in Bengal to the effect which is opposed to the usage and sentiments of the people of Bengal should not be revived even if it is deducible from the texts of Jimutavahana or any other authority. Cases on the subject reviewed. PAJANI NATH DAS v. NITAI CHANDRA DRY (1917) 1 L R 48 Cal 643

28a ————— Unchaste female—The rule as it obtains in the Bengal School of Hindu Law is that any female who was unchaste before the succession opened out is excluded from the inheritance. RAJABALA DASI v. SHAYAMA CHANDRA BANERJEE (1917) 22 C W N 566

29 ————— Illegitimate son—Right of putative to succeed as heir. Held by the Full Bench —Where an illegitimate son who if he had survived his putative father would have inherited his estate either alone or a long with others dies leaving no issue widow or mother his putative father is entitled to succeed as his heir. Jogendra Bhupati Harrookundra Mahapatra v. Atjanand Man Singh 1 L R 13 Cal 151 and Sadu v. Dnyan and Genu 1 L R 4 Bom 67 applied. SUBRAMANIAM AYLAR v. RATHNAPUZZI CHETTY (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad 44

29a ————— Unchastity effect of—Dayabhaga—Application to Assam Koches—Unchaste daughter marrying paramour after succession opened out if may inherit. The daughter of a Koch (an Assam) eloped in her father's lifetime with a Koch and lived with the latter as man and wife but later on the father's death married her paramour and sued to recover her father's properties from the illegitimate daughter of her father who were in possession. Held (in the absence of evidence of local custom and the Dayabhaga law applying)—That the plaintiff was disqualified when the succession opened out from

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

inheriting her father's properties by reason of her unchastity and the disability was not removed by subsequent marriage. That failing to prove her title the Plaintiff could not recover the property even though the Defendants were in possession without title. Quere—Whether Plaintiff could have inherited her father's estate if she had married her paramour before the succession opened out. Atra Hoonvi v. Amdav Hoonvi

24 C W N 173

30 ———— Persons born blind—Exclusion from inheritance and joint ownership—Rule of exclusion whether obsolete—Tests—Competency of Courts to declare rule obsolete—Reversioners—Right of suit for declaration—If dowry settling up absolute title to husband's properties under a will of another—Right of reversioner to sue for mere declaration—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42 (c) and (f) whether exhaustive. The rule of Hindu Law which prevents a person born blind from claiming an interest along with his brothers as a co-owner in ancestral properties has become obsolete. A reversioner under the Hindu Law is entitled to sue for a mere declaration as to the limited nature of the title of a widow to certain properties alleged by him to belong to her husband but to which she sets up an absolute title under the will of another person. Illustrations (c) and (f) to s 42 of the Specific Relief Act are not exhaustive of the classes of cases in which a reversioner can sue for a declaration under the section. Sekarya v. Son Ramya (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 4

31 ———— By daughter—Benares School claim of daughter of deceased Hindu to inherit against person who claimed and proved his title as next agnate in Settlement Court in res judicata. Settlement Court proceedings in which claim of the daughter of deceased Hindu to inherit was established as against person who claimed and proved his title as next agnate—Alienation of estate by daughter—Suit by same agnate to declare alienation invalid—Res judicata—Court's discretion to grant declaratory decree—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 12. In certain proceedings before the Settlement Court which took place in 1867-1868 concerning the right to succession to the estate of J who had died in 1662 questions were raised amongst the several claimants to the estate inter alia as to whether J the daughter of J was not excluded from inheritance under a family custom and whether B who claimed to be the agnate heir of J was in fact what he alleged to be the son of the adopted son of J the father's brother of J. The Settlement Court decided that J was entitled to hold the estate in the limited interest of a Hindu daughter as provided by the Benares School of Hindu law and that B at the date of the decision was the reversioner expectant his relationship to J as alleged by him being established. In 1891 J entered into a compromise with her deceased son's widow under which it was agreed that J should hold the estate for her life and that on her death her son's widow was to be the owner. B then brought the present suit as reversionary heir to J on J's death for a declaration that the agreement between J and her son's widow was invalid. Held that the estate of B as reversionary heir having been established in the Settlement Court proceedings that question was res judicata as also was the question of the title under which (e.g. in the limited interest of a Hindu daughter) J was to hold the estate and that in the circumstance it was a fit case for the grant of a declaratory decree as prayed for in the plaint. Rani Indar Kaur v. Thakur Baldeo Bakh Singh (P C)

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

25 C W N 170

32 ———— Impartible zamindari—Rule of succession—Heirs of the same degree but of different branches—Preference of senior line—Right of zamindar to incorporate self-acquisitions and income from zamini with zamini—Rule of descent thereto when not incorporated. The devolution of an impartible estate held by a single person depends upon whether the last holder was undivided or divided from the other members of the family. If he was undivided then for the purposes of succession the property must be treated as if it had been partible and the successor found among those who would have been in that event his co-owners. If he was separated the estate devolves in the absence of any special custom on the next of kin who is nearest in blood to the deceased as for instance his mother and if there be several collaterals of the same degree but of different branches the senior representative of the senior line takes. Tara Kumari v. Chaturbhuj Narayan Singh (1915) I L R 42 Cal 117 (P C) and Bhagwan Bahadur Singh v. Amlal Ram (1893) I L R 20 Cal 646 (P C) followed. It is open to the holder of an impartible zamindari to incorporate with his zamini his self-acquisitions such as those made from the income of the zamini or to keep them distinct. If incorporated the devolution thereof follows that of the zamini if not his own heirs succeed to them. Murti v. Hussain Khan v. Muhammad Isam Ali Khan (1916) I L R 38 All 632 (P C) at 67 and Janki Prasad Singh v. Dwarka Prasad Singh (1910) I L R 35 All 391 (P C) at 401 followed. Pojindra Bahadur Singh v. Raghuram Kumar (1918) I L R 10 All 470 (P C) distinguished. Goruram Pandey v. Pandita Chitna Thakur (1921) I L R 44 Mad 1

33 ———— Bandhus—Heritability test of—Sapinda relationship—Mutuality—Paternal grandfather's sister great-grandson whether heritable bandhu. Under the Mitakshara Law the great-grandson of the paternal grand-aunt of the last male owner is not a heritable bandhu of the latter. Umaid Bahadur v. Lado Chand (1881) I L R 6 Cal 119 (F B) and Babu Lal v. Anulla Pann (1895) I L R 22 Cal 339 followed. Budda Singh v. Lallu Singh (1915) I L R 37 All 604 (P C) distinguished. Subramanya Mudaliar v. Panganathan Chettiar (1921) I L R 44 Mad 114 referred to. Chinnai Pichu Iyer v. Padmanabha Iyer (1919-20) I L R 44 Mad 121

34 ———— Non congenital insanity—Whether a ground of deprivation of right of survivorship. Insanity as a ground of exclusion from inheritance under Hindu Law need not be congenital. De Aksen v. Badi Prakash (1883) I L R 5 All 509 (F B) and Vijaya Colukias v. Parvathias (1906) I L R 1 Bom 177 followed. Sanku v. Puttamma (1891) I L R 14 Mad 239 distinguished. The right of a member of a Hindu joint family to share in ancestral property comes into existence at birth and is not lost but is only in abeyance by reason of a disqualification. It subsists all through although it is incapable of enforcement at the time of partition if the disqualification

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

then exists. Hence if on the death of all the other members the disqualified member becomes the sole surviving member of the family he takes the whole property by survivorship. METRU SWAMI GURUKAL v MEENAMMAL (1910)

I L R 43 Mad 461

35 ——— Father's Immovable Property

Different law in different Provinces of India—Quality of estate taken either absolute or limited—Mahra, a Brahmin in Central Provinces—Law school of law—Family emigrating taking law of original domicile with it The quality of the right which is taken by a daughter who inherits immovable property from her father has been differently determined in different parts of India. In accordance with the view of the High Court of Pen has the Courts of Western India have decided first she takes an absolute right in other parts of India the Courts have held that she takes only a limited interest such as is taken by a Hindu widow. See Pranjivardas Tuljadas Datta Shas 1 Cal H C 130 9 Moo I 1 33 (re) and Lilavati Parbunath I L J 1909 p 9 and the cases and authorities there cited. It is established that the law of succession is in any given case to be determined according to the personal law of the individual whose succession is in question. Prima facie any Hindu residing in a particular province of India is held to be subject to the particular doctrine of Hindu Law recognised in that province. But this law is not merely a local law it becomes the personal law and part of the status of every family which is governed by it. Consequently while any such family migrates to another province governed by another law it carries its own law with it. Mayna a Hindu Law 8th Ed para 48. On migration there may be renunciation of the law of the province migrated from in favour of that of the province migrated to but unless such renunciation is proved (and the mere change of domicile is not of itself sufficient to prove it) original law continues to govern the migrating family. But the law must be the family law as it was when they left. A judgment declaratory of law as having always been would be binding on the migrated family but subsequent customs introduced into the law would not affect them. Surendra Nath Roy v Heeramon Burmoncal, 1 Moo I A 81 and Parbati Kanari Dels v Jagadis Chunder Dhabal I L R 29 Cal 133 I L J 291 A 82 followed. A Maharashtra Brahmin whose ancestors and after wards himself were domiciled in the Bombay Presidency died in 1868 while on a pilgrimage leaving immovable property in the Wardha District of the Central Provinces. On his death his daughter succeeded to that property. She died in 1889 leaving three sons who on her death sued to set aside alienation of portions of the property made by her during her possession of it. The question arose whether she took an absolute or a limited estate in the property which depended on what was the law of succession by which her father and his ancestors were governed. The Judicial Commissioner (reversing the decision of the first Court to the effect that he and his ancestors were originally domiciled at Berar in the Bombay Presidency and therefore the law gave the daughter an absolute estate) held that the father had no exclusive domicile either in Berar or in the Central Provinces and that the succession was governed by the law of the latter where the property was situated.

HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE—contd

and the daughter had taken only a limited estate. Held that the family of her father and his ancestors were domiciled in Berar and there was no renunciation of the law of that province when they or he migrated from it and that the daughter took an absolute estate under the law of the Bombay Presidency. BALWANT RAO v RAJI RAO (1920).

I L R 48 Cal 30

36 ——— Division amongst sons by

Patrilage—A prevalent custom—Custom proved as prevailing amongst Chettis of certain villages—Chettis of Sudras Though division of the inheritance amongst sons by patrilage (i.e. according to the number of sons) is now the recognised rule of Hindu law there are traces of division by patrilage (i.e. according to wives). Therefore though the prevailing law is patrilage patrilage may be proved to exist as a territorial family or caste custom especially in Southern India where it is possible that the matrimonial theories of the earlier inhabitants may have led to the prevalence of this custom and caused difficulties in the way of its being extirpated by the Brahmins when they introduced the law of the Smritis in Southern India. The Chettis are generally deemed to be Sudras. Held on the evidence that the custom of patrilage proved in the case was one of the particular customs of Chettis who happened to dwell in and probably were at the moment the only dwellers in an area of even villages and such a custom could not rightly be ascribed as a local custom which it would be unreasonable to impose upon all persons dwelling in the area. MAHANAPPA CHETTIAR v ALAYAN CHETTI

26 C W N 417

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1835 s 48

3 Pat L J 576

See CENTRAL PROVINCES GOVERNMENT WARDS ACT s 18

I L R 40 Cal 784

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O I R 3 I L R 40 Mad 365

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

See HINDU LAW—MITAKSHARA

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

See MORTGAGE 23 C W N 634

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1857 s 49
2 Pat L J 221

——— Elder brother selling as Manager—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 7

I L R 45 Bom 448

——— Status of Females in—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 66

I L R 43 AH 711

——— Joint acts of Insolvency—

See INSOLVENCY ACT 1907 s 3

I L R 44 Mad 810

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

1 ———— Effect of partition—Profits from investment of joint family property if joint family property—Suit against karta for partition and accounts—Limitation—Limitation Act (VI of 1877) Sec 11 Arts 6^o 127 A family may be joint with reference to certain properties though divided in respect of others. Gauri Shankar Parabharum v. Almarai Rajaram 1 L R 15 Bom 611 Purusothama v. Almarai 1 L R 23 Bom 597 601 referred to. Where plaintiff sued for partition and account of profits of joint family property in the hands of the karta Art 127 and not Art 62 of Sch II of the Limitation Act (VI of 1877) applied. Mathu sams Mudhar v. Nallabulmtha Mudhar 1 L R 18 Mad 418 followed. Banoo Tewary v. Doona Tewary 1 L R 21 Cal 369 Thakur Prasad v. Parieb 1 L R 6 All 442 distinguished. Profits derived from the investment of joint family capital in business or from immovable properties belonging to the joint family are joint family property. A suit for a count in respect of such money being incidental to the suit for ascertainment of share on partition comes under Art 127 of the Limitation Act. Pirtha Pal v. Jai ahir Singh 1 L R 14 Cal 453 referred to. Asodina Pershad v. Mahadeo Prasad (1909) 14 C W N 221

2 ———— Order Restoring Member—Mitakshara joint family—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O A VI r 101—Order restoring member of joint Mitakshara family to a share—Validity—Suit brought after claim case dismissed for default—Dismissal of pending—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 78 10^o 103—Dismissal of suit for default—Effect—Res judicata or not—Mitakshara—On a right to resist execution against family property of decree against father and after suit for injunction dismissed for non prosecution. A member of a joint Mitakshara family has no definable share in the joint property previous to partition. An order under O A VI r 101 Civil Procedure Code 1904 restoring such member to a specific share of such property on the ground that he is in possession of such property is therefore bad. Where a suit for injunction to restrain the sale of joint Mitakshara family property in execution of a decree against the father on the ground that the debts of the father did not bind the sons interest in the property was dismissed for non prosecution. Held that the son was no longer entitled to contend in execution proceedings that the entire property was not liable to be sold. Cookerjee v. Dnyey 1 L R 17 Bom 718 followed. A decree holder against Mitakshara father can proceed against the entire joint property. Muddun Thakur v. Fantoolali L R 11 4 31 Anonimi Bahar v. Mohan Mahan L R 13 1 11 s c 1 L R 13 Cal 21 Jalnr Mal v. Elnoth 1 L R 21 Bom 813 s c 1 Bom 1 P 312 followed. Kallapa v. Venkatesh Lingaj 1 L R 2 Bom 616 Dnyey v. Venkatramayya 1 L R 1 Bom 403 Patil Hari v. Halim Chand 1 L R 18 Bom 66 distinguished. SANKAR NATH PRASAD v. ANAND MOHAN DAS (1909) 14 C W N 293

3 ———— Mortgage—Joint family property mortgage of share in by co parcer—Procedure for enforcement Where a member of a joint Mitakshara family represented to mortgagees of a portion of that property that he had the power to charge the property he was bound to make good his representation by exercising such proprietary right over it as he possessed by partition

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

Mohabber Per had v. Ranyad Singh 20 W R 192 12 B L R 90 followed. Madho Pershad v. Mehrban Singh 1 L R 18 Cal 157 Jaynara Prasad v. Ganga Prasad 1 L R 19 Cal 401 Bunwari Lal v. Daya Sanlar 13 C W N 815 referred to. Such mortgage so far as the specific shares of the mortgagors were concerned was void but the Court may direct that the joint property be held in specified shares and in such case the lien of the mortgage will be fixed to the share of the mortgagors thus specified. MAHA YATH PAM SUNDAR DAS v. NATHUNI SINGH (1909) 14 C W N 552

4 ———— Joint family business—Mitakshara—Agreement entered into with one member of the family—Such member competent to sue without joining other members Where a contract is entered into on behalf of a joint family business by a member of the family in his own name it is not necessary that any members of the joint family other than those who entered into the contract should be parties to the suit brought thereon. Gopal Das v. Badra Nath 1 L R 27 All 361 followed. Agacio v. Forbes 14 Moo P C 100 Bungtee Singh v. Soodist Lall 1 L R 7 Cal 739 and Hari Soudoo Kamot v. Mahadu Dal Gauda 1 L R 20 Bom 435 referred to. Shamrathi Singh v. Kushan Prasad 1 L R 29 All 311 distinguished. DEWRA PRASAD v. DAMODAR DAS (1909) 1 L R 37 All 183

5 ———— Mother's share on partition—Mitakshara—Joint Hindu family—Stridhan—Succession Held that according to the Mitakshara the share which the mother in a joint Hindu family obtains after the death of the father on partition of the joint family property between the mother and the sons becomes the mother's stridhan which devolves on her death upon her own heirs and not upon the heirs of her husband. Chhidda v. Nandai 1 L R 21 All 67 and Gambhir Singh v. Malreddhu All L J 613 followed. Shao Shankar v. Dasi Sahai 1 L R 25 All 468 distinguished. DEBI MANOAL PRASAD SINGH v. MAHADEO PRASAD SINGH (1909) 1 L R 32 All 253

6 ———— Grant by Government—Family joint before annexation of Oudh—Confiscation of and grant by Government to person who had been a member of joint family—Whether subject of grant is self-acquired or joint—Separation by one member effect of—Burden of proof Before the annexation of Oudh two estates Bohra and Sherpur (the latter being about one third of the two together) belonged to an undivided Hindu family consisting of three brothers. The estates were confiscated on the annexation of the province but shortly afterwards the Sherpur estate was granted by the Government to the eldest of the three brothers (the other two being minors) who was the head and manager of the family the grant being expressed to be by way of favour and award and not in consideration of proprietary right. In this appeal the appellants (plaintiffs) case in a suit for a half share of the self acquired property held by the eldest brother at his death whether it was two thirds or one third of Sherpur depended on whether the estate granted was the self acquired property of the grantee or the joint property of the three brothers. The appellants represented the second of the three brothers (who had separated himself in 1850 after a quarrel with his elder bro

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—co 11

In the taking a third share of the property and the respondent was the third brother. The Court of the Judicial Committee (reversing the decision of the Subordinate Judge) held on the evidence and circumstances of the case and the inferences to be drawn as to the intention of the Government in making the grant and from its terms and the conduct of the parties that the estate granted was the joint property of the three brothers up to the time when the second brother separated, that the other two brothers remained joint until the death of the eldest brother in 1864 when the respondent became entitled by survivorship to two-thirds of the property and that the appellant had also either failed to prove that the eldest brother died entitled to either two-thirds or one-third of the Sherpur estate as separate property. That court consequently dismissed the suit and the Judicial Committee on appeal affirmed that decision. 1 Khar Nath v. Jatan Singh (1910)

I L R 32 All 415

Sons' liabilities for father's debts—Mortgage—Suit for sale—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) s. 8.—Property sold in execution of decree for sale—Mortgage by mortgagee decree holder. In execution of a decree for sale upon a mortgage of joint family property executed by the head of a Hindu joint family certain property was brought to sale and purchased by the mortgagees. A member of the family (great grandson of the original mortgagor) sued the mortgagees for redemption upon the ground that the mortgagees at the date of the suit had been aware of his existence and had not impleaded him. Held that the plaintiff's suit would not lie on this ground alone and that his position was not affected by the fact that the mortgagees had himself purchased the mortgaged property. Devi Singh v. Jia Ram I L R 100 All 214 followed. Pam Prasad v. Mon Mohan I L R 50 All 206 distinguished. Lal Singh v. Pulandar Singh I L R 28 All 182 referred to. HALWANT SINGH v. AMAN SINGH (1910) I L R 33 All 7

8 ——— Joint family manager of.—For what purposes managing member may contract debts binding on co-parceners.—Family necessity.—Marriage of son a necessary purpose for which manager may bind joint family. The marriage of a member of the co-parcenary is a family purpose and where it is reasonably necessary on the part of a prudent manager to borrow money for such purpose the transaction will bind the co-parceners whether they are Sudras or belong to the twice born classes. Marriage is one of the necessary samkaras or religious rites in the case of Sudras as well as the twice born classes. The necessity which will justify an alienation by the manager is not to be understood in the sense of what is absolutely indispensable but what according to the notions of a Hindu family would be regarded as reasonable and proper. Gurindarazulu Narasimham v. Devara Bholla Venkata Narasaya I L R 7 Mad 906 dissented from. The ceremonies for the performance of which immovable properties can be alienated by the manager do not include only those for the mere performance of which forfeiture of caste is the penalty. KAMESWARA SASTRI v. KETRA CHARLU (1910) I L R 13 Mad 422

9 ——— Joint family property.—Mortgage by father alone.—Subsequent sale by father to a third party.—Suit by mortgagees for sale.—Compromise of redemption on usual life of mortgagor. The sale of a joint Hindu family mortgaged in 1831 property belonging to the joint family but neither for legal necessity nor to pay an antecedent debt. In 1888 the mortgagor sold the same property to a third person. The purchaser remained in possession for more than twelve years when the mortgagees instituted a suit for sale on their mortgage. Held by Richards C.J. and Baron J. that in view of the fact that the purchaser had acquired a title to the property by adverse possession as against all the members of the family it was open to him notwithstanding that his title was originally acquired from the mortgagor alone to set up as a defence the invalidity of the mortgage. Per Chatterjee J. that according to the ruling of the majority of the Full Bench in Chandra v. Mats Prasad I L R 31 All 166 the mortgage made by the father alone was void and this being so it was open to the purchaser who was in possession of the property to rely upon its invalidity whatever the weakness of his own title might be. Chandra v. Mats Prasad I L R 31 All 166 Balagund Dutt v. Narain Lal I L R 15 All 333 Brijnarain Lal v. Gopal Das III Weekly Notes (1908) 200 Kala Shankar v. Navab Singh I L R 31 All 507 and Diagarathi Misr v. Sheobhai I L R 20 All 30 referred to. MUHAMMAD MEZAMUL ULLAH v. MISTRI LAL (1911) I L R 33 All 783

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—co 11

10 ——— Mortgage by managing member.—Suit by other members for redemption.—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) s. 8.—Parties.—Pepre's native capacity of managing member. Although the manager of a joint Hindu family is not as a rule entitled to sue or liable to be sued on behalf of the family—Padmakar Vinayak Joshi v. Mahadev Krishna Joshi I L R 10 Bom 21 and Kashi Nath Chinnaji v. Chinnaji Sadashiv I L R 39 Bom 477—nevertheless in certain circumstances the whole family may be bound by the result of suits brought by or against the manager notwithstanding that some members of the family were not made parties thereto. Baluant Singh v. Aman Singh I L R 33 All 71 Debi Singh v. Jia Ram I L R 100 All 214 Sundar Lal v. Chhitar Mal 3 All L J 614 and All L J 17 Dhurm Dass Pandey v. Mussanant Shama Soondra Dibrak 3 Moo I 4 929 Hari Saran Moitra v. Bhuvaneshwari Debi I L R 16 Cal 40 Narayan Gop Habbu v. Pandurang Ganu I L R 5 Bom 684 Jogendra Deb Pooj. Kut v. Fumindro Deb Roy Kut 14 Moo I 4 367 Bussessur Lal Sahoo v. Maharajah Luckneshwar Singh L R 6 I A 233 5 C L R 477 Ram Krishna Narayan v. Vinayak Narayan 12 Bom L R 919 and Gan Savant Ba Savant v. Narayan Dhond Savant I L R 7 Bom 467 referred to. JADDO KUNWAR v. SHEO SINGH KARR RAM (1910) I L R 33 All 71

11 ——— Mortgage by father.—Sons not made parties to suit for sale on mortgage.—Sale under decree.—Suit by sons to redeem their interests. Where ancestral property belonging to a joint Hindu family has been sold in execution of a decree for sale on a mortgage executed by the father the sons cannot maintain a suit for redemption of their interests in the property sold upon the ground solely that they had not been made parties to the suit of the mortgagee nor is their position affected by the fact that the auction purchaser is the mortgagee. Debi Singh v. Jia Ram I L R 25 All 214 Lal Singh v. Pulandar Singh I L R

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

25 All 182 and Balwant Singh v Aman Singh, 1 L R 33 All 7 followed Ram Prasad v Man Mohan 1 L R 30 All 206 dissented from Ram Nath Rai v Lachman Pasi All Weekly Notes (1899) 27 referred to HEMJI SINGH v CHAVVA LAL (1911) 1 L R 33 All 436

12 ———— Alienation of family property—Right of subsequently born member of family to object—Held that a member of a joint Hindu family who was born after the alienation of the family property by another member of that family cannot question the validity of that alienation Chatturpal Singh v Naitha All Weekly Notes (1906) 26 followed Hurodos Varan Singh v Beer Varan Singh 11 W R 450 and Bunwara Lal v Daja Shankar, 13 C W 815 distinguished CHITTAI LAL v KALLU (1910)

1 L R 33 All 283

13 ———— Burden of proof—Nucleus—Presumption It is necessary to establish the existence of a nucleus of joint family property before the property in the possession of any one member can be presumed to be joint family property. There is no presumption that a Hindu family has any joint property Taruck Chunder Toladar v Jodhe ter Chunder Koodoo 19 B R C 178 dissented from Voohi Lali v Gokuldas Tulla 1 L P 8 Pon 154 Tookseydas Ludha v Premji Tricunda 1 L P 13 Pon 61 Dicarla Prasad v Jamna Das 10 Bom L R 133 followed Lal Bahadur v Kanhaiya Lal 1 L R 29 All 244 referred to RAM KISHAY Das v TUDVA (1911) 1 L R 33 All 677

14 ———— Legal necessity—Mitakshara—Joint Hindu family—Father committed to the Court of Sessions—Loan taken for his defence Held that the necessity of raising money to pay for the defence of the head of a joint Hindu family committed to the Court of Sessions on a serious criminal charge was a valid legal necessity such as would support a mortgage of the family property executed by the father and one of his sons for such purpose Thandradoo v Vata Prasad 1 L P 31 All 176 Luchman Koor v Mudarra Lall 5 S D 4 W P 3, and Dulcep Singh v Sree Kishoon Panjia 4 W P H C P p 53 referred to BEVI RAM v MAN SIRON (1911) 1 L R 34 All 4

15 ———— Money borrowed by father at a high rate of interest—Legal necessity—Burden of proof When money is borrowed by the father of a joint Hindu family on the security of the family property at a very high rate of interest it is for the lender so long to enforce his claim to prove not only that there was necessity for borrowing the money but also that there was necessity for borrowing it at an exorbitant rate of interest Chandricka v Mata Prasad 1 L P 31 All 176 Hurro Nath Pasi Chaudhuri v Ranhar Singh 1 L P 18 Calc 311 and Kame varan Pershad v Pun Bahadur Singh 1 L P 6 Calc 843 referred to NAND RAM v BRUTAL SIRON (1911)

1 L R 34 All 126

16 ———— Debt incurred by managing member of family—Presumption as to family benefit—Burden of proof There is no presumption that a debt contracted by the manager of a Hindu firm or family is contracted for the benefit of the firm or family and the plaintiff who seeks to bind the other members of the joint family will have to prove that it was a debt contracted for their benefit or with their consent,

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

or that there was an urgent family necessity therefor Sowru Padmanabh Rangappa v Naryan rao bin Vithalrao 1 L R 18 Bom 590 Sunlar Pershad v Coury Pershad 1 L R 5 Calc 321 Agendra Chandra Dey v Amar Chandra Kundu 7 C W 425 and Krishna Ramaya Nair v Vasudeo Venkatesh Pasi 1 L R 21 Bom 1808 referred to Sheo Pershad Singh v Satheb Lal 1 L R 20 Calc 403 distinguished GANPAT Rai v MURTI LAL (1911) 1 L R 34 All 135

17 ———— Purchase of mortgaged property by managing members—Suit for sale against managing members only—Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXXIV r 1 Where in a suit for sale on a mortgage the defendants mortgagees were the managing members of a joint Hindu family who in that capacity had purchased the mortgaged property it was held that the family was sufficiently represented by the managing members and that the suit would not fail by reason of the non joinder of the other members of the family HORI LAL v MUNIAM KUTWAR (1912) 1 L R 34 All 549

18 ———— Mortgage for the benefit of joint family—Suit for sale by managing member alone—Parties—Civil Procedure Code 1908 Order XXXIV r 1 Where in a suit for sale on a mortgage executed in favour of the manager of a joint Hindu family the plaintiff was the then managing member of the family it was held that he was entitled in that capacity to maintain the suit and that it would not fail by reason of the non joinder of the plaintiff's son, who was joint with him HORI Lal v Muniam Kutar 1 L R 34 All 549 referred to MAHAI LAL v KISHAY SIRON (1912) 1 L R 34 All 572

19 ———— Mortgage of property given to father and son—Subsequent purchase of portion of property by grandson who was separate in law and business out of his self acquisition—Adverse possession—Purchase as of remaining share by mortgagee at execution sale had by another creditor—Extinction of mortgagee's title Some time after a mortgage had been executed of immovable properties in favour of B and S father and son members of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara, a widow of the mortgagee sold such right and title if any as she had in half of the property of the mortgagee to B son of S who was joint with R and S at the time of the mortgage, but who prior to his purchase had ceased to be joint in food and business with S though there was no partition and having received a present of a considerable sum of money from his grand mother had been carrying on money lending business on his own account and had found the purchase money out of his separate self acquired property. B got possession after his purchase and continued in possession for considerably over 12 years. Held that the possession of the property by B was not that of a mortgagee but adverse to that of the mortgagee and the title of the mortgagee's representatives to redeem was lost by adverse possession. The remaining half share was sold in execution of a decree obtained by another creditor of the mortgagee in a suit brought against his representatives and purchased by S and passed by succession to B's heirs. Held that the plaintiffs who claimed through the mortgagee had failed to establish any title by way of redemption or otherwise to any interest in the mortgaged property and

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

His suit should be dismissed. LAKSHMI v SAIBED NICHAMMAD MUZAFFAR ALI KHAN (1912)

16 C W R 913

20 ——— Payment to one member of joint family effect of—Joint family—Right of manager of undivided family to sue on behalf of the family—Payment to one member of an undivided Hindu family or to one of several joint creditors will not operate as a payment to all the members or creditors if the payment is fraudulently made to one and not for the benefit of all. The manager of a joint family has as such manager the right to represent the family in suits. A suit by a manager on behalf of the joint family will be maintainable without making the other members parties to the suits. Kalyan Prasad v Ha. Na. a. S. a. J. C. W. R. 322 followed. SHRIK IRRAM THAPAGAN v LAMA ATAR (1912)

1 L R 35 Mad 685

21 ——— Partition—Mitakshara—Joint family property—Exclusion by joint father of co-partners—Exclusion of a member—Suit for partition—Limitation—Where plaintiff sued as a coparcener for partition of his share in joint family property and the defence was that the plaintiff's father was expelled from the family for misconduct and that his share in the family property was given to him in 1874 and it was proved that the plaintiff who in 1874 was a child and left the family with his father and mother reappeared in the village in 1890 on his father's death and was then recognised as a member of the family and was not excluded till within five or six years of the suit when there was exclusion from commonality but no partition of the family property. Held that the defence failed and the plaintiff's suit should succeed. JEOLAL MAHTON v LOKE NARAYAN MAHTON (1912)

16 C W R 466

22 ——— Rights to well and water—Indivisible rights—Presumption—Partition of property which is joint—Under Hindu Law rights to water and wells belonging to a joint family are indivisible if they are numerically unequal and after partition these must be enjoyed by the separated co-partners by turns. GOVIND ANNAJI v TRIMBAK GOVIND (1910)

1 L R 36 Bom 275

23 ——— Co-partnership—Presumption as to law governing family settling in province other than that of its origin—Transfer of the ancestral property—Liability of sons to pay the debts of their father—Conversion of some of the sons to Christianity—Effect of—Status—Limitation—Removal of Caste Disabilities Act (XXI of 1850). The plaintiffs and the defendants Nos. 5 to 7 and the husbands of the defendants Nos. 8 and 9 were the sons of one Amrita Lal Pandey whose father a Hindu governed by the Mitakshara law was originally a resident of Oudh but subsequently migrated to and settled in the district of Bankura where he acquired properties and continued to live jointly with his family. The defendants Nos. 1 to 4 were the transferees of the ancestral property which formed the subject matter of this suit. On the 19th March 1900 Amrita Lal Pandey executed a deed of conveyance, whereby he transferred his ancestral property to the defendants Nos. 1 to 4 in satisfaction of certain debts incurred by him in 1892 and 1893. He was joined in this conveyance by the defendants Nos. 5 to 7. On the 26th December 1900 Amrita Lal Pandey died leaving him surviving six sons, viz. the plaintiffs and the defendants Nos. 5 to 7 as also the widows of his two sons who had predeceased him in 1880 and 1893 respectively. Of the six sons, the plaintiffs Nos. 1 and 2 had been converted to Christianity in 1890 and 1896 respectively. The defendant No. 5 became a convert to the same faith in 1901 and the plaintiff No. 3 attained his majority in 1907. On the 19th March 1907 the plaintiffs filed their suit against the defendants Nos. 1 to 4 for a declaration of the plaintiffs' title to a three-seventh share of the ancestral property and for recovery of khas possession and mesne profits and made the defendants Nos. 5 to 9 pro forma defendants. Held that when the grandfather of the plaintiffs migrated from Oudh to Bengal the presumption was that he carried with him the laws and customs as to succession and family relations prevailing in the province from which he came. Such a presumption might however have been rebutted by proof that the family had adopted the law and usages of the place to which he had migrated. Held also that in 1890 by reason of his conversion to Christianity the first plaintiff ceased to be a member of the joint Hindu family but that thenceforward he continued to hold the ancestral property as joint owner and was entitled to recover possession of one-seventh share of the property on the basis that in 1890 upon the dissolution of the family he became entitled to such share. Jalbhais Ardeshir Shet v Louis Manori 1 L R 19 Bom 680 and Laing v Gonawales 1 L R 23 Bom 539 distinguished. Held further that the second plaintiff upon his conversion to Christianity in 1896 ceased to be a member of the joint family and was not bound by the conveyance of the 19th March 1900 but that he was liable to satisfy the debts of his father incurred and charged upon the ancestral property prior to the date of his conversion. Ram Prasad Singh v Lakhpati Koer 1 L R 30 Calc 731 Balabux v Rukhmabai 1 L R 30 Calc 775 and Balkishan Das v Ram Varan Saku 1 L R 30 Cal 739 distinguished. Held further that Amrita Lal Pandey was competent in 1900 to alienate the ancestral property in his hands not merely in respect of his own interest but also that of the third plaintiff KULADA PRAKASH PANDEY & MARIPADA CHATTERJEE (1912)

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

1 L R 40 Calc 407

24 ——— Allegation of separation in suit by some members for separate share—Expression of intention to hold share separately not proved—Right to mesne profits on separation—Exclusion from joint family allegation—Of non receipt of share of profits of joint property—Of voluntary residence not with joint family—Refusal of allowance as being inadequate. The appellant a member of a joint undivided Hindu family brought a suit in 1900 against the respondents the other members of the family alleging a separation by him in 1901 when he had expressed his intention to hold his share separately and claiming possession of his share with mesne profits. Held that what may amount to a separation or what conduct on the part of some of the members may lead to separation of a joint undivided Hindu family and convert a joint tenancy into a tenancy in common must depend on the facts of each case. A definite and unambiguous indication by one member of intention to separate himself and to enjoy his share in severalty may amount to separation but to have effect the intention must be unequivocal

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

and clearly expressed. Separation from commonalty does not as a necessary consequence effect a division (Raun Persad v Radha Beeby 1 Moo I A 137). A separation in me & worship may be due to various causes and yet the family may continue joint in estate. In this appeal it was held (affirming the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that on the evidence in and under the circumstances of the case and the conduct of the party alleging division of the family there had been no separation in 1901 and the appellant was consequently not entitled to mesne profits on that ground. He also claimed mesne profits on the ground of exclusion from the joint family as he had not since 1901 received any share of the profits of the joint property. Held that although he had not received any of the profits of the joint estate the evidence was clear that the appellant was offered an allowance from the profits of the joint property which he refused to accept as being inadequate and that would not amount to exclusion. SURAJ NARAYAN v IQBAL NARAIN (1912) I L R 35 All 80

25 — Father no power to revive time barred debt. Held that the father and manager of a joint Hindu family cannot legally revive a time barred debt and bind the family property to secure its payment. Chandra Deo v Mata Prasad I L R 31 All 176 and Indar Singh v Surja Singh 8 All L J 1009 followed. DALIP SINGH v KUNDAN LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 207

26 — Liability of sons in respect of a mortgage executed by father—Exemption of son's interests—Subsequent suit against the sons—What plaintiffs are entitled to recover. In 1892 a decree was passed on appeal for sale on a mortgage of joint family property against the father of the family. In 1896 the sons who were not made parties to the original suit obtained a decree exempting their shares in the family property. In 1897 the share of the father was sold and realized less than half the amount of the decree. In 1910 the mortgagees brought a suit against the sons to recover the balance of the mortgage debt after giving credit for the amount realized by sale in execution of the decree of 1892. Held that the suit was not barred, but that the plaintiffs could only recover the unsatisfied portion of the decree of 1892 together with future interest as allowed by that decree. They could not treat the suit as an ordinary mortgage suit merely giving credit for the amount realized under the decree of 1892 nor could they claim interest at the contractual rate on the unpaid amount of the decree. Lachman Das v Dalu All Weekly Notes (1910) 125 followed. Dharam Singh v Angan Lal I L R 21 All 301 and Pan Singh v Sobha Ram I L R 29 All 511 referred to. JAJESHAH RAI v ANRUT PATI (1913) I L R 35 All 302

27 — Execution of decree—Power of managing member to enter up satisfaction of decree on behalf of the family. Held that the managing member of a joint Hindu family can execute decrees on behalf of the family and can receive payment and give good receipts on behalf of the family which will be binding on the family. Hori Lal v Munman Kunwar I L R 31 All 519 followed. Ganga Dajal v Mami Pami I L R 31 All 16 distinguished. ACHHAIRAM SINGH v RAM SARUP SARDI (1913) I L R 35 All 390

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

28 — Compromise Mortgage—Suit for cancellation of mortgage executed by managing member—Compromise—Liability of sons. One K as head of a joint Hindu family executed in 1905 a usufructuary mortgage of the family property in which the widow of his deceased brother joined as a co mortgagor. In 1907 the mortgagees sued for cancellation of this deed but entered into a compromise with the mortgagee upon which a decree was passed maintaining the mortgage but in a modified form. The mortgagee thereafter instituted a suit for enforcement of the mortgage as settled by the compromise decree. Held that in view of the fact that the courts below found that the compromise was genuine and for the benefit of the family it was not open to the defendants to raise the question of the genuineness of the original mortgage and that whether or not the original mortgage was a genuine transaction the compromise decree gave rise to a debt which was binding on the descendants of the original mortgagor K. Madan Lal v Kishan Singh I L R 34 All 572 referred to. RAM KUBER PANDE v PAM DAS (1913) I L R 35 All 428

29 — Mortgage by two brothers of undivided shares each assenting—Partition—Entire mortgaged property falling to the share of one brother—Effect of partition on rights of mortgagee. Two brothers constituting a joint Hindu family jointly mortgaged in 1819 a ten biswa share in village Chauwar. In 1881 in substitution for this mortgage each brother mortgaged to the same mortgagee a five biswa undivided share in Chauwar and each brother also signed the mortgage executed by the other. In 1888 the family property was partitioned and the whole ten biswa of Chauwar fell to the share of one brother. Held on suit by the son of the mortgagee for sale that the plaintiff was entitled to bring to sale a five biswa share in Chauwar under the mortgage executed by the brother who had lost possession of the village and not merely to have recourse against such portion of the family property as he had taken in exchange therefor. Bygnath Lal v Pannoodeen Choudry L R 11 d 106 distinguished. SUNDAR LAL v BIRJI LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 543

30 — Presumptions as to property in the possession of. Property in the possession of a joint Hindu family should be presumed to be joint family property until the contrary is shown even though it may have been acquired in the name of a particular member of the family. The fact that property stands in the individual name of one or other member of a joint Hindu family does not of itself give rise to the presumption that it is the separate property of that member. Gurumurthi Reddi v Gurummal I L R 32 Mad 88 Shiv Gulam Singh v Baran Singh I B L R 161 and Taruck Chandra Totadar v Joodheshleer Chander Awoodoo 19 W P 178 referred to. Pam Kishan Das v Tunia Mal I L R 33 All 677 discussed. KUNDAN LAL v SHANKAR LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 564

31 — Mortgage—Guardian ad litem—Suit on mortgage executed by father prior to birth of son—Father appointed son's guardian ad litem. Held that inasmuch as an after born son cannot in a suit on a mortgage made by his father set up the defence of the immoral nature of the debt on account of which mortgage was executed it cannot be said that the appointment of the father

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

a guardian ad litem in such suit would be necessary prejudicial to the interests of the son NARAIN DAS v. HAR DAYAL (1913)

I L R 35 All 571

32 ——— Position of an infant member with regard to business contracts—Joinder of parties—Necessary parties to a suit on a business contract entered into by certain members of a joint Hindu family carrying on an ancestral business on behalf of all the members of the family. A trade-like other personal property is divisible amongst Hindus, but it does not follow that a Hindu infant who by birth or inheritance becomes entitled to an interest in a joint family business becomes at the same time a member of the trading corporation which carries on the business. Accordingly it is not necessary in the case of a Hindu family to join in a suit upon a business contract minor members of the family who in fact take no share in the business which is carried on on behalf of the family. Those who actually were the contracting parties with the defendant must in the case of a suit by members of a Hindu family all be joined but minor members of the family who take no part in the family business should not be joined in suing for business debts. LALJI KESRY v. LAL NARAY PRASAD (1912) I L R 37 Bom 340

33 ——— Co-owners treating near relations as joint owners of property—Title of gift without registered document. Transfer by way of gift is not under Hindu Law the only means of creating title apart from inheritance and succession. If the persons actually entitled to a property agree to treat a near relation as a co-sharer out of affection and abandon their claim to an exclusive right they may do so without a registered deed. Where therefore upon the death of a Hindu widow the actual reversionary heirs of her husband treated two other relations one degree lower in descent as co-sharers for a shorter period than that which would give them title by advancement. Held that the purchasers in execution of the interest of one of these persons became entitled by their purchase to the share which he had been enjoying jointly with the actual reversioners. CHITRA LAL MISRA v. CHANDRA LAL BHATT (1912) I L R 37 C W N 62

34 ——— Father's debt—Sons' liability to pay. Mitakshara—Proof of immoral habits of father. A sale of joint family property for a father's debt cannot under the Mitakshara school of Hindu Law be avoided by the sons merely proving that the father was a man of immoral habits. They must prove that the particular debt was incurred for an immoral purpose. SRI NARAYAN LAL AGRAWAL v. PATI (1913)*

17 C W N 124

35 ——— Fathers alienation—After-born son is precluded from questioning alienation—Mortgage is distinguishable from sale. It is well settled that where a Mitakshara father has made an alienation without necessity and without the consent of sons then living it would not only be invalid against them but also against any son born before they had ratified the transaction and no consent given by them after his birth would render it binding upon him. Hrodoot v. Beer Narayan II B I 48 Banwar Lal v. Daya Sunar 13 C B I 815 relied on. The rule applies with greater force in the case of a mortgage than in the case of an absolute alienation. Kissen

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

Prasad v. Tippan Prasad I I P 31 Cal 735 referred to. HAZARI MALL DABU v. ADANIVATH DHORJIA (1913) 17 C W N 280

36 ——— Joint or self-acquired property—Self-acquisition of co-partner thrown into common stock if may be disposed of by will—Consent of other co-partners if necessary. Where the head of a joint Mitakshara Hindu family kept one account of the income of his ancestral and self-acquired property and used to treat the income of both kinds of property as one amalgamated fund. Held that the property which had been acquired by him as his self-acquired property became the property of the joint family which he was not competent to dispose of by will without the consent of his co-partners. INDAR SAHAI v. SRILAL RAHADEP (1912)

17 C W N 509

37 ——— Father's mortgage of immovable property by—Mitakshara—Suit against sons—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec I Art 13. A suit to enforce a mortgage of ancestral property executed by a Mitakshara father against his sons is a suit to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property and is governed by Art 132 of Sec II of the Limitation Act of 1877. Maheshwar Dutt v. Kishan Singh I L P 31 Cal 181 II C II A 294 followed. Lachman v. Girilhar I L R 5 Cal 355 and Surya Prasad v. Golab Chand I L P 7 Cal 76 not followed. Bhagabat Prasad v. Saba Lal 7 C L J 195 referred to. Harso Narayan Rai v. Mohanoda Das Mittal (1913)

17 C W N 1022 & 1025

38 ——— Antecedent debt—Mortgage executed by father to complete purchase of immovable property at an execution sale but executed after expiry of time for paying in the balance of the price—Sons' nevertheless remaining with the purchaser. An auction purchaser of immovable property paid in the amount required by law as a preliminary deposit but being unable to find the remainder of the auction price borrowed it on the security of a mortgage comprising the property purchased at the auction sale and also some property of the joint family of which the auction purchaser was the head. This mortgage was however executed after the expiry of the time fixed by law for payment of the balance of the auction price. The executing Court refused to accept payment of the balance but the property remained with the purchaser apparently in virtue of some arrangements with the judgment debtor by whom ostensibly the decree was satisfied. Held in the circumstances above described that the mortgage was entitled to recover on his mortgage and that the sons of the mortgagor could not be heard to plead that the mortgage money was not borrowed to pay an antecedent debt within the meaning of the Hindu law. KAPILDEO v. THAPUR PRASAD (1913) I L R 36 All 17

39 ——— Sale of family property by managing member—For the benefit of the family—Sale binding on minor members of the family. The managing member of a joint Hindu family sold certain joint family property for the purpose of providing funds for the marriage of one of the female members of the family and partly of carrying on a shop in which the family was interested. Held that sale was valid and binding on the members of the family although the vendor

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

not in the circumstances of the case their natural guardian Hunoomanpersaud Panday v Munraj Koonveree 6 Moo 1 A 393 412 and Mohanund Mondul v Nafur Mondul 1 L P 26 Cal 870 referred to RAM CHAPAN v MINIV LAL (1914)

I L R 36 All 158

40 ——— Parties to suits on mortgages —Members of Joint Hindu family represented by managing members of the family—Suit by members not made parties to suit to redeem property still in execution of mortgage executed by managing members—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 85 In this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee affirmed the decision of the High Court in Jaddo Kunwar v Sheo Shankar Pam 1 L P 33 All 71 on the ground that the plaintiffs (appellants) who sued to redeem a mortgage after foreclosure on the plea that they had not been parties to the mortgage suit were properly and effectively represented in the suit by the managing members of the Hindu joint family of which the plaintiffs were also members and that in such a case the Court was not bound to set aside the execution proceedings where substantial Justice had been done merely because every existing member of the family was not formally a party to the suit Their Lordships saw no reason to dissent from the Indian decisions which showed that there were occasions including foreclosure actions when the managers of a Hindu joint family so effectively represented all the other members that the family as whole was bound and were of opinion that it was clear on the facts of this case and on the findings of the Court upon them that it was a case where that principle ought to be applied There was not the slightest ground for suggesting that the managers of the joint family did not act in every way in the interests of the family itself and no question arose under s 85 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) because the mortgagee had no notice of the plaintiff's interests SHEO SHANKAR RAM v JADDO KUNWAR (1914)

I L R 36 All 383

41 ——— Twice born caste—Debt—Marriage expenses of male member—Binding on the family Marriage is obligatory on Hindus who do not desire to adopt the life of a perpetual Brahmachari or of a Sanayasi and debt reasonably incurred for the marriage of a twice born Hindu male are binding on the joint family property Govindara ulu Narasimham v Devaru bholla Venkatanarasayya 1 L R 2 Mad 706 overruled Kameswara Sastri v Leerocharlu 1 L P 31 Mad 47 approved GOPALAKRISHNAM v VENKATANARASA (1914) I L R 37 Mad 273

42 ——— Alienation by managing member in part for necessity—Co parcener's suit to set it aside—Form of decree—Practice Where the managing member of a joint Hindu family contracting of himself and his nephew sold family property for consideration of which part was loaned to be binding on the family and the nephew sued to recover his share of the property from the alienee Held that according to equitable principles, in the absence of anything appearing to the contrary the whole of the consideration for the sale the valid as well as the invalid portion must be distributed over the whole of the property sold in proportion to the value of each part Marappa Gaudan v Pangasami Gaudan 1 L R 23 Mad 80 dissented from The proper decree in such a case is to decree to the plaintiff his share of the property sold after division by metes and bounds on condition that he pays to the defendant a proportionate share of the consideration found binding together with no profits from the day that he deposits the amount into Court and give notice thereof to the defendant VADIVELAM v NATTSAM (1914)

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

I L R 37 Mad 435

43 ——— Purchase from a co parcener Its effect on family co parcenary—Alienee not a tenant in common—One member becoming out caste excluded from the family—Limitation Act (IX of 1905) Art 142 When a co parcener alienates his share in certain specific family property the alienee does not acquire any interest in that property but only an equity to enforce his rights in a suit for partition and to have the property alienated set apart for the alienor's share if possible Hem Chunder Ghose v Thakso Mous Deb 1 I R 20 Cal 533 Amolak Ram v Chandan Singh 1 L R 21 All 483 Norayan bin Babaji v Vathoji Durgaji 1 L R 28 Bom 201 Pandurang v Bhasker 11 Bom H C P 72 and Udaram v Ranu 11 Bom H C P 76 approved The alienee cannot therefore sue for partition and allotment to him of his share of the property alienated Venkatarama v Utero Lobaj 1 L R 13 Mad 27a Palani Koman v Masakonan 1 L P 201 Mad 243 and Ramkishore Kedornath v Jannarayan Pamrachhpai 14 Mad L T 163 referred to Such an alienee has no right to possession and no status as a tenant in common, although he might have obtained possession of the property in execution of the decree against one of the co parceners Deendyal Lal v Jugdeep Narain Singh 1 L R 41 A 247 Suraj Buns Koer v Sheo Persad Singh 1 L R 5 Cole 148 Hords Narain Sahu v Ruder Perkash Misser 1 L R 10 Cal 676 followed When a co parcener became an out caste and was driven out of the family and did not enjoy family property for over 12 years it amounted to exclusion and the right to recover his share is barred Per BAKERWELL, J—The transferee only acquires an equity and it is only a right in personam and not a right in rem and the transferor remains a member of the co parcenary until partition is effected The question whether a general or partial partition will lie is not one relating to the law of procedure but must be decided according to the principles of Hindu Law Sultai Row v Avanthanaraja Aiyar 23 Mad L J 61 70 and Ibrahim Foulhan v Thevaranganadasami Aiyar 1 L R 31 Mad 769 at p 770 dissented from A purchaser of the interest of a co parcener must sue for a general partition of the entire family property Ibrahim Foulhan v Thevaranganadasami Aiyar 1 L R 31 Mad 69 71 applied When such purchaser fails to apply for amendment of his plaint after an issue is raised questioning the frame of the suit his suit is liable to be dismissed Sultai Row v Avanthanaraja Aiyar 23 Mad L J 61 70 referred to MANJAYA v SHANMOGA (1913) I L P 38 Mad 684

44 ——— Father's alienation—Son competent but not born at the date of the alienation Held that a Hindu son is competent to contest an alienation made by the father at a time when the son was in his mother's womb Sripatali v Somasunilam 1 L J 16 Mil 76 followed Mussa ul Coura Choudhrai v Chummin Chowdry 11 R Cap No 349 not followed Kahli,

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

vs v Krishna Chandra D — B L P 103 F
Harman Fumelantra v Pimathayya I L P
 2 P m 103 Vinay v Virappa I L P 8 Val
 9 referred to DEO NARAYAN CHETTY v CANOIA
 (1914) I L R 37 All 182

45 ——— Suit against father—Son a creditor of his father in execution proceedings. A creditor who has obtained a decree against the father of a joint Hindu family is entitled to put to sale the family property. The son who is interested is entitled to an opportunity of contesting both the factum and the nature of the debt and there is nothing in law to prevent him from coming into court in the execution department and preventing if possible on those two grounds the passing of his interest to the auction purchaser. If the points are decided against him the Court in execution can put the property to sale. Sham Lal v Coneshi Lal I L P 25 All 259 and Channu Tewari v Dwarika All L J 433 followed. Vanomi Libwasia v Jodhun Mohun I L P 13 Cal. I referred to. Per Piggott J—A creditor who at first made the sons of his debtor parties to a suit against the latter but subsequently withdrew the suit against them would be in no worse position as regards the execution of his decree than he would have occupied if the sons had been impleaded. NDAR PAL v THE IMPERIAL BANK (1914.)

I L R 37 All 114

46 ——— Liability of the joint family or contracts entered into by managing members. A joint Hindu family firm must be regarded like any other joint family asset if it in fact belongs to the joint family. If a business is carried on by the members of a joint Hindu family for the benefit of the entire family and there are members of the family who do not actively participate in the conduct of the business particularly if such business has been originally established to the detriment of the family property and handed down hereditarily then the resultant liability of all the members of the family would be referable to the notion of managership by one or more members for the benefit of the rest in the usual sense in which the relations of the manager and other members of the family have often been accepted and defined in all the Courts and the liability of those members of the family not actively engaged in the conduct of the business would probably be restricted to the share of each such member in the joint Hindu family property. In a case where one or more members of a joint Hindu family start a business of their own not at the expense of the joint Hindu family nor with the intention of sharing its profits and losses with the other member the position of the member so carrying on a joint family business and their liabilities to the other members have to be regulated to the extent to which the conduct of such a firm and the resulting profits fall within the legal notion of self-acquisition. JOHANMAL LADHOKRAM v CHETTANATH HARYANG (1914) I L R 39 Bom 715

47 ——— Alienation of a share of a member of a joint Hindu family—No right to alienate for mesne profits from the date of alienation till suit for partition. A purchaser of the undivided share of a member of a joint Hindu family does not thereby become a tenant in common with the other members and hence he is not entitled to any mesne profits in respect of his share for the period between the date of his purchase and the date of his suit for partition. Nanyaya Mudali v Shanmug Mudali 26 Mad L J 516 followed. The order dicta in Uyyagari Venkataramappa v Uyyagari Ramappa I L P 25 Mad 630 Chinnu Pillai v Kammuthu Chetti I L R 35 Mad 47 and Sulla Ion v Ananthakarama Iyyar 23 Mad L J 611 disapproved and not followed. MARAJA OF BOBBILI v VENKATARAMANJULU NAIK (1914) I L R 39 Mad 265

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

48 ——— Father's debts—Liability of son to pay—Mortgage by father not proved immoral—Decree against father and son in form of—Constitution proved—Lender is bound to prove application of money as stated in bond. If the consideration for the mortgage was received by the mortgagor the mortgage cannot be held inoperative merely because the mortgagee has failed to prove that the money was applied as stated in the mortgage bond. Kishun Pershad Choudhury v Tippan Pershad Singh I L P 31 Cal. 735 s.c. 11 C W N 613 followed. The mortgage being one executed by a Mitakshara father and the sons having failed to show that the loan was taken for immoral purpose a decree was passed in the form it was made in. Kishun Pershad v Tippan Pershad I L P 34 Cal. 735 s.c. 11 C W N 613 e.g. mortgage decree against the share of the father and if the sale of that share was insufficient to satisfy the debt interest and costs balance to be realised by sale of the sons' share and in the meantime the ancestral property is for as necessary—six months time being allowed for redemption. JAYSHANKAR PRAASAD v KANPERSHAD SING (1916) 20 C W N 508

49 ——— Partition suit for by one member—If neither effects separation. A member of a joint Hindu family becomes separated from the other members by the fact of suing them for partition. Suraj Narain v Iqbal Narain I L P 35 All 80 8 followed. SUNDARARAJAN v APUNYA CHALAM CHETTY (1915) I L R 39 Mad 159

50 ——— Father's debt—Son's liability to pay—Mortgage by Mitakshara father—Son though of age not a party to the deed—His liability—Moral obligation to pay father's debts not in current law for legal purposes—Legal proof of immoral purposes. Liability on the part of a son to pay a father's debts arises from moral and religious duty and obligation and this is so even though the debt is not in arrears for the benefit of the individual or for the estate. A son can only exempt himself from liability if he can establish that the father was guilty of applying the money for some immoral purpose. Although there need not be any direct proof that the money was raised to be spent on any particular person yet one must be reasonably satisfied that the father was a man of vicious, extravagant and lustful habits and that he raised the money for the purpose of applying it for the immoral purpose. In some way by reasonable legal proof it must be shown that there is a connection with the debt and the immoral purpose. Chituta Narayana Veludal v Kashinath I L P 14 Bom 30 and Dattatraya Narayana v Narayana I L R 36 Bom 68 referred to. To be liable on a mortgage executed by the father for a purpose not proved to be immoral it is not necessary for the adults sons to be parties to the bond. The case of Uppooroo Tewari v Lalla Bandhye Salay I L P 6 Cal. 719 seems to have been overruled if not distinctly qualified by the latter case. Laxo

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

time of loan—Liability of sons in suit to enforce mortgage—Antecedent debt—Burden of proof The exception relating to antecedent debts which covers the case of a mortgage or sale by the father of a joint family governed by the Mitakshara law being an exception from a general and sound principle that if a debt contracted by the father is not for the benefit of the joint family estate he should have no power either of mortgage or sale of the estate to meet such debt, is one which should not be extended and should be very carefully guarded. A loan made to the father on the occasion of a grant by him of a mortgage on the family estate is not an antecedent debt to hold otherwise would be to extend unduly and improperly the wide scope of the exception provided by the Mitakshara law. The decision of the majority of a Full Bench in the case of Chandraseo Singh v Mata Prasad I L R 31 All 16 approved. The statement of the law in Varma Laburn v Motilal Mohan I L R 13 Ck 21 35 L R 131 4 1 18 by Lord HUNNOR as to the establishment by the Courts in India of the principle that the sons cannot set up their rights against their father's alienation of an antecedent debt or against his creditors remedies for their debts if not tainted with immorality does not give any countenance to the idea that the joint family estate can be effectively sold or charged in such manner as to bind the issue of the father except where the sale or charge has been made in order to discharge an obligation not only antecedently incurred but incurred wholly apart from the ownership of the joint estate or the security afforded or supposed to be available by the joint estate. The exception applied only to the case where the father's debts have been incurred in respect of the credit obtainable from immovable assets which did not personally belong to him but were joint family property. If it were extended further the exception would be made so wide as in effect to extinguish the sound and wholesome principle that no manager, guardian, or trustee can be entitled for his own purposes to dispose of the estate which is under his charge. To permit him to do so would enable him to sacrifice those rights which he was bound to conserve. This would be equivalent to sanctioning a plain, and it might be a deliberate breach of trust. The Mitakshara law does not warrant or legalize any such transaction. The limits of the exception thus set forth from a guide to the settlement of the conflict of authority in India on the subject of antecedent debt. In their Lordships' opinion the mortgage in suit was not granted in respect of an antecedent debt and was invalid. Chandraseo Singh v Mata Prasad I L R 31 All 176 189 196 per Sir JOHN STANLEY C J referred to SAHU PAM CHANDRA V BRUNYON (1917) I L R 39 All 437

56 ———— Blending accounts of self-acquired and joint property—Mutual exchanges on death partition of joint property for self-acquired property—Deeds of gift of joint ancestral property set aside Three brothers were members of a Mitakshara joint family. D being the managing member and guardian of K who was a minor. The family property consisted partly of joint property and partly of property which came to them from the estate of a deceased brother. Only one account book was kept for the joint share of the latter property and that system of book keeping which began in October 1818 was continued till

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

February 1880 when A came of age. No separate book was thereafter kept by or for D in respect of the property which had come to them from their brother's estate but there was one account for all D's receipts from all sources whether it was income from the joint family property or from that which had been acquired from the brother's estate or any other sort of revenue and similarly for all his expenditure of whatsoever kind. Further on a death partition that is an actual partition of the several properties constituting their estates mutual exchanges were made whereby D gave up his share in some ancestral family property for the share of K in the property acquired from the brother's estate. In a suit by D a son and grandsons (the appellants) after the death of D to set aside deeds of gift made by D in favour of the respondent on the ground that they had been made out of the joint ancestral property and were therefore invalid. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the property coming from the brother's estate to the members of the family as collateral heirs was self-acquired property that by blending that property with the joint property in the accounts and by the mutual exchanges made on the partition D had thrown it into the common stock and thereby converted it into ancestral family estate. All the properties purporting to be conveyed to the respondents by the deeds of gift were joint family properties over which D had no power of disposition and the appellants were entitled to recover them. Suraj Varma v Lalan Lal I L R 40 Ill 159 L P 44 1 4 101 followed RADHAKANT LAL v VARMA BEGUM (1917) I L R 45 Cal 733

57 ———— Gains obtained by member's individual effort There is no authority in the Mitakshara for the contention that the gains made personally and without the aid of the joint funds by a member of a joint family who received an ordinary education suitable to his position as a member of the family to which he belonged should in law be regarded as partible and not as his self-acquired property. The author of the Mitakshara must have been writing of education—learning—such as he knew it to be and when he laid down that the gains obtained by one of the members of a joint family from an education received at the family expense should be partible he could not have intended that such gains should include gains which were the result not of the education received at the expense of the joint family but of the peculiar skill, mental abilities and individual effort in applying and improving such education exercised by the member who had been so educated. The question of whether a member of a joint family carried on his business personally for his own personal benefit without detriment to the joint family funds or carried on such business as a member of the joint family for the benefit of the joint family is a question of fact to be determined on the evidence. MEETHARAN PAMRAKHOMAL v PEWACHAND PAMRAKHOMAL (1917) I L R 45 Cal 666

58 ———— Impartible zemindari—Right of junior member of family to maintenance—Custom of impartibility—No co-parcenary in impartible estate—Exceptions are subjects of special texts in Mitakshara—Custom or usage brought so repeatedly before the Courts as to be recognized as becoming law without necessity of proof In the absence of special custom the grandsons of a deceased zemindar are not entitled to maintenance out of the impartible estate in the hands of his uncle or. This follows from the fact that in an impartible zemindari there is no co-parcenary. Dattji Kaur v Droom Kaur 1 L J 10 All 1. L P 101 4 10 and Len Lait Surya Malipati Pina Krishna Rao v Court of Wards 1 L P 101 503 L P 161 4 10 followed Buttoo v Manoladas 1 L P 29 P 31 38 approved. The view taken in the Madras Courts prior to the case above cited that there was joint property in an impartible zemindari which only fell short of co-parcenary because by or from there was no right to partition is no longer tenable. The right of sons to maintenance in an impartible zemindari had been so often recognized that it is not necessary in each case to prove a custom. There are other persons entitled to maintenance either by reason of their exclusion from the succession owing to personal disqualification or by reason of personal relationship to one of the line of zemindars. In the latter class does not include grand sons. Parladada Mahadkara Prasad Nayudu v Taraladada Durga Prasad Nayudu 1 L P 101 504 157 (105) L J 101 4 151 15 and Nilmora Singh Deo v Nizam Lal Singh Deo 1 L P 305 356 659 approved. In the present case no special custom had been proved or even alleged and the claim was not based on personal relationship. PANA PAO v RAJAN or PITTARER (1915)

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—co id

I L R 41 Mad 773

59 ——— Partition in ignorance of rights by the widows of the family—Cit by one widow with the consent of the widow of the late male holder—Suit by the widow to recover gift or breach of condition—Subsequent suit by her to recover partition of the property gifted away—The gift was set aside by the court as void for repudiation on the ground of fraud—The Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s. 1 Art. 141 142 143—Three brothers A, P and U constituted a joint Hindu family. U married V and P and died in the year 1885. Each of the brothers left a widow. The widows of A and P married W the widow of U to make a partition of the entire property although each widow was entitled of her own right to one third. This having been done in the year 1890, the widow of V acting as the agent of A and with her consent made a gift of the property in suit to the defendant. The widow of U was also joined in that gift. In 1901 U brought a suit to recover property gifted away alleging that she had consented to and approved of the gift upon certain conditions which were not complied with by the donee. The defendants resisted the suit on the ground that they were not interested in that they had received the property from the widow of A and held it as freehold to A and to any estate she represented. The suit was dismissed as barred by limitation. In 1911 U died and a suit was instituted by the plaintiff for her daughter as her reversioner of the estate of her father U. A question arose when her estate was claimed by the plaintiff. Held that the suit was not barred by the limitation act and that the plaintiff was entitled to her share of the property in that suit was not a bar to the present suit as the plaintiff was not a party to the gift and moreover the ground of U's claim in that suit had no connection with the plaintiff's claim. The plaintiff also claimed not only her share but in her own right as the reversioner of her father M. Lakshmi Bai v The Panch of Shrivajunagar 9 W 1 4 539 discussed. During the continuance of a widow's life estate adverse possession which begins in and runs its course before that life estate terminates, will be no bar to reversioners. Nor will litigation by the widow in the enjoyment of such a life estate whether she be plaintiff or defendant represent the estate fully so as to give rise to a bar of res judicata against reversioners if such litigation is qualified and personal to the widow or has arisen out of acts of her own affecting the estate during her own life estate therein. STREET v RAMKRISHNA BHATT (1917)

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—con'd

I L R 42 Bom 69

60 ——— Blending accounts by managing member joint funds and of his own self-acquired property in same account book—Entries in such book evidence of intention to make—Acquired property joint—Purchases made in name of son in law out of funds so blended to provide for son in law—Statement to that effect made by managing member of a joint family—His own interest—Proven—Decd—111 Procedure Code (1882)

317 With respect to a Hindu joint family the law is that while it is possible that a member of the joint family can make separate acquisitions, and keep monies and property so acquired as his separate property yet the question whether he has done so is to be judged by all the circumstances of the case. Where a member of a joint Hindu family at Lucknow who had made considerable savings from his earnings as a pleader at Hardwar where he was entrusted with the management of the joint family property at that place eventually became managing member of the joint family at Lucknow kept the accounts of the joint property and of his own separate earnings in one account book and had purchased property in the name of his son in law out of the sums entered in the account book. Held that by so blending his private savings with receipts and payments on joint account he showed an intention to make them joint property and therefore to be presumed to be joint. But it did not follow that all purchases entered in the book were made for the joint family. As regards the purchases in the name of his son in law his statement that they were made to provide for the son in law was a statement against his own interest and therefore was admissible in evidence. Such a statement together with the other evidence in the case was sufficient to give the son in law a title to the subject of such purchases as against the claim of the joint family. DEEPA NARAYAN v PANDA LAL (1917)

I L R. 40 All 159

61 ——— Liability of grandsons to discharge debts of grandfather as a matter of pious obligation. The head of a joint Hindu family consisting of himself, two sons and three grandsons, executed a mortgage of a portion of the family property for Rs. 5000. Some three years later he sold the mortgaged property to the mortgagees for Rs. 15000. Rs. 2000 being the amount of the mortgage and Rs. 13000 being paid in cash. As regards the consideration for the mortgage there was no evidence that any more than Rs. 1000 could be said to have been borrowed to pay an antecedent debt when the rules of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Siva Pura Chandra v Pura 1 L J 1 4 1 1 L J 1 37 40. After the death of the grandfather their father being a joint heir the grandson used to set aside the sale so far as their shares in the property were concerned. Held that they were entitled to get the sale set aside on repayment of the sum of Rs. 1000 above mentioned with interest. But they were not liable to refund that part of the consideration which was paid in cash, inasmuch as so long as their fathers were alive the pious duty to pay the debts of their grandfather did not devolve upon them. PAM SINGH v CHET PAM (1919) 1 L R 41 All 529

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

62. ——— Father debts—Father debt—Existence of joint family property—Whether sons interested in it—Auction sale of two only of the joint family properties—Suit by son for partial partition of properties sold at auction—Such a suit not including all the family properties—Whether bad in law. The plaintiff was the son of defendant No. 5. They constituted an undivided Hindu family. Defendants Nos. 6 and 7 obtained a money decree against the 5th defendant and in execution of the decree the defendants No. 1 to 4 became purchasers at the Court sale of two of the properties belonging to the joint family. The plaintiff a minor thereupon brought a suit against his father (defendant No. 5) and the decree holders as well as the auction purchasers for a declaration that the plaintiff's half share in the two properties did not pass to the auction purchasers and for possession of his half share on equitable partition. The lower Court decreed the plaintiff's claim. On appeal to the High Court it was contended (i) that the son's interest in the property did pass at the Court sale and (ii) that the suit for a partial partition of the family properties was bad. Held that the son's interest did not pass to the purchasers at the Court sale. Timmappa v Varentha Timappa 1 L R 30 Bom 631 followed. Held also that when a coparcener was suing an auction purchaser it was not a valid objection to the suit that the coparcener claimed only a partial partition. Subbaranaya Chetty v Palumanabha Chetty 1 L R 17 Mad 267 and Jais Charan v Jyulhia Pro at 1 L R 98 All 50 followed. Held further that the auction purchasers should be allowed to file a suit against the plaintiff for a general partition of the entire family properties. Devidyal Lal v Jugde p Narain Singh 1 L R 41 A 1 and Baloo Hind v Narain Salu 1 Indul B 100 Indor Perks & Me r L J 111 A 20 followed. HANMADAS PADMAYAL v VALAHDAS (1918) 1 L R 43 Bom 17

62(a) ——— Sale—To pay off an antecedent debt of her father a daughter of a separate Hindu sold a house which had been the property of her father in his life time and had been previously mortgaged by her and her mother jointly as security for the same debt. The debt at the time of the sale amounted to Rs. 7775 and the house was sold for Rs. 19,000. It was found that the house was not one that had been divided and sold piecemeal. Held that the reverend of the last male owner was not in the circumstances entitled to recover the house from the vendeees. BAL KRISHNA DASS v HIRA LAL 1 L R 41 All 338

63 ——— Division in status of members of a family—Payment by each of some portion of family properties—Whether exclusion in law as to other portions. Where a member of a Hindu family who is divided in status from other as in

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

enjoyment of some portion of the family property while others enjoy other portions he is not in law excluded or ousted from those other portions so as to disentitle him to his share of those portions however long their enjoyment by others. 1st Ishnu Ramachandra v Ganesh 1 L R 21 Bom 375 not followed. Lakshman Dada Nalk v Pamachandra Dada Nalk 1 L R 5 Bom 48 followed. KUMARAPPA CHETTIAR v SAHINATHA CHETTIAR (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 431

64 ——— Trading family Loan by manager—Onus as to binding nature of loan—Account books not produced—Resumption against party—Onus of proof in cases of joint family business. Where the members of a devastanam committee sued the members of a Hindu joint trading family to recover a debt borrowed from the plaintiffs by the managing member of the family and the defendants failed to produce their account books though summoned by the plaintiffs. Held that assuming that the onus of proving the binding nature of the debt lay on the plaintiffs even in the case of a trade carried on as joint family business it was shifted to the defendants on account of the presumption arising against them by their omission to produce their accounts called for by the plaintiffs a presumption which arises against them whether the plaintiffs have any evidence or not. Murugesam Pillai v Manickavasala Desika Gnana Sambanda Pandara Sanadhi 1 L R 40 Mad 50 applied. Quere Whether in a joint trading family the onus of proof as to the nature of the debt is not on the family. Paghnathji Tarachand v The Bank of Bombay 1 L R 4 Dom 72 referred to. GURU SWAMI NADAR v GOTALASANI ODAYAR (1919) 1 L R 42 Mad 629

65 ——— Karta—If can start new business so as to make minor member liable—Karta as certificated guardian powers of—Minor receiving benefit of such business and not repudiating on being major liability of—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s. 27—Contract Act (IX of 1890) ss. 217, 248. The powers of the karta of a joint Hindu family in respect of a trade started after the death of the ancestor are not the same as those in respect of a trade started by the ancestor and carried on after his death by the karta and the minor members of the family are not liable for the debts incurred by the karta in respect of such business. A karta of a joint Hindu family who chooses to apply under Act VIII of 1890 for appointment as a guardian of a minor and is so appointed comes under the control of the Court and can no longer exercise the powers of a karta. A certificated guardian cannot start a new trade for the benefit of his ward at any rate without the sanction of the Court. S. 27 of the Act deals with the power of a guardian with respect to the property of a minor of which he assumes charge and it cannot be said that the starting of a new trade is reasonable and proper for the benefit of the property within the meaning of the section. As to the liability of a minor who received properties acquired from the funds of such business on partition with the other members of the family and did not repudiate the act of the guardian on being major. Held that s. 217 of the Contract Act provides that a minor may be admitted to the benefit of a partnership and though he cannot be made personally liable for obligation of the firm the share of such minor in the property of the firm is liable for the obligations of the firm. The liability under s 247 does not depend on the powers of the larta or guardian but on the question whether the minor was admitted to the benefits of the partnership and his liability is limited to his share of the properties. The liability under s 248 depends upon the fact of his not having repudiated the partnership on attaining the age of majority. The question of the minor's personal responsibility depends on his having retained the properties with the knowledge that it was on account of the new business and not the ancestral one and in the absence of a finding on this point it was inequitable to hold that the minor made himself personally liable for all the obligations of the firm merely because on attaining majority he retained some property acquired out of it. APRISH NADHAR BAYERJI v SANTASI CHARAN NANDAL (1919) 23 C W N 500

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

66 ——— Separation of one member only — The rest of the family remaining joint — Partition. The filing of a suit by a member of a joint Hindu family in which the plaintiff declares that he wishes for partition and specifies his share amounts to a separation. But from this it does not follow that where, without any suit one member of a family separates himself from the others and relinquishes his rights in the family estate taking either no share in the family estate or perhaps a less share of a greater share the surviving members cannot remain united. Where such a separation of one member of a joint family takes place it is not the necessary result in law that the other members must be taken to have separated inter se and then to have reunited. Balabhai v Rukhmabai I L P 39 Cal 225 and Kawol Das v Parbhu Lal I L R 41 I 4 109 I L P 38 All 496 distinguished. PARSOTAM DAS v JAGAN NATH (1919) I L R 41 All 381

67 ——— Father's Debt — Uttakshara — Joint Hindu family — Money borrowed by father at high rate of interest — Legal necessity — Burden of proof — Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 16. When money is borrowed by the father of a joint Hindu family on the security of the family property at a very high rate of interest it is for the lender seeking to enforce his claim to prove not only that there was necessity for borrowing the money but that there was necessity for borrowing it at an exorbitant rate of interest. Vani Prasad v Bhupal Singh I L R 35 All 196 Cysr Pro d Tecarr v Lum Plal Mair 13 4 L J 16 and Pragbhunath Singh v Natar Begam 19 Indan Cas 639 followed. The argument that a Court has no power to reduce the contract rate of interest otherwise than in cases which fall within the provisions of s 16 of the Contract Act applies to cases where the parties to the suit are the parties to the contract. Bhixmi Sahu v Kopal Jandor (1919) I L R 41 All 523

68 ——— Legal necessity — Uttakshara — Joint Hindu family — Money borrowed by manager at high rate of interest — Burden of proof. When money is borrowed by the manager of a joint Hindu family on the security of the family property at a very high rate of interest it is for the lender seeking to enforce his claim to prove not only that there was necessity for borrowing the money but also that there was necessity for borrowing it at an exorbitant rate of interest.

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

Failing such proof as regards the rate of interest it is competent to the Court to reduce the rate. Natar Begam v Rno Raghunath Singh I L R 41 All 571 Hurro Nath Pasi Choudhri v Pandhi Singh I L P 18 Cal 311 I L R 18 I 4 1 and Vand Pam v Bhupal Singh I L P 34 All 196 referred to. RAM KHELAWAN KASATUDHAR v RAM NARESH SINGH (1919) I L R 41 All 609

69 ——— Antecedent debt — Mortgage of joint family property — Liability of sons — Family necessity — Burden of proof — Disputed mortgage executed to pay off earlier mortgages. The joint ancestral estate of a Hindu family cannot be effectively sold or charged in such a manner as to bind the issue of the father except where the sale or charge has been made in order to discharge an obligation not only antecedently incurred, but incurred wholly apart from the ownership of the joint estate or the security afforded or supposed to be available by such joint estate. Hence where it was sought by the sons to invalidate a decree for sale obtained by the mortgagee upon a mortgage of joint family property executed by the father and it appeared that the mortgage in question had been executed to pay off two earlier mortgages of joint family property also executed by the father it was held that it was for the defendant mortgagee to show that these earlier mortgages fell within the exception recognized by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the case of Sahu Pam Chandra v Bhup Singh I L P 39 All 4. BRIS NARAY PARI v MANOAL PRASAD (1915)

I L R 41 All 235

70 ——— Legal necessity — The father of a joint family mortgaged some of the joint property. He then died having two sons. Then one of the sons died leaving 2 sons. Their uncle then sold the property as managing member. The purchasers brought a suit for redemption. Held that it was not open to mortgagee in that suit to set up a defence that there was no legal necessity for the sale. DUTTA PRASAD v PHAJAN

I L R 43 All 50

70(a) ——— Father's Simple Money Debt — [Sons not liable during father's life time]. The pious obligation of a Hindu son to pay his father's debts can only be enforced after the death of the father.

Hence where on a promissory note executed by the father a simple money decree was obtained against him and in execution thereof a part of the family property was attached and the sons brought a suit for a declaration that their shares in the property were not liable to satisfy the decree against their father who was alive it was held that the sons were entitled to the declaration sought. Saka Pam Chandra v Bhup Singh I L P 39 All 43. I L P 44 I 4 126 and Lharath Singh v Prag Singh 43 Indian Cas 291 referred to. SHEDAR SINGH v BHAGWAN SINGH I L P 43 All 496

71 ——— Mortgage by Father — Representation in proceedings — When a Hindu father or the head of a joint family conveying of himself or minor on executed a mortgage of the entire ancestral estate in order to secure a loan for the purpose of procuring the property being sold for arrears of Government Revenue and the mortgagee obtained a decree on the mortgage without making the son (who was still a minor) a party to the suit and purchased the property in execution of that decree. Held that the son

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—cont'd

was not entitled to rely on whether the mortgagor had no interest in the property or not. In such a suit the interest of the son is sufficiently represented by the father unless it can be shown he was omitted to the mortgage suit for the purpose of defeating his right to redeem. RAGHU NATHAN SINGH v. PERUMTHUR DATTA SINGH 2 Pat L J 306

71 ——— Partnership—Manager entering into partnership with a firm—Joint family not necessary to support a partner. Other members of a joint Hindu family must not be treated as a partner or as a facto partner in any partnership into which a member of the family or even the manager of the joint family may see fit to enter. Ganapappa v. Venkatarajah 1 L R 41 Mad. 41 and Pannanthan v. Peltia 1 Leggala Jellly 30 M L J 231 referred to. Varun Das v. Palla Brothers 31 Indian Com. 43 doubted. HNATIDAR HAPPA COMPANY LIMITED v. DAYA HAN 1 L R 43 All 116

72 ——— Will by a father bequeathing some family properties for maintenance of his wife. A will made by a Hindu father who is joint with his infant son, bequeathing certain family properties to his widow for her maintenance is invalid and inoperative as against the son although it would have been a proper provision if made by the father during his lifetime. Fatra Charar v. Narasimha Charar (1911) 1 L R 40 Mad. 1199 and Audulamma v. Narasimha Charar (1905) 1 M L J 525 disapproved. SCBARAMI PEDDI v. PANAMMA (1900) 1 L R 43 Mad. 824

73 ——— Charge created by one member—Whether it binds the family property—Whether share of member born subsequently to creation of charge is bound. A member of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara cannot deal with his share in the property of the joint family so as to create a charge which will survive him. Held further that a suit by the holder of the bond to enforce his security against the sons of the surety (the having died and the principal debtor having defaulted) was governed by Art 120 of the Limitation Act 1908 and not by Art 137. Jyala Iyasud v. MAHARAJAH RAOJAH UNAYATH SARI DEO 1 Pat L J 497

74 ——— Money borrowed by manager—Duty of lender. A person who lends money to the manager of a joint Hindu family is bound to satisfy himself by enquiry honestly made that the advance is required by the manager as borrower for a valid family necessity and for the benefit of the estate. It is for him to show that the borrowing was the act of a prudent manager or that enquiry into the prudence of the act was made. It is not enough merely to show that the manager stated that the money was required for certain specified purposes. MANDIL DAS v. MEGH NARAIN DUBEY 1 Pat L J 39

75 ——— Primogeniture—Partition suit by younger sons compromised—Presumption from the fact that the younger sons have in various contested suits invariably failed to establish that they were entitled to a share by partition and that in each case they compromised their claim by accepting a mere grant by way of maintenance

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—cont'd

is some evidence of the right of the eldest son to take the entire property by primogeniture. CHOTDHARY BALVADRU SAMANT SINGH v. DUMRA DHAR I O R 1 Pat L J 509

75(a) ——— Manager's contract—A contract entered into by the manager of a Hindu joint family can be specifically enforced even though some of the members of the joint family were minors. HARI CHARAN KILAR v. KANILA RAI 2 Pat L J 513

76 ——— Loan to make good Relatives misappropriation—Held that a loan by a father to enable a relative to replace some misappropriations was binding on the sons. BEVARAS BAIK v. JAGDIR NARAYAN PANDEY 6 Pat L J 198

77 ——— Separation though property not divided by metes and bounds—Profits divided in specific share—Suit by one Member for joint possession on the extent of his specific share. Although a member of a joint Hindu family may not so long as the family remains joint be able to say what his share in the joint family property is, the situation is altered as soon as the family separates though the property is not actually divided by metes and bounds. In such a case there is nothing to prevent a member of the family whose share in the family property has been defined from suing the other members for joint possession of it. BNZODIA KUPPI v. BALKRISHN KERRI 1 L R 43 All 193

78 ——— Suit by son for a declaration that sales by his father shall not affect his rights as a coparcener—Whether decree should be made conditional on plaintiff refunding his share of the purchase money to the vendee. Plaintiff the son of a Hindu sued for a declaration that three sales of joint family property effected by his father should not affect his (plaintiff's) rights as a coparcener. The lower Courts decreed plaintiff's claim. The defendants vendees presented a second appeal to the High Court and urged that the decree should be made conditional on plaintiff refunding to the vendees his share of the purchase money. Held that it would be opposed to principles to observe in the majority of the rulings cited to make the decree conditional on plaintiff refunding his share in the purchase money. Koer Haqmat Rai v. Sundar Das (1 L R 1 Cal 396) not followed. RAMAN MADHO PAM 1 L R 2 Lah 335

79 ——— Kasta position of if that of Trustee in strict sense—Misapplication of money by—Adoption by Sudra—Partition—Dattaka Chandrika authority of. The manager of a joint Hindu family is not in the exact position of a trustee in England. In the absence of proof of direct misappropriation he is liable to account for which he receives not what he ought to have received had the money been profitably dealt with. The rule of Dattaka Chandrika that on a partition of joint family property of a Sudra family an adopted son is entitled to share equally with the legitimate son born to the adopted father subsequently is applicable in Vadras Karuturi Gopalan v. Karuturi Venkataraghavalu 1 L R 40 Mad. 632 overruled. ANANATHA PERIARU & ORS v. ARUMILLI SUBBARAYUDU & ORS 26 C W N 1

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

80 ————— Mortgages executed by father—Antecedent debt—Civil Procedure Code 1908 order XXI, rule 66—Sale proclamation not mentioning existence of decree holder's mortgage—Whether mortgage enforceable against auction purchaser—Floppe The father of a joint Hindu family first borrowed Rs 500 on a promissory note. It was stated in the note that the money was borrowed in order that it might form part of a mortgage thereafter to be executed. He then having borrowed some more money from the mortgagee executed a mortgage of the joint family property for Rs 1000. There was no satisfactory evidence that any of the money purporting to be secured by this mortgage was borrowed for family necessities or that any part of the debt was incurred apart from the ownership of the joint estate or the security afforded or supposed to be available by such joint estate. Subsequently the mortgagor borrowed more money on promissory notes and executed a second mortgage for Rs 5000 consolidating all the previous debts. Held on suit by the mortgagee for sale on the basis of the second mortgage that it was not proved that any of the money purporting to be secured by this mortgage was an antecedent debt within the meaning of the ruling in Sahu Ram Chandra v. Lhup Singh 1 L R 39 All 437. Held also that where the plaintiff mortgagees who also held a simple money decree against the mortgagor applied for the sale of certain property of the judgment debtor expressly mentioning that it was subject to their mortgage but for some reason, unconcerned with any action or statement of the plaintiff, the mortgage was not notified in the sale proclamation the plaintiffs were not thereby precluded from subsequently enforcing their mortgage against the auction purchasers. Pati Harup v. Bharat Singh

I L R 43 All 703

81 ————— Partition—In a joint Hindu family consisting of five brothers two of the brothers sold their shares to the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued for partition of his two-fifth share in the family property and for three years' mesne profits. Both the lower courts decreed partition and allowed the plaintiff Rs 63 for past profits. The defendants having objected to the part of the decree awarding past mesne profits. Held that the past mesne profits were wrongly awarded. Tiruvar Ganesha v. Pandurao Ghatge (1920)

I L R 44 Bom 621

82 ————— Moneydecree against father whether enforceable against co-parcenary of property—Onus probandi—Bond executed by a major in settlement of previous bonds executed by him during minority—Whether a promise without consideration—Ind an Contract Act 1 of 1872 section 2a (2) A P and his minor son R P. The present plaintiff constituted a joint Hindu family. On 4th August 1914 A R having attained majority entered into 2 bonds for Rs 1000 in settlement of 6 earlier bonds executed by him and his mother while he was a minor. On the 3rd May 1917 the defendant B obtained a simple money decree on the basis of the two bonds for Rs 1000 and in execution thereof attached certain houses of A P which were joint family property. Objections were made by R P and when the case was filed praying for a declaration that the property in question was not liable to attachment and sale in execution of the decree against A P. The lower Appellate Court held that plaintiff had failed to prove that the debt was incurred for an illegal or immoral purpose and that the question of illegality of the debt by reason of the fact that the original bonds had been executed by A P while he was a minor was immaterial, as A R had ratified them after attaining majority by executing fresh bonds. Held by the High Court (1) that a money decree against a Hindu father for a debt which was neither illegal nor immoral whether incurred for family purposes or not may be enforced in his life time by the execution sale of the entire co-parcenary property and is binding on the sons and (2) that in order to absolve a Hindu son from liability for his father's debts it is not enough to prove that the father was a man of extravagant and vicious habits but there must be some definite connection established between the debt and the expenditure. Held also that having regard to the provisions of clause (2) of a 2a of the Indian Contract Act the bonds of 4th August 1914 executed by A R could not be held to be promises without consideration as although a promise by an infant is in law a mere nullity and void it is otherwise where the agreement is made by a person of full age to compensate a promisee who has already voluntarily done something for the promisor even at a time when the promisor was a minor and unable to contract. Karam Chand v. Musamat Hasant Kaur [(3) I R 1011] and Musammatt Fundan Bibi v. Sree Arogya (11 Cal W N 133) followed. Held further that the onus of proving that the debt was non-existent or illegal and that he was in consequence relieved from his joint obligations to discharge it was clearly upon the plaintiff the son and he having failed to discharge it the joint property was liable. Ataayyan v. Ponnusami (1 L R 16 Mad 99) followed. RAM RATNA v. BISANT PAI

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—contd

I L R 3 Lah 263

83 ————— Alienation of occupancy rights by father whether binding on minor sons—Central Provinces Tenancy Act (1 of 1898) s 46 (1)—Occupancy right acquisition of by joint family—An alienation by the father of a Hindu joint family of his interest in an occupancy holding appertaining to the ancestral property of the family is not binding on a minor except in those cases in which an alienation of the family property would ordinarily bind the son. An occupancy right may be acquired by an individual a firm a body corporate or a joint family. SUKTU MALI v. SRI BHANUPAL BALBHADRA MAHAPATRA

4 Pat L J 354

83(a) ————— Necessity is not the sole test for validity of an alienation by a manager of a joint family. The mere fact that members of a family have enjoyed the benefit of property purchased does not amount to assent nor is the question as to whether they have benefited so specially within the knowledge of the family as to shift the onus of proof. Pati Bilas Singh v. RANJAN SINGH

5 Pat L J 623

84 ————— Mortgage by one Member—Horoscope—A mortgage by an individual member of a Mitakshara family of the whole or share of the family property where no necessity or antecedent debt proved is void and gives mortgagee

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—could

no right even against the undivided share of the individual. When however there has been actual partition or attachment of the individual's share it may become available for the mortgage debt. A mortgage drawn up by a person since deceased is admissible to prove the age of the person therein mentioned but is not conclusive proof. ANAR DAYAL SINGH v. HAR LAL HAR SART

5 Pat L J 605

85 ——— Partition—A suit for partition under Hindu law was filed in 1909. At the actual division of the property the lower court allowed the plaintiffs their share of the income profit of certain family land cultivated by the defendant manager personally for the years 1900 to 1909. The defendant having raised objection to this part of the decree. Held upholding the defendant's objection that he was not liable to account for the mere profits of the joint family lands. A manager of a joint Hindu family is not obliged to keep accounts while the family remains joint and when a partition is asked for partition takes place of the property as it exists in the hands of the manager. Under Hindu Law as far as the joint family is concerned it is considered as one unit until the moment comes for division and then each party gets his actual share. In the meantime if there are any expenses which should properly be incurred by the joint family property the expenses are taken out of the family property and they cannot be debited to a particular coparcener. CHARTRAM v. CHITRAM IADHA ET AL (1909)

I L R 44 Bom 170

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILY

1 ——— Alienation by father—During minority of son—Suit by son for cancellation of sale—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 136. A Hindu who at the time had a minor son sold certain joint property in 1897. The sale was set aside and part of the property was subsequently transferred by one of the coparceners. The vendor's son attained majority in 1899. More than three years after 1899 three sons were born to him and in 1913 the father and the sons sued for cancellation of the sale deed of 1891. Held that the suit was barred by limitation inasmuch as the title of the son of the original vendor became barred in 1898. The property ceased to be joint family property and the subsequently born grand sons were not in a position to dispute the sale. LACHMI NARAIN v. HIRAN KISHOR CHAND (1913)

I L R 38 All 128

2 ——— Self acquisition property—In name of coparcener's son—Test source of purchase money. Where there is a dispute whether a property standing in the name of a junior member of a Hindu family is his self acquisition the criterion is from what source the money comes with which the purchase money is paid. Dharm Das Pandey v. Shama Soondra Dinkar 3 Moo I A 299 Gopi Krish Govain v. Gungapersaud Govain 6 Moo I A 53 followed Where there was no evidence that the son in whose name the property was purchased had any separate fund or that the properties in dispute were purchased with money belonging to him. Held that the presumption was clear and decisive that the property was acquired by the father in the name of the son and it was not the latter's self acquired property.

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

—contd—

PARNATI DAS v. PAJA BAKUNTHA NATH DEY (1913)

18 C W N 428

3 ——— Gift by Karta—Statement of son under 1—Evidence Act (I of 1859) s 3 sub 1 (2)—Civil Procedure Code (XII of 1859) s 317. Where the Karta of a Mitakshara joint family has habitually mixed his professional earnings in account with receipts from the joint property and the circumstances are such that purchases by him in the name of him self or his brother are to be regarded as joint family property. It is still competent to him to make a gift out of his earnings, though they have been brought into the account. A statement made by the Karta who deceased in a former suit that he bought property as a provision for his son in law is admissible evidence under s 3 sub 1 (3) of the Evidence Act 1859, as a statement made against his interest and coupled with other evidence of intention defeats a claim that properties bought in the name of his son in law were bought beneficially for the joint family. With regard to property bought at sales in execution and as to which the son in law was the certified purchaser the claim by the joint family was held to be barred by s 317 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1859. SHARAD KARAN v. RATAN LAL (1917)

I L R 44 I A 201

I L R 40 All 150

4 ——— Mortgage by Karta—Mortgage of the joint family property of a Mitakshara family by the Karta unless necessary or an antecedent debt is proved is void the transaction itself gives to the mortgagee no rights against the Karta's interest in the joint family property. Malho Javalal v. Meharan Singh 1 P 171 (1911) Appeal Mal Jivar Persad v. Janyal Singh 12 H L 80 (1911) Appeal NARAIN PRASAD v. BARNAM SINGH (1917)

I L R 44 I A 163

I L R 39 All 600

5 ——— Sale of entire property by one coparcener—Sale operates only upon the coparcener's share in the property—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 136. A Hindu who at the time had a minor son sold certain joint property in 1897. The sale was set aside and part of the property was subsequently transferred by one of the coparceners. The vendor's son attained majority in 1899. More than three years after 1899 three sons were born to him and in 1913 the father and the sons sued for cancellation of the sale deed of 1891. Held that the suit was barred by limitation inasmuch as the title of the son of the original vendor became barred in 1898. The property ceased to be joint family property and the subsequently born grand sons were not in a position to dispute the sale. LACHMI NARAIN v. HIRAN KISHOR CHAND (1913)

I L R 38 All 128

6 ——— Co-shares—Minor revelation—Suit for recovery of possession by an adult—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch I Art 121. Where a Hindu plaintiff within 3 years of attaining majority sued to recover possession of a two annas share in an alleged joint family property claiming through his mother and grandfather. Held that the first thing the plaintiff had to decide was whether the property was joint and whether the plaintiff's mother had been in possession as a co sharer Art 141 of the Limitation Act would apply only if the plaintiff's mother was dispossessed in that case the plaintiff as the reversioner would have, 12 years from the date of the death of his mother and the question whether the suit was brought within 3 years of his attaining majority would then arise. If the property as stated was a joint property it would be a case between co sharers and in such a case it must be shown that there was exclusion or ouster of the plaintiff's grand father or mother more than 12 years before the suit. In order to establish adverse possession by one tenant in common against his co tenants there must be exclusion or ouster and the possession subsequent to that must be for the statutory period.

I L R 43 Bom 472

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY—contd

What is sufficient evidence of exclusion must depend upon the circumstances of each case. Mere non participation in rents and profits would not necessarily of itself amount to an adverse possession but such non participation or non possession may in the circumstances of a particular case amount to an adverse possession. In regard must be had to all the circumstances and a most important element is the length of time. Ayenuwa Bibi v Sheikh Isuf 16 C W N 549 followed. GOVINDA CHANDRA BHATTACHARJEE v UPENDRA CHANDRA BHATTACHARJEE (1919) I L R 47 Cal 274

7 ———— Antecedent debts binding on the sons—Debts must be antecedent to the transaction—Joint family property—Alienation of his share for consideration by a co parcener. The defendant's father passed a mortgage of ancestral property to plaintiff's father for Rs 1400 out of which Rs 700 were due by the mortgagor to the mortgagee and the sum of Rs 700 was received in cash by the former to pay off debts which he owed to others. The mortgagee having sued to recover the mortgage amount the defendants contended that the debt not having been an antecedent debt of their father they were not bound under Hindu law to pay it. Held that the defendants were liable to pay the mortgage debt contracted by their father inasmuch as the object of the mortgage was to pay off the antecedent debts created by him prior to the mortgage. There is nothing in the judgment of Sahu Ramchandra v Bhup Singh (1917) L R 44 I A 126 which supports the contention that the antecedent debts must be due to the mortgagee himself and that the object of the alienation must be to satisfy the antecedent debts due to the alienor. In the Bombay Presidency the rule is well established that a co parcener can alienate his share in the joint family property for consideration. PANDURANG NARAYAN v BHAGWANDAS ATMARAMSHET (1919)

1 L R 44 Bom 341
8 ———— Contract for sale of his interest by a co parcener—Death of before completion of the sale—Suit for specific performance against sons—Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877) s 27 cl (c) and illustration. One B and his three sons jointly owned one anna share in a Khoti village. B agreed to sell his three pie share to the plaintiff. Before the sale could be completed B died and a suit for specific performance was brought against his sons. Held that the plaintiff could enforce the contract for sale of B's interest by a suit for specific performance against B's sons. The second illustration to cl (c) of s 27 of the Specific Relief Act applies to the case of all joint tenants where

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY—contd

other members of a joint Hindu family or not. BHAGWAN BHAI v KRISHNAJI JANOJI (1920)

I L R 44 Bom 967
9 ———— Sale by managing member—Of family of property subject to a mortgage executed by his father since deceased—Suit by purchaser for redemption—Mortgagee not competent to set up manager's alleged incapacity to sell. The father of a joint Hindu family mortgaged some of the joint family property. He then died leaving two sons. Subsequently one of the sons died and the family then consisted of the surviving brother and his nephews sons of the deceased brother. The uncle then as managing member sold the mortgaged property and the purchasers of it brought a suit for redemption of the mortgage. Held that it was not open to the mortgagee in that suit to set up as a defence that there was no legal necessity for the sale and therefore the uncle was not competent to convey a good title to the plaintiff. Durga Prasad v Bhagay I L R 42 All 50

10 ———— Sale of ancestral property under decree on promissory note executed by father—Sale of ancestral property by Civil Court instead of by Collector. The holder of a decree in a suit on a promissory note executed by the father of a joint Hindu family caused the ancestral property of the family to be sold. The sons sued to have the sale set aside as to two thirds of the property upon the ground that the debt in respect of which the note in suit had been given was tainted with immorality. This however they failed to prove. Held that the sale was valid. Sripat Singh Dugar v Pradyot Kumar Tagore I L R 44 Cal 321 followed. Held also that the fact that a sale of ancestral property has been conducted by a Civil Court when it ought to have been conducted by the Collector does not render the sale invalid. Behari Singh v Mukat Singh I L R 21 All 273 referred to. Fatmat ul Kubra v Achchi Begam I L R 36 All 33 distinguished. DALIR NARAY SINGH v PARNAGOTI BIRI

I L R 42 All 53
11 ———— Right of residence—Unmarried sister's right—Decree against mother of last male owner on her personal debt—Sale of house in execution—Auction purchaser's right to oust unmarried sisters in possession—Right of residence of other females against purchasers. An auction purchaser of an ancestral house, sold in execution of a money decree passed on a personal debt of the mother who inherited the property as heir to her son, is not entitled to oust the unmarried sisters of the latter who reside in the house. P. BURIYANARA YANA RAO NAIDU v P. BALASUBRAMANIAM MUDALI (1920) I L R 43 Mad 635

12 ———— Loan by Manager to meet expenses of criminal charge—Liability of family property hypothecated for. The Manager of a Hindu joint family is not entitled to spend the family funds in his own defence to a criminal charge nor is he entitled to hypothecate the family property in order to raise money to meet the expenses of such a defence except upon the ground of consent of the members of the joint family or upon the ground that from the circumstances it could be inferred that the other members of the family had consented. NATHU PAI v DINDAYAL RAI 2 Pat L J 168

13 ———— Mortgage by father—Right of minor son to redeem. Where a Hindu father the

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY— continued

Lead of a joint family consisting of him self and his minor son executed a mortgage of the entire ancestral property in order to secure a loan for the purpose of preventing the property from being sold for arrears of Government revenue and the mortgagees obtained a decree on the mortgage without making the son (who was still a minor when the suit was instituted) a party to the suit and purchased the property in execution of that decree. It is held that the son was not entitled to redeem whether the mortgagees had notice of his interest or not. In such a case the interest of the son is sufficiently represented by his father unless it can be shown that he was omitted from the mortgage suit for the purpose of defeating his right to redeem. PAGHURANDAN SINGH v. JAGESHWAR DAYAL SINGH 2 Pat L J 366

14 ——— Agreement to sell family property—Specific performance whether can be granted when some of the members of the family are minors. A contract entered into by the manager of a Hindu joint family can be specifically enforced even though some of the members of the joint family were minors at the time when the contract was entered into. Where a person entered into an agreement for the purchase of certain land of a part of which he was in actual possession as mortgagee held in the circumstances of the case that possession did not amount to constructive notice to a subsequent purchaser of the contract for sale between the vendor and the mortgagee. HARI CHANDAN LAL v. PATTI PAI 2 Pat L J 513

15 ——— Mistake as to father's debt for legitimate family purpose not repaid owing to recklessness of father—Entire coparcenary interest of father under decree obtained against father personally—Security bond executed to get stay of execution of such decree is enforceable against entire property—Self-acquired property of Mitakshara father devised by will of ancestral property in the hands of the son—Permission of District Judge sanctioning loan for family purpose law for affords protection to creditor—Tonkhas granted by the Mohorays of Lucknow of assignation of a Hindu governed by the Mitakshara law devised his properties which were self-acquired by a Will whereby he provided that each of his sons was to live in joint mess with his brothers up to the age of twenty five when the share of each would fully belong to him in title after vesting absolutely in his sons and grandsons etc. During the minority of his brothers J the eldest son of B borrowed from his brothers represented by the guardian a sum of money with the permission of the District Judge for purchasing a residential house. Subsequently a decree was obtained against J for the money and in order to get a stay of the execution of the decree in terms of the order of the High Court J executed a security bond charging his properties including his share of Tonkhas granted by the Maharaja of Burdwan. Held (per RICHARDSON J. SHAMSUL HUDA J. dubitante) That the money was lent and borrowed for a legitimate family purpose and the decree could be executed against the entire coparcenary interest in the property. Held (per CLARKE J.)—That if the order of the District Judge was not conclusive to show that the money was required for a legitimate family purpose it at least entitled the lenders to the consideration due to bond fide creditors. They were not affected directly or indirectly by the antecedent or subsequent mis-

HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY— continued

management of his estate by J. That when the creditor lends his money on a representation made by the father that the course which he proposes to take is a course not unreasonable or irrational in itself as calculated in the circumstances to promote the interests of his family the creditor ought not to suffer because owing to the subsequent misconduct of the father things in fact turn out badly. That the decision of the Judicial Committee in Sahu Ram Chandra's case L R 44 I A 166 and C. I. C. W. N. 698 (1917) does not prevent a creditor levying execution on the family property to satisfy a decree for money against the father personally. That the decree against J being for an antecedent debt not incurred for an illegal or immoral purpose there was nothing to prevent the security bond from being enforced against the whole coparcenary interest. That it is open to a Mitakshara father to devise self-acquired property to a son so that it will be ancestral in the hands of the son. That the testator intended each of his sons to take his share as ancestral property and the properties in the present case must be regarded as ancestral properties in the hands of J. That Tonkhas are heritable allowances in the nature of property and therefore assignable. LALA MUKTI PRKASH NANDE v. SHRIDATTI ISWARI DEVI DEVI I L R 33 All 64

16 ——— Money decree against father if can be executed against the entire joint property—Antecedent debt meaning of. The decision of the Privy Council in Sahu Ram Chandra's case L R 44 I A 126 and C. I. C. W. N. 698 (1917) has not overruled the long line of cases according to which a creditor who has obtained a personal decree for money against a Mitakshara father is entitled to levy execution against the entirety of the joint family property. Antecedent debt does not mean a debt incurred by the father before the birth of a son. MADHU SUDAN DAS MOHANT v. ISWARI DEVI DEVI 24 C W N 949

17 ——— Family arrangement Arrange ment between widow and daughters and daughters sons to divide the property widow claiming absolute title—Pughis in doubt—Sole surviving daughter on death of her sisters if can recover property alienated by another daughter. A Hindu died leaving a widow and three daughters some of whom had sons. The widow claiming absolute title to certain properties which the evidence pointed to as belonging to her entered into an arrangement with her daughters and grandsons for dividing up the properties between them in absolute right and one of the daughters conveyed one item of property which fell to her share to a predecessor of the Defendant. The Plaintiff another daughter after the death of her other sisters sued to recover this property. Held that the Plaintiff who was a party to the arrangement made to divide the property at a time when the rights of the widow and the daughters were in doubt could not be allowed to repudiate the same and to impeach a sale made on the faith of it. MUSAMMAT HARDEI v. BHAGWAN SINGH 24 C W N 105

18 ——— Mortgage to meet criminal charge—Whether binding on sons. The sons of a Hindu are liable on a mortgage executed by their father the latter of the family to meet the expenses of defending himself against a charge which might be offered Held further that in order to justify legal necessity it must be shown that the expense could not have been met from the income of the property in the widow's hands and that they were reasonable Held lastly that payment of full value for the property did not of itself justify a sale by a Hindu widow in the absence of legal necessity PANANSHWAR PRASAD SINGH v CHANDI PRASAD SINGH

HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY—contd

I L R 38 Cal 721

Duty of lender to make inquiries Where a mortgagee advanced money on a mortgage of joint Hindu family property the ostensible reason for the loan being to pay for certain zamindari property which the family was purchasing and it was found that the purchase of the zamindari was beneficial to the family and that the mortgagee when he advanced the money had made such inquiries as he could and believed that the money was in fact required for the purpose aforesaid it was held that the fact that unknown to the mortgagee the purchase money for the zamindari property had already been paid from some other source would not invalidate the mortgage Hunoomanpersaud Pandey v Musunmat Baboojee Moonray Koonverree 6 Moo 1 A 393 referred to TULA RAM v TULSI RAM

I L R 42 All 559

Joint family—loan by member of one branch whether binding in the whole family Where a Hindu joint family consisted of two branches and a member of one of such branches borrowed money on a mortgage for the purpose of the family held that the presumption was that such member had authority to borrow the money for the joint family necessity and that the mortgage was therefore binding on the joint family INDER CHAND v BIDYADHAR PANDAY

5 Pat L J 745

liability of son and grand sons—agreement to maintain son in law whether binds ancestral property Where a Hindu agrees to make an allowance to his son in law for the latter a maintenance the sons and grand sons of the grantor are liable to discharge the debt out of the ancestral property which devolves on them MADHUSUDAN PRASAD SINGH v RAMJI DAS

5 Pat L J 516

Under Hindu Law the illegitimate daughter of a Sudra succeeds to her mother in the absence of a nearer heir DUR DAPPA v BHIMAWA

I L R 45 Bom 559

Held that there is a presumption in favour of marriage and against concubinage but such presumption may be rebutted INDAP SINGH v THAKAR SINGH

I L R 2 Lah 207

HINDU LAW—LEPROSY

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 38 Mad 250

Development of leprosy not a disqualification as regards capacity to deal with property There is no principle of Hindu Law under which a person who contracts the disease of leprosy is thereby disqualified from dealing with his own property or from dealing with joint family property so as to bind his sons provided the alienation is made for legal necessity MAN SANKH v MUSAMMAT GAINI (1917)

I L R 40 All 77

HINDU LAW—LIMITED OWNER

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

An alienation by way of compromise entered into between a limited owner and persons who had no bonafide claim to the property at the time of the compromise is not binding on Reversioners ANUP NARAYAN SINGH v MADARIE PRASAD SINGH

3 Pat L J 83

HINDU LAW MAINTENANCE

1—Wife's maintenance—Maintenance allowed by will of husband to wife—Uncertainty of wife after husband's death—Maintenance not affect 1—Widow—Unchastity—Starving maintenance A Hindu widow was entitled to maintenance at the rate of Rs 24 a year under her husband's will. After the husband's death the widow led for some time an unchaste life and gave birth to a child but since then she remained chaste. She sued to recover maintenance allowed to her under her husband's will. It was contended in reply that the plaintiff on account of the unchaste life which she had led for some time after her husband's death, had forfeited her right even to bare or starving maintenance. Held negating the contentions that though the annuity was granted by the will as maintenance that word could not be understood as imposing any condition or restriction so as to cut down or extinguish the right to Rs 24 a year given by the will. The rule that the will of a Hindu must be construed with due regard to Hindu habits and notions applies only where there is ambiguity. Caution must be used in applying that rule and it must be adopted only where a suggested construction of doubtful language leads to manifest absurdity or hardship. The general rule to be gathered from the texts is that a Hindu wife cannot be absolutely abandoned by her husband. If she is living an unchaste life he is bound to keep her in the house under restraint and provide her with food and raiment just sufficient to support life. She is not entitled to any other right. If, however, she repents, returns to purity and performs expiatory rights she becomes entitled to all conjugal and social right unless her adultery was with a man of a lower caste in which case after expiation she can claim no more than bare maintenance and residence. Honamma v Timannabhat 1 L R 1 Bom 503 Yalu v Ganga 1 L R 7 Bom 84 and Tishan Shambhog v Manjamma 1 L R 9 Bom 103 discussed PARAMI v MAHADEVI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 278

2—Gharjama: if may claim maintenance—Separate maintenance when may be allowed—Implied agreement to maintain son in law—Pleading and proof difference between 1) fatal—Express contract set up and circumstances stated and only implied contract proved—Cross objections if may be received out of time—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXI r 2—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 5 Where a plaintiff claimed maintenance as a gharjama stating the circumstances under which the claim arose and also set up an express contract the Court below while disbelieving the story of express contract gave a decree on the ground of implied contract inferred from facts proved. Held that there was no such variance between pleading and proof as to contravene the rule that the plaintiff shall not succeed on a case not made in his plaint. The institution of

HINDU LAW MAINTENANCE—contd

gharman is of recent origin and may have owed its origin to the system of Lutika putra and the mere fact that there is no provision in the texts of Hindu Law relating thereto does not imply that the gharman is not entitled to maintenance. Although an ante nuptial agreement on the part of the husband not to remove his wife from her father's house may not be enforceable as opposed to the rules of Hindu Law and to public policy if the son in law is willing to abide by the arrangement there is nothing in Hindu Law or in public policy to render an agreement on the part of the father in law to maintain him unenforceable. See Smile. A gharman may be included in the term poor dependent declared by Manu to be entitled to maintenance. Held that in the circumstances of the case where it was evident that an order directing the son in law to reside as a member of the mother in law's family might lead to constant disputes and prove a source of unhappiness to all parties the Court properly decreed separate maintenance to the son in law. GOVIND LAL DAS v. LADHA BALLABH DAS (1910)

15 C W N 205

3 ———— Of widow in undivided family —Enforceable against the whole family and not only against the branch to which the husband belonged. Where a member of an undivided family comprising several branches die his widow's rights to maintenance is enforceable against the whole family and not only against the branch to which her husband belonged and which took by survivorship his undivided share. A suit for partition subsequent to the widow's suit for maintenance will not affect her right as aforesaid. EVNARA TALU CHETTI v. KAMALAVALLIYARANAMA (1911)

I L R 35 Mad 147

4 ———— Of Widow's right of Possession by widow of other property yielding income—Right to get maintenance from husband's estate. The fact that a Hindu widow is able to maintain herself out of other property is no ground for not giving her some maintenance out of her husband's estate. But it is a factor to be taken into account in determining the quantum of maintenance to be decreed her. The right of a widow of a coparcener in a Hindu family to maintenance is an absolute right due to her membership in the family and does not depend on any necessity arising from her want of other means to support herself. Pamavali Koor v. Manjilari Koor 4 C L J 73 dissented from LINGAYYA v. KANAKAMMA (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 153

5 ———— Of Daughter in law—If left entitled to be maintained in the absence of ancestral property—Rules of Hindu Law when binding on Courts—Rule of equity, justice and good conscience. A Hindu is under no legal obligation to maintain his widowed daughter in law when he has no ancestral assets in his hands. The rules on Hindu Law are binding on the Court only where it is necessary to decide any question regarding succession, inheritance, marriage or caste or any religious usage or institution. Where maintenance is claimed against a person not on the ground that the property coming by inheritance to him is burdened with the maintenance of the person claiming it but on the ground that the Hindu Law gives her placed such a duty on him the Hindu Law as such has no obligatory force and the Court would have to decide the question in accordance with equity, justice and good conscience. Though the rules and precepts of Hindu Law govern might often be entitled to great respect in deciding the rule of justice in such cases the weight due to them would depend upon the circumstances of each case including the conditions of modern society and the conceptions of equity and justice which the Court considers it right to give effect to. See Smile. There may be special circumstances which may make it equitable and just in a particular case to uphold the claim for maintenance in the absence of ancestral property. Ahetramani Das v. Kashinath Das 2 B L R (1 C J) 15 applied Rangammal v. Eechammal 2 L J 22 Vol 304 explained MEENAKSHI AXMAL v. RAMA AYAR (1914)

HINDU LAW MAINTENANCE—contd

I L R 37 Mad 396

6 ———— Impartible zamindari—Maintenance of junior members—Basis of the right—Coparcenary right or community of interest by birth not the basis—Relationship to holder of the zamindari necessary—Provision for maintenance—Agreement with junior member construction of—Adoption by amindar—Subsequent bequest of zamindari—Suit for maintenance against legatee—Denial of relationship with legatee—Suit not maintainable. The plaintiff's father was adopted by the zamindar of Pittapur who died in 1800 leaving a will bequeathing all his properties including the zamindari which is an impartible estate to the defendant who claimed also to be the natural son of the testator. The late zamindar had entered into an agreement with the plaintiff's father in 1882 whereby he agreed to pay him Rs 1500 a month and a lump sum of Rs 6000 a year. The will confirmed that arrangement. The plaintiff's father sued to recover the zamindari from the defendant denying that the latter was the natural son of the late zamindar and also impugning the validity of the will. The suit was finally dismissed by the Privy Council on the ground that the will was valid. The plaintiff brought the present suit to recover maintenance from the defendant from 1902 when he ceased to be maintained by his father. The plaintiff did not admit that the defendant was the natural son of the late zamindar or that he and the defendant were members of an undivided family. The defendant contended that a junior member of the family of the holder of an impartible zamindari was not entitled to claim maintenance from the holder and that the suit was not maintainable by reason of the agreement with plaintiff's father and the will of the late zamindar and on the ground that the plaintiff did not claim any maintenance as a member of the defendant's family. Held that the arrangement made by the late zamindar with the plaintiff's father was not a provision for the maintenance of the latter and all his descendants, and did not operate to bar the plaintiff's claim. A junior member of the family of the holder of an impartible zamindari is entitled to maintenance only on account of his relationship to the holder and not on account of any coparcenary interest in the property or community of interest therein acquired by birth. Held (on the facts of the case) that as the plaintiff did not advance any claim based on relationship but refused to admit any relationship with the defendant his claim for maintenance could not be sustained. That as there was no community of interest in the property it was not burdened with his claims in the hands of the

HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

ful use of the injunction and the postponement of the wedding. Held that under the circumstances of the case the maternal uncle was competent to enter into a contract of marriage on behalf of the girl and a suit for damages lay. Ka. Lari v. Chiranjilal 1 I L R 35 All 26, referred to KASTURI v. IANNA LAL (1916)

I L R 38 All 520

7 ——— Marriage between a Telugu Sudra and his wife's sister's daughter legal. The marriage of a Hindu with his wife's sister's daughter is valid as well among Sudras as among Brahmans as among the Telugus of the north as among the Tamils of the south. RAMA KRISHNA ROW v. SUBRAMA ROW (1906)

I L R 43 Mad 030

8 ——— Kanets Sudras—Legitimacy of son by wife of another man who is alive at the time. Res Judicata—previous decision by Mandi Court not binding with the question of legitimacy of plaintiff or his claim of succession under Hindu Law—whether conclusive adjudication on the matter of plaintiff's legitimacy under Hindu Law. Plaintiff claimed his half share in property left by his father U S in British India. He had previously made a similar claim in regard to his father's property in the Mandi State and this was decreed in his favour but the question of plaintiff's legitimacy although raised was not decided by the Mandi Court nor was his title of succession under Hindu Law. The facts found by the High Court on appeal were that when plaintiff's father U S took his M (plaintiff's mother) into his house her husband was alive and was still alive when the plaintiff was born and that it had not been shown that her husband divorced her or turned her out or sequestered in her leaving him. Held that there is in law a presumption in favour of marriage and against concubinage when a man and woman have cohabited continuously for a number of years and this presumption of law can be repelled only by strong distinct and conclusive evidence. The mere fact that the direct evidence of the marriage which took place many years ago is unsatisfactory cannot displace this presumption. Imambandi v. Vata adds 13 Indian Cases 678. Bepin Behari v. Atul Krishna 13 Indian Cases 3 S. Ibrahim Ali v. Mst. Zubair Begum 20 P W P 1970. Sastri Velalar v. Smeruttu 1 R 6 Ip C 361. Piers v. Piers 81 P 180. De Thoren v. Alton 4 General 1 A C 478. Majumdar v. Chandrabati Kumari 1 I P 83. Cole 700 P C. Dularay Singh v. Suraj Bahad Singh 4 Indian Cases 10. Har Dial v. Pals Ram 60 P R 1311 followed. Held further that marriage not constituted but evidence by habit and repute. Though the presumption in cases of cohabitation is in favour of marriage it is otherwise if the connection is known to have been in its origin illicit. Campbell v. Campbell (the Bradshaw case) L R 1 II J 1. Scotch and Divorce 4 C 152 followed. Held consequently that J the husband of Mst M being alive when she was enticed away by U S the connection between U S and Mst M the plaintiff's parents was adulterous not only in its origin but continued to be so up to the time of J's death when alone a valid marriage was possible and that plaintiff was therefore not a legitimate son of U S. Campbell v. Campbell (the Bradshaw case) L R 1 II J 1. Scotch and Divorce 4 C 152 followed.

HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

Virasargappa v. Rudrappa 1 L R 3 Mad 440 distinguished. Cour a Hindu Code page 211 and West and Bühler's Hindu Law pages 391 401 referred to. Held further that the question which was raised in this Court is that the plaintiff was illegitimate because he was the son of an adult male connection was never considered and never adjudicated upon in the Mandi Court although it was raised by the defendant's pleas. The decision moreover proceeded on the ground of custom and no adjudication as to the plaintiff's right to succeed to the property of his father under Hindu Law was made. A marriage may be valid in one country and at the same time void in another. Similarly a man may be entitled to inherit land in one country and yet not be entitled to inherit land in another. The judgment of the Mandi Court was therefore not a conclusive adjudication on the matter of plaintiff's legitimacy or on his title to succeed to his father's property under Hindu Law. Halsbury's Laws of England Volume II page 297. Follenyne v. Maclean 2 Q B 55 C 4. Hay v. Northcott L R 2 Ch 52. Dacey v. Conflict of Laws page 480 and Birchcliffe v. Lordill 2 Cl and F 571 followed. Srinaraman Chettai v. Jinnam 19 L R 18 Mad 377. Virvardha v. Keymer 1 I L R 9 Mad 90. Keymer v. Virvardham 1 I L R 40 Mad 11 P C. Sreedhar Bhathe v. Copal Chund 10 II P 500. Lal Singh v. Bala 29 P P 1880. Indar Juna 49 P R 1890. Dina v. Karam Chand 52 P R 1890. Rahit v. Garinda 1 L R 1 Bom 97 and Narayan v. Laxmi 1 L R 2 Bom 110 referred to. INDRA SINGH v. TRILAK SINGH

I L R 2 Lab 207

9 ——— Breach of contract of marriage—Out of pocket expenses incurred during betrothal liability to pay. Plaintiffs who were father and son sued to recover a certain amount as damages for a breach of contract of betrothal. Defendants contended that the retraction was necessary on account of ill health of the bridegroom. Both the plaintiffs having died during the pendency of the proceedings their representatives in interest sought to recover from the defendants the out of pocket expenses which the plaintiffs had incurred while the betrothal was in existence. The Subordinate Judge held that there being a sufficient reason for retracting the engagement the out of pocket expenses could not be recovered from the defendants. On appeal to the High Court Held that though the defendants could not be fined if there was a good cause for retraction yet they were liable to pay expenses incurred by the bridegroom or his father during the betrothal. BALUDHAI HIRALAL v. NAKADHAI BHAGUDHAI (1910)

I L R 44 Bom 446

10 ——— Legitimacy—Cases—After marriage between a caste J a Jage 11 married C a Tanti B a son of that marriage sued inter alia for a declaration that he was entitled to his father's property. Held that the marriage between J and C was valid under the Hindu Law and B was entitled to the declaration. BISWANATH DAS GHOSH v. SHO-RASHIBHAYA DA 1 (1921)

I L R 48 Calc 926

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 40 Calc 407

HINDU LAW—MIGRATION

Ut il hara or Mitakshara law governs as to applicability of Where a person governed by the Mitakshara law removed to a district governed by the Mitakshara law the presumption was that he took his personal law with him and where he inherited property from his maternal grandfather who was governed by the Mitakshara law this property equally with his paternal property would be governed by the Mitakshara law and not by Mitakshara law. BHAGANATH KOER v. SAHODRA KOER (1911) 16 C W N 831

From one province to another—Onus to prove change to law of place of origin—Effect of change to religious and social rites of the place of origin—Effect of In the matter of succession the contest was between the sister's son (plaintiff) and the great great grandfather a great great grandson (defendant) the former alleging that the family was governed by the Dayabhaga School and the latter that it migrated from Behar and adhered to the Mitakshara law prevailing there. Held that it is well settled that a Hindu family residing in a particular province of India is presumed to be governed by the law of the place where it resides but where a Hindu family is shown to have migrated from one place to another the presumption is that it carried with it the laws and customs as to succession and family relation prevailing in the province from which it came. This presumption however is rebuttable by proof that the family has adopted the law and usages of the place to which it has migrated. That it is a historical fact that the Brahmins and Kayasthas of Bengal migrated from Kansu and originally brought with them the Mitakshara law it was after their settlement in this province that the Dayabhaga School of Hindu Law was founded by Jimutavahana about the 14th century and that is the law which now governs the Hindu population of this Presidency even though they may have originally migrated from North Behar and the defendant would have to establish not merely that the family migrated from Behar but that the migration took place after the foundation of the Bengal School of Hindu Law by the author of the Dayabhaga. This fundamental fact which if proved would have shifted the burden of proof from the defendant remained unestablished and the burden consequently lay upon the defendant to prove that the family was governed in matters of succession by the Mitakshara law. This burden might be discharged by proof of instances of succession consistent with the Mitakshara and inconsistent with the Dayabhaga law and to that end evidence might also be given that the family had conformed to religious and social rites and usages consistent with the Mitakshara and inconsistent with the Dayabhaga law. A Hindu family which has migrated into Bengal and has retained some of its former religious rites and ceremonies may yet be shown to have acquired a course of devolution of property in accordance with the Dayabhaga law. LITAMBAR CHANDRA SAHA v. NISIDHANTO SAHA 24 C W N 215

Succession to immovable property from father—Different law in different Provinces of India—Quality of estate taken whether absolute or limited—Maharatta Brahmins in Central Provinces—Bombay school of law—Family

HINDU LAW—MIGRATION—contd

emigrating taking law of original domicile with it The quality of the right which is taken by a daughter who inherits immovable property from her father has been differently determined in different parts of India. In accordance with the view of the High Court of Bombay the Courts of Western India have decided that she takes an absolute right in other parts of India the Courts have held that she takes only a limited interest such as is taken by a Hindu widow. see Pranjandis Tuldas v. Deekwarbhas 1 Bom H C 130 9 Moo I A 333 (note) and Bhan v. Jaykumath 1 L R 30 Bom 229 and the cases and authorities there cited. It is established that the law of succession in any given case is to be determined according to the personal law of the individual whose succession is in question. Prima facie any Hindu residing in a particular province of India is held to be subject to the particular doctrines of Hindu Law recognised in that province. But this law is not merely a local law it becomes the personal law and part of the status of every family which is governed by it. Consequently where any such family migrates to another province governed by another law it carries its own law with it. Myno v. Hindu Law 1st Ed para 18. On migration there may be renunciation of the law of the province migrated from in favour of that of the province migrated to. But unless such renunciation is proved (and the mere change of domicile is not of itself sufficient to prove it) original law continues to govern the migrating family. But the law must be the family law as it was when they left. A judgment declaratory of law as having always been would be binding on the migrated family but subsequent customs introduced into the law would not affect them. Surentra Nath Roy v. Heerumoree Burmo 12 Moo I A 81 and Urvashi Kumari Deb v. Agasthi Chunder Dhabal 1 L R 29 Calc 439 L R 29 I A 83 followed. A Maharashtra Brahmin whose ancestors and after wards himself were domiciled in the Bombay Presidency died in 1898 while on a pilgrimage leaving immovable property in the Wardha District of the Central Provinces. On his death his daughter succeeded to that property. She died in 1899 leaving three sons who on her death sued to set aside alienation of portions of the property made by her during her possessions of it. The question arose whether she took an absolute or a limited estate in the property which depended on what was the law of succession by which her father and his ancestors were governed. The Judicial Commissioner (reversing the decision of the first Court to the effect that he and his ancestors were originally domiciled at Barar in the Bombay Presidency and therefore the Law gave the daughter an absolute estate) held that the father had no exclusive domicile either in Barar or in the Central Provinces and that the succession was governed by the law of the latter where the property was situated and the daughter had taken only a limited estate. Held that the family of her father and his ancestors were domiciled in Barar and there was no renunciation of the law of that province when they or he migrated from it and that the daughter took an absolute estate under the law of the Bombay Presidency. BAR WAST RAO v. DAST RAO (1900)

HINDU LAW—PARTITION—contd

it shall be considered to be false in every Court. By virtue of this agreement no person shall be competent to bring any claim in any Court in respect of any portion of the property other than the property detailed below. Then followed a specification of the villages belonging to the family and the shares in which those villages were there after to be held. From that time the property had been entered in the register in accordance with the arrangement contained in the agreement and the agreement had been acted upon up to the time of suit. Held by the Judicial Committee (affirming the decision of the High Court) that on the evidence and circumstances of the case the agreement was one which operated as a partition of shares and the family thenceforth ceased to be joint in accordance with the principle laid down in Appotter v Pama Subba Iyann II Moo I A 75 Balkrishna Das v Pam Narain Sahu I L R 39 Cal 735 I P 30 I A 139 and Parbati v Nounihal Singh I L R 32 Ill 412 L P 36 I A 71. There was no re union. That was a question of fact and there was no evidence to show that any of the members of the family re united or even contemplated re union. RAGHU SINGH v MOTI KUNWAR (1912)

I L R 35 All 41

13 Pegunites for partition—Partition created by so called will in life time of father dividing family property among his sons and taking no share himself—Double share to eldest son—Unequal partition under alleged customs—Provision for forfeiture on mismanagement or bad behaviour—Conduct of parties after execution of document of partition. By a document called a Will dated the 20th of November 1890 the father and head of a Hindu joint family governed by the Mitakshara law recorded a division of the ancestral family property amongst his three sons (giving him self no share but allotting a double share to his eldest son). The document recited that my three sons are at present fully qualified to conduct the business. Therefore in order to avoid a dispute after my death I have at present while in a sound state of body and mind and of my own free will and accord divided the property among my sons heirs as follows. Then followed the details of the division. There was provision that If I at any time come back from pilgrimage and find mismanagement or character of any one bad then I shall have power to cancel this will which shall be enforced from the date of its execution and the document concluded as follows—

All the three sons were put in separate possession of the estate in the beginning of the year 1303 Fash' (September 1883). I have no other heir having a right besides those mentioned in this will. I have therefore executed this will in order that it may serve as evidence. Mutations of the various shares were subsequently made into the names of those to whom they were separately allotted and the evidence showed that the division had been assented to acquiesced in and acted upon by the sons up to 1905. In a suit brought in September 1905 four years after the father's death by the two younger sons for partition of the property which they alleged to be joint and undivided, and of which they claimed to be entitled to two one third shares. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the document of the 20th of November 1895 was not a will but was intended to operate from its date and was in fact a family arrangement contemporaneously made and acted upon by all parties the effect of which was under the circumstances of the case to create a partition of the joint ancestral property. There was nothing in the fact that the document was called a will doubtfully made in fact and which was acted upon for ten years without any dispute or mis-understanding, as to the respective rights of the parties under it. Held also that the provision in the will giving the father power to cancel it in certain events evidenced a contractual condition which the sons accepted in order to obtain the partition which gave them immediate possession of the property and viewed thus the contractual acceptance of a power of forfeiture in case of bad behaviour would not be sufficient to prevent the partition operating in present. BRITISH SINGH v SHEODAN SINGH (1913)

HINDU LAW—PARTITION—contd

I L R 35 All 337

14 *Res judicata—Estoppel—Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1852) s 13. A decree for partition made in a suit instituted by a member of a joint Hindu family is res judicata as between all co sharers who are parties to the suit. Where therefore in a series of suits all the co sharers except one have obtained decrees partitioning to them their respective shares by metes and bounds a co sharer who was a party to the suits is estopped from alleging that the property left unpartitioned is less than the share to which he is entitled. *NARAYAN LAMBA v RAMA MOYI DEBI (1914)

I L R 41 I A 247

15 *Partition by grandsons—Paternal step grand mother entitled to a share. According to the Mitakshara the paternal step grandmother is entitled to a share in the family estate when it is partitioned among her grand sons. *VIJAY RAMKRISHNA v PPAUL RAM KRISHNA (1914)

I L R 59 Bom 373

16 *Property to be partitioned should be taken as existing at the date of the suit—Shares taken away by some of the co par ceners before the suit not to be taken into account. The plaintiff as representing one branch of the family sued the defendants who represented other two branches to recover by partition his share in the property which he alleged was one third. The plaintiff had two brothers one of whom had separated from the family by receiving his share (which then was 1 12th) some years before the suit. The defendants contended that the 1 12th share should go in reduction of the plaintiff's share at the partition that is he was entitled to 1 3rd minus 1 12th 11th share. The lower Court having awarded a 1 3rd share to the plaintiff some of the defendants appealed. Held that the share to which the plaintiff was entitled in the family property was 1 3rd and not 11th for partition should be made res inter vivos as on the date of the suit. *PRANJIVANDAS SHIVLAL v JOHARAM (1916)

I L R 33 Bom 734

17 By a minor co parcener—Right to meane profits—No exclusion—Separate living of minor co parcener—Same rule as in the case of major co parceners suit for account—Principle different—Provision for expenses of Upanayanam and marriage of co parceners in a partition suit—Settling apart of funds—Whether Upanayana and marriage of male co parceners are obligatory ceremonies—Provision for marriage of unmarried sisters

HINDU LAW—PARTITION—contd

ger of a joint Hindu family is not obliged to keep accounts while the family remains joint and when a partition is asked for partition takes place of the property as it exists in the hands of the manager. Under Hindu law as far as the joint family is concerned it is considered as one entity until the moment comes for division and then each party gets his actual share. In the meantime if there are any expenses which should properly be incurred by the joint family purse those expenses are taken out of the family property and they cannot be debited to a particular coparcener. PANNATH CHHOTURAM v. GORURAM RADHAKRISHNAN (1910) I L R 44 Bom 179

32——Sale of his share by a co parccner—Sut by purchaser for partition—and for past mesne profits—Past profits cannot be allowed. In a joint Hindu family consisting of five brothers two of the brothers sold their shares to the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued for partition of his two fifths share in the family property and for three years mesne profits. Both the lower Courts decreed partition and allowed the plaintiff Rs 63 for past profits. The defendants having objected to the part of the decree awarding past mesne profits Held that the past mesne profits were wrongly awarded. TRIMBAK GANESH v. PAKDURUR GNA ROJEE (1919) I L R 44 Bom 621

33——By a brother against mother and seven brothers referred to arbitrator. Ganesh died in 1880 leaving his widow and eight sons in 1885 his second son Gour brought a suit for partition. It was referred to arbitration and in 1887 award was given by which estate was divided into nine equal parts and allotted to the mother and eight sons. As the five infant sons desired to live with their mother jointly the arbitrator declared their shares to be Rs 9,600 each but did not divide by metes and bounds. On the mother's death the question having arisen as to the nature of the right of persons to take her share among them at her decease Held that the share in question was an interest in lieu of the mother's right to maintenance which upon partition amongst the sons was carried out of the sons' shares and at the death of the mother went back to and became part of the shares out of which it came. SASHI BHUSAN SHAW v. HARI NARAYAN SNAW 25 C W N 993

33a——Evidence of—Revenue and village records—Decree made at Regular Settlement—Decree for widows of superior proprietary right—Rights subjects to those of the other share holders. In this case the plaintiffs (respondents) sued for possession of a village by cancellation of a sale deed of it executed on the 30th of December 1871 in favour of the predecessor in title of the defendant appellant by three Hindu pardanashins ladies whose husbands had been lineal descendants of the proprietor. The main question raised by the defendant was whether the property (joint ancestral and undivided property) was or was not joint and undivided at the date of the sale. The appellant alleged that a partition of it had been made there was no evidence of any deed for the purpose but he founded his contention chiefly on the terms of the khwat and wajib ul arz and of a settlement decree of the 6th of December 1869 which was for superior rights in favour of the widows subject to the rights of the other share holders. Held that a definition of shares in revenue and village papers affords by itself but a very slight indication of an actual separation in a Hindu family and certainly in no case that has come before us could we have regarded such a definition of shares standing alone as sufficient evidence on which to find contrary to the presumption of Hindu law that the family to which such definition referred had separated. Their Lordships adopted with approval the above citation from the decision of EDOU C C in Gajendar Singh v. Sardar Singh I L R 18 All 176 as being a correct decision of the law. Held as to the decree when on the one hand it declared for superior proprietary rights in favour of the widows, and on the other that these are to be given subject to the rights of the other share holders it completely conserved such reversions and other ownership rights as are inherent in the succession to a joint family property and negated the idea that partition or separation had been effectuated by law in such a manner as to extinguish other proprietary rights. The decree was not equivalent to an affirmation of a partition or separation having taken place but was entirely consistent with the existence of the property as joint and undivided and therefore with no prejudice being effected to the right of the reversioner therein, in this case represented by the respondent (plaintiff). The presumption therefore against partition of this ancestral property had not been over come and the property remained joint. NAGESHNAH BAKSH SINGH v. GANESHA I L R 42 All 368

HINDU LAW—PARTITION—contd

34——Competence of member of a joint family to bind himself not to claim partition. The members of a joint undivided Hindu family can bind themselves for their own life time not to claim partition of the joint family property. A fortiori a similar agreement can be entered into by the remaining members of the family after one member has demanded a partition and separated his share whether such remaining members be considered as still joint or as tenants in common. And what may be effected by an agreement may be effected equally by means of a submission to arbitration followed by an award. PUP SINGH v. BHABHUTI SINGH I L R 42 All 30

35——Suit instituted by minor member of family—Difference in effect of as compared with suit instituted by adult members—Power of manager to dedicate family property for religious purposes. Held that the institution of a suit by a minor member through his next friend for partition of joint family property has not the same effect as the institution of a similar suit by an adult member of the family that is to say the mere institution of the suit does not effect a separation of the family but separation only takes place when the suit is decreed. Girja Bai v. Sadashiv Dhundiraj I L R 43 Cal 1031 distinguished. Chelum Chetty v. Subbamma I L R 41 Mad 419 followed. Held also that although the managing member of a joint Hindu family may be competent to dedicate some portion of the family property to religious uses during his life time he cannot make such a dedication by will. Vila Butten v. Yame namma 8 Mad H C Rep 6. Surya Bunsu Koor v. Sheo Persad Singh I L R 5 Cal 148. Rathnam v. Sivasubramania I L R 16 Mad 353 and Lakshman Dada Naik v. Ramchandra Dada Naik I L R 5 Bom 48 followed. LALTA PRASAD v. SRI MAHADEVIJI BHARJAN TEMPLE I L R 42 All 461

HINDU LAW—PARTITION—contd

So ——— Part of property omitted from plaint—Amendment of plaint In a suit for partition of the property of a joint Hindu family all the properties which are known at the time of the institution of the suit to be joint family properties must be included in the suit. If however by inadvertence or mistake or by fraud of any of the parties some of the joint family properties are not included in the suit further proceedings may be taken to obtain a partition of them. But it is the duty of the Court to allow an amendment of the plaint so that all the properties belonging to the family might be included in the suit. Under s 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 either the original or the appellate Court may make such amendments as are necessary for the purpose of determining the real question or issues raised in the suit. NEERADA LAL CHAKRABARTY v JOGENDRA CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY 1 Pat L J 393

3rd ——— Mithila—joint family— Suit for partition between father and son whether father's mother's sons' mother and son's step mother entitled to share. Under the Mithila school of Hindu law in a partition between a father and son at the instance of the son both the latter's mother and his paternal grandmother are entitled to share equally with him and his father. The share taken by the grandmother is not her stridhan and on her death does not devolve upon the heirs to her stridhan but goes back to the estate from which it came. Such a share is in lieu of maintenance and does not cease to be ancestral property. The institution of a suit for partition is an unequivocal declaration on the part of the plaintiff (even though he be a minor) of his intention to separate himself from the defendants and his share cannot be diminished by the birth of another member of the family subsequent to such date (in this case subsequent to the date of the preliminary decree). KRISHNA LAL JHA v NARAYAN JHA 4 Pat L J 33

3rd a ——— Clear expression of intention to separate if effects—After notice expressing intention to separate joint family liable for marriage expenses of members—Father's right to give notice to daughter Under the Hindu law it is open to the members of a joint family to make a division and a severance of interest in respect of a part of the joint estate whilst retaining their status as a joint family and holding the rest as the properties of a joint undivided family. Under the law of the Mithila karta an unambiguous and definite intimation of intention on the part of one member of the family to separate himself and to enjoy his share in severalty has the effect of creating a division of the entire thing which until then he had held in jointness. No limitation therefore lay on the joint family to provide for the expenses of the marriage of son of the Plaintiff which took place after the latter had given to their co-plaintiffs a notice clearly expressing such an intention but before a decree for partition was made in their suit in the Court of first instance. The father has undoubtedly the power under the Hindu law of making within reasonable limits gifts of moveable property to a daughter and in one case the Judicial Committee upheld the gift of a small share of immovable property on the ground that it was not shown to be unreasonable. K. KAMALINGA ANNAM v NARAYANA AKARI P C 26 C W N 929

HINDU LAW—PARTITION—contd

38 ——— Bengal School—Award— Widow's share with minor sons—second partition—Compromise petition—Consent order—Jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O VIII r —Registration Act (VII of 1908) s 1a (1)—Stoppage—Res Judicata—Widow's share right to release—Succession at death In an award in a partition suit brought by an adult son the minor sons' shares were declared and allotted collectively with the widowed mother's share. Subsequently on one of the minors attaining age and instituting a partition suit for dividing his share from the others and the mother's share there was a consent decree incorporating therein that the mother and the adult brothers had released or relinquished her share (obtained by this award and as heiress of one of the deceased minor sons) in favour of the minor sons who's shares had been declared and allotted collectively as aforesaid. This was supported by a petition and an affidavit in the suit which was signed by the adult brothers agreeing to the arrangement but they had not been made parties to the suit. In the present partition suit by an adult brother claiming a right to the mother's share on her death the question arose (i) whether the consent order operated as an estoppel by record or res judicata and (ii) as to the nature of the sons' rights to take their mother's share during her lifetime. Hd that the decree was outside the scope of O VIII r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code and was beyond jurisdiction. The adult brothers were not estopped from claiming their share on the death of their widowed mother. The decree did not operate as res judicata inasmuch as the second partition suit was for purposes of dividing up a given collective share left undivided by the award in the first partition. On her death the widow's share which was in lieu of maintenance went back to the heirs out of which it was carved out and the adult sons were entitled to a share. The mother's share as heiress of the deceased minor son went back to the heir of the last male owner. Binders Nank v Cango Ram Shaku I I R 20 All I I Prkhal Ann v Lakshmi I I R 22 Mad 568 Birladra Path v Kalpatera Parda I I R 385 Curdoo Singh v Chait Singh I I R 36 Cal 199 Gobinda Chandra Jai v Duarka Nath Pal I I R 5 Cal 837 Sorolah Da et v Bhoolan Malan Deogi I I R 15 Cal 9 and Balabhai v Rukhmanbai I I R 30 Cal 75 referred to SHASHI BRUBAN SHAW v HARI NARAYAN SHAW (1921) I I R 48 Cal 1059

39 ——— Property left undivided— At the time of partition—Presumption that there has been a complete partition both as to parties and property—Members hold the family property as tenants in common—Fact that a portion of family property is held by them as joint tenants must be proved like any other fact When once anything has occurred which effects a separation of the members of a joint Hindu family they are to be considered as holding the joint family property as tenants in common and if it is sought to show that any portion of the family property is to be held by the members of the family as joint tenants and not tenants in common that fact must be proved like any other fact. Garru Shankar Pira bharam v Umaram Pajaram (1893) 18 Bom 611 discussed Anandibai v Hari Suda Puri (1912) 35 Bom 93 Lala'uz Ladharam v Pullman as

HINDU LAW—PARTITION—contd

(1903) I P 30 I A 139 relied on RANGCHANDRA v LUKARAN I L R 45 Bom 914

40 ———— Service inam lands—Infranchisement subsequent to partition in name of a member—Right of a divided member to share in enfranchised lands—Onus of proof If a divided member of a Hindu family claims to share in service inam lands which belonged to the family but were subsequent to a partition in the family enfranchised in the name of a member who was the office holder at the time of the enfranchisement the onus lies on the claimant of proving not only that he is a member of the original service family but also that the inam was excluded from the partition as undivided property in which the sharers retained their joint rights Iyappa v Syama Rao (1915) M H 549 considered VENKATA UDPA PAO v SATYANARAYANAPETTI (1921) I L R 44 Mad 179

41 ———— Customs—Patnibhaga—Moopu A custom was found to exist among the Nitlu kottai Chetties inhabiting seven villages in the Madurai district of the Madras Presidency where by when a Chetti during the life of his wife married another wife he appropriated out of his property a portion called moopu for the first wife a maintenance that portion descending to her son if she had one and the rest of the property was notionally divided one moiety going to the son or sons by the first wife and the other moiety to the son or sons by the second wife In a suit for partition brought by the only son of a first wife against his father and the sons by the second wife the Judicial Committee applied the custom without however determining what the father's share would be in the circumstances as the question did not arise before their Lordships The authorities as to the custom of patnibhaga or the division according to wives considered [Judgment of the High Court reversed] PALAIA APPA CHETTIAN v ALAGAN CHETTI (1921) I L R 44M ad (P C) 740

42 ———— Son by son for partition against father and father's alienee—Alienation held not binding on son—Form of decree to be given to the son In a suit for partition by a son against his father and an alienee from the father the Court holds the alienation not to be binding on the son the son is entitled to get a decree for his share in the family properties without any condition being imposed on him to refund the consideration paid by the alienee to the father Saku Ram Chander v Bhanu Singh (1917) I L P 39 All 37 (P C) L R 44 I A 126 applied The dictum of MITRA J in Koor Hasmat Bai v Sunder Das (1895) I L 11 Cal 396 not followed Held further by SETHAGORI AYYAR J a son is bound to pay only such debts of his father as exist while they are joint and a son getting a decree for partition becomes divided from his father as from the date of suit for partition Any liability of the father to refund the consideration to the alienee arising as the result of the decree for partition is a liability for unliquidated damages and not a debt and even if it becomes a judgment debt it is not a debt existing on the date of suit for partition SATYANARAYANAPETTI v KUPPU WANI AYYANGAR (1921) I L R 44 Mad 601

HINDU LAW—PROSTITUTE'S PROPERTY

Srinivas—Prostitute's property successor to The mere fact that a Hindu woman has adopted the life of a prostitute does not sever the tie which connects her to her kindred by blood and consequently her stridhan property passes upon her death in the absence of nearer heirs to her brother's son as an heir under the Bengal school of Hindu law *Tara Munnee Dosara v Motce Buncanee 7 Mac Sel 147 32a S I D (O S) 247 Parnath Tolipattir v Durga Sundri Debi I I P 4 Cal 530 In the goods of Kamineymoney Beah I L P 21 Cal 697 Rima nanda v Pathishori Barmati I L P 22 Cal 347 Sarna Mojee Pawa v Secretary of State for India I L R 25 Cal 251 and Sundari Laxmi v Putabari Laxmi I L 1 3^d Cal 871 overruled so far as they hold that tie of blood is destroyed by unchastity or in the case of a Hindu woman by her adopting the life of a prostitute *Bisheshwar v Mata Cholim 2 All H C 300 Mithashur Ganga Jee v Chasita I L R 1 AU 16 Adiyapa v Kudrava I L 1 4 Bom 104 Kojiyadu v Lakshmi I L P 5 3^d ad 149 Subbaraya Pillai v Pamasami Pillai I J 1 23 Mad 171 Bhut noth Mondol v Secretary of State for India 10 C W N 1055 Sundari Dosee v Venye Charan Dair 6 C L J 72 and Tripura Chandra Bannerjee v Harimath Dair I J P 33 Cal 493 approved Srinivasu v Vinai I L R 12 Mad 277 and Varananna v Ganga I L R 10 Mad 133 distinguished and dis sented from *HIPALAL SINGHA v TRIPURA CHARAN I AY (1913) I L R 40 Cal 650

HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTSee HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

1 ———— Mourashi Muth succession to—Onus of proof—Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) s 187—Will not probated if can be used in evidence and for what purpose—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 32 (5)—Relationship between Mohunt and Chela if relationship by adoption—Existence of relationship statement relating to One R was the Mohunt of a muth known as the Khumbakal Muth He was succeeded by his chela S After the death of S the plaintiff claimed to be his lawful successor as his gurusbhak The defendant resisted the claim on the allegation that he had been adopted by S as a chela The muth in question was admittedly a maurasi muth and the Court found that in maurasi muth the chela succeeds and in default of a chela the gurusbhak succeeds and when there are more chelas than one the eldest generally succeeds but a junior chela may succeed if he be found more capable and if he be selected by the last Mohunt as his successor Held that it was for the plaintiff to prove that he was the chela of R and that the defendant was not the chela of S as he must succeed on the strength of his own title and not on the infirmity of any in the title of the defendant In the course of the evidence in the case two wills allged to have been executed by R and S respectively neither of which was proved in the Probate Court were produced the former of which only was found to be genuine Held that notwithstanding s 187 of the Indian Succession Act which is incorporated in the Hindu Wills Act a will not proved in the Probate Court may be used in evidence for a purpose other than the establishment of a right as executor or legatee and in the present case the recital in the will of R

HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT—

contd

which was found to be genuine that he held no one else as his ch'it except S was admissible in evidence under s 32 cl (4) of the Evidence Act inasmuch as the relationship between a Mohant and his ch'it is one of relationship by adoption and a statement that I have one ch'it B and I have no other ch'it is a statement relating to the existence of a relationship. ACHUTANANDA DAS v JAGANNATH DAS (1914) 20 C W N 122

2 ——— Proof of privity has been enforced as a condition precedent for the validity of a dedication. A permanent income is not absolutely essential for dedication to a Shakur. Where the intention of the donor appeared to have been to dedicate the property absolutely to deity or the fact that the income of the property exceeded the expenses of the sh'ba and the *sh'ba*is frequently dealt with the property or the income as personal property would not make the property secular subject to a charge for the deity. ANNA MOUDUR GAO v MOULIK v NARODE MOUDUR MOULIK (1916) 20 C W N 901

3 ——— Sh'antship devolution of the heirs in the absence of directions by founder on the death of last sh'ant duty appointed by him—Will giving estate to sh'ant and appointing successive executors—The facts appointing an sh'ant—The principle of—Sh'ant's office and rights nature of. A Hindu testator had two sons by his first wife and four sons by his second wife. In his will he provided that all his properties would devolve on his family deity and his second wife and two of her sons J and B would successively be executrix and executors and that his two sons by his first wife would not be appointed executors. After the death of the second wife and her sons J and B her other two sons died one leaving a widow defendant No. 1. Of the two sons of the testator by his first wife one (defendant No. 2) was living and the other had died leaving a son the plaintiff who brought the present action for a declaration that he had a four annas share in the sh'antship of the deity. Held that the effect of the will was to constitute the second wife and her sons J and B successive sh'ants of the endowments though they were described as executors in respect of the endowed property. That the testator did not prescribe how the sh'antship could devolve after the death of his son B. In the circumstances the devolution of the office of sh'ant follows the line of inheritance from the founder in other words it passes to his heirs unless there has been some usage or course of dealing which points to a different mode of devolution. That on the death of B the last sh'ant named by the founder the office vested in the four sons of the founder then alive namely the two uterine brothers of B and the two sons of the founder by his first wife and this notwithstanding the fact that the founder intended to exclude his sons by his first wife for the heir at law though his terms excluded from inheritance the will cannot be excluded from his general right of inheritance without a valid devise to some other person. TAYLOR v TAYLOR L P L D (Sup Vol) 47 66. The plaintiff had a four annas share in the sh'antship that the principle of vestment rest with the actual enjoyment of the property until it is postponed till the termination of the life estate has no application to cases of the present description.

HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT—

contd

That a sh'ant holds his office for life but this does not signify that he has a life interest in the office with the remainder presently vested in the next taker. The entire office is vested in him though his powers of alienation are qualified and restricted. The position of a sh'ant is analogous to that of a Hindu female in possession of the estate of the last full owner rather than to that of the holder of a life estate and when a founder has given valid directions as to the devolution of the sh'antship as in the present case upon the death of the last sh'ant the office vests in persons who at the time constituted the heirs of the founder provided the last sh'ant has not taken it absolutely when the office has so vested in them upon the death of each member of the group it passes by succession to his heir subject to the important qualification that the rule—that when a worship of the deity has been found the sh'antship is vested in the heirs of the founder in default of evidence that he has disposed of it otherwise or of there being some evidence of usage, course of dealing or some circumstances to show a different mode of devolution—cannot be applied so as to vest the sh'antship in persons who according to the usages of the worship cannot perform the rights of the office. KUNJAMANI DAS v NIKUNJA BANSARI DAS (1916) 20 C W N 314

4 ——— Test for establishing whether an endowment is real and substantial or merely illusory—Attempt to establish a perpetuity in favour of the descendants of the settlor. By a deed of endowment so called executed not long prior to his death a Hindu professed to dedicate practically the whole of his property in favour of an sh'ant. It was proved in this deed that the settlor should apply for mutation of names in favour of the deity and that he should use the income of the property for the expenses of pooja and rajahog and for the repair of the temple and that he should keep regular accounts of the income and expenditure. The settlor himself was to be the first manager after him his wife and thereafter his daughter and sons and their descendants. Some sixteen months after the execution of this deed the settlor died and was succeeded as manager by his wife. The widow brought a suit for a declaration that the property was endowed property in the course of which it came to light that the settlor had by a deed to obtain mutation of name in favour of the manager that no accounts were forthcoming relating to the administration of the property by the settlor that the expenditure on the deity did not amount to more than one tenth of the income and that the widow was unable to account for her own dealings with property the only content of the suit itself that in the circumstances there had been no real dedication of the property to religious purposes but only an attempt to create a perpetuity in favour of the descendants of the settlor's daughter. SRI THAKURANI v DEWENDRA DAS

I L P 42 All 395

5 ——— Public charitable trust managed at of—Devotion—right of female heirs. The trust of management of a public charity possessed by the members of a Hindu family descends in the absence of a devise to the contrary to all the heirs in lineal female descent in the same manner as ordinary family property. A claimant the most senior male member alone is the heirs is entitled to manage or that female heirs are excluded from management should be proved as a special custom. Pamannan Chetti v. Murugappa Chetti (1906) 1 L P 29 Mad 253 (1 C) followed. Udappananchingam Chetti v. Anulaivan Chetty (1863) 1 M H C P 410 and Chenna Kesataraya v. Iyalingam (1877) 1 L J 1 Mod 343 not followed. MEENAKSHI ACHI v. SOUBUNDARAN PILLAI (1911) 1 L R 44 Mad 205

HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT— concl'd

6 ——— Requirements for the completion of a valid Gift—I registered deed alone not sufficient without delivery of possession The mere execution of a deed of endowment is not sufficient under the Hindu law to create a valid endowment but to complete the gift there must be a transfer of the apparent evidences of ownership from the donor to the donee. Dagaj Dabee v. Mathura Nath Chattopadhyay 1 L J 9 Cal 803 Kalidas Mullick v. Kanhaya Lal Iardit 1 L P 11 Cal 121 and Watson and Company v. Panchand Dutt 1 L P 18 Cal 19 referred to. RAM DHAN v. PRAYAG NARAIN 1 L R 43 AU 503

7 ——— In the construction of ancient grants and deeds evidence is admissible as to the manner in which the thing granted has always been possessed and used for so the parties thereto must be supposed to have intended but the principle does not apply unless there is an ambiguity. KULADA PRASAD DEONORIA v. KALI DAS NAUK 1 L R 42 Cal 536

8 ——— The manager of a public temple has no right to remove the image from the old temple and install it in a new one especially when the removal is objected to by the majority of the worshippers. HAFI RAGHUNATH v. ANANTJI BRIKASH 1 L R 44 Bom 46

HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE

Religious office and emoluments—Hindu females right of to inherit Held by the Full Bench (SADASIYA AYYAR, J. dissenting) that according to the practice and precedents obtaining in the Madras Presidency a Hindu female is not incompetent by reason of her sex to succeed to the office of archaka in a temple and to the emoluments attached thereto. Sundarambal Ammal v. Iyaganara Gurukkal 1 L R 38 Mad 850 overruled. Mohan Lalji v. Gordhan Lalji Maharaj 1 L R 35 AU 283 distinguished. ANNAYA TANTRI v. ANNAKKA HENGSE (1918) 1 L R 41 Mad 888

——— Held that the office of hereditary Priest is a Nibandha and ranked among the hereditary rights of immovable property but where a caste has appointed Priest no right of property is conferred. GHELADHAI GOURISHANKAR v. HARGOWAN RAMJI 1 L R 37 Bom 95

——— Shebait agreement with pujari of thakur that latter to forfeit office on misconduct to be determined by tribunal of private persons. Pujaris of thakur—Condition that Pujaris should forfeit office upon misconduct or neglect to be found by tribunal of private persons if valid and enforceable by Civil Court—Condition if valid on ground of remoteness—Rule of privity applies to personal contracts—Private tribunal decision of

HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE—cont'd

then valid By an agreement between the shebait of a thakur and a family of Chatterjees the latter were appointed pujaris and some land was placed in their possession in order that the income might be applied for the purpose of worship and maintenance of the shriba and it was stipulated that the Chatterjees should be pujaris from generation to generation but in case they were found guilty of misconduct or neglect by a tribunal constituted by the agreement they were to forfeit their office of pujaris. Held—That personal contracts like that in the present case were not affected by the rule against perpetuities. That the conditions of forfeiture annexed to the office were lawful and as soon as the Defendants were disqualified for the religious office by reason of their misconduct they became disentitled to retain possession of the land which was intended to be applied by the pujaris for the maintenance and worship of the thakur. That the decision of the tribunal constituted by the agreement was operative if their proceedings were as they were in this case regularly conducted. There is no thing wrong in principle that the holder of a spiritual office should be subject to discipline and should be liable to deprivation for what may be called misconduct from an ecclesiastical point of view or for flagrant and continued neglect of duty. So far as Hindus are concerned there is now no State church and no Ecclesiastical Court and there is nothing to prevent Civil Courts from determining questions such as those raised in the present case and from holding that a pujari has been removed from his office on valid grounds. NAFAR CHANDRA CHATTERJEY v. KAILASH CHANDRA MONDOL 25 C W N 201

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER

See HINDU LAW—SURRENDER

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

See RES JUDICATA

1 L R 41 Cal 69

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT S 42

1 L R 42 Mad 219

1 ——— Alienation by female heir—Reversioner suit by—Suit by next male reversioner maintainable without proof of collusion of nearer female reversioner The rule that suits to set aside alienations by a female heir having a limited interest should be brought by the next reversioner and that a remote reversioner cannot sue without showing collusion between the female heir and the next reversioner does not apply where the next reversioner is a female and the suit is brought by the nearest male reversioner. Where a widow having daughters makes an alienation the nearest male reversioner may sue without proving collusion between the widow and daughter. CHIDAMBARA REDDIAR v. NALLANMAL (1909) 1 L R 33 Mad 410

2 ——— Legal representative—Hindu Widow Reversionary heirs—Civil Procedure Code 1908 s 2 (11)—Agra Tenancy Act (Local II of 1901) s 202 One S K filed a suit for possession of certain lands and for cancellation of a perpetual lease executed by her mother but died during the pendency of the suit. Held that the reversionary heir of the late male owner of the property in suit was the proper legal representative of the plaintiff. Held also that where the defendant simply alleged that he was in possession of the land in suit as a tenant but did not allege that he was a tenant of the plaintiff. The Civil Court need not require the defendant to institute a suit in the Revenue Court as directed by s. 62 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1910. Jitendra Lal v. Suresh Prasad Singh (1910) 1 L R 33 All 15

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER—contd

3 — Suit for declaration of gift and for possession and other relief — Prayer in appeal confined to declaration of gift only — Prayer for declaration — Court fee stamp — The plaintiff claimed to be the reversionary heirs of one D after the death of his widow and daughter together with one S. It appeared that D's widow and daughter had executed a deed of family gift in favour of S who on his part claimed to be the sole immediate reversioner. In the plaint this prayer was for a declaration that the deed of gift was inoperative and that the plaintiff for his possession of the property in suit for the appointment of a receiver for a declaration that the plaintiffs were the reversionary heirs after the death of D's widow and daughter. Court fees were paid upon these prayers in the lower Court which dismissed the suit as premature. In the High Court the plaintiffs only sought for a declaration as to the deed of gift and for the appointment of a receiver. At the hearing of the appeal the latter prayer also was given up. Upon this only in court fees was paid on the appeal. Held that the appeal was sufficiently stamped. That the plaintiffs who on the evidence appeared to be some of the immediate reversioners were entitled to have the deed of gift declared inoperative as against themselves. That the fact that such a declaration must be founded on reasons that could support a declaration that they were heirs to D could not shut them out of their right to a declaration as to the invalidity of the document in question. Jagdeep Narain Singh v. Jatharsi Roer (1914) 19 C W N 1191

4 — Right of presumptive reversionary heir to declaration of his right — Suit against widow in possession of her husband's estate for waste and wrong dealing with property — Failure to prove charges — Right of reversioner to sue for protection of his husband's estate — A plaintiff who brought a suit as presumptive reversionary heir against a widow in possession of her husband's estate in order to protect the property and made charges against the widow of waste, misappropriation and other wrong dealing with the property, none of which charges were established, was held not entitled to a declaration of his right as reversionary heir even though his title had been disputed in the suit. It is not legitimate to give such a plaintiff under cover of a prayer for further relief and after the substantial heads of his claim have failed any greater right to obtain such a declaration than he would have had if it had been asked for directly and unaccompanied by other and unfounded claims. Jaipal Kumar v. Indar Prasad Singh 1 L R 6 All 235 L P 311 1 67 and Benkai Narayana Pillai v. Subbamma 1 L R 38 Mad 406 L P 42 1 A 129 dismissed. JANAKI AMMAL v. NARAYANASAMI AYYAR (1916) 1 L R 39 Mad 634

5 — Reversioner consenting partly to sale by widow and inducing per-

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER—contd

son to buy on false recitals in deed of sale purporting to show legal necessity — Subsequent suit by such reversioner challenging sale on account of absence of legal necessity if lies — Estoppel by conduct — The plaintiffs reversioners on the death of a Hindu widow sued to recover certain lands which had been purchased from the widow by the defendants. It was found that the recitals in the deed of sale were not true and there was no legal necessity but that the plaintiffs who were consenting parties to the sale induced the defendants to believe the recitals to be true and to act on them and themselves supervised the erection of buildings on the land at defendants' cost. Held that it was a case of estoppel by conduct. No person who is a party to the putting forward of a recital in a deed and induces another to act on it can afterwards be heard to say that the recitals are not accurate and the plaintiff's suit must fail. BHANESWARI DEBI v. HARADHAN BHATTACHARYA (1916)

21 C W N 728

6 — Reversioners — Widow's estate — Estate taken under the management of the Court of Wards — Alienations by the Court of Wards — Power of Court of Wards as to alienations of absolute or limited like that of the limited owner — Court of Wards Act (Mad Act I of 1903) s. 35 — Suit by reversioners for declaration — Alienations held good — Declaration as to title of plaintiff as reversioner — Conversion of rent in kind into money rent — Power of widow to commute — Ex. doc. Act (I of 1872) s. 36 — Copies of Takids etc. made in office of registrars if admissible — Where the plaintiff claiming to be the nearest reversioner to the last male owner of a zamindari sued for a declaration that certain alienations made by the Court of Wards during their management of the estate on behalf of the adoptive mother of the late zamindar on her succeeding to the estate as his heiress on his death were not binding on the estate beyond her lifetime. Held that the power of the Court of Wards under s. 35 of the Madras Court of Wards Act (I of 1903) is in terms absolute and not governed by the restrictions in the latter part of the section that the Court of Wards had absolute powers of alienation in respect of the property taken under its charge although the person on whose behalf the management was taken up was only a limited owner of the property like a widow that consequently the alienations in the case were valid without proof of necessity such as would support an alienation by a Hindu widow and that the conversion of rents payable in kind into money rents is within the powers of a limited owner like a widow. Held further (a) that reversioners are not entitled to sue for a declaration that they are the nearest reversioners to an estate unless the decision of that question is incidental to the grant of some other relief to which they may be entitled. Jitendra Lal v. Narayanasami 1 L R 39 Mad 611 appd. and (b) that copies of actual letters such as Takids from the Collector to the Majumdar and his replies thereto made in registers of official correspondence kept for reference and record are admissible in evidence under s. 35 of the Indian Evidence Act and are entitled to great consideration. Rajah Mutlu Ramalinga Seupali v. Perannayagam Pillai 1 L R 11 A 909 299 referred to. NAVANEETHA KRISHNA THEVAL v. RAMASWAMI PANDIA THALAVAR (1916)

1 L R 40 Mad 871

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER—contd

7 ————— Rights of reversioner—Suit to recover property of grandfather alienated during infancy of next reversioner to agnates of deceased—Compromise by female owner and her husband—Awards in terms of compromise—Award made decree of Court under Act VIII of 1859 s 327—Limitation Act 1877 Sch II Art 95 141—Guardian of minor A Hindu reversioner has no right or interest in proceeds in the property which the female owner holds for her life. Until it vests in him on her death should he survive her he has nothing to assign or to relinquish or even to transmit to his heirs. His right becomes concrete only on her demise. Until then it is a mere specie successionis. His guardian if he happens to be a minor cannot bargain with it on his behalf or bind him by any contractual engagement in respect thereof. On the death without issue of a Hindu governed by the Mitakshara law and admittedly separated from his agnate relations (respondents) leaving a widow a daughter K and the daughter's son a minor (appellant) the widow though opposed by the agnates obtained possession of her husband's property for her life estate. On her death in 1864 a dispute arose with the agnates as to K's right to succeed in which her husband R took part as representing K though there was nothing to show that he had any authority to act as her agent. The matter was referred to arbitration but before the arbitrators had taken any action a compromise was come to in which P purported to act for K and her infant son, the effect of which was to completely extinguish the reversionary interest of the appellant in his grandfather's estate. The arbitrators made an award in accordance with the terms of the compromise. It was not shown that the proceedings before the arbitrators ever came to the knowledge of K but it appeared that she did not acquiesce in the award and the agnates had to apply to have it made a decree of Court under a 327 of Act VIII of 1859 the then Code of Civil Procedure and notwithstanding K's continued opposition such a decree was made and enforced and the respondents were put into possession of the properties in 1866. K died in 1900 and in 1908 the appellant brought a suit to set aside the arbitration proceedings together with the compromise and award as being fraudulent and taken and entered into without knowledge or authority of K and for a declaration that he was not bound by them. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that until K's death the appellant had no right or interest in the property which could be the subject of bargain. R's action in referring to arbitration any matter connected with the appellant's reversionary right was therefore null and void. The award was based on the compromise and even if the appellant had had an existing right P would have had no power to enter into an arrangement which extinguished his interest practically without consideration. The compromise too was not for the benefit of the minor. The decree enforcing the award was based on the finding that K had by her husband R acquiesced in the reference to arbitration and that she had consented to the compromise and was therefore bound by the award the order of the District Judge which was affirmed by the High Court affected K's interest and hers only. The minor was not a party to the appeal to the High Court and the Civil Courts

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER—contd

did not in any way purport to deal with or adjudicate upon his reversionary right. The proceedings therefore culminating in the decree by which the appellant was sought to be bound were entirely devoid of the conditions on which alone a reversioner can be shut out from the assertion of his right which comes to him altogether independently of the female owner. Krishna Bai Char v. Jagoh of Shilongurga 2 Mco 1 4 329 distinguished. Asmita N. Pawan Singh v. Ganga Singh (1917) I L R 45 Cal 590

8 ————— Reversioners—Compromise of disputes between the widow of the last male reversioner who took the whole estate of a Hindu joint family by survivorship and other widows of family entitled only to maintenance and persons who claimed to have been adopted by one of the widows—Division of the property between them—Claims in favour of widow of sole male owner to share so far less than she is entitled to and after her position to her detriment—Future claim by alleged adopted son for possession of whole estate—Stoppage of claim of reversioner by compromise proceedings At the time of his death in 1833 B one of three brothers was by survivorship the sole owner of the estate of a Hindu joint family and his widow became entitled to that estate for life. Her title was however disputed by the present appellant and by P and K the widows of the predeceased brothers of B. The appellant set up a claim to the entire family estate based on the allegation that he had been adopted by P to her deceased husband and was entitled as such adopted son to the whole property. P supported his claim and together with K alleged that the three brothers had separated and that their three widows were each entitled to a one third share of the estate. To protect her own interest and those of her daughter the widow of B brought two suits, one of the 20th of January 1891 against the appellant and P for a declaration that the appellant's alleged adoption was null and void. That suit was dismissed on a technical ground and an appeal against the decree dismissing it was preferred to the High Court at Allahabad. The other suit was brought on the 4th of February 1892 against P and K claiming a declaration that B's late husband had been the sole owner and possessor of the entire family property that on his death she was herself in possession of and entitled to that property according to Hindu law and that P and K had no rights in it except to maintenance. Before the second suit came on for hearing B's widow her daughter P K and the appellant had on the 1st of August 1892 entered into a compromise referring their disputes to arbitration the result of which was that B's widow her daughter P and K each obtained possession of a one fourth share of the property in dispute. The appellant though allotted no share of the family property obtained the share allotted to his adoptive mother P who relinquished it to him by executing a deed on the 22nd of August 1898 in his favour. In the award it was set out that the appellant had been adopted by P but that he had nothing to do as such adopted son with the shares allotted to the other ladies. He obtained in accordance with P's deed of relinquishment mutation of names in his favour. The appeal in L's widow's first suit was not supported and was dismissed and the second suit was withdrawn. In suits filed respectively on the 18th of July 1910 and the 28th of August 1912 by the appellant for possession as reversioner to the estate of P of the properties allotted in January 183 to I a widow her daughter and A respectively. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the appellant was precluded from claiming as a reversioner by his having been a party to the compromise entered into in 189⁹ which and the awards made in accordance with it were binding on him. He had at that time no right of any kind to any share of the property of the family at best he had the mere expectancy of being reversioner on the death of P a widow. Sumsudhā Coolam Hussein v. Abd. Husein Kholmuddin 1 L R 31 Bom 161 distinguished. The claim of the appellant influenced by a widow who was induced mainly by that claim but also by the claim of P and K to consent to a division of the family property in which she only obtained a one fourth share. By those claims she was induced to agree to a compromise against her own interests and the good of her daughter and to alter her position greatly to her own detriment. The appellant was a party to it and under it he obtained a substantial benefit which he has ever since enjoyed. He was consequently bound by the compromise and could not now claim as a reversioner. KANAI LAL v. BIR LAL (1918) 1 L R 40 All 487

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER—contd

9 ——— Petersons consent — The consent given by the reversioners would certainly raise a presumption of the existence of legal necessity. SHYAMPRASAD DASIA v. EASTERN MORTGAGE CO (1917) 22 C W N 226

10 ——— Mortgage by widow — Suit for redemption filed by the widow — Dismissal of the suit on an alibi made by the widow — A previous suit — Appeal filed but withdrawn — Dismissal of the suit by reversioner for redemption — If a widow is not to have a trial of the right of reversioner — Fair trial — Per Judice — Limitation — The plaintiffs sued to redeem a mortgage of mortgaged dated the 2nd December 1811. It was executed by the widow of the last male holder and contained a Gahin Lahan clause that if the mortgage was not paid within a year the mortgagee should become the owner. In 1865 a suit was filed by the widow to redeem the mortgage. It was dismissed by the Munsif on the ground that the widow had admitted on 21st October 1865 in proceedings between the mortgagee and the plaintiff that the mortgagee had under the Gahin Lahan provision become the owner of the property. Against the decision an appeal was filed but it was withdrawn. The widow died in 1900 and in 1911 a suit was filed by the reversioner for the redemption of the mortgage of 1811. The defendants pleaded limitation and contended that the suit was barred by res judicata in consequence of the decree against the widow in the suit of 1865. Held (1) that the suit was not barred by res judicata as the decree in the Munsif's Court was given against the widow on a ground personal to her and therefore there was no fair trial of the right of the reversioner. (2) that the suit was not barred either by Art 141 or by Art 148 of the Limitation Act 1908 as it was brought within 12 years of the death of the widow and within 60 years of the mortgage. Per HAYWARD J. The rule laid down in Istama Natchiar v. The Pichay of Shuanganga 9 Moo 111 639 is a special rule applicable to the position of limited holders under Hindu law and not the general and strict rule of res judicata prescribed by s 11 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. This special rule has to be applied with due regard to the peculiar precautions necessary in this country to prevent the exercise of pressure over limited female holders to the prejudice of the rights of reversioners. The rule has therefore not to be interpreted with reference to the strict rules regarding fraud and irregularities required to invalidate decrees otherwise binding under the general law of procedure. BAI HAKU v. BAI JADAV (1919) 1 L R 43 Bom 809

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER—contd

11 ——— Reversioner — Widow's estate — Acceleration — Deed of gift by widow in favour of a daughter — Stipulation for maintenance of the widow for her life time — Nature of the transaction whether acceleration or alienation — One B made a gift of her widow's estate to her daughter I with a condition attached that I was to maintain B till her death. The lower Court held that the gift amounted to a valid acceleration of B's estate. On appeal to the High Court Held that there was no acceleration of B's estate for any consideration was sufficient to change the nature of the transaction from an acceleration to an alienation. ADIVEPPA v. TONTAIPA (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 955

12 ——— Compromise — Between two persons claiming absolute estate whether binding on reversioners — Where D who claimed certain property as the sole survivor of a Hindu joint family and J who claimed the property under the Will of her deceased husband a third party dispute by a compromise held that the plaintiff's heirs to the estate of the last male owner were not bound by the compromise to assign J's estate and he said to have represented the interests of the reversioners. JANAK KESHORI KUAR v. BANU DEBI PRASAD SINGH 9 Pat J 170

13 ——— Reversioner's right of life — Acceleration of intermediate female holders of the estate — A reversioner who is not the immediate reversioner but who is the immediate and surviving son is entitled to sue for a declaration invalidating the invalidity of transfers made by the widow of the last male owner notwithstanding that there may be other female lives between him and the estate. There is no legal necessity for a widow to mortgage the estate to a creditor for the marriage of a daughter until the mortgage has been finally settled. RAMAIA LAXMA v. RAMANANTHAN Pandr 4 Pat J 774

14 ——— Alienation by widow — Deed of gift by widow of the then surviving son — Subsequent suit by reversioner against J's death of widow — Res judicata — Held that a decree against a Hindu widow by the then next surviving reversioner declaring that a suit made by the widow would not be valid after her death would not operate as res judicata in a suit by the widow preferred by the next surviving reversioner after the death of the widow and the Munsif's Court. SUDHAKAR v. PILLAI v. SUBRAMANIAM 1 L R 313 All 138 38 Cal 480 481 130 Dnt Accr v. Munsif H. H. K. K. K. L. P. 101 1 150 referred to. DANABAI v. COVIND LAL 1 L R 47 All 838

15 ——— Reversioner's right of life — Property — Limitation — Act 17 of 1851 s 6 — Res judicata —

HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER—concl'd vested in a female heirress the interest of the reversioner is a mere chance of succession and cannot form the subject of any contract surrender or disposal. Sham Sundar v Achhan Kumar I L P 21 All 71 and Kishore Lal v Kance Pam Tewary I L P 29 Cal 355 followed. ANNADA MOHAN POY v GOPI MOHAN MALLIK (1921)

I L R 48 Cal 536

HINDU LAW—SELF ACQUISITION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 34 Bom 106

I L R 32 AU 305

Gains of science—Mital kara—Partition—Self acquired property—Astrology—Earnings made by unaided efforts without detriment to the family property. In a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara one of the sons obtained certain elementary education in astrology from his father but no money of the family was expended on that education. While still quite young this son ceased to live with the rest of the family continued his studies in astrology on his own account and ultimately managed by the exercise of his skill as an astrologer to acquire a considerable sum of money without detriment to the family property. Held that this money was his self acquisition and could not properly be regarded as belonging to the joint family. Katra Jaha a definition of acquisition through learning which is not participable cited in the Mitakshara [I 4 8] is not exhaustive but illustrative merely. Lachmin Awar v Debi Prasad I L R 20 All 435 and Pauliem Valoo Chetty v Pauliem Sooryab Chetty I L R 1 Mad 252 referred to. DUNOA DAT JOSHI v OANESH DAT JOSHI (1910)

I L R 32 All 305

Ancestral or self acquired property—Mitakshara School—Gift by owner of impartible estate of portion of property to younger son for maintenance of himself and his descendants—Property of ancestral or self acquired in grantee's hands. Where a Hindu instead of allowing his self acquired or separate property to go by descent makes a gift of it to his son or bequeaths it to him by will such property has been treated by the Calcutta High Court as ancestral property in the hands of the son as if he had inherited it from his father. Muddun Gopal v Ram Bulch 6 W R 71 followed. Authorities reviewed and the views taken by the other High Courts discussed. The decision of the Privy Council in Savitri Kuori v Deoraj Avari I L R 15 I 4 51 I L R 10 All 772 and Sri Paji Rao Venkata v Court of Wards I L R 96 I 4 83 I L P 92 Mad 383 recognized that the holder of an impartible estate has the right to alienate the estate without the consent of the next taker but they do not by necessary implication involve the conclusion that if the holder of the impartible estate by a testamentary disposition or otherwise carves out a portion thereof and grants it to his younger son for the maintenance of the son and his descendants such property becomes the self acquired property of the grantee liable to be capriciously alienated by him to the detriment of the grandsons of the grantor. Such property has all the incidents of ancestral property in the grantee's hands. Durga Dutt v Janeshwar I L R 36 Cal 943 13 C W N 1013 referred to. HAZARI MALL BANE v ANANDU ARUCHRYA (1912)

17 C W N 250

HINDU LAW—SELF ACQUISITION—concl'd

What constitutes an intention to convert self acquired property in a joint property. The mere fact that a Hindu and his adopted son lived together and that the latter assisted in the management of the adoptive father's property is not sufficient to warrant the presumption that the adoptive father had thrown his self acquired property into the common stock for the benefit of both himself and the adopted son. MOTILAL SYED TAJMUL ALI v JAGA MOHAN DAS I Pat L J 524

Self acquisition of father—Undivided son—Suit on promissory note after death of father—Whether success certificate necessary. In an undivided Hindu son acquires the self acquired properties of his deceased father by inheritance and not by survivorship. Observation in Varada Tacker v Rama Chandra Tacker (1919) I L P 37 Mad 377 dissented from in a suit by the son for the recovery of money which was the self acquired property of the deceased father a succession certificate must be produced before a decree can be given in his favour. Venkataranna v Venkayya (1891) I L R 14 Mad 377 followed. VAIRAVAN CHETTIAR v SIVAYASA CHAVIAR (1921)

I L R 44 (F B) 499

HINDU LAW—SETTLEMENT

Settlement of a portion of joint family properties on foster daughter in consideration of her marriage—Validity of settlement. A settlement of portion of joint family property by a Hindu in favour of his foster daughter in pursuance of a promise made by him in consideration of her marriage with another who offered to marry her on such a condition is not a gift but is valid and binding on the alienor's son to the extent of the alienor's share as an alienation for consideration. NANJUNDASWAMI CHETTIAR v KANA GARAJU (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 154

HINDU LAW—SHEBAST

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

Shebast's right to take a share of surplus income from offerings—Hindu widow succeeding to shebastship—Sale of right to take surplus offerings by creditor of widow in execution and purchase by himself—Suit by widow to set aside decree and sale as fraudulent—Dismissal of suit as barred under s 241 Civil Procedure Code (Act VI of 1882) if legit—Suit by reversioner for declaration of his right to surplus income—Limitation—Appropriation of income if amounts to dispossession of office or is act of ordinary trespass only—Res judicata. One of several co-heirs of a temple who was entitled to receive a 3½% share of the daily surplus income from the offerings to the temple having died, his widow succeeded to the shebasthip. A creditor of the widow obtained a decree against her and caused the 3½% share of the surplus daily offerings to be put up for sale and himself purchased it and from 1897 onwards went on appropriating the same. The widow's suit to set aside the sale on the ground that both the decree and the sale were fraudulent was dismissed on the view that her remedy was by application under s 244 of Act XIV of 1882 and not by a suit. The widow died in 1890 and the plaintiff her husband's reversionary heir brought this suit in 1910 for a declaration that he was entitled to receive the said 31 as share of the surplus income. The office of the shebat was a hereditary one which could not be held by any one who was not a Brahmin Pinda and the purchaser was not a Brahmin Pinda but a man of inferior caste who was not competent to hold the shebat's office or to provide for the performance of the duties of that office. Held that the appropriation from time to time by the purchaser of the income derivable from the 31 as share did not deprive G or the plaintiff of the possession of the office of the shebat although that income was receivable by them in right of the shebatship and Art 1-4 of the Limitation Act had no application to the case. By adversely taking and appropriating to his own use a share of the surplus daily income from the offerings the purchaser acquired no title and no right to a share of that income. On each occasion upon which he appropriated the share of the surplus income he committed a fresh actionable wrong in respect of which a suit could be brought against the shebat. The right to the office of the shebat did not arise from or depend upon the receipt of a share of the surplus daily income from the offerings although the right to receive it was attached to and dependent on the possession of the right to the shebatship. Held also that the defendant's further plea that the suit was barred by res judicata was unavailing. BHARATI THAKUR v JHARKA Dist (1914)

HINDU LAW—SHEBAIT—cont

I L R 42 Cal 244
18 C W 1 1029

HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

1 L R 37 Cal 363
1 L R 34 Bom 385
1 L R 39 Cal 319

1 ——— Succession—Executor conscione ly as beneficial owner—Construction—Inconsistency between recitals and operative part—All estate clause effect of—Partition—Permanent improvements—Enquiry. A Hindu governed by the Bengal school of Hindu Law died in 1896 leaving a will whereby he devised certain immovable property to his daughter A subject to certain charges by way of maintenance. Probate was granted to the executors B and others in 1897. A died in 1891 intestate leaving her surviving five sons B and four others a married daughter and two unmarried daughters the plaintiff and another. In 1900 a conveyance of the property was executed by B and his surviving brothers in favour of the defendants. This deed proceeded on the assumption that B and his brothers were absolutely and beneficially entitled to the property they how ever purported to convey all the estate right title interest claim and demand whatsoever of the vendors unto and upon the said property. On a suit instituted by the plaintiff for the declaration of her title to a moiety in the property and for partition—Held that inasmuch as on A's death the property devolved as her stridhan property on her unmarried daughters and as B did not purport to sell and convey as executor the plaintiff was entitled to a moiety in the property as against the defendant and that a decree for partition should be issued inasmuch as by a decree dated the 10th December 1903 the defendants became absolutely entitled to the moiety which had devolved on plaintiff's unmarried sister and as the defendant had expended money in improving the property—Held that there must be an account of the money expended by the defendant in permanent improvements since the 10th December 1903 and an enquiry as to the extent to which the present value of the property had been increased by the expenditure. LURA SUNDARI DIST v BIKRAJ NOLANI (1910)

HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN—cont

L R 37 Cal 362

2 ——— Aa mathas—Mitakshara—Mayukha—Law governing Kamothis who live in Bombay—Succession—Anrodheya Stridhan—Preference between husband and son born of adulterous intercourse—Shudras—Forms of marriage—Presumption as to form. The Kamathis settled in Bombay are governed for the purposes of inheritance by the law of the Mitakshara and the Mayukha where they agree but where they differ the Mayukha law must prevail. The stridhan of a female devolve on her death upon her husband in preference to the son born of her by adulterous intercourse. The law will even among Shudras presume the marriage to have been according to the approved form if the parties belonged to a respectable family. JAGANNATH RAJAGOPAL v KARAYAN (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 553

3 ——— Succession—Stridhan—Property acquired by adverse possession. Where a Hindu female acquires a title to property by means of adverse possession such property becomes her stridhan and descends as such to her heirs. Brij Indar Bohodur Singh v Ranee Jonkir Koer L R 51 A 1 and Mohim Chunder Sanyal v Kashi Kant Sanyal 2 C W N 161 followed. KANNAI RAM v MISAMMAT AMBI (1910)

I L R 32 All 188

4 ——— When certain property was acquired from earnings of husband and wife by trading jointly. Held her interest therein was her Stridhan. MUTHU RAMA KRISHNA NARAYAN v MASINOTHER GOUNDAN

I L R 33 Mad 1036

5 ——— Maiden's stridhan—Succession—Mitakshara—Father's brother's son—Sister's son. Under the Mitakshara school of Hindu law a sister (father's daughter) and a sister's son (father's daughter's son) are entitled to succeed to a maiden's stridhan in preference to a father's brother's son. Per N P CHATTERJEE J.—Under the Mitakshara law in the absence of any rule determining the nearer among relations of the father in case of succession to a maiden's stridhan the question should be decided by analogy to the order of succession to the stridhan of a childless woman married in a disapproved form so far as it is applicable for in both cases the succession is confined to the father's family. The stridhan of a childless woman married in a disapproved form devolves after the father in the same manner as if it had belonged to the father himself and the succession follows the order laid down in the text of Yajnavalkya regulating obstructed succession. Quare Whether the son or grand son of the father in such a case takes before the father or after him and before the other heirs mentioned in the said text. DWARKA NATH POKHRIAL v SARAT CHANDRA SINGH ROY (1911)

I L R 39 Cal 319
15 C W N 196

HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN—contd

6 ———— Deceased Hindu maiden—Stridhan—Compelling heirs—Father's sister—Father's male gotraja sapindas five or six degrees removed—Reference to father's sister In the case of a deceased Hindu maiden leaving surviving her father's sister and her father's male gotraja sapindas five or six degrees removed her stridhan goes to her father's sister in preference to his said male gotraja sapindas TEKARANI v NARAYAN PAH CHANDRA (1912) I L R 36 Bom 339

7 ———— Devolution—Mitakshara—Malyukha—Stridhan—Daughter's sons take severally and not jointly—Coparcenary—Basic notion of coparcenary—Obstructed and unobstructed succession—Estate by partition—Estate by birth—Dayada—Pikha—Interpretation—Self acquired property Property inherited by sons from their mother is not a joint estate but a tenancy in common according to both the Vyavahara Malyukha and the Mitakshara The basic principle of a joint tenancy or coparcenary under Hindu law explained A joint tenancy is property inherited as an unobstructed succession and is called rikha It devolves on the heirs as a coparcenary A tenancy in common is property inherited as an obstruction and is called samavibhaga because when the inheritance falls in it devolves on the heirs as a divided estate The terms self acquired property as distinguished from joint property explained Property originally self acquired because acquired without detriment to joint ancestral estate becomes joint when it has been mixed with and treated as part of the said joint estate by the coparceners BAI PARSON v BAI SOMJI (1912) I L R 36 Bom 424

8 ———— Stridhanar—Maiden's property—Sapindas right of inheritance of—Father's sister—Father's paternal uncle's son—Preferential heir—Texts of Baudhayana and Brihaspati—Mitakshara and Smriti Chandrika Under the Mitakshara Law the heirs to the stridhanam property of a maiden who died leaving neither uterine brothers nor mother nor father are the sapindas of her father and as between her father's paternal uncle's son and her father's sister the former is the preferential heir Text of Brihaspati held inapplicable Text of Baudhayana and commentaries of Mitakshara and Smriti Chandrika discussed Kamala v Bhagavathi (1915) I L R 33 Mad 45 followed SUNDARAM PILLAI v RAMASAMIA PILLAI (1920) I L R 43 Mad 32

9 ———— Half sister's son of Hindu widow—Probate application for—Daughter's son of the great-grandson of the great-great-grandfather of the testatrix husband's father preferential heir to half sister's son Under the Dayabhaga School of Hindu law a half sister's son of a widow is heir to her stridhan property in preference to the daughter's son of the great grandson of the great great grandfather of her husband and that therefore the latter has no locus standi to oppose an application for probate by the former of a will alleged to have been executed by the said widow in regard to such property Dasharathi Kundav Liptin Bhatrya Kendu I L R 32 Cal 51 and Bholanath Poo v Palkhal Das Mulharji I L R 11 Cal 69 referred to Chaloo Kurmi v Pajavaram Tevari 11 C L J 1-1 distinguished SHARAD BHUSHAN LAHRI v PAJENDRA NATH JORDAR (1917) I L R 40 Cal 82

HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN—contd

10 ———— Prostitute's property—Succession to The mere fact that a Hindu woman has adopted the life of a prostitute does not sever the tie which connects her to her kindred by blood and consequently her stridhan property passes upon her death in the absence of nearer heirs to her brother's son as an heir under the Bengal school of Hindu law Tara Juvce Dosrea v Motie Bunnace 7 Mac Sel Pep 35 81 D (O S) 47 Pannath Talapatro v Durga Sundri Devi 1 L R 14 Cal 550 In the goods of Kameswari money Bhuvi 1 L R 21 Cal 697 Ramananda v Raulshori Barmans 1 L R 23 Cal 347 Sarna Moyee Bera v Secretary of State for India 1 L R 25 Cal 251 and Sundari Lalani v Pitambari Lalani 1 L R 32 Cal 877 overruled so far as they hold that tie of blood is destroyed by unchastity or in the case of a Hindu woman by her adopting the life of a prostitute Biheshur v Mala Gholam 2 AR H C 500 Musaminat Ganga Jati v Ghasia 1 L R 1 All 46 Aditya v Padraia 1 L R 4 Bom 101 Konyadu v Lakshmi 1 L R 5 Mad 15 Suobar v P in v Ram sar Pillai 1 L R 23 Mad 171 Lhuthath Mondol v Secretary of State for India 10 C W 1032 Sundari Dasse v Nemy Charan Dutt 6 C L J 372 and Tripura Charan Bannerjee v Harimati Dasu 1 L R 38 Cal 493 approved Sutanganu v Vinai 1 L R 12 Mad 277 and Varasana v Ganga 1 L R 13 Mad 133 disapproved and dissented from HIRALAL SIVCHA v TRIPURA CHARAN PATEY (1913) I L R 40 Cal 650

11 ———— (Mitakshara)—Preference of co wife's daughter to sapindas of husband Under the Mitakshara law of inheritance the daughter of a co wife of a deceased woman married in one of the approved forms is entitled to succeed to her stridhanam property in preference to the sapindas of her husband such as his father's brother's son Placitum 11 of section XI of Chapter II Mitakshara applied Colebrooke's translation of sapinda in that placitum as kinsmen allied by funeral oblations is incorrect the correct meaning being kinsmen allied by affinity or persons allied to each other by possession of particles of the same body According to the above text the stridhanam property of a woman married according to an orthodox form who has left no issue will devolve on her husband and on failure of the husband the property will go to his sapindas in the order laid down in the Mitakshara with reference to the succession to the property of a male Yenlatasubramanian Chetti v Thayaramma 1 L R 21 Mad 263 Gopal v Shrimant Shakharrao Maloji Raja Bhole 1 L R 17 Bom 113 117 Jaganath Prasad Gupta v Purnot Singh 1 L R 25 Cal 351 367 Iris nas v Sripathi 1 L R 30 Bom 333 Bai Jessorbai v Hunsry Torari 1 L R 50 Bom 31 Thakoor Deyke v Pat Baul Pam 11 Moo 1 A 139 175 and Champat v Shiba 1 L R 8 All 393 applied West and Buhler v J8 T Arishassami Aiyas translation of Smriti Chandrika Chapter IX section III verse 83 Golab Chandra Sircar Sastri Hindu Law 4th edition p 461 and Bhat charya v Hindu Law p 650 referred to NAVYA PILLAI v SIVABAGATHACHARI (1913) I L R 36 Mad 116

12 ———— Widow's estate—Alienation—Property acquired by Hindu widow with accretions of income of husband's estate Property acquired by a Hindu widow with accumulations of

HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN—contd.

son son Bai PAMAN : JAGJHANDAS KASHI
DAS (1917) 1 L R 41 Bom 616

19 ————— Ajautuka—Srikan succ son to—Son or married daught r—Property wh ther jautuka or ajautuka—One The commonly ac cepted view of the succe ion of ajutuka property of a Divyabaga Hindu woman is that the ons and the maiden daughters are entitled to it in equal share but the married dau,hte are post poned to the son DELANBY v IRAN HANI
(1915) 22 C W B 993

20 ———— Husband's younger brother or son adopted—F's father after mother's death and marrying a second wife—Succession Act (X of 1863) s 111 & a daughter of D by his first wife to whom D by his will had bequeathed an annuity which in the event of her death was to pass to her heirs having died a widow without issue the question was whether her husband's younger brother or a boy adopted by D after the death of his first wife and marriage of a second wife was the preferential heir Held that the husband's younger brother was entitled to the annuity in preference to the adopted son of D That s 111 of the Succession Act did not apply and as heirs were not precluded from claiming the annuity by reason of D having survived the testator (CRANFORD DIST: DRAKE LORAINA Fox (1919) 23 C W N 1038

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

See AGRICULTURAL ACT 1901 s. 2.

See HINDU LAW—Co partner See HINDU LAW—Crown
I L R 32 All 363

See HINDU LAW—SURVIVORSHIP
I L R 33 Mad 165

— grandfather's daughter's son—
See Will 24 C W N 316

1 ——— Stridhan—Dagmbhag—Ayuntula stridhan—Succession—Property of childless widow —Step-brother—His band's younger brother Under the Dababhaga law the younger brother of the husband of a childless widow is entitled to succeed to her ayuntula stridhan property in preference to her step-brother DEBIPRASADNA ROY CHOW DURY P. HARENDRA NATH CHOW (1910).
I L R 37 Cal 863

2. Anvithya stri
dhan—Sons and daughters ucces equally.—Among daughters unmarri I have preference.—Hogal h
 A Hindu female governed by the Mayukha died leaving property which she inherited from her father under a deed of gift subsequent to her marriage. She left her surviving three daughters and one son. A dispute as to succession having arisen.—Held that the property being anvithya stri dhan should be divided equally among her son and daughters with the difference however as to the latter that the unmarried should have preference over the married. Sahab v. Haji Iyeb Haji 1 Shimul 3 L P 2 Lom 11a and Singhai v. Basantnath 3 Lom L 1 991 followed.
DATALDAS LALDAS v. SANTERIBAI (1909)
 I L R. 34 Bom 385

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

3 — Step mother—Mitakshara—Forthrights on—Cotraya ipinda—Letters of Administration In the Bengal Presidency under the interpretation of the Mitakshara law as a capital in the districts governed by that law a step mother is not entitled to succeed to the estate of her step-son either as a gotami ipinda or to prefer him to the father's sisters or the Jais Lal Durain Koor B L P Sup 1 of 6 Kunnara rela v Barana Coundin I L P 3 Mal 3
Ma ammal v Sengad's son Immal I L P 5
Mal 3 and Pina Nani v Surjani I L P
16 Ill - 2 I referred to Kewar's v Lalib Riji
I L 1 4 Bom 188 Lalib Riji v Durbak v Cawth
I L P 5 Pom 110 and Ramesh's v Zol' Lalib
I L 1 19 Bom 100 not followed having regard to the prin apl laid down in Coll' or of Malici v Moor's Pridinja Sathupathy I L Mor 1 39
Tahalbat Kharat Cava Lershad Saul (1903)
I L R 37 Cal 214

4 ——— Uncle of half blood — merit
 shra — Competition between uncle of the half blood and the son of an uncle of the whole blood. Held that according to the Hindu law of the Mitak shra school an uncle of the half blood is needs in preference to the son of an uncle of the whole blood the former being nearer in propinquity than the latter. Sut: Si gh v Sira/r: Ku car
 1 L 1 19 11 15 sh ra u bel heser v
 Ganga Sahai (1910) 1 L P 32 All 541

5 ————— Step brother—Mitakshara—Akhan Thakur—Step-brother if one succeed equally with brother of whole blood—Special family custom contrary to Mitakshara—Proof—Wajid ul-ar entries in—Value a evidence of custom Under the Mitakshara law a brother of the whole blood is entitled to succeed to a estate of a deceased brother in preference to a step brother and in the absence of evidence sufficient to establish such a special custom in the family as to rebut the ordinary presumption that the Mitakshara law prevailed the claim of the step-brother to an equal share was properly rejected. There is no class of evidence which is more likely to vary in value according to circumtances than that of Wajid ul-ar Muhammad Ismail Ali Khan v Sardar Hussain Khan L R 31 4 161 169 s c 2 C W N 73; Musammat Parbati Kuntar v Rani Chandrapal Kuntar L R 36 1 125 s c 1 C W N 103 followed. Where from an internal evidence it seemed probable that the entries recorded connoted the views of individual as to the practice they would wish to see prevailing rather than the ascertained fact of a well established custom. Held that the Court in India had properly attached weight to the fact that no evidence at all was forthcoming of any instance in which the alleged custom had been observed. THAKUR ANANT SINGH v THAKUR DILPA SINGH (1910)
1 L R 32 All 362
14 C W N 770

6 ——— Daughter s daughter s son—
Mitak hana—Bin thu—Attention b/ Mitak w low —Legal necessity Held that under the Mitak shara bin a daughter s daughter s son is a barth and in the absence of any other h r is entitled to su ced to the estate of the last owner. (Juzhia
v Purniwar U r I L R 31 Ill 481 followed RAN I HAL THAKUR v IAN MATI LADAY (1910)
I L R 32 All 640

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

with and devolve on the spiritual head thereof it is not necessary to show not only that in some instances the properties had so passed to the spiritual head but also that this had taken place in the presence of a chela who would otherwise have been competent to take by inheritance. Cossary Ramdhan Luit v Gossain Dalmir Puri (1909) 14 C W N 181

12 ———— Unchaste widow—Unchastity of widow no bar to her right of succession to her son There is no authority for holding that a Hindu lady who after her husband's death has waited and then gone to live with another man is thereby excluded from inheritance to the estate left by her son. Dal Singh v Mersamiat Dyal (1909) 1 L R 32 All 155

13 ———— Ayatuka stridhan—Succession Under the Dayabhaga the husband's younger brother is entitled to succeed to the ayutuku stridhan property of a childless woman in preference to a step brother. Debi Prasanna Poul v Harpendra Nath Choudh (1910) 15 C W N 383

14 ———— Mother's unchastity—Mitalshara—Unchastity of mother no bar to her inheritance on estate Held that unchastity does not preclude a Hindu mother from succeeding to her son's property. Ganga Jai v Ghasia 1 L R 1 All 10. Dal Singh v Dny 1 L R 3 All 155 and Vedammal v Velanayaga Mudalar 1 L R 31 Mad 100 followed. Baldeo Singh v Mathura Kuttan (1911) 1 L R 33 All 702

15 ———— Nambudris in Malabar—Self-acquired property of Nambudri Brahman does not pass to the undivided family but to his heirs under Hindu Law Nambudri Brahmans are governed by Hindu Law except in so far as it is shown to have been modified by usage or custom having the force of law the probable origin of the special usage being either some doctrine of Hindu Law as it stood at the date of their settlement in Malabar though now obsolete or some Varanah malakanyam usage. The Hindu Law applicable is that laid down in the Mitalshara. The self-acquisition of a Nambudri Brahman passes to his heirs under the Mitalshara Law and not to the undivided family to which he belongs. No Marumakkattayam usage has influenced the family law of Nambudris in this respect and no doctrine of ancient Hindu Law denied the right of the son to succeed to the separate property of father. Vasiraju Nambudri v Arakkam (1910) 1 L R 24 Mad 496

16 ———— Prostitute's estate—Stridhan—Severance as effect of degradation—Succession to property of degraded woman The absolute property of a Hindu prostitute is to be treated as her stridhan for the purposes of succession. So far as succession is concerned the degradation suffered by prostitution severs a woman from her natural relations at the moment she becomes degraded, but not from her sons or chaste daughters born after degradation. In the goals of Kaminymoney Bewah, 1 L R 1 21 Cal 69; Sarnamoyee Bewah v Secretary of State for India 1 L R 25 Cal 251; Dhruv Nath Mondol v Secretary of State for India 10 C B 1 108; Varasanna v Gangai 1 L R 13 Mad 133 followed. Taramunnee Das v Motee Buncane (1916) S D A 37. Sivasangu v Minal, 1 L R 12

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

Mad 277 approved but distinguished. Sunda v Dassi v Venkay Charan Dair 6 C L J 372. Subbaraya Pillai v Ramasami Pillai 1 L R 23 Mad 151. Narain Das v Trilok Thwari 1 L R 29 All 4 not followed. TRIPURA CHURAN BANERJEE v HARIMATI DASSI (1911) 1 L R 38 Cal 493

17 ———— Impartible property—Mitalshara—Succession—Impartible property governed by the rule of primogeniture nevertheless joint property Where ancestral property is impartible and is held by a single member of the family all the members of the family must be deemed to be joint in estate and the rule of succession to the property is the same as that which governs the case of partible property so that a junior member of the family who gets maintenance from the person holding the impartible estate succeeds upon his death to the estate by right of survivorship. Whatever may be the powers of alienation of the holder of an impartible estate the succession to it is governed not by the rule which applies to separate property but by the rule of survivorship. Therefore the person who succeeds to the estate does not do so as the heir or legal representatives of his predecessor and the estate cannot be regarded as the assets of the last previous holder. Harpal Singh v Bishan Singh 6 L J J 53 followed. Raja of Kala hasi v Achyad 1 L R 31 Mad 451 and Zamin dar of Karidnagar v Trustee of Turumalai 1 L R 3 Mad 429 dissented from. INDAR SEN SINGH v HARPAL SINGH (1911) 1 L R 34 All 79

18 ———— Great grandson of the grandfather—Mitalshara—Succession—Grandson of the great-grandfather According to the Mitalshara law the three immediate descendants of the grandfather succeed in preference to the great grandfather and his descendants, and the great grandson of the grandfather is a preferential heir as against the grandson of the great-grandfather. The following cases were referred to in the judgments delivered—Kahan Rai v Pann Chander 1 L R 1 All 125. Rutheputty Dutt Ila v Pajun der Narain Kay, 2 Moo 1 A 133. Kashibai Ganesb v Sitabai Pajunath Shirmam 13 Bom L R 552. Pachara v Kalingappa 1 L R 16 Bom 716. Kureem Chand Curain v Oodung Curain 6 W R 153. Charanami Pillai v Kunja Pillai 1 L R 30 Mad 132. Bhyan Pann Singh v Bhayan Ugur Singh 13 Moo 1 1 373 and Saraya Bhukta v Lakshmi Arasamma 1 L R 5 Mad 231. BUDDHA SINGH v LALU SINGH (1912) 1 L R 34 All 683

19 ———— Step sister—Vyavahara Mayukha—Succession—Paternal uncle—Priority According to Hindu Law as administered under the Vyavahara Mayukha, the half sister of the proposer is entitled to succeed in preference to his paternal uncle. TRIKAM PURSHOTTAM v NATHA DASI (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom 120

20 ———— Maiden's stridhan—Mitalshara—Stridhan—Father's brother's son—Sister's son Under the Mitalshara school of Hindu Law a sister (father's daughter) and a sister's son (father's daughter's son) are entitled to succeed to a maiden's stridhan in preference to a father's brother's son. PER N R CRATTENJEE J Under the Mitalshara law in the absence of any rule determining the nearness among relations of the father in case of succession to a maiden's

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

with the question should be decided by analogy to the order of succession to the stridhan of a childless woman married in a disapproved manner so far as it is applicable in both cases as succession is confined to the father's family. The position of a childless woman married in a disapproved form devolves, after the father in the same manner as if it had belonged to the father himself and the succession follows the order laid down in the text of Yajñavalkya regulating obsequies succeeded by Quare. Whether the son or grandson of the father in such a case takes before the father or a son or son and before the other heirs mentioned in the said text. DWARAKA NATH ROY v. SAKAT CHANDRA SINGH 101 (1911)

1 L R 39 Cal 310
15 C W N 1036

21 ———— Succession among collateral sapindas—Mitakshara Law—Brother's son in Vetalara does not include brother's grand-son—Under Mitakshara Law it is determining priority among uncles, great uncles, not spiritual efficacy but nearness of relationship—Brother's great grandson succeeds in preference to uncle's grandson. The word sons in the text of the Vitalara Chap II a 1 verse 2 a IV verses 7 and 8 and in a verse 1 should not be given an extended meaning so as to include the grandsons. In enumerating therefore the heirs in the ascending line or among collaterals in the passages above stated Vigneneswara did not mean to include in the words sons the grandsons as well whether of the brother the paternal uncle or the great uncle. Such grandsons cannot claim rights of inheritance as heirs enumerated in the above texts. Lakshmi Narasamma v. Jagannadai 1 L R 5 Mad 291 approved Kahan Bai v. Pamachandra 1 L R 21 All 159 followed. In the case of competition between sapindas not enumerated in the above texts the nearest sapinda entitled to succeed must be determined not by considerations of superior religious efficacy but by nearness of relationship and preference should be given to the sapinda belonging to the nearer line. This great principle pervading the law of inheritance under the Mitakshara system is that the nearer line excludes the more remote. The brother's great grandson succeeds in preference to the uncle's grandson. CHINNAYAN PILLAI v. KUNGU PILLAI (1911) 1 L R 35 Mad 152

22 ———— Stridhan succession in—Step sister's son as heir. A step sister's son is a preferential heir to a woman's stridhan to the daughter's son of the great grand-son of the great grandfather of the woman's husband. SASI BHUSAN LAHRI v. RAJENDRA NATH JOHARDAR (1912) 16 C W N 1094

23 ———— Mitakshara—Succession—Priority—Full sister—Son of a separated half brother—Civil Procedure Code (Act 5 of 1908) s 11—Res judicata between co-defendants. Under the Mitakshara the son of a separated half brother is entitled to succeed in preference to a full sister of the propositus. Lhagwan v. Varubai 1 L R 2 Bom 300 followed. Per SHAH, J.—In order that any decision between co-defendants might operate as res judicata in any subsequent suit between them it is necessary to establish that there was a conflict of interests among the defendants, and that there was a judgment defining the real rights and obligations of the defendants inter

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

P. P. v. Andra Narayan v. Narayan Vihadai 1 L R 11 Bom 216 followed. HARI ANNADI v. VASDEV JAYARDAN (1914)

1 L R 38 Bom 438

24 ———— Step mother cannot inherit under Mitakshara law—But may inherit according to a special caste custom. A step mother is not to be allowed to inherit to her step son as a pitruya sayajula. Mrs v. Chinnammal 1 L R 8 Mad 10 explained. The Vitalara law (apart from usage) does not recognise a step mother as in the line of heirs at all. Property should go to the Crown in preference to her. This case was remanded on the following additional issue (inter alia) whether according to the usage of the caste to which she and the first defendant belong the step mother is entitled to inherit to her step son? SEETHAI v. NACHIAR (1914) 1 L R 37 Mad 288

25 ———— Custom of primogeniture—Illegation of family or local custom—What must be proved—Continuity and immemorial user—Onus—Finding that custom proved in finding of fact—Record of rights pending suit—Judgment of revenue officer in settlement proceedings of evidence in suit—Illustration proceeding finding in favour of custom recorded at and based upon hearsay. Whether certain facts found by the lower Appellate Court (and as such binding on the High Court) do or do not establish an alleged custom of primogeniture is a question of law. Where a party relies upon a special custom of a family to take the succession out of the ordinary Hindu Law such custom must be proved to be ancient and continuous. The alleged custom must be very satisfactory proved by evidence of particular instance so numerous as to justify the Court in finding in favour of the custom. Where subsequently to the institution of the suit and at the attestation stage of proceedings for preparation of record of rights an Assistant Settlement Officer found upon information gathered from the tehsildar of the Raja's estate that the custom of primogeniture prevailed among Kurmi Mahtos in 81 out of 81 of the villages within the estate and the lower Appellate Court relying upon this judgment found the custom established in the village in suit the parties being Kurmi Mahtos. Held that apart from the circumstance that the fact of the record of rights having been completed since the institution of the suit affected the value and importance of the decision of the Settlement Officer his judgment had no effect for a purpose for which it was not admissible in law. That reliance might possibly have been placed upon it to show that the custom was recognised by the revenue authorities but the finding of the Settlement Officer could not be incorporated into the evidence in the case and treated as practically conclusive between the parties. That whether the Assistant Settlement Officer was competent or not to act upon information gathered from the Raja's tehsildar (which was clearly not legal evidence) that statement of the tehsildar was inadmissible in evidence in the Civil Court. DITTA CHARAN MAHTA v. RAJENDRANATH MAHTO (1913) 18 C W N 55

26 ———— Succession to a yati (religious ascetic)—Chela or swya (disciple or pupil) of Hindu religious ascetic or mendicant—Heirs natural and special under rules of Hindu Law. A Brahmin who had left his home in early life and settled in Burzahavar in Calcutta, where he lived the life of a Hindu mendicant and practised religious austerities but dressed himself in ordinary cloths and deposited monies with firms in Burrabazar on interest and had also acquired property in the Punjab cannot be taken to have renounced the world and was not a yati or a religious ascetic in the sense of the Hindu Law and on his death his natural heirs under the ordinary rules of the Hindu Law are entitled to succeed to his property. Nor was the plaintiff who claimed to be the heir of the deceased Brahmin as his chela his satishya or virtuous pupil in the sense of the Hindu Law and was not entitled to succeed against his natural heirs who have proved themselves to be his legal heirs. GOURI SUNKER BIAS & NISDER SENGH (1913) 18 C W N 59

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

27 ————— Dayabhaga School—Doctrine of spiritual benefit—Paternal great grand father's son's daughter & son and maternal uncle who is preferable Under the Dayabhaga School of Hindu Law the paternal great grand father's son's daughter & son of a deceased Hindu is preferable to his mother's brother as heir even though the latter is specifically mentioned in the Dayabhaga as an heir and the former is not and his precise position in the category of heirs is not laid down in the case of Guru Govind & Ananda Lal 13 B P F B 49 & Braja Lal & Jiban Krishna 1 L P 26 Cal 385 referred to KAILASH CHANDER ADRIKARI & KARUNA NATH CHOWDHRY (1913) 18 C W N 477

28 ————— Daughters inheriting father's estate jointly—Death of one—The other if succeeds to deceased's interest as reversionary heir—Adverse possession for more than twelve years during both daughters' lifetime—Surviving daughter's right to recover moiety after belonging to deceased arises from her death—Limitation Act (I) of 1908) Sec 1 of Art 141 Where one of two daughters of a Hindu who inherited his property died the survivor did not acquire in the interest enjoyed by the deceased a title of the nature described in Art 141 of Sec 1 of the Limitation Act. Where after both daughters had been kept out of possession for more than 12 years one of them died and the other by some means or other got back possession. Held that she could not maintain her possession against the person who by 12 years adverse possession had acquired title in the entire property including the interest of the deceased daughter to which she succeeded by survivorship and not by inheritance. SACHINDR & KHEMORA DEB & RAJANI KANT CHUCK ZABUTY (1914) 18 C W N 904

29 (a) ————— Held that under the Mitakshara Law the preference of heirs of the whole blood to those of the half blood is confined to Sapindas of the same degree of descent from the common ancestor where therefore the choice of heirs lay between Sapindas of different degrees an uncle of the half blood as being less remote from the common ancestor is a preferential heir to the sons of an uncle of the whole blood. The Provisions of s 317 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 were designed to create some check on the practice of making so called benami purchases at execution sales for the benefit of judgment debtors and in no way affects the title of persons otherwise beneficially interested in the purchase. CANDIA SARAI & ANANT 1 L R 37 All 545

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

29 ————— Mitakshara—Sapindaship Definition of if governs inheritance or marriage only —Bhinnagotra sapindas or bandhus who may succeed as—Limit of five degrees and mutuality to be satisfied—Classes of bandhus enumerated in Mitakshara is to be extended—Interpretation of rule of Hindu Law—Sust in eyement—Plaintiff is strictly proved title Sapinda relationship according to the Mitakshara is based not on the presentation of funeral oblations but on descent from a common ancestor and in the case of females also on marriage with descendants from a common ancestor this relationship exists—not merely for purposes of marriage but generally and therefore for purposes of inheritance also—after the seventh degree from the common ancestor on the father's side and fifth on the mother's. The word bandhu in the system of the Mitakshara bears a distinct and technical meaning signifying the Bhinnagotra sapindas and the limitation of the five degrees clearly applies and can only apply to the Bhinnagotra sapindas. Besides being within the fifth degree from the common ancestor a bandhu to be entitled to succeed to the inheritance must be so related to the propositus that they are apindas to each other. Held accordingly that the plaintiff who were the paternal grand father's son's son's daughter's daughter's sons of the propositus were not his heirs both because they were his Bhinnagotra beyond the fifth degree and also because the element of mutuality was wanting between them and the propositus. The ruling in Grindani Lal & The Pungal Government 12 Moo I A 448 that the enumeration of bandhus who were entitled to succeed is not exhaustive but merely illustrative hardly warrants the conclusion that the classes specified by Vyasa were atma bandhus pitri bandhus matni bandhu can be added to Lalibhai & Mankuwarai 1 L R 2 Bom 533 Prasad Baladhar & Uday Chandra 4 C B 868 & 1 L R 33 Mad 61 Babu Lal & Yanku Ram 1 L R 2 Cal 339 referred to. The Hindu Law contains its own principles of exposition and questions arising under it can not be determined on abstract reasoning or analogies borrowed from other systems of law but must depend for their decisions on the rules and doctrines enunciated by its own law givers and recognised expounders. YAMUNDA PRASAD WATIA & VINAY KAKRESK KOTHEKAR (1914) 18 C W N 1154

18 C 41 I A 290

30 ————— Mitakshara—Ch II s 3 pl 4 and 5—Mayukha Ch VII pl 18—Compact series of heirs—Brother's widow—Sapinda—Uncle's sons—Brother's widow nearer heir The widow of a brother of the deceased is as a sapinda a nearer heir of the deceased than his paternal uncle's sons. BARANAGUDA & BARANAGUDA (1914) 1 L R 39 Bom 87

31 ————— Mitakshara Ch ples II s 8 para 2—Claims by plaintiff as karta of a deceased Hindu to recover the property of a deceased Hindu—Claim not maintainable on the ground of custom and Hindu Law—Bairagis—Sanyasis—He is not ascetic student in theology—He is a receiver of virtuous gifts and spiritual brother is receiver order The plaintiff claiming as a Potri Chela of a deceased Bairagi failed to recover the property of the deceased. Held dismissing the suit that both on the ground of custom and on the ground of Hindu Law the plaintiff had failed to make out his case. The

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

40 ————— Sudra—Illegitimate son not allowed collateral succession. On the death of a Sudra his property was claimed by two persons one of whom was his divided brother and the other was the illegitimate son of his father—Held that the former was entitled to succeed since the illegitimate son was under Hindu Law excluded from all collateral succession. Kaaji v. Mahala v. Balaji Lalad Kaloji (1909) 31 Bom 321. Shame Naniar Rajendra Varere v. Rajeswaranna Jangam (1898) 21 All 99 and Ramalinga Muppan v. Paradas Goundan (1901) 25 Mad 519 followed. Dharma Lakshman v. Satharam Panjirao (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 185

41 ————— Sudras—Leva Kumbis of Chanddeo in the East Khandesh District whether Sudras—Illegitimate sons dividing property with legitimate sons mother entitled to a share. Leva Kumbis residing at Chanddeo in the East Khandesh District are Sudras. Under Hindu Law even when amongst the Sudras, the illegitimate sons divide the property with the legitimate sons the mother is entitled to a share. Manoharam Bheku v. Datre (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 166

42 ————— Brahmins of tahsil Khair District Ambala—father's sister's sons or village proprietors—Limitation—presumption in favour of continuance of life—onus of proving death. Plaintiffs the father's sister's sons of one Sardha deceased sued for possession of the latter's land which had been taken possession of by the village proprietors on the death of Musammot Atri the widow of Male father of Sardha. The deceased was a Brahman and the village proprietors (defendants) are Pujyats. The suit was instituted on the 6th May 1914 and the only evidence as to the date of Musammot Atri's death was a report of the Patwars in September 1902 to the effect that she died in May 1902. The Lower Appellate Court held that the plaintiffs were heirs by Hindu Law and that the claim was within time. The defendants appealed to the High Court. Held that by the Mitakshara system of Hindu Law the father's sister's sons are heirs. Tohalida Kumari v. Gaya Pershad (1 L R 37 Cal 214) and Mayne's Hindu Law 8th Edition Chap XVI p 704 and Trevelyan's Hindu Law 2nd Edition, p 402 referred to. Held also that there is a presumption in favour of continuance of life and that in the absence of proof by the defendants that Musammot Atri died before the 4th of May 1902 she must be presumed to have died after that date and the suit was consequently within time. ANZEN Ais and Woodroffe's Law of Evidence 5th Edition p 632 referred to. TANI v. RIRIN RAM

1 L R 1 Lah 554

43 ————— Khatri—Sister of father's father's son's daughter's son—Adoption not in Dattaka form—whether adopted son entitled to collateral succession—Will of widow—validity of—possessory title. Plaintiff claimed a house and some moveable property as heir to her deceased brother. Harnam Das son of Jai Ram. Plaintiff alleged also that she had got possession of the property on the death of Musammot Ind Kaur the widow of Harnam Das, and had been forcibly dispossessed by the defendant. The latter was the daughter's son of Ram Chaml, brother of Jai Ram and was adopted by his maternal grandfather. He also claimed under a will made by Musammot Ind Kaur in his favour. It was found as a fact that the adoption of defendant was not made in the

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

Dattaka form also that the plaintiff never got peaceful and exclusive possession of the property after the death of Musammot Ind Kaur. Held that the adoption of the defendant not being in accordance with the Dattaka form the latter was not entitled under the Mitakshara School of Hindu Law to succeed collaterally. Juran Mal v. Janna Das (67 I L R 1911) followed. Held also that by Hindu Law a widow's powers of alienation are restricted to religious purposes and the fact that there are no heirs capable of taking at her death does not affect these powers and consequently the will of Musammot Ind Kaur conferred no title on defendant. The Collector of Masulipatam v. Cavaiah Venkata Vennarayana (8 Moo I A 529 551 P C) and Pandharinath Vishwanath v. Govind Shuram (1 L R 32 Bom 59 71) followed. Alla Ditta v. Gauria (3 P R 1914) distinguished. Held further that by Mitakshara Law the plaintiff as a sister is not entitled to succeed against the defendant who cannot be said to be a total stranger being the daughter's son of the deceased's uncle. Shambu Nath v. Musammot Rali (52 Indian Cases 591) and Mayne's Hindu Law 8th Edition p 744 para 534 followed. Nanak Gur v. Musammot Kishan Kaur (161 P P 1919) distinguished. Held moreover that defendant as a father's father's son's daughter's son is a bandhu and has a better title than the plaintiff. Mulla's Hindu Law 3rd Edition pp 58 and 59 referred to also Abdul Hamid v. Surbular Khan (78 P R 1902). Held finally that the fact that there was a scramble for possession on the death of the widow Musammot Ind Kaur and plaintiff as well as defendant put a lock on the door of the house is not sufficient to establish plaintiff's peaceful and exclusive possession so as to entitle her to a decree for possession on the basis of her possessory title. In a suit on possessory title a plaintiff must prove more than what is necessary for him to do in a suit under the Specific Relief Act. Abdul Hamid v. Surbular Khan (78 P R 1902) referred to. TIRTH RAM v. MUSAMMAT KAHAN DEVI 1 L R 1 Lah 588

44 ————— Bengal and Benares Schools—

Succession—brother's daughter—whether a bandhu. The plaintiff the brother's daughter of one Mani Ram deceased sued for a declaration that Jagriti Mal had not been adopted by Mani Ram or his widow. The Lower Court dismissed the suit on the ground of limitation. The plaintiff appealed to the Chief Court and it was contended by the defendants respondents that even if the suit was not barred by limitation the plaintiff not being a bandhu with rights of inheritance had no locus standi to bring the suit. Held that by the Bengal and Benares Schools of Hindu Law the only females entitled to inherit are the widow the daughter the mother the father's mother and the father's father's mother and that consequently plaintiff as a brother's daughter had no locus standi to bring the present suit. Gauri Sahai v. Pulkio (1 I R 3 All 45) Jagat Narain v. Sheo Das (1 I R 5 All 311) Nani v. Gauri Shankar (1 L R 28 All 15) Jagan Nath v. Clampa (1 I R 21 All 407) Joglamba Koer v. Secretary of State (1 L R 16 Cal 47 310) Musammot Bibi v. Sodhan v. Harna Singh (1 P R 1916) and Sham Lal Nath v. Musammot Pali (Indian Cases 597) followed. Mulla's Hindu Law 3rd Edition p 69 Ghose's principle of Hindu Law Vol 1 3rd Ed p 156, Pama Krishna's Hindu Law Vol

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

11 p. 150 and Mayne's Hindu Law 5th Edition paras. 10-12 referred to. High Court of Madras (1 L. L. 2) All 1911 decided from Mulatai Chitra Lal v. Lal (1914) P. L. 1852 and Manal Chitra v. Manal (1914) P. L. 1852. Mayne's Hindu Law (161 I. L. 1919) distinguished. It is settled Devika Devi v. Jagir Lal 1 L. R. 1 Lah 609

41 a) ———— Mother & Sister & Son & Son— If to be preferred to the paternal aunt & son—Atma bandhu is to be preferred over pitru bandhu in question of propinquity and religious efficacy—Son includes son's son—Sapinda is to be preferred. Under the Mitakshara law the mother's sister & son & son of the deceased propositus is preferred as heir to his mother's paternal aunt & son. In families governed by the law of the Mitakshara the right of succession amongst the three classes of bandhus mentioned in the Mitakshara Chap. 15 sec. 6 is governed by the propinquity of the class and a pitru bandhu does not succeed until the class of atma bandhu is exhausted and a matru bandhu does not succeed until the classes of atma bandhu and pitru bandhu are exhausted. The rule preferring the nearer to the more remote class of bandhus is not dependent on individual propinquity or on the efficacy of offerings to the deceased person. Bandhus exist in order to be heritable in a female line fall within the fifth degree from the common male ancestor and must be so related to the deceased person that they are mutually sapindas of one another that is persons connected by particles of one body. The grandson of a mother's sister falls within the general description of an atma bandhu a person related to the propositus himself and is not to be excluded only because he is not mentioned among the illustrations in the text of the Mitakshara. Mulluswami Mudaliyar v. Simambedu Muthu Kumaraswami Mudaliyar L. P. 23 I. A. 83 & c. 1 L. P. 19 Mad 405 (1896). Buddha Singh v. Lallu Singh L. P. 42 I. A. 208 & c. 90 C. W. N. 1 (1915). Ramchandra Marland Waskar v. Vinayar Venkatesh Kotekar L. R. 41 I. A. 290 & c. 1 L. P. 42 Cal 384 18 C. W. N. 1154 (1914). Arishna Ayyangar v. Venkatarama Ayyangar 1 L. P. 29 Cal 115 (1905) or 1 Bas 141 v. Bas. Prabhalakshmi v. Bas 1 L. P. 1129 (1907) referred to. ADIT NARAYAN SINGH & MAHARAJ PRASAD TEWARI (I. C.) 25 C. W. N. 842

44(b) ———— Family Law Renounced if Governed by Succession—For persons immigrated from another place—Succession to Hindu whose family immigrated from another place—Mahratta Brahmin emigrating and settling in the Central Provinces—No proof that he renounced his old family law—Daughter inherits absolutely under Mayukha the personal law of the individual whose succession is in question—Influence of commentaries upon Hindu Law—Effect of domicile—Judicial decision operates retrospectively—Amongst Hindus the law of succession in any given case is to be determined according to the personal law of the individual whose succession is in question. If nothing is known about a man but his place of residence it will be assumed that his personal law is the law which prevails in that place. But this is only a presumption and may be rebutted by evidence that the family had migrated from some other place where another system of personal law prevailed in which case the law must be the family law as it was when the family emigrated. It is open to proof that he has renounced the law prevailing in his place of origin and accepted that prevailing in his place of domicile. The personal law of a Mahratta Brahmin whose ancestors had at one time lived in Maharashtra in the Bombay Presidency is that prevailing in Bombay and accordingly on his death his daughter takes an absolute interest in his property. The difference in the law existing in Bombay and the other Courts is due to the dominating influence of the different commentaries. But commentaries do not enact. They explain and are evidence of the congeries of customs which form the law. Bombay Courts relying on the Mayukha has arrived at totally different results in the matter of inheritance from the other Courts which rely on the Mitakshara without the modifications suggested by the Manu. Lha Blau v. Paghunath 1 L. R. 30 Bom 299 of p. 236 (1905) approved. Narayan Vishal v. Govind Narayan 1 Nag. L. P. 1st (1905), commented on. A decision of a Court of law is not to be regarded as a statute. It is declaratory of the law as it has existed. BALWANT RAO v. Baji Rao (P. C.) 25 C. W. N. 243

HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

45 ———— Custom of Remarriage—Whether a childless widowed daughter of child bearing age free to remarry by custom and heir of her father—In the caste to which widow remarriage is a custom a childless widowed daughter of child bearing age is not entitled to succeed to her father's property along with the married daughter having a son in the absence of any proof of custom entitling her to succeed under such circumstances. BINODINI HAZRANI v. SUSTUNE HAZRANI (1920)

1 L. R. 48 Cal 300

46 ———— Impartible estate—Mitakshara—Joint ancestral estate—Survivorship—The successor to an impartible estate which is ancestral property of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara is designated by survivorship subject to the custom of impartibility the eldest member of the senior branch of the family therefor succeeds in preference to the direct lineal senior descendant of the common ancestor if the latter is more remote in degree. Kalama Nohkar v. Th. Pajuh of Shivagunga 9 Moo. I. A. 483 Varaganti Ichimmaru v. Venkatchalapathi Vayannaru 1 L. P. 4 Mad 259 Paya Puri Singh v. Ram Bansi 1 L. R. 4 All 1 L. R. 111 A. 149 and The Udayapalayam Case 1 L. P. 28 Mad 598 L. P. 21 A. 961 approved and followed. Neelkanta Deb Burmore v. Beerchunder Thakoor 12 Moo. I. A. 523 and Sartaj Kuari v. Deoraj Kuari 1 L. P. 10 All 272 L. P. 15 I. A. 51 explained and distinguished. The terms coparceners and coparcenary as used in English law are not in all respects applicable to the members of a joint Hindu family and their interest in the joint family property. Judgment of the High Court affirmed. BALNATH PRASAD SINGH v. Tej Balli Singh 1 L. P. 43 All 228

47 ———— Primogeniture—Custom of—Custom of caste to apply on cessation of condition which brought it into existence—A custom of primogeniture found and established becomes the law of the family regulating the succession to the family estate and the ordinary Hindu law does not apply to it as far as it was not inconsistent with the custom. Such a custom may if observed and acted upon survive the primitive condition of things out of which it originally from the very necessity of the case sprung and the head of the family for the time being cannot by accepting from the Government of India a sanad containing clauses inconsistent with the custom destroy it or render it inoperative. Rao Kishore Singh v. Mossadmat Gahenabai 24 C W N 601

HINDU LAW--SUCCESSION--concl'd

48 ----- Bhinna gotra sapindas-- Mother's sister's son and mother's paternal aunt's son Under the Mitakshara School of Hindu Law the mother's paternal aunt's son succeeds in preference to the mother's sister's son's son. Idit Narayan Singh v. Mahabir Pr. Tewari 1 Pat L J 321

49 ----- Property jointly acquired and thrown into common stock-- Succession to Under the Hindu Law property jointly acquired and thrown into the common stock is subject to succession by survivorship as between the parties who acquired the property. Gobardhan Sahu v. Bulehan Mahtov 1 Pat L J 195

49(a) ----- Widow's Remarriage-- Right of succession in the family of her first husband--Succession as a gotraja sapinda Under Hindu Law the father's sister is entitled to succeed in preference to the remarried widow of the paternal uncle. Rasappa v. Kayole (1905) 29 Bom 91 distinguished Prasanna Har Govan v. Bai Bhukht (1921)

1 L R 45 Bom 1247

50 ----- Maternal uncle of last male owner and sister's daughter's son Held by the Full Bench (Dawson Miller C J and Imam J dissenting) that in a family governed by the Mitakshara the maternal uncle of the last male owner is preferred to the sister's daughter's son as heir to the estate. Umasankar Prasad Prasad v. Mossadmat Nageswari Hoors

3 Pat L J 663

HINDU LAW--SUDRA

See HINDU LAW LEGITIMACY

1 ----- Custom of family-- Primogeniture--Rajput family--Evidence--Long continuance of family In a Rajput family settled for many centuries in the Nimar district (Central Provinces) a custom of succession by primogeniture was alleged the eldest son succeeding to the gaddi and the title of Rana and the younger sons being entitled only to maintenance. The oral evidence showed that the practice during the last four generations had been in accordance with that custom and the documentary evidence confirmed it showing the existence of a gaddi and the title Rana from a very early period. Under Mahomedan rule the head of the family was the holder of a hereditary fiscal office. The Appellate Court (reversing the trial Judge) held that the custom alleged was not proved as existing as of right. The view of the Court was that since the abolition of the fiscal office the subsistence which the younger sons had formerly received as a favour had become a share claimed as of right and increasing inequality to the equality favoured by ordinary Hindu law from which circumstances had diverted the enjoyment of the family property. Held that the evidence established the custom the view of the Appellate Court being based on a theory of a speculative character and omitting to give weight to the survival of the family as an entity during many centuries which survival could have occurred only with the help of a family custom of the kind alleged. Mere cessation of services to which watan lands are attached which are by custom impartible does not ordinarily destroy the custom. Judgment of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner reversed. Rana Mahatab Singh v. Badan Singh (1921)

HINDU LAW--SUDRA--concl'd

1 L R 48 Cal 997

2 ----- Bandhus--Male bandhu entitled to preference over a female bandhu though the latter be nearer in degree Under the Mitakshara Hindu Law a male bandhu is entitled to preference over a female bandhu even though the latter is nearer in degree. Held accordingly a mother's sister's son is entitled to succeed in preference to a brother's daughter. Rajah Venkata Varaswami v. Raja Surenani (1903) 31 Mad 321 followed Balkrishna v. Ramkrishna (1920)

1 L R 45 Bom 252

3 ----- Succession--First cousins take per capita and not per stirpes Under Hindu Law first cousins of the propositus take per capita and not per stirpes. Nagesh v. Gurusao (1922) 17 Bom 403 referred to Narsappa v. Bharmappa (1920)

1 L R 45 Bom 296

4 ----- Murder as a disqualification-- to inherit--Public policy precluding a person from benefiting by his crime--Succession among Bandhus--Priority between father's sister's son and father's brother's daughter Among Hindus a murderer is disqualified from inheriting the estate of the person murdered (Applicability to Hindu Law of the rule of public policy which precludes a person from benefiting by his own crime discussed) According to the Bombay School of Hindu Law father's sister's son is entitled to succeed in preference to the father's brother's daughter. Under the Mitakshara a male bandhu is entitled to preference over a female bandhu even though the latter is nearer in degree. Balkrishna v. Ramkrishna (1920) 45 Bom 503 and Rajah Venkata v. Raja Surenani (1903) 31 Mad 321 followed Gopalappa Chavappa v. Kanchava (1920)

1 L R 45 Bom 768

5 ----- Right of succession of widowed daughter when remarriage permitted A Hindu was succeeded by his widow and on her death the contest for succession was between a childless widow daughter aged about 11 and a married daughter having a son. In the caste to which the parties belonged widow remarriage was permitted. Held that although widow remarriage is a custom in the caste that does not by itself predicate the further custom that the widow daughter is entitled to succeed equally with the married daughter. There must be clear proof of such a custom. Bhadrani Hazrani v. Susthee Hazrani

26 C W N 29

6 ----- Bandhus--Maternal uncle--Father's sister's grandson--Preference among alma bandhus Under the Mitakshara law a maternal uncle succeeds in preference to a son of the paternal aunt's son. So held on the ground that both claimants being

HINDU LAW—SUDRA—contd

atma-bandhus the maternal uncle and the deca-ed were espiandas to each other whereas the other claimants offered no pinda to the ancestors of the decaed and the maternal uncle was the nearer in degree a contention that the claimant who was ex parte paterna should be preferred to the claimant who was ex parte materna being rejected. Four propositions as to bandhus enunciated by the Madras High Court in Muthu vs
Muttukumar 1913 (1893) I L R 16 Mad 339 approved as furnishing a safe guide in the absence of any express authority varying the rule. Sundarammal v Pangasami Mudaliar (1895) I L R 18 Mad 193 and Balu vs
Pandur v Varanasa Puv (1897) I L R 10
Mad 31 so far as they held that among bandhus of the same class those ex parte paterna are to be preferred to those ex parte materna disapproved. Judgment of the High Court reversed.
VEDACHELLA MUDALIAR v SUBRAMANIAM MUD
LIAR (1901) I L R 44 Mad 753

7 ————— Hindu Law—
Right of succession of young widow's daughter in a caste where widow remarriage is permitted—Necessity of proof of custom entitling the widowed daughter to succeed equally with a married daughter. A Hindu was succeeded by his widow and on her death the contest for succession was between a childless widowed daughter aged 16 or 17 and a married daughter having a son. In the caste to which the parties belonged widow remarriage is permitted. Held that though widow remarriage is a custom in the caste that does not by itself predicate the further custom that the widowed daughter because it is open to her to remarry is entitled to succeed equally with the married daughter. There must be clear proof of custom entitling the widowed daughter to succeed equally with the married daughter. BINODINI HAZRANI v STATREE HAZ
RANI 26 C W N 29

8 ————— MITALSHARA (SOUTHERN SCHOOL)—Succession order of amongst atma bandhus—Division into ex parte paterna and ex parte materna and preference of former to latter if justifiable—Doctrine of spiritual benefit fact r mines preference—Propinquity alone if ground of preference—The rule in Mitalshara is open to question as spurious or as incomplete—Enumera tion of heirs illustrative—Vramitrodaya autho rity of in Southern India—Maternal uncle's place in the order of succession. The passage in the Mitalshara Chap II sec G para I laying down the order of succession amongst the bandhus has been accepted by a series of Commentators and by eminent Hindu Judges in the British Indian Courts and any doubt at this stage as to its character or authority will lead only to perplexity and confusion. The enumeration of bandhus in the passage being intended by way of illustra tion only the rule is not open to objection on the ground of incompleteness. The question being withal according to the law of the Mitalshara as recognised in the Dravida Country the mat ernal uncle or the son of the paternal aunt a son (both of whom are atma bandhus) should be preferred as the preferential heir. Held that there is nothing in para 698 of the Samasati Vastu to justify the division of the atma bandhus in two sub classes as ex parte paterna and ex parte materna or the preference of the former in the

HINDU LAW—SUDRA—concl'd

latter. That in the absence of express authority varying the rule the propositions enunciated in Muttusami v Muttukumarasami (3) furnish a safe guide and the maternal uncle who was undoubtedly nearer in degree and when offered oblations to the father and grandfather of the deceased whilst the son of the paternal aunt a son offered none was the preferential heir. The place assigned by Sarbadhikary and Mayne to the maternal uncle in their tables of succession questioned. Although the Smritis Chaodrika in the Southern Presidency is regarded as the most authoritative commentary on Vyanaseswara's work the Vramitrodaya holds as in Western India a high position. V A S VEDACHELLA MUDALIAR v R I RANGANATH
CHETTIAR 26 C W N 181

HINDU LAW—SURETY

1 ————— Father's liability
as surety—Whether son is liable to pay debt incurred by father as surety. Under the Hindu Law a son is liable for a debt incurred by his father as a surety. Tularambhat v Gangaram Mulchand Gujar I L R 23 Bom 151 and Maharaja of Benares v Ramlumar Misr I L R 26 All 611 referred to. PASIE LAL MANDAL v SINGHESWAR
RAI (1912) I L R 39 Cal 843

2 ————— Surety—Son's li- ability—Kinds of sureties—Surety for appearance assurance and payment meaning of—Tests of Yajna valkya construction of—Debt contracted prior to surety bond—Effect on son's liability. Where a Hindu executed a surety bond stating that he would make the debtor pay within two months the amount due on a promissory note already executed by the latter and that in default of payment by the debtor he would pay. Held that the surety was one for payment that the sons of the surety were liable under Hindu Law for the payment and that it made no difference that the money had already been lent to the creditor before the surety bond was executed. Suretyship according to the texts of Yajnavalkya is of three kinds as for appearance for assurance and for payment in the last case the surety's sons are also liable to pay his surety debts. According to the Mitalshara commentary the suretyship by way of assurance consists of a general warranty of credit but a surety for payment is one who says. If he does not pay then I myself will pay. Tularam Bhat v Gangaram I L R 23 Bom 151 Ramlal Mandal v Singhenswar
Rai I L R 39 Cal 843 referred to. THANNAI
v ARIACHALAM CHETTIAR (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 1071

3 ————— Surety-debt of father—Son's liability for—Order in execution against father as surety—Subsequent partition between father and son—Attachment of property allotted to son's share—Non liability of such property—Claim petition by son dismissed—Subsequent suit by son —Liability of surety if enforceable in execution—
Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1882) ss 253
533 and 610—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) a 53—Inapplicable where father is living. The second defendant obtained a decree for maintenance against the third defendant. Pending an appeal against the decree the former recovered the amount in execution on the first defendant standing surety for the second defendant. The

HINDU LAW—SURETY—contd

decree was reversed on appeal the third defendant applied in execution proceedings for restitution against the first defendant as surety an order was passed in execution for recovery of the amount against the first defendant and certain lands were attached. The plaintiff who was the son of the first defendant filed a claim petition objecting to the attachment on the ground that under a partition between his father and himself made subsequent to the order against the first defendant but before the attachment the properties in question had fallen to his (plaintiff's) share and consequently were not liable to attachment. The petition was dismissed. The plaintiff thereupon brought the present suit for a declaration that the suit properties were not liable to be attached under the order passed against the first defendant. Held that under ss 203 and 593 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) an order can be passed against a surety for recovering in execution proceedings the amount due from him. Held further that a Hindu son is liable for the surety debt of his father to the extent of the joint family property which came to his hands at partition. Rama chandra Padayachi v Aonamya Chetti 1 L R 24 Mad 555 followed. But a decree for such a debt obtained against the father before partition is not executable after partition against the son and the joint family property allotted to him. Krishnasami Konan v Ramasami Ayyar 1 L R 22 Mad 519 followed. S 53 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) which provides that property in the hands of a son which under the Hindu Law is liable for the payment of a debt of his deceased father in respect of which a decree has been passed shall be deemed to be assets in the hands of the legal representative only applies to the case of a deceased father the principle of the section cannot be extended to a case where the father is living. KANESWAPASINA v VEKATA SUNDARA ROW (1914) 1 L R 38 Mad 1120

HINDU LAW—SURRENDER

See HINDU LAW—FIDUCIARYSHIP—

1. ———— Surrender by widow—Essentials of a valid surrender—A provision for maintenance and residence of widow whether invalidates surrender—Surrender to be bona fide of entire interest in whole property and to nearest reversioner. A reasonable provision for maintenance and residence in favour of a Hindu widow does not affect the validity of a surrender by her of her husband's estate to the nearest reversioner provided it is a bona fide surrender of the entire interest of the widow in the whole estate and is not a mere device to divide the estate with the nearest reversioner. Pangasami Goundan v Achappa Goundan 1 L R 42 Mad 520. explained. Musammil Bhai at Koor v Dhannul dhar Prasad Singh 37 M J 513 relied on. ANDAMATHI CHETTI v VARATHARAJULU CHETTI (1919) 1 L R 42 Mad 554

2. ———— Surrender by widow and daughter in favour of daughter's son—Deed executed by both—Stipulation for maintenance of both for their lives—Surrender whether valid—Title of daughter's son—Title of reversioner is. Where the widow and the only daughter of a deceased Hindu surrendered their interests in the estate of the deceased in favour of the daughter's son under a deed executed by them both stipulating thereon

HINDU LAW—SURRENDER—contd

that he should maintain them during their life time and on the death of them all the reversioners of the deceased sued to recover the estate from the father of the deceased daughter's son. Held that the surrender was valid under the Hindu Law and operated to vest the estate in the daughter's son and that the reversioners had no title to the property. Sriramulu Vaidu v Andalammal 1 L R 30 Mad 145 and Challa Subbiah Sastry v Paluri Pattabhiramayya 1 L R 31 Mad 446 referred to. CHINNASWAMI PILLAI v APPAS WAMSI PILLAI (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 25

3. ———— Essentials for validity of—Mithila Law—Two conditions must be fulfilled to make a surrender by a widow with consent of the next heir (necessity being out of the question) valid. The first is that the surrender must be total not partial. The second is that the surrender must be a bona fide surrender not a device to divide the estate with the reversioners. To make an arrangement such a device it is not necessary that the lady surrendering should take part of the property directly. CHOWDHURY SURESHWAR MISSEER v MUSAMMAT MAHESHWARI MISHRA 75 C W N 104

HINDU LAW—SURVIVORSHIP

————— Reunited family succession in—Mitakshara—Law of survivorship. Succession in a reunited family governed by Mitakshara law is by survivorship. This mode of succession is not confined to the members who actually reunited and the son of a reunited member born after the reunion is reunited and takes by survivorship. Krishtraya v Venkataramayya Appeal No 170 of 1901 (unreported) followed. Ramasamy v Venkatasani 1 L R 16 Mad 440 distinguished. SAMUDRALA VARADA NARASIMHA CHARLU v SAMUDRALA VEKATA SINGARATHA (1909) 1 L R 33 Mad. 105

HINDU LAW—TEMPLE

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

HINDU LAW—TRUST

————— Trust created by will—Trust coming into being at a future date—Duty of heirs to carry out the trust—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 553—Trust for public religious purpose—Dedication of property as shivapana—Ejection of trespassers from the trust property—Court—Jurisdiction. Where a Hindu who had directed a trust of his property for a religious purpose dies before giving effect to it the Hindu Law authorises his heir to take steps for carrying out his directions after recovering the property from a trespasser. Where the testator merely directs that his property should be endowed for a certain purpose at a certain time by certain persons after his death then until the arrival of the time and the complete dedication of it in the manner and for the object pointed out by the testator the property must be regarded in the eye of law as part of his estate but impressed with a trust or an obligation on the part of the heir taking that estate as heir to carry out his directions at the appointed time. He who succeeds him as heir has the right to do what the owner himself would have done or has directed to be done so as to comply with the trust with the same.

HINDU LAW—TRUST—contd

tion of the Court if necessary. Before he can do that he must first secure the property from the wrong-doer into whose possession it has passed. GHELANATH CATTISHANKAR v UDERAM ICHAFAM (1911) 1 L R 38 Bom 29

HINDU LAW—WIDOW

See ENTAIL TENANCY ACT

S. 69 4 Pat. L J 548

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION JOINT LAHRY REVERSONER STRIDHAN

See HINDU WIDOW

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 11
1 L R 37 Bom 172

— nature of possession of—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 Sec. II
ART 144 1 L R 42 All 153

1 ——— Alienation—Alienation by Hindu widow for legal necessity—Property sold for more than the amount needed—If reversioner is may recover on paying amount needed. Where a Hindu widow bond fide executed a permanent lease upon taking a stridhan of Rs. 175 in order to pay off a debt of her husband amounting to Rs. 100 Held that this was not a case in which the reversioners should be allowed to recover possession upon payment of the amount actually needed to pay off the loan. Chakra Narayan v Uda Karwar 11 C 11 V 414 and Suggeram v Juddaboudas 1 B L R 201 relied on. The Privy Council in the Deputy Commissioner of Akers v Khanyan Singh 11 C 11 N 474 did not intend to lay down the rule that a Hindu widow is in every instance bound to sell property for payment of a debt due from her husband for exactly the sum due to the creditor. VELAMAM ROY v LALALANAND BANERJEE (1910) 14 C W N 895

2 ——— Alienation by widow—Consent by the body of reversioners—Transfer for legal necessity—Transaction for consideration—Gift—Partial relinquishment by widow. The general principle which prohibits a Hindu widow's alienation of immovable property otherwise than for legal necessity is relaxed in cases where the consent of the whole body of persons constituting the next reversion has been obtained. The reason for the relaxation is referred to the principle that the consent of the persons who would be interested in disputing the transfer affords good evidence that the transfer was in fact made for justifying cause that is for legal necessity. Barjanti Singh v Manokarnika Bakhsh Singh 1 L R 30 All 1 and Vinayal v Gowind 1 L R 25 Bom 179 followed. The operation of the principle is ordinarily limited to transfers for consideration and cannot be extended to voluntary transfers by way of gift where there is no room for the theory of legal necessity. It should not be extended to cases where the widow has made only a partial relinquishment of the estate. ILU v BABAJI (1909) 1 L R 34 Bom 165

3 ——— Sale by widow to next reversioner of a portion of property—Validity—Conveyance of whole estate to reversioner in consideration of latter conveying back half absolutely—Validity. A Hindu widow can transfer by sale a portion of the property left to her to the then reversioner so as to confer on the latter an absolute

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

estate in such portion. Hem Chunder Sanyal v Surmomoji Deb 1 L R 22 Cal 354. Abdo Ashore Sarma Roy v Hari Nath Sarma Roy 1 L R 10 Cal 1102. Pehari Lal v Mudho Lal 148 Gajural 1 I P 19 Cal 236 referred to. Where it was alleged that a lady possessing the limited estate of a Hindu daughter sold the properties held absolutely to the lady and that in pursuance of the agreement the reversioner reconveyed half the properties to the lady. Held that the conveyances must be shown to have formed parts of one and the same transaction to be open to attack on that ground. KANURAM DEB v KASHI CHANDRA SHARMA CHOWDHURI (1909) 14 C W N 226

4 ——— Hindu widow transfer by without legal necessity whether becomes void on widow's death—Transferee a suit to eject transferee of non transferable occupancy holding. The transfer by a Hindu widow of properties inherited from her husband when neither legal necessity justifying the sale nor consent of the reversioners has been established does not become void on the death of the widow. Bhagwat Doyal Singh v Debi Doyal Sahu 12 C 11 N 393 s.c. 1 L R 35 Cal 420. Bojoy Gopal Mukherjee v Krishna Mahishi 1 C W N 424 s.c. 1 L R 34 I A 87 1 L R 34 Cal 379 considered. Such a transferee can maintain a suit for ejectment against the transferee of an occupancy holding which is not transferable by custom. KISHORI PAL v SURESH BHUSAL BHUTIA (1909) 14 C W N 108

5 ——— Compromise by—When such compromise tantamount to alienation—Possession when adverse to reversioner. Where a widow whose right to property is disputed enters into a compromise with the disputant by which she merely undertakes to make no further claim to the property such compromise does not amount to an alienation by the widow and the disputant does not hold the property under any title derived from her. Shio Narain Singh v Klurgoo Roery and Shio Narain Singh v Bishen Prasad Singh 10 C 1 R 337 cited from Padma Mohan Dhor v Pam Das Dey 3 B L R 569 referred to. The position of the disputant under the above circumstances was adverse to the reversioner. In considering whether possession is adverse to the reversioner it must be seen whether it is based on a title derived from the widow as representative of the separate estate or on one which leaves no separate estate to be represented. KANBIRAMANI THIRUMAJI v KANBIRAMANI SUBBAPILLAI (1910) 1 L R 33 Mad 473

6 ——— Debt—Debt contracted by widow for necessary purposes binding though no formal charge created. A debt contracted by a widow as representative of the estate for the purposes of the estate will be binding on it in the hands of the reversioners though no formal charge on the estate is created when the creditor looks not to the personal credit of the widow but to her as representative of the estate and relies on the credit of such estate. Pamasany Mudalvar v Sellattommal 1 L R 4 Mad 345 referred to. REKELLA JOGAYYA v NEDUSAKAVI VENKATA RATNAMMA (1910) 1 L R 33 Mad 492

7 ——— Gift—Mitaaharo—Gift by Hindu widow to daughter—Gift of immovable property to daughter at gowra or chitragaman

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd.

ceremony—Post-nuptial gifts—Reversionary interests
It is competent to a Hindu widow governed by the Mitakshara law to make a valid gift of a reasonable portion of the immovable property of her husband to her daughter on the occasion of the daughter's gotra ceremony and such a gift is binding upon the reversionary heirs of her husband. CHITRAMAN SANKH v. GORI SANKH (1909) 1 L. R. 33 C.L.J. 1

8 ———— Gift made by Hindu widow with consent of next reversioners
A gift by a Hindu widow with the consent of the next reversioners is valid. A gift by a Hindu widow who succeeded to the separate estate of her deceased husband of such a nature is not valid and does not create a title which cannot be impeached by the reversioners because it has been made with the consent of the next reversioners. Rampal v. Tuls Kaur, 1 L. R. 6 All. 216 followed. Eyranoy v. Manohar Singh 1 L. R. 33 All. 1 distinguished. Pani Anand Kaur v. The Court of Wards 1 L. R. 81 All. 11 referred to. PARTHA WARE v. PRASADWA (1910) 1 L. R. 32 All. 176

9 ———— Re-marriage—Hindu widow
Re-marriage of a Hindu widow—Pre-marriage period of the rules of caste—Widow not deprived of property of her husband. Where the rules of her caste recognize the right of a Hindu widow to re-marry a second marriage has not the result of divesting her of the property of her first husband. MITA v. PARTHA (1910) 1 L. R. 32 All. 459

10 ———— Unchaste widow—Inheritance
A widow is barred by her caste from inheritance. There is no authority for holding that a Hindu lady who after her husband's death has waited and then gone to live with another man, is thereby excluded from inheritance to the estate left by her son. DAL SINGH v. MURAWAT DING (1909) 1 L. R. 32 All. 155

11 ———— Family debt incurred by Hindu widow—Sale of estate in satisfaction of—Lease of estate—Partition Act XVI of 1861—Interest—Reasonableness of simple money decree was passed when the Partition Act XVI of 1861 was in force for a debt incurred by Hindu widow on account of legal necessity—Held the absolute estate in the property was liable to be sold in satisfaction of the decree. If the foundation of the decree be a debt of the character for which the widow could have incurred the entire interest, it is sufficiently clear that the result of the Privy Council decision, that even if the decree is based on the widow's contract and does not give a charge on the husband's estate and the reversions had not been made parties to the suit or execution proceedings the decree-holder would be entitled to have the entire estate sold, and if in fact the entire estate was sold and bought by the purchaser the reversions could not defeat the purchaser's title to the property. It must depend on the circumstances in which a loan is incurred whether a provision for compound interest agreed to be paid by a Hindu widow is reasonable or not. VELARADNA AITAR v. MANDRAGA NACHAR (1910) 1 L. R. 34 All. 155

12 ———— Payment by wife of husband's debts during his lifetime—Hindu law—Gifts—try payment—Absence of proof of obligation to repay—Burden of proof
In this case which was an appeal from the decision of the High

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd.

Court in the case of Himmat Bahadur v. Bhawanee Kaur 1 L. R. 33 All. 343 the Judicial Committee re-affirmed that decision on the ground that the appellant on whom the onus lay had not proved that there was any obligation on the part of the husband or his estate to pay the moneys which were paid by his wife and dismissed the appeal. BHAWANE KURWAR v. HIMMAT RAHABUR (1911) 1 L. R. 33 All. 342

13 ———— Power to partition—Hindu widow—Nature of estate held by two widows co-owning joint Whatever limitations there may be upon the power of alienation of one of two Hindu widows succeeding as such to a life interest in their husband's estate so long as the property remains undivided, there is no hindrance to prevent them effecting a partition of such estate. Musammam Sunda v. Musammam Parbi, 1 L. R. 26 All. 176 1 L. R. 22 All. 51 and Karni Ammal v. Ammalamma Ammal 1 L. R. 23 Mad. 534 followed. Pani Puri v. Mukhand 1 L. R. 22 All. 115 distinguished. Bhawanee v. Dewy v. Mina Bacc 11 Mo. 144 1 L. R. 23 Mad. 534 followed. Gajapathi Pothumani 1 L. R. 1 Mad. 291 referred to. Durga Dutt v. Chitra (1911) 1 L. R. 33 All. 443

14 ———— Mere profits—Mere profits—Decree for sale of Hindu widow—Execution of decree for sale of estate—Subordination—Sale of property or mortgage to a Hindu widow—The mere fact that a decree for mere profits has been obtained against a Hindu widow does not entitle the decree-holder to execute such a decree against the estate of her husband. It is not open to a Hindu widow to commit an act of trespass and by that fact alone to impose a liability upon the estate of her husband. That estate cannot be bound by acts of the widow which are not her necessary nor beneficial to the estate. Harnamoy v. Puri Prasad 6 C. L. J. 46 relied on. Prorasa Veth v. Purna Chandra 1 L. R. 33 Cal. 691 1 C. W. N. 350 doubted. Criminal v. Srinath 12 C. W. N. 69 Kalav v. Purnali 1 L. R. 30 All. 291 referred to. SADASI HOER v. RAMMOHUN SINGH (1911) 15 C. W. N. 85

15 ———— Mere profits—Mere profits—Hindu widow—Her husband's estate when bound
Where a Hindu widow in good faith and for the benefit of her husband's estate took possession of property from which he was subsequently ejected, the estate of the husband is liable for mere profits due by the widow. LALJI SANKH v. GOBERDINE LIA (1909) 15 C. W. N. 859

16 ———— Partition—Hindu widow—Co-ownership—Right to enforce partition when joint property is in possession
Although Hindu widows taking a joint interest in the inheritance of their husband have no right to enforce an absolute partition of the joint estate between them, yet where the widows cannot go on peacefully in the enjoyment of the property they can by mutual agreement or otherwise separately hold the property although they have no right to partition in the proper sense of the term, and the share of one will go to the survivorship to the other not withstanding the separation. Gajapathi Veth v. Purna Chandra 1 L. R. 1 Mad. 291 and Kalav v. Purnali 1 L. R. 30 Mad. 291 and Chowdhurani Dewy v. Mina Bacc 11 Mo. 144 1 L. R. 23 Mad. 534 referred to. CHITRA KURWAR v. GARHA KURWAR (1911) 1 L. R. 34 All. 159

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

17 ———— Gift—Hindu widow—Suit by remote reversioner to set aside alienation by widow—Immediate reversioner a female having a life estate only—Acceleration of estate A widow leaving a widow H a daughter R D and a daughter son K S W during the life time of R D made a gift of the property to A S Held on suit by other reversioners more remote than A S for a declaration that the gift was not binding on them that the suit would lie The question of acceleration of A S's estate would not arise because at the date of the gift the donee was not the next reversioner Pal Chandra v. Ram Kumar 1 L R 6 All 431 Hannuman Pandit v. Jota Kumar Ali Beatty Nos 1908 907 and Alina K. Chandra Vamshidhar v. Hananath Vahia 1 L R 3 Cal 6 followed Mahira v. Valli 1 L R 6 All 43 and Iskhar Varman v. Janki 1 L R 15 All 133 dissented from Imband Koor v. The Court of Wards 1 P 81 1. 11 1 L R 6 Cal 764 referred to RAJA DEVI v. UMED SINGH (1917) 1 L R 34 All 207

18 ———— Reversioners—Hindu widow—Decree fairly obtained against widow binding on reversioner although the widow did not contest the suit A decree in a suit against a Hindu widow respecting property of her husband of which she is in possession as such widow may be binding on the reversioners notwithstanding that the widow did not contest the suit provided that the plaintiff's case was properly and fairly stated and the widow had reasonable opportunities of which she did not choose to avail herself of defence in the suit (UNNAYAR INRASAN v. JAI NARAYAN LAL (1912) 1 L R 34 All 385

19 ———— Maintenance—Widow—Arrangements of maintenance—Demand and refusal—Residence in deceased husband's family house—Residence elsewhere for improper purpose—Arrears of maintenance cannot be refused to a Hindu widow in consequence of failure to prove demand and refusal A Hindu widow is not bound to reside in her deceased husband's family house and does not forfeit her right to maintenance by residing elsewhere unless she leaves the house for an improper purpose Amrta Bai v. Balaji Vinayak Kile v. Ramchandra Balaji Lal (1897) P J 41 followed Gyanima Mukundli Nuth v. Honnima 1 L R 15 Bom 268 referred to PAWATIBAI v. CHATRU LIMBARI (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom 131

20 ———— Right to maintenance—Grant of arrears—Exigencies of the case By Hindu Common Law the right of a widow to maintenance is one accruing from time to time according to her wants and exigencies The grant of arrears of maintenance depends on the wants and exigencies of the widow as proved in each particular case PANGUBAI v. SUBAJI PANCHANDRA (1912) 1 L R 36 Bom 383

21 ———— Alienation by—Transfer to reversioner—Condition that property should not be transferred during widow's life and maintenance paid out of income—Deduction of settlement—Restraint on alienation—Transfer by reversioners valid but subject to widow's right to maintenance—Notice Where a Hindu widow by a deed of family settlement transferred properties inherited from her husband to the latter's reversionary heirs subject to the conditions (i) that a fixed monthly allowance should be paid to her out of the income

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

of the estate transferred and (ii) that the reversionary heirs should have no right to transfer any immovable property belonging to the estate during her life time Held that the latter condition was void as imposing a restraint on a transferee of an absolute interest in property as to the manner in which such interests was to be applied or enjoyed by him within the meaning of a 11 of the Transfer of Property Act Quare Whether the doctrine of English law that a condition or conditional limitation upon alienation limited in time is bad when attached to a vested interest is applicable in view of a 10 of the Transfer of Property Act Held as to the other condition, that persons in whose favour the reversionary heirs executed mortgages must be taken to have had notice of all the covenants in the deed of settlement and that the widow was entitled to a declaration that her right to receive maintenance under that deed was in no way affected by the mortgages CHAMARU SANGU v. SOVA KOER (1911) 16 C W N 99

22 ———— Widow's estate—Widow agent appointed by—Profits realised but not paid accountability for to reversioner—Widow's savings An agent appointed by a Hindu widow is bound to account to the reversioner for profits realised by him in the widow's life time and not paid to her Such profits cannot be presumed to be the widow's Stridhan but must be treated as her savings which not having been disposed of followed the estate Soor, money v. Dinobundoo 9 Mo 1 A 123 Petel Carnar v. Jushai 1 L R 19 Bom 428 Padlo Monet v. Dearka Nath 20 W P 335 referred to Jai Dutt v. Hansbhai 1 L R 19 Cal 374 followed SRIDHAR CHATTOPADHYA v. KALIPADA CHUCKERBUTTY (1911) 18 C W N 106

23 ———— Widow's estate—Accumulations—Rights of a Hindu widow to—Husband's property repurchased out of income if absolute property of the widow—Unrealised rents of absolute estate of the widow and assets liable for her personal debts The true test to determine whether accumulations in the hands of a Hindu widow were her absolute property or an accretion to the husband's estate is the intention of the widow i.e. whether she intended to treat them as part of her husband's estate or as temporary savings to be spent by her subsequently Where a Widow which was part of the husband's estate had passed into the hands of a stranger and had been recovered by the widow out of the savings of the estate the inference was that she intended to treat it as part of her husband's estate Unrealised rents in the hands of tenants cannot be treated as temporary savings by the widow on her own account but should be looked upon as an accretion to her husband's estate Pivti Carnar v. Jushai 1 L R 19 Bom 178 distinguished They were not assets in the hands of her daughter liable for the widow's personal debts BRAGABATI KOER v. SAHUBAI KOER (1911) 16 C W N 834

24 ———— Widow's estate—Partial decree against Hindu widow and her co-sharers—Part of her share—Decree for contribution by her against widow—Sale in execution of decree if affects reversionary interest—Personal liability not establishing charge Where a suit for arrears of rent of a taluk which accrued due after the death of one of the co-sharers therein was brought against his widow and other co-sharers and the decree obtained in the suit was discharged by the other co-sharers. Held that a sale of the share of the taluk held by the widow in execution of a decree obtained by her co-sharers in a contribution suit against her did not affect the title of the reversionary heir. The liability of the widow for the rent in question should be regarded as a personal liability which ought not to be held to attach to the reversion unless and until the landlord proceeded to bring the tenure to sale under the special provisions of the rent law. Brojo Lal Sen v Jiban Krishna Roy 1 L R 26 Cal 200. Bayun Dooley v Hri Bhokun Lal 1 L R 1 Cal 133 s c 24 B. R 306. L R 2 I A 275 relied on. Mahomed SADAT ALI MILEY v HABA SENDARI DEVA (1912) 16 C W N 1070

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

25 ——— Mortgage by—Widow of part of the estate—Legal necessity—Presumption—Reversioner. Alienation by way of mortgage by a Hindu widow as heiress of a portion of the estate of her deceased husband without proof either of legal necessity or of reasonable enquiry and honest belief as to its existence but with the consent of the next reversioner for the time being will be valid and binding on the actual reversioner if the presumption of legal necessity or of reasonable enquiry and honest belief raised by such consent is not rebutted by more cogent proof. Nobokulore Sarma Roy v Hari Nath Sarma Roy 1 L R 10 Cal 1102 considered. Bayan Singh v Manekramia Baksh Singh 1 L R 30 All 1 L R 35 I A 1 referred to. DEBI PRASAD CHOWDHURY v GOLAT BHAGAT (1913) 1 L R 40 Cal 721

26 ——— Compromise—Followed by an award settling disputes as to the property of various members of the family—Effect of such award on reversionary interests. Where the widow of one and the son of the other of two brothers Hindus separated in estate entered into a compromise which was found to be reasonable in its nature concerning the partition of the property of the two brothers and an award was made on the basis of such compromise it was held that it was not open to the reversioner to dispute the validity of the compromise and award specially when a considerable time had elapsed and most of the property had changed hands meanwhile. Khums Lal v Gobind Krishna Daram 1 L R 33 All 356 and Mohan Lal v Chittan Singh 10 All L J 101 followed. BHARI LAL v DAUD HUSSAIN (1913) 1 L R 35 All 240

27 ——— Alienation by—In respect of the property of her husband—Transfer of debt secured by a mortgage. A Hindu widow in possession of such property which had been the property of her husband in his lifetime can always alienate her life interest in such property and a transfer by her of the corpus of the property without legal necessity and not for a pious purpose is not void but only voidable at the instance of the reversioners. A Hindu widow without legal necessity transferred a mortgage debt and the security therefore which had been the property of her late husband, to D who thereafter sued to recover the debt by sale of the mortgaged property. Held that the transferee acquired all the rights which the widow had and could exercise during her life time in respect of the mortgage, one of these being to recover the debt. L 779

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

Gopal Mulern v Krishna Mahishi Deb 1 L R 34 Cal 329 referred to. DURGAKUTWAR v MATU MAL (1913) 1 L R 35 All 311

28 ——— Mortgage by—Sue for declaration that mortgage by widow did not effect plaintiff's reversionary rights—Plaintiffs not nearest reversioners—Pleadings. Where plaintiffs sued as next reversioners for a declaration that a mortgage executed by a Hindu widow was not binding on them and it was found that as a matter of fact even the nearest of the plaintiffs could only succeed to the estate if four males and one female died in his life time. Held that the plaintiffs ought not to have a decree. MEERU RAI v RAM KUTLAWAN RAI (1913) 1 L R 35 All 328

29 ——— Conversion—Caste Disabilities Removal Act s 1—Hindu Widow's Remarriage Act (XI of 1856) s 2—Hindu widow—subsequent remarriage—Widow's estate not directed—Hindu law. The widow of a separated Hindu became a convert to Mahomedanism and married a Mahomedan. Held that the widow did not thereby lose her interest in the property of her late husband in view of the provisions of Act XXI of 1850 nor did s 2 of the Act XV of 1856 affect the situation inasmuch as that section applied to Hindu widows only. Khums Lal v Gobind Krishna Daram 1 L R 33 All 356 followed. Matangini Gupta v Ram Putton Roy 1 L R 19 Cal 259 dissent from. ABDUL AZIZ KHAN v NEMMA (1913) 1 L R 35 All 466

30 ——— Estate—Investments by widow from income of husband's estate—Whether or not such investments become accretions to the husband's estate. Where immovable property is purchased by a Hindu widow in possession of such of the estate of her late husband out of the income of that estate such property does not necessarily become an accretion to the husband's estate. The widow has full power to dispose of it during her life time and it is only when she manifests during her life time a clear intention to treat it as an accretion to her husband's estate or allows it at her death to remain undisturbed that such property will become part of that estate. WAHID ALI KHAN v TORI RAM (1913) 1 L R 35 All 551

31 ——— Widow's estate—Nature of interest arising out of contract with surviving co-partners. P and C were undivided brothers of a joint Hindu family. P died. C entered into an agreement with L the widow of P whereby P was to receive a younger son of C (if such should be born) in adoption or in default a half share in the family properties. No adoption took place. C died leaving his widow B. B and L effected a partition of the properties in equal shares. The plaintiff was a daughter of P by another wife. Held that the half share taken by L was a widow's interest and that it would pass on her death to her husband's reversioners and the plaintiff being the nearest reversioner was entitled to succeed. A woman's estate can be obtained by a Hindu female not only by inheritance but also by contract of parties, by a grant or by prescription. VENKAMMA v CHELAMAYIA (1913) 1 L R 36 Mad 484

32 ——— Alienation by—With consent of reversioner of part of estate—Effect—Presumption of necessity when defunct—Several limited owners arrangement between how long effective—

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—could

Alienation of her separated share for legal necessity—Legal necessity to be determined with reference to a sole estate or the share. The Full Bench in Devi Prasad Choudhary v. Golap Prasad I L R 40 Cal 117 C N 1 01 has decided that the doctrine of relinquishment and acceleration cannot apply to partial transferees by a limited owner which can be supported only by legal necessity. The consent of the next reversioner is merely strong presumptive evidence of the necessity. The propriety of an alienation with the consent of the next reversioner may come in question not only with reference to the conduct of the widow whether or not she was justified by necessity but also with reference to the conduct of the next reversioner whether or not his conduct was honest. If in the absence of legal necessity he engineered the transaction to suit his own ends and for his own immediate gain his consent would be all its virtue. The transaction would stand no higher than a partial alienation in his favour and would have to be judged from that standpoint. Nevertheless whatever might be said of the conduct of the widow or the next reversioner the transaction if he had due enquiry and acted bona fide would still be entitled to the benefit of the equitable rule laid down by the Privy Council in Hanumanthiah v. Iyobee Munnay 6 Moo I L 293 and now enacted in a 38 of the Transfer of Property Act. Nor would the antecedent mismanagement of the estate affect him unless he was in some way a contributory party thereto. If two widows or two daughters taking jointly the estate of their deceased husband or father make an arrangement for separate possession and enjoyment the arrangement will not ordinarily deprive the survivor of the right to the whole estate or enable the latter to confer a title on a third party which will not terminate at the latest with the life of that survivor. The propriety of an alienation by one of several limited owners of a portion of the property in her separate possession should be determined with reference to the estate as a whole and not with reference to the separated portion in her possession. SHYAMA DEVI POI CHOWDHURY v. JADHAVA PRASAD (HATTAJI 1918) 22 C W N 846

33 ———— Widow as estate—Relinquishment—Abandonment of claim to estate—Adoption—Authority to adopt—Will—Construction—Exclusion of presumption. (i) Upon the death of a Hindu in 1872 his nephew obtained a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 as sole survivor of his joint family. The widow of the deceased opposed the application and alleged a partition in 1864. By agreements made in 1874 the widow accepted the decision recognizing the nephew's title and was granted by him a maintenance allowance which she continued to receive until her death in 1904. The nephew died in 1894 and the estate passed under his will to the first appellant. In 1907 the respondent sued to recover the estate as heir to the holder who died in 1874 upon his widow's death and proved that a partition had taken place in 1864. Held—that the widow's agreement of 1874 in conjunction with her acceptance of maintenance till 1904 amounted to a complete relinquishment of the estate to the nephew then the next reversioner and that the respondent's claim accordingly failed. Pangasami Gounden v. Nachappa Gounden L R 46 I A 72 applied. (ii) A Hindu by his will authorized his widow to adopt a son if no male or female child should be born to him. He died without issue but had a posthumous daughter. After the death of the posthumous daughter the testator's widow purported to adopt a son to him. Held that in construing the will effect could not be given to a presumption that the testator desired that a son should be adopted in him since authority to adopt in the events which happened was clearly excluded by the language used. BRADWAY KORN v. DUNN, DHAPI PRASAD SINGH (1919)

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—could

L R 46 I A 236

34 ———— Alienation—Consent of next reversioner—Ability of alienation—Legal necessity not to be proved—Legal title not lost (XII of 1904) s 1 cl (d)—Document showing a consent—Specimens—Intention not compulsory. A Hindu widow who had inherited property from her husband alienated a portion of it. Her only daughter assented to the alienation a few days after by a writing which was not registered. After the death of the widow and the daughter an heir of the daughter sued to set aside the alienation on the ground that it was not made for legal necessity. The Court found the legal necessity not proved and allowed the claim. The defendant having appealed —Held that the alienation having been assented to by the next reversioner no question of legal necessity could arise. Held also that the consent writing was not compulsory to be registered under s 1 cl (f) of the Registration Act for the executant had at its date no more than a speculative claim as heir. MATHI SATHI v. MATHURAJ MATHI (1913)

I L R 38 Bom 221

35 ———— Alienation—Settlement of legal compromise—Hindu widow as a party to the alienation of property in excess of her powers. A dispute between the daughter of a deceased Hindu on the one hand and the widow of his alleged adopted son on the other each party claiming to be the entitled to the estate was settled by a compromise. Each party getting thereunder a share in the family property. In a suit by a daughter of the alleged adopted son (as one of the respondents) her expectant sister (her mother's death) to set aside the compromise as beyond the competency of a limited owner like her mother. Held that the compromise was in no sense of the word an alienation by a limited owner of the family property but a family settlement in which each party takes a share of the family property by virtue of the independent title which is to that extent and by way of compromise admitted by the other parties. Lala Ahnani Lal v. Annuar Gobind Krishna Narain I L J 33 I L J 31 s c 15 C N 51, followed. HIRAN BHAI SONAY BHA (1914)

18 C W N 929

36 ———— Alienation—By Hindu widow—Suit by vendee to recover property after widow's death from stranger—Proof of legal necessity if necessary. An alienation by a Hindu widow without legal necessity is voidable but not void and until the reversioner (including in that term the Crown if there is no nearer reversioner) decides to avoid it or to treat it as a nullity it stands good and the alienee is entitled to recover possession from a stranger without being required to prove legal necessity. Dejoy Gopal v. Krishna Mahi I L R 35 Cal 1 Mathuradan

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

v Rooke IIC W A 443 referred to DEO ANDAN I EPSHAD v UDIT NARAIN SINGH (1914)

18 C W N 940

37 ———— Alienation—Legal necessity—Pilgrimage to Gaya—Feast given after return from Gaya, whether legal necessity—Reversioner—Suit for declaration that alienation was without legal necessity—No offer to reimburse money spent on legal necessity—Suit whether maintainable A Hindu widow is competent to alienate her husband's estate for expenses in connection with a feast given to Brahmans etc after return from pilgrimage to Gaya Malhan Lal v Gyan Singh I L P 33 All 255 not followed Quere Whether a declaratory suit can be maintained by a reversioner who does not offer in the plaint to reimburse the purchaser to the extent that the sale was for necessity DINAKATH GHOSH v HIRSHI KESH PAL (1914)

18 C W N 1302

38 ———— Alienation in part for necessity—Reversioner sues for declaration as to invalidity of sale on payment of binding portion of the consideration—Absence of offer to pay if fatal to suit—Conditional declaration—Form of decree When a reversioner during the life time of the widow sues for a declaration that an alienation in part for necessity is invalid before the life time of the widow on payment of the binding portion of the consideration Held that the suit should not fail on the mere ground of the absence of an offer in the plaint to pay the amount that was binding on the reversioner Singham Sethi Sanjay Kondayya v Draupadi Eoyamma I L R 31 Mad 153 not followed Bhagwat Dayal Singh v Bala Dayal Sahu I L R 35 Cal 429 applied Held also that a conditional decree may be passed Mahomed Shumsool v Shewkram L I L A 7 referred to Per SODRA AYYAR I—The uncertainty regarding the person who would be entitled to succeed the widow is no ground for refusing a declaration regarding the character of the alienation and a declaration may be made that the alienation is invalid as a whole but that on equitable grounds the alienee should have a charge declared in his favour for the binding portion of the consideration See Dutt Koer v Hanabutti Koiran I L R 10 I A 159 applied Semle The proper form of the decree in such suits is merely to make a declaration that the alienee has a charge for a certain sum of money PAPARATUDU v RATANMA (1914)

I L P 37 Mad 275

39 ———— *Right of reversioner to sue—Suit to set aside alienation and for possession—Nearest reversionary heir aliened to be precluded from suing in this case it was held (affirming the decision of the High Court at Allahabad that the appellant could not maintain the suit (to set aside an alienation by a widow and for possession) because a nearer reversionary heir was in existence whom he had failed to prove to be precluded from suing. The general rules laid down in Pani Kund Koer v The Court of Wards I L R C Case 761 I L P 5 I A 14 followed JULIAN v TARIK (1914)*

I L R 37 All 43

40 ———— Rights of widow in respect of the property of her deceased husband—A Hindu widow in possession as such of her husband's estate is not liable to account to anyone but is at liberty to do what she pleased with the property during her life time provided only that

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

she does not injure the reversion PRYKA v BROLA NATH (1915)

I L P 37 All 177

41 ———— Alienation—by widow of her husband's estate—Surrender by widow to nearest reversioner subsequent to alienation—Effect of surrender on alienations A surrender by a Hindu widow of her interest in her husband's estate in favour of the nearest male reversioner cannot affect alienations which were made by her prior to the surrender and which though not binding on the reversioners were binding on her for her life Sreeramulu v Krishamma I L R 26 Mad 143 followed Singaram Chetty v Kalanandasaram Pillai (1914) Mad W A 735 referred to Ramakrishna v Tripura Bai I L P 33 Bom 88 dissented from SUBRAMA v SUBB RAMANYAM (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 1035

42 ———— Decree against for husband's debt—Attachment of property—Previous alienation by widow for no justifiable cause—Attachment and sale thereupon effective to convey reversionary interest A plaintiff who had obtained a decree against a Hindu widow in respect of a debt due by her late husband attached a certain property as belonging to her husband which she had sold to a stranger several years before the attachment for no purpose binding on the reversioner Held that the decree holder was entitled to attach and bring to sale the reversionary interest in the property subject to the enjoyment thereof by the alienor during the widow's life time CHITLABARAMA v HUSSAIN NAMMA (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 565

43 ———— Compromise—Rights of reversioners A Hindu widow in possession as such of her husband's estate brought a suit for possession of two shops on the alienation that they formed part of her husband's estate. The suit was compromised the effect of which was that the widow recognized the defendants as full proprietors and they on the other hand had to pay a certain sum of money. To raise this money they mortgaged the two shops. The mortgage through a suit for sale and the shops were purchased by one H at the auction sale. After the death of the widow the reversioners of her deceased husband brought a suit to recover possession of the aforesaid shops. Held that a compromise entered into by a Hindu widow with a limited estate resulting in the alienation of property forming part of her husband's estate cannot bind the reversioners unless it is shown that it was for such purposes as would justify a sale by a Hindu widow —In re Konkar v Koop Narain Singh 6 C L R 76 Musammal Raj Aunkar alias Sheo Murat Koer v Musammal Indert Kunwar 5 B L P 535 Pajalashmi Das v Kalyani Dassee I L P 33 Cal 639 Khanna Lal v Gobind Krishna Narain I L P 33 All 356 Mahadev v Baklee I L P 30 All 70 and Bachari Lal v David Hussain I L R 30 All 259 referred to KANHAIYA LAL v KISHORI LAL (1916)

I L R 38 All 679

44 ———— Maintenance—Settled by deed—Subsequent uncharity—Living estate at the time of suit effect of Where in a suit by a Hindu widow against her deceased husband's brother for maintenance at the rate fixed by agreement, it was found that the plaintiff had since lived an immoral life but reformed her ways at the time of the suit. Held that she lost her right to the rate fixed in the deed but was entitled to a

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

starving allowance. Texts and case law reviewed SATHYANARAYAN & KESAVA CHARTA (1913)

I L R 39 Mad 658

45 ——— Gift by widow in favour of the next presumptive reversioner—Of entire property of husband—It is competent to the widow of a deceased husband being in power to make a gift of the whole of it in favour of the next presumptive reversioner. Prasad v. Manoharnik Lal 1 L R 10 All 1 and Mujal Ram v. Lakshmi Kuar 1 L R 11 All 233 referred to. Lallavar v. Manohari 1 L R 13 All 16 distinguished. SHAM LATHI & Co. JACHINA KUNWAR (1917) I L R 39 All 520

46 ——— Sale of husband's property by one of two widows—If of succession of the other—Widow not entitled to refund of money spent on improvement. A Hindu died leaving two widows. The widows as a matter of convenience divided the property of their deceased husband between them. One of the widows sold a house which had fallen to her share. She then died, and her co-widow sued to recover possession of the house. Held that the purchaser could not claim a refund of money spent in improving the property so purchased. NANDI & SANKU LAL (1917) I L R 39 All 463

47 ——— Transfer by widow to reversioner—Acceleration of succession. Where a Hindu widow transfers an estate to the nearest reversioner such transfer in order to have the legal effect of accelerating the succession must be of the whole estate which the widow possesses. The doctrine does not apply to the transfer of a portion of the estate though it be of the widow's entire interest in that portion. Lelars Lal v. Madho Lal Akir Gayawal 1 L R 19 Cal 26. Pilu v. Babaji 1 L R 34 Bom 166 and Marudamuthu Nadan v. Srinivasa Iyengar 1 L R 21 Mad 128 referred to. The rule laid down by the Privy Council in Dayrangi Singh v. Manoharnik Baksh Singh 1 L R 20 All 1 that a transfer made by a Hindu widow with the consent of the nearest reversioner will take effect as against the more remote reversioner is applicable to cases of transfer for consideration. It has not been extended to a case where a transfer has been made by way of gift. If the transfer be with the consent of the nearest reversioner it takes effect because it affords evidence of the propriety of the transaction in other words it justifies the transaction on the ground of legal necessity. KHAWANI SINGH & CHET PAM (1916) I L R 39 All 1

48 ——— Acceleration of estate by the widow to next reversioner—Entire interest of the widow must be accelerated.—Acceleration by widow not supported by legal necessity.—Subsequently adopted son not bound by the alienation.—Divesting of estate by adoption.—A man cannot take advantage of his own fraud.—Maxim. A Hindu widow who was in possession of her husband's property mortgaged it with defendant No 1 in 1833. The plaintiffs who were next reversioners sued to set aside the alienation on the ground that it was not supported by consideration. The suit ended in an award by arbitrator which provided (i) that the plaintiffs were entitled to redeem the mortgage (ii) that defendant No 1 was thereupon to reconvey the property to the plaintiffs (iii) that the widow

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

was to surrender to the plaintiffs her right title and interest in the property and (iv) that out of the property to reconvey the plaintiffs were to give to the widow a house and eighteen bighas of land for her life as maintenance. No decree was passed in terms of the award and parties took no action under the award. In 1906 defendant No 1 created a sub mortgage on the property and executed a rent note to the sub mortgagee. Sometime afterwards the plaintiffs took a reconveyance of the property from the defendant No 1 but without making any payment to him they paid off the sub mortgage and they took an assignment from the sub mortgagee of his rights under the sub mortgage. In 1909 the widow adopted defendant No 2 who was the natural son of defendant No 1. Defendant No 2 was placed in possession of the property by his natural father. The plaintiffs filed the present suit to recover possession of the property. Held dismissing the suit that the award which was the basis of plaintiffs' claim could not be supported either as an acceleration by the widow of her interest which to be valid required the surrender of the whole of her interest in the property or as an alienation which was not for a legal necessity and which therefore was not binding on defendant No 2. Held further that defendant No 2 was not precluded from contesting the plaintiffs' claim to possession so much as he was not guilty of any fraud at all and as he had not thereby gained any advantage in the special case to be determined between him and the plaintiffs. An acceleration by a Hindu widow enjoying a life estate in favour of the next reversioner is valid only if the acceleration is of the whole of her interest in the property. In an alienation by a Hindu widow of her husband's estate the consent of the reversioners is no more than a factor in the proof of legal necessity. A true acceleration differs from alienation for legal necessity. The two legal notions are not only irreconcilable but virtually antagonistic. MONT RAJJI & LALDAS JENNAL (1916) I L R 41 Bom 93

49 ——— Right of residence in joint family house—Effect of alienation during the life time of widow's husband. When a right of residence or maintenance comes into existence in favour of the widow of a man who was lately a member of a joint Hindu family she takes that right in the property as it stands at the time of her husband's death. She cannot set up her right of maintenance or residence as against alienations effected during the life time of her husband. Ayudha Prasad v. Jasoda 1887 All Weekly Notes 479 followed. A widowed daughter in law is debarred from setting up the plea of the invalidity of an alienation effected by the father in law during her husband's life time. Sohni v. Mohan Kuar 9 A L J 23 followed. RAMZAN & RAM DAIRA (1917) I L R 40 All 96

50 ——— Gift—Suit to cancel alienation made by widow.—Plaintiff not nearest reversioner. In order that a reversioner may be able to maintain a suit to cancel an alienation made by a Hindu widow of her husband's property he must either be the next presumptive reversioner or he must show that the nearer reversioners are colluding with the widow. Pani Anand Kunwar v. The Court of Wards 1 L R 6 Cal 761 and Vegeti Bai v. Pam Khelavani Bai 1 L R 35

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

All 316 followed Raja Dev v Umed Singh I L R 4 All 207 distinguished CUMAYAN v JAHANGIRA (1918) I L R 40 All 518

51 ———— Transfer by assignee from widow—Right of suit of reversioner—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 190 and 125 An alienation made by the transferee from a Hindu female in possession with a limited estate or by a stranger in possession holding under her may furnish the nearest reversioner with a cause of action for a declaratory suit equally with an alienation made by the Hindu female herself. To such a suit the limitation applicable is not that prescribed by Art 125 but that prescribed by Art 120 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 BALBHADDAR PRASAD v PRAG DAT (1919)

I L R 41 All-492

52 ———— Reversioners—Whether award or compromise decree against widow binds reversioners The principle that a decree fairly obtained against a Hindu widow binds the reversioners does not apply to a compromise or an award decree not shown to have been fairly obtained against the Hindu widow as representing the estate Jeram v Veerba 5 Bom L R 885 followed RAMA BAI SANTU v DATT BAI NARU (1918) I L R 43 Bom 249

53 ———— Alienation for religious purposes—For purposes which are supposed to conduce to the spiritual welfare of her husband a widow has a larger power of disposition than she possesses of a purely worldly purposes KUNJ BHIMJI LAL v LALU SINGH

I L R 41 All 130

53(a) ———— Whether after born son divests widow's estate—A sale by a widow was held good notwithstanding the birth of a son after the death of the father as the rights of a son (in Hindu Law) in the estate of his father date from his birth HIMA v BUTA

I L R 1 Lah 128

53(b) ———— Power to make permanent lease—Benefit of estate—Acquisition of tenant's rights—Accretion to husband's estate—Onus on appellant to show error in judgment appealed from A permanent lease executed by a Hindu widow does not bind the reversioners unless a legal necessity and benefit to the estate are proved. The mere fact that the rent and purchase price represent the fair market value does not of itself prove necessity. Tenant's rights acquired by a Hindu widow are in the absence of proof that they were acquired out of the accumulated savings of her income and were dealt with as her separate property accretions to her husband's estate and as such cannot be sold by her so as to give a title against the reversioners. The burden of showing that the judgment appealed from is wrong lies on the appellant NARAKISHORE MANDAL v URRUPATI KISHORE MANDAL

26 C W N 322

54. ———— Alienation by—With consent of immediate reversioner—Actual reversioners—Assent of a stopped from recovering—Presumption of legal necessity rebuttal of—Proof of legal necessity—Incessant need of relief of—What is legal necessity—Existence of relief of—Where the conveyance by a Hindu widow covers a portion only of the

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

estate left by her husband the transferee can successfully resist the claim only on proof of legal necessity or such bond fide enquiry as entitles him to protection from a Court of equity. In a suit by the reversionary heir to recover the property from the alien and the burden of proving that there was legal necessity or bond fide enquiry rests in the first instance on the person who claims title from the widow. Recitals in deeds as to the existence of such necessity cannot by themselves be relied upon for the purpose of proving the assertion of fact which they contain. The existence of necessity must be substantiated by evidence abunde. It is not sufficient for the transferee to prove that there were some debts payable by the deceased full owner or his widow. The true rule is that the creditor to protect himself where he is not shown to have made a bond fide enquiry must prove that there was an actual pressure on the estate or danger to be averted, such as a threatened suit on a genuine debt, an outstanding decree or an impending sale which the widow had no fund to meet. Where however the alienation is made with the concurrence of or jointly with the next reversioner a presumption arises in favour of the validity of the transaction. The circumstances under which the consent was given must be carefully scrutinised and if it transpires that the transaction was in essence a device to divide the estate with the reversioner his consent will lose its probative value. The actual reversioners are not estopped from suing to recover property alienated by the deceased widow of the full owner by the fact that their father as immediate reversioner had concurred in the alienation and thus even when they had after the death of their father and before the death of the widow taken by inheritance lend transferred by the widow to their father by way of gift RAMESH CHANDRA CRAIK RAVARTY v SASHI BHUSAN UPADHYA (1919)

23 C W N 1025

55. ———— A widow alienated certain property for a purpose not binding on the inheritance and thereafter adopted a son. Held that the alienation was not binding on the son and he could sue to have the alienation set aside YADYANATHA SASTRI v SAVITHRI ANNIAL

I L R 41 Mad 75

56 ———— Co widows—Relinquishment by one in favour of the other—Predecree of the latter before the former—Male reversioners—Right of inheritance whether accelerated—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 141—Suit by alienee from male reversioners more than twelve years from death of latter widow but within twelve years of the death of surviving widow—Limitation Where a Hindu widow gave up all her rights in her husband's estate in favour of her co widow and the latter predeceased the former the right of succession of the male reversioners to the estate is not accelerated so as to entitle them to succeed to it immediately on the death of the widow in whose favour the relinquishment was made. A suit by the reversioners to set aside an alienation by the latter widow would be within time under Art 141 of the Limitation Act if brought within twelve years from the death of the last surviving widow CHANDAPPA v BURABAGUTTA (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 855

57 ———— Will construction of—Adoption excluded by language of will—Acceptance by

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

for her maintenance. The compromise was made for good consideration on both sides and was bona fide and valid within the principles laid down by the Board in Rangaraj v Gourden v Nachappa Gourden 1 L R 42 Mad 525 L P 46 L 4 72 SURESHWAR MISHRA v MANI SHRIANI MISRAIN 1920 1 L R 48 Cal 160

60 ——— Alienation for religious or charitable purpose — Shrinivasa bhai v Anand — Building dharamsala—Succession — Aima bandhus Unless it can be established that the alienation of a portion of her husband's estate by a Hindu widow is for the performance of religious acts supported or intended to be for the spiritual benefit of the deceased the alienation cannot operate to the prejudice of the reversioners even though the portion of the property alienated be not excessive. Collector of Mysore v Cataly Venkata Narayanaiah & Alloo 1 A 529 Puran Das v Jai Narain 1 L R 4 All, 482 Alub Lal Singh v Ajmal Singh 1 L R, 43 Cal 654 and Kurj Bhai Lal v Lalit Singh 1 L R 41 All 120 referred to. Amongst aima bandhus the paternal grandfather's son's son is nearer heir than the sister's daughter's son. SHAM DEVI v BIRBHADRA PRASAD 1 L R 43 All 463

61 ——— Escheat—Burden of proof—Crown to prove that property is tied in the husband's stridhan. When the Secretary of State for India in Council seeks to recover possession of property as having escheated to the Crown on the death of a Hindu widow by reason of the failure of the deceased husband's heirs it lies upon him to show that the property in suit had vested in the husband. Dewan Han Bhai Bahadur Singh v Jurdural Singh (1855) L R 20 I A 266 relied on. On the failure of her husband's heirs the stridhan of a widow would go to her blood relations in preference to the Crown. Kanakkammal v Ananiamath Annual (1912) 37 Mad 293 approved of. GANPAT RAMA v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA 1 L R 45 Bom 1106

62 ——— Right of residence—Transference for value not affected by the right. Under Hindu Law a widow cannot assert her right of residence in a house which has been sold by her husband during his life time unless a charge is created in her favour prior to the sale. The right which a Hindu wife has during her husband's life time is a matter of personal obligation arising from the very existence of the relation and quite independent of the position of the husband or any property ancestral or self-acquired. Mansil v Bai Tara (1892) 17 Bom 395 considered. Jeyanti Subbiah v Alamelu Margamma (1902) 27 Mad 45 followed. GANGADAT v JANKIDAI 1 L R 45 Bom 337

63 ——— Competence of widow carrying on her deceased husband's business to sell property—Acquired by her in the course of such business—Legal necessity. The widow of a separated Hindu succeeded as such to the business of her deceased husband and carried it on for a time of years with reasonable prudence on the same lines as it had been conducted in his life time. The business was that of a banker and financier and involved from time to time the purchase and resale of immovable

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

property. Held that as regards immovable property not inherited from her husband but purchased in the course of business by her the widow was competent to sell again outright without proof of any special legal necessity being requisite the legal necessity being that the property was sold in the course of a business which she was entitled if she chose to do so to carry on. Neither was it in individual instance a proof of absence of legal necessity that the property was sold for less than the widow had paid for it. Sham Sunjar Lal v Aclan Kuvur 1 L R 21 All 71 Sakrabhai Nathubhai v Bhagan Lal Mulchand 1 L R 26 Bom 206 Radha Kishan v Janki Weekly Note 1907 p 155 referred to. PARALWAN SINGH v JIWAK DAS (1920) 1 L R 42 All 109

Re marriage effect of A Hindu widow on re marriage forfeits the life interest which she holds as the mother of a deceased son who survived her husband. SHOBARANI MAHTO v MUSSAMMAT BHOOGA 3 Pat L J 639

64 ——— Husband's estate—Inheritance—Movable property—Corpus—Waste of corpus—Reversioners' right of—Suit by reversioners to prevent waste—Suit against widow and her alienees without consideration—Receiver—Right to place property in hands of Receiver—Liability of alienees to replace movable corpus in their possession—Accountability of widow as to corpus—Nature of accountability—Duty of widow to replace corpus if in her possession—Right to enjoy income of such property—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 120. A Hindu widow inheriting movable property of her husband is not entitled to commit waste of the corpus of such property. Where she commits waste of the corpus of such property the nearest reversioner is entitled to file a suit praying that such corpus may be redressed into possession and handed over to a receiver appointed in the suit the transferee from the widow without consideration can be directed to replace any part of the corpus of the movable property which can be traced to their hands and the widow herself made accountable for waste in the sense of making her replace the movable corpus of her husband's estate which she has made away with if she is in a position to do so allowing her to enjoy the income of the fund so replaced. Article 120 of the Limitation Act applies to such a suit. Aabin Chunder Chuckerbutty v Issur Chunder Chuckerbutty (1868) 9 W R 504 (F B) and Radha Mohan Dhar v Pam Das Dey (1869) 3 B L R 467 referred to. Sindhar v Brougham (1914) A C 393 applied. VENKATRAO v NARASIMHAJI 1 L R (1920) 44 Mad 984

65 ——— Acceleration of reversioner's interest—Pelinguishment of property with provision for maintenance effect of A and B two widows of a deceased Hindu compromised a dispute between them as to who was entitled to succeed to their husband on the terms that A should take one fourth of the property absolutely and B three fourths absolutely. Held that in the circumstances in which the compromise was effected neither widow took an absolute estate in the property. One of the widows made over her share in equal shares to her two daughters and, with the consent of those daughters to the son of a deceased daughter but stipulated that she should receive for life the rents of certain villages on account of an agreed maintenance of Rs 1.00 per annum. Held that the surrender of the estate by the widow was sufficient to accelerate the estate of the daughters. One of the daughters (C) died after having made a mortgage of her share in the form of an iyara and the surviving daughter (D) accepted rent (huggajira) from the iyaralar. Held that D had elected to affirm the iyara. Held further on the evidence, that there had been a valid family arrangement whereby each daughter became entitled to deal with her share as she pleased during the life time of the other. MUSAMMAT DILTON KHER v HARKNU SINGH (1914) 2 Pat. L.J. 678

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

66 ———— Widow alienating her deceased husband's property to save it—From being sacrificed of a forced sale—Part of the purchase money being for personal necessities in anticipation. Ono G. D. died in 1901 leaving a widow and 2 minor sons and a house at Amritsar of which the widow got possession on behalf of her sons. The sons died in 1906 and 1907 respectively. The house had been mortgaged by G. D. in 1892 for Rs 400 and the mortgagee sued in 1909 and obtained a decree for Rs 60 and an order for the sale of the house in default of payment. In execution of the decree the house was put up to sale by auction and was purchased by one T. S. the highest bidder on the 10th February 1913 for Rs 1100. T. S. however failed to deposit 1/4th of the price and a fresh warrant was issued for 14th July 1913 and the sale fixed for 20th August 1913. Meanwhile the plaintiff, a son of a brother of G. D. had put in objections to the attachment of the house but these were eventually disallowed and he took no further action. On 12th August 1913 the widow sold this house for Rs 1344 and paid the decretal amount into Court. This consideration included also an item of Rs 800 for maintenance and customary contributions on the marriages etc. of her daughter and children. It was found that at the time of the sale the widow had practically no income and that she had 3 daughters and eleven grandchildren and that the sale was executed under circumstances which left her no choice and was in reality an act of good management on her part. Held that a widow is not always bound to sell exactly for the amount for which there is legal necessity and the Courts have to see in each case whether having regard to circumstances the alienation was a proper one. Lala Chattranarayan v Uba Kanwar (1 Beng. L. R. 201). Felaram Poy v Bogolarand Banerjee (14 Calc. W. N. 895) and Trevilian v Hindu Law 2nd Edition page 612 followed. Gurdit Singh v Mehr Singh (67 I. R. 1884) and Nelat Singh v Must Payon (11 P. I. 1884) distinguished. Held also that the proposition that a widow can not anticipate her personal necessities (Mayne's Hindu Law VI Edition paragraph 633) is not an inflexible rule. Moti Singh v Subhmal (39 Indian Cases 968) followed. What is to be seen is whether in the particular case the widow has dealt fairly towards the expectant heir. Held further that as the bulk of the consideration was for legal necessity the sale in question ought to be upheld. Thalagara Pannan v Kalagare Gangayya (6 Indian Cases 115). Kannu Chetty v Amirthammal (26 Indian Cases 418) and

HINDU LAW—WIDOW—contd

Padum Singh v Must Badrabas (57 Indian Cases 675) followed. NAMA MAL v HARBHAGWAN I L R 2 Lah 307

67 ———— Husband's Estate—Inheritance—Moveable property—Corpus—Waste of corpus—Reversioner's right of—Suit by reversioners to prevent waste—Suit against widow and her alienees without consideration—Receiver—Right to place property in hands of Receiver—Liability of alienees to replace moveable corpus in their possession—Accountability of widow as to corpus—Nature of accountability—Duty of widow to replace corpus if in her possession—Right to enjoy income of such property—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) art 1.0. A Hindu widow inheriting moveable property of her husband is not entitled to commit waste of the corpus of such property. Where she commits waste of the corpus of such property the nearest reversioner is entitled to file a suit praying that such corpus may be reduced into possession and handed over to a receiver appointed on the suit the trustees from the widow without consideration can be directed to replace any part of the corpus of the moveable property which can be traced to their hands and the widow herself made accountable for waste in the sense of making her replace the moveable corpus of her husband's estate which she has made away with if she is in a position to do so allowing her to enjoy the income of the fund so replaced. Article 1.0 of the Limitation Act applies to such a suit. Robin Chunder Chuckerbutty v Gurn Prasad (1888) 8 L. P. Supp. Vol 1608 (F. L.) 9 W. R. 205 (F. B.) and Kudha Mohan Dhar v Pam Das Dey (1885) 3 B. L. R. 36 referred to. Sinclair v Brougham (1914) A. C. 308 applied. VENKANA v NAFASIMHAN

I L R 44 Mad 984

68 ———— Hindu widow—Widow's estate—Property acquired by widow without the aid of the husband's estate and without detriment to it—Widow's power of disposition over property so acquired—Widow not trustee for reversioner—Act No 11 of 1885 (Indian Trusts Act) section 90. A Hindu widow in possession as such of her husband's estate acquired certain property through the exercise of a right of pre-emption which she had in that capacity. The pre-emptive price was not however paid from the husband's estate but was raised by means of a mortgage on part of the pre-empted property. Held that the property thus acquired did not in the absence of evidence of any intention on the part of the widow that it should do so form part of the husband's estate but it remained the separate property of the widow. Held also that section 90 of the Indian Trusts Act 1885 had no application to the facts of the case. SAT RAM JANLUJI BIRAJMAN MANDIR v JACDAMPA PRASAN I L R 43 All. 374

69 ———— Hindu widow—Alienation by widow—Consent of the nearest reversioner not sufficient to validate the alienation if there is no legal necessity. Where it is found as a fact upon the evidence that a transfer of her husband's property made by a Hindu widow is not a transfer for valid legal necessity the fact that the next reversioner has joined the widow in making the transfer does not render it valid and binding as against the remotest reversioner. Byrangi Singh v Man

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

each of them a half share of his estate not specially disposed of by the will. By clause 9 he made the following bequests: I have divided between and given to my two sons the whole of my property as mentioned above. But should either of these two sons die without having had (leaving) any male issue the survivor of the said two sons is duly to take the whole of the property appertaining to the share of the deceased son who may have (leave) no male issue (behind him) after undertaking (to defray) the expenses in connection with the maintenance of his widow and marriage of his minor daughter. But under the circumstances the heirs of my deceased son Saraj Lal shall not get any right whatever. The testator died on 4th July 1901 leaving him surviving his two sons. The elder son died on 2nd January 1903 leaving a widow and a daughter. In a suit by the surviving son to enforce the provisions of cl 3 of the will the High Court held that the period of distribution contemplated by the testator was the period of his death at which his time half of his estate became vested in each of his sons absolutely and that cl 9 should be read as if the survivorship there provided was limited to survivorship at the death of the testator. Held (reversing that decision) that the words of cl 9 were not limited to survivorship during the testator's life but clearly pointed to survivorship whenever it should occur and that the surviving son was as such survivor entitled to the estate conveyed by the clause subject to the obligation imposed upon him of maintaining his brother's widow and daughter. CHUNILAL LAKSHMI HANAR v. BAI SAMRATH (1914)

I L R 38 Bom 399

20 ————— Absolute gift by will to Hindu widow—Property acquired after date of will—Rule of law that will speaks from the death of the testator before and after the Hindu Wills Act. A Hindu testator executed a will at Benares in which he provided: Upon my death my wife shall get the land, jagas, cash money, Government promissory notes etc. and all other immovable and moveable properties of which I am in possession and enjoyment save and except the lands and buildings mentioned in the schedule and possess and enjoy the same with the right to transfer by gift or sale and no one will be entitled to raise any objection regarding any gift or sale to be made by her. The testator after the date of the will purchased a house at Benares of which he was in possession and enjoyment at the time of his death. Held that the widow did not get merely a widow's estate in the property bequeathed but she took it as an absolute heritable estate. That the Hindu Wills Act did not apply to the property in Benares. That the words: upon my death my wife shall get all my properties which I am in possession meant that she was to take all the property which the testator would possess at the time of his death and there was no intestacy so far as the house at Benares was concerned. 477 of the Succession Act which is incorporated in the Hindu Wills Act enacts in other words that the will speaks from the death of the testator. The Hindu Wills Act did not vary the mode of construction of wills in this respect nor is it correct to hold that in parts of India, where the Act does not apply, the ordinary rule that the will speaks from the death of the testator does not obtain. SITENDRA KUMAR

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

CHATTOPADHYAY & NATH & GOPAL MUKHOPADHYAY (1912) 18 C W N 140

21 ————— Devise to widow—Gift over—Life interest—Absolute gift—Power of appointment—Alienation by gift or sale—Administration on suit—Cause of action. A Hindu testator by his will provided for the performance of certain religious ceremonies and devised all his moveable and immoveable properties to his wife with power to alienate by gift or sale. He also by the same will made a gift over to his daughter in the following terms:—My daughter Hara Kumari shall become entitled to and possessor of whatever property will remain after your death and she shall enjoy the same keeping up and maintaining the aforesaid shoba etc. The will then went on to say:—

the said daughter shall have the same rights as you have and he to whom my said daughter may willingly give away those properties shall while possessing the same and keeping up and maintaining the shoba enjoy them. At his death on the 11th March 1860 the testator left him surviving his widow and an only daughter Hara Kumari. The widow having obtained probate of the testator's will executed on the 19th May 1868 in favour of her two grand daughters Hemangini and Nagendrabala born some time after the testator's death a deed of gift of certain properties acquired by her under the said will. On the 30th September 1868 the widow died. In October 1869 Mahim Chandra Sarkar the testator's nephew dispossessed Hemangini and Nagendrabala of these properties and took possession of the same. On the 8th March 1908 Hara Kumari in whose favour the High Court had decided a suit brought by Mahim Chandra Sarkar for the construction of the testator's will and for a declaration of the rights of the parties thereunder (11 C W N 412 7 C L J 540) executed a deed of gift in favour of her daughter Hemangini and on the 8th April 1908 she also executed a similar deed in favour of her other daughter, Nagendrabala and a dehala in favour of Hemangini. In suits brought for administration by Mahim Chandra Sarkar against Hara Kumari who died during its pendency for recovery of arrears of rent and dues in respect of a certain darpats belonging to the estate of the testator by Mahim Chandra Sarkar against the darpats and Hemangini and Nagendrabala and for recovery of possession of certain property acquired by virtue of the deed of gift from the testator's widow by Hemangini and Nagendrabala against Mahim Chandra Sarkar Held that Mahim Chandra Sarkar had no cause of action and could not maintain the suit for administration. Held also that the testator could make an absolute gift to his daughter who was his reversionary heir in absolute estate and that the gift to her under her father's will was an absolute gift. Held also that there was no power of appointment to the daughter enjoining her to nominate an heir or successor to her father's estate. Held also that the provision for keeping up the shoba was merely a collateral charge on the property in whosever's hands it might be and did not affect the absolute character of the gift. Das Lal v. Suraj Lakram Singh 1 L L J 405 distinguished. Mowar Malomed Khumool Hoda v. Shaukatram 1 P 214 7 Jadhav Prasad Shallick v. Jangmou Das 1 L L J 30 Cate 395 L P 114 114 Jalindra

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

Mohan Tazore v Canendra Mohan Tazore 9 B L R 3 Mu. Sumit Kolling Koor v Iuchmee Perani 24 B L R 390 71 Indur Singh v Bakke Singh 1 L R 3 All 309 and Inanna v Injanyya 1 L R 16 Mai 166 referred to Held also that the patti was vested in Hemangini and Nagen Irabala by alienation during Hara Kumar's life that they were Hara Kumar's heirs the property being stridhan and that Mahim Chandra Sarkar had no title whatever to any of the properties left by Hara Kumar. Held also that the widow had absolute power of alienation in derogation of the rights of the sole reversioner her daughter who was only entitled to the residue that the gift by the widow to Hemangini and Nagen Irabala was valid and that Mahim Chandra Sarkar could not plead his right as reversioner against a suit by the heirs of Hara Kumar to eject him as a trespasser even though the gift should fail. Hara Kumar Das v Mahim Chandra Sarkar 1 L R 412 7 C L J 516 referred to Held further that the power of alienation which though perhaps analogous to what was known as a power of appointment in English law could not be governed by the rules of English law relating to such appointments. Das Motian v Das Mamulal 1 L R 21 Bom 709 referred to Mahim Chandra Sarkar v Hara Kumar Das (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 561

22 ——— Construction of will—Bequest in favour of two brothers—Legatees to take in equal shares—Tenancy in common or joint tenancy. A Hindu who had been adopted made will authorizing his wife to make an adoption and in case she failed to do so leaving his property to his two own brothers in equal shares. Held that the brothers took as tenants in common and not as joint tenants. Gopi v Jaidhara 1 L R 33 All 41 followed. Manlamna Kunwar v Balkishan Das 1 L R 23 All 38 distinguished. Jogeeswar Varan Das v Ram Chandra Dutt 1 L R 23 Cal 610 referred to. Han Prasad v Sukhdevi Kunwar (1915) 1 L R 37 All 241

23 ——— Construction—Gift over repugnant to previous gift—S 116 of the Succession Act scope and meaning of—Gift over on the failure of prior bequest when such failure did not occur in manner contemplated by testator. A Hindu testator governed by the Mitakshara School of Hindu Law died leaving a will and leaving him surviving his widow two daughters and a minor son. The testator also left a brother and the two sons of his brother who were the defendants. The son of the testator died having survived his mother by a few days. The eldest daughter died in the lifetime of her mother leaving a daughter who died unmarried. The plaintiffs were the two surviving sons of the other daughter of the testator. The testator by his will had made his minor son the mahil of all his properties. The will provided that he should succeed to and enter upon possession and occupation of the whole of his estate and appointed the widow as the manager and legal guardian of the infant son. After providing for the management of the property during the son's minority the will provided—If after my death the said minor son dies the mother of the said son shall in his stead become the mahil in possession and occupation when like myself the said Musammatt shall acquire all the proprietary

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

powers and all kinds of properties moveable and immovable and after the death of the widow the property was to go to the testator's two daughters in equal shares. Held that the gift over in favour of the widow in the event of the son dying without having attained majority was not a void gift as being repugnant to the form of the gift that was previously made in favour of the son. The provisions of the Indian Succession Act rendered such a gift perfectly good. That s 16 of the Succession Act which merely incorporated the rules of the English Law provides clearly that the gift over shall take effect on the failure of the prior bequest although the failure may not have occurred in the manner contemplated by the testator. The mere fact that the testator contemplated that if his son died a minor and the widow survived him she would acquire the property before the two daughters and that that even did not take effect in that order because the widow predeceased the son did not deprive the daughters of the benefit of the legacy given to them by the testator. The gift in favour of the daughters was a valid bequest to them and the defendant who claimed as being the next heirs of the testator's son had no interest in the estate of the testator. Durga Pershad v Raghunandan Lal (1914) 19 C W N 429

24 ——— Construction—Indian Succession Act (X of 1885) s 111 rule of construction in—Legacy with power to sell make a gift etc in respect of properties bequeathed as absolute gift to legatee. A Hindu in his will provided as follows—I bequeath to both of you (the testator's widow and his brother's daughter) the rest of the properties. You will become entitled to all or make a gift or hebn etc in respect of the said properties and hold and enjoy the same. If by the will of God one of you should die before the other whoever will survive will hold and enjoy the whole of the property as mahil. Held that the case fell within s 111 of the Indian Succession Act and the widow not having predeceased her husband and having survived the period of distribution took an absolute interest under the will. That the ordinary rule of construction when the testator has given an absolute gift to a legatee and then has made a gift over simpliciter on a contingency of death is that he was referring to death before the period of distribution. This is clearly provided for in s 111 of the Indian Succession Act which applies to Hindu wills. The rule in this section is an absolute rule of construction and not a rule of construction which may be contradicted by other evidence appearing on the face of the will. Nistarini Debta v Behary Lal Mukherjee (1914) 19 C W N 52

25 ——— Execution of will by a Hindu widow—Suit for declaration by reversioner—Cause of action—Whether suit maintainable. A Hindu widow executed a will and thereby bequeathed her husband's property in her hands to a certain person purporting to do so under the oral directions of her husband. The next reversioner brought this suit for a declaration that the will in question was void and ineffectual as against his interest. Held that the mere execution of the will did not afford a sufficient reason for granting a declaratory decree. Pam Bhayn v G. Ramanna 1 L R 15 R 468 followed. Sajpal Kumar

HINDU LAW--WILL--contd

each of them a half share of his estate not specifically disposed of by the will. By clause 9 he made the following bequests: "I have divided between and given to my two sons the whole of my property as mentioned above. But should either of these two sons die without having had (leaving) any male issue the survivor of the said two sons is duly to take the whole of the property appertaining to the share of the deceased son who may have (leave) no male issue (behind him) after undertaking (to defray) the expenses in connection with the maintenance of his widow and marriage of his minor daughter. But under the circumstances the heirs of my deceased son Saraj Lal shall not get any right whatever." The testator died on 4th July 1901 leaving him surviving his two sons. The elder son died on 2nd January 1903 leaving a widow and a daughter. In a suit by the surviving son to enforce the provisions of cl. 9 of the will the High Court held that the period of distribution contemplated by the testator was the period of his death at which his time half of his estate became vested in each of his sons absolutely and that cl. 9 should be read as if the survivorship there provided was limited to survivorship at the death of the testator. Held (reversing that decision) that the words of cl. 9 were not limited to survivorship during the testator's life but clearly pointed to survivorship whenever it should occur and that the surviving son was as such survivor entitled to the estate conveyed by the clause subject to the obligation imposed upon him of maintaining his brother's wife and daughter. CHITRAL KAN VATHANARAYAN v. BAI SAMRATHI (1914)

I L R 38 Bom 399

20 ———— Absolute gift by will to Hindu widow—Property acquired after date of will—Rule of law that will speaks from the death of the testator before and after the Hindu Wills Act. A Hindu testator executed a will at Benares in which he provided: "Upon my death my wife shall get the lands, jamaas, cash, money, Government promissory notes, etc. and all other immovable and moveable properties of which I am in possession and enjoyment save and except the lands and buildings mentioned in the schedule and possess and enjoy the same with the right to transfer by gift or sale and no one will be entitled to raise any objection regarding any gift or sale to be made by her." The testator after the date of the will purchased a house at Benares of which he was in possession and enjoyment at the time of his death. Held that the widow did not get merely a widow's estate in the property bequeathed but she took it as an absolute heritable estate. That the Hindu Wills Act did not apply to the property in Benares. That the words "upon my death my wife shall get all my properties which I am in possession" meant that she was to take all the property which the testator would possess at the time of his death and there was no intestacy so far as the house at Benares was concerned. S. 25 of the Succession Act which is incorporated in the Hindu Wills Act enacts in other words that the will speaks from the death of the testator. The Hindu Wills Act did not vary the mode of construction of wills in this respect nor is it correct to hold that in parts of India, where the Act does not apply the ordinary rule that the will speaks from the death of the testator does not obtain. JYOTIRAJ KUMAR

HINDU LAW--WILL--contd

CHATTOPADHYAY & NRIITYA GOPAL MUKHOPADHYAY
(1912) 18 C W N 140

21 ———— Devise to widow—Gift over—Life interest—Absolute gift—Power of appointment—Alienation by gift or sale—Administration suit—Cause of action. A Hindu testator by his will provided for the performance of certain religious ceremonies and devised all his moveable and immovable properties to his wife with power to alienate by gift or sale. He also by the same will made a gift over to his daughter in the following terms:—"My daughter Hara Kumari shall become entitled to and possessor of whatever property will remain after your death and she shall enjoy the same keeping up and maintaining the aforesaid sheba etc." The will then went on to say:—"the said daughter shall have the same rights as you have and he to whom my said daughter may willingly give away those properties shall while possessing the same and keeping up and maintaining the sheba enjoy them." At his death on the 11th March 1896 the testator left him surviving his widow and an only daughter Hara Kumari. The widow having obtained probate of the testator's will executed on the 10th May 1898 in favour of her two granddaughters Hemangini and Nagendrabala born some time after the testator's death a deed of gift of certain properties acquired by her under the said will. On the 30th September 1898 the widow died. In October 1899 Mahim Chandra Sarkar the testator's nephew dispossessed Hemangini and Nagendrabala of these properties and took possession of the same. On the 8th March 1905 Hara Kumari in whose favour the High Court had decided a suit brought by Mahim Chandra Sarkar for the construction of the testator's will and for a declaration of the rights of the parties thereunder (11 C W N 412 & C L J 540) executed a deed of gift in favour of her daughter Hemangini and on the 8th April 1909 she also executed a similar deed in favour of her other daughter Nagendrabala and a lobola in favour of Hemangini. In suits brought for administration by Mahim Chandra Sarkar against Hara Kumari who died during its pendency for recovery of arrears of rent and cesses in respect of a certain darpatna belonging to the estate of the testator by Mahim Chandra Sarkar against the darpatnadar and Hemangini and Nagendrabala and for recovery of possession of certain property acquired by virtue of the deed of gift from the testator's widow by Hemangini and Nagendrabala against Mahim Chandra Sarkar Held that Mahim Chandra Sarkar had no cause of action and could not maintain the suit for administration. Held also that the testator could make an absolute gift to his daughter who was his reversionary heir in absolute estate and that the gift to her under her father's will was an absolute gift. Held also that there was no power of appointment to the daughter enjoining her to nominate an heir or successor to her father's estate. Held also that the provision for keeping up the sheba was merely a collateral charge on the property in whosever hands it might be and did not affect the absolute character of the gift. Brij Lal v. Suraj Lalram Singh I L R 31 All 405 distinguished. Moulvi Mahomed Ali v. Moulvi Hudaib v. Moulvi Ali I L R 21 All 104 distinguished. Radha Prasad Mulla v. Janamoni Das I L R 30 Cal 596 L P 114. Jatindra

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

Mohan Tazore v Candendra Mohan Tazore 9 B L R 37 — Musammatt Kollay Koor v Iuchmee Perasad 1 I L R 393 — Tilak Singh v Velle Sirji 1 I L R 341 — 341 and Panama v Papayya 1 I L R 16 Mad 466 referred to. Held also, that the gift was valid in Hemangini and Nagendrabala by alienation during Hara Kumari's life that they were Hara Kumari's heirs the property being stridhan and that Mahim Chandra Sarkar has no title whatever to any of the properties left by Hara Kumari. Held also that the widow had absolute power of alienation in derogation of the rights of the sole reversioner her daughter who was only entitled to the residue that the gift by the widow to Hemangini and Nagendrabala was valid and that Mahim Chandra Sarkar could not plead his right as reversioner against a suit by the heirs of Hara Kumari to eject him as a trespasser even though the gift should fail. Hara Kumari Dasi v Mahim Chandra Sarkar 1 C L J 412 7 C L J 546 referred to. Held further that the power of alienation which though perhaps analogous to what was known as a power of appointment in English law could not be governed by the rules of English law relating to such appointments. Lai Motenhu v Dai Mamabai 1 L R 21 Bom 709 referred to. Mahim Chandra Sarkar v Hara Kumari Dasi (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 561

22 — Construction of will—Bequest in favour of two brothers—Legate to take in equal shares—Tenancy in common or joint tenancy. A Hindu who had been adopted made will authorizing his wife to make an adoption and in case she failed to do so leaving his property to his two own brothers in equal shares. Held that the brothers took as tenants in common and not as joint tenants. Gopi v Seidhara 1 L R 33 All 41 followed. Manamma Kinnar v Balkishan Das 1 L R 23 All 38 distinguished. Jogeeswar Narain Deo v Ram Chandra Dutt 1 L R 23 Cal 670 referred to. HAR PRASAD v SUREDEVI KUNWAR (1915) 1 L R 37 All 241

23 — Construction—Gift over repugnant to previous gift—S 116 of the Succession Act scope and meaning of—Gift over on the failure of prior bequest when such failure did not occur in manner contemplated by testator. A Hindu testator governed by the Britisha School of Hindu Law died leaving a will and leaving him surviving his widow two daughters and a minor son. The testator also left a brother and the two sons of his brother who were the defendants. The son of the testator died having survived his mother by a few days. The eldest daughter died in the life time of her mother leaving a daughter who died unmarried. The plaintiffs were the two surviving sons of the other daughter of the testator. The testator by his will had made his minor son the malik of all his properties. The will provided that he should succeed to and enter upon possession and occupation of the whole of his estate and appointed her widow as the manager and legal guardian of the infant son. After providing for the management of the property during the son's minority the will provided—If after my death the said minor son dies the mother of the said son shall in his stead become the malik in possession and occupation when like myself the said Musammatt shall acquire all the proprietary

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

powers and all kinds of properties moveable and immovable and after the death of the widow the property was to go to the testator's two daughters in equal shares. Held that the gift over in favour of the widow in the event of the son dying without having attained majority was not a void gift as being repugnant to the form of the gift that was previously made in favour of the son. The provisions of the Indian Succession Act rendered such a gift perfectly good. That s 16 of the Succession Act which merely incorporated the rules of the English Law provides clearly that the gift over shall take effect on the failure of the prior bequest although the failure may not have occurred in the manner contemplated by the testator. The mere fact that the testator contemplated that if his son died a minor and the widow survived him she would acquire the property before the two daughters and that that event did not take effect in that order because the widow predeceased the son did not deprive the daughters of the benefit of the legacy given to them by the testator. The gift in favour of the daughters was a valid bequest to them and the defendant who claimed as being the next heirs of the testator's son had no interest in the estate of the testator. Durga Prasad v Raghunandan Lal (1914) 19 C W N 439

24 — Construction—Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) s 111 rule of construction in—Legacy with power to sell make a gift etc in respect of properties bequeathed by absolute gift to legatee. A Hindu in his will provided as follows—I bequeath to both of you (the testator a widow and his brother a daughter) the rest of the properties. You will become entitled to it or make a gift or reba etc in respect of the said properties and hold and enjoy the same. If by the will of God one of you should die before the other whoever will survive will hold and enjoy the whole of the property as malik. Held that the clause within s 111 of the Indian Succession Act and the widow not having predeceased her husband and having survived the period of distribution took an absolute interest under the will. That the ordinary rule of construction when the testator has given on absolute gift to a legatee and then has made a gift over simpliciter on a contingency of death is that he was referring to death before the period of distribution. Thus a clearly provided for in s 111 of the Indian Succession Act which applies to Hindu wills. This rule in this section is an absolute rule of construction and not a rule of construction which may be contradicted by other evidence appearing on the face of the will. NISTARINI DEBYA v BENARY LAL MUKHERJEE (1914) 19 C W N 52

25 — Execution of a will by a Hindu widow—Suit for declaration by reversioner—Cause of action—Whether suit maintainable. A Hindu widow executed a will and thereby bequeathed her husband's property in her hands to a certain person purporting to do so under the oral directions of her husband. The next reversioner brought this suit for a declaration that the will in question was void and ineffectual against his interest. Held that the mere execution of the will did not afford a sufficient reason for granting a declaratory decree. Pim Bhairu v Charan 1 All L J R 468 followed. Sajid Ahmad 19

HINDU LAW--WILL--contd

v Indar Bahadur Singh I L L R 26 11 238 referred to UMRAO KUNWAR v BABRI (1915)

I L R 37 All 422

26 ————— Will—Birth of a son: subsequent to the execution of the will effect of—Death of the son before the testator—No revocation of the will under the Indian law—Revocation under the old English law prior to Wills Act—Statutory law in India—Indian Succession Act (X of 1861) s 57—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 4 A will executed by a Hindu testator disposing of his ancestral property is not revoked in law by reason of the birth subsequent to the execution of the will of a son who had before the testator. The rule of English law that it was essential to the validity of a devise of freehold lands that the testator should be seized thereof at the making of the will and that he should continue so seized without interruption until his decease is no longer in force in England in consequence of the enactment of the Wills Act. The principle applicable in India is that adopted in the English Wills Act that a will has the same effect as if it were executed at the time of the testator's death. The statutory law of wills in India has not adopted the principle that a will should be deemed to be revoked in consequence of a change in the circumstances of the testator or a change with respect to his rights to the property disposed of by the will. (See s 57 of the Indian Succession Act) Survivorship has the effect of rendering a will invalid only with respect to the property which the testator could not dispose of at the time of his death. All other dispositions made by him are valid. Shri Sabita Prasad v The Collector of Meerut I L R 29 All 82 and Subba Reddi v Doraisami Nathan I L R 30 Mad 369 followed Bodu v Venkatasami Naidu (1913) I L R 33 Mad 369

27 ————— Ancestral moveable property—Will—Bequest—Bequest by Co-parcener One Pandharinath Ramchandra a Hindu testator made a will by which he directed that Rs 2001 should be paid to each of his three daughters out of the ancestral moveable property. He died leaving a son surviving him. In a suit by one of the daughters to recover amount of the legacy from the estate of the testator. Held that the legacies were directed to be paid by the testator out of property which he had no power to dispose of by will. Lilla Billa v Yamenamma I L R 3 Mad H C R 6 followed Hanmantappa v Jambai I L R 24 Bom 517 distinguished and Lachoo v Manjoreba I L R 22 Bom 51 and I L R 31 Bom 373 distinguished IYATYATIAS v BHAGWANT VISHWANATH PATNAK (1915) I L R 39 Bom 593

28 ————— Will—Giving power to widow to adopt with consent of trustees where one declines to act A Hindu testator by his will appointed five trustees of his property and gave power to his widow to adopt a son with their consent and advice and one of the trustees declined to act. Held that the consent of the declining trustee was not necessary and the adoption made with the consent of the other four trustees was valid. HAL CHANDRAN v ELAKK v SUBBINATHAN IYER (1915) I L R 39 Bom 441

29 ————— Probate—Application for—Forum stands to oppose—Mistake as to father will by in favor of widowed daughter—

HINDU LAW--WILL--contd

Widow of predeceased son if may contest will when no ancestral property—Right to maintenance against devisee—Provision in will if may be referred to Where there is no ancestral property a Hindu governed by the Mitakshara law is ordinarily under no legal obligation to maintain his predeceased son's widow. His obligation is merely a moral or an imperfect obligation which however ripens into a legal obligation on the part of the heir who gets his estate after his death. Devji Prasad v Gunwanti Koer I L R 22 Cal 410 and Siddeshury Das v Jonardan Sarkar 6 C W N 530 s c I L R 29 Cal 557 referred to Quere Whether such a right can be enforced against a devisee of the entire estate under a will executed by the father in law Held that as the daughter in law's right to maintenance which could have been enforced in case of intestacy would be taken away by the will she ought to be allowed to appear and oppose the grant of probate of the will Where the right to maintenance is enforceable against the devisee Quere Whether the claimant of maintenance has sufficient interest to oppose the grant of probate in all cases In the goods of Sarat Chunder Patra 2 C W N 111 (1899) Garabini Dasi v Protap Chandra 4 C W N 602 and in the goods of Gobinda Chandra Paboyee 17 C W N 1141 referred to The provisions of the will may be looked at to see if the will really affects the right to maintenance Where the will of the father in law directed that all the properties should be sold and a certain sum of money paid to the widowed daughter in law and after payment of certain legacies the balance was to be appropriated by his widowed daughter who was not his heir Held that in this case the will seriously affected the interest of the daughter in law and she had sufficient interest to oppose the grant of probate Garabini Dasi v Protap Chandra 4 C W N 602 referred to INDEBALA DASI v PANCHUNATH DASI (1914) 19 C W N 1169

30 ————— Construction of will—Contingent bequest in future of whole estate—Succession Act (X of 1861) s 107 111—Event on occurrence of which distribution was to take place specified in will The will of a Hindu resident in Calcutta and subject to the Dayabhaga School of Law who died on 10th November 1907 stated I appoint my wife Pontashini Dasi to be the sole executrix of this my will I hereby authorize my said wife to adopt dattaka putra In case of death of an adopted son my said wife shall adopt one after another five in sons in succession If my said wife dies without adopting a son or if such adopted son predeceases her without leaving any male issue in such case my estate after the death of my said wife shall pass to the sons of my sister Benodini Dasi who may be living at the time of my death Two sons of his sister were living at the death of the testator On his death his widow as executrix duly obtained probate of the will and in August 1909 in pursuance of the authority given her by her deceased husband she adopted a son who however died on 10th March 1910 an infant unmarried and leaving no male issue; and a few days afterwards the widow herself died In a suit by the adoptive mother of the testator now represented by the appellant against the two sons (the present respondents) of his sister for a declaration that in the events that had happened the devise to them had lapsed and that the testator's estate had devolved on her Held on the construction of the will (affirming the decisions of the Courts in India) that on the death of the testator the widow took an interest in the estate which by virtue of the will was not directed on her adoption of a son to her husband and on her death the executory bequest to the sons of the testator as well took effect and the estate passed to them. Section III of the Succession Act (X of 1865) was not applicable because the event on the occurrence of which the distribution was to take place was distinctly mentioned as in the words of the will the death of my wife and the gift to the testator's nephews was therefore not affected by that section. INTERPRETATION BY THE COURT GUPTA v. AMARDEVI (1913) 1 D 1913.

HINDU LAW—WILL—cont

I L R 43 Cal 432

31 ————— Revocation of Will —Will disposing of property and nominating wife for adoption to be completed later and giving wife power to complete it if he does not do so—Subsequent completion of adoption by testator—Subsequent will making different disposition of property but not revoking former will—Later will held in former will illegal as disposing of ancestral property which testator had no power to do—Dependent relative revocation. A Hindu testator being the sole coparcener of certain property made a will in 1859 by which he appointed his wife S and his daughter I executrices and in which he nominated as his son one J a son of his daughter but stated that he had not completed the adoption and he directed that if he should die before completing it S should after his death perform the necessary ceremonies and take the grandson in adoption and the will contained the following clause—In case any danger may happen to my grandson J during the lifetime of my wife S who is one of my executrices my wife may according to her wishes take in adoption one of my aforesaid daughter's sons and give my properties to that son. The testator completed the adoption of J on 9th February 1890. On 21st March 1890 he executed another will of which a third person was made executor together with S and J and which contained a gift that in case of the death of I his issues should enjoy the property. There were in it no words revoking the previous will and it did not refer to the clause in the former will which gave S a contingent power of adoption. On 4th April 1890 the testator died. The will of 1890 was not admitted to probate but a grant of probate was made of the will of 1890. J died on 4th June 1891. In 1904 the appellant as reversionary heir of J obtained a decree declaring the will of 1890 void and inoperative according to Hindu law as disposing of ancestral property over which the testator had no power of disposal. On 13th August 1906 S adopted the respondent I in accordance with the authority given her by the will of 1889. In a suit by the appellant against S and J for a declaration that J's adoption was illegal and invalid Held that the document executed by the testator in 1889 was a will and not a mere non-testamentary authority to adopt. It contained the appointment of executors and was executed by a testator who at his date had power to dispose of the property of which he purported to dispose. Held also that after the completion of J's adoption and the consequent admission into the joint family of another coparcener the testator had no power to dispose of the property which on his death was ancestral property and in that extent the will of 1889 became ineffectual. But there was no such inconsistency between the two wills as that the provisions of the earlier will could not stand with the existence of the later will. The will of 1890 no doubt prevailed over the will of 1889 but the contingent power to adopt was unaffected by anything in the later will. Held further that the question whether the disposition of the property in the later will revoked the provisions as to its disposal in the earlier will turned upon the application of the doctrine of dependent relative revocation which was really a question of intention and that under the circumstances an alternative inconsistent disposition which was not valid or effectual in itself did not revoke an earlier disposition of the same property. Alexander v. Kirkpatrick 1 R. & H. L. Sc. & Div. 397 followed in principle. VENKATAPATAYANA PILLAY v. SUBBAMMAL (1913) 1 L R 39 Mad 107.

HINDU LAW—WILL—cont

32 ————— Construction of will—Will of Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate—Bequest of whole estate to one person or conditions—Conditions containing exception to conveyance of entire estate—Bequest of portion of estate to different legatee—Owner in possession—Mortgage—Absolute or limited estate. A Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate disposed of it by will as follows—Under the will of my husband I am the sole owner in possession of his entire estate and possess all the proprietary powers. I bequeath the entire estate of my husband to Fatch Chand subject to the following conditions (i) So long as I live I shall continue to be the owner in possession of the entire estate and possess all the powers and such or making sales mortgages gift etc. (ii) After my death the said person (the legatee) shall become owner in possession of the entire estate of my husband and he too shall possess all the powers of alienation like myself. (iii) I have bequeathed manza Khudda with all the property to Musammatt Gomi. After my death she shall be the owner in possession of the entire property in manza Khudda aforesaid. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that on the construction of the will the words owner in possession (Malgob) in cl 4 conferred on Musammatt Gomi an absolute estate and that completeness of the ownership and possession was not altered by any other expressions in the will. Surajmani v. Rabi Nath Ojha 1 L P 30 till 31 1 P 35 1 17. Taken all the clauses of the will together there was no repugnancy in such a construction for though the entire estate was conveyed in the first place to Fatch Chand it was subject to conditions one of which (cl 4) bequeathed manza Khudda as an exception to the conveyance of the entire estate. LATCH CHAND v. RUP CHAND (1916) 1 L R 38 All 440.

33 ————— Will—Co-executors—Probate obtained by one executor—Subsequent application by the other co-executor for joint probate—Compromise between co-executors—Mortgage of estate by one executor to the other—I incurral on of executorship—Validity of compromise—Action of executor without probate—Validity of—Probate and

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

Administration Act (V of 1881) s 2 & 82 92—
*Applicability of to all Hindus—Executor trustee of charities under the will—Claims of trustee against trust estate—Charge—Limitation Act Art 130—Suit for account and for set off against trustee—
 Right of trustee as defendant to equities in such suit —Decree in favour of trustee as defendant—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 92 It is doubtless if an executor is competent in law to compromise the claims of his co executor against the testator's estate but assuming that he has such a power it is essential that the compromise should be entered into bona fide and for the benefit of the estate Per WALLIS C J—The Probate and Administration Act does not say that a 82 is to apply only to cases of Hindus governed by the Hindu Wills Act, but s 2 provides that chapters II to XIII which include s 82 are to apply to every Hindu Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J—It is not incumbent on an executor of the will of a Hindu to obtain probate before acting as an executor S 82 of the Probate and Administration Act is no bar to an executor acting as a representative of a Hindu testator's estate because a co executor had alone obtained probate of the will in his name S 92 of the said Act should be confined to cases where probate is compulsory before dealing with the property An executor who was appointed trustee of a charity under a will and who had claims against the estate in respect of his administration has no charges on the estate in respect of such claims but should bring his suit within six years under art 120 of the Limitation Act But when a suit was brought against him for an account if he was under a liability to account to the trust at the date of the suit he would be entitled to all the equities flowing from the taking of this account and a decree could be passed in such suit in her favour for the amount that might be found due to him from the estate though a suit by the trustee for the same might be barred by limitation
CHITAMBHAR MUDALIAR v KRISHNASAMI PILLAI
 (1914) I L R 39 Mad 365*

31 Construction—

Absolute gift—Rules of construction approved by Courts—Effect of subsequent clauses in will restricting absolute gift created in previous clauses—Will of a Hindu matters which Court may consider in construing—Malk—Nirayudha malk meaning of A Hindu testator left a will the material portions of which were as follows The second and third clauses of the will appointed the testator's widow as executrix and authorized her to meet the expenses and pay the debts by sale if necessary of a portion of the estate The fourth clause provided that the widow shall obtain as nirayudha malk whatever moveable and immoveable properties shall be left by the testator and she shall be the absolute owner with the rights of gift sale and all other kinds of transfer In the next three clauses the testator authorized the widow to adopt a son and prescribed the devolution of the estate in the event of such adoption and in the last clause he provided that if at the time of the death of his widow there be no adopted son or if no son or wife of the adopted son be alive then the testator's heir according to the Hindu law shall be alive at the time shall get the properties which shall remain after disposal by the widow by way of gift or sale of the same Held that under the fourth clause of

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

the will the widow took an absolute interest in the estate devised and the gift over contained in the last clauses of what might remain undisposed of by her was void and inoperative in law That the provisions of the will relating to adoption and the devolution of the estate in the event of adoption could not qualify the effect of the fourth clause even though they contained provisions repugnant thereto That where an absolute interest is given the Court will not cut it down by subsequent words in the will unless they clearly have an effect to restrict it That where a devisee takes an absolute interest a gift over on his failure to dispose of the property or whatever part of the property he does not dispose of is void That the rule of construction applicable to cases of this description is that not only ought the Court to look to the words of a will alone to determine the operation and effect of the devise but the Court ought to disregard altogether the legal consequences which may follow from the nature and qualities of the estate when such estate is once collected from the words of the will itself Scarborough v Savile 3 A & E 897 962 The instrument must receive a construction according to the plain meaning of the words and sentences therein contained that is,
 the words are to be first read in their grammatical and ordinary sense unless the context shows otherwise That in construing the will of a Hindu it is not improper to take into consideration what are known to be the ordinary notions and wishes of Hindus with respect to the devolution of property namely that a Hindu generally desires that an estate specially an ancestral estate shall be retained in his family and also that a Hindu knows that as a general rule at all events women do not take absolute estates of inheritance which they are enabled to alienate out where the terms are perfectly clear the Court cannot assume contrary to the plain meaning thereof that the testator intended to create estates of a particular description and then bend and twist the language in favour of the assumption so made That the use of the term malk may not by itself necessarily create an absolute interest but the expression nirayudha malk is the strongest and most unequivocal phrase employed in the vernacular to indicate absolute ownership SURESH CHANDRA PALIT v LALIT MOHAN DUTTA CHOU-DHURI (1915) 20 C W N 463

35

*Will construetion of—Bequest of life estate to widow and remainder to grand sons born and to be born—Madras Hindu Transfers and Bequests Act (I of 1914) s 2 (1) effect of on—Period of distribution to future grand sons happening after the Act—Right of all grand sons born during widow's life to take—Vested interest of grandson existing on date of will
 A Hindu bequeathed by his will dated 1903 a life estate to his widow and an absolute estate thereafter to a son of his daughter then born and to other sons of the daughter that might be born thereafter The testator died in 1906 and his son died in 1907 In a suit by his widow against the testator's widow and another son of the daughter born during the course of the suit for a declaration that the plaintiff was solely entitled to the estate after the death of testator's widow and for an injunction to restrain the widow from wasting the estate and alienating the same Held on a construction of the will (1) that the*

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

testator by interposing a life-estate intended all his grandsons to take his estate who might be born before the death of the widow which was the time fixed for distribution (u) that by s 2 cl (v) of Madras Act I of 1914 The bequest in favour of the unborn grandsons was good as the disposition in their favour was under the will to take effect only after the date of the Act and (w) that as the plaintiff's deceased husband had a vested interest under the bequest she was entitled to maintain the suit and to a share in the estate also with other grandsons of the testator who might be born before the death of the testator a widow Bhagabati Pitmanya v Kachcharan Singh 1 L R 38 Cal 465 referred to Ven KAYAMMA v NAENAYAMA (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 540

38 ———— Bequest to widow—Construct on Unless a grant expressly gives only a limited estate or unless there is any uncertainty or ambiguity in the grant as to the extent of interest conveyed a grant to a Hindu female conveys an absolute estate and there is no presumption of law to the contrary at least in this Presidency. On the occasion of adopting a son a Mahatma Brahman of Tanjore executed a will in 1853 by which after making some small gift in favour of strangers he made a grant in favour as follows — Out of the remaining property my adopted son shall be entitled to enjoy one half of the property Out of the remaining half my two wives shall take half and half Held that the wives took an absolute estate under the bequest Suraimani v Pabi Nath Ojha 1 L R 30 All 81 applied Moulvie Mahmood Shumsool Hoda v Shreekrishna L P 14 explained PAMACHANDRA RAO v PAMACHANDRA RAO (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 283

37 ———— Will executed before the Hindu Wills Act—Gift of life estate to grandsons one of whom only in existence remain to brother and nephew—Bequest of land for remoteness or as offending against rule of perpetuity—Succession Act (X of 1865) s 101 The testator a Hindu who died in 1869 after giving life estates in succession to his wife and two daughters directed that after the death of his daughters his grandsons or grandsons who ever among them may be alive shall possess my properties but not by right of inheritance for enjoyment during their lifetime and that after the death of my grandsons all my properties will go to my father's family that is to say to my brother I and my nephew H etc etc At the date of his death he had in his one grandson A and no other grandson was born during the lives of his wife and daughters Held that although A was not mentioned in the will there was a valid bequest in his favour of a life estate with a valid remainder in favour of P and H and the little bequest was not affected by the rule of remoteness as applied in England and it did not offend against the law as to perpetuity S 101 of the Succession Act lay down a special rule which differs from the English law on the subject and there is no reason why it should be invoked for the construction of Hindu Wills made before the testator's amendment operation DAR RAVINDRA DAS v AMRITA LAL (HO II) (1919) 23 C W N 826

37(a) ———— (Sf to widow—Presumption for heirs—Construction In determining whether the Will of a Hindu gives the testator a

HINDU LAW—WILL—contd

estate to an idol subject to a charge in favour of heirs or makes the gift to the idol a charge upon the estate there is no fixed rule depending upon the use of particular terms in the Will It depends on the construction of the Will as a whole Sonantun Bysack v Sreemutty Juggutssoonjee Dharjee & Moore's Indian Appeals followed HAR NARAYAN v SEFJA KUNWARI

I L R 43 All 292

38 ———— Will bequeathing husband's estate to her three daughters—Oral partition by daughters—Share taken absolutely by each—Death of one of the daughters leaving her daughter as heir—Suit by surviving daughters to recover deceased's share as heirs of their father—Estoppel—Oral partition whether valid—Survivorship whether extinguished—Rights of reversioners A Hindu widow inheriting her husband's estate treated it as her absolute property and bequeathed it absolutely to her three daughters who divided it into three equal shares by an oral partition and took each one share purporting to take it absolutely under their mother's will One of the daughters died leaving a daughter as her heir who took possession of the deceased's share The two surviving daughters sued as heirs of their father to recover the share of the deceased daughter from her daughter who was in possession Held that the plaintiffs were not estopped from claiming to recover the property as heirs of their father Dalton v Fitzgerald [189] 2 Ch St distinguished that a partition of immovable properties of what ever value can be effected orally and without a registered instrument that the partition made between the daughter operated to extinguish the right of survivorship as between them although it might not affect the rights of the ultimate reversioners to the estate and that consequently the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover the properties from the deceased daughter's share Gyrisissa v Mohammdanassan (1893) 1 L R 30 Cal 270 followed and Tachumammal v Pannammal (1911) 1 L R 31 Mad 111 applied ALAKH ANAND v BALU ANAND (1910)

I L R 43 Mad 849

39 ———— In favour of a female—Proper interpretation—Whether same in case of female's beneficiary as in a male A Hindu executed a will bequeathing his moveable and immovable property in equal shares to his mother and widow using the words Kuti khatiyar wa mulak in the document After his death his mother made a gift of her share to her daughter and daughter a son The next heir of the testator then brought the present suit for a declaration that the gift should not affect his reversionary right Held that a will by a Hindu in favour of a female must be interpreted in the same way as if it was in favour of a male and that the word mulak implies an absolute estate unless there is something in the context to qualify it Surajani v Jeth Nath Ojha (1 L R 30 All 41 C I C) Chandrasekhara Singh v Mahan Singh (61 P F 1911) Lachma Das v Mussammam Dicks (214 P L R 1905) Ar. Mussammam v Mahipal (13 Indan Co 603) S. Lakshana Devi v Jagadharani Devi (20 Cal L J 21) and D. D. D. v. D. D. D. (53 Indan Co 190) 1 lower Moh Lal v Jeth Lal v. D. D. D. Cer. of Bombay (1 L R 31 Bom 21) Thiruv. K. D. D. v. J. D. D. Nath (1 L R 31 Bom 21) disapproved P. L. v. P. L. (1911) extending minority to twenty one year in certain estates did not affect the construction of section 101 of the former Act that the bequests in favour of some of the grandchildren failing under s. 101 of the Act the bequest in favour of the whole estates of the grandchildren including those born in the life-time of the testator also failed under s. 101 of the Act that the bequest to the grandchildren did not fall within the terms of section 113 of the Indian Succession Act and was not affected by its provision that under section 116 of the same Act which embodies the rule laid down in Lascelles v. Tierney (1819) 1 Mac & G 551 etc 41 1 1 13 9 where there is an absolute gift to a legatee and the provisions that follow in the will are in the nature of a settlement of that gift then the settlement if it is effectual will have operation and reduce what appears to be an absolute gift into a life estate if however the settlement for any reason fail then in so far as it fails there is no intestacy but the person who was the object of the original gift takes the property absolutely that on the true construction of the provisions of the will there was a clear intention to confer an absolute estate on each of the daughters followed by a settlement in favour of her children within the meaning of the rule referred to and that consequently on the failure of the request to the grandchildren the original absolute gift in favour of each of the daughters remained good and the share of each of the daughters passed on her death to her heirs BOONARAJAN v. NATARAJAN (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 446

43 ——— Hindu Law—Construction—
Bequest to widows by Mitakshara Hindu—Interest given whether absolute or limited—Mahr—Malkiyat meaning and effect of—Danger of construing one Will by reference to another—Translation of vernacular documents challenged in the High Court—Proper procedure The term mahr when used in a Will or other document as descriptive of the position which a devisee or donee is intended to hold has been held apt to denote an owner possessed of full proprietary rights including a full right of alienation unless there is something in the context or in the surrounding circumstances to indicate that such full proprietary rights were not intended to be conferred But the meaning of every word in an Indian Will must always depend upon the setting in which it is placed the subject to which it related and the locality of the testator from which it may receive its true shade of meaning Where a Hindu governed by the Mitakshara School of Hindu Law purported by his Will to confer on his wife full power and all proprietary rights (mahr ghat) over all his moveable and immoveable property s. 116 that the rights intended to be conferred included full rights of alienation It is always dangerous to construe the words of one Will by the construction of more or less similar words in a different Will which was adopted by another Court Proper procedure where translation challenged indicated MUHAMMAD SAIEDIN CHOWDHURI v. SHIB NARAYAN CHOWDHURY
26 C W N 425

44 ——— Mahr—If a term of art and imports full ownership—True if valid when subject matter uncertain A Hindu testator gave the whole of his immoveable estate to his wife as mahr and directed that she should leave the property to his two daughters in such manner as she might like Held that the word mahr taken in conjunction with the context indicated a clear intention to pass an absolute estate and that even assuming it were intended to create a trust the subject matter of such trust was too uncertain The word mahr is not a term of art it does not necessarily define the quality of estate taken but the ownership of whatever that estate may be but in the context of the present Will it imported that the estate was absolute If words are used in a Hindu Will conferring absolute ownership upon the wife the wife enjoys the rights of ownership unless the circumstances or context show otherwise BHAINAS BHIDAS v. BAI GULAB

26 C W N 120

HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE

See HINDU LAW—WILL I Pat L J 16

1 ——— Alienation by Hindu mother—Property inherited from son—Legal necessity—Spiritual benefit—Installation of idol and endowment of temple—Donor's dedication—Disproportion between property dedicated and cost of maintenance A Hindu widow has at the highest only a very limited power of alienating property for religious purposes and that only when it would conduce to the spiritual welfare of her deceased husband The installation of an idol and the endowment of its temple do not come within the category of acts which conduce to the spiritual benefit of the deceased husband The mother's power of promoting the spiritual benefit of the son whose property she inherits being less than that of a widow to promote the spiritual welfare of her husband the power of the former to alienate property inherited for the purpose of installing an idol and endowing its temple may be less but is certainly not greater than the power of the widow to alienate her husband's property for a similar purpose In the absence of authority from her husband dedication of property by a widow for religious purposes conduces to her own spiritual benefit only She cannot as heiress to her son alienate property inherited from him for her own spiritual benefit Held in the evidence that a deed of endowment in favour of family idols did not represent a bona fide dedication regard being had among other circumstances to the great disproportion between the costs of the maintenance of the endowment and the amount of money which was allocated to it under the settlement Kasthi Chand v. Gour Mohan I H P 48 Collector of Masuliyatam v. Cavell I Hindu Lawyanappa & Mook 1 1 500 Lalji Naani v. Kulah Borada s. Rep 619 Pam Anand v. Pam Anand I L R 20 Cal 206 referred to HARMAJEE KARAY SINGH v. RAN GOPAL ACHARI (1913)
17 C W N 728

2 ——— Sale of portion with consent of presumptive reversioner if passes absolute title—Presumption of property The mere assent of the immediate reversioner to a sale by a Hindu female of a portion of an estate inherited by her is not sufficient to confer an absolute title on the alienee Such assent merely raises a presumption of the property of the transaction. Debi Prasad v. Golab Lakshmi I C W N 701 17 C L J 499 followed Naboo Kalyan Sastry

HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE—contd

Hari Nath Sarma 1 L R 10 Cal 1102 referred to Pulin Chandra v Bolai Murali 1 L R 35 Cal
 539 12 C W N 837 overruled GOPESHWAR
MISRA v DURGAMANI BAISNA (1913)

17 C W N 1062

3 ————— Female heir

wrongful possession of immovable property by—Mesne profits decree for if may be passed against reversionary heirs—Female heir nominal litigant one of reversionary heirs conducting defence effect of Where a darputni in the possession of a Hindu woman as daughter and heir of a former darputni dar was annulled by an auction purchaser of the putni right by notification under s 167 Bengal
 Tenancy Act but she refused to vacate the land Held that this was a personal tortious act on her part and not an act done by her as representing the estate and for the benefit of that estate and a decree for mesne profits for the period she was in wrongful possession could be made only against her personal estate which passed on her death to her heirs and not against the estate in the hands of the reversionary heirs Held further that the fact that one of her sons who were the reversionary heirs carried on the litigation on her behalf and that she was merely a nominal defendant was not sufficient to convert the act into anything different from a tortious act for which she was personally liable Katama Datchiar v The Paja of Shingunga
9 Moo I A 539 Hari Nath Chatterjee v
Mukher Mohan Gossami 1 L R 21 Cal 9
Grish Chunder Lahiri v Shashi Sekharsheer Roy 1
 L R 27 Cal 931 95* and Harinar Pershad v
Bholi Pershad 6 C L J 383 Lali Sahaya Singh
v Kurki Jha 11 C L J 90 and Sadan Koer v Ram Govind Singh 14 C L J 91 referred to NARAY CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHRY v KAMINI HOMAR
LALITA (1912) 18 C W N 542

4 ————— Woman's Estate—

Hindu widow debts contracted by for costs of litigation—
Binding effect on reversioner—Legal necessity—Facts necessary to be proved by lender—Pate of interest must be proved necessary even when legal necessity for loan exists The plaintiff who was an assignee of a mortgage executed by a Hindu widow in respect of her husband's property of which she was in possession as a Hindu widow sued to enforce the mortgage against the property in the hands of the reversionary heir and it appeared that the money was borrowed for meeting the costs of litigation relating to certain suits brought by certain co-managers of the estate for salary and it appeared that at the time the money was borrowed a portion of the estate was sold in execution of a decree obtained by one of the co-managers and other properties were going to be sold in execution of another decree obtained by him and there was a heavy claim against the estate by another manager Held that the debts contracted by a Hindu widow for meeting the costs of litigation in defending her life estate in her husband's property or for protecting the estate are binding upon the estate in the hands of the reversioner That it was not necessary for the lender in the present case to show that the debt which was in litigation, for meeting the costs of which he lent the money to the widow was or was not her personal debt. It is sufficient if it is shown that there was pressure upon the estate that there was necessity for her using money for the costs of the litigation or that the creditor made reason-

HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE—contd

able enquiries and was satisfied of the necessity for the loan. That although a loan by a widow may be necessary the rate of interest at which she borrowed must be proved to be necessary before interest at that rate can be allowed STEVENS
v JANAKI BALLABH (1913) 19 C W N 80

5 ————— Woman's Estate—

Decree against Hindu widow and next reversioner in respect of obligation personal to widow if binds reversioner—Mortgage by widow and next reversioner if binds reversioner A sale of property inherited by a Hindu woman in execution of a decree for costs obtained against her personally does not bind the reversioners Jugal Kishore
v Jindra Mohan 1 L R 10 Cal 985 991 followed The fact that the decree was obtained against her and the next reversionary heir jointly does not give the purchaser anything more than the qualified interest of the woman A mortgage of a portion of the inheritance in the hands of a Hindu woman executed by her jointly with next reversioner does not necessarily bind the reversionary interest. It merely raises a presumption that the mortgage was entered into for legal necessity Debi Prosad v Golap Bhagat, 17 C W N 701 referred to NARAY CHANDRA
SARKA v HEM CHANDRA RAY (1913)

19 C W N 255

6 ————— Woman's estate—

Hindu widow alienation by—Rent of superior landlord—Legal necessity—Suit against Hindu widow —Reversioner whether necessary party—What passes at a sale in execution of a decree against Hindu widow—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec 11
 Arts 111 120—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)
 s 42 The powers of a Hindu widow in respect of alienation of the estate of her husband are similar to those of the guardian of an infant Hanooman Pershad v Baboo v Moonraj 6 Moo
 I A 393, 18 W R 81 Kameswar v Run
Bahadur 1 L R 8 I A 8 s c 1 L R 6 Cal
 813 Lala Amarnath v Achkan Kuer 1 L R 19 I
 A 396 s c 1 L R 11 All 420 and Bhagwat
Dyal v Debi Dyal 12 C W N 393 s c 1 L R 35 I A 43 1 L P 33 Cal 420 followed The mere fact that money is raised for payment of rent and applied for that purpose is not sufficient to prove legal necessity The creditor to protect himself where he is not shown to have made a bona fide enquiry must prove that there was an actual pressure on the estate such as an outstanding decree or an impending sale which the widow is not capable of meeting Lala Amarnath v Achkan Kuer 1 L R 19 I A 396 s c 1 L P 14 All
 470 Dharamchand v Dhannu Murari 1 L P 21
 I A 193 s c 1 L R 2 Cal 189 1 C W N
 627 Sreenath v Putannala Bng S D A 421
 (1909) Srinathan v Dri Beha y 1 L R 36 Cal
 737 Lala Bijnath v Bissen 19 W R 80 Mata Pershad v Phogeeruthee 2 All C P 73 Ghri- shyam v Badipal 1 L R 21 All 517 and Lakshman v Radha Bai 1 I R 11 Bom 679 followed Where a Hindu widow obtains a loan she is at liberty to bind herself personally or when the purpose for which she borrows is a necessary one she is at liberty to bind her husband's estate and the intention must be gathered from the statements at if any in the deed or from the surrounding circumstances Dinodis v Janibai 5 Bom.
 L J 329 and Provanra v Um 11 L J 73 C W N 3 J referred to A decree for rent which has accrued due after the death of her husband

HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE—contd

granted by him a maintenance allowance which she continued to receive until her death in 1104. The nephew died in 1891 and the estate passed under his Will to the first appellant. In 1907 the respondent sued to recover the estate as heir to the holder who died in 1871 upon his widow's death and proved that a partition had taken place in 1864. Held that the widow's agreement of 1874 in conjunction with her acceptance of maintenance till 1901 amounted to a complete relinquishment of the estate to the nephew then the next reversioner and that the respondent's claim accordingly failed. RANASWAMI GOUDEN v. NACHIAPIA GOUDEN L P 48 I A 72

11 ———— A Hindu by his Will authorized his widow to adopt a son if no male or female child should be born to him. He died without issue but had a posthumous daughter. After the death of the posthumous daughter the testator's widow purported to adopt a son to him. Held, that in construing the Will effect could not be given to a pre-emption that the testator desired that a son should be adopted to him since authority to adopt in the events which happened was clearly extended by the language used. BHAGWAT KOER v. PRANESH DRAI PRASAD SINGH L P 46 I A 250

12 ———— Widow alienator by whom widow reversioner—Relinquishment for a consideration—Relinquishment of whole estate necessary—Widow retaining moveables and getting back some land to hold as life estate—Mitthala law—Family arrangement. It may be taken as established without doubt that a Hindu widow may relinquish her estate and this will have the effect of accelerating the estate of the next reversioner. Further an alienation by a Hindu widow will be valid while there was consent of the next heirs and the alienation is capable of being supported by reference to the theory of relinquishment and consequent acceleration of the interest of the consenting heirs. But the alienation in such a case must be of the whole of the estate. Dela Prasad Chowdhury v. Gopal Lhagat I L P 40 Cal 721 s c 37 C W N 721 referred to. The widow is not precluded from obtaining a benefit for relinquishing her estate. Adolashore v. Hari Nath I L P 10 Cal 110 1108 followed. Rajrang v. Manoharika L P 33 I A 1 s c I L J 30 III 12 C W N 74 referred to. Where under a compromise made between the mother and the sisters and the immediate male reversionary heir of a deceased Hindu man governed by the Mitthala school the whole of the immovable property of the deceased was relinquished by the mother M and the mother herself was given the whole of the moveable property in lusive of certain mortgage bonds and M gave half of the immovable properties to the deceased's sisters and the latter and M respectively gave 50 bighas of land to the deceased's mother with remainder to the respective donors and their heirs. Held that under Mitthala law the moveable properties (including the mortgage bonds) had passed by inheritance to the deceased's mother on his father's death. That the life estate in 100 bighas which the deceased's mother got back was essentially different from the widow's estate which she formerly enjoyed and could in no way be regarded as a reservation or restoration of the widow's estate. That under the terms of the compromise the lady had effectively relinquished and destroyed her estate as a Hindu widow and accelerated that of M's heirs. The compromise might be supported as a family arrangement between all the parties competent to deal with the whole of the property (the daughters having claimed under a will of their father which had been probated). SHRI SRI SRI SRI MONESH RAO MESRAI (1910) 20 C W N 142

HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE—contd

——— A died leaving a widow O a son S and two daughters P and J. O became the heir and with J gifted property to defendants 1 to 4 sons of J after O's life. O having died P filed a suit to recover the property from the donors. Held that the gift was good as regards the life interest to O but bad as regards the transfer of J's chance of succession under s 6 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. BAI PARVATI v. DATARAI MANOHAR I L R 44 Bom 488

——— A Woman's estate can be obtained by a Hindu female not only by a hereditary but also by contract grant or prescription. VENKAMMA v. CHELANAIA I L P 28 Mad 485

HINDU SON

——— undivided, liability of for debt of bankrupt—

See BANKRUPTCY I L R 40 Mad 581

Hindu Testator

See HINDU LAW—WILL

See WILL

Hindu Law

See WILL I L R 45 Bom 1038

HINDU TEMPLE

See HINDU LAW—TEMPLE

1 ———— Public temple—Manager of the temple—Right to remove the image and install it in a new building—Worshippers objecting to the removal—Injunction. Under Hindu law the manager of a public temple has no right to remove the image from the old temple and install it in another new building especially when the removal is objected to by a majority of the worshippers. HARI RAGHUNATH v. ANTAJI BHUKARI (1919) I L R 44 Bom 446

2 ———— Sanctuary of the temple—Admission of public to the sanctuary—Levy of fees for admission not permissible—Dalore temple—Gors rights of. Whilst the Shervaks were managing the affairs of the temple of Shri Panchhod Puri at Dalore they issued in 1881 rules levying fees from devotees and Gors who entered the sanctuary of the temple known as the Nij Mandir. In a litigation brought to test the validity of those rules the rules were declared invalid but they continued to subsist pending the framing of the scheme of management of the temple. When the scheme came to be framed the rules regarding levying of fees for admission into the Nij Mandir were incorporated in the rules under the scheme. The rules having been objected to as invalid. Held that the rules

HINDU WIDOW—contd

the market value of the property? It was doubtful whether the erection of the temple had done so and it had not been contended that it had. KIDAR NATH v. MATRU MAL (1913)

I L R 40 Cal 555

2 ————— Decree for rent against if can be executed against her husband's estate in the hands of the reversioner—Widow described in decree as administratrix. The mere fact that the judgment debtor is described in the decree as administratrix is not conclusive that it binds the estate. A decree obtained against a Hindu widow for rent of a tenure held by her as her husband's heir is a personal decree and cannot be executed against the estate of her husband in the hands of the reversionary heir after her death. Priso Gobindo v. Hem Chandra I L R 16 Cal 511 and Brojo Lal v. Jibon Krishna I L R 26 Cal 285 followed. Although where a decree has been obtained upon a fair trial in a suit against a Hindu widow that decree is effectual and operative as against the reversionary heir unless the decree can be successfully impeached on some special ground such decree operates as res judicata only in respect of questions which could arise in the litigation and were tried by the Court. Radha Kishen v. Nourian Lal 6 G L J 490 628 referred to. BIRESHWAR DAS DEY v. KANAL KUMAR DUTT (1912)

17 G W N 337

3 ————— Alienation by widow without necessity—Acceleration of widow's interest in favour of one of the next reversioners—Consent of all reversioners necessary. A Hindu widow who had two daughters made a gift of the whole of her husband's property to one of them without the consent of the other. Afterwards she adopted the plaintiff. The plaintiff having sued to recover the property. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the property inasmuch as the surrender of the entire estate of the widow in favour of one of the two persons constituting the next reversion without the consent of the other was not valid. DODDASAPPA RAHLEGAPPA v. BASAWANEPPA (1918) I L R 42 Bom 710

4 ————— Effect of Compromise by Hindu Widow with Limited Estate—Held that a compromise entered into by a Hindu widow with a limited estate resulting in the alienation of property forming part of her husband's estate cannot bind the reversioners unless it is shown that it was for such purpose as would justify a sale by a Hindu Widow. NIADAR SINGH v. GANGA DEVI

I L R 38 All 679

5 ————— Alienation by widow—Consent of the then nearest reversioner not sufficient to validate the alienation if there is no legal necessity. Where it is found as a fact upon the evidence that a transfer of her husband's property made by a Hindu widow is not a transfer for valid legal necessity the fact that the next reversioner has joined the widow in making the transfer does not render it valid and binding as against the remoter reversioners. Bayrang Singh v. Manoharnika Balkish Singh I L R 30 All 1 and Rangaams Gounden v. Nachappa Gounden I L R 42 Mad 523 referred to. GHISIAWAN PANDE v. MUSANMAT RAJ KUMARI I L R 43 All 531

HINDU WIDOWS' REMARRIAGE ACT (XV OF 1856)

Widow re marry
ing according to custom whether forfeits husband's estate—Mortgage suit—Whether the mortgagor a widow after re marriage could represent the mortgagor's estate—Mortgage decree effect of when obtained against person wrongly sued as legal representative of mortgagor—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1859) ss 31 and 335—Order under made without investigation—Effect. One P executed a mortgage in favour of the plaintiff. On P's death leaving him surviving his mother (S) and widow (C) the plaintiff brought a suit on the mortgage against the widow (C) after she had re married according to custom and he got a decree in execution of which the plaintiff purchased the mortgaged property and got symbolical possession. The plaintiff subsequently brought a rejection suit against the mother (S). Held that as at the time when the suit was instituted to enforce the mortgage the widow had ceased to be the widow of the deceased mortgagor she did not represent the estate of the mortgagor and the decree and sale in execution were not binding upon the mother of the deceased mortgagor who was his legal representative at that time. Kharajmal v. Dham 3 C W N 201 s.c. L R 33 I A 23 Malkarjun v. Narhari 5 C W N 10 s.c. L R 27 I A 216 referred to. A Hindu widow after re marriage forfeits her deceased husband's estate even though there is a custom of re marriage in her caste. Pasal Jehan v. Ram Saran 14 I P 22 Cal 589 Ishu v. Gebinda I L R 22 Bom 391 referred to. CHOKRI CHURV PATNI v. SITA LATNI (1909) 14 G W N 346

Hindu Widow Re marriage Act (XV of 1856)—Son dying after mother's re marriage—Right of mother to inherit—Hindu Law. Apart from any provisions of the Widow Re marriage Act a Hindu mother may inherit from her son by a former marriage if the son having died after her re marriage. HARISHOR SEAL v. TRAKUR DHAN DAIRHUB

26 C W N 925

s 2—

See HINDU LAW—CONVERSION

I L R 41 Mad 1078

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 35 All 466

Hindu widow—Re marriage permitted by rules of caste—Widow not deprived of property of first husband. Where the rules of her caste recognise the right a Hindu widow to re marry a second marriage has not the result of divesting her of the property of her first husband. MULA v. PARTAB (1910) I L R 32 All 489

ss 2 and 5—

Hindu Widow—Re marriage—Right of succession in the family of her first husband—Succession as a gotraja sapinda. A Hindu widow who has remarried is not entitled to succeed as a gotraja sapinda in the family of her first husband. Under Hindu law the father's sister is entitled to succeed in preference to the re married widow of the father. Basappa v. Rayappa. Same came to be framed gushed. PRA... levying of fees for admission... scheme. The rules having been... invalid. Held that the rule

HINDU WILLS ACT (XXI OF 1870)

See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 38 Bom 183, 349

I L R 44 Mad. 446

I L R 40 Cal 274

See RECEIVER I L R 47 Cal 754

See SUCCESSION ACT

s 18 I L R 34 Bom 506

ss 2 and 3 and 5—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 33 Cal 186

s 3—

See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 39 Cal 87

1. Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) s 181—Administrator General's Act (II of 1844) s 26—Will made in Bombay—Property worth less than Rs 1000—Probate—Administrator General's certificate—Will made in Bombay is subject to the provisions of the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) and a person claiming as a legatee under the will is not entitled to sue without taking out probate as he would be bound by s 181 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) which is incorporated in the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) The provision of the Administrator General's Act (II of 1844) is not affected by the incorporation in the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) of s 181 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) NARAYAN SHRIDHAR : LANDURANG BAIJI (1110)

I L R 34 Bom 506

Construction of

will testator's intention—Succession Act (X of 1865) s 26 a bequest to my daughter on attaining majority which creates an absolute or limited interest—S 111 gift over to brother in case daughter dies childless—Whether the gift can take effect if the daughter does not die childless before the estate is distributable—The point of distribution whether at the date of the daughter's attaining majority or of the death of the daughter childless—Meaning of the word sanian whether limited to male descendants or means issue generally—Fettersony interest expectant on the happening of a specified uncertain event if can be sold in execution Plaintiff had a brother U and a step brother and each had one-third share in ancestral property which was the subject matter of the suit U made a will bequeathing his share to his daughter and appointing plaintiff as executor who was to make over the estate to the daughter on her attaining majority There was a provision in the will that if the daughter died childless then the executor i.e. the plaintiff would get the properties in U's share Before probate had been issued the whole property was sold in execution of a money decree under which plaintiff said he alone was liable Plaintiff brought the present suit to establish his title to one-third of the property which he said he inherited under his brother U's will Plaintiff alleged that the original share which he inherited from his father alone passed under the sale by the reversionary interest in the one-third share which he acquired under his brother's will could not pass by the sale Will that under the Hindu Wills Act, in which are incorporated some of the provisions of the Indian Succession Act the property did not pass to the plaintiff. Under s 8 of the Succession Act, the daughter took an absolute interest as there was nothing in the

HOLDER

— not a holder in due course—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT
(XXVI of 1881) ss. 30 47 59 74 91
I L R 39 Mad 965

HOLDING

— meaning of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s. 3
24 C W N 1022

— sale of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD I
OF 1908 s. 111, et seq.
I L R 38 Mad 1042

— splitting of—

See MUNICIPALITY
I L R 46 Calc 784

— surrender or abandonment of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s. 8 I L R 38 Mad 608

"HOLDING OUT"

— principle of—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
14 C W N 381

HOLDING OVER

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 35 Bom 333

HOLIDAYS

— judgments pronounced on—

See APPEAL IN FORMA LAUDERIS
I L R, 40 Mad 687

— Gazetted trial of suit
consent of parties—High Court Rules Ch. 1, r. 2 (relating to practice and procedure in the District Courts)—Trial of suits on Gazetted holidays of which the decree. With the consent of both par ties a Civil Court holiday was fixed for the exami nation of some of the Defendant's witnesses in a suit. Owing to plaintiff's failure to bring any pleader to cross examine the witnesses on that date the Court adjourned the suit till the next day which too was a holiday. On this date too the Plaintiff could not bring any pleader and two witnesses were examined but were not cross examined by the Plaintiff. In the circum stances the suit was ultimately dismissed. Held that inasmuch as there was no consent by the parties to the adjournment of the case till the next day which was also a close holiday the proceedings of the trial Court were irregular and the irregularity prejudiced the Plaintiff. The suit must be retried in accordance with law. Ram
Das v. Official Liquidator I L R 19 All 366
(1887) Shoeram v. Thakur Prasad I L R 30
All 136 (1908) Bennett v. Potter 2 Cr. & J 622
(1832) and Andrew v. Elliott 5 El. & Bl. 502
(1855) 6 El. & Bl. 338 (1856) referred to LALMO
NATH DATTA BARUA v. BARUNATH DATTA BARUA
25 C W N 300

HOMESTEAD LAND

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 40 Calc 173

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT

I L R 40 Calc 402

— transferability of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 Pat L J 502

— Suit for rent—Juris diction—I rejected. una r tenure—Revenue Sale Act (XI of 1855) s. 37 cl. (4)—Garden—Inrum brances annulment of on sale of taluk for arrears of revenue—I revenue small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1857) Sch. II 1st 8—Second appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s. 102
s. 102 of the Civil Procedure Code is no bar to second appeals in suits for rent other than hou o rent although the value thereof does not exceed Rs. 500 vide Art. 8 of Schedule II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. Soundaram
Ayyar v. Sennia Naickan I L R 23 Mad 517 distinguished. When land ceased to be garden land about a quarter of a century ago and tenants have been settled on the land since then the tenure is not protected and does not fall within the 4th exception to s. 37 of the Revenue Sale Act (XI of 1855) and is liable to be annulled. The effect of a sale is not ipso facto to avoid under tenures the purchaser has the option of avoiding them or keeping them intact. Titu Bibi v. Mohesh Chander Beghi I L R 9 Calc 633 followed. It is neces sary therefore that the purchaser must by some unequivocal act indicate his intention to avoid under tenures if he desires to do so and the election of the purchaser to avoid must be brought to the knowledge of the under tenure holder. A formal written notice is not essential.
Dursan Singh v. Bhauram Aker 17 C W N 984 followed and explained. The facts that the purchaser demanded rents from the tenants to the knowledge of the under tenure holder sued the tenants for rent took out warrants of attach ment in execution of decrees and realized rents from the tenants in repudiation of the under tenure holder's title go to show that the under tenure holder had not only notice of unequivocal acts on the part of the purchaser indicating his election to avoid the moharrars but the pur chaser had in fact obtained possession of the estate. Mir Nazruddin v. Deoki Dandan 6 C L J 474 distinguished. Per N R CHATTERJEE
J. The mere fact that a garden was made on a piece of land a quarter of a century before the sale would not make it land on which a garden has been made for all time to come. Per BEACH CROFT J. No particular method of expressing an intention to annul an under tenure is necessary.
There must be established (i) a definite intention to annul (ii) an indication of that intention to the under tenure holder. To afford protection the work must still be in existence or the land be used for the purpose of the work. The perfect tense in leases of land whereon — gardens — have been made denotes a present state. Obiter
If the busti land is covered by the lease of the land on which the mill stands or if the busti is an integral part of the mill, and exists only for the purposes of the mill, it is possible that it might be protected. SAHADORA MUDALI v. NABIN CHAND
BORAL (1914) I L R 42 Calc 633

HOLOGRAPH WILL

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) ss. 38
45 I L R 41 All 243

HOME GUARANTEE

See CONTRACT I L R 43 Calc 77

HONORARY MAGISTRATE.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss 1,
16, 350 I L R. 41 All 116

HONORARY SECRETARY

See DECLARATORY SUIT
I L R. 37 All 313

HOROSCOPE

See EVIDENCE L R 45 I A 284
I L R 41 All 63

See HINDU LAW J INT 1 AMILA—
3 Pat. L J 605

See HINDU LAW—MINOR.
I L R. 33 Mad 106

HORSE

_____ Suit for damages for injury done by vicious horse—Liability of owner —Absence of negligence on owner's part if con-temperate man when he knew of the animal's vice The plaintiff sought to recover damages for injuries suffered by reason of his having been bitten by the defendant's horse. The finding was that the horse was a vicious animal and it did bite the plaintiff but that the defendant was not guilty of negligence and on this ground the lower court dismissed the suit. Held that if the horse was a vicious animal and if that fact was known to, the defendant and knowing this he kept the horse and if it injured the plaintiff then the defendant must be held liable notwithstanding that he was not guilty of negligence. Negligence is not a necessary ingredient in a suit of this nature. GUANNA HINDU
1 CHURCH LAL DHANA (1910) 10 C W N 616

HOSTEL OF A COLLEGE

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (1112 Act III of 1888) ss 110 (c) 111 (1)
(d) and (2) (d) I L R 43 Bom 121

HOSTILE FIRM

See HOSTILE FOREIGNER'S TRADING COMPANY

_____ contract with—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 6,
(2) to I L R 40 Bom 819

_____ status of—

See CONTRACT WITH ALIEN ENEMY
I L R 41 Bom 749

HOSTILE FOREIGNER'S TRADING COMPANY, 1914

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 6,
(2) to I L R 40 Bom 819

See CONTRACT WITH ALIEN ENEMY
I L R 41 Bom 839
I L R 41 Bom 841

HOSTILE WITNESS

See POLICE DIARIES 3 Pat. L J 268
See PRIVATE DEFENCE. 3 Pat. L J 414

HOUSE AND TOWN PLANNING ACT, 1907 (5 EDW VII C 44)

_____ s 58 (3)—

See REQUIREMENT I L R 40 Cal 414

HUNDI—contd

—but on hundis—Hundis passed up country and not made payable in Bombay—Consideration of the hundis being the balance of account between the Bombay merchant and the up country merchant—Account settled up country—Jurisdiction of the High Court—Letters Patent cl. 12—Leave of the Court to sue—Cause of action The plaintiffs carrying on business in Bombay had dealings with the defendant residing and carrying on business at Bassum in Akola. The account between the parties was made up and settled at Bassum as a result of which the defendant passed at Bassum two hundies drawn on his own firm for Rs 3000 and Rs 1000 respectively, in favour of the plaintiffs. On the failure of the defendant to meet the said hundies at the due dates the plaintiffs brought a suit in the High Court at Bombay to recover the amount due on the same. The defendant pleaded that the Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit as the moneys were not payable in Bombay. The plaintiffs contended that as the consideration of the hundies was the balance of the account due by the defendant to the plaintiffs in respect of the transactions effected in Bombay the moneys were virtually payable in Bombay and the material part of the cause of action arose in Bombay. Held that the cause of action being founded upon the hundies and the hundies not being made payable in Bombay the Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Per MACLEOD J—In giving leave under cl. 12 of the Letters Patent in suits on promissory notes or hundies I have always given leave when the money was payable in Bombay and in my opinion if there are transactions in Bombay which result in a credit in favour of the Bombay merchant against an up country merchant and if the Bombay merchant goes to settle his account up country and accepts a promissory note or hundi in satisfaction of his account then if he wants to sue on that note in Bombay he must take the precaution to see that the note is made payable in Bombay. DEWARAM GOKALDAS v. BAJRANODAT HADWAN (1916) I L R 40 Bom 473

—Hundis drawn by second defendant without disclosing the name of any other person liable as principal—Evidence inadmissible either by claim or in defence to show that drawer was acting for an undisclosed principal—Principal must be disclosed by name on the document to make him liable—Negotiable Instruments Act 1881 ss. 26, 27 and 28—English Bills of Exchange Act 1882 s. 43 The name of a person or firm to be charged upon a negotiable document should be clearly stated on the face or on the back of the document so that the responsibility is made plain and can be instantly recognized as the document passes from hand to hand. It is not sufficient that the name of the principal should be in some way disclosed; it must be disclosed in such a way that on any fair interpretation of the instrument his name is the real name of the person liable on the bill. SS. 26, 27 and 28 of the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881 contain nothing inconsistent with the above principles and nothing to support the contention which is contrary to all established rules that in an action on a bill of exchange or promissory note against a person whose name properly appears as party to the instrument it is open either by way of claim or defence to show that the signatory was in reality acting for an undisclosed principal. In this case it was held that on the terms of the hundis sued on, it did not appear that the first defendant was a principal and that the second defendant who drew them was solely liable thereon. SADASUK JANAI DAS v. SRI KISHAN KERSHAD (1918)

HUNDI—contd

I L R 46 Cal 663

HUNDI SHAH JOG

—Loyment to the Shah—Fraudulent hundis—Duty of Shah to trace the drawer—Loyment of hundis not as Shah but as indorsee for collection of the hundis—Custom of Marwari merchants—In case of fraud notice when to be given—Laches On the 10th June 1911 the defendants presented to the plaintiff for payment a hundi for Rs 3000 purporting to be drawn by one A in favour of B on the plaintiff payable at sight in a Shah. The plaintiff having had no advice regarding the said hundi refused to pay the said sum of Rs. 3000. On the next day the plaintiff received a letter purporting to be written by B from Harpalpur enclosing a railway receipt for 300 bags of unseed stated to have been consigned by B from Kanpur station and asking the plaintiff to sell the goods and in the meantime to accept and pay on presentment two hundis each for Rs. 3000 drawn by B in favour of A on the plaintiff payable at sight to a Shah. The same day the plaintiff handed over the said railway receipt to one A and received payment of Rs. 6000. The plaintiff thereupon paid Rs. 3000 together with one day's interest to the defendants in respect of the hundi which had been presented by the defendants to the plaintiff on the previous day as aforesaid and which was one of the hundies mentioned in the letter. The goods referred to in the railway receipt never arrived and A returned the said receipt to the plaintiff and was repaid the sum of Rs. 6000. On inquiries being instituted it was found that no such person as A existed and that the hundis and the railway receipt were forged. The plaintiff sued to recover the money from the defendants relying on the custom prevailing among Marwari Merchants that the Shah who obtained payment of a Shah Jog hundi was, in the event of the hundi turning out to be a false fraudulent stolen or forged hundi, bound to refund the amount of the hundi with interest unless he traced it to its source. (i) The plaintiff produced the actual drawer or the person who committed the fraud. Held (i) that the defendants had been paid not as Shah but as indorsee for collection of a hundi purporting to be drawn against the security of a railway receipt. (ii) Assuming that there might be a liability imposed on the defendants by reason of the payment to refund or to trace the hundi to its source, this would only be the case provided notice was given within reasonable time of the discovery of the forgery, that is provided the plaintiff lost no time in making this communication and claiming the refund. (iii) That the hundis had been traced to its source within the meaning of the Marwari Association Rules before the defendants received information of the fraud. I. D. BETHIA v. JWALAPRASAD GAYA PRASAD (1914) I L R 40 Bom 413

(2191)

DIGEST OF CASES

(2192)

HUSBAND'S ESTATE—contd

right to get maintenance from—
See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE
I L R 38 Mad 153

HUSBAND'S PETITION

See DIVORCE

I L R 41 Cal 963

HUSBAND'S YOUNGER BROTHER

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

I L R 37 Cal 863

HYDERABAD STATE

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I L R 42 Bom 522

HYPOTHECATION

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 36 Mad 97

See STAMP ACT (11 OF 1899) s 2 (17)
FTO I L R 38 Mad 648

HYPOTHECATION—contd

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 83 I L R 39 Mad 579

of movable property—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I
ART 120 I L R 40 All 512 property left in po session of debtor and sold by him—See MORTGAGE

I L R 1 Lah 422

of movables—Bond fide purchaser without notice from hypothecator whether affected by hypothecation—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 108 A bond fide purchaser without notice of the encumbrance of goods hypothecated but left with the hypothecator is not affected by the encumbrance and takes them free of it NARASIMH & VENKATARAMIAH (1918)
I L R 42 Mad 59

HYPOTHECATION DECREE

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I
ARTS 120 132 I L R 39 All 74

